Mrs. J. W. Roberts reviewed the tremendous territory in both the new and old world not yet occupied by Christian soldiers. In this connection she stated that in Africa there is but one missionary for every 136,000 souls, while in China, Japan, India and Korea, the islands of the sea, millions—in fact half the known world—have not yet had an opportunity of learning of Christ and Christianity. She urged recognition of the church's responsibility for the evangelization of these people, to say nothing of yet Unchristian citizens in Canada, and she appealed for quickened activities in this connection by Women's Missionary Societies. In conclusion, Mrs. Roberts visualized a future when there would be no W.M.S. unoccupied areas in the Methodist Church were members to cooperate in rising to the opportunity for promulgating Christianity now before the church in general.

"The Magnitude of Obscure Service."

Speaking on this subject, Mrs. Coombe said:

"How faintly we can conceive the great and far-reaching results that oft-times follow acts of love, sympathy and kindness manifested by those whose hearts have been touched by the spirit of the Master. It may be performed in the home, by the wayside, in the seclusion of the sick room or the prayer closet. The helping hand, a loving touch, a word of sympathy, an act of kindness done in His name, even to the giving of a cup of cold water, has immortalised the name of the doer and given courage and hope and inspiration to others to live for the things that are highest and best. An incident of obscure service is seen in the story of the widow's mite. No offering that was ever made has had such an influence upon the world as this one, in stimulating untold numbers to do and give their best.

"Let none hear you idly saying,
'There is nothing I can do.'
While the souls of men are dying,
And the Master calls for you.
Take the task He gives you gladly,
Let His work your pleasure be.
Answer quickly when He calleth,
'Here am I, O Lord, send me.'"

TORONTO ITALIAN CALLED TO BAR

FRANK UNGARO'S COMPATRIOTS CELEBRATE OCCASION IN FITTING MANNER.

TORONTO, June 10.—Toronto's Italian colony celebrated the calling of one of its members for the first time to the Ontario Bar at a banquet given to Mr. Frank Ungaro at St. Patrick's Hall, McCaul street, by the Circolo Colombo, the young men's club connected with the Italian Roman Catholic Church. Mr. Ungaro is a son of Mr. A. Ungaro, 5 D'Arcy street. He is a graduate of Toronto University and a member of the 1919 class at Osgoode. Mr. Ungaro was called to th Ontario Bar in January. He has the distinction of being the first Italian to graduate from a Canadian law school.

Speaking at the banquet Dr. Geo. Glionna, the Italian Consul in Toronto, emphasized the event as one which marked a important step in the assimilation of Canadian ideals by Italian immigrants. "Only by acquiring the Canadian education for the professions," said the speaker, "can we hope to really understand the ideals of the country in which we have made our home."

Mr. Picininni, the chairman, stated that the event was proof positive that not all Italians who come to Canada are banana pedlars. Other speakers were: Rev. Father Viglianti, recton of the Italian Parish Church; Mr. Joseph Glionna, Mr. Hugh J. MacDonald, Mr. Harry DeLuca, and Mr. Corti, editor of the Italian paper. A musical entertainment was provided.

At the same time it is a complete piano; even the educated musician of the family will find it will meet his or her every want.

KINGSTON YOUNG ABLE-BODIED MAN AND WORK DID NOT AGREE.

Kingston, June 10.—William Firth, hale, hearty and able-bodied, has demonstrated a disinclination to support his wife and family. The man and work evidently do not agreee, and in consequence he was hauled up before the Magistrate on a charge of vagrancy. Firth, it appeared, allowed his wife to care for his flock as best she could and admitted his guilt in that regard.

"Will you support your family?" asked the magistrate of the accused.

"Yes, I will," was the reply of the young fellow.

"Then I will allow you to go on suspended sentence. I have no desire to send you to jail. I want you to support your wife and family."

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

MANY CHANGES IN THE LUXURY TAX

being taxable, the amendments would provide for a tax on lace and braid when sold in excess of 25 cents a yard, and ribbons when in excess of 50 cents a yard. On carpets, the exemption would be $6, instead of $3.

NOT APPLICABLE IMMEDIATELY.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 9. — If Sir. Henry Drayton's suggestions for changes in the luxury tax are adopted it means lightening the taxation on many necessities. He adopted a new procedure in not makng the changes immediately applicable. This is already criticized as being deterrent to business, purchasers awaiting the decision of parliament before buying articles affected.

Generally speaking the changes will lighten the taxation on necessary clothing by raising the minimum in some cases and by increasing the taxation percentage in others, but making it only applicable to amount above the minimum. Take for instance boots: Under the first proposal the tax was ten per cent. on any purchase of over nine dollars. Now it is 15 per cent on the amount in excess of $9. In the first instance on a pair of $12 boots the tax will be $1.20. If the new rate is adopted, the tax will be 15 per cent. of $3 or 45c. The same plan is proposed for other wearing apparel. In this category, in addition to shoes are trousers sold at more than $12; men's and boys' coats, except leather lined with sheepskin, $25; cloth overcoats, $50; women's dresses $45, in all such articles, the rate is raised from 10 to 15 per cent., but only collected on the purchase price over the minimum.

He also proposes to increase the exemption in the case of fur coats, muffs, gloves, rugs and robes. The tax on sporting goods for young athletes is reduced. The list of changes is of great length.

The finance minister in reply to a question said that he hoped to be able to refund taxation collected, in excess of the rate finally adopted.

Merchants must not adopt the suggested taxation. Business must be conducted on the pesent scale of taxation until the changes are made by parliament.

BLOODHOUNDS TRAIL CARUSO JEWEL THIEVES

EASTHAMPTON, N.Y., June 9.—Two bloodhounds and a posse of volunteers to-day joined the police in the hunt for the thieves who last night stole $500,000 worth of jewels from the home of Enrico Caruso, opera singer. The dogs picked up a scent where footprints were found near the house and followed it for some distance, finally losing it at a point where the searchers said there was evidence an automobile had stood.

The belief of detectives that the robbery was an "inside job" was strengthened to-day by Mrs. Caruso, who said she was convinced her movement and those of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Park Benjamin, jr., had been watched before the robbery.

In Jiffy-Jell desserts the fruit flavors are abundant. For instance, half a pineapple is crushed to make the flavor for one pint dessert. This is done in Hawaii from fruit too ripe to ship.

All Jiffy-Jell fruit flavors are made from condensed fruit juice. They come in liquid form—in vials—a bottle in each package. That is true of no other quick gelatine dessert.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, JUNE 10TH, 1920.

A TAXATION TIP.

Peterborough people would do well to follow the advice given by officials of the Toronto Inland Revenue Department that purchasers of taxable articles should keep their bills in order that if any refunds are coming through amendments to the luxury tax resolution they may be in a position to substantiate a claim for them. It is possible that some of the schedules may be revised as a result of a discussion of the new taxation in the House, and in that case a refund of the luxury tax on some of the articles now included in the tax might be in order. Again it is good business to preserve all bills upon which the luxury tax has been collected for the reason that in some instances at least a tax is being levied by merchants upon articles that are not named as taxable. The retailers in such cases are, of course, acting in good faith and under a mistaken idea of just what merchandise is included in the new taxation scheme. Refunds of the amounts collected in this way would not be feasible if the customers do not take the precaution to preserve their bills and have them ready for use.

INVERLEA BEACH.

The special committee appointed by the city council to deal with the question of bathing beaches will meet tomorrow afternoon, when the whole subject will be discussed. Among other things the committee will take up the matter of improving the beach at Inverlea Park, and while this proposition is under consideration it is to be hoped that the committee will consider the advisability of laying a concrete bottom on that portion of the river bed inside the breakwater, thus ensuring a safe and satisfactory bathing place for the little folks. The cost of doing this work should not be large and it would last for many years, saving the expense from year to year that would ensue if a gravel or sand bottom were laid. For there is the possibility that sand or gravel would be washed down the river by the action of the current and the supply would have to be replenished each season. A concrete bottom would permanently solve the problem and make Inverlea Park a boon to hundreds of children and relieve the anxiety of scores of mothers. Whatever the work will cost, it will be money well spent and the committee would be well advised in undertaking this work. Ald. Gainey, who is a member of the commitee, and who is a firm believer in the desirability of providing bathing facilities for the use of the citizens who are not so fortunate as to have a summer home down the river or at some of the lake resorts, is an advocate of the concreting of the Inverlea Beach, and his views, hundreds of bathers will hope, will be endorsed by other members.

LOOTED ONTARIO.

If the turning out of the late Government in Ontario, and the substitution for it of an allied Farmer-Labour administration had no other beneficial result than the present inquiry into timber limit transactions, the people of the province would be satisfied that the action was a wise one. Had the old regime remained in power the light would never have been turned on these operations and the people of Ontario would have gone on being robbed of hundreds of thousands of dollars. The public domain has been looted systematically and unchecked. While the inquiry has not been completed, the evidence already in shows that this statement is none too strong a description of what has been taking place in the province. There has been criminal carelessness and laxity in the task of protecting the interests of the public. Limits have been leased without advertising and without competition. Scores of mining locations on which there was never any intention of doing any mining operations have been exploited for the sake of the pulpwood thereon and the timber dues that should have been been paid to the province had not the transaction been masked under the guise of mining, were lost to the people. In the case of the lumber company of Mr. W. H. Russell, who is not even a Canadian citizen, the timber cut on "mining claims" amounted to 79,351 cords of pulpwood, the fees on which should have enriched the public treasury to the extent of $30,000. Probably it will never be known to what an extent these fake mining operations have been carried on in the north country or what the loss to the province has been. It was high time that there should be an inquiry, and the present investigation should be followed by the substitution of efficient and business-like methods in the transaction of public business.

AN URGENT APPEAL.

The real test of the efficacy of the vocational training system of the Dominion government and incidentally of the willingness of the employers of Ontario to do their full measure of duty towards the veterans of the war will be reached in the near futre. Up to the present time the vocational training itself has taken care of thousands of returned men, but the courses are rapidly being completed and in the next couple of months some 13,000 ex-soldiers will have finished their training and will be in search of situations. In an effort to ensure that there shall be employment for these men when they have concluded their courses, G. L. Drew, the vocational officer for Ontario, has asked the churches of the province to assist him and from the pulpit of every denomination on Sunday next there will be an appeal to the employers of labour in the congregations to provide employment for the re-trained soldiers who will soon be in need of situations. "Any employer appealed to," says the statement, "should not flinch, nor shirk his high and solemn obligation. It should be his pride that he prove to at least one returned soldier, a very present help in time of trouble and be restrained neither by fear of inconvenience or loss."

The appeal is one that should receive earnest consideration for it deals with a problem that is serious. Already out of 5,000 returned men who were re-trained by the vocational training department, there are 800 who are still unemployed. If the same proportion is maintained in the case of the 13,000 who will shortly enter the labor market, Ontario will have over 2,000 men who have received the benefit of vocational training and who will be unable to secure employment. Regardless altogether of the obligation that is due returned soldiers and of the duty of employers to make room for them wherever possible, it will be bad business if situations cannot be found for these veterans. Their training has cost considerable money, the money of the taxpayer, and it would be a very poor investment if the courses were to result in many of the men being unable to put their training to advantage.

FARMER AND CITY WORKER.

In his address to the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists, Mr. Tom Moore touched on one or two of the basic causes of the shortage of farm labor and of the misunderstanding between farmers and city workers. Farmers believe that the lot of city workers is better than theirs, and many city workers think the farmers have the best of them in ther mutual economic dependence. The misunderstanding leads many farmers to abandon agriculture, and move to the city, but the conditions of labor in the country deter city people from seeking the advantages of farm life.

Mr. Moore urged that efforts be made to have the relative situations of each class better understood. But it is not easy to compare the two situations because of their differing conditions—or more directly, because of the peculiar conditions of the farmer's situation.

Mr. Moore declared that the farm worker was a skilled laborer. But he is not regarded as such. His remuneration is not regulated according to degrees of skill. It is not held that skill is required in his work. In that way his position is beclouded, and a standard of remuneration cannot be arived at as in the case of urban employment or urban business.

Another factor making for dissatisfaction among farmers and farm laborers and which leads them to envy the city worker is the manner in which they receive their remuneration, either as independent farmers or wage earning farmers. In the case of the independent farmer his business has not been systematized, and so he seldom knows how successful he is or what his profits are. Although he may be providing a generous living for his family and erecting an estate, he does not know what those accomplishments equal in actual cash. In the case of his employe, a large part of his remuneration takes the form of housing and boarding. The city worker receives all his remuneration in money and has to go out and pay for those things out of it. In the case of the farm laborer a guess is made at their value and the amount of that guess deducted from his wages.

The difference is that the city worker has the spending of his wages while the farmer gets only a small portion of his in cash that he may have the spending of. In addition to housing and boarding he may also have the use of his employer's horses, another equipment for his pleasure. In season he has the choicest of fresh fruits and vegetables that the farm of his employer provides. He sees the city wage-earner spending money for these things or their equivalent and imagines the latter is having a better time and is better off.

If either the value of the part of the farmer's remuneration that he does not receive in actual cash were established, or in the case of the farm employee he were paid entirely in cash and allowed to buy his own necessaries and luxuries, it would be possible for the positions of the city worker and the farm worker to be compared and perhaps the latter might be more content with his lot. The more farming becomes a technical business or employment the more chance there will be for a lessening of the misunderstanding, which sometimes takes the form of antagonism between urban and rural classes.—Ottawa Journal.

GREAT DECREASE IN WAR SPENDING

CANADA'S EXPENDITURE UNDER THIS ITEM DOWN TO TWENTY-FIVE MILLIONS.

OTTAWA, June 9.—Satisfactory increases in ordinary revenue, coupled with a great fall in war expenditure on capital account, mark the May balance sheet of the Finance Department. Last month ordinary revenue was $38,175,292, as compared with $25,553,339 in May, 1919. During the fiscal year up to date revenue totals $67,211,075, compared with $46,287,587 in the corresponding period of last year.

Some Little Drop.

Last month capital expenditure on war account was $276,000. In May of last year it was $25,196,838, an unprecedented drop of over $25,000,000.

Ordinary expenditure last month totalled $39,959,35', nearly two millions more than ordinary revenue during the same month. But included in this expenditure are the heavy May interest payments on Victory Loans.

Revenue Increased.

In every branch ordinary revenue shows an increase over last year. Despite tariff reductions made last year, customs revenue is six millions higher than it was in May, 1919. Revenue under the headin gof miscellaneous—chiefly income and business profits tax — totalled over ten millions last month. In May, 1919, it was rather more than four and a half millions.

The increase in net debt last month was $22,216,764; in May, 1919, the increase in net debt was $58,996,154.

WELSH GUARDS ARE TO BE DISBANDED

IRISH GUARDS, HOWEVER, WILL BE MAINTAINED IN ECONOMIC SCHEME.

LONDON, June 10.—The Labor party who are strong advocates of the war fortunes levy, interposed with a motion in the Commons today favouring such taxation notwithstanding the Chancellor of the Exchequer's statement of the previous day that he had abandoned the proposal. The motion was as anticipated, rather summarily rejected.

Answering questions, Winston Churchill, the Secretary for War, said that the economic scheme respecting the guards had contemplated the discontinuance of the Welsh Guards as a regiment, but not the Irish Guards. The return to pre-war uniforms would be spread over a period of four to five years. There would be no scrapping of large quantities of khaki.

PLAIN LANGUAGE BY MARSHAL HAIG

SCORES TRADE UNIONS FOR ATTITUDE TOWARD RETURNED SOLDIERS.

LONDON, June 10.—Field Marshal Haig made another outspoken address concerning the attitude of the Trades Unions towards ex-soldiers at a meeting of the National Association for the employment of ex-soldiers, declaring that through selfish obstinacy of some of the unions thousands of these men who fought for the principles and the very existence of trade unionism were denied work. The Marshal added that nobody asked the Trades Unions to abandon their principles ,but he did ask the unions and the employers to endeavor, even at the risk of some sacrifice, to meet exceptional circumstances by exceptional action.

BEWARE OF TENDER GUMS

Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

Pyorrhea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infecting Pyorrhea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

CROP OUTLOOK IS VERY GOOD

FREE PRESS PRESENTS GLOWING REPORTS OF CONDITIONS IN NORTHWEST.

WINNIPEG, June 10.—In presenting its second crop report for 1920, the Manitoba Free Press announces that it indicates about the best condition of crops at this date of any year since 1904, when these reports began, with possibly the single exception of 1912, when the June crop conditions were as nearly perfect as it is possible to hope for. This present report is much more encouraging than the early June report of the famous bumper years of 1915 as during the early part of June of that year heavy frosts occurred and the crop had not fully recovered from them.

The last week of May there were very high winds reported, and there was serious apprehension of damage from this source. The reports indicate that the heavy rains and cool weather have not only stopped the drifting and blowing, but that to a very great extent the crop has recovered without reseeding being necessary. Where seeding has been done it is mainly oats.

Very grave apprehension has existed as to grasshoppers and all correspondents in the infected areas were asked as to hoppers. The replies on the whole show that the wet weather has retarded hatching, but whether permanently or not, remains to be seen. Only two points, both in Manitoba, namely Waskada and Clearwater, report any serious damage up to the present. All points report fine organization to fight the pests and abundant supplies of poison for bait.

The most northern point reporting any signn of hoppers is Outlook, Sask. All that human energy can do is being done to prevent a spread of the plague should better weather develop them.

The strong feature of the report is the abundant supply of moisture throughout the entire West. Only nine points report any need of rain and these points add that there is plenty of surface moisture but showers are needed to help germinate the last sown grain.

Under general conditions, the report could scarcely be more optimistic, "never better," "ideal," and similar expressions abounding.

Onion plants planted about one inch apart will not grow too large for pickling.

VILLAGE AND IMMEDIATE VICINITY PAID A BIG SACRIFICE THROUGH THEIR SOLDIERS—A FITTING TRIBUTE TO THOSE WHO FELL IN THE GREAT WAR.

Apsley, June 10.—The unveiling of the monument erected in memory of the fallen heroes who paid the supreme sacrifice in the greatest war the world has known took place here on June 3rd. The village presented a very patriotic appearance as the national flags were flying from all buildings. A large crowd was in attendance consisting mainly of relatives and friends of the boys who had gone gallantly forth and laid down their lives that the world might known Christianity and be spared from the hands of a cruel and treacherous enemy. A memorial service was held in connection with the unveiling. The following was the programme:—

Chairman's Address—Reeve Brown
Opening Hymn—"O God our Help in Ages Past".
The Lord's Prayer, followed by prayer by Rev. J. H. Beck.
Bible Reading—Revl C. A. Spence.
Hymn—"Onward Christian Soldiers."
Address—Rev. J. H. Beck.
Solo—Rev. J. H. Beck.
Address—Rev. C. A. Spence.
Unveiling—Mrs. A. Jones.
Doxology.
One minute of silent prayer.
Hymn—"All Hail the Power of Jesus Name".
God Save the King.

The unveiling of the monument was entrusted to Mrs. Anna Jones, both of her sons having given up their lives among the number of gallant dead. The names of twenty heroes are inscribed on the memorial, all of whom are boys from this locality. The following are the names:

Mrs. W. Lean presided at the organ during the service. After the service many floral tributes were placed on the memorial by friends. Nursing Sister Gladys Kilborn of Kingston, who spent most of the duration of the war overseas was present.

It is hoped thot this memorial may keep the names of the fallen heroes constantly in mind and may prove as an incentive to thepresent and coming generations to be ready at the call of duty to lay down their lives if necessary for Canada and the Empire.

HANGED HIMSELF FROM DOOR OF CELL

CAYUGA, June 10 — George Badley of Rainham township, held in the jail here on a charge of having murdered his sister about a month ago, committed suicide here by hanging himself from the door of his cell with a towel.

Badley, who attempted suicide, by cutting his throat at the same time that he killed his sister at their home in Rainham by hitting her on the head with a piece of gas pipe, was examined this afternoon by a couple of alienists sent from Toronto by the Attorney General.

It was stated that a special watch had been kept on Badley since his incarceration and that he committed the deed which ended fatally duing a very brief absence of his watch.

Deceased and his sister, it is alleged, had for several years been looked upon by the neighbors as mental defectives.

Voice Of The People

47 Jackson Avenue,
Peterboro,
Wednesday, June 9, 1920.

To the Editor Examiner:

I enclose a report from the St. Catharine's Standard of a street car accident that I myself was in, my idea is a little different.

I left Sault Ste. Marie on Sunday morning at 9.30, and we had hardly left the Soo on the Harmonic, when a canoe upset in our wash, there were two people in it but I could not say if any one was drowned.

At this time of year the Harmonic does not take passengers to Windsor, but stops at Sarnia, the Windsor trips start next month, in order to get to Windsor the quickest way is to cross over to Port Huron by ferry, from Sarnia, and take the fast street car service to Detroit, from Port Huron, these cars run every two hours and are called the Detroit limited, there is also a local service from Port Huron to Detroit every hour but it's a very slow service, as it's a long run by street car. The limited takes 2½ hours to do the journey, then when you arrive at Detroit take the ferry over to Windsor—this is the quickest and best way. If I had not been delayed by the custom officials at Port Huron, I would easily have caught the 7.15 a.m. car Monday morning but, however, I missed it. Got the 9.15, the fatal car. My idea of this wreck is, that the car was travelling too fast for the condition of the track, we were travelling at an awful speed at the time of the accident, and from what I could learn the back part of our coach jumped the tracks to the left. I was in the first coach, and the one in which the woman was killed. The front part of the coach was a smoker and all men, the back end was nearly all women—no one was hurt in the smoker, but the women at the back got the worst of the deal in our coach. When we jumped the tracks the trailer hit us a glancing blow on the right, which gave it a little chance to get by, otherwise it would have jumped on top of us, but for fully a minute both cars seemed to keep going, jumping tracks, and swaying as if they must eventually go over. A telegraph pole eventually stopped the trailer but not until it went through it like a match, and both cars stooped almost aside of one another with the back end of the trailer stuck into the rear of the forward coach.

The two cars are badly smashed, one man had the front part of his boot torn off and his foot not hurt, he had his foot on the seat in front. If our coach had jumped to the right instead of the left it would have been a worse accident, but we were all very lucky when you consider the speed we were travelling.

But I cannot believe this woman had her head out of the window. You never see people with their heads out of street car windows, especially a sensible woman of thirty; children do sometimes. Several people were hurt badly, but this one woman must have been killed instantly. When the conductor was taking our names it particularly struck me, the long distances from home these passengers were. I notice you have not yet had this report in your paper and some people iPetenrob wralltl.-dkirce people in Peterboro may be interested and know some one on this fatal car, that's why I send it to you.

I am, Sir.
Yours sincerely,
W. P. FLYNN.

The Sarnia report of the accident follows:

WOMAN IS KILLED IN RAILWAY SMASH

Fifteen Other Passengers Injured in Wreck at Chesterfield.

SARNIA, June 8. — Residents of Sarnia, London, and Toronto returning from the week-end in Detroit had a narrow escape from death yesterday, when according to a message received here, one woman, Miss Clara Dewey, whose address is given as 821 White street, Port Huron, was instantly killed and about 15 other passengers were injured in the wrecking of a passenger express at Chesterfield The Limited, a double header, split a switch and pitched against a milk train loading on a siding. The injured were brought to this city in a special car and automobiles. Miss Dewey is believed to have had her head out of the window at the time of the accident. Her body was practically cut in two. Judge Harvey Tappan, of Port Huron, who was a passenger in the second car, speaking over the 'phone said: "It was a horrible sight one that I never want to witness again. We left Port Huron at 9.16 this morning. I was seated in the rear coach of the double header. We were bowling along at a high rate of speed and when near Chesterfield there was a sudden jar, and then a crash."

Constipation or Costiveness

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver.

There is nothing more productive of general ill health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings St. E., Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had albad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses."

Get Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c. and they will be sent by return of mail by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water— you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

After freezing ice cream, place two folds of clean wax paper on top of can. This keeps contents firm, as paper keeps out air.

MOTOR 'BUS KILLS BELLEVILLE BOY

BELLEVILLE, June 10.—Walter O. Patterson, contractor, was almost instantly killed at noon yesterday in front of his parents' home on Victoria Avenue Hill, when he was run over by a motorbus of the Asselstine Line, driven by James Cook.

The bus was loaded with passengers for the Hagenbeck Circus, and was proceeding up the hill, when Patterson, his attention being attracted by another boy on the other side of the street, started across, and ran directly in front of the automobile. The wheel passed over his head. The lad was picked up and carried to a doctor's office, but was then dead.

Coroner Dr. Boyce opened an inquest last night. James Cook is considered a very careful driver, and, after being questioned by the police, was not detained.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

BACK PAY FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

SWEDE CARRIES SUIT CASE CONTAINING $9,000 IN TRAVELLERS' CHECKS—NO TAX DUE.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—A man who spoke with a pronounced Swedish accent appeared recently at the U. S. income tax office in St. Louis and exhibited two leather suit cases which contained $9,000 in travellers' checks. He said that he had just had his only pay day in fifteen years and had heard that an income tax was due. It appears that during the fifteen years he was employed on a ranch in Washington under an agreement with his employer for wages plus board and clothes. During the fifteen years "he went to town" only twice a year and drew no money, he said, because his employer bought everything for him. When last month he decided to go to South America to become a rancher in his own name his employer accompanied him to town and brought the checks for him. He was told that no tax was due from him.

NAMES OF WOMEN WHO BURNT FLAG

WASHINGTON, June 10.—A report on the burning of a British flag by Irish women in front of the United States Treasury Building last week was made yesterday by the police to the District of Columbia commissioners, who will forward it to Secretary of State Colby at the State Department.

Accompanying the report are six photographs taken from the time the women arived at the Treasury until the flag was burned.

The report is understood to name the women who participated in the incident and to set forth that the police were told by the Federal District Attorney that no law under which the women could be prosecuted could be found. Secretary Colby has already made a verbal statement to the British Embassy for the actions of the women and a formal apology is expected to follow.

DRUNK IN MOTOR CAR JAILED ONE MONTH

INTOXICATED MEN ARE APT TO COMMIT MURDER, REMARKS HIS WORSHIP.

"We'll put you where you will do no harm for a month," said Magistrate Dumble in the police court this morning to James McGann of Lindsay, who found that an escapade with a married woman and a bottle of Irish whiskey for company, in an automobile, got him into more trouble than he figured on when he left Scugogville town last night. He was charged with beng intoxicated while driving a motor vehicle on George Street.

McGann pleaded guilty to the charge but contended that he only had a couple of drinks. It seems the woman did not know her companion was drunk until Lindsay was left behind, when becoming boisterous, she in alarm tried to escape from the car, but her Lindsay friend made her continue the drive. Some farmer phoned to the police and when the car reached the city McGann was arrested.

Men that are drunk are prepared to commit murder. I am dealing very lightly with you. One month at the County jail," announced His Worship shaking his pen at the prisoner.

An Old Charge.

His troubles were not over at that. A charge of having liquor in a place other than his private dwelling, contrary to the O. T. A., was read to the bewildered resident from the north. He pleaded not guilty.

Constable Edwards stepped into the box and at the same time a broken whiskey bottle of a well known brand was set in front of His Worship, and reposed there accusingly.

The witness said he arrested the accused in front of the Home Lunch, while he was in the car. The woman was in the vehicle. On the way to the station, at the corner of Simcoe and George, he heard a smash, and looking around, saw a broken bottle, and the "precious fluid" snilled all over the sidewalk. He could not say whether McGann dropped it or not. He judged that the bottle would be half full.

Chief Thompson told His Worship that the woman went home penitently on the 8:20 train, so there would be no trouble in the household. "She had admitted that the accused had the bottle, and if he denies it she can be called on. I would ask for a week's remand, and we can call her," said the chief.

The Magistrate and the Chief looked expectantly at the prisoner. "Not guilty," he again sang out, and His Worship remanded the case with the remark that they would out the fat in the fire when they called the woman. "It can't be helped," the Chief remarked.

KITCHENER MOULDERS STRIKE.

KITCHENER, June 9.—The members of the Moulders' Union in Kitchener and Waterloo went on strike this morning as the result of the employers declining to accede to the demand of the union for a wage scale of 90 cents an hour and an 8-hour day.

The employers offered to grant a 12½ per cent. increase over the present scale, which has been $6.00 a day for nine hours.

There are about 40 men on strike.

METHODISTS FAVOUR DIVORCE COURTS

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE RE. SOLVE TO THIS EFFECT IN WOODSTOCK.

WOODSTOCK, June 10.—At a session of the Hamilton Methodist conference here the Social Service Committee brought in a resolution regarding divorce, which was adopted. The resolution stated that since divorce courts were in vogue in all provinces save Quebec and Ontario, that the committee favored the courts for this province as well, although they made it very clear that they favored divorce only on scriptural grounds.

An amendment requesting the general superintendent to seek legislation that shall have marriage licenses identify divorced persons as such was also carried. Disapproval of Sunday excursions, and also of the excessive use of the automobile on Sunday in such a way as to keep people away from church, was also covered by a resolution adopted by conference.

Dr. Sparling was appointed the conference delegate to the Ecumenical Conference which is to be held in England on September, 1921.

District Secretaries.

The district secretaries were elected as follows: Hamilton, Rev. Dr. H. S. Dougall; Guelph, Rev. T. Moyer; St. Catharines, Rev. T. E. Todd. Rev. T. E. Todd, W. H. Harvey and W. W. Prudham were elected delegates to the General Conference meeting, while Mr. Prudham and John Taylor were appointed Conference representatives on the General Board.

NEW SYSTEM FOR COUNTING MONEY

NEW YORK, June 8.—Most folks can count their money very rapidly, but that may be because they don't usually have very much after paying the butcher, baker and candlestck-maker.

Miss Ella Mellon, expert of the United States Federal Reserve Bank at New York City, can count large amounts of bank bills in the same time that the common or garden variety of citizen takes to count his own slender bank roll.

This is because she is the exponent of a new system of counting known as the "fan" or "spread" system.

Recently Miss Mellon demonstrated the method.

She takes a package of bank notes, for instance, a pocket of 100 five-dollar notes, and turns to one corner of the package sharply. This has the effect of spreading the notes on the other side of the package. Then with the thumb and forefinger of her left hand she counts five bills at a time, checking the operation with her eye.

She can count bills just five times as rapidly as the ordinary bank clerks who uses the old-fashioned system of counting one bill at a time.

"You must be absolutely sure of your work," Miss Mellon said. "Accuracy is the first requisite."

Miss Mellon can count 1,000 banknotes in four minutes. She will make a tour of the country giving instruction in the new system to employees of various federal reserve banks.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Examiner:

The proposal made in the City Council that the trees in the parks and over the streets should be pruned under the supervision of Mr. Dumble is not a wise one. Such a man should be skilful in the art of pruning. The pruning heretofore done shows the hand of an amateur, leaving the trees unsightly and lob-sided. What is needed is not the so much the pruning but the thinning out of the trees themselves. Once the branches touch they will recoil from each other and become straggly and lose their symmetry, and the weakest will die out gradually, if not both. Trees should be planted at least thirty feet apart. In discussing this subject with the late Mr. Yokome, than whom there was no better authority or one who took a greater pride in the city beautiful he concurred in the views hereinbefore expressed.

Yours truly,

EXCHANGE ON CHEQUES.

On the front page of the "Examiner" of June 9th appeared an article headed, "Cheque Holder is entitled to the rate of exchange."

Competent bankers need no reminder of this fact as they have been paying exchange on United States' funds to holders of them for a considerable period, the rate having been at a premium for some years.

Any misunderstanding of this subject on the part of citizens will gladly be explained by any of the banks, some of which have been in the exchange business in Canada for upwards of one hundred years.

LISTEN MEN!

We are happy to announce that we have just completed a business agreement with our Tailors, whereby they reduce their prices for making, and we reduce our prices for cloth and trimmings and scale down our profits on all Summer Suits, and parts of Suits, until further notice.

We saw that the Luxury Tax was having an effect that would soon freeze us out, so and formed a Board of Conciliation of our own to adjust the high prices and offset the Tax. We came out with flying colors in spite of the Union Government, and here is our message:

"We Took the Bull by the Horns"

Listen Men! We Have Forced Down Our Former Prices of $45.00, $50.00, $55.00 and $60.00 Made-to-Measure Summer Suits, and now ask you only

$33.00 $37.00 $40.00 $45.00

NO LUXURY TAX ON THESE PRICES

You may pay more if you want to for more expensive "duds." But the above prices are not reduced to allow low grade material or work, but to meet the demand of the large majority of our patrons at present. Everything will be up to our regular standard. We are prepared to take our losses for the balance of the season in order to overcome the present excise tax on made-to-measure clothes.

JAKE SOLOMON WILL LEAD PETES IN THE BIG GAME WITH OSHAWA

As Dan McCabe who has been acting as manager of the Central League team is unable on account of business ties to give the time to the position that he thinks it merits and has accordingly decided to drop out of the game, Jake Solomon has been persuaded to accept the managership of the team and he will be in charge of the Petes in Saturday's game with Oshawa. Jake's absence from the coaching lines has been regretted by the fans and they will doubtless be glad to see him perform his famous dance along the first base line when the Petes start to move around the bases.

Saturday's game is attracting the attention of the fans for they know that the Oshawa crew will be one of the hardest outfits that the Petes will be called upon to meet this season. Patten, the Oshawa twirler, is a clever experienced pitcher and he will have the support of a fast-fielding hard-hitting aggregation who will take a lot of beating

The game is called at 3 o'clock and will undoubtedly draw a big crowd to the park across the river.

Dick Butler of Lindsay will be the umpire-in-chief of Saturday's fixture. He will select his own assistant.

DE LAVAL OFFICE TEAM DEFEATED

The De Laval office baseball team's balloon of victories was punctured yesterday afternoon when the creamery goods factory defeated them to the tune of 13-9 in the second fixture in the De Laval League.

Doughty was in the box for the office but was weakened by having pitched for Barrie's the preceding day. The factory aggregation laid on the willow heavily and in the second innings scored 10 runs. The office, however, set out to cut down the lead and for a time made things look dangerous, though the game ended with them still on the short end of the score.

WOOLENS AND VETS TO CLASH TO-NIGHT

To-night's City League fixture between Canadian Woollens and the Great War Veterans promises to be an interesting exhibition for both teams are out with a strong line up and anxious fora win that will pull them up along side of the Canadian General team in the second place berth. The game is called for 6.15 o'clock and should be well worth seeing.

All members of the Peterboro Central League team are reminded that there will be a signal practice in preparation for Saturday's game with Oshawa after to-night's City League fixture.

BASEBALL

The second half of the weekly bill will be staged at Keene Friday evening at 5.30, when Lakefield will invade the Otonabee capital. The rival nines have each won a game and Friday's winner will lead the league. Lakefield will have a big following of fans, and Keene is all worked up over the game. Many ball fans from the city are arranging to take in the contest.

Queen Alexandra juniors and the Queen Mary seniors will meet in a Public School League baseball game at Riverside park at 4.30 o'clock tomorrow and there promises to be a big attendance of juvenile fans. Mr. A. C. Kay will umpire the game.

With a wildly-excited throng of fans looking on, Nassau defeated Douro in an East Peterborough Ball League game at Douro yesterday afternoon by the score of 23 to 8. The Nassau lads mixed two home runs with a variety of short and long-distance hitting that was too much for Martin Coughlin's band of athletes. The visiting team were a big surprise and other teams in the circuit will have a big afternoon's job to subdue them. They hit hard, field well, and have a first-class battery in Frank and T. Leahy. Eleven Douro batters hit nothing but the air, and Leo Sullivan and D. O'Brien were the only homesters to get extra base wallops. Sullivan hitting for two bags in the fifth, scoring Martin Coughlin, and O'Brien getting his in the sixth when Douro threatened to break loose as they did at Lakefield, but had to be satisfied with six runs.

F. Leahy and T. Leahy were the heavy artillery for the Nassau team the former hitting out a homer and a triple, and the latter a circuit drive. Only six strike-outs were registered against the team.

Cranley, the Douro heaver, got away to a good start by retiring the visitors in the first without a score, but they solved his offerings in the second and tallied six runs. They came back in the third with three more, but found the going harder in the fourth and fifth. In the sixth however, Nassau hit the ball hard, getting nine runs.

The teams:

Nassau—Ryan, 3b.; M. Leahy, 1.f.; T. Leahy, c.; V. Leahy, s.s.; F. Leahy, p.; J. Leahy, c.f.; John Coughlin, 1b.; Joe Coughlin, r.f.; Whibbs, 2b.

Douro—Coughlin, c., r.f.; Foley, 1b.; Sullivan, 2b.; D. O'Brien, 3b.; J. Coughlin, s.s.; Walsh, c.f.; T. Condon, r.f., c.; Cranley, p.; Dench, l.f.

Score by innings:

Nassau	0	6	3	2	2	9	1	—	23
Douro	0	0	1	0	1	6	0	—	8

MACHINE GUNNERS WIN THEIR PROTEST AGAINST THE CANADIAN GENERAL

NO FOOTBALL GAME IN HAMILTON—REFEREES APPOINTED FOR NEXT GAMES—GAME TO-NIGHT AT EXHIBITION GROUNDS.

The bi-monthly meeting of the Peterborough Football Association was held last evening in Mr. Fred Sutcliffe's barber shop, Charlotte street. In the absence of Mr. Joe Parkins, the president, the chair was occupied by Mr. Baldwin, vice-president. With the exception of the Caledonians, all the teams had representatives present.

Referee's Reports Accepted.

The executive received and accepted the referee's reports as read.

Machine Gun Win Their Protest.

The Machine Gun team lodged a protest against the C.G.E. team for playing Flanders, an unregistered player, in the game last Saturday evening, without being registered 48 hours. After a lengthy discussion and splendid arguments put forth by Representative Rae of the C.G.E. on behalf of his team, failed to make any impression. Getting the full details and given it consideration, the executive, by unanimous vote, awarded the game to the Gunners, and C.G.E. forfeiting two points.

No Football Game in Hamilton.

The lack of the necessary finance and the question of affiliation with O.F.A. aided the executive to dispose of the proposed football game in Hamilton on July 1st by a picked team from Peterborough.

Referees Appointed.

Saturday, June 1th—De Laval vs. C.G.E.—Mr. Alex. McKinley; Canadian Woollens vs. Caledonians—Mr. F. Keller.

Saturday, June 19th—Machine Gun vs. De Laval—Mr. Bates; C.G.E. vs. G.W.V.A.—Mr. F. Keller.

FREE KICKS.

The G.W.V.A. and Canadian Woollens will play to-night at Exhibition grounds. Mr. A. Bates will referee the game. Kick-off at 6.30 prompt.

The Caledonians expect to have a full turn-out of players to-night for the practice game at Exhibition grounds.

In future the Referee will not allow the teams to start unless he has received the names of all players playing on the respective teams.

The Machine Gun team will practice to-night at the Oval at 6.30 prompt. A full attendance requested.

Wilfrid Jones' De Laval team got a severe shock last evening when the Comrades defeated them to the tune of two goals to nothing. Goal scorers for the winning team were Dunkley and Martin.

A special meeting of the C.G.E. executive and players will be held in the Montreal House, Aylmer Street, tonight at 8 p.m. The business to be transacted will be the question of disbanding for the rest of the season.

LOCKINGTON EXPLAINS WHY "CANON BALL" SCOTT WAS NOT IN GAME

Sandy Lockington, Port Hope, president of the Central Ontario Baseball League, writes the Lindsay Warder as follows:

Dear Sir,—I would infer from the item in the sporting column of the Warder of June 7th, that I was responsible for Ed. Scott of Toronto, not taking part in last Saturday's game. I wish to corect this impression and in so doing might set forth exactly what did occur.

Some weeks ago Port Hope's pitcher, McDonald, appeared before the T.A.B.A., and furnished this body with an affidavit. This I understand, was forwarded to the O.B.A.A., and nothing more was heard of the case until two days previous to the scheduled game in Peterboro last Saturday, when a wire was received from Mr. John Nott, secretary of the Central Ontario League, stating that instructions had been received from the O.B.A.A. to the effect that McDonald could not participate in any more Central League games until his suspension was dealt with. This wire was sent to Manager Chalk of the Port Hope team, and he immediately waited upon me with the request to phone Secretary Walker of the O.B.A.A. As it affected the league of which I am president I thought that I was quite within my rights to consult Mr. Walker. In our telephone conversation I informed Mr. Walker that McDonlad had taken an affidavit before the A.A.B.A. He replied that he was aware of this, but McDonald's case would have to be considered by the O.B.A.A. When asked how long before this body would deal with it, he replied probably two weeks. I thought this period of time altogether unwarranted and then made the remark that Ed. Scott's case was disposed off in much less time. Walker then said if you have any charges to make against Scott do so, and the O.B.A.A. will investigate. I made it quite clear to him that I had no charge to make against Scott, but I considered it discriminating against small town teams in favor of Toronto, in deciding Scott's case without the slightest delay, and then hold McDonald's up for three weeks or a month. That concluded our conversation and if Ed. Scott was deprived of playing in Saturday's game, as you intimate in your issue of 7th of June, then it was simply another case of the O.B.A.A. or Mr. Walker being desirous of exercising their authority.

As president of the Central Ontario League my aim has always been that every young man desirous of playing ball should never be deprived of that privilege. It is the only way to promote sport, and if my good friend Scott is not removed from the mound until I am responsible for it, he has a long pitching career ahead of him.

The O.B.A.A. can give no reason why four weeks should elapse before the eligibility of McDonald could be decided. In towns the size of Port Hope it is always a very difficult matter to gather a team together to compete against the larger towns, and this high and haughty attitude of the O.B.A.A. to deal with cases at their convenience will kill the game in the smaller places.

I have no apologies to make to Mr. Walker for anything that I said over the phone, but I do think that it is up to him to explain to the Central Ontario League why it should require four weeks to decide whether or not a player was eligible.

Trusting that this explanation will be satisfactory to you and also to your readers who are evidently now resting under a misapprehension, I remain,

Yours very truly,
SANDY LOCKINGTON.

"THE LIGHT" IS STORY OF A WICKED WOMAN

Who is the "wickedest woman in Paris?" Theda Bara.

It is in this role that she appears in her latest super-production, "The Light," a William Fox photoplay, which opens to-night at the Regent Theatre. Here Miss Bara portrays a woman who laughs in the face of the misery of Paris in recent years. While other women sacrifice themselves she becomes entangled in numerous love affairs and lives a life of luxury.

But misery must leave its scar, even upon the heart of a notorious women. She finds the salvation of her soul in her compassion for a blinded soldier. He teaches her the lesson of sacrifice and noble devotion. For his sake she deserts her old haunts and her old associates. She sees duty at last, and obeys its summons by caring tenderly for the blind hero and bringing light into his life.

LACROSSE

Going to Oshawa.

All players are requested to turn out to practice on Friday night, when the team that will play in Oshawa on Saturday will be picked. Seventeen men will be taken and the trip will be made by automobile. This is Peterboroug's first game and the executive desire to take the strongest team possible. Although not a league game it will provide a fine workout and a test of strength.

Four Games in Sight.

On Saturday, June 19th, the Hastings team, augmented by several Norwood players, will play here. There is also the return game with Oshawa and it is expected that the team will play in Hastings on Dominion Day.

The season is beginning to warm up and everything is going smoothly. An earnest request is made to all the members of the team to turn out. Several new men have arrived in the city recently and while they wish to play in the game, preference will be given to those who have been practicing during the spring and who are regarded as regulars. However, practices must be regularly atended.

TRAP SHOOTING.

The Peterborough Gun Club will hold their weekly shoot at the grounds Friday evening at 6.30. All members are requested to be on hand as a squad from Lakefield is coming down to give the locals a shoot. You can procure your shells on the grounds.

AT THE ALLEN

Mary Roberts Rinehart may well be proud of the directing genius of Reginald Barker who produced for Goldwyn the photodrama, "Dangerous Days." It amazed and spellbound the audience at the Allen Theatre last night.

Human heroism, the love of father and son, and self-sacrifice stand out against a background of terror and industrial strife.

Lawson Butt in the leading role of the American business man disillusioned at home and disobeyed at his mills, adds to the distinction his dramatic ability has already won him. Mr. Butt made a big hit in Geraldine Farrar's starring vehicle, "The World and its Woman," and became famous in George Loane Tucker's "The Miracle Man." He is supported by an all-star cast, including such popular favorites as Florence Deshon, well known legitimate stage actress who has made such success in David Belasco's "Seven Chances." She also figured prominently in Rex Beach's "The Auction Block;" Pauline Starke and Barbara Castleton, who have long and successful screen careers to their credit. The others are H. Milton Ross, Bertram Grassby, Stanton Heck, Frank Leigh, Eddie McWade. The picture was photographed by Percy Hilburn.

"Dangerous Days" contains many situations of the thrilling and dramatic types that appeal and are appreciated by motion picture audiences. The manner in which these situations are knitted together in a series of climaxes with a grand climax at the end makes a story that holds the interest throughout the picture.

It is sprinkled with the humor for which Mary Roberts is more famous than any other woman writer in America.

MILLIONAIRE ENTERTAINS A GANG OF HOBOES.

The spectacle of a millionaire real estate promoter hobnobbing with a gang of "down and outs" in a common bar room at 2 a.m., on Christmas eve and inviting the said hoboes to his palatial mansion for Christmas dinner the next day, is surely one which is unique in motion picture annals.

Yet this is a pathetic, tragic-comic scene in "Gates of Brass," the five-act drama starring Frank Keenan, which will open its run at the Grand Theatre to-day.

When "Margaret Blake" discovered that her father was nothing more nor less than a thief she shook from her feet the dust of his house, asserting that she would never return until he had reimbursed every cent of the tainted money When that time came Margaret had married and found new interests so on this particular Christmas day Blake had imagined that he would have no one to share with him the season's good cheer. When Margaret and her husband unexpectedly arrived on Christmas afternoon they found——

It would not be fair to disclose more of the plot of the intensely interesting story which is contained in "Gates of Brass," the second of Mr. Keenan's independently produced photoplays. A sure guarantee of excellence is the fact that "America's greatest character-actor," plays the leading role.

Findings of Board

REASONS WHY BOARD OF TRADE DID NOT INTERFERE IN STRIKE.

It is evident by Tuesday's issue that certain statements are necessary to explain the action of the Executive Council of the Board of Trade concerning the request to the City Council to co-operate with the committee of the City Council to try to bring about a settlement between certain employees of the Canadian General Electric Company and the manage ment of the company.

Therefore, the following points are given for consideration:

Firstly, that the finding as promulgated in Tuesday's issue by the resolution was made. The Executive Council of the Board which was duly elected by ballot at the last annual meeting from the general membership.

Secondly, that the Executive Council as present at the meeting was comprised of representatives from merchants, 3; manufacturers, 2; independents, 2; labor, 1; engineer, 1; and, banker, 1.

Thirdly, that the Executive Council was elected from the general membership which is composed of :— merchants, 129; manufacturers, 48; professional ,32; insurance and real estate, 12; lawyers, 10; engineers, 8; manufacturers, agents and travellers or ascountants and secretaries, 6; farmers, 4; Government depts., 5; city departments, 5; clergy, 3; carters, 3; labor, 2; miscellaneous, 38.

Fourthly, that the Board in all its activities is working for the best interests of all citizens, and therefore, will do everything within its power to develop the best community spirit of harmony and satisfaction.

Fifthly, as a representative body of citizens, the Board is prepared to act under the authority vested in this body by the Boards of Trade Act under article 10; section 1, copy of which appeared in Tuesday's issue.

Sixthly, that the City Council, prompted by the best motives, have done all possible to bring about a settlement and that the Board's assistance under the present circumstances would only tend to aggravate the situation, unless dealt with as a new subject for attention.

A. Murray Returns

FRIENDS OF FORMER ALDERMAN CONGRATULATING HIM UPON RECOVERY OF HEALTH IN SCOTLAND.

After many of the vicissitudes attendant upon travelling in these days, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Murray have returned to Peterborough, after a short delay in New York, and are being warmly welcomed by their many friends. The former Alderman, and first leader of the Labor group in the City Council, looks well, and says his appearance would have been even better had it not been for the attack of appendicitis that necessitated his removal from the steamer "St. Paul" to St. Vincent's hospital, New York, as soon as the vessel docked. However, Mr. Murray avoided an operation, and states that he and his wife were splendidly treated in the big city. The doctors and nurses of St. Vincent's hospital were exceptionally attentive and considerate, as were officials of the Salvation Army, through whom bulletins of Mr. Murray were telegraphed to Adjutant Buntin ,and to Mr. Peter Murray, who had sailed a week previous to his father.

When Mr. Murray went back to Scotland more than a year ago in the hope of regaining his health he had his mind set on presenting himself to the doctors of the Royal Infirmary at Edinburgh, and although he was examined by quite a number of others in Peterborough, Toronto and in several English cities, his ailment was quickly, in fact almost at a glance, and correctly, diagnosed by Dr. Gulland, a specialist of Edinburgh's famous hospital. The case had baffled sixteen physicians up to that time and from that day late last fall Mr. Murray, under the new treatment, began speedily to recover his health.

Mr. Murray remarked that trans-Atlantic passenger traffic is congested and greatly exceeds the accommodation. The cost is vastly increased and the entire business has not regained its normal efficiency and smoothness. Mr. Murray is as interested as ever in social and economic problems, and states that from his observations he is convinced that Labor in the Old Country is not so far ahead of the Canadian organizations as many persons in this country have been led to believe. There is considerable unemployment, the cost of ordinary living is extremely high, but the country as a whole is making big strides towards prosperity.

THE STRIKE SITUATION TO-DAY.

Number of Vacancies in Different Departments in C.G.E. is 286.

On inquiry it was learned that today there are 286 vacancies in the various departments on strike at the Canadian General Electric Company. This of course would be allowing for men who had returned to work or new men who may have been taken on at the plant since the men went out.

LITTLE PROSPECT OF GERMANY CARRYING OUT PEACE TREATY

The Spa Conference is Likely to be Abandoned--Question of German Indemnity.

Canadian Press.)

LONDON, June 11.—The possibility of the abandonment of the Spa Conference between representatives of the Allied Governments and Germany is being discussed in European capitals.

The success of the Independent Socialists and Conservatives in the German elections leads to the belief in France that Germany is less that ever inclined to carry out the Treaty.

This belief, with the prospect that Giovanni Giolitti, former Italian Premier, will form a new ministry in that country, is said to have moved Premier Millerand of France to oppose any further yielding on the question of the German indemnity, such as might be expected to result from the Spa meeting.

Premier Millerand is said to feel he might hazard his own position if the Spa Conference were held, and the belief is expressed here that Signor Giolitti may decline to attend the meeting.

AEROPLANE SENT WIRELES CALLS

LANDING FIELD WAS ILLUMINATED AND MACHINE MADE DESCENT IN THE DARK.

(Canadian Press.)

CHICAGO, June 11.—Wireless calls for aid sent out by a Government air mail plane, which faced a descent in the dark, enabled the plane to make a safe landing here last night.

Delayed an hour by wind and storm on the last lap of the journey from New York to Chicago, the radio operator on the plane sent out calls while approaching Chicago to light the landing field and prepare for the machine's descent. The message was picked up by the wireless operator at the Great Lakes Naval Trading Station.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE WAS GIVEN LAST EVENING IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

"ISRAEL AMONG THE NATIONS" WAS DISCUSSED BY EVANGELIST PHILIP SIDERSKY.

An interesting address on "Israel Among the Nations" was delivered last evening at the Public Library Auditorium by Evangelist Philip Sidersky, of Baltimore, Md. The address was illustrated with stereoptican views, some of them from Russia and others from New York City, as well as different ones showing the various activities by various isms and anti-Christian propagandists showing their activities among the non-English-speaking Jews in the United States, as well as in Canada. He also showed pictures descriptive of the persecution of the Jews in Russia.

Mr. Sidersky, who was born and reared in Russia, and is versed in several languages, and has been a citizen of the United States for a number of years, brought out some very interesting information about the difficulties at present in Russia, and related some of the causes for it.

In his address, Mr. Sidersky pointed out some of the prophecies, types, and predictions about Christ from the Old Testament, and gave a brief description of the Jewish passover service as it is being observed by the Jews all over the world, and its relation to Christ.

Jews Suffered.

How the Jews have been suffering during the recent war in different parts of Europe was shown by stereopticon views. Mr. Sidersky said that the Jews had not only given a larger percentage in proportion to their numbers to the various armies among the different nations, but they have been suffering even in their homes because of the war.

The speaker showed on the screen the likenesses of some of the well-known Hebrew Christians who were born and reared in the Jewish faith, and who, after the reading of the New Testament, were led to accept Christianity. These Hebrews have become very active and useful in the various Christian denominations as preachers, writers, and translators of the Gospel; among them were three bishops of the Church of England, and several of the most prominent ministers of other denominations.

Mr. Sidersky said that the Christian Church had a great opportunity as well as responsibility among the Jews of the United States, Canada, and Britain. On acount of the inability of a great many of them to speak and understand the English language, the speaker said that the Jews are being imposed upon by a radical element that pays for the publications of misleading literature in the Yiddish language, and which is distributed freely among the Jews.

Pictures Shown.

Continuing, he said if the Jews really know Christianity, they would believe in its teachings, and in the hope and comfort that it holds out to the human race. Pictures of victims of pogroms in Russia were shown, and the ikon which is carried through the streets of Russian towns and before which the Russians bow. Mr. Sidersky said he remembered distinctly how as a child he would run and hide at the sight of the ikon, for his religion would not permit his belief in the Christ picture on it, and lack of this belief was the cause of horrors through which the Russian Jews had passed.

Some interesting facts relating to the Jewish flag were brought out by the speaker, and he stated that never in the history of the world has there been the combination at Jerusalem that there is at the present moment—the British flag, the triple cross, and the Jewish national flag floating along side each other.

"Hatiqua" (The Hope), the Jewish National Anthem, was sung by Mr. Sidersky in the Hebrew language during the lecture.

The June Sessions

THEFT CASE IS BEING HEARD IN COUNTY COURT.

The trial of Carmen Gould, on a charge of theft of an engine bed owned by Mr. G. W. Hatton, opened in the county court yesterday afternoon. His Honour Judge Huycke is presiding. Mr. F D. Kerr apeared for the defendant while Mr. J. F. Strickland prosecuted for the Crown.

Gould in April, 1919, bought the hull of the old steamer "Esturion" for $75. The engine bed of the boat, which Mr. Hatton claims is essential to the engine, which he values at one thousand dollars, and has at home, was near the hull. Gould sold the bed to Isadore Goldman, a junk dealer for $25. Mr. Hatton claims that it was not included in the agreement and he had no right to sell it.

Goldman sold it to D. Florence and Sons for $26, only makng $1, and now they have it on their hands awaiting the court's judgment. Mr. Hatton claims that the bed could be put together and used again.

The witnesses yesteday afternoon were G. W. Hatton, W. H. Lytle,who was also a purchaser for the boat, Isadore Goldman and L. Florence.

The case was resumed at 10 o'clock to-day.

The Evidence.

M. Howson was the first witness in the case to-day. Under Mr. Kerr's examination he said that for the last three years Mr. Gould had worked for him and handled large sums of money, He was still employed by him, he said.

Mr. Carmen Gould, the prisoner in the box, said that he had lived in the city for 20 years. He was arrested and taken to the lock-up on the charge last July. Up till then he had never been connected with any court cases. His family was well known and respected in the community of Colborne For seven years he had worked for the Quakers Oats Company and for six years with Mr. Clysdale. His last position had been as salesman with M. Howson, an automobile agent, here.

To the jury he said that he handled as much as $3000 and $4000 at a time and had considerable handling of money.

"In the winter of 1917 I met Mr. Hancock, the auctioneer, on Geoge street. He offered me the boat for $100 and said that he would give me a receipt for everything. I said I couldn't afford it and the matter dropped."

In conversation later with Mr Hatton Mr. Gould told him he asked too much. Mr. Gould lives at the Cadigan place near the Little Lake. "On Nov. 12, 1918, Mr. Hatton came over one day and told me that he wanted to sell the boat. He said that everything went with it. Everything on the ground, if I bought it. He said there was $40 or $50 worth of old iron. He told me to go ahead, and clean up the lot. I bought the boat and did what he said, and here's what I get."

In December he sold the bed to the Jew. Up till then he never knew there was any complaint about him breaking up the engine bed. He met Mr. Hatton on the street in April, and Hatton accused him of stealing the boat. He did not bother with the matter until he was arrested on the 2nd or the 3rd day of July, 1919.

Cross-Examination.

In cross-examination by Mr. J. F. Strickland prisoner said that Cadigan helped him tear the boat apart for the wood that was in it. Several other men were employed by him and paid cash and some in wood. Cadigan got ten loads of wood valued at $22.

"If you owned a $7000 engine and it was the essential part of the engine, would you sell it for a nominal sum?"

"I'd sell anything if I got my money out of it."

"Did you ever tell anyone that all you ever bought from Mr. Hatton was the wood?"

"No. I never did."

He had two interviews with Mr. Hatton, witness said. Once he approached him, and once Mr. Hatton approached him. He paid cash for the boat at Mr. Hatton's office and received a receipt."

"Did it read, 'To C. Gould for the hull of the Esturion, $75?'"

"Something like that."

Mr. Gould said that he had made no search for the receipt. It was in his belongings somewhere."

Daniel McMillan, the next witness, said he saw the boat in November, 1918, and from the position of the engine bed he would conclude that it would go with the boat if it was sold.

John B. Cadigan, where Mr. Gould lived, explained the condition of the boat. He said that Mr. Gould had spoken to him of the price to be asked. He had had no part except in connection with the wood, he told Mr. Strickland.

Mrs. Cadigan told the court of the morning call of Mr. Hatton in November and the conversation she heard that followed. Mr. Hatton refused an offer of $60 by Gould. He promised Gould concrete on the land belonging to the old boat shed to the value." Mr. Gould told him.

PRESIDENT EDGAR WORTH OF BOARD OF TRADE SAYS ACTION WAS MISCONSTRUED

SWINDLED THE MEXICAN ROADS

(Canadian Press.)

EL PASO, Texas, June 11. — Paulino Fontes, former Director-General of Railroads in Mexico, is being sought by the de facto government of Mexico in connection with a discrepancy of several thousand dollars in his accounts according to Roberto Pesqueira, financial agent here for Mexico.

JUDGMENT FOR THE PLAINTIFF

CASE CONCLUDED IN THE COUNTY COURT.

In the Armstrong-Thompson case in the June session of the County Court judgment of $750 was granted S. Armstrong by the jury at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after being out for half an hour.

Samuel Armstrong sued for $1,000, $500 in cash and $500 in stock. The first claim was granted, but the $500 in stock was only valued by the jury at $250.

20 G.T.R. EMPLOYEES HERE SHARE AWARD

Twenty employees of the Grand Trunk, clerks, porters and baggage men in the city, are effected by the award in connection with the dispute between the Grand Trunk railway and its station, yard and office employees.

HARROW TO CLEAN UP ALFAFA FIELD

Harrowing alfalfa immediately after the first cutting helps to rid this legume of foxtail and bluegrass, os found by tests at the Ohio Experimental Station.

It is necessary, however, to do the harrowing during a dry spell, as weeds and grasses are merely dug out and reset, so far as effectiveness is concerned, when alfalfa is harrowed during a rainy season. Hot and dry weather are necessary to kill foxtail and blue grass after harrowing.

The spring-tooth harrow has been found more practical than a disc, as injury is less on the alfalfa when the spring-tooth implement is used.

Itis often necessary in Ohio to cultivate alfalfa during the first year of its growth, after the second and third crops are harvested, to get rid fo competing weetds and grasses.

WHOLESALE SHOES REDUCED

Three St. Louis Makers Lower Prices from 25 Cents to $2.

ST. LOUIS.—Reductions in the wholesale prices of various styles of shoes of from 25 cents to $2 a pair were announced to-day by officials of three of the largest shoe manufacturing establishments here. The companies announcing the reductions are the International Shoe Company, the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company and the Brown Shoe Company. Officials emphasized that the new prices were not the result of an agreement.

A. C. Brown, President of the Hamilton-Brown Comoany, asserted that "tight-money" and the resultant difficulty met by retailers in borrowing money was the chief cause of the lowered prices. Reduced prices on certain grades of leather was assigned as a contributory cause.

A MISUNDERSTANDING BETWEEN THE TWO BODIES—WHAT BOARD WAS ASKED TO DO.

In regards to Ald. G. N. Gordon's statement in Tuesday night's Examiner that he was much disappointed at the action of the Board of Trade's executive in refusing to intervene between the C.G.E. strikers and the company, there seems to have been some misunderstanding between Ald. Gordon and his own City Council committee, and between the latter and the Council of the Board of Trade.

As the result of an interview with President Edgar Worth of the Board of Trade by an Examiner representative this morning it appears that the delegation from the City Council which waited on the Board of Trade's executive, Tuesday night, conveyed the impression that co-operation of the Board of Trade with the City Council's special committee in an endeavor to effect a settlement of the strike was the object sought. This position was borne out in a letter to hand at that meeting from City Clek Armstrong, "requesting the co-operation of the Board with the Special Committee of the City Council, composed of the Mayor, Aldermen Whitehouse, Hamilton and Turner, to try to bring about a settlement of a dispute between certain employees of the Canadian General Electric Co. and the management of the company."

Not Present.

President Worth was not present at this meeting, being out of town, but yesterday, in company with Secretary Frazer of the Board of Trade, he interviewed Ald Gordon, when that gentleman declared distinctly that his idea was for the Board of Trade to act independently in any attempt at a strike settlement, and not jointly with the City Council. This is in keeping with President Worth's views, and puts the whole matter, in a different light, as the president declared this morning. Had Council's committee on Tuesday night advocated independent action by the Board of Trade, the latter's conclusion might have been on altogether different lines than then pronounced, Mr. Worth would not commit himself to any future policy to be pursued by the Board of Trade on this question, but, he asserted, neither his colleagues nor himself felt like cooperating with a committee which had practically run up against a stone wall in its conciliatory efforts with Senator Nichols. Such a course, he said, would be absolutely fruitless under existing aggravated conditions. And. President Worth added, most emphatically, any action, if any, taken by the Board of Trade must be absolutely of an independent and neutral nature, as looked for from an organization, the aim of which is to conserve and advance the city's general interests, irrespective of any class whatever.

BRITAIN GRANTS MALTA HOME RULE

NEW YORK.—Perhaps no other by-product of the World War, save the recovery of Jerusalem from the Turks, has stirred the imagination of the world so profoundly as the recent British announcement giving home rule to Malta, according to a recent article in the National Geographic Society's Bulletin. The central position of the island of Malta in the Mediterranean Sea has been a most important factor in the island's history.

In 1880 it fell into the hands of Great Britain and since then has become a well-known commercial centre and a valuable naval station to Great Britain, due to its advantageous location. Although having an area of only 117 square miles, this island is repfete with numberless tales and anecdotes in which Malta has figured as an actor in the drama of the world.

"The Malta Island group is a shrine of mythology," says the writer, "and of sacred and profane history. Calypso, vampire of Homer's word motion pictures, rescued the shipwrecked Ulysses and persuaded him to stay on the island. St. Paul swam ashore there after his vessel ran aground. Publius, the island Governor, according to Acts, xxviii., received and lodged him, and the apostle founded a Christian community before he departed.

"The date of Christ's birth is but the half-way point in Maltese chronology. Since its recorded history began ten nations have held sway over the coveted islands, beginning with the Phosnicians of Paul's time, and running a scale of Greeks, Carthaginians, Romans, Goths, Arabs, Germans, Spaniards and French, until the present sovereignty of the British.

"It has been said that Malta's local chronicle holds, in microcosm, the history of Europe, and that its archaeological remains mark each step in Western civilization.

"But Malta was an actor, as well as a librarian, of historic drama. Literally she became the savior of the Western world when the Knights of Malta beat back the Turkish hordes durin gthe famous siege of 1565. The alien Knights, along with native Maltese, kept the blighting hand of the Moslem from crushing the lands which fostered those infant ideals of freedom which now are reflected in England's concession .

"The thrills of that siege and the heroism displayed are unsurpassed. Of the 3,000 Maltese who fought with the Knights, practically all were killed. Characteristic of the Knights' valor was that of the defenders of Fort St. Elmo. Wounded and desperate, the few survivors of months of fighting went to a small chapel within the fort, embraced each other, received the Eucharist, and prepared to die. The little company was cut off from all assistance, but fought on. Many fell with sword in hand. Fearing they would be exterminated before the assailants were beaten back, a Maltese was sent to swim across the harbor by night to inform the Grand Master of the danger. The messenger delivered his 'message to Garcia,' by diving and swimming mostly under water. 'Hold the fort, or die fighting,' was the command he brought back. Every man obeyed—and died. But the consternation wrought by their frenzied resistance worked such havoc among the assailants that the news of it spread to other divisions of the Turkish forces, and turned the tide toward a Maltese victory.

"In command of the Turkish sea forces was Dragut, who rose from cabin boy and galley slave to be Admiral of the Turkish Navy. He was mortally wounded before Malta.

"Scenically, Malta has been well named a 'precious stone set in a silver sea.' Agriculturally, it deserves the appellation of New Testament times, Melita, meaning 'the isle of honey.' It domiciles some 230,000 people, thought it does not entirely support them. Its area is only one-tenth that of Rhode Island, but it has twice the density in population of that most densely populated State in the Union.

"In addition of the main island the Malta group consists of Gozo, Comino, with Cominotto, an islet, and Filfla, a rock. Imagine Malta Island to be superimposed on the District of Columbia. Then the nearest Italian shores would be no further away than Richmond is from Washington; Sicily would be a little north of Baltimore; the nearest point on the African shore would be at New York City, and Asia Minor would be not far beyond hCicago. This mental diagram shows why Britain regards Malta as the key and safety lock of her entire Eastern empire.

"Napoleon recognized this strategic value by taking Malta on his way to Egypt. But even Napoleon hesitated at the virtually imoregnable, and used traitors instead of for for the capture.

"The dark hood, or faldetta, which Maltese women wear to this day, is ascribed in popular legend to their desire to hide their faces because of the terrorism of invading soldiers. Terraced fields form a characteristic feature of the landscape. A geographical curiosity is the absence of streams, because water is absorbed by the porous sandstone .

"The present capital and principal seaport of Malta is Valletta, named for the Grand Master of the Knights at the time of the memorable siege. It was literally a 'city built by gentlemen for gentlemen.' It contained the palace of the chiefs of these knights, originally the Knights of the Order of St. John, who resorted to Malta after the Turks had captured their stronghold at Rhodes. Both the main island and Gozo contain numerous relics, like those of England's Stonehenge, of the Mediterranean race that antedated the arrival of the Phoenicians."

PARENTHOOD.

The birches that dance on the top of the hill
Are so slender and young that they cannot keep still,
They bend and they nod at each whiff of a breeze,
For you see they are still just the children of trees;
But the birches below in the valley are older,
They are calmer and straighter and taller and colder,
Perhaps when we're grown up as solemn and grave
We, too, will have children that do not behave.

—John Chipman Farrar.

THE BIRCHES.

Against the hillside scarred and grim,
When June comes smiling o'er the land—
Like priestesses young, pale and slim,
The rows of slender birches stand,
Tall vestal virgins marshalling
The lovely pageant of the Spring!

Each nimbus-crowned, with tender haze,
Paler than green of grass or moss,
A presage of those Summer days
When shimmering boughs, full-leaved shall toss,
Thrilled through by sun, kissed by the breeze—
Mysteriously ecstatic trees!

—Marie V. Caruthers.

HUGE METEOR FELL TAIL WEDGE-SHAPE

OKMULGEE, Okla., June 11.—Geologists were expected to examine here a huge meteor which fell and burned itself out here last night after lighting the skies over several southwestern states. Hundreds of persons in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma watched the meteor's flight reports received here to-day said.

Tulsa, Okla., reported that when it pased over the city the meteor appeared to be within a few hundred yards of the earth and that the lower and heavier portion was of a greenish blue color, followed by a long wedge-shaped tail. As it approached the earth, the report stated, the head apparently separated into four parts, but remained together as a mass, and that during the last few seconds of the fall the southern sky was lighted with a blue-green flash.

C. B. Smith, an astronomic authority at Muskogee, said he believed the meteor was thrown off from a destroyed planet between Jupiter and Mars as it appeared to travel from west to east.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

(Bay of Quinte Branch)

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Bay of Quinte Conference branch concluded yesterday in Trinity Methodist Church where the three day sessions have been held. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. Pres., Mrs. D. R. Harrison, Keene; President, Mrs. A. W. Grange, Napanee; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. J. W. Roberts, Grafton; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. J. R. Real; 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. G. W. Hammond, Campbellford; Rec.-Sec., Mrs. C. A. Callery, Cannifton; Cor.-Sec., Mrs. W. H. Ashton, Campbellford; Treas., Mrs. James Kendry, Peterboro; Mission Circle and Band Sec., Mrs. M. E. Wilson; Mission Band and Circle Treas., Mrs. F. R. Foley; Supt. of Christian Stewardship, Mrs. F. W. White; Strangers' Secretary, Mrs. J. Laird; Representative to Bay of Quinte Conference, Mrs. James Kendry; Delegates to Board Meeting, Mrs. McFarlane and Mrs. (Rev.) M. E. Wilson; Alternates, Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Roberts; Representative to Summer School, Miss Nellie Turner.

An Appreciation.

The report of the Courtesy Committee follows:

On behalf of the members of the Bay of Quinte Branch of the Woman's Missionary Society in convention assembled, we desire to express our appreciation of the many kindnesses we have received on every hand.

To our hosts and hostesses who so freely opened their homes.

To the pastor and trustee board of Trinity Church for opening their church to us.

To the organist and choir.

To Mrs. King and the Misses Hartshorn for their inspiring solos and duet.

To the sexton.

To those who assisted in the Mission Band exercise.

To Trinity Circle who entertained the Band and Circle delegation at luncheon making it possible for the girls to get a special message from the speakers.

To Miss Turner and Miss Keagey for their interesting addreses.

To Miss Morrow and the Trinity ladies for the delightful tea accorded us on Tuesday afternoon.

To the Billeting and Reception Committee.

To the gentlemen who so kindly placed their autos at the disposal of the ladies.

To the local press and press reporters and all who in any way have contributed to the success of the convention.

Interesting Paper.

Mrs. A. W. Grange, of Napanee, read the following interesting paper on "20-20-20." What do the figues mean?

I suppose there is not a delegate here who has not a fair idea of what those figures have meant to our society for the past two years, said Mrs. Grange. We are all familiar with their origin. We recall that at the last General Conference which met in September, 1918, a representative was sent from the W.M.S. bearing a message to the effect that in view of the general Forward Movement contemplated by all departments of the church that the Board Meeting of 1918 had unanimously carried a resolution which pledged the society to cheerfully co-operate in any advance movement which the church and particularly the General Board of Missions might inaugrate.

The resolution embodied a pledge that in the next five years the society would endeavor to send thirty new workers to China forty-three to Japan, and an annual budget of $100,000 each to Japan and China and a corresponding ratio of increase in money and missionaries for all our Canadian missions.

Implicit Faith.

The Board of Managers would not have ventured such an obligation if they had got implicit faith in the loyalty and consecration of the women of their constituency—but because they knew the faith and zeal and devotion of the membership of this society; because they remembered that the society in all its history had never failed to measure up to any responsibility laid upon them—they felt that they could safely pledge the whole membership to this greatly enlarged programme. They realized of course, that this increased financial burden could not be carried unless every local society took upon itself its share of the burden and they also that a definite and fixed rate of increase should be set before the women toward which they could work each year of the campaign.

The Percentages.

After careful consideration they fixed on that percentage of increase that has now become the standard toward which every branch has been striving for the past two years:

20% increase in membership.
20 new missionaries each year.

The financial returns for the first year were very gratifying. All the branches reporting the 20% increase and some of the branches going beyond it. No doubt the Blue Book for 1920-21 will tell a similar story. But the membership returns have been disappointing. None of the branches came up to the standard last year in point of membership and there is a well founded impression at headquarters that there has not been sufficient emphasis placed on this feature of the Forward Movement. And that if the society is to reach its objective, viz: that at the close of the five years campaign "Every Woman in the Methodist Church a Member of the Woman's Missionary Society," there must be more earnest, more faithful, more determined effort to win the uninterested women of our church. At the inception of this movement a call was sent out for 11,570 new members the first year. That would have meant the 20% increase had they been secured—but the annual report of 1918-19 showed an increase of only 4,500—a fair increase but far below the mark. There is an immense field of endeavor just here. It is estimated that approximately 400,000 women of all ages are enrolled as members of the Methodist Church in Canada. Of these only 57,800 are identified with the Woman's Missionary Society, leaving 201,000 women yet to be brought into this blessed fellowship of service for the Kingdom of Christ.

A Responsibility.

Delegates! we lay upon you the responsibility of urging the executives of your circles and auxiliaries to come together as early as possible to make an accurate survey of each congregation and find out how many of these 201,000 women your society is responsible for winning. To do this work successfully it must be systematically planned and prayerfully carried out.

Committees Formed.

Let canvassing committees be formed of the most zealous members of the society and to each committee entrust lists of the women over whom they are likely to have the most influence. If these names are kept in the memory, on the hearts, and in the prayers of earnest campaign workers September Rally Day ought to show a fine addition to the roll call Our purpose in placing this number on the programme was that you might cary back to your Auxiliaries, Circles and Bands the imperative call of the society for a third year's increase along the same lines and in the same ratio as the advance movement of the past two years laying the special emphasis on the increase in membership. If we can secure the increase of 20% in membership it will go a long way toward solving the problem of how to bring up the income to the required amount. Let us bear in mind that the Board of Managers are not asking impossibilities of our women. They are not asking for big subscriptions of fifty, one hundred, or one thousand, such as our people were expected to contribute to the national campaign.

Modest Request.

The society makes the very modest request that every woman who contributed to the funds last year will for every dollar contributed give one dollar and twenty cents this year. We cannot think that any member will feel the poorer of she complies with the request.

The third goal to be attained is the enlistment of capable, consecrated young women for life service on our mission fields. I wish to correct an impression that seems to prevail in some quarters that 20 missionaries are expected from each branch. This is a mistaken idea. The board appeals for 20 new missionaries from the whole Dominion from ocean to ocean. This would mean an average of two from each branch. I am glad to state that the Board of Managers hopes to send the full quota of missionaries this year to stations in China, Japan and Canada. One of these, Miss Olive Hambly, from Napanee district, sails for Japan in August.

Another canditdate from Cannington district is completing her course in the National Traing School and may be appoinnted to some Canadian mission in the spring of 1021. This means that each year this branch has had one candidate but we ought to have two. Let us resolve to be iaSfwMrtdwiofwtobOmuHogwotoTla more faithful in obeying our Master's command: "Pray ye the Lord of the harvest field that he thrust forth labourers into his harvest." I think perhaps it is not necessary for me to enlarge on this subject. I trust the delegates have taken full notes of the very excellent address of Miss Turner and Miss Haddy. In conclusion let me quote from a leaflet recently published:

As long as only one woman in four in our Methodist Church belongs to the Woman's Missionary Society, we must say more members.

As long as the women of Canadian Methodism are only giving 80 cents per capita to promote Christian woman's work for heathen women, we must say more money.

As long as two out of every three women in all the world have never heard the Gospel of Christ—as long as the Methodist Church bears the responsibility of evangelising fourteen million of the Orient, as well as the large foreign population of our Canada, we must say more missionaries.

As long as the great Leader of the mission host looks on the Church militant and finds so few intercessors, as long as His call "pray ye" comes to us, we must say more prayer.

BROUGHT HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

MRS. JULES LABJOIE IS DEEPLY GRATEFUL TO TANLAC—"I OWE IT A GREAT DEBT," SHE SAYS.

"I was a complete nvalid for ten months, but Tanlac has restored me to better health than I have ever known," was the truly remarkable statement made to the Tanlac representative by Mrs. Jules Labjoies of 81 St. Phillips Street, Montreal, who, until her marriage a short time ago, was Miss Blance Veronneau.

"My illness started with acute indigestion," she continued. "Forever after my meals my food felt like a hard lump just here in my chest. I would almost suffocate, and had such severe spells of coughing that I could hardly retain my food. I lost my appetite completely, and was also very constipated. The severe headaches which I had from time to time always ended by my nose bleeding profusely. My sleep was very disturbed. I would roll and toss on my bed for hours, while my mind became obsessed with disagreeable thoughts. The colour all left my cheeks, and I became so weak that I could hardly keep on my feet for more than five minutes at a time, and it was an effort to even hold a knife or fork.

"Nothing surprised me more than the way I started to get better as soon as I began taking Tanlac. It gave me an astonishing appetite, and I soon found that I could digest my food without difficulty. Neither constipation nor headaches trouble me any more. I sleep soundly and awake full of life and energy. I have gained eight pounds in weight, and feel stronger and better in every way. I owe a great debt to Tanlac, for it has indeed brought me both health and happiness."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corner by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

FLOG YOUTHS WHO ILL-TREAT GIRLS

LAD CHARGED WITH INDECENT ASSAULT NARROWLY ESCAPES LASH.

LONDON, June 11.—William Forbes, a 15-year-old local lad, who pleaded guilty to a charge of indecent assault at the June sessions this week, was allowed his freedom on suspended sentence by County Judge Talbot Macbeth. The victim of the assault was an 8-year-old girl residing in Dorchester district, and Forbes has been incarcerated in the county jail here on a remand for a week. Before his freedom was obtained, the boy's father, Peter Forbes, was required to give his cognizance for $400, of which $200 guarantees that William will keep the peace for one year and the remainder is bail for him to appear for sentence at any time the court orders.

The prisoner was subjected to a scathing lecture by Judge Macbeth. "It is a very good thing for you that you are not over 16 years of age," said the court. "If you were, I would order you flogged. I think you are too young for that, and you do not appear to be subject for the industrial school. The only thing to do is for me to let you go on suspended sentence."

"You have had a very narrow escape," continued the judge. "Any youth who illtreats a girl hereafter I intend to have flogged. It was an infamous crime, but I do not think that you realize it. If you had accomplished your purpose you would have been liable to fourteen years in prison. I hope you behave yourself in future. Curb your passions and let the girls alone."

Forbes felt his position keenly, and wept before being brought into court. It was mainly due to glowing character references from responsible citizens that the clemency of the court was observed.

"If at any time I think you should be sentenced for this crime," concluded the judge, "I will send for you and your father must deliver you to this court."

SPECIAL FILMS SHOWN OF CANADIAN MANUFACTURES AND RESOURCES.

LONDON, June 10.—The exhibition of Canadian industries privately promoted bpened Monday in the Agricultural Hall Islington, and is described by its promoters as a modest attempt to familiarize the British public, particularly the wholesale buyers, throughout the world, with the quality of Canadian products.

The show will emain open for about a fortnight, and it is hoped, will be the forerunner of other similar exhibitions on a more ambitious scale

Voice Of The People

The Editor The Examiner:

Will you please let me use a little space in the columns of your paper for a few remarks in reference to the Pidgeon Creek bridge, which connects the counties of Victoria and Peterboro, and was built some forty years ago. The span of water over which this bridge is used, was caused by the banking up of the Trent Valley water from time to time by the Government. Now, then, the question I would like answered is, whether the Government is responsible or not, and if so, what are the members, Sir Sam Hughes and Mr. J. H. Burnham, doing to have the bridge replaced or repaired. At a meeting in this riding Sir Sam Hughes, ini advocating the building of good roads, and how to build them, did not make any statement regarding this bridge, and on this account, it appears to me that he is not much interested in the welfare of this part of the county. Now, what has Mr. Burnham to say? Did the people of Peterboro approach him on the matter, and if not, why not? Surely Mr. Burnham can do something. If the members which represent the people do not urge the Government on matters of general benefit to the counties they represent, the Government is not likely to make any move.

I think both Mr. Burnham and Sir Sam Hughes, in advocating the tion to this Pidgeon Creek bridge.

SIGNS AND SPEED.

The signs calling the attention of visiting motorists to the fact that the legal speed limit in Peterborough is twenty miles an hour, causes many a citizen to indulge in a smile. Not that there is anything amusing in the appearance of the signs themselves. They are good enough notices in their way, legibly printed and all that sort of thing. But the merriment of the citizens—a merriment that is mixed with other feelings including exasperation and indignation—is inspired by the utter disregard of the warning on the part of motorists. There is not a minute throughout the day or in the evening when the speed limit is not being broken and at certain hours and on certain streets there is an orgy of speeding. To many owners the limit means nothing if they are sure that there is not a policeman in sight and there is a level stretch of road on which to show what their cars can do. That there have not been more accidentse in Peterborough can only be credited to the intervention of Providence; for nothing else could avert smash-up on some of the city streets filled as some of them are with racing cars. A visit of some of the police force equipped with stop watches to George street north of McDonnel or Charlotte street west of Park, or on Park street itself, especially in the evening, would result in a police court docket that would give Magistrate Dumble writer's cramp in signing the fines inflicted.

EXEMPT THE VETERANS.

There is much to be said in favour of the resolution that is to be introduced into the House of Commons today by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, proposing that for a term of five years Canada's war veterans shall be exempted from the taxation laid down in the Drayton Budget. The men who fought overseas have paid their share of the war, have contributed much more than their portion of the self sacrifice that was necessary to win the conflict. Why then when they are trying to re-establish themselves in civil life, a task that under the most favorable circumstances would be none too easy, should they be called upon to pay the same taxes arising out of war conditions as other Canadians who did little or nothing to help the Empire during the crisis are called upon to pay? Hon. Mr. Lemieux's resolution declares that by augmenting the cost of living, the recent raise in taxation will increase the difficulty the returned men are having in getting back on a pre-war footing. A five year term of exemption would tide them over this difficult period and at the end of that time they should be in a position to assume their full responsibilities as citizens again. In other words, Hon. Mr. Lemieux's proposal is a re-establishment scheme and one that has a great deal to commend it as a very real help. It is pointed out that it would be a simple matter to have the veterans produce their discharge certificates when making a purchase, as a proof of their right to the exemption.

The resolution, having been introduced by a member of the Opposition, will be voted down, it is to be feared, but there will be a strong measure of public opinion in favour of the proposal nevertheless.

ANOTHER PUZZLE.

The perplexity that has existed in the minds of mansfacturers, merchants and the people generally ever since Sir Henry Drayton iftrodhced his luxury tax proposals last month will certainly not be lessened by the announcement of the changes in the taaxtion that the Finance Minister is now asking the House to accept. Very few people had more than a faint idea of the manner in which the new tax scheme was supposed to work, and the merchant who had just began to straighten out his affairs on the new basis will find himself in a worse quandry than ever as a result of the modifications that are now to be put into force. There is bound to be confusion over the changes, for until they are adopted by the House the taxes announced on May 18, are still operative and must be collected by the merchants as usual. One question that naturally arises is that of refunds. What about the customer who bought a pair of $12.00 shoes last week and paid a luxury tax of $1.20 thereon. If he had waited for a few days he might have secured the same shoes and only had to pay a luxury tax of 45c. Naturally he is not going to feel very pleased. Is he justified in asking the merchant from whom he bought the shoes for the difference between the old and new luxury taxes? Frankly, the Examiner does not know, for in one breath Sir Henry Drayton announces that the taxes collected in this way will be refunded if at all possible and in the next that the proposed charges will not be retroactive.

As to the changes themselves there is not so much objection. The government has yielded to the opinion voiced by many people in regard to the tax on boots and shoes and clothing and has greatly reduced this levy. Instead of collecting a tax of 10 per cent. on shoes costing more than $9 and clothing more than $45.00, the Finance Minister now proposes to place a 15 per cent. tax on the excess retail cost over the non-taxable limit. Instead of having to pay $5.00 tax on a $50 suit, the customer will, when the new proposals are adopted, escape with the payment of 75c. as a luxury tax. This is the method advocated by the Reconstruction Association and voiced by Sir John Willison the other day, and there will be considerable speculation as to whether the Willison statement was issued to pave the way for Sir Henry Drayton's new proposals.

ECONOMY.

If Sir Robert Borden is unable to meet the demand for an increased sessional indemnity for members of Parliament he might compromise by introducing legislation to reduce the number of members by half, suggests the Toronto Telegram.

A proposal to reduce the Parliamentary representation would probably head off the threatened comic opera strike at Ottawa. Parliament has been in session for months, and has acomplished little bevond increasing the taxes. When the common people are groaning under the burden of financing the war debt it would be an oportune time for Parliament to set an example in economy.

A great saving could be effected by reducting the number of speakers, and eliminating half the speeches of those who are left. One month would probably be sufficient to transact the esesntial business of the country. Sufficient money would be saved to pay for the increased indemnity and make a contribution towards the national debt.

When Tom Moore told the A. F. of L. yesterday that the international labor movement needed the help of the organized labor of the United States he gave expression to a thought that must often have been in the minds of thinking labor leaders in that country.

Ultimately the salvation of labor lies in the complete accord that can be established between its manifold branches throughout the world. President Gompers made it amply clear that there was a whole world of difference between "internationalism" in labor and the European "internationale." With the latter labor on this continent has, he assured his hearers, nothing whatever in common, and there is comfort in the assurance. But he was equally explicit that labor has much to hope for in the wider field that oversteps political frontiers.

From this participation in the problems of labor throughout the world the United States is debarred by her anomalous position. There is perhaps nothing to prevent American labor from making common cause with labor throughout the world, but even Messrs. Lodge and Johnson must admit that their country's refusal to participate in the brotherhood of peace, as it participated in the brotherhood of war, leaves labor in the United States much more out of touch with European labor than it otherwise would have been.

Mr. Moore spoke of the great labor conference held in Paris during the war, and presided over by Mr. Gompers, in which labor from Europe and from America stood side by side in their plans for the coming peace. Today all that is altered. Peace has come, and international labor must hope for a realization of the plans made during the war. But the United States is "out of the pitcure," thanks to her politicians. Labor throughout the world needs the intelligent strength of the A. F. of L. behind it if its dreams are to be realized. The A. F. of L. likewise needs the wisdom and experience of Europe's organized workers. The dividing force that stands between these great bodies of wealth-creators is a handful of ambitious politicians. Labor's imperative need is co-operation throughout the world. It will be a pitiful thing, if that need is thwarted by an impulse of partisan blindness.—Montreal Star.

THE MYSTERY OF "J" AND "W"

It is a fact, not so well known but that it may be said to be curious, that the letters of i and w are modern additions to our alphabet. The letter j only came into general use during the time of the Commonwealth, say between 1649 and 1658. From 1630 to 1646 its use is exceedingly rare, and you will not find a book printed prior to 1652 in which it appeared.

In the century immediately preceding the seventeenth it became the fashion to tail the last i, when Roman numerals were used, as in this example; viij. for 8 or xij in place of 12. This fashion still lingers, but only in physicians' prescriptions. Where the French use j it has the power of s as we use it in the word "vision." What nation was the first to use it as a new letter it is an interesting, but perhaps an unanswerable query.

In a like manner, the printers and language makers of the latter part of the sixteenth century began to recognize the fact that there was a sound in spoken. English which was without a representative in the shape of an alphabeti cal sign or character, as the first sound in the word "wet."

Prior to that time it had always been spelled as "vet," the v having the long sound of u or of two u's together. In order to convey an idea of the new sound they began to spell such words as "wet," "wealth," "web," etc., with two u's, and as the u of that date was a typical v, the three words above looked like this: "Vvet," "vveather," "vveb."

After a while the typefounders recognize the fact that the double v had come to stay, so they joined the two v's together, and made the character now so well known as the w. In one book three forms of the w are given. The first isan old double v (vv), the next is one in which the first stroke of the second, and the first stroke o fthe second, and the third is the common w we use to-day.

PROMISING OUTLOOK FOR APPLE HARVEST

THE ONTARIO ORCHARDS SUFFERED LITTLE WINTER INJURY DESPITE SEVERE WEATHER.

Despite the severe winter of the past season there is, at the present time of writing, little injury showing from this cause among the orchards of the Province. Practically the only damage reported to apples is that caused by mice, and this, according to the Dominion report, is small.

Bloom in western Ontario has been fairly general, and there is evidence of a good crop, especially from the earlier varieties. In the East indications are not so promising; trees that bore heavily last year are now reported to be going back. In reviewing the Province as a whole the present situation would lead one to believe that there will be a fair harvest of apples, but the quality will not equal that of former seasons. The only first-class fruit will come from commercial orchards which have been receiving consistent attention during the war.

Promising for Small Fruits.

In the smaller fruits conditions are more encouraging. Cherries, particularly the sweet varieties, should make large returns. Peaches in well-cared-for plantations promise well, gut due to neglect on account of the lack of labor many orchards have gone back to such a degree that it is doubtful whether the acreage is eighty per cent. of that in 1914.

Raspberries suffered from winter injury, though in some favored localities there will be a good crop. Strawberries never came through the winter in such excellent shape. In common with the field crops, however, there is need for even more rain during the next few weeks to insure the formation of first-class fruit.

Apple Conditions in B.C.

In some sections in the Okanagan Valley there is evidence of winter injury, but not of a serious nature. The crop is "patchy," certain varieties in some orchards promising a cro pequal to that of last year, whereas in others the same varetties are light. There is some doubt as to the extent of the winter injury in the Creston Valley; it does not appear that the trees have been killed, but so weakened as to affect the crop: the vareties most affected are the Duchess, Gravenstein and Wealthy; the aggregate tonnage is expected to be equal to or greater than that of last year. In all other sections of the Province the trees have come through the winter without injury. The weather, although cool and with frosts in some places, has been favorable. With the exception of the Nelson district, Jonathans will be much lighter than last year; at Penticton the estimate is placed at 40 per cent. McIntosh Reds will be from medium to heavy. the average being a full crop; Spy, Wagner, Grimes' Golden and Cox's Orange from light to medium, except in the Kootenay, where Wagners and Spies promise well; Delicious and Winesap about avgrage.

Little Injury in Nova Scotia.

The blossoming season in Nova Scotia, which usually is later than in any other fruit-growing Province in Canada, is this year from ten to fourteen days behind the average time, and it is, therefore, necessar y to base an estimate on the showing of buds and the general condition of the orchards. In some sections blossoms were showing on May 27. Various opinions have been given as to the apple crop prospects, but with few exceptions all report very little winter injury, authough correspondents report Nonpareils, Baldwins. Kings and Ribstons showing slight injury. There is an excellent showing of buds, but many fear that on account of the early frosts of last October and the very heavy crop produced in 1919 the blossoms will be weaker. The winter is reported to have been the most severe in forty years. In the Bridgetown district trees were severely damaged by floods and ice the high water carrying the ice up into the trees, and when the water receded the limbs were broken down.

Big Success.

The entertainment given by the I. O.D.E. at the Cotessloe school house on Thursday evening last, was a great success in every way. The building was full, so that receipts were good and the ladies had done everything to make the evening pleasant. Rev. Mayer of South Dummer, was chairman. The programme began by all singing "O, Canada." The chairman gave a short address, particularly mentioning the work of the I.O.D.E. during the war. Mr. Russel Jenkins sang, "Think Before You Speak." Several times during the evening Mr. Thompson, of Peterborough, sang some of Harry Lauder's songs. The event was

The Debate.

Resolved, "that consolidated schools would be of benefit in this community." It was opened by Mrs. George Clements, who gave some statistics and mentioned some of the benefits that would come from these schools. Mrs. Wm. Forsythe, leader of the negative, handled the question very ably, and with a dash of wholesome wit. She mentioned some quite prominent men who had attended the little stone school on the fifth line and gave all honor to the plucky little teachers who would not teach under a principal.

Mr. John Dewart gave a few of his experiences, showing that he considered work done in a graded school better than in an ungraded.

Mr. Wallace Anderson kept his audience highly amused at his description of people who knew about nothing but a cow. He instanced a countryman going to town and trying to use the coin-in-the slot telephone; used three coins. He did not get the message through. He did not wish his boy to grow up like that.

Mrs. David Miller asked a few questions showing that the present system is not all it should be and showed where consolidated schools would likely do better.

Mrs. George Barr, objected to transportation in vans, thought there should be a change in the curriculum, and that while expense should not be considered in educating the children, there is such a burden of debt that it would be unwise to incur more expense now.

The time allotted each speaker was 15 minutes and 5 minutes for the leader of the affirmative at the end.

The judges were: Affirmative, Mr. Brethen of Norwood; negative, Mr. M. Clysdale, and the third, Dr. Munro. While they were comparing notes, Mr. Lees, Inspector of Public schools, gave a short address on the history of the Consolidated school. The decision was in favor of the affirmative, but the negative put up a good argument.

After singing "God Save the King," the ladies served sandwiches, tea and cake and there was a pleasant social half hour spent.

The big dose purges its way through the system fast, but does not cleanse thoroughly.

The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well.

TO ACCOMPANY WAR DEAD.

War Department to Pay Way of One Relative or Friend.

WASHINGTON, June 10—Secretary of War Baker announced today that the War Department is prepared to furnish transportation from Hoboken to their homes to one relative or friend to accompan ythe body of each soldier who died abroad and whose body is being returned to this country for interment.

"Under ordinary circumstances," Secretary Baker explained, "the bodies of soldiers who have died in the service are accompanied from the place of death or port of arrival in this country to the home of the deceased by an official convoyer, but under army regulations the War Department is allowed to substitute for this official convoyer a relative or friend of the deceased. The War Department is not able to furnish transportation to Hoboken, nor is it in a position to pay any expenses incurred during the time consumed in awaiting shipment of the body.

"This arrangement is made in order that relatives who wish to do so may secure early control of the bodies of their loved ones and bestow upon them that sympathetic care which they so naturally desire to give."

THE STRUGGLE TO LIVE IN GERMANY

FACTORIES CLOSING BECAUSE HIGH PRICES SMOTHER DEMAND FOR GOODS.

Vast processions of unemployed marched from al quarters of Berlin into the centre of the city on Tuesday to demand "food and work." Their numbers would have staggered anyone—if there is such an one in Germany—who holds the comfortable belief apparently prevalent in Allied countries, that everything is jogigng along fairly well here, and that the chances of a catastrophe are growing steadily less.

Every day that now passes adds to this vast pool of unemployment, for everywhere factories are closing down one after another—at first the boot trade, then printing, then others. Three months ago no factory seemed to be able to produce enough, so great was the demand for goods of all kinds. To-day nobody is buying anything ;the purchasing power of the country seems exhausted, and manufacturers are shutting their gates.

Yet the country is in as great need as ever of goods, and demand in the human though not in the economic snse, is unaffeced. The trouble is that no one can afford to pay the existing prices. A suit of clothes costs the equivalent of nearly three months' work. A man earning 250 marks a week has to pay 2,500 marks for a suit fitted to his station. Consequently no one buys clothes. So with boots, a pair of which means anything up to a month's work. Furniture is only for wealthy profiteers.

Germany has at last entered upon a "crisis in prices" that economists have long been predicting, not only for Germany but for the whole world. Prices have risen so high that effective demands have ceased, the markets are glutted, and any sort of production almost has become over-production. Obviously prices will have to fall, but that cannot come without the ruin of many businesses whose stocks have been bought in at high prices and when the mark was low on foreign exchange.

It is an artificial money crisis. Rarely has a market been so bare amid hungry people as in Germany to-day; and the wage-earners' desire to work is genuine, and almost at pre-war normality. The consequences, financial and political, cannot but be serious.—Manchester Guardian.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-Time Recipe that Anybody can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

OKLAHOMA ZINC CITY IS BURIED

In the zinc mining district of Oklahoma, practically unknown even by the residents of the state in which it lies, is the buried city of Douthat. Surrounding it is one of the richest mining camps in the world. The Montreal, probably one of the most famous zinc mines, is in the city, as are also the properties of several of the leading zinc mining companies of the United States.

The city was not buried by a sudden flow of molten lava, as were the cities of Pompeii, but by the "tailings" of the mines of the camp, because, it is said, of differences between owners of the mines, and merchants and landowners of the town. One day the tailing spouts of one of the great mines was turned on the town, deluging it with crushed flint. The people moved their homes and business places in a mad rush to escape the downpour of dust and rock particles. Stores, cottages, barns and tents had to be moved, and now where once stood the thriving city is an immense pile of "chat" containing thousands of carloads. One street and a few dozen homes only were spared, and here the thriving business of the little town is carried on ,the once prosperous business district being now buried under the immense mountain of crushed rock.

RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is produced by the accumulation of Uric Acid in the Blood, and this poisonous substance attacks and inflames the membrane covering the joints and separating the muscles, thus producing severe pains. If the waste products to the system are not properly carried off, Uric Acid forms and is deposited in the joints and between the different layers of muscles. DR. HENDERSON'S HERB TABLETS will correct this by its action on the Kidneys, and removing the Uric Acid from the Blood. Try them and watch the results. If they fail, your money will be refunded.

ANOTHER PHASE OF UPLIFT

(By H. F. GADSBY)

OTTAWA, June 10, 1920.—A far more burning topic for Parliament than the tariff is the desired increase of fifteen hundred dollars in the sessional indemnity, making it four thousand dollars flat.

The wise heads counsel leaving the matter over till the next general election, when the candidates can tell the voters frankly that they want four thousand dollars a year salary. But many of the surprise packages in the shape of Members of Parliament who will not get another nomination and who cannot expect to pass this way again, are anxious to suck the orange right now and let the juice drip down their chins. They have no interest in future Parliaments' wages—it's their own they would be attending to.

This campaign for a raise in wages is being conducted with great persistency. It has taken form as slackness in attending divisions—once the Government squeezed through with a majority of five only—but this practise is dangerous, because, if the Government were defeated, the wage-raisers would presently be gtting no wages at all. This prudent fear of spilling the beans resulted in a Government majority of twenty-five on the budget, but the growlers are still at it and threatening other embarrassments.

Most of the sulky fellows are on the Government side, but there are enough wage-raisers in the Opposition to make the movement formidable. To put the increase across the Government would like to see the movement unanimous and failing that, things may remain as they are.

A deputation which visited Premier Borden, shortly after his return home, received a non-committal answer and withdrew muttering. Naturally the Government has a real fear of Parliament raising its own wages at a time when soldiers' gratuities are being refused and the pensions are being cut down.

The Horrid Details.

The statistics of the case are these. Last year Parliament held two sessions, the members receiving therefor five thousand dollars. This year—it is hoped—there will be only one session, and the pay as usual, twenty-five hundred dollars. Averaging the two years, the members of Parliament have been in receipt of an annual sessional indemnity of thirty-seven hundred and fifty dollars, which is within two hundred and fifty dollars of the promised land. This is pretty good considering the hard times. The projected increase would mean an appropriation of half a million dollars, which, at five per cent. represents a capital sum of ten million dollars. Even in these days of large figures, ten million dollars is a considerable investment, although it may not look so prodigious to a Government who is cheerfully losing a million dollars a week in the national railways.

That the indemnity grab does not find favour with the Ottawa correspondents is shown by the fact that a week ago last Monday every daily newspaper in Canada carried a story from Ottawa, pointing out the impudence of the projected raid on the Treasury. The Ottawa correspondent takes no stock in all this buncombe about the high cost of living for members of Parliament, because he knows right well how closely the average member of Parliament lives. Neither does he take any stock in the argument that four thousand dollars a year means better members of Parliament than twenty-five hundred dollars a year. If he is old enough he can remember when members of Parliament got only fifteen hundred dollars a year, and those fifteen hundred dollars members were the best members of all. They had some love for their country—they were not always trying to bleed it.

The salary-grabbers express surprise that the newspaper men should interfere in what they call a purely domestic affair, forgetting that the press is here to watch the interests of the people when the members of Parliament ignore them. It takes a vigilant press to guard the guardians, and when that press has lately had its face stepped on by a Parliament which condoned taking away from it the freedom of the lobbies——a very necessary thing in the correspondent's business—it naturally becomes that much more vigilant.

Where Thrift Comes In.

The average member of Parliament spends not more than a hundred and fifty dollars a month at Ottawa. Indeed one hundred and fifty dollars is a generous estimate. He pays perhaps seven dollars a week for his room or his share of an apartment, fourteen dollars a week for board—that makes eighty-four dollars a month—and the other sixty-six dollars a month he has for laundry, tobacco, movie shows and the joy of living. I don't see how he gets away with that item of sixty-six dollars for sundries, considering the fact that he franks his laundry home to get washed, and enjoys besides free postage, free stationery and free travel on the railways. He is a great little man for getting things free and has no false modesty about asking for more. So for he has not been able to wrangle free berths on the sleeping car and free meals on the diner, but he will probably get them both in the long run. Meanwhile he has an annual pass on all the railways, and is setting up a great howl to get the same for his wife and family.

On the whole it would be just to say that the average member of Parliament lives for next to nothing, perhaps one hundred and twenty-five dollars a month at the outside—five hundred dollars dollars, let us suppose for the average four months' session, and the other two thousand he salts away. There need be little sympathy with the cry that his business is suffering. If he has the kind of business that suffers in his absence—par example—a doctor—he should not be in Parliament. If he is a lawyer his business probably benefits by his Ottawa connection. If he is a merchant he probably has his business so well organized that the machine works without him. If he is a farmer the crops certainly do not remember when he is away from home and what he makes at Ottawa is just so much velvet.

If any member of Parliament is poorer for playing politics at Ottawa it is up to him to stop playing politics and mind his own business.

But I do not think that the average member of Parliament is poorer for his sojourn at Ottawa. On the contrary he is better off. Twenty-five hundred dollars is no small pay for four months light work on Parliament Hill and the average member certainly makes his work light enough. It consists mostly in putting in an attendance at the House, say of five minutes to salve his conscience, after which he snoozes in his room, smokes on the terrace, rambles in Hull, or wanders with Alice in Wonderland. He makes one speech, or at the most two speeches a session, and is conspicuous by his absence from debates. If the avetage member of Parliament were paid for his thinking capacity, he would draw about six dollars a week. Paid on the basis of talk he might get ten a week. Rewarded, as he is, for merely voting, he pulls out around one hundred and fifty-six dollars a week, or say, one hundred and twenty-five dollars a division.

No Waste Here.

The rules, privileges and perquisites of Parliament conspire to protect the twenty-five hundred dollar sessional indemnity from too great encroachments by the cost of living. I hive mentioned free railway fare, free postage, free express ,free stationery —free speech, of course—I must not overlook free feeding— or the next thing to it.

If the Member of Parliament feeds at the Parliamentary restaurant—which he does to the extent of two hundred and forty meals a year—he cannot possibly spend more than a dollar ninety a day on his eating, including strawberries and ice cream, which are extras. If he is a frugal man, and takes the thirty-cent club breakfast and cuts out the strawberries and ice cream, he can get along on a dollar thirty. Mostly he gets along on the dollar thirty—he and his wife and children and his childrens' children to the fourth generation. Even the smart fellows, who are putting up a big front with a room at the Chateau, come round at meal times to take advantage of the bargains in cooked food.

The thirty-cent club breakfast would cost ninety at the Chateau Laurier, and so on scaling up to the sixty-cent breakfast which would be two dollars and fifteen in the big hotel by the Rideau Canal. The eight-course table d'hote luncheon, and eight-course table d'hote dinner—each fifty cents—would cost five dollars at the same high-toned caravansary—five dollars without the tip which is expressly barred by the rules of the Parliamentary Restaurant. In other words the average member of Parliament who is crying out for more wages on the ground of the high cost of living, sponges on the people of this country to the extent of three hundred and thirty-seven thousand dollars worth of food, which amount represents the difference between what he pays and what we would have to pay, if the Parliamentary Restaurant preserved — as Dr. Steel, Chairman of the Restaurant Committee puts it— the "amenities of a first class club," with prices to fit.

It is difficult to see just how a fifty cent table d'hote and the exclusiveness which Dr. Steele's soul craves can go together. It appears more reasonable to believe that the exclusiveness would follow if the prices were raised and the charges adjusted to include overhead suc has lighting, heating, rent, labor, laundry, and such.

Recently Dr. Steel, Chariman of the Restuarant Committee, giving rein to a fear that the people might tumble to the three hundred and thirty-seven thousand dollars' worth of food Parliament was eating at the expense of the nation,made the restaurant much more "exclusive," by throwing out the officials of the House and the Hansard staff. Dr. Steel comes from Tavistock, Ont., where of course exclusiveness and the amenities of a first-class club are in full sway. Returned at the election of 1917 by the allocated soldiers' vote, Dr. Steel has developed purple notions. He speaks of the officials of the House as 'employees," and of the Press Gallery as "low scribblers." This is pretty good coming from a member of the bush league who reads one stupid speech a year to the House and thinks of himself as an orator. Dr. Steel is a hang-over from the order-in-council period—very autocratic, don't you know—spit in democracy's face wherever you see it. Whereo did he get it I wonder ? Not in Tavistock, I'll be bound. Still candor compels me to admit that he is saving money when he makes the restaurant "exclusive," because the fewer the people that eat there the smaller the deficit the treasury has to make up.

Faint and Dizzy Spells
Weakness and Shortness of Breath

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women becomes rundown and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes:—"I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and rest to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

TRADE WITH WEST INDIES.

Delegates to Conference Guests of Government at Dinner.

OTTAWA, June 10.—Delegates and commercial advisers attending the Canada-West Indies conferences were the guests at the Rideau Club at dinner here of the Dominion Government. In a sense the dinner marked a kind of half-way house in the conference proceedings. For over a week the delegates have been discussing trade relations between Canada and the West Indies. Suggested agreements on reciprocal traffic and increased shipping facilities have, it is understood already been drafted, and there now remains the question of better cable facilities.

Before the West Indian delegates leave for Toronto Thursday night it is expected that all trade proposals will be in the hands of the Dominion Government for consideration.

NATURAL GAS PRICES IN SARNIA TO CLIMB

SARNIA, June 10.—As the result of a special meeting of the City Council and the local Gas Company officials, it is stated, that unless the Natural Gas Company is allowed to raise its rates the Sarnia Gas Company will be forced to fall back upon artificial gas, at a cost estimated at $2 per thousand feet. On Monday night next the Gas Company will ask the City Council to allow them to increase gas rates in Sarnia to fifty cents in Winter and seventy-five in summer.

In an interview here Mayor Nisbet stated that he was in favor of granting the increase, as it was the only solution to save the situation.

MORPHINE FOR PRISONER.

BOASTED PETERBOROUGH.

The Intelligencer says: Belleville was stung to the extent of $150,000 for the Grand Junction Railway, which injured Belleville and helped to build up Peterborough. Well meaning but mistaken citizens boosted that gift to the full extent of their powers of persuasion and the cocksure agitators of those days abused and reviled all and sundry who dared venture any opposition to the gift of $150,000 to a railway to carry business away from Belleville to Peterborough.

OWNERS ENCOURAGE MOTOR CAR THIEVES

The stealing of automobiles will continue in greater or less degree according to possible punishment, until a change in human nature is witnessed not alone in the thief, but also in the owner.

Undoubtedly the high rates of car theft insurance and the possibility of loss and inconvenience have deterred some few people from buying motor cars, though this deficiency has not been noticed in such a selling season as this one.

Automobile thieves can be placed in two classes—professional and amateur. The professional, an expert mechanic usually, is equipped with tools to render most locking devices valueless. He will usually steal the car he wants regardless of obstacles. Heavy punishment alone can discourage this type of criminal. However, he is a member of a very small minority. Roughly, there are about thirty amateur car thieves to one professional according to police records.

The amateur is usually an opportunist. He steals automobiles or accessories occasionally because unusually good opportunities present themselves. He may be likened to the sneak thief who will only rob a house when a window is up, or a door unlocked. To foil him we must consider the human nature of the car owner, as carelessness is his greatest ally.

From your own observation you will recall many instances where a man, after parking his car, threw the ignition switch to "off" position, and then left his keys in place. If you don't think this probable, watch yourself and your friends and see how often it is done.

How many people make it a practice of parking near a street light, theatre sign or brightly lighted window? The amateur works best in the dark—remember this and select you parking place carefully.

Those locking devices you now have on the car—do you use them regularly? Each anti-theft device has some feature to recommend it, but you must use them consistently. The one time you take a chance is the opportunity the "joy rider" has been looking for.

Statistics show that new cars are stolen more frequently than old models. We don't recommend camouflaging a nice new shiny car into an undesirable specimen, but we suggest that when you do buy a new spare tire at least it should be covered so as not to arouse the thieving instinct, and also incidentally to protect it from the deleterous effect of sunlight. Also always lock your spare tires to the carrier.

Use common sense and carefulness and the number of car thefts will be reduced to the minimum.

PLENTY OF GOOD OIL FOR MOTOR CARS ASSURES ECONOMY IN GASOLINE USE

There are nearly a dozen points about this gas saving stunt, and here are some of the really worth while ones:

The owner should see to it that all the bearings and wearing surfaces of his car have plenty of oil, or grease, for nothing will cut down power, as well as prove injurious to the machine, as will dry bearings. This fact is not at all new, but there is a surprisingly large number of people who think their machines well lubricated. Very often the result of these 'thinks' is an undesirable garage bill, as well as continuous expense for gasoline.

The car owner should know at the very start that the oil which is cheap so far as the first cost is concerned, is generally the expensive oil in the long run. Cheap oils burn away quickly, and for this reason it takes more to lubricate a given surface, this meaning that more gasoline is required to furnish power to drive the pistons over a half-lubricated surface, this operation very often proving injurious to the walls of the cylinder as well. The connecting rod and crank shaft are too valuable to be experimented with.

Difference in Carburetor.

Watch the mixture. A mere regulation of the carburetor will, in many instances, mean an increase of fully 20 per cent. in the mileage. The thing for the motorist who does not understand this mixture question to do is to go to a capable carburetor man and have him explain the mixture principals and demonstrate just how the mixture may be regulated. The idea is to find the leanest mixture the car will work satisfactorily on, then keep the carburetor adjusted to that point. A good method is to start the motor, then turn off the gas until the engine begins to miss fire on account of getting too much air. The adjusting screw should then be turned until the motor is humming along nicely again without the shade of a miss. This method will save gasoline and will also assist in keeping the cylinders free from carbon.

Always keep the spark lever advanced as far as possible. The average motorist probably burns too much gasoline by neglecting this point. When the motor is running at high speed the spark may be advanced farther than if it is idling along slowly. The observant driver will soon learn how far the spark may be advanced. If not far enough, the very act of advancing it will cause the engine to "pick up," providing it is otherwise in good order, while the same effect will be noticed simply by retarding the spark should it be advanced beyond the proper point. A little experimenting along this line is sure to increase the mileage somewhat, in addition to making the car run with added snap and vigour.

Keep the engine free from carbon. By keeping down the quantity of carbon in the engine, not only will gasoline be saved, but the motor will run smoother and will climb hills better. The valve facings should not be allowed to become pitted with small specks of carbon or other substances, as this will cause a loss of compression and consequently of power, which means a wasting of gasoline.

Brakes should not be allowed to drag. Doubtless every motorist realises this, but there are a great many who disregard it. The dragging brake will naturally retard the speed and progress of the car, which very act calls for a greater amount of gasoline to drive the car at a given rate of speed and for a specified distance. And in addition to calling for more gasoline the dragging brake continually demands new brake linings. An unfortunate result of the dragging brake is that, very often, when the brake is needed worst it refuses to "hold," this being caused by the lining having, without the owner's knowledge, been worn away. To ascertain whether or not the brakes are dragging, jack up the rear wheels, see that the gear shift is in neutral, and then try to spin the wheels. They should spin freely without any dragging whatever of the brakes.

At all times the tires should be inflated to the proper pressure. That is, some authorities claim, about 20 pounds to the inch — a 3-inch tire should have 60 pounds, a 4-inch casing 80 pounds, etc. The best way to do, however, is to keep them pumped to the pressure recommended by the tire manufacturer. He made the tire, and we must take it for granted that he knows his business. Running the tire soft will, in addition to eating up gasoline, prove very injurious to the casing and tube. Pumping the casing too hard may result in stone bruises. Strike a happy medium—the tire manufacturer's figure—and stay there.

About Mechanical Devices.

Get an efficient gas saver. There are many people who unconditionally condemn patented gas savers, while there are others who have given them a thorough test, who would not be without them. The very fact that at high speed a car will run on less gasoline per explosion than when travelling at low speeds, shows beyond a doubt that anything that will automatically feed less gas in proportion as the engine increases in speed—in fact, feeding all the air the motor will take without misfiring—cannot help but cause a saving of fuel. The patented and advertised automatic air valves each have more or less merit. A gas saver, which screws into the intake manifold of the engine, by means of a flexible tubing, takes hot air from the exhaust manifold and shoots it into the intake, the amount taken in being regulated by a wire, running a flexible tube, and a small lever arrangement fastened to the steering post just below the wheel. While not automatically operated, this device does the work, for at any time, as we are driving along the road, we can give the motor sufficient air to make it misfire. We aim to keep it just inside the missing point.

WINDSOR-DETROIT FERRY.

Appeal For International Conference in regard to Improved Service.

DETROIT, June 9. — An appeal from Mayor Winter of Windsor to Mayor Couzens for a conference in regard to the ferry situation, will be heard before the common council on Monday next.

Mayor Winter, in his communication accuses company of being autocratic and independent. Service is far from adequate, he says, and the boats are unsanitary and overcrowded.

He wants the Detroit administration to cooperate with Windsor in an effort to bring the ferry conditions before the authorities in Washington and Ottawa.

Council President Lodge dryly characterized Mayor Winters charges as "95 per cent. bunk" after the reading of the communication.

DIVORCE COLONY SEEMS DOOMED

AFTERMATH OF MARY PICKFORD'S CASE MEANS WIPING OUT OF RENO'S CHIEF INDUSTRY.

There is a probability that the Reno divorce colony or industry will be wiped out as a result of the divorce secured recently by Mary Pickford from her husband, Owen Moore. It was the international attention attracted to this trial, with its suggestion of collusion, that seems to have set the seal of doom upon Nevada as a happy hunting ground for those unhappily wedded. The suspicion that all was not on the level with regard to the Pickford divorce was aroused by the fact that Owen Moore, by a strange coincidence, happened to stray into the state of Nevada just at the moment of Mary's lawyers desired to serve him with some vital documents. Though on the scene he made no defence, and ever since has maintained a dumbness that has shocked the moral sense of the people of the United States, accustomed as they are to have such matters discussed at great length and in merciless detail. Furthermore in the witness stand, Mary wept pitifully, and gave every other evidence of a broken heart. But with the rapidity of the changing of a reel she was married to Douglas Fairbanks. These incidents have naturally aroused suspicion; and it is said that there will be an investigation into the circumstances to determine whether the divorce was legally granted. The moral reformers of Nevada have been supplied with fresh ammunition, and in the opinion of the Governor of the State, himself no fanatical uplifter, the divorce colony is doomed.

Mary and Owen.

Did ever a woman love a man as Mary Pickford loved Owen Moore? Certainly not. Did ever a woman suffer so long and so silently from a husband. Never. Her own evidence on this point dispels any doubt. She was married to him in 1911, when she was seventeen years old. A few days later he got drunk, and left her. She sought him out, and induced him to return. Again he became intoxicated and packed his grip. She once more pursued him and he came back. A few minutes later he was discovered in a quarrelsome state of intoxication, and again left the home. He also spoke harshly of her mother. He said that he had been a fool to get married. He left again. He continued to leave and according to Marv's story he left her about one hundred times in the course of six years, but on each occasion she would get him to come back. Frequently she went from California to New York in quest of her ecreant husband. He declined to support her. He spurned her love, and he hinted that her appearance on the screen was preferable to her fireside conversation. He disparaged her intellect. This continued for years. Finally Mary, deserted for about the three-hundredth time, resolved to free herself. She has done so.

Nevada's Residence Law.

That will be about enough about Mary for the time being. But something must be said for Nevada. When it was a mere territory it framed certain laws, whose chief purpose was to attract settlers. These laws were later on approved when it attained the rank of Statehood on the motion of Abraham Lincoln. One of them provided that six months' residence in Nevada entitled a man to citizenship. He could have a vote and other rights. The fact that he could secure a divorce as soon as he be? came a citizen was not dwelt on until long afterwards. The law certainly was never passed with the idea of making divorce easy. Not until twenty years ago did anyone ever rise to condemn the laxity of the Nevada laws with regard to divorce. It happened in 1909 that Lord Russell, either by accident or design, established residence in Nevada, and secured a divorce from his wife, shortly afterwards marrying a young woman with whom he returned to England. It was then that amazement was expressed that by simply residing in Nevada for six months and making a formal application to a court one could have a marriage annulled.

Reno's Boom.

The sequel was not so happy for Lord Russell, since the English courts held his decree invalid. He was tried before the House of Lords, convicted of bigamy and sentenced to a short term of imprisonment. The experiment did not encourage Englishmen to avail themselves of the Nevada residence law, but the notoriety surrounding the case gave Reno its start as a divorce colony. Lawyers recommended clients tired of matrimony to go to Reno, or rather to go to Nevada, and it turned out that at Reno there were accommodations that other Nevada towns lacked. Hotel keepers and others who catered particularly to the wealthy, and, of course, ninety-five per cent. of those who go to Reno for divorce are wealthy, were encouraged to spend large sums of money in making the city attractive and fashionable. This they could well afford to do, for the average number of divorces granted in Reno in the course of a year for the past ten years has been more than 500. In 1919 there were 876.

Laws Not So Lax.

In 1913 the State Legislature abolished the six months' residence law and extended the period to one year. This was accomplished partly by reformers, but more largely by politicians who had been disappointed with the number of votes they received in Washoe County where Reno is situated. The action put rather a crimp in Reno's prosperity, or rather threatened to do so, for the divorces in 1914 dropped from 560 to 113. The next year, however, the legislature repealed the law and Reno bloomed once more. Nevada citizens, who have no particular interest in divorce and they constitute as great a percentage of the whole community as is to be found in any other State, grant divorces for the same grounds as those allowed in Nevada, while sixteen States enumerate in their laws more causes than those recognized in Nevada. Nevada declares that her ill fame has been caused by people from New York going to Reno to wash their family linen.

TELL THE WORLD THIS WOMAN SAYS

That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made Me a Well Woman.

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I suffered with female troubles for years, was sick most of the time, was not able to do my own housework, and I could not get help from doctors. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers, and took six bottles, and am a well woman. You can use my name to tell the world the good your medicine has done me as I shall praise it always."—Mrs. A. L. DeVine, 647 St. Paul Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should do as Mrs. DeVine did, and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years this famous remedy, which contains the curative, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, has been correcting just such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

MUST MUFFLE NOISE

An amendment to the Motor Vehicles Act, made in 1919, enacts as follows: "Every motor vehicle shall be equipped with a noise muffler and no contrivance for releasing such muffler shall be attached to the motor vehicle so that it may be operated from any seat in the vehicle." Motor trucks, motor cars, and motor cycles have been violating this law, particularly when going up hill. This law prohibits the making of all unnecessary noise and allowing an unreasonable amount of smoke to escape

HUDSON B. ROUTE QUITE FEASIBLE

AFTER THREE YEARS' INVESTIGATION PRACTICABILITY OF SCHEME IS REPORTED.

OTTAWA, June 10.—After three years investigation of the possibilities of the Hudson Bay region and of the feasibility of the Hudson Bay route, the special Senatorial Committee appointed for this purpose reported that the Hudson Bay route is not only feasible but will probably in time be profitable

The committee feels, however, that "sufficient care was not taken in the selection of Nelson as the terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway, and that the Government should not make further important expenditures upon this port without first making a new and thorough examination into the relative merits of Churchill and Nelson as a terminus for the railroad."

After having held fifteen meetings to hear twenty-one witnesses, the committee is filled with optimism as to the possibilities of the route, stating that "the season of navigation under present conditions is at least four months in length and can be made longer by reason of improvements in aids to navigation."

The suggestions of Mr. Vihljamur Stefansson with regard to the development of great reindeer and musk ox herds in Northern Canada are adopted enthusiastically, and the Government is urged to be mindful "of the great services performed by Mr. Stefansson."

Voyages have been made through the Straits as early as the fifth day of June and as late as the first part of November, though these are exceptional cases.

QUALIFIED JUDGES FOR DIVORC COURTS

URGED BY MONTREAL METHODIST CONFERENCE—PROBE COST OF LIVING.

KEMPTVILLE, Ont., June 11.—After a lengthy discussion two resolutions affecting social life, and the high cost of living, were passed by the Montreal Methodist Conference with large majorities. The first was with regard to divorce. After several resolutions had been discussed the following prevailed:

"Whereas public attention has been drawn to the question of divorce this conference affirms its unalterable adherence to the new testament principle that there is but one valid ground for divorce, namely, marital infidelity. We express our conviction that the present method of adjudicating applications for divorce, namely, by the Senate acting as a court, should be abolished; and that, in its stead, properly constituted divorce courts should be established presided over by duly qualified judges and these courts should be so constituted that all cases coming before them may be dealt with at the least possible expense to the applicants, so that no class or society may be placed at a disadvantage by reason of their financial circumstances."

Favor Commission.

The resolution on the high cost of living was as follows: that the Government of Canada be petitioned by this Montreal Conference of the Methodist Church to appoint a permanent commission to be composed of the foremost producers, manufacturers, wage earners, accountants and such other experts as may be necessary to get at the actual facts; to investigate and fix the cost of production, of manufacture, of transportation and of scale; to fix the scale of profits in the above mentioned and all other transactions. In order to moderate and standardize so far as may be reasonable and practicable, the cost of living; to prepare, for the sanction of Parliament, a schedule of such costs, profits and wages, etc., in all departments of business and private life, in the interest of all the people and in justice to all classes such schedule to be enforced the same as any other statute and to be revised as often as changing conditions may require."

The conference approved the stationing of the following ministers for a fifth year on their respective charges: Rev. J. H. McConnel, Deloraimer Church, Montreal; Rev. F. B. Allnut, West End, Montreal; Rev. Paul Pergau, Waterloo.

Work of Missionaries.

Mrs. Henderson, representative of the Woman's Missionary Society presented the annual report of that organization which showed excellent work done but also the need of more men and more women for the coming year.

The new scale of salaries for the ministers of the Methodist Church, it is anticipated will call for the best efextra help in some instances.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

THE REAL CAUSE OF INDIGESTION.

Acids in the stomach irritate and inflame the delicate stomach lining, sour and ferment the food, prevent proper digestion and lead to nine-tenths of all Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Pepsin and other artifiial digesteents give only temporary relief and do not correct the cause.

Stomach acids should be neutralized daily, and the stomach kept sweet and clean after eating by drinking a glass of pure Magnesia water made from a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia, obtainable at any reliable drug store. This prevents food fermentation and your meals digest naturally and without pain. By following this plan you may eat almost anything without fear of Indigestion.

LACK MECHANICS TO REPAIR PLANES

LONDON, May 28.—Nothing further has been heard of the volunteer Territorial Air Force about which so much was written a few months ago. General Trenchard, questioned on the subject, said that it was "under consideration" and that no other announcement could be made. There is eason, however, for the belief that a scheme has been framed and that it is now held up until one or two knotty problems are solved. Money will be required for the Territorial Air Force, and the treasury are taking a very stiff line But the biggest difficulty is in recruiting the mechanics. It is essential, if pilots and observers are not to be the victims of bad accidents, that people engaged in the care and maintenance of machines on the ground should be trained and experienced men. A number of these men have recently been demobilized from aircraft factories and R.A.F. units and have gone into civil employment. A civilian mechanic, however, will hardly wish to spend his annual summer holiday in tinkering about with an aero engine or working in the rigging sheds.

How can a volunteer air force be run without mechanics, and how are mechanics going to be attracted to volunteer? The answer probably is—when they see a good chance of flying themselves and of the corps being organized for men who can both fly and do repair work. But that would mean an entirely new conception of the air force, and so is unlikely in these times.

MURDERED SECOND OFFICER OF N.S. SHIP

ST. JOHN, N.B., June 10.—Writing from the port of Dakar in Senegal West Africa Captain John S. Smith, master of the Quaco Queen owned by Nova Scotia interests, tells of the killing of Second Officer Daniel J. McLeod, while George Hawley is held charged with the murder Another man is also held in connection with the crime.

Following an argument, while the ship was at Dakar, over Hawley being ordered to do some work, it is stated the latter took after McLeod with a belaying pin While the blow was not seen struck, McLeod was found by members of the crew, who had hurriedly followed the pair, unconscious and suffering from concussion of the brain. He died a short time after.

The captain stated he was holding Hawley, and another man whose name is not divulged, until a British port was reached where the accused could be tried Chief Engineer Hill, of Williamstown, Carleton County, is a principal witness in the case.

COMBING MONTSEAL FOR U.S. MURDERERS

MONTREAL, June 10.—Two escaped murderers from Boston, Master and Barney, are being sought for in Montreal by Deputy Warden Taft and Inspector Herridge, from Boston, accompanied by two men.

These officers have been on the trail of the escaped murderers since the day of their sensational exist from the penitentiary where they were serving life sentences for the murder of two Boston policemen. The escape was made through one of the men managing to find a soft piece of steel in one of the coverings over the ventilator, which led up to the roof of the prison.

The men crawled up the ventilator and gained the roof of the building, eventually making their way out over the wall by tying bed clothes together to serve as a rope.

It was first claimed that an automobile was in waiting for them but this theory was exploded at an investigation held into the escape.

The Boston officers state that the trail led them through the State of Vermont to Beebe Junction and from there to the Canadian border, but despite the close watch kept for the men they passed the vigilance of the boundary authorities it is alleged and came to Montreal.

A thorough search of this city has been made during the past week by the Boston officers and members of the Montreal Detective force a thorough search of each district in the city being made

In one district last Monday many suspects were stripped and searched for firearms and explanations as to their movements requested. Despite the close watch kept, however, the murderers are still at large.

RESULTS OF THE ENQUIRY

SEVERAL MEXICAN GENERALS DETAINED—WANT WIDE OPEN PUBLICITY.

MEXICO CITY, June 12.—General Francisco Murguia ,Francisco L. Urquiseo, Frederico Montec, and Juan Barragan have been formally detained in connection with the death of former President Carranza.

This action was taken by the Third Federal District Court last night. A committee of two military experts reported to the Court that Generals Murguia, Urquisea, Barragan, and Francisco Demariel were chiefly responsible for the death of Carranza, because among other reasons, "they did not die at his side as they should have done."

General Demariel was not, however, held by the Court in connection with the assassination of the former President, but with the other accused men he is charged with the taking away of national funds at the time of Carranza's flight from this city.

A New Move to Eradicate Gambling at Baseball Games.

(Canadian Press)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 12.—Ten men arrested in the bleachers at yesterday's Pacific Coast League baseball game here today were charged with gambling. The arrests were part of a campaign to eradicate gambling in connection with baseball games on the Coast, inaugurated at the instance of league officials.

While the arrests were being made, it became known to-day that thieves entered the clubhouse and rifled the lockers of the visiting Seattle players, all of whom, except one, who had hidden his money in the roof, suffered losses.

Capture Germans

GERMAN OFFICERS WERE LEADING BOLSHEVIK SQUADRON.

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW, June 12.—Another Bolshevik armoured train officered and manned by Germans with German machine guns has been captured by the Poles near Kiev, Bridgehead. Its capture is attributed by them to the performance of Capt. Edward J Corsia of Brooklyn, New York, a member of the Kosciusko Areo Squadron, who they say flew beyond the train and cut track by means of bombs. Polish infantry later captured the crew.

LOOKING FOR A PRICE INCREASE

CLAIMS THERE IS NO MONEY IN MILK

Unless the milk producers raise their prices at once there will be a lot of fellows out of business soon, Mr. R. B. Rogers, an officer of the Milk Producers' Association, told the Examiner yesterday, when asked if there were any movement amongst them to raise milk prices He also stated that at the price milk is being sold no money could be made.

Inquiries amongst the local milkmen failed to find any foundation for the statement that the prices would be boosted and the feeling was evidently that if the other fellow raised the price each would do the same.

TRENT CANAL FACILITIES

IMPORTANT MEETING WILL BE HELD IN THIS CITY ON TUESDAY.

At the Empress Hotel, this city, on Tuesday evening next, at 7 o'clock, delegates from all those municipalities along the Trent Canal's entire 240-mile route will convene and organise what is to be known as the Trent Waterway Association.

The object of this organisation is to boost this beautiful scenic and power waterway from Trenton, its Lake Ontario outlet, to Georgian Bay, and to encourage appreciation, both at home and abroad, of the canal's many advantages as a touring route for summer pleasure seekers, together with its commercial and industrial opportunities now offered to wideawake business and manufacturing capitalists.

Senator W. H. Bennett, of Midland, the pioneer in this project, is to be the main speaker on this occasion, and he will no doubt attract a large gathering of representative men willing to lend their active co-operation in developing the natural and created resources offered in the valley of the Trent Waterway, of which Peterborough City and district forms an important part.

During the past year Peterborough's Board of Trade has left no stone unturned to advertise, especially in New York and other large American centres, trade and touring opportunities opened up by this beautiful scenic and power route, constructed at a huge cost to the country, an expenditure, however, fully justified, perhaps, in present and future opportunities offered in its final completion this year.

Municipalities between Trenton and Washago have contributed in part toward the cost of a vigorous and aggressive publicity campaign, with the result that the Trent waterway, with its seventy and more miles of inviting lakes, has been "placed on the map" so far as prominent Americans are concerned.

Indications point to the conclusion that this summer Peterborough will experience an American touring trade unsurpassed in its history, both by car and boat; in fact, one pleasure yacht from a United States port has already made a trip through the Trent Canal and its connected waters. Secretary Frazer, of the local Board of Trade, has answered many inquiries from across the border for detailed information as to this waterway's advantages for a summer outing.

It is expected that on 1st July the Canal will be formally opened from Old Ontario to Georgian Bay, and on Tuesday night, at the meeting in the Empress Hotel, plans for a huge public demonstration will be outlined.

This city is interested very largely in the proposed Trent Waterway Development Association, and Peterborough's leading representative men will no doubt readily shoulder their responsibilities in this connection, with a view to the development of a greater and more prosperous Peterborough.

OTTAWA, Jrne 12.—A shortage of $3,300 in funds of Carleton County were reported to the County Council yesterday afternoon, by its auditor, Mr. George Blatch.

Not Merely an Error.

That Council considered this shortage not merely an error in book-keeping was shown by its action when, at an evening session, it dismissed Mr. Hugh Rielly, country treasurer, and placed the office in charge of Mr. H. R. Washington, clerk and treasurer of East View.

The shortages, which have been discovered, cover a period of one year and a half, but the books and accounts for previous years will be again gone over more carefully.

Annual Excursion.

The annual business men's excursion set sail at 1.30 on Thursday afternoon for Buckhorn. It was an ideal day for a water trip and about 70 men enjoyed the experience. The attendance was not quite up to last year, but various causes kept a number of men at home. The good time, however was just the same, even better, and those who were prevented from going were decidedly the losers.

Horse Ran Away.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Dunk and infant son, when driving into Peterborough on Thursday, had a most unpleasant experience. A 'spool' of wire for the Hydro frightened the horse, which bolted and collided with the telephone pole, throwing them all out. Mrs. Dunk, who was holding the baby, fainted and was very badly shaken up, but the baby seemed uninjured. Mr. Dunk was also shaken up severely.

Dainty refreshments were served in the spacious dining room, where each each guest found her place marked with a unique card.

Mrs. W. Sherin was the winner of the prize for the highest number of points at cards.

Among those present were: Mrs. W. Sherin, Mrs. Gillman, Mrs. C. S. Tanner, Mrs. D. H. Charlton, Mrs. J. H. Sherin, Miss Braden, Mrs. H. J. Stuart, Miss Corkery, Mrs. Connell, Miss Alford, Mrs. Beatty, Miss Burgess, Miss Wood, Mrs. Twist and Miss Graham.

GOULD CLEARED OF THE CHARGE

JURY WAS OUT A FEW MINATES.

A verdist of acquittal for Carmen Gould on the charge of stealing the engine bed of the old Esturion from G. W. Hatton was brought in by the jury at the County Court sessions yesterday afternoon after being out a few minutes.

J. F Strickland, for the Crown, addressed the jury, while F. D. Kerr for the defence, pointed out that Mr. Hatton evidently forgot that the engine bed was there when he made the sale, and then later when he found out, tried to come back on Gould Whether he included the bed in the agreement or not he did not make it clear to Gould that he was not to take the bed. If Gould had known its value to Mr. Hatton he would have held it and tried to resell it to Hatton for a considerable sum. Instead of this the defendant along with some other junk sold it to a dealer. The charge of theft he said, was unfounded.

LIGHTNING KILLS FIVE.

Students Had Taken Refuge Under a Tree.

DETROIT, June 11.—Huddled beneath a tree in Pingree Park at five o'clock yesterday afternoon to escape a severe storm of rain and lightning, four youths, all between the ages of 15 and 18, members of the North-Western High School, were instantly killed by a lightning bolt, and one other, a girl, has since died from the effects of the shock.

Half a dozen others were rendered unconscious by shock, and one of these may die.

The boys were all members of the school baseball team, and were at school baseball team, and were having preliminary practice when the storm came up almost without any warning.

The one shelter spot on the field was beneath the spreading branches of a large elm, and here the players and spectators gathered as rain began to fall. Then came a bright flash of lightning and a crash as the tree was splintered by the jovian bolt.

Practically every one in the vicinity was struck down, some being rendered unconscious. The four who were killed were seated close together on a wooden bench close to the tree trunk.

Dr. William H. MacKay of Waltham has married a granddaughter of the labor leader, Samuel Gompers. She was a Red Cross nurse in Neufchateau, France, where she met her husband. They will reside in Philadelphia.

BABY SUCH.

Infantile Diarrhœa

35, Trafalgar Road, S.E.

SIRS,—I thought you would like to know of the splendid results after using Virol. My baby was suffering from DIARRHŒA badly, and I was advised to leave off milk for a time and give him Virol and water only. This I did for over a week; the diarrhœa and sickness stopped, and I was able to gradually add the milk until he was back on normal feeding. I continued the use of Virol with his milk for about 2 months. He was 8 weeks old when I started with Virol, he is now 10 months, and as you see by his photo he is the picture of health.

I remain, yours truly,
HELENA SUCH.

Virol increases the power of resistance to the germs of disease and replaces wasted tissue, it is therefore a valuable food in Measles, Whooping-cough, Infantile Diarrhœa, Influenza, etc.

PERPETUATE PETERBORO'S HISTORICAL FEATURES BY FITTING DESIGNATION

MR. F. H. DOBBIN SUGGESTS THE DESIRABILITY OF PLACING TABLETS TO MARK THE CITY'S FIRST BEGINNINGS—HISTORICAL SOCIETIES ASSUME THIS WORK IN MANY CITIES—PETERBORO'S RECORDS AUTHENTIC.

CREATES BOND WITH PAST

(By F. H. DOBBIN.)

Throughout the western part of the province, and particularly at St. Catharines, Stratford, Windsor and Galt, a movement has crystallyzed to mark for identification such points and spots of historic interest as the locality presents. It is recognized that with the march of improvement places and localities of historic importance are being obliterated, and it is with difficulty when need arises to identify localities within any reasonable accuracy. Toronto has taken up the movement and is as speedily as possible placing tablets briefly recounting location of first buildings and facts of historic interest, and going back for one hundred years for the information.

Peterborough is not so old as Toronto, but this city has passed its first hundred years of municipal growth. As improvement and change come about in the centre of the city our landmarks are being swept away. Besides we have in the city over eighteen thousand people who know very little of the past history of the city, within the last twenty years. Few there are who can carry back in memory so far as sixty years, and only an odd one or two who can recall from the galleries of memory how things stood seventy years ago.

Canadian Club Motive.

In the places mentioned, the duty of placing bronze or brass tablets, briefly inscribed with the salient facts, has been taken up by the several Canadian Clubs. It is to the credit of these organizations that they have assumed this public duty, and are worthily carrying it out. It would be a gracious thing if the local Canadian Club would take on itself this meritorious function and help to perpetuate in years to come some intimation of has been the case and what has been swept away. Peterborough is old enough to respect its traditions, and a municipality that does not do so shows a lack of the first principles of public spirit.

The cost would not be excessive. Unfortunately, as it has happened in Peterborough, the fact of suggesting some reasonable course of action is sufficient to ensure that such will not be attempted or carried out. This comes from the feeling that most men hate to be bossed. But the members of the Canadian Club stand for what is essential to local progress too well to neglect a suggestion if such appeal in a public way. It only requires a few to make the break and results will follow.

Suggestions for Peterboro.

Suggestions could be invited from older citizens as to spots, places and buildings worthy of being identified and ear-marked. No one holds a monopoly of information. These suggestions could be taken in, identification established as to dates and facts and if worthy acted on. As an opening gun in the proposed campaign the following are offered for inspection, beginning, as well may be the case, with our latest and most costly replacement, the Hunter street bridge:

1919-20. Erected by the City of Peterborough. This structure replaces the last of successive bridges, as follows: Bridge of wood, on three piers, built by Horace Perry, 1827, cost covered largely by Legislature of Upper Canada, destroyed by fire earl yin 1856; Howe Truss bridge, erected in 1946-47, built of wood from funds raised by the Colborne District Council and public subscriptions, burned July 3rd, 1871, replaced by two-span cast iron bridge, erected by Whyte & Davis at joint expense of town and county, opened for traffic February, 1872, collapsed (one span) January, 1875, replaced by structural iron Bridge, erected at expense of town by Canton Bridge Co, Canton, O., opened for traffic October 18, 1875, taken down to provide for erection of present structure.

First Civic Hall.

A few months after the incorporation of the town it was deemed necessary to provide a public meeting place and to be used for public activities. There was not much money in hand, nor for that matter in sight. So the Council acquired the old Colborne Hotel, a wooden structure at the corner of George and Charlotte streets, on the ground now covered by the civic building, now occupied by business places and housing the up-stairs market. Following is an appropriate legend:

1850.—On this spot stood the first building acquired by the Town of Peterborough providing accommodation for Council room, Police Court, fire hall, etc. At a cost of forty pounds sterling

First Landing Place.

It is well that we should be able to identify the place where the first man came ashore, so to speak, and cast his lot on the soil of Peterborough. The buildings of the Peterborough Canoe Co. cover the ground on which Adam Scott put up his first building, cutting down the pines and hewing the logs to from the skelton of the building. Boards to make the "undershot" water wheel were whipsawed from the logs. The roof was covered with the rudest materials and the sides open to the weather, until the single upright saw began to make lumber. The tablet might well read:

1819-20.—On this ground stood the saw and grist mill built by Adam Scott, the first settler on the location known as "Scott's Plains," the first building to be erected within the now city limits.

Early Hospitality.

So soon as lumber was available Scott began the building of a modest cottage in which to live. The house stood, facing Charlotte street, on the south side and midway between Water and George streets. It proved to be a haven of refuge to many a traveller and incoming pioneer, for the owner was hospitable beyond measure. Even his wife, a thrify person, had reproved him for giving away his clothes, to clothe some coatless man. The house stood as late as 1857, but on the evening of May 24th, a few zealous souls, desiring to add to the excellence of the celebration, set a match to the house and provided a bonfire. For several years the house was the home of Dr. Hutchinson, when he commenced practice in Peterborough. So we might affix a tablet to the pillar that upholds the gate into the Custom House yard, (having the approval of the department) and say:

1820-21.—Fronting on and within one hundred feet of this street stood the first dwelling erected in Scott's Plains, now the City of Peterborough. The home of Adam Scott, the first settler.

"Government" Building.

The ground covered by the building of the Peterborough Club, formerly the Bank of Montreal, is historic ground. To handle the people of the Robinson immigration the legislative Assembly donated a sum of money, considerable for those days, and under the care of Hon. Peter Robinson buildings of logs were erected. These were built with great care, the inside and outside faces of the logs being all handhewn. In the largest of the buildings, standing close to the corner of Water and Simcoe streets (south-east corner of Simcoe), was located the general administrative offices, storehouse for provisions, tools and supplies, and adjoining was the house in which Mr. Robinson and his assistants, Col. McDonnell and others, lived. These buildings were fired several times but refused to burn. They were demolished in 1856, and the timbers sold. To keep the associations connected with this locality in mind the tablet might state:

1826.—At this corner stood the "Government buildings," built by the Legislative Assembly of Upper Canada to house the administration and settlement of the people of the Robinson immigration of 1825-26.

First Brick Building.

Now doing excellent service in its old age and improved to be in keeping with the buildings on the street, stands the first brick building to be erected in Peterborough. It was known for many years as the "Globe Hotel." North side of Charlotte street nearly facing the entrance of Louis street. The arch of brick that covered the main doorway was esteemed to be a fine example of the bricklayer's art. The brick for the building was drawn in over the snow roads, from Cobourg, and when finished the building was the admiration of the neighbourhood. So as a fitting recognition of old age and enterprise we might word the inscription:

The Fire Brigade.

In recognition of an essential public service and one that was ever in mind in the early years, a plate could be affixed to the wall of the fire hall on Aylmer street giving in brief the record of the first volunteer effort made to provide protection from fire and to put fires out when such occurred and of much there were many. In years before Peterborough became a city the fire brigade had enrolled in its ranks men of all stations of life in the town. The membership was no respecter of persons, and all joined up. Lawyers, doctors, merchants, mechanics and laboring men were within the fold. Help was what was needed. The blacksmith as a man fearless of fire and esteemed accordingly. The brigade held large social distinction, and the balls, dinners and social occasions were notable functions. The captain of the company was nearly always a man of ability and prodiguous lung, who straddled the top of the old hand-pumped fire engine and in stentorian tones bellowed through a brass horn, barked for more men on the brakes. Woe be to the reluctant offender who stood to one side and shirked. He was at once "paged" to his discomfiture. We might well fasten the brief historical reference to the handsome fire hall building stating that:

1854.—April 13th, first fire company organized, R. Swain captain, J. T. Henthorn 1st lieutenant, E. C. Hill 2nd lieutenant, B. Mowrey engineer, Geo. Thompson, Geo. Ross, Poole Eastland branchmen, Wm. Croft, E. J. Nesbitt axe men, Thos. Menzies secretary. Name—Peterborough Brittannia Fire Company, No. 1.

Old Indian Trail.

When the survey of the lands now comprised by the townships of North Monaghan and Smith was made by W. C. Chewett, in 1817, that part of the Township of Smith, east and west of what is known as the Communication Road, was laid off. This layout is at varience with the general survey and layout of the concessions lines and lots of the balance of the township. In plotting the Communication Road the surveyor found and followed the old Indian trail from Katchemong Lake to the river Seebee. These waters are now known as Chemong Lake and the river Otonabee. The trail, as near as may be, was direct from the lake to the river and finished on the shore of the river where the gas house now stands. By making this portage the long detour from Buckhorn Lake, the river to and through Stoney and Clear Lakes and down the river to the shore at end of now Simcoe street was avoided. This shore of the river was a beautiful spot, covered with a luxuriant sward and shaded with magnificent oak trees. Where the trail line, or rather the town boundary line, crossed the trail, is at the bend at Reid street, north turning on to the Chemong Lake road. So at that corner we might enshrine the ancient Indian trail, with a plate, stating:

1825.—This spot, on the edge of the City of Peterborough, marks the commencement of the ancient Indian trail, between Chemong Lake and the River Otonabee, en route to Rice Lake. The Communication Road follows practically the line of the trail.

Mark the Schools.

The city has made, and is increasing, the facilities for education. Within the city limits we have thirteen schools, and the Business College, the Normal School, and are busy adding a fourteenth, the new school building on Monaghan Road. We shall be well equipped, but none too well. The droves of children that thronged the streets on circus day, showed where the population of the future is being increased. While we enjoy, and appreciate our educational facilities, we should not be unmindful of the beginnings. So a tablet might well be spared to stand at the corner of McDonnel and College streets in commemoration of our first public educational institution:

1837-38.—At this corner stood, built of logs, the first Public and Grammar School of the now City of Peterborough. Erected by public subscription and volunteer work. Head master, Rev. Samuel Armour, St. John's Church.

The Market House.

For long years the market square was the centre of civic and municipal activity. The home of the quarterly fair, when any one having anything to dispose of brought it to reach buyers. Four times each year the square held a throng, all on buying or selling intent. On many years the circus, when one came to town, spread its tents about the square. In very virulent political contests with all the acrimony and jealousy that abounded in the campaigns, and no public hall being available to house the numerous meetings, roughly built structures were run up on the market square. For lumber was cheap and the faithful willing. A famous occasion was the collossal gathering and dinner in honor of Sidney Smith. Prolonged through the evening and into the night when the gatherig broke up there were wigs on the green, that is the square. The occasion is now a memory, but its hallowed accompaniments are enshrined in the recollections of the oldest inhabitants. Rome howled. Likewise the populace.

So that it is fitting that a building that once stood on the square as beacon of municipal progress and enterprise, should be remembered. A plate could be let into the surface of the sidewalk, on west side of Water street, midway between Simcoe and Charlotte streets, to bear the iuscription as follows:

1851.—Opposite this spot stood the municipal hall and market house of the Town of Peterborough. Taken down Sept. 21st, 1869.

Original Cemetery.

Of the thousands that pass and repass the George street frontage of Central Park, few realize that the ground within the park limits was for long years the public burying ground of the locality. The area comprised, except the strip fronting on Aylmer street, was the joint property of the town and county, having been a gift from the days of the early settlement. The block was divided by a line from Murray street to McDonnel street, and at one time a fence was built. The eastern half was the Protestant burying ground and the west half that for the Roman Catholic faith. Used for the purpose up to the time that the cemetery, now on the outskirts of the city was acquired and opened. By the year 1857 it had developed that the area was practically sold out, for a fee was charged that gave the right of occupancy to relatives of those interred. With the opening of the Little Lake Cemetery interments ceased, and in after years the ground was put to other uses. The first drill hall, for the militia organizations was built, of wood, and stood on ground in front of the present armoury building. For many years the square housed the local Agricultural Society and its annual fair, a fence and sheds for cattle having been erected around three sides of the street frontages. Finally the society sought other quarters and the ground became an open plot used for municipal open air purposes, a drill ground for the 57th Regiment and other uses. As now viewed the square is graced by the Collegiate Institute and the armoury, while other public buildings on the frontages adjoining add to the scene of civic importance. Possibly a plate could be placed on or about the Edward Brown memorial, that could state:

1826-1857.—This block comprised the original cemetery of the locality of Peterborough. In joint occupancy of Protestant and Catholic denominations. Closed for interments in 1857.

The Old Drill Hall.

The outcome of events of recent years has been to practically obliterate what so long as a local institution and one much cherished and admired, the old 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers. The civilian militia, if the term may be used, as a thing apart from the volunteer forces of the C.E.F., played an important part in the years that have passed. Among other activities the return of the regiment from the call to arms at the time of the Fenian Raid, in 1866, presently aroused a demand for a proper drill hall. Before that date the regiment had not a home of its own. The town and county voted sums to aid and the drill hall was built on ground in front of the present armoury. Around the old building were made many comradeships and affinities among the men of the town. These are memories to many as yet. The old hall passed away in a blaze of glory, having been fired on a night in 1909 at the time the new armoury was in course of erection. So, in memory of what has been, there might be affixed to the Murray street corner of the armoury a tablet stating that:

1867.—On ground adjacent to this building stood the militia drill hall and quarters of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers. Destroyed by fire April 28, 1909.

PARIS.—At the end of a long article reviewing the political situation in the United States, "Pertinax," in the Echo de Paris, points to the good work being done by Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British Ambassador in America, in influencing opinion in favor of England, and recommends that France replace Ambassador Jusserand by a representative who can go to American banquets and meetings and make popular speeches for France — something which, he says, M. MR. HICKS' CHARGES.

The statement credited to Andrew Hicks, M.P.P., the U.F.O. Whip in the Legislature, that "the sums of money offered to the representatives of the people to pass certain pieces of legislation during the last session of the Legislature were appalling," is, as might be expected, attracting a great deal of attention. Mr. Hicks made his astounding declaration at a farmers' picnic in East Middlesex the other day, and apparently was quite content to mention these attempts at bribery and leave it at that. But it is to be fancied that many electors will not be satisfied with the mere statement that boldfaced attempts have been made to corrupt the members of the Legislature on behalf of certain interests.

If Mr. Hicks was speaking by the book he should be prepared to go further and tell the people who the guilty parties were and the circumstances under which the bribes were offered. That is information that the people of the Province should have, and if Mr. Hicks is in possession of facts that prove his statements, he should be called upon to disclose them before a proper inquiry. His charges are too serious to be merely stated from the platform at a farmers' picnic. And if the Government Whip is not in a position to substantiate his statement, why in the name of common sense should he make public such an indictment?

Mr. Hicks has intimated in reply to an inquiry from a newspaper that some portions of his speech were not correctly reported. He owes the public a complete explanation.

THE BOARD OF COMMERCE.

Reports from Ottawa declare that the Board of Commerce is to be abolished will cause a good deal of speculation. The Board has held a multiplicity of inquiries into the cost of many articles of food, but so far no profiteer has been punished, nor has there been any appreciable reduction in the cost of living. The Canadian consumer, reading of the heavy fines that are being inflicted upon those guilty of profiteering in the United States, is at a loss to understand how the men who are making exorbitant profits on this side of the line are allowed to escape.

The Judge Robson correspondence which the Government has declined to bring down might supply the missing information. Commissioner Murdock of the Board of Commerce declares that the people are entitled to "know something more of the reasons that prevented the Board of Commerce of Canada from performing its functions in controlling profiteering and combines against the public interest as by law intended."

Mr. Murdock is right. The trouble is, however, that the Government does not concede the public any claims in this regard. The information that might clear up the situation is believed to be contained in the correspondence with and from Judge Robson. If it were published, the Canadian people might know just why profiteers have gone unchecked.

FARMERS AND RECREATION.

Throughout the County of Middlesex the United Farmers have proclaimed every Wednesday afternoon during the summer months as a half-holiday. This is a new departure for the rural sections, but the innovation is a sensible one that deserves commendation and support and the example might be widely copied throughout the country. There is no reason why the farmers should not get a breathing spell each week such as their fellow-citizens in the urban centres enjoy. Their work is hard during the summer and the hours are long—if the workers in the cities need a half-holiday, then there is even more necessity of the farmers having a similar period of relaxation.

And the United Farmers of Middlesex have evidently decided that the work can be arranged so as to permit of this weekly half-holiday being held.

The farmers elsewhere have come to the conclusion that on the farm, as well as in the factory or the office, "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

In East Peterborough Mr. J. J. Solomon, the well-known baseball enthusiast of this city, has appeared in the role of a benefactor who has carried the element of healthy sport and recreation into the lives of the young men of the district. The baseball league that he has organised in the eastern section of the county means a new interest for the young farmers of East Peterborough, and incidentally for their elders. Through it they are getting away, for a while at least, from the drudgery of their daily work, and are enjoying some of the pleasures that their friends in the city find in athletic competitions. And why not? There is no logical argument to sustain the theory that the people of the rural sections should be deprived of the benefits of athletics, because their work is on the farms and not in the workshops of the cities. Mr. Solomon may prove to be a pioneer in a movement that will be emulated in many sections of the Province.

ADVERTISING.

There is so much confusion in the mind of the public over the details of the new Budget taxation scheme that the Government might well have considered the advisability of placing the necessary information before the public by means of an extensive advertising campaign. Those affected by the new taxes—and there are very few who are not—have to depend upon the newspapers for knowledge of the Budget resolutions, for there is no other way in which the information can be promulgated, and there could be no other plan that would give so beneficial results as a well-planned set of advertisements.

The Federal Government found the value of newspaper advertising during the war and the journals of Canada were extensively used in securing recruits for the Canadian Army, in explaining the Military Service Act, in encouraging thrift and greater production, and in half a dozen other war activities. Just what was accomplished by this means has been set forth in an interesting manner by an attractive pamphlet issued by A. McKim, Limited, with the title, "The Force That Makes Ideas Live." This thesis on advertising declares that the newspaper press is the greatest agency for moulding public opinion, and that by means of the advertising columns an idea can be reiterated and repeated until the impression on the minds of the readers is secure.

The booklet is of interest not only to advertising men, but to the general public, for it forms a splendid record of the war efforts of the Canadian people. Copies may be obtained from any of the offices of A. McKim, Ltd., Toronto, Montreal, Hamilton, or Winnipeg.

MOBILISING LABOUR.

It is a deeply significant situation which the national farm organisations call to the President's attention, whatever one may think of the remedy they propose. Unless something is done, and done soon, to supply the farms with labour we shall be "face to "face with what leading agricultural "economists believe will be the great-"est scarcity of foodstuffs ever ex-"perienced in America." Higher prices for food seem certain, and they cannot fail to be reflected in the prices of all commodities.

The danger has been evident since early in the spring, when Secretary Meredith reported a sharp falling off in the year's purchase of farm seeds and sounded a timely warning. During the War the farmers were aroused to their utmost energy and encouraged by the certainty of high prices aged by the certainty of high prices; yet in many cases scarcity of labour, and the high wages it commanded, cut down the expected profits or wiped them out. The need for manufacturing munitions came to us long before the need for growing more food, and the result was a shifting of labour to the cities, which leaves the country still undermanned. Current financial conditions have added to the difficulty. Interest rates are phenomenal and bank credit is lacking for the purchase of fertilisers, farm implements, and such mechanical aids as are required to take the place of farm help. All this has been known for many months, and Mr. Gary Silver, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, very justly criticises Congress for its neglect of agricultural legislation.

The remedy which is proposed to meet the present crisis is a mobilisation of labour. As harvest approaches, the farmers' memorial urges, work should cease on public projects, national, State and municipal, and the men be distributed among farms. The undertaking presents manifest difficulties, but it is not without successful precedent. In the West the crops are partly harvested by gangs of men who move northward with the season. A further labour supply might be derived from mills and factories, some of which are already shutting down or operating on a reduced schedule. Not all the operatives are capable of farm labour; but not a few of them have recently come from the country and might be induced to return for a season during the lack of city employment. In the leading countries of the Continent of Europe there have long been labour bureaus which have rendered valuable service both to employers and employees by matching a shortage of labour in one field against a shrotage of work in another.

Unless some such arrangement is made, it is the city that will suffer. The adage about starving the cook applies with equal force to the farmer. His profits may diminish or vanish quite, but his private larder will be full.—New York Times.

DILUTED GOLD TO CURE AILMENTS

EXPENSIVE METHOD OF RESTORING HEALTH DISCOVERED BY FRENCH PHYSICIAN—CURE SHELL SHOCK.

The very latest post-war discovery is the curing of certain ailments by means of injections of diluted gold. This very expensive method of restoring lost health was discovered by a French doctor, who has completely cured a wealthy Parisian of a complaint similar to shell-shock.

Although gold is very scarce at present, a limited supply is available for medicinal purposes. The price for one injection of good quality gold some times reaches the fifty-pound mark while in one or two exceptional cases gold injections have cost over a hundred pounds each. Consequently, only very rich persons can at present undergo this gold treatment, which has been successful in rescuing several cases of complete nervous breakdown.

It should be remembered, however, that the gold itself is of no great value as a tonic. The idea in making the injections is to liven up the patient and prevent him or her from brooding too seriously. This done, doctors believe that half the battle is won.

It will also be very interesting to know that this gold treatment is now being used in several of the largest hospitals on the continent. Until now only nervous people and those suffering from mental disorders have been treated, but experiments have recently shown that gold injections, costly though they are, are of great value in allaying fever and kindred diseases.

Strange to say, the injections are not made through the usual type of syringe, but generally through a conical shaped tube of pure platinum costing over a hundred and fifty pounds.

ECHO OF BOER WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA

On the 5th of June, 1900, the City of Pretoria, in South Africa, was given up by the Boers, and the British troops marched in and took possession With the 19th Brigade, which had been given the task of securing the Boer city, the Royal Canadians were serving, and they had borne cheerfully the hardships of the running battle of the preceding days inspired by the victories in which they had shared so recently in the fight between Boer and Briton.

It was thought that the enemy intended to make a last great stand to save South Africa for his people and keep the Britishers out of the city. But on the evening of the 4th it was known that there would be no more fighting for the stronghold. All that day of fighting the resistance of the foe had been comparatively slight. The British cavalry and the mounted infantry had chased the flying Boers back to the city, and the naval guns poured shells into the forts with which Pretoria was surrounded. But the forts were strangely silent—and so much had been expected of them.

Early on the 5th the enemy prepared to quit the control of the city, and the whole British force moved to within two miles of the city preparatory to the march in at 2 o'clock that afternoon. At that time Field Marshal Lord Roberts took up his position in front of the Government buildings, and the silken flag that had fluttered over Bloomfontein, Kroonstad and Johannesburg in the victorious advance of the British was run up amidst the wild cheering of the soldiers—especially of those who had been freed that day after months of imprisonment in the prisoners' pen of the enemy city.

The resistance of Botha, however, had given the enemy time to get away his guns and men, and as a result it was a town possessing few military stores that the British possessed.

The Canadians were not in the march past, for they had been held outside the city for special duty, but the next day they paraded through the city to Silverton, where they encamped until they were supplied with new horses, for in the long trip they had played serious havoc with their mounts. Everybody was happy, however, for they knew that the fall of Pretoria meant that the war was virtually won.

SUBSTITUTE FOR POTATOES NOW

If the present high prices of potatoes continues, do not be surprised on going into a restaurant one of these days and hearig a customer order a "sirloin steak, medium, with fried calla lillies."

We are accustomed to think of calla lillies as garden ornaments to be carefully planted in the spring and taken up again in the fall for storage in the cellar during the cold months. We never have thought of the calla lily as an article of food, but, then, neither did our ancestors dream of eating the tomato, which persons now living still remember was in their childhood days known as the "Jerusalem Apple" and regarded as extremely poisonous. So there is no reason why we should smile over the proposal of a number of Florida swamp land owners to grow and sell calla lily bulbs on a large scale for food purposes.

The calla lily, which was cultivated on a large scale in Egypt, and probably in Palestine, thousands of years ago, was, and is grown as a food plant. It develops, underground, flesh tubers which somewhat resemble potatoes, thought more elongated in shape. With preliminary boiling they may be cooked for the table by baking, frying or in any other way that potatoes are cooked.

Large areas are nowadays devoted in Florida to the culture of the calla for its tubers. In olden times in Egypt, calla tubers were one of the most important food crops.

So here's to the calla lily, and may it give the proud spud ample cause to bow its haughty head in submission to the demands of a hungry but purse-poor people.

Give us an order of fried calla lily bulbs please; and let them come brown.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

MERMAIDS ARE ON TO-DAY'S MENU

Even mermaids nowadays yield valuable commercial products. Their flesh is very good to eat, different parts of the creature resembling beef, veal and pork. Their skin makes an excellent leather ,their bones take a beautiful polish, and their livers furnish an oil resembling that of cod livers which is commonly used for medicine.

They are not called mermaids any longer, but "dugongs," their human-like apearance when seen at the surface of the sea, with head and shoulders exposed to view, having in early times given rise to one of the most picturesque of myths.

The animal is about the size of a porpoise, with huge lungs (enabling it to stay for a long time under water) and grinders like those of a ruminant. Tusks that protrude from the upper jaw are a distinguishing mark of the male.

Dugongs are denizens of the warm seas. Often they approach near to land, coming in with the tide and feeding on the submarine algae of mud flats. To capture them nets are stretched across channels leading to such flats. They become entangled, and, unable to rise to the surface to breathe, are drowned.

STIR Your Tea

One minute before your tea is steeped, stir it.

This liberates the valuable tea essence that would otherwise remain in the leaves at the bottom of the pot and be wasted.

When you use a higher price tea—a tea of the fine quality of Red Rose Orange Pekoe—it is doubly important to stir it and get the full benefit of the rich flavor and strength from every choice young mountain grown leaf.

A tea for exceedingly particular people.

Have you tried it?

RANEY INVESTIGATING U.F.O. WHIP'S SPEECH

ANDREW HICKS, M.P.P., SIMPLY SAYS HE WAS INCORRECTLY REPORTED.

TORONTO, June 12.—"My personal knowledge of Mr. Hicks can be summed up briefly. He opens his mouth and lets it say what it likes," was the reply of Mayor M. M. McBride yesterday to a question as to whether he thought Andrew Hicks, U.F.O. whip, made the statement that bribery had been attempted during the recent session to secure legislation favoring interests.

"A man in the official position which Mr. Hicks occupies should not make such an assertion against anyone unless he has some foundation," said Mayor McBride. "If he has a foundation he should come out and formulate definite charges which should be investigated by the Government.'

"Of course, there was the usual lobbying, mostly for the temperance people, but none were ever approached with money."

Mr. Hicks himself says the report of his speech was not correct in which the statement is attributed to him: "The offering of money to representatives of the people to pass certain legislation during the past session were appalling."

"What did you say?" "I can't tell you until my mail comes in," replied Mr. Hicks.

Mr. MacBride, of Brantford, says that the charge ought to be investigated? Have you anything to say as to that?"

"I gave up answering MacBride six weeks ago," replied Mr. Hicks.

"I am making inquiries," was the statement to-day of Hon. W. E. Raney, Provincial Attorney-General, when asked if the Government contemplated taking any action with regard to the statement of Andrew Hicks, M.P.P. Asked what the nature of these enquiries were the Minister declined to say.

Asked what were the nature of his investigations, Mr. Raney said: "I am making inquiries into the whole matter."

"If his statement is as it was reported, is the matter new to the department?" "Yes."

"What action will be taken in the event of Mr. Hicks confirming his reported speech?" "That will depend altogether on the facts," returned Mr. Raney.

FOUND HANGING IN BARN BY DAUGHTER

KINGSTON, June 11.—Despondency following a horse deal with a gipsy, alleged to have been the cause of the death of James Bailey, a mail carrier, who resided at Odessa, and whose dead body was found hanging in his barn yesterday morning by his daughter. Dr. H. S. Northmore, of Bath, was called and after an investigation into all the circumstances of the regrettable affair, he decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Deceased was well and favourably known in the district, and the mournful affair has caused great sorrow among his friends.

On Tuesday night he complained to his wife that he did not feel well, and he remained up after she had retired. When Mrs. Bailey arose in the morning she discovered that her husband had not gone to bed during the night, and a search of hte premises resulted in the finding the body in the barn.

The sale of the British Government's motor depot at Slough, G.B., to a private syndicate completes a great motor transport deal, involving a sum of 14,000,000 pounds. The deal began with the purchase of the whole of the American transport in France, 15,000 cars and wagons, for 7,000,000 pounds.

OUTPUT OF STEEL IS BELOW NORMAL

Present Production Not Averaging Over 60 to 70 Per Cent.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 12. — The Iron Trade review says: Demoralized traffic conditions in iron and steel are being cleared up so slowly that the restoration of normal operations of these works if far-tingri operations of these works still is far remote. Present production does not average over 60 per cent. An irregular improvement in the movement of materials is going forward and crowded sidings are being well freed of stagnated consignments, but new shipments are in limited amount. The results that many plants are forced to struggle against the stifling effects of overloaded yards and some of them in the week have been forced to make a fresh curtailment of output to meet the situation. The outlook in the Pittsburg district particularly, where the largest producer still has 200,000 tons and another company over 130,000 tons in stockpiles, is not reassuring. The chief and continuing difficulty from the manufacturers' standpoint is the lean car supply. Placements with various steel companies are running about 40 to 50 per cent. of daily needs.

Forced to work out some insurance against delays of raw material, particularly fuel, many industrial companies now are entering the market for freight equipment on their own account. Large-capacity hoper cars chiefly for the carriage of coal, are being contracted for. These purchases overshadow railroad buying for the moment.

Prices of finished steel still resist any general softening, and this fact has been more clearly shown since the volume of new business on the whole has been larger. The wide spread between the quotations of the Stel Corporation and the independent mills remain substantially unchanged. The Carnegie Stel Co. now is accepting steel bar contracts from regular customers where the circumstances warrant it, for third quarter or last half speculations, but for ter or last half specifications, but for delivery at the mill's convenience. In the present condition of order books, this virtually means 1921 shipment. The price is unchanged at 2.35c Pittsburg. nO the other hand independent makers continue to book steel bar business all the way from 3.00c to 4.00c Pittsburg. Chicogo bar mills are sold full to 1921. Plain wire is being sold at 4.00c Pittsburg. Les is being heard of extreme premiums in sheets and some buyers are holding up prospective purchases for 30 days or more. The plate market continues more active. Two 18,000-ton lots for ships are up at Pittsburg, and three tank vessels are being figured in the East. The Pennsylvania railroad has closed against its recent 15,000-ton inquiry mainly.

On the 16th visit to the warehouse of the Fair Chance Distillery at Gransville, Md., thieves took the last drop of 45 barrels of liquor left at the distillery at the time wartime prohibition became effective. It is believed that the distillery was the most robbed whiskey warehouse in the United States. It is located in a rather lonely spot. The whiskey taken is valued at between $30,000 and $40,000.

SAYS POLITICS IN TIMBER ENQUIRY

PORT ARTHUR EDITOR CALLED BEFORE INVESTIGATING COMMISSION.

PORT ARTHUR, June 11.—Crown Counsel R. T. Harding this morning asked the Riddell-Latchford Commission to commit T. B. Allen, managing editor of the Port Arthur News-Chronicle for contempt of court for having written two critical editorials yesterday.

"I do not see anything gross in the articles," said Justice Riddell.

"I suggest the motion be not pressed." said Justice Latchford.

Was Not Paid For It.

Mr. Allen said that he was not paid by anyone to write the articles, nor had he collaborated with anyone in their preparation.

J. R. Smith and A. McKay were the only stockholders Mr. Allen could remember.

Mr. Harding —"I would ask your Lordships to give this man opportunity to show why he should not be committed for contempt of court."

Right to Comment.

Justice Riddell replied that the press had a right to comment on men in public life and on matters of public interests, but suggested that comment of the nature complained of should be withheld till after the conclusion of the inquiry. Otherwise a wrong impression might be created.

The leading editorial charged that the investigation is being held because "it is good political business." The government, it is stated, was in possession of all the facts that have been brought out and could have instituted criminal proceedings to procure redress if necessary. "In the matter of publicity," the article says, "the Government will have secured more by the expenditure of public moneys in this investigation than it ever could through the funds of the political organization back of it.

Saviours of Province.

"The eastern part of the province will receive the impression that the north country has been robbed and that this Government is the saviour of the province from being carried away holus-bolus."

The News-Chronicle also contained an editorial severely criticizing Jusitces Riddell and Latchford, alleging that they have been reflecting upon the intelligence of citizens called as witnesses at the timber inquiry by comments to them while on the stand.

Alcoholic wards in New York city hospitals are filling up because of the disregard of the Prohibition Law, Birds S. Coler, City Commissioner of Charities declared recently. Mr. Coler said that if conditions did not improve within the next months he would send out his inspectors "to uncover the real facts" and aid in a more rigid enforcement of the dry law.

WILD CONFUSION AT EVACUATION OF MEXICO CITY

MEXICO CITY, May 30. — (By Mail).—Wild confusion attended the evacuation of the Mexican capital by President Carranza and his following. Revolutionists were approaching, and those who were going had to go quickly.

Rolling stock had been gathered at the Mexicano Railway terminal in preparation for their departure. When the word was passed down through the various government departments that the exodus was about to begin, thousands of government employes, leading civilians who had been strong supporters of the Carranza regime, partisan journalists and others headed for the trains on foot and every kind of vehicle obtainable.

Throughout the night before the trains left, a constant stream of coaches and automobiles deposited government officials, politicians and other government hangers-on at the railway station amid a babel of cries and entreaties to porters and expressmen.

Next morning they came in increased number.

Loaded down with bulging bundles, suit cases, bags, hampered by dogs, crying children and [illegible] servants, the procession might have been taken for a gigantic nicnic party had it not been for the strained, frightened expression on the fugitives' faces.

The National Railways were the first to store their impediments on the trains assigned to them. Then came government officials shepherding porters with great stacks of records, and office furniture. In the excitement, the officials had failed to show discrimination, for many of the cargoes consisted of hat racks, cuspidors and even window curtain rods. All this heterogenous mass was dumped into passenger coaches and gondolas and between pieces of artillery and airplane equipment on flat cars.

While some of the porters complied with their duty, others were to be seen streaking not toward the Buenavista station, but toward the poorer sections of the city carrying what evidently will find a ready sale in the capital curio and second-hand shops.

At only one track was there a semblance of order—the siding where the treasure cars had been spotted. Here Luis Cabrera was in command and, after the trains had left, not even a copper centavo was found by treasure seekers. There were 300 cars of all classes and 24 locomotives in the station ready to leave by midnight. Estimates as to the soldiers and civilan refugees vary, but the generally accepted figure is placed at about 5,000, a village on wheels.

For hours the fugitives waited but the trains did not start and flying rumors kept the occupants of the cars peering anxiously into the night for the vanguard of the revolutionary forces. Agents of the liberal constitutionalists had tampered with the train crews and it was necessary to send patrols to round them up.

Next morning locomotive bells began to clang, whistles shrieked and a great wave of weeping farewells arose. Bursting with soldiers and women camp followers, officials and civilians, baggage and munitions, airplanes, artillery, boxes of coin, piles of gold and silver bars, government records, cuspidors and hat racks, the trains moved slowly into the suburbs. The Carranza government had started to move the capital.

YOUNG SWISS GIRL WEDS TEMPORARILY

School Teacher Takes This Step to Avoid Being Nationalized.

GENEVA, June 11.—Faced with the alternative of being nationalized or getting married, Lydia Zelinskara of Moscow, a young school teacher, chose the latter solution temporarily, she explained in a Geneva divorce court.

The Bolshevik secretary of the nationalization committee informed her that she had been chosen as the wife of one of Lenine's cabinet ministers. Either she must submit or be nationalized, the Bolshevik employe said. She decided to do neither, but persuaded a Swiss to marry her nominally. The marriage was registered at the Swiss consulate in Moscow.

Husband and wife never met again after the ceremony until a steamer transporting Swiss refugees from Russia arrived at Marseilles. She sued her nominal husband and obtained a divorce.

BOOTLEGGER SHOOTS CONSTABLE TO DEATH

Grand Forks Official Murdered in Cold Blood in Own House.

GRAND FORKS, B.C., June 12.—George Stanfield, local provincial constable, was shot to death at 12.30 o'clock here in his own home by some persons unknown, but presumably one active in illicit traffic in liquor. Stanfield had been out all evening, and apparently had just come home and was followed into the house by his assailant, or the latter had been waiting in the house for him. Constable Stanfield had been quite active in endeavoring to stamp out a great deal of illicit traffic in liquor by the bootleggers who smuggled it across the United States boundary line.

COBALT THREATENED BY BIG BUSH FIRES

CHARRED TIMBER FALLING INTO STREETS—DAY TURNED INTO NIGHT.

COBALT, June 11.—Local stores and offices had to resort to electric light in midafternoon today, dense clouds of smoke from a bush fire three miles west of the town obscuring the sun's rays. Tonight pieces of charred timber are falling in the streets. The fire is burning through second-growth timber, but there are no buildings near. A steady breeze is blowing, with no rain in sight.

HALF DAY OFF FOR FARM LABOURERS

The "hired man" is at last coming into his own. After looking enviously for years at the city man donning white ducks on his afternoon off, the country cousin is about to follow suit.

For throughout the county of Middlesex the United Farmers have proclaimed every Wednesday afternoon a half-holiday, a day when spudding thistles, hoeing corn, or thinning mangles is taboo. Other counties are preparing to follow, and the "half-holiday off" idea is spreading throughout Lambton.

On Wednesday the Middlesex farmers meet together and have a day of sports. Baseball teams are being organized by the various clubs, and perhaps for the first time in the history of the movement a U.F.O. baseball league will be established. The games are to be played off on the half-holidays.

The market square present a black and shining spectacle to-day with its oozy coat of oil whether there is any danger of any of the farmers at the market getting stuck in the mass is a question that has entered the minds of some of the citizens. WOMAN'S MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

(Bay of Quinte Branch)

One of the interesting papers presented at the Woman's Missionary Society convention of the Bay of Quinte branch, recently held in this city, was prepared and read by Miss Jordan, of Lindsay. The paper follows:

Why a Mission Circle is a Necessity.

A Mission Circle is a necessity because no church or community can get along in the best way without one. That may sound Irish, and if followed up might have a great deal to do with home rule also, but, it is a proven fact in Lindsay. We can't get along without our circle.

Now if the question was asked an outsider I imagine they would answer, "Oh, I suppose a Mission Circle supports some missionaries for the Chinese and Japanese." Yes it does, but its scope is much larger than that. As a member of an al circle I would like to tell you some reasons why the circle appeals to me.

Perhaps you will think a narrow, selfish view to mention first the comradeship suggested by the idea of circle. This is what. Christ gave to man comradeship! He said, "Lo I am with you alway." This is what everyone longs for. The circle tries to provide it. If the girls are true comrades in the circle they cannot help enlarging the circle to take in their more unfortunate sisters across the seas. Humanity's chief demand is not for ours, but for us. The healthful comradery of a Mission Circle means kinship of heart and purpose which is directed along worth while lines. Here let me pay a grateful tribute to our directors—our beloved Mission Circle presidents—who direct and inspire the circles.

Co-operation.

Individuals seldom accomplish as great and successful work as an organized company. They lack the unselfishness, inspiration an incentive of team work. More and more the world is coming to realize that we belong to a great brotherhood. Working, studying and "fellowshipping" together in the circle carries out this idea of co-operation which is the slogan today of any great movement. So if you want to get the young people thoroughly into the great missionary movement to accomplish the greatest work you must organize a circle, have a powerful mission team working for the cause.

As a training school for future W. M. S. workers, the Mission Circle does a very important work. It does not seem logical to gather the children into Mission Bands, get them interested in mission work, then let the young people drift away from mission work during the most formative period of their lives. This is the time they choose their life work. If they are in a circle, the influence of the circle tends to turn their life work into service for others. Hence the circle links up the band with the W.M.S.

The Mission Circle is a necessity because of the helpful influence it extends, not only to its members, but also to the whole community. So many of our young people are caught in the busy whirl of pleasure, which is not satisfying. But you can't expect them to do nothing—to have no interests. Then fill it with a real, live active circle, educate them along missionary lines, let them get a vision of the world's needs and they will rise to meet it.

Be it health or be it leisure,
Be it skill we have to give,
Still in spending it for others
Christians only really live.

Not in having, or receiving,
But in giving there is bliss;
He who has no other pleasure
Ever may rejoice in this.

As one method in fulfilling our aim in life to glorify God, the Mission Circle must not be ommitted. The sacredness of human life is a conception peculiar to Christianity. We believe that, being created in God's image, every man and woman, whether born in the occident or in the orient, has a sacred right of life temporal, and life eternal, and to conditions of life as elevating as possible.

But what's the use of believing it unless we get busy and strive to bring about this desired state of affairs and honestly try to obey the command, "Disciple all nations!" If everyone stands by waiting for that elusive other person to start something your circle will never start. Some are like Archimedes who are always seeking a place to stand upon and a lever long enough to lift the world but never found the place to stand upon nor the level which was long enough. Don't wait—it isn't necessary. We have that problem solved for standing upon the word of God and using our spiritual leverage we can lift the world heavenward.

Then I come to the greatest reason why a Mission Circle is a necessity—the world's need of missionaries in the foreign and home fields. This is a very serious matter now that so few are offering themselves for missionary service. It is expected that the Methodist National Campaign will arouse young people to a more serious consideration of the claims of unselfish service. It is relatively easy for most people to consecrate their money to useful purposes, but the supreme test of sacrifice is the consecration of life. Think what a power the regular monthly meeting together of the girls has to influence them to give their lives over the missionary work. We know that in our busy, everyday world popular opinion says that this world is run on a basis of each man for himself and to suggest that a man should seek, not his own, but each his brother's good is really impractical idealism. But popular opinion is worldly-wise and must be made Christly-wise. These are no days for a missionary hesitant, so start a Mission Circle at once, gather in the young people, educate them along missionary lines, show them the need and they will measure up

JOY AND GLADNESS FOR THE CHILDREN

Every child—whether it be poor or rich is entitled to joy and gladness. Health is the birthright of all and there is absolutely no doubt that the healthy baby is a happy baby. It is the baby's nature to be happy—not cross. Only the sickly baby is cross. The well child is a joy to the home—it is a laughing, gurgling, happy little piece of humanity which drives dull care from the household. The sickly baby is the opposite—he is cross and peevish; cries a great deal and is a source of constant worry to the mother. But mothers there is no need of your little ones being sickly. Regulate the baby's bowels and sweeten his stomach with a gentle but thorough laxative and baby will soon be well and happy again. Thousands of mothers have proved this through their use of Baby's Own Tablets—there is a smile in every dose of the Tablets. Give them to your baby and make him happy. The tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DOCTORS TO CHARGE ADVICE BY 'PHONE

MONTREAL, June 11.—At a meeting last night of the Medico-Chirurgical Society here it was decided that when a doctor receives a telephone call asking advice, he shall be entitled to make such charge as he usually makes, in the same way as a lawyer. An all-rosnd increase in the sale of professional fees was urged, and in this connection it was stated that nurses had raised their fees from $3.75 a day to $5.00.

Mr. J. A. O'Brien appeared on behalf of Mr. McGann. Yesterday Mr. McGann was fined $50.00 and sentenced to one month in jail. The magistrate yesterday changed the sentence to a $20.00 fine without imprisonment and the charge under the Ontario Temperance Act was dismissed. His Worship, in discharging the prisoner gave him a few words of warning. Mr. O'Brien on his behalf undertaking that he would not be caught in the same predicament again.

ALLEGED THAT REEVE FALSIFIED ACCOUNTS

CORNWALL, June 11.—A case which attracted a great deal of interest in this section and heard at the General Sessions of the Peace, which opened here before Judge E. J. Reynolds, of Brockville, sitting in place of Judge J. R. O'Reilly, was that of Harry Davey, Reeve of the village of Iroquois, who was held on three charges of falsifying accounts in connection with work done on the county road system in and near the village of Iroquois.

A great many residents from Iroquois village and vicinity, as well as numerous members of the Counties Council of the United Counties, were present at the hearing.

Mr. Davey was acquitted on all the charges. The defence was that the foreman had made the mistake, there being work going on on the county road system, over which Mr. Davey assumed charge, and in the corporation of the village of Iroquois at the same time.

"OLD MASTERS" WERE ONLY CRUDE COPIES

AND WERE SAVED FROM GERMANS AT COST OF $100,000.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, June 12.—At the outbreak of the war John T. Killiken, a St. Louis millionaire, was advised by a friend in France that he had found a bargain in old masters. It was a collection of workers of art gathered by a Lille merchant whose widow was almost ready to "give it away" rather than let it fall into the hand of the Germans. Mr. Milliken sent $100,000 to the friend who bought the collection. The pictures could not be shipped from France during the war, and Mr. Milliken died in the meantime. At the Anderson galleries here the other day the collection was sold by the order of the executors. It brought exactly $6,253.00. It was discovered that most of the alleged masterpieces were clumsey copies.

Judging by the large number of dog tags that thepolice have yet to dispose of there are many citizens who have disregarded that requirement of the law. Those who have failed to get their tags are once more reminded that unless more speed is shown in this regard prosecutions will follow.

The same is true of the bylaw requiring that drivers of vehicles turn only at the corner and although a few have broken away from their habit of turning any place at all the majority have followed the old rule. The officers are determined to have this open flagrancy of the law changed and the by law will be strongly enforced.

Railway Company Enters Into New Agreement With Men.

BRANTFORD, June 12.—Five cent fare with E hedmaiop....ETAOIN straight fares, and a new agreement with all the employees of the street railway have been announced by the Brantford Street Railway Commission, following a meeting last night. The men will receive 46, 48 and 50 cents per hour for the first, second and third years, respectively, and time and a half for overtime. The agreement is for one year. The commissioners handed out a statement as to the difficulties in operating on a paying basis, and the reason for the advanced fares, claiming that it had been possible to maintain them at the low figure hitherto in the face of greatly increased costs so that large deficits would not occur only by reason that all expenditures have been greatly curtailed, and that the passenger traffic increased to a very considerable extent.

Municipal Coal Supply.

The Trades and Labor Council has asked the Fuel Committee of the City Council to obtain a supply of coal against the anticipated shortage for the coming winter season.

POSTAL STRIKE IMMINENT HON. N. W. ROWELL MAKES STATEMENT

SAYS STRIKE WILL BE TREATED AS RESIGNATIONS AND POSITIONS OF MEN WILL BE FILLED— MEN MAY DECIDE ON MONDAY.

NOT CONFINED TO TORONTO

TORONTO, June 11.—There is every indication that unless some kind of an agreement is arrived at between now and next Monday night that the whole postal service inside and out, throughout the Dominion of Canada will be in the throes of the worst tie-up in its history. There is plenty of evidence that considerable quiet organization is proceeding not only in Toronto but in other large centres throughout the Dominion.

Secretary W. P. Falvey, of the Toronto branch, Dominion Postal Clerks' Association, announced today that the representatives of the various branches of the local postal service would meet in a round table conference on Monday night in the Sons of England Hall. It is understood that the only business coming before the meeting will be the question of deciding the date of a walkout and the organization of such an action. "It will not be a case of the letter ctrriers alone this time," said one prominent officer "but the whole works will be out of operation."

Discussed in Commons.

OTTAWA, June 11.—That if the letter carriers of Toronto go on strike the Government will treat such strike as their as their resignations and that their positions will be filled, was the announcement of policy made in the House of Commons this afternoon by Hon. N. W. Rowell at the end of a statement showing the pay and allowances of the men and claiming they are better paid than any other similar work.

Dr. Sheard asked if the Government and received any communication bearing upon a threatened strike of letter carriers in Toronto or other places, and if so, what was the answer.

Mr. Bureau—"A purely local matter."

The Speaker—"It is a matter of general concern throughout the country."

Rowell Answer. at Length.

Hon. Mr. Rowell answered that while the Government had not received any communication from the men themselves, it had received communications on the subject from some other bodies and taken cognizance of newspaper reports. They appeared to be based on the grounds In the first place, there was some complaint about the bill just passed. "I am at a loss to know why," he added. "The bill is wholly in the interests of the employees inasmuch as it dates back the increases to April, 1919, instead of 1920. If the bill were not effective the country would be saved several millions."

Changes in Classification.

In the second place there was some complaint about changes in the classification. The Government had made none Any change made had been at the instance of the employes themselves after being recommended by a board of appeal upon which they were represented by one of the trusted employees of the department. Afterwards they were approved by the C.S. Commission. In the third place the question of compensation was raised, and it was held it should be better. Mr. Rowell went on to give figures to show that whereas under the old scale, the pay was from .626 to $939, under the new one it was $780 to $1,260, plus the bonus, and also an allowance for clothing, boots and free transportation. If a head of a house, the new maximum, including allowances, is $1,360, while that of a single man's maximum would be $1,422. The minimum with bonus would be $1,320 for a head of a house, and $1,152 for a single man.

Latitude to Government

Mr Bureau—"Is this an answer to a question about the strike?"

Dr. Beland—"This is longitude."

Mr. Felding added his protest against such a statement on orders of the day, and Mr. Rowell said he would conclude with an announcement of policy.

"The conclusion of the Government," he said, "is that considering their work and the condition of ther employment, the letter carrers are paid at a higher rate than others in the same class. If they go on strike, tne strike will be treated as resignations, and their positions will be filled."

Simple Home Remedy for Wrinkled Faces

Thousands of the fair sex are spending fortunes in frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. Such women willingly pay almost any amount of money for worthless wrinkle removers, of which there are many.

If they only knew it, the most effevtive remedy imaginable is a simple, harmless lotion, which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of pure powdered saxolite and half a pint of witch hazel at the drug store and mixe the two. Apply this daily for a while as a refreshing face wash. The effect is almost magical. Even after the first treatment a marked improvement is noticed and the face has a smug, firm feeling that is most pleasing.

BUSINESS GIRLS AND TEACHERS

Suffer From Overtaxed Nerves and Often a Complete Breakdown.

Thousands of earnest, intelligent young women who earn their livelihood away from home, in the school room, in public offices and in large business establishments, are silent, suffering victims of over-taxed nerves and deficiency of strength. Weak, breathless and nervous, they work agains time with never a rest when headaches and backaches make every hour seem like a day. Little wonder their cheeks lose the glow of health and grow pale and thin; their eyes are dull and shrunken and beauty slowly bue surely fades. Business women and girls because of their work and worry, look older than their years. What they need is the frequent help of a true, strengthening remedy to carry them through the day. Dr. Williams Pink Pills are like actual food to the starved nerves and tired brain of the business girl. By making rich, red blood they supply just the kind of help girls need to preserve their health and energy, and their good looks. Dr. Williams Pink Pills bring bright eyes, rosy cheeks, high spirits and thus make the day's duties lighter.

Miss Mary H. Hunt says: "Many people think of the life of a school teacher as one of comparative ease, with short hours and holidays plentiful. But the reverse is the case. When one has to stand day after day, year in and year out, with the worries great and small, from handling children, it begins to tell upon even the strongest, and especially upon the nerves. I had been teaching about five years, and was then located at Springfield, Ont., when I found I was far from having the vitality I started out with. Before my term was out I had a complete nervous breakdown. I tried doctor's medicines and it helped, but only for a while. I then tried osteopathic treatment but with no better results. I suffered from loss of appetite, slept poorly, was nervous and troubled with severe headaches. Holidays came and I tried a change of schools, but got into a harder place where I had over fifty pupils under my care. There were days when it seemed impossible for me to carry on my work. At this stage my sister, who had also been a teacher, strongly advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took the advice and by the time I had finished my second box, I felt that the pills were helping me. I was on my ninth box when I decided there was no necessity for continuing the treatment, as I had never felt better, and had gained twelve pounds in weight. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, with plenty of fresh air, worked wonders in my case and I should advise the use of them to any other run down teacher."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ROCKEFELLER OFFERS FORTUNE TO HOSPITAL

LONDON, June 11. — University College and its hospital and medical school have been offered £1,205,000 by the Rockefeller Foudation to be devoted to teaching and research, according to the Daily Mail. This is not a charitable gift, it is understood, but involves conditions including the construction of a new obsterics unit, a new bio-chemical laboratory, the rebuilding of some of the hospital buildings and the establishment of various endowments. In addition a new institution of anatomy, which it is hoped, will be the finest in the world, will be erected.

The hospital must raise an additional £20,000 annually to carry out the programme. Like all similar London institutions, it depends for support upon voluntary contributions. It has accepted its share of the gift amounting to £835,000, but the college must obtain the sanction of the London University, in which it was incorporated in 1907, before accepting.

The Mail quotes hosnital authorities as saying the donation was the result of a chance visit to the institution by Dr. Wyckiffe Rose and Dr. Pearce of the foundation ,while they were in London, en route to Belgium last year. They became interested in new educational developments at the hosnital and the school, and after their return to the United States, made an offer of finacial assistance.

NOTHING WHATEVER WASTED IN CHINA

So far as the frugality of Chinese is concerned, nothing is wasted in China Even the dirt of the streets is sold to farmers, who turn it into a fertilizer.

Prices of dirt vary in their kinds. The ash of burning wood from a cooking stove of a Chinese family has a good value. It brings a good amount of tea money to the house boy of a big Chinese family, who sells it to gardeners for fertilizing flower plants. When a peculiar cry is heard the house boy seems to understand that an ash-buyer has come. Immediately a big quantity of kitchen dirt and stove ash, which he has stored up, is brought to the buyer. Thirty pounds of the waste material of this kind bring about 10 or 15 cents.

During the last few years the demand for waste foreign magazines, pamphlets, newspapers, etc., has been exceedingly great among the Chinese hawksters, who buy different kinds of very old foreign magazines nearly at one-third of what they cost originally. Their use probably is to make soles for sandals for the poorer classes of Chinese to wear in place of shoes in good weather.

If the waste magazines contain some war pictures they will be applied to better use than making of sandal soles. These people are too poor to get themselves educated, and since they do not know how to read and write, the best way for them to get some knowledge of world affairs seems to be through the medium of the pictures in foreign magazines. Many scavengers buy such things from the house boy of foreign residents.

Another interesting collection of waste material in Shanghai alone has brought not a small amount of money to many poor children and women. This is the collection of cigarette ends. After filling a tin of about two inches in diameter and four inches deep it is brought to a native tobacco factory, which buys it for five to seven cents. The factory manufactures this tobacco into cigarettes, and thus magkes a good profit out of the material which it buys at such a low price.

BUTTER GRADING BY MANY CREAMERIES

The number of creameries signifying their intention to take advantage of the butter grading service this year is considerably greater than during the past season. The members of the Toronto Produce Exchange and the commission men in other parts of the Province, as well as in Montreal, have agreed to pay an increased price for first-grade over second-grade butter and for pasteurized over the unpasteurized. The up-to-date creamerymen, especially those who are putting up even the whole or part of their goods in fifty-six pound packages, will naturally wish to give their patrons the advantage of this increase, and will, we believe, before the season advances very far, have their goods graded.

Instructional Work for 1920.

The instruction service of the Provincial Department of Agriculture will be linked up closely with the butter grading department, the inspectors being required to visit the butter grading station periodically thus informing themselves as to defects in the butter from the creameries under their respective syndicates. Mr. C. Brodie has been engaged to insnect the cream-gathering stations, and a couple of men will be secured to check up the testing of cream and milk where the latter is purchased on a butter fat basis.

Altogether, the service of dairy instruction, so far as the creameries are concerned, has been thoroughly organized, and it now remains for the producers to furnish a high quality raw material, and for the manufacturers to practise up-to-date methods in the selection and handling of the cream, and for the commission men to pay for the finished product on the quality basis.

KEENE LOST TO LAKEFIELD

EAST PETERBORO LEAGUE FIXTURE AT KEENE.

Lakefield visited Keene in the East Peterboro league last ight at the Exhibition Gounds at Keene, and before the fandom of Keene and defeated them 18-16, in a seven innings fixture.

The tally shows what the game was like — plenty of hitting and the runs coming in steady all the time.

In the first innings Lakefield touched Keene for 4 runs, and in the second Keeng landed 3. The score seesawed along, the Northen lads maintaining a safe margin all the way and laying on the willow heavier than Keene. However both teams walloped the ball in a business like way, and there were several close touches for honours.

Lush was on the mound for Lakefield with Blewett behind the bat. Paudash pitched for Keene with Dorris receiving.

Both twirlers had a fast ball but the hits would indicate that there was nothing on it.

TRAGICAL FATE OF THE FALZ-FEINS

SECRET OF DERELICT YACHT ON WHICH RUSSIAN FAMILY WERE FOUND DEAD.

On April 9th a lottering party of Roumanian soldiers discovered a large, sea-worn yacht stranded on one of the sand bars that abound near the three-fold mouth of the Danube. The soldiers took a small boat and boarded the derelict. It had been a craft of sumptuous appointings. Now it was desolate, wasted by weather and engulfing waves. When they pushed open the door of the cabin the soldiers found corpses floating in a foot of water.

There were six men and five women, each shot through the head. The man who seemed the oldest lay rocking, face upward, as dead men always float, his right arm crossed over his breast. His hand still clutched an automatic pistol.

There was Russian gold aboard to the amount of $14,000,000, and a mass of papers that readily disclosed the identity of the dead as the vastly moneyed and landed Falz-Feins, lords of half the Province of Kherson.

It was known that in February last the Bolsheviks had invaded the estates of the Falz-Feins, and that these aristocrats of the steppes had fled by sea. They had taken refuge on their yacht, the Ostara, and had steamed for the port of Constanza At Constanza they had been rebuffed and ordered out to sea again. Russians were not permitted to land. At several other ports, too, they had been driven off.

It was now plain what monstrous work the inhumanity of Black Sea harbor laws had wrought. The picture is not difficult to evoke. The haples Falz-Feins were exiled on the sea. The shore would not receive them. But the sea, too, was inhospitable.

The Black Sea has been renowned from the days of antiquity as a wild haunt of storms. The yacht was swept by waves, drenched, tossed. The exiles endured hunger, cold, exposure. Their fuel was exhausted. They were drifting. They bore their destiny week after week, and then determined that the game had gone far enough. They had a way out—the automatic.

One of them, it would seem, was selected to be the executioner, and he shot his kinsmen and kinswomen one by one, and then shot himself. And when they found him, he still clutched the pistol in his swollen hand.

Who was he? What manner of man was this sombre hero? The man who had died last!

Magnificent Types.

Let us look into the history of the Falz-Feins. They were magnificent types of the Russian nobility, these Falz-Feins. There were many sons and daughters of the old lord, who had died no great time before. The men strong, upstanding, high demeanored. The women of rare South Russian types. Their lands were among the greatest wonders of Russia.

DISTRACTED MOTHER CRIES FOR LOST BABY

Mrs. George Coughlin Makes Nation-Wide Appeal for Aid.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 11. — Mothers and children throughout the United States are appealed to by Mrs. Geo. H. Coughlin, mother of 13-months'-old Blakely Coughlin, who was kidnapped nine days ago, to help her find the baby.

"I appeal to every mother and child in the United States to help us find my baby, Mrs. Coughlin said. "Surely someone will see and know my boy.

"If there is a strange baby in your neighborhood please, oh please find out who he is and where he came from, for he may be my child."

LITERARY CELEBRITIES WHO WERE CRIPPLES

It is one of the curiosities of literature, as well as one of the finest instances of the triumph of the spirit over the flesh, that Frank Smedley, the out-of-doors novelist, who write "Lewis Arandel" and "Frank Fairleigh," never se tfoo tto ground during wethh oulcoser r ing the whole course of his life.

To the tens of thousands of his readers in Mid-Victorian days, Smedley must have appeared as a man who was either a gentleman jockey or an enthusiastic rider, of every sport on the calendar, is almost uncanny.

Yet he wrote all his novels "on his back'. They had an immense vogue in their day, and his succers brought much cheer to one of the most delifhtful and optimistic of men.

Bryon's Brave Fight.

But optimism and good spirits have not always ben associated with crippled genius. Sometimes, as in the case of that literary giant, Alexander both the temper and the pen. Certainly, from the point of view of brilliance, his satire is his best work, but it is none the less, biting and acrid for that.

Pope was a sad cripple, his spine being so weak that he had always to wear stays to support it. In his latter years he spent much of his time in his grotto at Twickenham, and when he did stir abroad sought the seclusion of a sedan chair with drawn blinds.

Bryon is the most romantic of literary cripples. The malformation of his feet was congenial, and was a source of lifelong misery, yet he was beloved of many women, had a countenance of singular nobility and even beauty, and was the most popular poet in his life time in the whole history of English literature.

Doubtless his mother's references to her "lame brat" made in his hearing when a child, had much to do with the smouldering anger with which Bryon regarded his lameness and to his defect must be attributed that of his work. Yet Bryon is admirable for the way he fought his infirmity. He became a fine boxer, a splendid dancer, and, as everybody knows, he swam the Hellespont in imitation of Leander.

A Blessing in Disguise

Perhaps the most famous of all literary cripples is the Wizard of the North, Sir Walter Scott, patriot, poet novelist, antiquarian, lawyer—a universal genius and— an out-door man par excellence. Yet he was partially a cripple.

It is told of him that when he was very young he one night showed such determined opposition to the idea of going to bed that his mother chased him round the room, presumably in a playful manner, and laid hold of him with more than usual roughness. Whether this had any dele terious effect upon im it is hard to say, but next morning he was in a high fever, and when, in a few days, he attempted to put his right foot, to the floor, it was discovered that he had lost the use of it.

To his dying day he walked lame, although even in boyhood he triumph ed sufficiently over his infirmity to fight and climb among the best Doubtless he told the story himself concerning the strange apparent cause of his lameness, but otherwise unlike Bryon, he never refers to it. He was of too robust a temperament to allow a physical infirmity to affect his manhood. It was, too probably a blessing in disguise, for it threw him much into the company of old books and old folk, from which he gathered those stories of legendary lore which stood him in such good stead in his great literary career

With any Ailments.

Samuel Johnson, the Sage of Fleet Street, is as famous well nigh for his physical defects as for his learning conversation, and writings. His unwieldly form, his half-blinded eyes, his scrofulous face his St. Vitus' dance, are as familiar as his home-spun coat and his ungartered stockings. He was not a cripple in the sense that Scott and Bryon were cripples, but his deformities had a profound influence upon his mind and temperament, making him subject to deep depression at times.

Elizabeth Barrett, before she married Browning, spent long years on her couch. At the age of fifteen she met with an injury to her spine, which kept her in a recumbent position for several years, and from the effects of which she never recovered It was during these years that she wrote those sonnets which are her greatest claim to immorality.

MISSING MAN DROWNED.

Body Found in the Thames River Weighted With Stone.

THAMESVILLE, June 12.—The body of William Irwin of Zone Township, who has been missing for two weeks, was found in the Thames river near Tecumseh. The body was weighted with a 60-pound stone fastened with a rope. In the pockets of the coat were three watches, a man's hunting case watch, lady's hunting case with chain, and a silver watch and a purse containing money in bills. An inquest will be held.

PRINCE TO BE A PRIVATE.

Spanish Royal Family to Lunch with His Regiment.

MADRID.—Preparations are being made by the royal family for the formal ceremony of acceptation of the Prince of Asturias as a private in the first regiment of infantry which will occur in the palace grounds on June 14.

All the officers and soldiers of the regiment have been invited to luncheon, at which the Prince and his parents will sit at the same table with the young mans comrades.

Later King Alfonso will distribute prizes among non-commissioned officers of the regiment for their skill in drilling, marksmanship and general military exercises.

RICHEST GERMAN SHOWS HIS POWER

BERLIN.—The general election for the first German Republican Reichstag has its romance as well as its tragedy. There is tragedy in the wiping out of the Coalition Government's majority. There is romance behind the sweeping victory of the so-called People's Party, which is really the old National Liberal Party. It has trebled its vote and its representation.

This is the romance of a personality, of a man behind the scenes. Hugo Stinnes, Germany's newspaper king and multimillionaire owner of coal and iron mines and ships and steel works and paper factories and hotels, is the man who, though remaining himself in the background, raised the National Liberal Party from the grave in which it was buried when the monarchy collapsed. It was he who mainly supplied the fighting funds, who molded public opinion by quietly buying up journal after journal, so quietly that hardly anybody knew anything about it, until there came the startling announcement that he had purchased the Deutsche Allgemoine Zeitung, for long years the semi-official mouthpiece of the German Government.

Then curiosity prompted inquiry and it was discovered that Stinnes controlled no fewer than sixty-two newspapers and rumor has it that he is going to found a new daily in Berlin.

Now everybody in Germany is talking about Stinnes and not a few are asking if he is not "the man" for whom the distracted nation has been crying, the destined saviour of his country.

Well, whatever Stinnes may prove able to do for his country, he certainly has not done very well for himself. Perhaps the exact extent of his worldy possessions is unknown to himself, so varied and involved as they are, but one thing certain is that he is far and away the richest man in Germany—richer, to, than any woman. That has to be added because, before the war at any rate, it was Bertha Krupp who sat on the biggest pile of German gold. One billion marke is the figure at which some Berlin bankers assess the value of the Stinnes properties. "Oh, marsk are not money," some cynic may comment, but still a billion marks represent nominally $250,000,000 just the amount which the other day the German Government thought of suggesting as the whole country's yearly indemnity tribute to the Allies, and by German standard Stinnes is a millionaire fifty times.

Of his thousand million marks he made all but 0,000,000 marks himself—at least the latter was the value of the estate which he inherited from his father in 1897. The growth of the Stinnes fortunes at various periods has been traced by some enterprising person who examined the State income tax records. These show that in 1904 his yearly income was between 400,000 and 500,000 marks and four years later it had run up to 900,000. But the biggest jump made during the war which brought Stinnes such good fortune that in the race for millions he not only overtook but left far behind his nearest rival, August Thyssen. And the latter did pretty well, too. Stinnes enjoyed enormous contracts for war material, especially iron and steel wares, and he also did a big business in Belgium during the German occupation.

According to his critics he took a leading part in instigating the propoganda campaign for the annexation of that country, though in this connection one of them makes caustic statement that "foresight appears to be one of Stinne's qualities. The more his fortune grew in the war the more necessary it appealed to him to risk everything on the card of German victory, so that in order to safeguard himself against any event he transfered in the course of time a considerable part of his riches to Poland."

Known as the Rockefeller of Germany, Stinnes, in his industrial scope, goes far wider than the American oil king. In newspapers and the largest hotel in Berlin, he controls either alone or in combination with a handful of other great industrial leaders the whole of Germany's inland shipping, most of its iron and steel, and practically all the Rhineland coal.

It is this man with this immense power embodied in these possessions who has made the National Liberals once more a force in German politics. Along what road he wants to guide them nobody knows, but nobody supposes that Multimillionaire Stinnes wants to see his riches thrown into a communal pool.

Thirsty Detroiters Make Liquor Business Good at Windsor.

WINDSOR, Ont., June 10. — Catering to thirsty Detroiters who apparently are glad to pay almost any price for "something good," proprietors of road houses in municipalities adjacent to Windsor, are making fabulous profits.

Beer that can be legally purchased by any householder in Ontario at $365 a case of 24 bottles, is being retailed at thees road houses at 75c a bottle, or $18 a case, netting hotelmen a profit of $14.25.

Barn and Silo Roofed with Brantford Asphalt Roofing.

Resists Fire, Sheds Water, Wears Long

Flying sparks and embers from a burning building often cause roofs near by to catch fire, especially in a dry, hot season. Under like conditions, roofs covered with

Brantford Asphalt Roofing

are in no danger from flying embers, because any that fall on Brantford Asphalt Roofing die out harmlessly. Build a bonfire on a roof of Brantford Asphalt Roofing and the fire will not spread and the boards underneath the roofing will be protected in a surprising manner.

If a fire starts in the interior of a building Brantford Asphalt Roofing acts as a retardant and keeps the fire from spreading. Fire chiefs and insurance companies endorse its use in the most congested cities.

Brantford Asphalt Roofing does not absorb water, but sheds the heaviest rain with ease. Acid proof and alkali proof. Reliable, durable, economical. Three weights—60 lb., 70 lb., 80 lb. per square.

Brantford Rubber Roofing

is the same quality as Brantford Asphalt, but has a smooth, rubbery surface instead of the sand. It is particularly suitable for verandah decks and floor coverings. Three weights—40 lb., 50 lb., and 60 lb. per square.

Leatheroid Roofing

Slightly lower quality than Brantford Rubber Roofing. Used for same purposes. Has a leathery surface. Exceptionally good roofing at a low price. 36 lb., 45 lb., and 55 lb. weights.

Standard Mohawk Roofing

is made of the same materials as Brantford Asphalt Roofing, but is lighter in weight. A thoroughly reliable roofing at a low price. Tested for years and has given entire satisfaction. Sanded on one side. One weight—40 lbs. per square.

Climax Sheathing Paper

A tough kraft paper coated with high-grade asphalt. For making buildings damp-proof and wind-proof. Also for roofing temporary bank houses, lumber camps, etc.

Samples of any of these roofings and prices will be furnished on request.

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

MR. BURNHAM ON RELIGION

Mr. Burnham, M.P., of Churches.

Editor, Citizen: Apropos of Rev. Dr. Gordon's warning to the clergy, let there be no alarm about religion. It will survive the solemn warnings of the Presbyterians and the pork-packing business methods of the Methodists. Meeting in one building may save money, but will it save souls? Protestantism is individualism It, above all things, is founded upon the liberty and therefore responsibility of the individual. The individual must save himself It is he who must go to church. Neither churches nor the police force can save him. It seems to me that much of this clerical worry is quite needless. Protestantism is on trial, it is true and the Methodist have found it wanting, hence their adoption of coercive methods in matters of private right and judgment. But this world is God's and the good clergy need not fash themselves. It is not the church, but the people who may be condemned. It is not the churches, but Christ who saves. Two conferences now in session have issued "manifestoes" upon the prevailing unrest. They have, however, but indirectly referred to the prevailing unbelief. As one of the people now speaking to the clergy, let me say it is you who cause the unrest, it is you who are preaching unbelief and dis-belief From Schleiermacher to Prof. Jackson, there is an ascending scale of destructive criticism that has left the world of God in disgrace as an unreliable if not absurd history of the fall and rise of the human kind.

Robertson Smith's trial was the last stand of those who believe that God's word is God's word and, therefore, above criticism. Having failed to preserve the ancient reverence for the word of God, you branch out into politics, social questions, etc. You have so far strayed from plain path trod by Jesus Christ that you presume to ignore the general principles of freedom and conduct and having lost your anchors, you are causing us all to flounder in danger of death, while you vainly catch at straws.

In twenty years, your influence, if not your numbers, will have sunk to a still lower level, but when you have reached th ebottom, the people will raise you, (God after all is not a failure), for the plain facts remain plain to them and the effort of the Redeemed in their behalf dwells gratefully and lovingly in their remembrance.

If you are still resolved to correct and to explain away a Book that you did not write, and with it the consolation of millions who rely upon its promises, and if you are determined to leave without hope those who without hope will perish, then, of course, you will so continue, but do not lay to the people that which is your own fault, your own unbelief and your own loss of faith.

Prof. Jackson's last message to those whose feelings he had outraged was, that those who did not see God was that those who did not see God in the Bible, (which he had done his best to tear in ribbons), will not see Him anywhere. Not even one ray of hope left Can you wonder at the tragedy before you? When do the Women's Assemblies meet?—J. H. Burnham, House of Commons.

GOLDEN HARVEST IN LIQUOR FINES

Windsor Police Records Show Collections Amounting to $105,500.

WINDSOR, June 12.—Windsor police court records show that since April 1, 1920, $105,500 has been collected in fines for breaches of the Ontario temperance act in the local court. In addition to this, liquor, estimated to be worth $85,000, has been confiscated by the officials here.

The fines and confiscations apply only to the seizures made and the charges laid by License Inspector Mosseau and Ontario Licensing Board officers, W. J. Connor and A. G. Sykes, and do not include the fines and seizures emanating from the activities of provincial and civil police.

The fines mentioned above are more than half as much as was collected for breaches of the O. T. A. in the entire province during last year.

A Canker Spot.

Vigorous condemnation of the scale upon which illicit sale of liquor is being conducted on the border was expressed by the Essex County W. C. T. U. in session here when it appealed in a strong resolution to the Government to curb the traffic.

The resolution declared "that this convention go on record as bitterly opposed to the manner in which the liquor law is administered in the Border Cities, realizing as we do, that it is demoralizing our citizens and stamping a canker spot on the fair escutcheon of our Dominion."

The convention also protested against the common practice of women of "the rank and file" wearing "totally inefficient and immodest" dress.

BUSINESS WORRIES CAUSE OF SUICIDE

CAYUGA, June 12.—The second suicide in two days was recorded here when the disappearance of John Warner of Kohler became known, and his body was later found in the Grand River.

Mr. Warner, who was a well-known breeder of Holstein cattle, is stated to have recently been much worried over financial matters, and this, coupled with the fact that tuberculosis had infected some of his cattle, causing the loss of a valuable animal last week, and the dread that the disease would infect the whole herd, are believed to have been the cause of his suicide.

Deceased, who was unmarried, resided with his mother, who is more than 70 years of age. He is stated to have left his home about 8 o'clock this morning and was to have gone to work on the county roads. It was his non-appearance at work that led to inquiries and later to the search which resulted in the finding of his hat on the bank of the Grand River on the farm of William Link. The body was recovered from the water about 2 p.m. A watch in his vest pocket had stopped at 9 o'clock, and this fact leads to the belief that he went direct to the river from his home.

Deceased, who was about 40 years of age, was very highly respected and very great sympathy is felt for his aged mother, who, with one brother, William Warner, of Windsor, are the only survivors.

FIRM FINED $600 FOR PROFITEERING

Other London Business Houses May Appear in Court Soon.

LONDON, June 12.—Several local business establishments may be charged with makin gexcessive profits, according to officials who are in touch with the matter. Government agents have been in this district. The first result of their work was the imposing of a $600 fine on a St. Thomas firm for making 100 per cent. on a suit of clothes. The firm refused to show him the invoice after he purchased the goods. However, his badge secured him the necessary information.

Recently the agents were in London. They are reported to have visited a number of places here. The information which they secured is likely to result in court action, according to word from reliable sources.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—Your readers may be interested in the collapse of the Inter-Church World Union and Evangelisation Movement in the U. S. The following extract from The Digest shows how impossible it is to squeeze out freedom of opinion and of action in Protestantism.—Yours, Reader.

"Failure of the 'Friendly Citizen' to subscribe his allotted quota of $40,000,000 for its current expenses, the stress of adverse criticism, and the withdrawal of the Presbyterians from the associated effort have brought the Inter-Church World Movement to what, 'in the intensity of the hour,' some have pronounced 'the most colossal collapse in the church since the days of Pentecost.

* * * * * * *

"According to acounts in the press, this campaign has yielded only $3,000,000, while the expenses of the Inter-Church plan have been nearly $8,000,000, which means that the co-operating denominations may be obliged to pay the large amounts they agreed to pay in the event that the Inter-Church failed to raise its own operating budget.

* * * * * * *

"But the real cause, as was apparent to all who faced the situation, the thing of which least was said in the open session, was the denominational spirit that from the first doomed the Movement to a limited success and threatened a complete failure."

GOVERNMENT WILL SELL RAILWAYS AT COST

If the Ontario Hydro Desires to Buy C.N.R. Subsidiaries.

OTTAWA, June 11.—If the Hydro Electric Commission of Ontario wants to secure the radial lines in the province which were taken over as subsidiaries when the Government bought the Canadian Northern it can have them at cost, so it was stated in high circles here to-day.

The lines in question are the Toronto, Niagara and St. Catharines, the Toronto Suburban ,and the Toronto Eastern.

Before going ahead with plans for Government lines, the Minister of Railways is waiting to hear from Sir Adam Beck, who, he thought, was anxious to acquire them. The department would not say to-day what the "cost" offer totals.

Its position is that if the Hydro Commission is going ahead with radial plans of its own it would be preferable to sell out these lines rather than duplicate them. The understanding would be that they would operate as feeders for the Canadian National lines.

2,000-MILE PATROL TO GET MURDERER

MOUNTED POLICE OFFICER DESCRIBES EXPERIENCES IN FROZEN WASTES.

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, June 12.—The story of a 2,000-mile patrol of frozen wastes of the Canadian hinterland, to accomplish the arrest of an Eskimo charged with the murder of two other natives, and thus bring home to the natives of the Far North respect for the law of the Big Chief in the white man's country, is told in the report to Commissioner A. B. Perry, commanding the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, by Sergt. Douglas. The man who successfully accomplished that patrol is now in Ottawa, staying temporarily at the R.C.M.P. headquarters barracks, on Victoria Street.

Sergt. Douglas left Fullerton with a detachment on 19th December, 1919, arrested his prisoner, Ou-ing-Wak, of the Padlemut tribe on 9th February, 1920, and handed his man over at Dauphin Jail, after preliminary hearing at Lepas, Manitoba, on 13th May, 1920.

The approximate mileage covered by the patrol was 2,000 miles, and practically all of this was through trackless wastes, and much of it in the face of blinding snowstorms that swept across the treeless desert of ice and snow and defied every effort of the mounted policeman and his native guides to make headway against it.

At one point in his journey, Sergt. Douglas gave his remaining supplies to Eskimos whom he found starving, and arranged relief patrols to others who, he was told, were in difficulties for want of food. On the return journey one of th police natives and the prisoner became snowblind. The wife of Ang-A-Look-You-Ak, one of the murdered men, was found living with the prisoner, and Douglas had to bring her to her own people at Fort Churchill. Ou-Ang-Wak had held the natives in the Baker Lake region in terror for a long time, so that Sergt. Douglas was unable for some days to secure guides to take him to where the accused was camped.

Twice on the two days' journey from Baker Lake to the camp of the accused, the native guides stopped and refused to go any further as they heard of the murderer's determination not to be taken alive, but through the instrumentality of Chief Ed-Jo-Ga-Jack, Douglas was able to have the prisoner brought to him when he was placed under arrest and brought out "to see the big white chief" who wanted to see him about the killing.

FINES FROM LIQUOR TRAFFIC INCREASED

Sufficient Collected to Date to Meet Whole Year's Expenses.

TORONTO, June 12. — Revenue accruing to the Province from fines and sales of confiscated liquors is on the increase, as for the seven months prior to May 31, 1920, the sum reached $254,043.26, compared with $145,181.69 for the corresponding period of the year previous. The total revenue to the Province from these sources is in excess of the total appropriation asked by the License Board and made at the late session of the Legislature for the expense of arministering the Act for the year. The appropriation was $250,000, so that the fines and proceeds from confiscated liquors from May 31, until the end of October will be so much profit to the Province. The amount paid to the Province for fines alone for the seven months ending May 31 was $209,339.44, compared with $135,234.23 for the same period of the period previous.

PRINTING Done Here

COMPARED WITH ELSEWHERE

You'd startle your tailor if, when you wanted a suit of clothes, you asked him to submit a bid in competition with a dozen other tailors.

"Why," he would say, "this is ridiculous. This man knows what kind of a suit of clothes I give him. He knows he can depend on the quality of the material, the make, the fit. He knows me, and has proved my work. Some fellow around the corner may underbid me—but what will he deliver?"

You don't buy tailoring that way. No man does. You know your tailor, you rely on him, you trust him, you give him your work just as long as he turns out good work at prices that are fair.

Do you buy your printing as intelligently? Do you make it your business TO FIND A GOOD PRINTER as you do a good tailor, and then rely on his experience, his ability and his judgment?

Men who do, get good printing. Men who buy printing here and there, wherever the price is shaved closest, are the ones who have printing worries

HAP HARRISON LEADING SWATTER

Hap Harrison's feat in poling three hits in three times at bat in Monday night's game against the C.G.E. has sent the big Thistle pitcher-first baseman up to the top of the City League batting list and he is out in front with the big average of .550 in five games. A notable feature of his hitting is that out of eleven safeties, seven were good for two bases. Harrison not only leads in the averages, but also has made more hits than any player in the League.

Chris. Bergoine, of the Canadian Woollens, made a big jump this week and is now in second place with a .500 percentage, while Cherrett of the C.G.E. and Lawrence, the Canadian Woollen catcher, are tied for third place.

Adams of the Thistles, although out of the game th is week, is still the leading run-getter.

LAD DID NOT WANT TO RETURN HOME

Charles Carey, of Kingston, Proves Too Elusive For Constable.

KINGSTON, June 11.— For over two weeks the parents and friends of Charles Carey, whose home is on Montreal street, have been searching for some trace of the lad, who has been away from his home for that time. On Monday word came from the Toronto police that they had finally located the lad and would hold him till friends arrived for him. As a member of the local police force was going to Toronto to bring down a man wanted for an offence committed at Outer Station, he was also commissioned to bring the Carey boy down. But it appears that the lad did not want to return to Kingston, for while still in the shadows of the Union station, he quietly vanished, without even saying good-bye to the Kingston officer. He is still missing, and his parents are anxious as to his whereabouts. It is stated that the lad left home rather than face punishment for a misdemeanor committed at school

CLOCK MAKERS PUT THE LOCKMAKERS ON TOBOGGAN

Lacking their usual pep, and unable to hit Herb Wolfe's good pitching at the Oval last evening, the Lock Works went down to defeat at the hands of Westclox by 9 to 3. The Commercial Leaguers put up a good game, but the Big Ben crowd got away to an early start and always maintained a safe lead. De Graw was employed at first base and he took ten chances without a slip. It was a good move by the clock makers, as De Graw's fine work told heavily against Manager Whaley's lads. Herb. Wolfe was in top form, allowing six scattered hits and restricting his opponents to not more than one run in any innings. Prosser caught well, and with the battery going strong, the remainder of the team gave their best fielding performance.

"Duke" Neary started pitching for Lock Works, but a sore arm sent him to retirement after he had sent over a strike and a ball. "Lefty" Connors succeeded him, and although he did good work his support was wobbly and he never had a chance to stop the Westclox gang.

First Innings.

Hill leading off for Lock Works grounded out Lundy to DeGraw. Neary walked, and was sent home on Black's two bagger. Guerin flew out to Ainslie and Corbett was thrown out by Lundy.

Nearly started against Westclox but retired in favor of Connors. C. Wolfe was safe when Liddell fumbled, and he stole. C. Wolfe skied to the short-stop. Shannan hit an easy one to Corbett, who without trying to make an out at first threw to Jobbitt to get Wolfe, Jobbitt dropping the ball and the run scored. Corbett took Lundy's liner. Ainslie was passed and DeGraw ended it by grounding out.

Second Innings.

Prosser was safe when Huffman muffed his fly, and he stole second. Clark singled Prosser to third and Yelland's hit completed the run. On the thrown in, the ball was blocked and Clark scored. H. Wolfe singled C. Wolfe flew out to centre and Shannan hit Yelland home. Lundy flew out to Corbett and Liddell got Ainslie at first.

Third Innings.

Shannan's fumble allowed Connors to make first. Black singled. Guerin and Corbett fanned and DeGraw grabbed Liddell's liner.

DeGraw hit but was forced by Prosser who in turn was thrown out getting into second. Clark and Yelland singled, Clark scoring when Huffman failed to grab H. Wolfe's long fly. C. Wolfe hit in Yelland and H. Wolfe. Shannan grounded out.

Fourth Innings.

Jobbitt drew a walk. Huffman singled, raising Lock Works' hopes. Jobbitt scored on Ward's out from third base. Hill tried hard but his best was a hard drive which Shannan nailed with one hand. Connors sent a weak one to the pitcher.

Jobbitt missed the third strike on Lundy, but threw him out. It was Connors' only strike-out of the game. Ainslie hit and stole and scored on DeGraw's grounder, the latter being thrown out. The short-stop threw out Prosser.

Fifth Innings.

Black was dead-headed and stole. Guerin skied to the pitcher, but Corbett hit safely. It looked like a chance for Lock Works, but Liddell hit into a double play.

Westclox failed to tally in their half. Clark was safe on Guerin's error, but Jobbitt got him at second. Yelland hit, only to be forced by H. Wolfe. C. Wolfe sent a fly to Ward.

Sixth Innings.

After the retirement of Jobbitt and Huffman, Ward hit and was safe at second when Lundy dropped a perfect throw by Prosser. The ball went back of second, Ward going to third and scoring on a wild pitch. Hill walked and Connors grounded out.

After Shannan had skied to Hill, Lundy doubled. Hill took another fly from Ainslie, but DeGraw singled scoring Lundy. Hill allowed Prosser's grass-cutter to go by Ward now playing second, threw out Clark.

Seventh Innings.

Lock Works could do nothing with Wolfe's offerings in their last chance. Black was out when the ball hit him on the third strike. Guerin fanned and Corbett ended the game with a weak grounder to the pitcher.

BRITISH WAR VETERANS IN UNITED STATES FOSTER SPORTS

ORGANIZATION OF ONE YEAR WILL HOLD FIRST ANNUAL CONVENTION IN JULY—PRINCE OF WALES A MEMBER.

HAS MANY BRANCHES

Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, June 12.—Canadian and British war veterans now residing in various parts of the United States will assemble at the Hotel Commodore, New York, during the last week in June for the first national convention of the British Great War Veterans of America, Inc. This organization, launched in July, 1919, at a meeting held in Madison Square Garden, this city, has attained rapidly to numbers and importance. The New York command alone has a membership of more than six hundred, while many other cities and towns in the United States have large and flourishing branches. The Chicago command ranks second to that of New York in numbers. Lynn, Mass., Manchester, N.H., Bridgeport, Conn., Philadelphia, Pa., and Newark, N.J., each has a big enrolment, while new applications for charters are being filed constantly.

The British Great War Veterans of America, Inc., enjoys the distinction of being officially recognized by the British Embassy at Washington. It is also proud of the fact that the Prince of Wales is a member, an active member, who duly qualified and who keeps up his dues. The announced aims of the associatioon are:

To Preserve Traditions

To foster the spirit of pride in the achievements of the Allies in the Great War; to preserve their traditions; to bring together in close fellowship the ex-service men of the British armies; to aid and re-establish in civil life those who have fought and suffered, and are now endeavoring to secure a foothold in the business world; and, to promote peace and unity between two great nations of English-speaking people.

The membership is largely made up of British and Canadian residents in the United States who enlisted in the Canadian forces and served in the Canadian uniform during the war. There is no bar to color, race or creed; but to be eligible for membership applicant must have served under the British colors and have received an honorable discharge.

The New York command, which is the largest in the organization, recently held a most successful athletic meet in which five silver cups were competed for in special events. Two of these were presented by the Canadian Government, and one each by the British consul-general at New York, the president of the association, and the president of the Canadian Club of New York. Sir Robert Borden, the British Consul-General and General Sir Arthur Currie were the patrons of the day. Club rooms have been secured, and the veterans will go in for an ambitious social program.

Officers of the Association.

The officers of the British Great War Veterans of America, are: President, Col. M. W. Sago: vice-president, W. W. S. Irwin; treasurer, T. G. Armstrong; secretary, Oliver Eastwood; directors, T. G. Armstrong, M. Childs, E. W. Whitwell, A. M. Gibson, F. C. Badgley, John Lewis, C. L. Richardson, Col. John A. Cooper, Canadian Government trade representative in New York, is chairman of the sports committee.

Lieut.-Col. Sage, president, at the beginning of the war joined the C.E.F. as captain in the 56th Battalion, later being transferred to the 177th as second in command. Subsequently he was attached to the 211th Battalion, and while in England reverted to the rank of major to go to the front. He served 18 months at the front; was wounded and returned to Canada for treatment. While in Ottawa he commanded the Signal Training Depot. He also, at one time, acted as instructor in one of the N.C.O. training schools, where 6,000 N.C.O.'s qualified for officers under his rigid training. He is an expert rifle shot and has participated in most of the Dominion matches in the past.

T. G. Armstrong, the treasurer, a native of London, Eng., enlisted in August, 1914, and was posted to the 4th Canadian Infantry Battalion. He served with his unit until 1916 when he was invalided to Canada, returning to England the following year. He was transferred to the Cameronians, promoted to a lieutenancy on the field, and later received a captain's commission. In civil life he is connected with the Manchester Ship Canal Company.

Oliver Eastwood, secretary, enlisted in August, 1914, with the 13th Canadian Infantry Battalion (Royal Highlanders of Canada). He was wounded and gassed and returned to Canada for treatment in 1916. He was invited by the United States Government to aid in the Fourth Liberty Loan drive and also did work for the American Red Cross in New York in connection with the drives of that organization. He was born in Montreal but has lived in New York for many years.

SHIELD WINNERS PLAYED A GAME

QUEEN ALEXANDRA WON FROM QUEEN MARY TEAM.

The winners of the Junior shield, the Queen Alexandra team, and the winners of the Senior shield, the Queen Mary team, clashed yesterday afternoon at Riverside park in one of the best games in the history of the Public School League. The game was put through with few errors and both pitchers did good work and some good hits were made. The infields of both teams worked splendidly and the boys socked the pill and ran the bases like professionals.

The Score.

The score at the finish stood at 9-5 in favor of the Queen Alexandra's, though the Queen Mary's made a last brave try in the last innings when they got two runs. Some of the many thrills provided by the boys was Cameron's leap over the third baseman's head, Conway's slide at third which failed, and Outram's three fine foul catches. Alex Kay made a satisfactory umpire.

The Line-Up.

The line-up was:

Queen Alexandras— F. Ash, Outram, Hamilton, Whitehouse, Baird, C. Ash, Doughty, Cameron, Ecobechon.

Queen Mary — Handill, Halliday, Mahood, Conway, Bookout, Heill, Franks and Widdess.

A CRICKET MATCH WITH LAKEFIELD

GAME WAS PLAYED AT NICHOLLS OVAL.

At Nicholls Oval yesterday afternoon the cricket match between Peterborough and Lakefield resulted in a draw during the second innings. In the first innings Peterborough's score was 59, Lakefield 30, and in the second Peterborough's score was 36 and Lakefield 35 for six wickets.

The Line-Up.

Peterborough— Dr. T. W. Young, R. M. Hamilton, Beresford and Bob Hamilton, F. M. Dela Fosse, R. N. Stuart, Heber S. Rogers, Doyle, Herbert Young and Wood.

Lakefield—G. Elmsley, Thompson, Hamilton Max and Major, Barnet, Rainey, K. MacKenzie, Barnard Max and Major, Johnson and Jack Langley.

ICELAND SOUNDS GOOD.

But Has Nothing oYu Want, Traveler Says.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Iceland is not a good place to go for a holiday trip testifies Edward I. Curry, a British manufacturer, who has just reached New York after a year spent in that country.

"In Iceland they have everything you don't want, and nothing you do want," he declared. "In the first place, its very cold there. You need a drop of something to make your blood tingle. But you can't get it often enough to produce a sufficient tingle. Its as scarce there as a psalm singer among the Hopi Indians."

TESTED POLICE EFFICIENCY BY BURGLARIZING STORE

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., June 12. — Albert A. Houghton, who while a senior at Middlebury College twice broke into a local store and each time stole a suit of clothes, was given a sentence of two to three years at hard labor in the State prison here, and then was placed on probation. The defense of the young man, who is a son of Rev. O. H. Houghton of Wallingford, was that he committed the burglaries to test the efficiency of the local police as compared with the students' army training corps at the college, of which he had command.

THE THIRD GENERATION

Upholding the Family Honor — A Gripping Society Drama.

"The story of a man who is weakened by too much luxury, and hurled back into primitive paths where he proves that he has the qualities which pushed his ancestors to the front is told by "The Third Generation," the Robertson-Cole Superior picture, which opened at the Regent Theatre on Monday, June 14th.

The central character is Alden Van Dusen, grandson of the founder of the old New York firm of Van Dusen, merchants. Alden Van Dusen has been reared in luxury, and at the time of the picture's opening finds the business which his grandfather built tottering above him. How it fell, and how he saved himself, as well as the prosperity of his family from the ruins, is told in the story.

MUSKOKA'S RECURRING APPEAL

Small wonder is it that each recurring vacation season sees added numbers turning for rest and recreation to "Nature's Wonderland" "Muskoka"; for there may be found all the elements that go to make a pleasant holiday. The clear bracing atmosphere and the sparkling waters under sunny skies serve as a welcome relief after the stifling city streets, and the healthy vigorous outdoor sports, swimming, canoeing, motorboating, golfing, etc., in such surroundings rebuild the body and enable one to return to the daily round with added zest and renewed interest in life.

Descriptive of this area, including Lakes Joseph, Rosseau, Muskoka and Sparrow, The Canadian National Railways 1920 "Muskoka" Folder tells of its beauties, and too, what is no small factor in its popularity, of its accessibility. Included also is an excellent map of the lakes named, a list of hotels and boarding houses with information as to rates and accommodation and a list of its golf courses. For free copy and information as to week end service now in effect, write General Passenger Department, Canadian National Railways, Toronto.

Southern Beefsteak Delight

The EASIFIRST way

HERE is just one of dozens of dainty luncheon dishes made more delicious by the use of EASIFIRST.

Buy a carton of EASIFIRST. Guard against using too much of it—twelve ounces go as far as sixteen of butter or lard—and the very first time you try it, you'll like it. The second time you'll like it better. After that, nothing will ever satisfy you but EASIFIRST. Its economy will appeal to you, and the cooking results will continually delight you and the family.

Here is the Way to Make it

1lb. round beefsteak — 2 cloves
½ cup strained tomato — 1 cup boiled rice
2 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons EASIFIRST
1 bay leaf — ½ teaspoon pepper

Cut steak in one inch cubes, roll in flour in which 1 teaspoon salt has been added. Melt EASIFIRST in frying pan, and when hot, brown the steak.

Have ready in a stewing pan the water, tomatoes, bay leaf, cloves and pepper. Add the steak and simmer until tender. Thicken with a little flour and some of the stock. Place on platter and garnish with hot, boiled rice.

Your grocer will supply you. Sold in cartons and tins.

GIVE THE BEST.

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.
Give love, and love to your heart will flow,
A strength in your utmost need;
Have faith and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your word and deed.
For life is the mirror of King and slave.
'Tis just what you are and do;
Then give the world the best you have
And the best will come back to you.

* * *

Why do you suppose your eyes are placed in the front of your head unless it is for the purpose of looking ahead? Since you don't ordinarily walk backward, it is more necessary to watch the ground lying before you than that which you've just passed over. It is just as true that a little foresight would save many people from the regrets of "it might have been." But if the mistake is already made, it is far better to spend your time in thinking how to avoid another than in recalling the possibilities of the first, since, though recollection may be profitable, it is powerless in itself to correct.

* * *

There is a great deal of radical prejudice against present day amusements. Of course everyone has a right to choose his own, and likewise form his opinion. But a viewpoint of ten years or more ago will not hold for to-day. Neither will the amusements of that period, because we are living, feeling, hearing, and seeing something new all the time, and must think apace. Many forms of entertainment which appear vicious from a distance become tame at close sight. Also the kind of amusement is not always so important as the particular form which that kind happens to take. In fact it is sometimes a choice of two evils—many times the less dangerous course than the denying of all recreation.

* * *

Don't dream too much about the day when your son or daughter may be Premier of Mrs. Premier of Canada, but watch the tendencies which they display in childhood. These tendencies may develop into talents equally as valuable as the notorious principle of Canadian freedom. Has your boy skillful fingers with "hurted things" and a steady nerve? Then he may be one of the great surgeons who do so much to alleviate human suffering. Or does he love to build and build, fitting his materials together with a sense of symmetry and balance? Perhaps he will some day span great cities of commerce, or influence a new era of architecture. Does your little girl worship beautiful colors and love to cut and fit? Then perhaps she will sometime be proprietress of a wonderful modiste shop, or furnish the masses with a much needed education on the art of interior decorating. Or maybe she prefers figures and riddles and is quick to go straight to the point of a matter. Possibly she will be an influential business woman, or, all in good time, even a woman member of Parliament.

But neither of them have half the chance of attainment unless such tendencies are directed and developed carefully while they are in the formative stage.

* * *

Criticism is either destructive or constructive, and is based in the two instances largely on ignorance or intelligence. It is not generous toward the effort of another to pull a thing completely to pieces because it doesn't happen to suit you. Nothing is wholly bad and the feature which makes the entire work bitter to your taste may be the unimportant part of the whole. There is usually the personal venom of a shallow mind in such a criticism.

On the other hand you have as good a chance as anyone of seeing a defect, the correction of which would be valuable. And you may see it in the one light that makes its alteration possible. Such a criticism has all the value of an exchange of ideas and viewpoints. If you would make your opinions coveted, learn to judge through a broad survey of the whole. Likewise never rend anything to pieces. It smacks of the vicious.

There is too little time for poetry in these bustling times. The exponents of this are which are met ordinarily today are largely responsible for its neglect. They forget the subtle thought of the verse in their bombastic enunciation, accompanied by the lion-like shaking of their waving manes, and the dramatic clawing of a limp bow tie. So, too, you cannot follow the continuity of thught in these "Word Spills," because the perpetrators must adopt a metre which seems to begin where it ends.

The assassination of poetry in this manner is simply criminal! The qualities of poetry are better fitted to spirit the mind away from the pressing affairs afound you, than those of prose even. Such a rest offers to your tired brain what sleep offers to the fatigued body. Everyone had better take advantage of it, and leave the master poets to mock their feeble descendents.

Michigan has just completed a study of retardation among 25,218 children in rural schools in nine counties. Of these children, 29.2 per cent. were found to be retarded, and based on the judgment of the teacher in each case over 75 per cent of these children were retarded because of frequent changes of schools and irregular attendance. These factors are operative to a high degree among the children of beet workers' families and the National Child Labor Committee's study showed that only 28 per cent of these children were in normal grades, the remaining 72 per cent. were retarded.

"If the chief argument against the work of children in the fields is its interference with education," says the writer in closing, "it is through the schools that it must be combatted. The eradication of child labor in agriculture will not come through prohibitive enactment; it must be incidental to an extension of the school term and strict enforcement of adequate compulsory attendance laws.

"If we are to keep the farm boy and girl in school we must do more than hold out a promise of increased earnings in the future. The school must again become the centre of rural life. Its work should be carried on and supervised by specially trained men and women acquainted with the conditions in the country and able to awaken the interest not only of the children but of their families as well. Farmers' organizations already recognize the value of education and are emphasizing its importance, but until the individual farmer also is converted, he must be compelled by law to send his children to school."

REMARKABLE OLD WATCH

A loan exhibition of ancient timepieces, collected by Moyed Fleisher, has just been placed in one of the U.S. museums.

Mr. Fleisher spent forty years in gathering the watches, which tell a horological story. The oldest of the collection was made in the fifteenth century.

"The first instrument for reckoning time," said Mr. Fleisher, "was the sun dial, then the candle, followed by the water clock. These led up to the mechanical contrivances with weights and springs. Watchmaking is a refinement of clockmaking, which was taken from the Chinese. The early watches were made of bronze, and were either circular or striking watches. At first they really were portable clocks .It is quite probable that the Puritans, with their prejudice against display, were responsible for concealing their watches in their pockets."

In the collection, which numbers 125 examples of the early watches, will be found those made by the Chinese, with movable figures and inclosed in oblong cases; others set in rock crystal and semi-precious stones; watches with one hand, two hands, and no hands at all; watches so heavy and bulky that it was impossible to carry them in the pocket, so they were hung about the neck with a cord or suspended from the waist or from the wrist—the original wrist watches.

There is one timepiece known as the "resurrection watch," because it was a standing figure whose outstretched arms designate the hours and minutes. Another has nine dials, two of which show the Persian calendar of twenty-nine days and the Arabic calendar of thirty days, besides others indicating the changes of the moon and astronomical phenomena. Watches that strike the hours and those with raised figures, which can be read in the dark, and others shaped after the form of musical instruments, skulls and books, testimony of the ingenuity, taste, religious and artistic feeling of the makers.

Oldest Watch Made by Blacksmith.

The oldest watch in existence, which is exhibited in this collection, was made by Peter Henlein, a Nuremburg blacksmith, along about the date when Columbus was laying his plans for his first western voyage. The watch is about two and one-third inches in diameter, one inch thick, and weighs seven ounces avoirdupois. The case is bronze gilt, and may have been produced by casting, by press die and roller die, and finally hand-tooled. The dial is of brass, sunk in the centre, in which cavity is a revolving disc with a pointed which indicates the hours engraved up to 12 and repeated on the opposite half, making the dial a day and night indicator. Outside the hour numerals are four circles, marked with minutes, fifteen to each circle. The hour indicator makes one revolution in twenty-four hours, and the double-ended minute hand one evolution in fifteen minutes. The materials of the movement are iron and steel through out, with the exception of the brass bushings of the pivot holes. The workmanship is excellent.

Henlein, the inventor of this watch, was persecuted for witchcraft, when he withdrew from his companions to work out his invention. He finally was put in prison, where his watch was perfected. After some time he retired to the convent of the Carmelites, where he was allowed to manufacture watches on condition that he give the proceeds to the order. He died in 1540, at Nuremburg, the scene of his persecutions, where a monument has been erected to him.

PRINCE INTRODUCED TO FATHER NEPTUNE

SUBMITTED TO SHAKING AND DUCKING WHEN CROSSING LINE.

From the accounts that have been telegraphed of the way in which the Prince of Wales was initiated into the company of those travellers who have "crossed the line" his rank does not seem to have brought him any softening of the full ritual. He is described as submitting to all the lathering, shaving, and ducking that is required, though Captain Marryatt, in the well-known description of the ceremony that is given in "Frank Mildmay," adds that officers escape by paying a fine in money for rum." The whole ritual dates from the days of sailing ships, and was observed by the crews of men-of-war, merchant ships, and whalers—indeed, in those days the sailor who had not crossed the line and submitted to it was not regarded as having completed his nautical education. There seems to be no particular reason for the practice beyond a natural readiness to seize an excuse for enlivening a long voyage by a very practical sort of joke. One wonders how many other heirs to Royal thrones would consent to be the victim of a "rag" of this kind.

CALL BOY GETS MORE THAN MISSIONARY

At the seventh synod of the Diocese of Algoma, opened at Sault Ste. Marie yesterday, his Grace, Archbishop Thorneloe, in dealing with the diocese's financial situation, paid especial attention to the needs of Missions. Forty-five missions in the diocese, he said, are now receiving grants aggregating $19,425 during the past three years, and a schedule of increases was proposed in the salaries of the clergy which would give deacons $80 per year, ordained priests $900 for the first year, five-year men $1,000 and second five-year men a minimum of $1,200 per year. The diocese has raised $60,000 for the Forward Movement, and he could no longer bear to see the missionaries working for the mere pittances they have been paid. "A call boy on a C.P.R. train or a shovel man on a street is in far more remunerative position to-day than the position of a missionary," the Archbishop declared.

MOST ANCIENT RACE IN WORLD

The people who occupy the mountains of Albania are regarded by ethnologists as the most ancient race in the world. E. Alexander Powell says in Scribner's Magazine that these people have held their territory so successfully in their own fashion that the customs of the land have hardly changed in 20 centuries. Until the Italians took control in 1917, the country was without law. The people, for the most part, would fail to recognize themselves under the name of Albanians, referring to themselves as "Shkupertars," and the country as "Shkuperia."

Italian plans are now under way to modernize Albania, the roads in the interior being inmpassable for anything but ox-carts. Although the mountains are believed to be rich in iron, coal, gold, lead and other minerals, no effort has ever been made to examine and estimate these natural resources. Until recently the place of settled government was taken by feuds between individuals and families.

Alexander Berkman, who was born in Russia 51 years ago, the evangelist of unrest, who attempted to assasinate Henry C. Frick during the Homestead riots of 1892, has spent 18 1-2 years of his 33 years in this country in jail. He joined forces with Emma Goldman and is among the deported Reds. Mr. Frick paid $10,000 a year to have this man watched. He is a tramp printer.

FARM TOIL RETARDS COUNTRY PUPILS

NEW YORK.—That farm work interferes seriously with school attendance and causes retardation, reacting upon school attendance in three ways—by keeping children out of school altogether, by shortening the school term, and by irregular attendance—is indicated by a study in seven States by the National Child Labor Committee in the last four years. Six hundred and seventy schools were visited and attendance data for 37,837 children gathered.

Investigations were carried on in North Carolina and Kentuck our two greatest tobacco-growing States; Colorado and Michigan, two of the three leading in sugar beet production; Alabama and Oklahoma, two of the largest cotton gowing States, and Maryland, leading in strawberry production Children were engaged not only in the cultivation of the crops mentioned, but in all kinds of general agricultural work, including plowing, planting wheat, thrashing, baling hay, filling silos, cultivating potatoes, corn and other vegetables, drying apples, herding cattle, dairying and caring for live stock.

Nearly 18,000,000 children in the United States under 15 years of age, 60.7 pe cent., live in rural communities—those having a population of fewer than 2,500. Nearly a million and a half, 10 to 15 years of age, inclusive, are employed in farm work, either wagon the home farm or "working out." In other words, about one-tenth of all the children 10 to 15 years old and about three-fourths of this age group who are working are engaged in agriculture. Obviously they are recruited largely from the 18,000,000 country dwellers. This group of workers, however, does not come under the scope of the Federal child labor law, and surprisingly little consideration has been given to its needs, says Gertrude Folks, writing in a bulletin of the Bureau of Education.

An Idea That Dies Hard.

"The old idea," she continues, "that farm labor is good for children dies hard; outdoor work conjures up visions of fresh air, sunshine, and green fields; it is easy to idealize it, to think of the country boy and girl as leading the perfect life of childhood. Dr. J. Mace Andress points out ,however, in Health Education in Rural Schools, that 'contrary to tradition and popular belief country children have been found to be as defective physically and in many cases more defective than [illegible] dren.'

"But disregarding entirely its physical effects, there is yet another sin for which rural child labor must answer; its interference with school attendance. It is well known that the percentage of illiteracy in the country is twice that in the cities, one in every ten of the rural population being classed as illiterate. It is not so widely advertised, however, that of the sixteen States having a percentage of illiteacy greater than that of the United States as a whole, fifteen have a foreign population percentage far below 14.7, that of the United States as a whole, the highest percentage in those States being 8.0, and the average 2.9.

"And even less advertised is the fact that these fifteen States include all but one of the thirteen States (all Southern agricultural States) which have a child labor percentage in excess of the average for the United States as a whole. The parallel is striking and the conclusion obvious. If rural sections, in spite of a small foreign population, have a very large percentage of illiteracy, it is apparent that country children are not being educated; and when we find that in the same regions there is a large amount of child labor which interferes seriously with school attendance it is reasonable to conclude that the work of the children is responsible in part, at least, for the lack of schooling. It cannot be attributed entirely to the inferiority of rural education, for even the poorest little red school house can train the child to write—the test of literacy.

Why They Leave School.

"In the studies of the National Child Labor Committee it was impossible to obtain data for all those not enrolled in schools, but enough instances were followed up to confirm the conclusion reached by the Juvenile Court of Weld County, Colorado, in an investigation of the schools of that county, that the reasons which cause a child to leave school are on the whole the same as those which keep them out part of the time."

The school term in the country is shorter than that in the city. In a comparison of rural and urban statistics made in 1912 the Bureau of Education reported that the average term in urban communities was 40.4 days longer than the average for rural communities. The actual difference between th eterms in city schools and country schools is even greater, for the above figures include in "rural communities" towns with a population of 2,500 or less, although the school term in such towns approximate those of the cities more nearly than those of the country regions. "This condition is usually attributed to the difficulty of raising funds in the country," says the writer, "but another factor enters in—the tendency in many rural districts to subordinate education to farm work.

"The most serious effect of farm labor, however, and the one which has been made the special point of the National Child Labor Committee's investigations, is the amount of absence which it causes. Children enter late in the fall and leave early in the spring; even during the winter months they are absent from time to time to help on the farm.

Reflected in Scholarship.

"The irregularity of the attendance of farm workers is reflected directly in thei scholarships. The State Department of Public Instruction of

DEFERS SENTENCE ON BAGLEY AGAIN

THIS MUST BE THE FINAL POSTPONEMENT, SAYS JUDGE.

Sentence on James G. Guise-Bagley for the misappropriation of funds entrusted to him was deferred by Judge Huycke this morning until Wednesday, 14th July.

This further enlargement was accepted to by Crown Attorney Hatton, and was made at the request of Mr. Basil D. Hall, who as assignee of Mr. Bagley's creditors, has a number of actions pending for the recovery of debts alleged to have been incurred by various young men for Mr. Bagley's efforts to secure military exemption for them. They are nearly all young farmers. The total number of cases was about fifty, but many of them have been settled out of Court.

Mr. Hall urged that Mr. Bagley was required as an important witness in these cases.

Judge Huycke agreed, but told Mr. Hall that they must be disposed of during the coming month.

F. D. Kerr, representing Mr. Bagley, produced a Marconigram received from a brother of Mr. Bagley in England, to the effect that there is still some hope of helping to make restitution to those persons who had placed their money under Mr. Bagley's control.

ULUG KHAN SLAIN EUROPE WAS SAVED

REVAL.—Moslem Central Asia is perspiring with excitement over the death of the Bolshevik pretender, Ulug Khan, who proclaimed himself to be a descendant of Timur th Tartar, fooled his Bolshevik backers, had a magnificent, if not precisely virtuous time, and early in March was killed, in Samarcand city, by an assassin's hand.

Ulug Khan was set up by Bolshevik propagandists as a prophet against Europe's rule in Asia. Up to last fall the Bolshevik propaganda in Asia had gone pretty badly, and the "Union for the Emancipation of the East" which sits in the Hotel Metropole at Moscow had to look round for a remedy. Commissary Gratcheff found one. Tame, tattered Bolshevism, reasoned Gratcheff has no attraction for Asiatics; in order to attract Asia, Bolshevism must do more than pledge itself to expel Europe; it must make a picturesque ar imposing, a traditionally pompous display. So in August, Gratcheff went to Central Asia with the mission of finding a good looking Moslem who could be set up as to Bolshevik prince with the design to drive the capitalistic English and French into the sea, and to establish a proletarian autocracy over Asia's thousand millions.

Pretender is Discovered.

Gratcheff discovered his pretender The pretender was a 22-year-old youth an ex-carpet trader, who had fled from Bokhara six months before with the Emir's prettiest niece. His name was Achmet. Having no treasure on earth except the Emir's niece, Achmet set up as robber chieftain in the steppe north of Tashkent city; and he made Gratcheff's acquaintance by holding up Gratcheff's train. Achmet won Gratcheff's regard. Though a Moslem, he drank vodka like the best Russ; and his horsemanship—well, he stuck sharp stakes in a broad deep pit, and jumped his horse across. And a compact was made that Achmet should claim to be ruler of Asia, and should make a holy war against English and French on the best Bolshevik lines.

A week later, the Bolshevik propaganda newspapers of Central Asia announced that a noble and princely youth named Ulug Khan was marching on Tashkent city. He was a fervent Bolshevik; and his aim was to drive out of Asia all capitalistic Europeans. Ulug, swore the Bolshevik papers, was not merely a noble and a Bolshevik; he was of the imperial blood; he was a descendant of the mighty Tamerlane; the conqueror and adorner of Samarcand, "the Pearl of the East"; and he was related to Genghis Khan who subdued half Asia and, marched to the walls of Moscow; of Baber the Mighty, who founded the Moghul dynasty in India; and of other illustrious princes of Mongol race who wrote their history in blood over a great part of the world.

Good-looking Achmet, now Ulug, played his part to perfection. Gratcheff was charmed. He put paper roubles and even real gold roubles into Ulug's purse; Ulug made royal progresses; and all over Central Asia's cotton planted cases and horse-trampled steppes, Ulug's fame spread. Poets exalted him as Ulug the Falcon. In October, in great state he re-entered Bokhara, and there not only rode through the city with the Emir's stolen iece seated on a camel beside him, but in general behaved as ruler, requisitioning some of the fattest blackest-eyed Bokhara maids. Gratcheff played a secondary role He had the title "Prince Plug's Proletarian Adviser." But his advice chiefly consisted in ladling out cash, which Ulug spent in buying swords for his Turcoman bodyguard, and jewels for his black-eyed maids.

Insisted on Enjoying Life.

Ulug's only weakness was that he would not hurry up to re-conquer his ancestor Tamerlane's dominions, and expel the capitalistic Europeans. Gratcheff's plan was that Ulug, calling himself Emperor of the East, should proceed to Herat on the Afghan frontier, and from there to Kabul, where of course Afghanistan's anti-British Ameer would welcome him. Ulug declared that the plan must be postponed till next spring; the Uzbeg chiefs who are Centra Asia's aristocrats would not, he discovered, follow him before then; and without the Uzbegs one could do nothing. Gratcheff grumbled; paid out more roubles for Ulug's magnificence, drinks, and black-eyed beauties; and decided to wait till spring.

Ulug continued to have an imperial time. Gratcheff sweated over proclamations in fifty dialects. Uzbeg, Sart, Turcoman, Kirghiz and Afghan; and Ulug, when he could spare time from his vodka and wives, signed them. They declared that Ulug was a devoted Bolshevik, who would restore equality of property all over Asia. As Ulug lived like an emperor, this meant that all men would live like emperors. But beyon signing proclaimations Ulug would not budge. At least not to Afghanistan or India. He swore that there was not the least use setting out to conquer the world for Bolshevism-in-the-Purple until he had made a triumphal entry into his ancestor's capital Samarcand—Samarcand, the Golden, he said, the Pearl of Asia, the treasure of the incomparable Conqueror Tamerlane, the Emerald among cities of the universe. Gratcheff grumbled. But it was himself, he remembered, who inventeu the doctrine that in Asia one must appeal to the imagination, and after getting the necessary roubles from the Hotel Metropole, Moscow, he agreed.

On February 10, Plug Khan, pretender to Asia and autocrat of Asia's democratically-minded proletariat entered Samarcand in imperial state. In addition to his red army which numbered 5,000 and to hise Turcoman bodyguard, he had a suite of 500 courtiers and lackeys, and immediately behind himself, mounted on asses and camels, rode about about thirty veiled ladies, all also pearls of the world. As a pious Moslem Ulug went first to the Schir-Dar mosque, and prayed, next he fed 5,000 poor of the city; and next day he went to the Mausoleum of Tamerlane, of the terrible Lame Timur the Tartar, the most ruthless and most enlightened monarch in Asia's history. Behind him came his three chief wives. Ulug's conduct on this day much enhanced his reputation. "Why has my ancestor's tomb fallen into such disrepair?" he asked the guardian threateninvly. "The Russian conquerors would not allo it to be repaired," was the answer. "They feared the Tamerlane tradition." "How much will it cost to repair?" asked Ulug. "A hundred thousand gold roubles," guessed his guardian. Ulug beckoned to him his three chief wives, tore from their necks three heavy gold necklaces studded with big emeralds, and threw them magnificently on the ground "Put the tomb in order," he commanded; and without a word more he galloped away.

Slain From Ambush.

This was the greatest day in Ulug's life. For a month afterwards he waited in Samarcand, giving different excuses to Gratcheff why he could not set out to conquer India. On March 8, Gratcheff pressed him. "I can not go," answered Ulug. "I have heard that the former Russian General Golubioff who lives in the Russian settlement west of the city has a daughter of surpassing beauty. I must first see if that report is true." Gratcheff lost his temper. He reminded Ulug that Mark Antony and other famous men had lost the dominion of the world through running after petticoats. Having never heard of Mark Antony, Ulug considered himself mortally insulted. He turned to his Turcoman followers and said imperatively "Beat that dog!" Commissary Gratcheff was badly beaten. The same evening, Ulug Khan Turcoman's raided Golubieff's house, and carried his daughter to Ulug's camp.

All next day negotiations were carried on. Gratcheff had betaken himself to Golubieff; and the common grievance united the two. Gratcheff threatened to bring down 10,000 red troops from Bokhara, and destroy Ulug, unless Ulug apologized and handed back Miss Golubieff. Ulug laughed. It was his last laugh. In the aftenoon he paid a visit to a Moslem graveyard to the north of the city. As he was riding back in the twilight a shot echoed; Ulug reeled; tumbled off his horse; and was at once trodden to death by his galloping followers. A bullet had gone through his shoulder. Who fired the shot no man discovered; and no man troubled to find out. Ulug's guardsmen believed that they were being ambushed. They rode headlong back into the city, sacked the richest houses, and next day made off into the desert from which they had come.

A NATION-WIDE FIGHT TO ESTABLISH SIX HOUR DAY

UNIONS ASSURED FULL SUPPORT OF AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOUR.

MONTREAL CONVENTION

(United Press.)

MONTREAL, June 14 (by Ralph F. Couch). — Organised labour is preparing a nation-wide fight to establish the six-hour day.

All unions opening the fight now are assured of full support of the American Federation of Labour, under the unanimous decision of the Federations annual convention in session here. The convention includes delegates from every section of the United States.

Under the labour organisation, this support may take the form of both moral and financial assistance.

The convention went on record as ready to back the fight to displace the eight-hour day with the six-hour day, in adopting the annual report of the Work Day Committee, presented by President Hays, of the International Typographical Union. Te report stated that it may be necessary to establish the six-hour day to ensure steady employment for the majority of the workers.

A shorter work day made more jobs, the committee argued. It called attention to the fate that the forty-hour week now has been established in some trades, including the garment making industry, while the 44-hour week was cited as having been recognised in many industries. The six-hour day would mean a thirty-six hour week, or perhaps a thirty-three hour week, provided the Saturday half-holiday were carried into the new proposal.

With a membership of approximately four million, the general establishment of the six-hour day would lop eight million working hours a day from American industry.

Labour leaders denied the charges of some economists that this would increase the living costs by decreasing production. The same amount of work could be done without additional cost, they declared. The shorter day, however, simply would provide jobs for more workers, according to the leaders.

THE WEATHER

The long-looked-for rain came on Saturday night ,and the good it will do the country around here cannot be estimated. Beginning gently, it gradually came down heavier, and the total was about an inch and a quarter. The last heavy rain here was on August 17. While there have been numeous minor showers, the totals each month have shown a decided shortage, the consequence being the ground had an unusual lack of moisture, and the prospects for good crops anything but bright. Let us be thankful for what we got, look for more, and trust Providence to give the needed conditions to supply the abundant yield so sorely needed. The part played by the farmer—important though it may be—is but of secondary importance, for if the weather conditions are not favorable all his efforts are in vain.—W. P.

Harding Chosen

REPUBLICAN LEADER SELECTED ON THE TENTH BALLOT.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Senator Warren G. Harding, of Marion, Ohio, was nominated for President of the United States by the Republican party represented by its delegates assembled in National Convention at the Coliseum Saturday afternoon. Calvin T. Coolidge, Governor of Massachusetts, was nominated for Vice-President.

The nomination of the Presidential candidate came on the tenth ballot. In the ninth ballot the whole trend of the convention sentiment was toward Harding. When New York, with its heavy representation, went to him on the tenth, everything was over except the shouting — and the shouting began immediately.

Was Complex Situation.

Senator Harding's nomination was the outcome of a complex situation that did not begin to clear until Friday evening. After four ineffective ballots Friday the convention had adjourned until Saturday morning. Four additional ballots in the forenoon and early afternoon of Saturday had developed Harding strength, but General Leonard Wood and Governor Frank O. Lowden had remained in the lead. A recess was taken for two hours, and during that short period combinations were formed that made Harding's nomination certain.

The real stampede of delegates to Harding began when Governor Lowden, abandoning his intention to address the convention, issued instead a formal announcement that his delegates were released from their pledges to him.

Interesting, and even thrilling, as the open proceedings in the convention were, moves behind the scenes, of which most of the convention know nothing, had their dramatic side. The nomination of the candidate for President was arranged in conferences in hotel rooms.

Sketch of Nominee.

Warren G. Harding, choice of the Republican party for the Presidency of the United States, is a native of Ohio, having been born near the village of Blooming Grove, Morrow County, of that State. He was the eldest of eight children, and his father was a country doctor. The Hardings are of Scottish stock, and his mother was descended from a Dutch family.

In his youth he worked on the farm, which was then in its pioneer era, and it is said developed qualities of leadership among those of his age. He attended the village school, later graduating from the Ohio Central College of Iberia. Like most young men of the time, his college course had interruptions while he worked to get enough money to carry him on. While at college he edited the school paper, and that taste of newspaper work gave him a life profession, although, like hundreds of other newspaper men, he taught school for a short time. Incidentally he "played a horn" in the village band, and at one stage of his career was given a third prize for musical proficiency.

About that time young Harding got the printers' ink in his nose, and he never got rid of it. He became the apprentice in the local printing office, and "learned the case" sitting on a "soap box" on top of a backless chair. Like every other country printer, he was obliged to learn all about "drum cylinder" presses, etc., and when the linotype came into use young Harding mastered it. When anybody doubts Harding's history as a printer now, he digs into his vest pocket and produces a "printer's rule" which he used in his "stick" in the old hand-set days. That rule is his "lucky piece." Even when a Senator he was occasionally in the composing-room of his newspaper, The Marion Star, helping with the "makeup."

The Star is Senator Harding's idol. He borrowed the money from his father when he bought it. According to the local historians, it wasn't much of a newspaper then. The county was Democratic, and the newspaper was not in favour with the powers that were. However, The Star threw a stronger ray of light after Harding got it, and to-day it is a prosperous paper in a prosperous city of about 30,000.

Harding became a great booster for his town, and besides his newspaper he is interested in many industries in his home city. He is a trustee of Trinity Baptist Church, of which he is a member.

Having become a power in his own city, Mr. Harding went into wider fields, starting with the State. He has twice represented the Thirteenth Senatorial District of Ohio in the State Legislature, and served one term as Lieutenant-Governor, refusing to stand for re-election. He is now nearing the close of his first term as United States Senator from Ohio.

Harding is said to be of the hot-Kinley type—"safe, sound, courageous and always ready to listen to counsel." He early advocated preparedness while others were clamouring for peace at any price. He sponsored the bill for preparedness which had the endorsement of Colonel Roosevelt, and it is said that Roosevelt regarded him as the coming man. Mr. Harding has travelled extensively in Europe to study conditions and government there, and was brought into touch with foreign affairs more while on the Committee of Foreign Relations.

PRESS COMMENT ON THE NOMINATIONS FOR PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES

Canadian Press.

LONDON, June 14. — Warren G. Harding's personality and record being virtually unknown here, the newspaper comment this morning expresses neither satisfaction nor disappointment with the Republican choice of presidental candidate.

Several newspapers refer to him as a "dark horse" and infer from the cabled reports that he represents a compromise. Two or three journals assume the result of the Chicago convention has opened the possibility of the election of a Democrat to the presidency, which of late has been regarded here as extremely improbable.

Among those taking this view are the London Times and Daily News, the latter telling the Democrats the "best card they can play is to persuade Herbert Hoover to accept their nomination in spite of everything."

The future of the League of Nations and of British-American relations are points much discussed in the light of the nomination of Mr. Harding.

The Morning Post, which is a stern opponent of the League, says "Mr. Harding is a politician, not an idealist, and may commend himself to the American people who show no marked liking for being governed by an edict from Mount Sinai," and predicts that if the Republicans win the "league will fall to the dusty stage stage of pious revolution."

SUBURBAN ROADS REPORT HAS BEEN PRESENTED TO THE CITY

ALD. WHITEHOUSE HAS OUTLINED PROPOSED WORK AND COUNTY COUNCIL WILL PROBABLY BE INFORMED OF CONFERENCE AT JUNE SESSIONS OPENING TO-MORROW.

At the June sessions of the County Council which open at the Court House to-morrow afternoon there will probably be some discussion of the road work that is in progress with a reference to the surburban roads. Ald. Whitehouse, the city's commissioner, has already reported to the City Council the result of a preliminary survey of the work that may be undertaken this year, although it is upnlikely that much of it will be completed. The city will share in the cost of improving and maintaining three miles of each of the main highways leading from the city. On the Warsaw road Ald. Whitehouse reported that there is a bridge under construction not far from the city that is only twelve feet wide. He regarded it as foolish to spend any money on the road for the reason that the bridge was more an obstacle than an accomodation to traffic.

The Surburban Road Commission also went over some of the roads in Otonabee and touched upon the scheme that has been frequently proposed by Otonabee township and the County as a whole that if the old Hunter street bridge or a new one could be built at the foot of Lock Street it would open up a new district on the south shore and in the approach to the city from the township would cut off the loop around by the locks. It is firmly believed that eventually a bridge will be erected at this point, but for the present—well, in the first place a swing bridge would be required, in the second the old Hunter Street derelict is supposed to be intended for use at London Street, and beyond this the city is becoming satiated with bridge building in the Hunter Street monument.

Coming up to Smith Township, the Commission found the Chemong Road in fairly good condition. It will have to be picked over and otherwise improved. It may surprise some of the ratepayers to know that the city is required to contribute to the cost of the Chemong Road from the boundary to the Fourth Line, the route to Lindsay. The cost of some of the work is estimated at $1,000 a mile, which is not heavy expenditure. Any stretch of three miles will cost $3,000, but the total the city may be called upon to produce is equivalent to half a mill.

APPOINT CARETAKERS OF BATHING BEACHES

Tenders for the caretaking of the bathing beaches will be received by the special committee of the Council on Tuesday night and the appointees will assume charge of the Inverlea Park and Lake street beaches on Thursday of this week. City Engineer Parsons has been requested to provide an estimate of the cost of laying a concrete bottom at Inverlea 50 feet by 20 feet, but has stated that it would be impracticable unless put down at least two feet in order to withstand the effects of winter. Arrangements are also being made for clearing both beaches of roots and stones.

THE SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC CAN BE CONTROLLED

In regard to the smallpox epidemic thre is a certain amount of it and it is impossible to control it, stated Dr. A. W McPherson to the Board of Health this morning. "Unless the people will get vaccinated there is no way to control it "It takes 12 or 14 days to develop but the people expect to be better in 2 or 3 days. The last days are the most important to watch.

The M.O.H. told how the disease spread through the ones having it not being quarantined in time and mixing with other people. They stumble on many of the cases that have never been reported through pure accident.

FIREMEN HAD A FRUITLESS CALL

Dense smoke issuing from the upper windows of the home of Malcolm H. Mackay, 343 Rubidge Steet, last night at 7.55, caused some one to ring in the alarm at the corner of Stewart and Charlotte, box 33. The fire department arrived and were preparing for a battle royal with the fire demon when it was discovered that the chimney was plugged with soot and the stove with paper. The house was filled with smoke. Windows were opened and the smoke was soon dispelled. The firemen, needless to say, were very chagrined to find they had all their excitement for nothing. The rising smoke attracted a large crowd to the scene of the fiasco from all parts of the city.

APPEAL FOR PROTECTION.

The session will continue for two days, with the probability that the bare outlines of the conclusions reached will be announced on Wednesday.

Veterans Decorate

Yesterday afternoon the graves of six members of overseas forces buried in St. Peter's Cemetery were decorated by the Great War Veterans, who marched to the cemetery headed by the G.W.V.A. Band where they were joined by Father C. J. Phelan and Rev. (Captain) Costello. The former in a few appropriate words referred to the service rendered the country and the world by Canada's overseas forces. He also referred to the men lying in Flanders whose memory would be commerated in spirit while those who returned were remembered in deed. At the conclusion of the address a bouquet and flag was placed on each grave by the Veterans. The ceremony was witnessed by a large and interested gathering.

The attendance was one of the largest that has ever assembled there and was an indication that this event is becoming established not only by the Veterans in their tribute to departed comrades but by the public, and especially the people of the Catholic churches of the city, who were present in large numbers.

The G.W.V.A. band was practically at full strength, and attracted a great deal of attention in its annual parade through the south end. Rev. Father Phelan spoke of the respect the Veterans showed for their departed and in a brief review of the expoits of the Canadian corps, referred to what the country owed to its soldiers, and to the sacrifice of the 60,000 Canadian dead in France and Flanders. The decoration Sunday drew the minds of the men and of the public back to those who had not returned and also to the service of the soldiers who had been spared to come safely home.

Father Costello recalled somewhat similar ocasions in France when the Canadian cemeteries there were visited and honours paid to the memory of the men interred there.

Decorated Monument.

Previous to marching to the Cemetery the Veterans assembled at the mounment of Captain Ewdard Brown erected in Central Park where President R. Muir of the Great War Veterans Association in addressing the assembly said in part: On November 24th, 1886, General Sir F. Middleton, Commander of the Canadian Forces unveiled this monument erected in this park as a tribute to the forces engaged in the suppression of the rebellion in the North West Territory and especially in memory of the late Captain Edward Brown, killed at Batoche while gallantly leading his troops. Continuing, President Muir told of how the 57th Regiment was called out for review and the members of Midland Company assembled on the platform of the Drill Hall. After an inspiring address by Colonel Rogers, who referred to the services the young men in whose memory the monument was being erected had given to their country, the monument was unveiled by General Middleton and the memorial and foutain formally presented to the town by Mayor James Stevenson who acknowledged the trust imposed on behalf of the town and citizens.

General Middleton then addressed the gathering and referred to the work done by Boulton's Scouts of which the Midland Company had been part. It was stated that owing to Boulton's Scouts having been thrown in between Batoche and Reil the latter's surrender was accomplished much more speedily than if the Scouts had not been there. After reading the inscription on the monument, "Pro Patria. Captain Edward Brown, Fish Creek, Batoche, 1885," President Muir said: "This memorial having been handed in trust to the town (now city) and the citizens it is well to ask how that trust has been carried out. Plainly not at all. If acceptance of the gift and its neglect in the future be all that is implied well and good. But if the feelings that prompted the acquiring of the money to erect the monument and the industry and purpose that carried out the project it all that there is to it, then we are mistaken. A trust means to care for, to cherish, to keep up and to see that the gift is appreciated. So far this has been plainly neglected. Designed to keep in the mind of the public the sacrifice and also the useful purpose of a drinking fountain for the refreshment of the thirsty, both objects have been defeated. Its condition is unseemly and surely there is nothing in its condition to create reverence and respect."

"It is understood that the Red Cross Association now purpose to erect in this Park a memorial to commerate the objects and work of the Association. In so doing it would be well to consider if the care of this monument could not be tendered to the Association that both memorials may in the future have the care they merit."

"At no time since its erection has this monument been decorated. Decoration is only an outward sign of inward and intrisible spirit. Decorating, no matter how humble, is a manifestation of appreciation and that the service is kept in mind and not forgotten. It assists in repelling indifference. Let us hope that for the future we shall have such a manifestation of the public spirit that will ensure at least once each year such a ceremony as we had to-day that will help us to remember those that have gone and what they have accomplished.

Last Post.

After a handsome wreath had been placed upon the monument the last post was sounded by Bandmaster Robinson.

Condemn Outlaws

RESOLUTION PASSED AT THE MONTREAL LABOUR CONVENTION.

(Canadian Press.)

Montreal, June 14.—Central Labor bodies who aided "Outlaw strikers" during the recent railroad strike in the United States are condemned in a resolution presented at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor here to-day by T. C. Cashem of Cleveland, in benalf of the International Switchmen's Union.

Mr. Cashem charged that a number of central bodies throughout the country had aided "switchmen belonging to an outlaw organization" during the strike by raising strike funds and furnishing them with meeting halls. He referred especially to the San Francisco central body which he said he "understood had raised a big strike fund for outlaw strikers."

ACCOMMODATION LACKING AT QUEEN MARY HOSPITAL

MEXICAN ATHLETES ON GEORGE STREET

A George street merchant claims to have a couple of employees who run and tell him every time they do anything. To these and others of their kind, he dedicated the following lines:

The best jobs do not always go
To him who pulls the longest bow—
Who to the boss will daily run
To tell him all the things he's done.
Most bosses very fully know
The kind of bull these fellows throw.

ALD. CROWE APPEARS BEFORE THE BOARD OF HEALTH AND PRESENTS PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE.

Ald. Joseph Crowe waited on the Board of Health to-day and emphasised graphically the need of better accommodation at the Queen Mary Hospital. Ald. Crowe had a four weeks' session of it in the wooden shacks up there, and his complexion still has the imprints of the disease. He evidently knew whereof he spoke.

That a separate small building for smallpox alone, with all accommodations, should be built at once was the opinion of Ald. Crowe, and Dr. McPherson corroborated the urgency of this.

Those present at th meeting were G. N. Duncan (chairman), James Lynch, Mayor McIntyre, E. F. Mason, Dr. McPherson, and C. S. Stapleton.

After hearing Ald. Crowe, the membres agreed that such a building was undoubtedly needed, but the cost was the main thing.

The chairman said they wanted to repaint the hospital, and would do it in the near future. As to a caretaker, he said that they hoped to get M. Heffernan, the old caretaker, back again.

Dr. A. W. McPherson, M.O.H., said eight years ago they had plans drawn for a small brick smallpox hospital north of the Queen Mary, but nothing was done. He favoured a tuberculosis hospital up there too.

That would be three hospitals, said Mr. James Lynch.

Yes, but the $50,000, if they voted that, would be repaid to the city in four or five years.

It doesn't require a big place. The estimate at that time was about $1,000—$1,000 won't buy anything now, added Mr. Lynch.

Yes, but it would then.

Dr. McPherson favoured having it separated from the other hospital.

MRS. HARDING'S FOREBODING

Fears Tragedy for Her Husband if He Were President

CHICAGO,—"I am content to bask in my husband's limelight," said the wife of Warren Harding, Senator from Ohio and candidate for President; "but I cannot see why any one should want to be President in the next four years. I can see but one word written over the head of my husband if he is elected, and that word is 'Tragedy.'

"As a matter of fact I would rather have him Senator than President. Being Senator and being a Senator's wife is really a wonderful life. Of course, now that he is in the race and wants to win I must want him to, but down in my heart I am sorry."

This most democratic of women says she has but one fad, her husband

"He is the most wonderful man in the world," she said. "He can differ with people without offending them. His smile, so his friends in Washington tell him, should get him anything he wants.

"I've lived with my husband for twenty-six years, and I know him. I'm not talking for effect. He is more. The only reason I want to go to the White House is because it is his wish."

THE NEW AGE.

To-day was the national Beano in a small Balkan State;
And a mighty crowd surged about the cathedral in joy and thanksgiving.
And, behold, in the front pews, aloof from the common herd,
Flashing in splendour, with swords and decorations galore,
The whole Corps Diplomatique stood up together and sang:—

"Holy, Holy, Holy, are the rights of the little nations:
Blessed is the day that beholdeth the achievement thereof!
Thrice blessed also is the right of self-determination;
Down with Machtpolitik! Away with secret diplomacy!"

So sang they, but their hearts were busy with other matters,
As each one felt in his pocket the key of his secret archives;
And contempt stirred the Great Ones as they thought what a potty little country
It is to be sure! It really should not be allowed to exist.
Nor would it, if it did not serve our purpose occasionally."

But back and blindin hatred filled the smaller representatives
And loathing for each other; as each longed for the day
When he could safely stab his neighbor in the back
And restore his frontiers to where they were in, say, the fourteenth century.

And, behold, at the wickedness and folly of it all,
The Spirit of God rose up from the altar and sent a special message to Lucifer,
Telling him he could take the whole lot gratis and without disnute.
And swiftly came the answer back, much less polite than usual—
"Thanks very much all the same, but they're mine already!"

And in the evening there were fireworks that seemed somehow symbolical.—Manchester Guardian.

NATIVES POP-EYED.

Oshawa Citizens had a Peek at Ald. Copping's Carry-All.

The Oshawa Reformer says: One of the finest cars that has ever graced the streets of Oshawa for many days, was the big McFarlin Six of Alderman Russel V. Copping of Peterboro, which was in Oshawa yesterday. The car is painted a dark red, and is one of the largest—if not the largest — motor vehicles that has eevr been in Oshawa. It is a seven passenger touring car and cost $9,000. It carries airplane wheels and the back seat draws out into a bed for the convenience of the tourists. At the last motor show in Peterboro it was the centre of attraction.—Oshawa Reformer.

BRILLIANT RESCUE.

Mrs. Grover Kerr Rescues Earl Sayer from a Watercry Grave.

What might have been a fatal drownin gaccident occurred on Sunday evening about 6 o'clock, when Master Earl Sayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Sayer, in some unaccountable manner, fell into the river in front of Mr. Sherman Scrivers' residence.

The young lad, in company with his cousin and brother, were on the wharf when the accident occurred, and their cries for help were heard by Mrs. Kerr, who was having tea at the time. She immediately ran over to the wharf, plunged into the water after the young lad, and succeeded in locating him and bringing him to shore. As the lad had gone down for the third time, it was necessary for Mrs. Kerr to dive for him.

Great credit is due Mrs. Kerr for her heroic deed. She jumped into the river with all her clothes on and succeeded in effectin ga rescue after considerable difficulty, being hampered by her wet clothes clinging to her body. Mr. Wm. Whitred and Mr. Sid Spooner helped Mrs. Kerr and the lad to the shore.

It is understood that steps will be taken to have this courageous deed brought to the attention of the Royal Humane Society and proper recognition secured for Mrs. Kerr, who at the risk of her own life succeeded in saving the life of another. Hastings Star.

OATH NOT NEEDED.

Administering the oath of allegiance was waived at Winnipeg when fifteen new members were admitted to the Manitoba bar, fourteen of whom were returned soldiers. "I consider it unnecessary to administer the oath of allegiance to these men who have served their country in battle," said Chief Justice Mathers.

OLD LONDON CHURCHES

Ninteen historic city churches in the heart of London, thirteen of them the work of Sir Christopher Wren, have been marked for destruction by a commission appointed by the Bishop of London to consider the whole question of the city churches. In seven cases it is proposed to preserve, for their architectural and historic value, the towers of the churches. In the other cases these old monuments, dating back to the seventeenth century and the Great Fire of London, would disappear.

This is the recommendation of the Bishop's commission, but already strong protests have arisen and the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings has announced that it will take every possible step in making the strongest protest.

The value of the sites of these churches is placed at nearly $8,500,000, situated as the yare in the great business centre of London, between St. Paul's and the Tower and a little to the north of that line. In addition to this enormous return from the church property the commission expects to realize an income of $120,000 a year from the benefices after setting aside $81,000 a year for the salaries of certain of the clergy concerned. For the site of a single church, that of All Hallows, Lombard Street, Barclay's Bank has offered $2,500,000, and the value of the site of St. Dunstan's-in-the-East has been estimated at $1,250,000.

Here is the list of the imperiled churches, many of which will be recalled by American tourists. Those built by Sir Christopher Wren are so designated:

All Hallows, Lombard Street....Wren
All Hallows, London Wall.
St. Botolph, Aldgate (except tower.)
Catherine Coleman, near Fenchurch Street.
Clement, Eastcheap.....Wren
Dunston, Eastcheap (except tower .....Wren
St. Magnus the Martyr, London Bridge (except tower).....Wren
St .Mary-at-Hill, Eastcheap.....Wren
St. Mary Woolnoth, Lombard Street.
St. Michael, Cornhill (except tower) .....Wren
St. Alban, Wood Street.....Wren
St. Anne and St. Agnes, Aldersgate .....Wren
St. Botolph, Aldersgate.
St. Dunstan, Fleet Street (except tower).
St. Mary, Aldermanbury.....Wren
St. Michael Royal, Queen Victoria Street (except tower).....Wren
St. Nicholas Cole Abbey, Queen Victoria Street .....Wren
St. Stephen, Coleman Street.....Wren
St. Vedast, Foster Lane except tower) .....Wren

The commission has pointed out that none of the churches is a "pre-Fire" church and six of them have been built since the time of Sir Christopher Wren. Those opposing the removal reply that each site is that of a church built before the Great Fire and many of them contain monuments older than the structures. Even where the actual church was built after the fire there are historic associations connected with the sites and the older churches which stood there For instance, it was at the old church of St. Dunstan's that the London men who fought at Crecy and Agincourt mustered before going down to take ship for France in the river near by.

The trouble with the City churches, admired as they are by all lovers of the beautiful in architecture, is, of course, the shifting of population away from what used to be the homes as well as the market of London. The rector of St. Dunstan's-in-the-East remarked that he had a Sunday population of only 150 persons with a week day population of 60,000. This movement of the city's people, combined with the enormous value of the land for business purposes, has brought the church authorities to the point of being willing to dispose of some of these famous landmarks.

True, there are not included in the list the very finest example of the Wren churches—the great architect after the fire in 1666 was instructed to make designs for the rebuilding of fifty of the eighty-nine lost in the flames. Aside from the great St. Paul's cathedral the most noted of the Wren churches from the architect's standpoint are St. Michael's, Cornhill; St. .Bride's, Fleet Street; St. Mary-le-Bow and St. Stephen's, Walbrook. No one has proposed to lay a hand upon these monuments. But there are those on the list only a little less admired, it may be for a spire or for some beautiful bit of decorative work in the interior.

The severer attitude toward the City churches, the attitude which would sacrifice them, is illustrated by E. V. Lucas, who in his "A Wanderer in London" writes:

"The city churches are many and well cared for, but their day is over. During the week we are too busy making money, or not making it, to spare time for religion, while on Sunday we are elsewhere. What do these churches here? one asks. Other gods reign here. I do not wish to suggest that there are not city men who value the opportunity which the open doors of the churches give them for a little escape from Mammon during the day, but for the most part the city church strikes one as a monument to the obsolete. It belongs so completely to the period when the merchants not only made their money in the city but lived there, too ,before Sydenham Hill and Brighton, Chislehurst and Weybridge were discovered. No one lives in the city any longer save the Lord Mayor and a few caretakers, and all the gentlemen who would once have convoyed their wives and families up the aisles into the lethargic pews are now either doing the same thing in the suburbs or evading that duty on the golf links.

"Times change; the city church remains, calm and self-possessed, offering sanctuary to any one who needs it; but one cannot believe that were they pulled down tomorrow any one would really resent it except a few simple-hearted, old-fashioned city gentlemen and an aesthetic minority writing to the papers from Kensington, while the competition for the sites on which to erect commodious and convenient business premises would be instant terrific * * *

"Comfort—ecclesiastical comfort—is the note of the city church. It reflects the mind of the comfortable citizen for whom it was built, who liked things lain but good, and though he did not want so far to misbehave as to think of religion as a cheerful topic, was still averse from Calvinistic gloom. (In St. Michael's, on .College Hill, for instance, is a notice over the door bearing the congenial promise to the congregation, Plenteousness within His Palaces). The city church, although unmistakably a temple for the worship of the God of the Old Testament, has yet a hint of the kindliness that would belong to the New if Christians would only permit it. Take, for example, St. Mary Woolnoth's, just by the Mansion House. It is light, almost gay, but, I hasten to add, without a suggestion of the gaudiness of Rome. The black woodwork and the colored walls have a pleasant effect. The pulpit is an interesting example of the cabinet-maker's art. There are seating accommodations for very few persons, and that guards against overcrowding. The heating arrangements are good. St. Botolph's, in Aldgate, at the corner of Houndsditch, is another bright and cheery little church. This has a gallery and some elaborate plaster work on the ceiling. Comfort and well-being are strongly in evidence—not to the point of decimating a golf links, of course, but comfort and well-being none the less."

MILLIONS IN GOLD SALVAGED BY SHIP

LONDON.—Equipped with special salvage apparatus that will displace 800 tons an hour of water, mud and wreckage, the British Admiralty salvage ship, Racer, has resumed the task of saving $15,000,000 in gold bullion which went down with the liner Laurentic off the north Irish coast early in 1917. In previous attempts some $2,500,000 was salvaged.

In 1919 divers and marine engineers, found that two years of incessant pounding on the ocean bottom had reduced the powerful frame of the liner to a corroding heap of debris. The decks had settled down, one upon another ,as a card house collapses. The height of the pile was some ten feet, coverng an area of some hundreds of feet.

As a result of this collapse it took two months to locate the portion of the wreckage containing the gold. In these calculations, such details as the lie of the boat's davits were noted to ascertain which was the fore and aft of the vessel. It finally was decided where the gold lay.

It then became necessary to place rings of explosive on the exposed plates and blast out a section exposing girders and more plates beneath, which, in turn, were cut through with explosives. The strong room of the vessel, 12 feet high, was found collapsed to a height of a few inches.

THE REAL LORD KITCHENER

Faithful Biography of Noted Soldier by His Secretary, Sir George Arthur.

Among the leading figures of the war Lord Kitchener stands on a lonely and unapproachable peak. It may fairly be sad that, no man achieved so much by the sheer magnetism of his personality. The war produced far greater field leaders and abler technical organizers. But Kitchener was the only man who was able to rally an army by the magic of his name. His death, at once tragic and mysterious and glorious, enhanced the dralatic and fascnating quality of his life. It removed him from the atmosphere of petty squabbles over debatable questions of strategy and organization, and gave him an assured place in the pantheon of England's heroes.

Such a career as Kitchener's insistently demands an adequate biography. Sir George Arthur's three-volume "Life of Lord Kitchener" is a very fathful and meritorious, if not inspired, piece of work. The author, who was Kitchener's secretary and who enioyed free access to private and official files and records, had a remarkable opportunity to create an immortal, life like portrait of the great soldier. It is perhaps due to circumstances rather than to his individual limitations that Sir George sometimes fails to realize the possibilites of his work.

Robbed of Human Touch.

As a natural result of his vigorous and forceful personality Lord Kitchener occasionally came into conflict with his associates; and the author is generally inclined to treat these controversies in a spirit of reticence.

The official character of the biography sometimes rob it of the unconstrained human touch that is indispensable to a sketch of a great personality And there seems little justification for devoting two volumes of the biography to Kitchener's life before the war and only one volume to the thrilling incidents of the great conflict itself.

A Delicate Boy.

Like Theodore Roosevelt, Kitchener was inclined to be delicate in boyhood; and it was feared that his constitution would never stand the strain of soldiering. However, he built up his physique so successfully that he was able to lead two campaigns under most difficult climatic conditions. He deserves most of the credit for bringing the long, harassing Boer War to a triumphant conclusion. Sir George Arthur describes in considerable detail Kitchener's work in Inda, together with his breach with Lord Curzon.

The chief interest of the biography, however, is naturally in the third volume. In view of the difficulties with which he had to cope Kitchener's record n the War Office was truly remarkable. Raising men was the easiest part of his task. On a moment's notice he was compelled to create munitions and military supplies of every description in hitherto undreamed of quantities. The Bethlehem Steel Company proved a most valuable ally in this emergency. The author tells us that Kitchener secured from Mr. Charles M. Schwab a pledge not to permit the ownership of the corporation to pass into other hands within five years. In his immediate prediction of a long war Kitchener was much more farsighted than most of his contemporaries.

On the subject of conscription Lord Kitchener seems to have preserved a very open mind. Unlike most military experts, he never committed himself definitely in favor of the principle of universal compulsory service. He seemed to consider conscription primarily a matter of expediency; and he was reluctant to have recourse to it except as a measure of last resort.

The Gallipoli Expedition.

The biography contains a good deal of interestin- material about the Gallipoli expedition. Kitchener was inclined to oppose evacuation, and only yielded to the pressing importunity of the French, who felt that Salonica offered a more promising field of operation. In response to General Ian Hamilton's gloomy warnings about the heavy losses which would be entailed by evacuation, Kitchener made a personal survey of the situation. Partly as a result of his recommendation the evacuation was accomplished without loss. He was eager to effect a new landing near Alexandretta, and even represented this move as necessary for the defense of Egypt. This suggestion, however, also met with the Fench veto.

Kitchener was a statesman as well as a soldier. His conception of the war was not limited to narrow tactical and strategc observations. As early as 1915 he pointed ou the alarming internal condition of Russa in a report to the French War Minister. He saw beneath the veneer which overlay the fundamental weakness of the Czar's empire: he indicated with remarkable insight and clarity the corruption behind the front, the ferment of revolutionary socialism, the impending industrial collapse, all the factors which led up to the catastrophe of 1917.

Sir George Arthur does not shed any new light on the circumstances of Lord Kitchener's death; but there is a strain of simple eloquence in his account of this climax to a distinguished career of patriotic service:

"By an unhappy error of judgment an unswept channel was chosen for the passage of the cruiser, and Kitchener—the secret of whose journey had been betrayed—was to fall into the machinations of England's enemies, and to die swiftly at their hands. The faithful steward must suddenly give an account of his stewardshin.

"At 5 o'clock the Hampshire steamed from the Grand Fleet to her doom; she sped forward so fast and under such stress of weather that the destroyers who formed her titular escort turned about, leaving the vessel to her fate. When the crash came—the death knell of all but some thirteen souls aboard—Kitchener was resting and reading in his cabin; he was summoned thence by the captain and was seen standing on deck looking outward, Fitzgerald faithful at his side.

"Nothing is known of what then happened to him—little indeed comes within just surmise. One thing is certain—that the brave eyes, which had faced so many dangerous passages in life, looked steadily into the face of death: one thing in God's good mercy is possible—that to those eyes, always strained to pierce the future, there was vouchsafed in the storm and in the darkness and in the death agony the vision of the eternal."

ROMANCE OF LLOYDS

Andrew Scott, Secretary of Lloyd's Register of Shipping, has prepared an interesting and instructive account of the origin of the Register, which, like its great parent instituton of Lloyd's, had its inception in the coterie of shipping men who frequented the coffee house of Edward Lloyd in the reign of Charles II.

At that time ships' lists, written by hand, were kept for the use of the frequenters of the coffee house, and were the bases of offers of marine insurance. These lists were passed from hand to hand and subsequently were put in type and circulated among the subscribers. The oldest copy of a Lloyd's Register of Shipping extant is contained in Lloyd's library and is dated 1764. In addition to the names of vessels, those of the owners and captains, the trade routes followed, the number of crew, and the date and place of construction, the Register contained a classification based upon guns carried and the excellence or indifference of the hulls.

According to Mr. Scott, further particulars were added in the column headed "guns" in the shape of notations descriptive of the vessels, such as' "Sd.'" single deck; "SdB" single deck with tier of beams; and, "3 decks." The classes assigned to the vessels were denoted by the letters A, E, I, O and U, which referred to the vessels' hulls, while the letters G, M and B (good, middling and bad), referred to the equipment. For instance, AG indicated a good ship and outfit, whereas UB would refer to a bad ship with poor equipment.

The Register came into being and was developed by the underwriters for their private use and was limited to the members of the society, practically the entire source of revenue being their subscriptions. Great secrecy was maintained at this time and in 1799 each subscriber was obliged to deliver his old book before a new one could be issued, and if lost the owner was refused another. In 1797, owing to the dissatisfaction among the members, two registers were issued, the Red Book, or Shipowners' Register, and the Green Book, or Underwriters' Register, subsequently amalgamated, and the organization and administration vested in representatives of merchants, underwriters and shipowners.

Just as the name of Lloyd's is associated with marine underwriting, Lloyd's Register of Shipping is usually synonymous with the classification of shipping and the compilation of records, permanent and transitory, in connection therewith. Lloyd's Register, however, has extended its functions until it is a mine of information on mercantile-marine questions.

The General Committee of Management now comprises seventy-five members, with local committees at Liverpool and Glasgow. An American committee of Lloyd's Register is located at New York, a French committee at Paris, a Swedish committee at Goteborg and a represntative commission at Trieste.

Mr. Scott enumerates the following as the services undertaken by Lloyd's Register of Shipping and the personnel necessary for effective execution:

"It has prepared and kept up to date detailed rules for the construction and classification, first of wooden vessels then of iron vessels, then of composite vessels, and finally of steel vessels, specifying in great detail the scaptlings of all such vessels, which have set a high standard for shipbuilders, not only in this country but all over the world.

"It has led the way in solving the very difficult problem of freeboard for all types of vessels, preparing tables of freeboard, which have formed the basis of regulations on the subject adopted in this and other countries.

"It has framed rules for the construction and classification of machinery and boilers, and has taken a leading part in the wonderful developments in marine engineering, which include the transition from the compound to the triple and quadruple expansion engine; the adoption of water-tube boilers, the adoption of turbines, and latterly of geared turbines; the adoption of internal combustion engines of different types, the great extension in the use of refrigerating and electrical machinery, and all the complicated auxiliary machinery which is found in modern vessels.

'It has organized a system whereby the whole of the steel used in the construction of vessels and machinery intended for classification in Lloyd's Register is inspected and tested by the society's surveyors at the works of steel makers the world over, including even far-off Korea, where there is a resident British surveyor.

"It has gathered together in its service a staff of ship surveyors, engineer surveyors, steel-testing surveyors, forging inspectors and electrical engineers which now number 532, of whom 282 are stationed in this country and 250 abroad, there being over 100 surveyors in the United States, upward of sixty on the Continent, thirty-one in India and the Far East, twelve in Australia, ten in South America, and seven in Africa.

As constituted at present, the organized personnel of the administrative and executive forces of Lloyd's Register consists of shipowners, assisted and advised by a large technical staff. Very useful work is done in considering or suggesting inprovements for the safety of ships, passengers and cargo. The specialty of this organization is expert testimony and opinion relating to types of vessels, methodsof construction and classification, and frequently the details of construction are left to stipulations by the Register when orders for new vessels are placed.

During the last five years the society has surveyed and classified 10,000,000 tons of new shipping. In addition to surveys during construction and examination of hulls, machinery and equipment of new vessels, periodical surveys required by the society's rules apply to approximately 9,000 vessels and 22,000,000 tons of shipping which are classified on the books of the Register.

Cost of living figures in 14 Amerian cities, obtained by the Department of Labor for December, 1919, as compared with December, 1914, put Detroit at the top of the list, with an increase of 108 per cent. Norfolk, Va., ranked second with 107 per cent. while Portland, Me., took first honors by trailing the list with a percentage of 91 1-2. Boston was next to the lowest with 92. Increases for other cities were: New York, 103; Buffalo, 102 Jacksonville, Fla., 102; Houston, Tex., 101; Chicago, 100; Baltimore, 98; Savanah, 98; Philadelphia, 96; Cleveland 95; Mobile, Ala., 94

ONE GREAT ESSENTIAL TO A WOMAN'S HEALTH IS HER NERVES

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long, instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health Is it any wonder then that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired-out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N.S., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all wh. suffer with their nerves."

PRINTING Done Here

COMPARED WITH ELSEWHERE

You'd startle your tailor if, when you wanted a suit of clothes, you asked him to submit a bid in competition with a dozen other tailors.

"Why," he would say, "this is ridiculous. This man knows what kind of a suit of clothes I give him. He knows he can depend on the quality of the material, the make, the fit. He knows me, and has proved my work. Some ellow around the corner may underbid me—but what will he deliver?"

You don't buy tailoring that way. No man does. You know your tailor you rely on him, you trust him, you give him your work just as long as he turns out good work at prices that are fair.

Do you buy your printing as intelligently? Do you make it your business TO FIND A GOOD PRINTER as you do a good tailor, and then rely on his experience, his ability and his judgment?

Men who do, get good printing. Men who buy printing here and there, wherever the price is shaved closest, are the ones who have printing worries

THE MISSING LETTERS.

The Opposition in the Dominion House is to-day making another effort to secure the publication of the now famous letters between Sir George Foster and Judge Robson concerning the resignation of the latter from his position as chairman of the Board of Commerce. This afternoon Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux was to ask for copies of all the correspondence and documents that passed between the former chairman and Sir George, who was Acting Premier at the time. The government has so far declined to produce these letters, and Hon. Mr. Lomieux's attempt is not any more likely to be successful than were earlier efforts to secure the same information. Nevertheless the Opposition in continuing to press for the release of the correspondence is living up to its responsibility and its duty to the people of the country. Undoubtedly the information that is contained in the letters would let in the light upon a number of matters that are at present a mystery—particularly in regard to the operations of the Board of Commerce and its failure to effectively cope with the high cost of living.

THE TRENT CANAL.

Of great importance to Peterborough and the district generally is the meeting here to-morrow night of representatives from the various municipalities along the Trent Canal for the purpose of organizing the Trent Waterway Association. The object of the Association will be to advertise in every way possible the advantages offered from a scenic and a power standpoint by the Trent system. It is realized that the canal will will be only of limited importance as a commercial transportation system, but the opening up of a new tourist paradise of lakes and rivers and the power that has been developed as a result of the building of the Trent waterway, have much more than justified the expenditure that has been made, and it is manifestly the duty of the municipalities situated along the Trent route to develop to the fullest extent the resources offered by the completion of the canal. It is an asset that should be used to the greatest advantage and there is no reason why this district should not become one of the most popular summer resorts in America. It is with the object of combining the energy and thought of the whole section served by the Trent system that to-morrow's meeting has been called and the formation of an Association promises to have most beneficial results.

A HAPPY THOUGHT.

It was a happy thought on the part of the Peterborough branch of the Great War Veterans' Association that in decorating the graves of soldiers who are buried in St. Peter's cemetery they should also take advantage of the opportunity to pay a tribute to the memory of Capt. E. Brown, by decorating the monument erected in Central Park to commemorate his death in action. For many years this monument has stood in the Park, neglected and practically unnoticed. Some time ago it was converted into a drinking fountain, and hundreds of citizens who have stopped there to obtain a drink of water have failed even to realize that the monument was erected as a mark of respect to the memory of a citizen who had laid down his life in defence of his country. Capt. Brown was killed at Batoche during the northwest rebellion in 1885, meeting a hero's death on the field of battle, and it is a sad commentary upon the short life of human gratitude that the monument commemorating his sacrifice should be neglected until the veterans of a much greater war over thirty years afterwards should realize the necessity of paying a tribute to the memory of a hero.

LUXURY TAX PUZZLES.

There are many features in connection with the new Budget taxation proposals that are difficult to understand and one that is in particular causing speculation and confusion is the decision of the government to go on collecting the luxury taxes as laid down on May 19 although many of these are to be amended along the lines mentioned by Sir Henry Drayton last week and in their case refunds will be in order. The amendments have not been formally introduced and until they are passed the luxury taxes as first brought down will stand, and the farce will have to be continued of collecting taxes that the Finance Minister has promised will, as far as possible, be refunded. What a pretty little problem for the merchant! He will have to go on exacting the first luxury tax until the government gets ready to pass the amendments, taking all the endless trouble of making the collections and writing out receipts for the customer, the government and himself, and all for nothing. Then will come the confusion of refunding to his customers the difference between the first announced tax and the new one, an operation that would be troublesome enough in itself and will be complicated by the fact that most people have only a hazy idea of the whole scheme and will expect a refund of all the luxury taxes they have paid since the Budget was first brought down.

Sir Henry Drayton has been unfortunate in his first Budget through the indecisive policy he has adopted. It is generally felt that he should have mapped out his scheme carefully before announcing it, and once having brought it down, should have refused to make alterations that could not fail to make confusion worse confounded.

PASSING THE BUCK.

Mr. Hicks, M.P.P., who was reported to have declared at a farmers' meeting that there were many attempts during the recent session of the Legislature to bribe the U.F.O. members to pass legislation on behalf of certain interests, now makes the statement that he was misquoted, and certainly what he says he said bears little resemblance to what some of the newspapers announced that he said. The U.F.O. whip, having made his explanation, there is no need of further demands for an inquiry into his charges.

With all due deference to Mr. Hicks, however, it must be said that many public men have a failing for saying the wrong things from the platform, and while their remarks would do only a limited amount of harm if they were confined to those who hear them, they generally get into the newspapers and cause trouble. Somehow a speech that may have appeared to be harmless when it was delivered, looks different when in the black type of the newspapers, especially when it is realized that from one end of the country to the country the statements of the speaker will be read and dissected. And when the orator begins to see that he, like the parrot, has talked too much, he seizes upon the favourite old defence—he has been "misquoted" by the reporters. Sometimes the excuse is valid, the press representatives may give an innocent remark an uintended significance, it may happen that a sentnce quoted by itself would have a different meaning if the context were given. But more often the newspapers have printed exactly what the speaker said, but dismayed at the unexpected storm that his remarks have caused, he falls back upon the ever handy alibi and blames the reporters. It has ever been thus.

THE WAR GRAVES OVERSEAS.

Some of the parents of Canadian soldiers who fell in the war have made untiring efforts to secure permission to bring home the bodies of their sons for burial here. These requests have been refused, and those who have met with this refusal feel that they have been harshly used.

The whole queston is a difficult one to deal with; it is difficult even to discuss it in the press. The view of the Canadian and British authorities is that the soldiers should rest on the battlefields where they fought and fell, in special cemeteries internationally owned and which will become historic. Here in these military cemeteries will be a silent army that will never be demobilized— French, Belgian, British, Canadian, American.

If exception were made in some cases, if some of the fallen were removed and brought home by their relatives, refusal could not be made in other cases, and if the bodies of one-third or one-half the fallen were brought back to this country, those left behind would seem to have been neglected and their relatives here would by implication seem chargeable with coldness and neglect.

It has been understood all along that the United States Government would bring home the bodies of all the Americans who fell in the war. The late Theodore Roosevelt, who lost a son, strongly protested against such action, declaring that those men who fell in defence of France and Belgium should sleep on the field of honor, side by side, and row on row with their gallant comrades. It is by no means certain that the United States will carry out its plan, but will probably maintain American cemeteries in France.

In the British Parliament a few days ago an interesting discussion took place. The War Graves Commission had refused permission to the relatives of certain officers and men the right to erect personal monuments in the military cemeteries in France. The House upheld the action of the commission on the ground that it would mar the harmony and impressiveness of these burial places if one grave, here and there, were conspicuously distinguished above those on every side of it. The view was that you cannot alter the form of any one of these graves without detracting from the restful solemnity which is the common possession of them all. The Manchester Guardian says:

"To form a really wise and really kind judgment on that question, one has to see, or vividly to imagine, one of these cemeteries as it is, with every one of several thousand graves absolutely alike except in its inscription. By virtue of this uniformity such a cemetery achieves an extraordinary symbolic value and beauty, the serried lines of equal stones filling the mind with thoughts and images of the individual's self-submission in right soldiership and of the equality of all men in death. So far as we know, there are no cemetries in the world to equal these in their consolatory power over the living and in the grandeur and dignity of their service to the dead. A place in one of them, with its noble simplicity utterly unbroken, is itself a monument as splendid as the genius of the Italian Renaissance could raise over the dead in the Campo Santo of Pisa."

The Canadian Government, in agreement with the British Government and those of the other overseas Dominions, has arranged with France and Belgium for cemeteries, which are to remain for all time sacred ground. Here men sleep with their comrades near the battlefields where they won thir victories, each grave marked by a small stone suitably inscribed—and to these places successive generations shall make pilgrimage.—Toronto Star Weekly.

POLAR BEAR HUNTING NOT MAIN INDUSTRY

Contrary to popular conception polar-bear hunting is not the principal industry in Iceland, nor is the flesh of that famed circus animal the chief article of diet of the Icelandic people. Furthermore, the people do not live in snow huts, dress entirely in furs, or go into hibernation after the first fall of snow. The schoolbooks we used to study two or three wars ago were entirely and absolutely wrong. Iceland is something more than an iceberg factory. True, there are no street cars and railroads in the island, but they are not needed. The people read the Polar Bulletin and The Evening Glow by the light of the aurora borealis; they have automobiles, motion picture shows, and the legitimate drama, and enjoy Ibsen and Bjorson; Jan and his sister go to public school and high school, and later, if he wishes, the boy may attend an agricultural college, or study medicine. In the winter it is true, the Icelanders have to sweep the snow from the front doorstep every morning and chop holes in the ice in order to swim or fish, but in the summer the weather is bland and warm, the grass grows green and flowers spring up along the wayside. It is a habitable little spot, and some of these days after the Peace Treaty is signed and Bolshevism is in its grave, Americans will awaken to the fact that this little island in the top of the Atlantic is well worth visiting as a summer resort and that it offers scenery which can well vie with some of our own. But, unlike Cuba, our neighboring "Pearl of the Antilles," Iceland is limited in the line of refreshments. Prohibition here is effective.

Recent Information About Island.

Some recent information about the island comes from Mrs. J. Jonasson, who, while she was in New York purchasing supplies for her chain of stores, was encountered and inerviewed by a reporter for The Evening Post (New York). Mrs. Jonasson informed the Post man that Reykjavik, capital of Iceland, is not a far jump behind New York and Paris in the matter of style, though of course, clothing material is rather more heavy than one ordinarily sees in better known capitals. Mrs. Jonasson is part owner of four stores, two in Reykjavik, and one each in the cities of Hafnarfjord and Isafjord. Among the things she came to buy were dry-goods, notions, crockery, confections and soap. Her interviewer writes:

When first approached, Mrs. Jonasson refused to be interviewed, but it was not long after the subject had been turned to her native land that she was discussing Iceland. Then only was it possible to edge in a question or two about hereself.

"There is nothing to operating my stores," said Mrs. Jonasson. "I am not a pioneer as a woman in trade in Iceland. Other women there have carried on their own business as long as twenty-five years ago, while I have had my shops only about fourteen years. And then I have my partner, Miss Halldorsson. She manages our stores most capably while I must be away buying. Really our success is due to her ability as a manger.

Miss Halldorsson and Mrs. Jonasson are not partners solely in business. It appears they are each adopting a boy, one of whom is nine and the other ten years old, which only goes to show that the fashion for those who can afford to rear children to adopt them is equally as popular in Iceland as in the United States.

Once Lived in Canada.

For sixteen years Miss Jonasson says, she lived in Canada before returning to Iceland fourteen years ago to enter the field of trade there. This fact may be accountable for the "very American methods" she says she uses in her business.

"Yes, I have telephones and cash registers in all the stores," she said, "and all other modern conveniences for that matter."

New York, Broadway, Fifth Avenue—they do not seem to thrill in the least. "They're all the same, always," in her opinion. And as for the theatres. . . . "We have our own theatres in Iceland," she declares, "where Icelandic performers give the plays of Ibsen and Bjorson.

"In Iceland, she continued, "there are no railways and no street cars, but there are lots of automobiles, and where they cannot go the people ride horseback."

Mrs. Jonasson said she first came to the United States to "shop" for her stores in 1916. Since then she has been back three times and has purchased everything sold over her counters from manufacturers in that country. The Icelanders like United States made goods, Mrs. Jonasson said, adding that she believes trade between the United States and the northern island should be even greater in the future than in the past.

Swimming a Great Sport.

Mrs. Jonasson is a lover of sports. Her conversation took a turn in this direction when she vouchsafed the information that swimming is one of the principal sports in Iceland.

Swimming! Bbbrrrrrr! Imagine it!

No. They do not have to push the ice cakes out of the way or cut holes through which to dive; they have hot springs—some very near to Reykjavik — Mrs. Jonasson said, where swimming is excellent.

fa:ac...hltgat....N.ihSiVPhtlmw?attio

Then, too, horseback-riding in addition to being one of the chief means of travel in the country, is also one of the main pleasures, beautiful scenery adding to the enjoyment of an afternoon's jog. In rain or sunshine, according to the visiting woman merchant, the people of Iceland ride for exercise. There are motion-picture theatres, too. There are—no, there are not any saloons, for Iceland is as dry as the United States—perhaps drier, for prohibition is effectively in effect in Iceland. She is enthusiastic about the country that is her home, the frozen island where they read the newspapers by the light of the aurora borealis.

'We have not only good grade schools and high schools," she said, in conclusion, "but an agricultural college and medical school in Reykjavik. Educational facilities are excellent. The climate? Mild—mild in Summer and actually there is only a month of heavy snow in the Winter.

Business? Oh, business in Iceland is fine."

BEGGARS WITH RICHES

The recent arrest in one of the large English cities of a beggar found to possess a fortune of $16,000 in his own name is a forcible reminder that there are to-day, and have been in the past, many wealthy paupers, if the paradox be permitted.

One readily recalls the case of the notorious Jean Baptiste Roateau, who died in a gypsy caravan outside of Paris not long since, and who had begged for a livelihood for twenty years or more. In Roateua's hand after his death the police found gripped tightly the key to a strong box in a Paris bank. This box was found to contain $100,000 in gold, notes and securities, all the property of the pseudo merchant.

Then there was Thomas Cooke, known as "the Islington miser." Cooke's life was one of penury, saving and petty trickery, and when he died he left his heirs to squabble over a fortune of more than $300,000. By the old and yet ever new trick of falling in a pretended fit in front of a house at dinner time Cooke got many meals free of cost. He would be carried into the house and then, on making his usual quick recovery, he naturally would be asked to share the meal.

Before the war there died in a Berlin garret, one Herr Schwartz, known to and pitied by his neighbors as one of the poorest of the poor. He sallied out daily into the fashionable quarters of the city garbed in filthy rags, and carrying a sack in which he collected crusts and other scraps of food. He lived and died alone, a mere bunch of bones. In his wretched quarters were found $400,000, mostly in gold concealed in jars and bottles, and in bank notes, which served as stuffing for his bed.

In a remote village in Ireland an old woman, supposed to be a pauper, was knocked down in the roadway and instantly killed. When the authorities inspected the hovel in which she lived they found it packed almost to the door with branches from trees for winter fuel, behind which they discovered two large buckets and a tin trunk filled with current coin. Searching further they came across a wooden box and some earthenware jars also containing silver and gold, so that when the money had all been collected and placed into the scales the total weight exceeded a hundred pounds.

SALARIED CLASS HIT..... HARD BY NEW BUDGET

Wives of Professional Men Must Do Without Silk Stockings.

Mrs. Nellie McClung strikes the right note when she says that the Government's new budget hits hard the salaried and professional people of the land. Important as this body of people is to the country, for it is by their service that the whole mechanism is kept going, they must pay the price as always, and be shoved farther and farther down into the realm of poverty. They are the type which appreciates good things. Their women keep up appearances by paying the price for a good dress and then wearing it for three or four seasons. Now, with the luxury tax, and with exactly the same amount of money to spend, they must be content with the cheap thing, which their less frugal, and yet slightly more affluent neighbor drags out in one season. The other two classes suffer not at all. The class which is accustomed to the cheap and shoddy may go on its cheap and shoddy way untaxed, while the family of the profiteer can pay the luxury taxwithout feeling the pinch. Is it fair?

Mrs. Nellie McClung, the noted authoress of Edmonton, practically asks this question when giving her opinion of the new taxes of the budget. She says:

The money has to be raised, of course, and personally, I can do without silk stockings and georgette blouses, but I do hope that some of the war debit could be dug out of the war profiteers and the people who boldly proclaimed that they were not "running their business for the glory of God." The new taxes will not be any hardship for those. They will simply add it to the price of their products, and let the people pay as usual. But it will bear heavily on the salaried and professional people, who are now burdened to the limit. To them it will mean a further lowering of the standards of living, and they will become more than ever the new poor. I would have liked to see the Government make drastic reductions in the tariff, and cease to protect wealthy manufacturers, sugar people and others, and show a real strength in throttling the big interests. The present budget does not aim to do this. I am disappointed. I thought a Government that felt strong enough to conscript life would be strong enough to do anything.

If any little word of mine
May make a life the brighter,
If any little song of mine
May make a heart the lighter
God help me speak the little word
And take my bit of singing,
And drop it in some lonely vale
To set the echoes ringing.

If any little love of mine
May make a life the sweeter
If any little care of mine
May make a friend's the fleeter.
If any lift of mine may ease
The burden of another
God give me love and care and strength
To help my toiling brother.

Doing nothing for others means doing worse than nothing for yourself.

* * *

The man who never praises his wife desrves a sloven and a shrew, and the man who praises a good wife too much—there is no such creature.

* * *

'Tis strange but true that men expect their sweethearts to be brilliant and ornamental and those same sweethearts, when they become wives must be practical and domestic. Mothers will have to train their daughters to be useful as well as ornamental.

* * *

Do not too free with your advice or you may make enemies for yourself. If you advise someone about a business venture and it fails he is bound to blame you. Remember that what is wisdom for you may prove folly for another.

Now that the season for flowers is with us again and we can have plenty with little or no cost, try keeping the house full of them. Have a bright bouquet in each room every day, and see if the dispositions of the members of the household do not improve. You cannot live close to natural beauty long without reflecting it in some way that is good.

* * *

Every one has his cranky day and when some member of the family has turn, all the other members should remember that last week or the week before they had their turn and they should bear with their cranky brother or sister as they hope to be borne with when their cranky day comes. Of course, when every member of the family has his cranky spell on the same day that is indeed a tragedy, and I know of no remedy but to hope for a fairer to-morow.

* * *

A great many people are selfish in their grief as well as in their joy. Often when we lose a loved one we wrap ourselves in an impenetrable curtain of gloom through which no ray of cheer can enter. Thinking not at all of the duty we owe the living, we indulge our feelings in the luxury of unrestrained grief until those who would sympathize with us become tired and disgusted. Such a grieving member of a household certainly does not give it a healthy and happy atmosphere, and during this period, you may lose the confidence and respect of some member which it has taken years to build up.

An example of unselfishness in this regard came to our attention not long ago. A married woman with children lost her mother, and they had ben devoted companions. But to go into that home a few days later, you would not have known that the shadow of death had entered, for everyone seemed as cheerful and as happy as before. In a few weeks the woman was going about with her husband just as usual. She was rather severely censored by a few who could not understand her unselfish motives. Someone said they were surprised because she had seemed to care so much for her mother. She had cared a lot and she was fighting a battle every minute of th day not to give way to her sorrow. She realised that her duty was toward her husband and children and that unrestrained grief on her part would only bring distress to those she loved most and do no one any good.

The following is one very sensible woman's reason for keeping her house homelike, rather than keeping it so that she can enjoy the distinction of being known as the best housekeeper in town. You may have read it before, but it will bear repeating:

"The mark of th little muddy feet upon the floor can be more etsily removed than the stains where the little feet go into the highway of sin. The prints of the little fingers upon the window pane cannot shut out the sunshine half so much as the shadow that darkens the mother's heart over the one who is but a name in the coming years. And if my Joe finds home a refuge from care and his greatest happiness within its four walls, he can put his boots in the rocking chair and hang his coat on the floor any day in the week. And if I stand it and he enjoys it, I cannot see that it is anybody's affair."

Her philosophy is exactly right, too. A home is not a home unless it serves the highest interests and happiness of those who belong within its four walls.

MAY BE MARKED DROP IN LUMBER PRICES SHORTLY

OTTAWA, June 12.—The opinion that there should be a more marked general modification in prices of lumber, shingles and other building material is expressed in a memorendum issued by the Board of Commerce this morning. Some dealers have made considerable reduction of building materials, it is noted, but from information collected on the subject the board is of the opinion that further decreases ought to be made.

I DON'T CARE.

(By Rell Frances in "Juvenile Fancies."

A brand new baby came to-day,
But I don't care.
I have a brother now they say,
But I don't care.
It's such a homely little snip,
The doctor brough him in his grip;
I wish he'd saved himself the trip—
But I don't care.

My mama says it's awful cute,
But I don't care.
And papa says he is a beaut,
But I don't care.
He's really such a tiny mite,
Our cat could eat it in a bite;
I hope she does this very night—
But I don't care.

Of all the fuss you ought to see,
But I don't care.
It seems that no one cares for me,
But I don't care.
If they are going to let it stay,
I won't remain another day;
I'll take my doll and run away—
But I don't care.

AMERICAN DENTALS ILL-TREATED BY REDS

MADE TO DO SCENE SHIFTING AND LOST FORTUNE OF $25,000.

LONDON.—How an American dentist, Dr. Lambie, one of the best known in the profession in Moscow, was compelled to do scene shifting by the Bolsheviists, but failed to please them, was told to an Associated Press correspondent by Robert Wale, a returned British hostage from Moscow. Wale had a fortune of £25,000 but arrived here penniless.

He says that Dr. Lambie after being arrested and imprisoned was afterward released to do some scene shifting in the Moscow theatre. In a particular play there was to be the scene of a tree struck down by lightning.

Being unaccustomed to such work, Dr. Lambie felled the tree before the lightning struck it and, in consequence of this mistake, was taken back to prison again

The United States government has taken steps to niduce the Soviet authorities at Moscow to release Americans they are holding as prisoners, among them Dr. Lambie, whose address has not been made public.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rehumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes, and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

STRAWBERRY RECIPES

Toasted Fresh Strawberry Sandwiches.

Cut as many slices of fresh bread as you need. Let them be about three-eighths of an inch in thickness. Toast lightly and quickly, one side only, under a broiler, so that the toast does not become hard. Butter slightly on toasted side and spread thickly with crushed, sweetened fresh strawberries. Place two pieces together sandwich fashion, toast the exterior quickly on both sides, cut in strips and serve hot.

Southern Strawberry Shortcake.

Sift together two and a half cupsful of flour, four teaspoonsful of baking powder, half a teaspoonful of salt and one tablespoonful of sugar. Rub in with the fingertips four level tablespoonsful of shortening and wet to a soft dough with about one cupful of chilled milk. Handle as little as possible, pat out into a flat cake and lay in the greased pan, drawing the dough slightly away from the centre so that the upper crust will bake flat. Bake in a quick oven, split and spread with softened butted. Divide a boxful and a half of berries, mashing the smaller ones and keeping about one-third of the finest fruit for the top. Add sugar to taste to the mashed berries and let stand for half an hour. Use half the crushed fruit between the split cake, place the large berries on top and dust with powdered sugar. Serve immediately with thick chilled cream and a pitcher containing the remainder of the crushed sweetened fruit. The cake should be lukewarm and the cream icy cold.

Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British Ambassador to the United States, was brought up and educated in Edinburgh and won the gold medal for anatomy at Edinburgh University. At the time of his marriage he was assistant professor at Edinburgh University. Later he became professor of anatomy at the Royal College of Surgeons, Dublin, and a year before the war he took the same position at McGill University, Montreal. His hobby has always been military tactics. He was a lieutenant in the Boer war and retained a peculiar interest in the Officers' Training Corps. In November, 1914, he went to England as major of the 17th Battalion of Northumberland Fusiliers, and later went to France, where he received a staff appointment. He was seriously injured on duty and was invalided to London, but soon continued his activities and was put in sole charge of recruiting, made brigadier-general and was then knighted. Towards the end of the war he became Minister of National Service, then president of the local Government Board and Minister of Reconstruction. Lastly, he added to his duties the office of president of the Board of Trade, and he is at present the president of the Board of Trade and Minister of Reconstruction.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

There are few more dismal sights than a fine brick house on a farm without a tree anywhere near it.

Because of the effect of an eight-hour urban day, New Jersey farmers are shortening up on their live stock holdings.

In tile drainage there are a number of things to be considered in each individual case before work is begun; however, cause and effect are the main elements.

In the unrecorded herd the good milker is supposed to make up for the bad, but why keep the latter? She eats as much food as the best, and needs the same attention.

In 1919 United States cattle imports mainly from Canada and Mexico, numbered 642,000, with a value of fifty-three million dollars, double the imports of one and two years ago.

A great many apple orchards this year are infested badly with oyster shell bark louse, due to the fact that the dormant spray was neglected pretty generally during the war years.

Even if labor is scarce an effort should be made to have at least a few flowers and flowering shrubs on the farm lawn. Beauty has a value that cannot be measured in dollars.

Experiment station experts figure that it requires at least 300 pounds of water to produce one pound dry matter in oats. The greatest growth of oats comes during midsummer when the rainfall is at its lowest and evaporation greatest. Thus, oats draw heavily on the moisture retained in the soil.

It must be borne in mind that fertilizers cannot, and will not take the place of cultivation and good seed. They are not stimulants, but are direct food materials, and, applied judiciously and economically, either to make up the deficiencies of farmyard manure or in specialized intensive farming, good results will follow.

At a sale of imported Angus cattle by Carpenter and Ross at Chicago, $169,000 was realized on 121 head, prices ranging from $275 to $4,100.

In Columbia county, N.Y., several farms are idle, with no tenants or help to be had. What little labor there was has gone on the State road at $4.50 per day.

Eastern men with experience and capital back of them are en route to Manchuria to engage in bean-growing on a large scale for export to the United States.

In Cayuga county, N.Y., dairy cows have fallen in price by ten to fifteen per cent. since the first of the year because of the number put on the market owing to labor shortage.

Pastures must be sufficiently stocked to insure thorough grazing, they must be suitably sheltered to give shade, and the occupants must not be subjected to any sort of disturbance.

Farmers in New York State cannot get help at any price. Hired men want $50 to $75 a month with room, board and washing thrown in and the hired girl on the farm has ceased to exist.

While this spring has been unusually dry in Ontario, it has been exceptionally wet in States just across the border, and seeding operations have been greatly retarded there as a consequence.

A shipment of 130 pure-bred cattle was recently made from the United States to Uruguay. Included in the shipment were 65 Shorthorns, 55 Herefords, 14 Angus and 1 Polled Durham, besides 25 new-born

It is stated that farm production in Jefferson county, N.Y., will this year be the lowest in the history of the county. Some Jefferson farmers have teams and tractors standing in the barns which they cannot get men to handle.

The Dominion Monthly Bulletin of Agriculture statistics reports that the value of Canadian dairy production increased from $146,000,000 in 1915, to $252,000,000 in 1919. The value of holdings in farm animals in Canada increased in the same time from $73,958,000 to $1,452,000.

When beginning to give a foal cow's milk do so most gradually. If it is suddenly given a full meal, indigestion and troublesome result will be sure to occur, but if given in small quantities, and often, there should be no complaints. When once accustomed to a cow's milk there will be few or no dangers in feeding more liberally.

BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Measure to Extend Franchise Gets Six Months' Hoist.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld.— Following on the strenuous campaign for woman suffrage inaugurated in this city a month ago, and extending to outlying districts, the Bill to amend the Election Act, extending the privileges of voting to women on the same conditions as men, was introduced from the Opposition side of the House by Mr. Fox, re presentative for St. John's East. It was defeated on an amendment from the Government side, giving it a six months' hoist.

The bill was on the order paper for second reading and produced a lively and at some stages, heated debate, the discussion occupying the whole of the afternoon session. A hundred ladies, in sympathy with the movement, thronged the visitors' gallery, and frequently aplauded their champion, Fox, during the course of his able speech moving second reading. Members from the Upper House also listened interestedly to the debate. Among the male visitors little interest was displayed and the sentiment was decidedly antagonistic to the measure at the present juncture.

Premier Squires and Minister of Justice Warren approved the principle of the bill, but opposed its passage this session, both asserting that the Government intended to deal with the question at the next session of the Assembly. The six months' hoist was carried on a straight party division.

Mrs. F. J. E. Harding, who has been a resident of St. Albans, Vt., since 1872, is the daughter if a veteran of Waterloo, who was one of the guard at St. Helena. She remembers the coronation of Queen Victoria, and recalls the former Emperor Wilhelm when he came as a prince to visit his aunt at Buckingham Palace. He was a fine-looking fellow, and everybody was sorry for him because of his withered arm. Mrs. Harding is now 92.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE AT ST. HELENA

The ex-Kaiser's sojourn at Amerongen and the proposal that he be sent to Curacao, naturally turns one's thoughts to the last days of that other enemy of European peace, Napoleon Bonaparte.

When the Allies entered Paris after Waterloo Napoleon surrendered himself to Captain M'Call of the Bellerophon. He was conveyed to English waters and in October of the same year (1815) was sent to St. Helena. He died on the island on the 5th of May, 1821. For six and one half years he quarrelled with the Governor, Sir Hudson Lowe; bickered with his own household, so that some were obliged to leave him; wrote—or rather dictated—his memoirs, cultivated his garden and drove about the island.

It is interesting to note that the plate used by Napoleon at St. Helena bore the French Imperial arms, and was in fact the same as has been in his service at the palace of St. Cloud. The ex-Emperor did not smoke, but solaced himself with snuff, taking it from a box presented to him by the Pope. It is said he once rebuked a priest for saying Mass while smelling of tobacco.

Britain's action in sending the former Emperor to St. Helena naturally evoked a great deal of French abuse, and much hostile criticism centred about the climate of St. Helena, which is moist and exposed to strong winds, although there is extreme of neither heat nor cold. Napoleon's own physician, however, admitted, after making an examination of the body, that the confinement there did not in any way hasten his death.

Napoleon's death was shrouded somewhat in mystery, and many malicious stories were told. The simple facts were that the ex-Emperor died from cancer in the stomach.

By his own wish, he was buried at a spot he had selected near his residence, the grave being eleven feet deep, and surrounded by three weeping willows. It was also Napoleon's desire that his own carriage, which was used for excursions through the island should be converted into a hearse to bear him to the tomb. Full military honors were accorded to him.

Back to France.

In 1840 Britain granted permission to have the remains removed to France. Shortly after midnight, on the 15th October, a commencement was made to open the grave in presence of Commissioners representing Britain and France. About nine o'clock in the morning the granite stonework having been removed, everything was ready to bring up the remains, encased in three coffins, to a tent erected alongside. They were at once opened when it was found that even after nineteen years the face of the late Emperor was easily distinguished by those who knew him in life. His uniform, orders, and hat were intact, and the body had all the appearance of having been but recently interred.

The caskets having been closed down, they were put into a massive ebony coffin, brought from France; this was locked, and the key handed to one of the Commissioners. It was nearly the end of December before the flotilla arrived off Cherbourg. A salute of 21 guns was fired when the remains first landed on French soil. Amidst much ceremony the casket was placed under the dome of the Chapel of Invalides.

In 1858 the French Government having expressed a wish to possess all the relics of Napoleon's last days, application was made to Lord Palmerston to have the funeral car, which had been brought back from St. Helena in 1829 and deposited at Woolwich, presented to the French nation.

It was found it had suffered much injury at the hands of corroding time, and by the fact that visitors had chipped off pieces as mementoes. The vehicle was, however, put in order and redecorated at the expense of Britain, and handed over to France.

WHEN IS WOMAN MOST HIGHLY HONORED BY MAN?

Is the truest expression of a man's love for a woman an offer to bestow his name and fortune upon her? It is a question which has caused considerable argument, due to a doubt raised by D. W. Griffith in his latest production for the screen, in which the hero renounces all effort to win the girl of his choice, that she may go to a man he deems more worthy of her.

In the production, "The Idol Dancer," which will be the attraction at the Allen Theatre, beginning To-day, the renunciation is one of the dramatic thrills of a love story as beautiful and as wild as the South Sea Isle on which the scenes are laid.

MADE A PLEA FOR CO-OPERATION

REV. W. E. MORROW AT PARK STREET BAPTIST CHURCH.

We are entering this new relationship, and I am very pleased to be here. I am delighted to be here, for I feel that it is only the calling of God that has brought me here, said Rev. W. E. Morrow, formerly of Bracebridge Baptist Church, who yesterday morning preached his first sermon in Park Street Baptist Church, succeeding Rev. Dugald Brown.

Rev. Mr. Morrow is a young man with a strong personality, and is a forceful and interesting speaker. The congregation of Park Street Baptist Church is to be congratulated on securing the services of Rev. Mr. Morrow.

Rev. Mr. Morrow took as his subject "Co-operation," preaching from Exodus 17. The first thought, he said, was the need for co-operation in business. Everywhere a man has made a success, it has not come alone through individual effort, but through co-operation. In the church the same was true, and in the work of God the people could not hope for success unless there was co-operation.

"But Moses' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat thereon ;and Aaron and Hur stayed by his hands, the one on the one side and the other on the other side; and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun." This was co-operation, said Mr. Morrow. Moses had led the children of Israel out of Egypt into the land of Canaan. Now he was faced by the Amalekites, a warlike tribe, and Moses felt sure that they would suffer defeat; but Moses, Aaron, and Hur took themselves to the top of the hill, and with the rod of God in his hands that Moses had smitten the rock with to get water, Moses found that when he held it up Israel prevailed, and when he let it down Amalek prevailed.

Warlike Tribe.

The Amalekites were a most warlike and powerful tribe, and while Moses' army was larger, they were unorganised, and had no means of defending themselves. The Amalekites knew they were an easy prey, and they pressed on, eager to grasp the booty that they knew was theirs. The pasture for their herds was also sought and the water that Moses had caused to flow by smiting the rock. The Israelites were almost where they wanted them ,and Moses realised that if he could do anything he could not do it alone, but only through co-operation.

It was a great responsibility for Moses, who was God's representative in leading th people. The mental strain was great, but there was also a great physical strain. He found his hands were beginning to drop, and they had to be held up till the setting of the sun. That he was unable to hold them up shows the need for co-operation.

Rev. Mr. Morrow appealed for co-operation on the part of the congregation to help him as much as was possible in his work, and for all to share in the work. A preacher's hands sometimes get heavy. If we are to succeed, it will only be through co-operation. I can't do it all myself. You can't do it all yourself—but we can do it ourselves.

So when Moses needed co-operation he got it. His arms were held up on each side. The Amalekites were defeated ,and that is the case every time. If we only get under one another's arms and hold each other up I don't care how many agencies the devil has working to undermine us, it will not affect us.

The pastor urged that co-operation replace criticism. The latter, he said, was found in every church, and he had known homes where the young people did not participate in church work, because during the course of the three meals criticism of the preacher and the work in the church formed the main topic of discussion by the parents. The minister's every action was criticised in some communities, but never a helping hand was extended to him, and he said in Peterborough he hoped that co-operation would take its place.

This three-fold co-operation then of pastor, people, and God himself will achieve great things in this church amongst these people. Let us all co-operate, and our work will be an abundant success. Will you not take the example of Aaron and Hur, and determine that at this the outset of our new relationship you will help each other and bear one another up for the advancement of God's work in this community.

Special music was rendered by the choir and several solos were well given.

AN INTERVIEW WITH C. C. NIXON, MAN. DIR. YOUNG CANADA PUBLICITY CO.

DISCUSSES THE RELATION OF MANUFACTURING CENTRES TO THE FARMING POPULATION OF THE DOMINION—THINKS THAT CITIES THE SIZE OF PETERBOROUGH HAS GREAT ADVANTAGE OVER MUCH LARGER CENTRES—IS OPPOSING THE FARMER GOVERNMENT AND FREE TRADE SENTIMENT.

Peterborough came in for some unexpected inspection and study on Saturday, and again to-day, in relation to our local industries and the part they play in our general welfare and in affording a market for the produce of the adjoining countryside and of farms in general. The city will receive some benefit out of it, too, by way f national publicity; for the inspection and inquiry was being made by Mr. Charles C. Nixon, B.S.A., editor and managing director of the Young Canada Publishing Company, publishers of Rural Canada and other journals in Toronto.

Mr. Nixon has many friends in this city, and is well known here as a former resident for six and a half years, up to seven years ago, when he was editor of one of the local farm papers and later on its advertising staff. He was president of the Peterborough Ad. Club, which flourished in 1912 and 1913, and did considerable towards advancing the interests of the city and local business houses.

The chief object of Mr. Nixon's study, as on Saturday morning, was the De Laval Separator and Dairy Supply Company, Ltd. In conversation with a reporter of The Examiner, Mr. Nixon discussed briefly the relation of representative leading manufacturing centres, such as Peterborough, to the farming population which, through ignorance, and for Farmer-party political reasons is being viciously pitted against the towns and cities and manufacturing enterprises in general. He pointed out that approximately only 20 per cent. of Canadian manufacturing, as we know it to-day, is carried with Canadian capital, 60 per cent. is represented by American capital, and 20 per cent. overseas capital, mostly English.

He asked us to stop and think what Peterborough would be as a city and as a market if all but our 20 per cent. Canadian capital withdrew from here, and other Canadian towns and cities, and went back home! He asked us to think of this fact, with emphasis, as applied not alone to any one city or to any one firm, as the De Laval Company—but to include all, and those with American capital as here locally, the Quaker Oats Company, the Vermont Marble Company, the Raybestos Company, Nashua Gum Company, Westclox Company, and others. Take these out of Peterborough, and what would be left? What would real estate be worth? What would the neighbouring and outlying farms be worth? What would farm produce sell for?

In connection with manufacturing in the smaller cities, like Peterborough, as compared with the big centres, like Montreal and Toronto, Mr. Nixon voiced his appreciation of the advantages of the conditions in favour of the smaller cities—as, for instance, applied to the case of the De Laval Company, which came here from Montreal in 1912. The land being cheaper, it is practicable to erect the modern one-storey "saw-roofed" factory buildings in place of the ten-storey structure in the crowded metropolitan centre, and thus get light and air into the buildings, all to the advantage of the workers and the firm on their expensive labour. A better class of men is available in Peterborough than in larger centres, where it takes every cent a man can earn to pay rent and meet car fare and living expenses. Here the worker usually owns his own home, or is buying it; and having a stake in the city, is a better, broader citizen, and, in consequence, a loyal and efficient workman.

As regards why the outside capital comes into Canada and into our cities, well located as Peterborough, Mr. Nixon made the point that our protective tariff attracts them in to get over the tariff wall; and, as well, our patent laws force them to come over here in order to protect the patent rights on the articles or machines they manufacture, for to protect the patents the "goods" must be made in this country.

It is three years since Mr. Nixon has last been in Peterborough; he expressed his pleasant surprise to note the many improvements and changes and new buildings that are now a part of Peterborough. Not the least was he pleased with the continued progress and improvement he noticed in The Examiner; and he assured us that from Saturday's edition alone he had obtained not only pleasure but profit, and enough valuable ideas to use in his own work to well repay him for the trip to Peterborough; he could appreciate readily, he said, why The Examiner, in this community and district, is rapidly replacing the Toronto papers, which formerly circulated to a much greater extent than now in Peterborough.

It is interesting to note that the Hon. H. C. Nixon, Provincial Secretary in the Drury Government, is the younger brother of Mr. Charles C. Nixon—in fact, is seven years his junior; and the latter is not yet 36 (nor is he married!) In politics, although publishing a farm paper, Mr. Nixon is a Conservative and is opposing the Farmer Government politically, and is offsetting the rising tide of Free Trade sentiment, which, he believes, will ruin Canadian industry and ruin Canadian farming, unless the evil of ignorance, as to what Canada needs, is offset by the good of education and exact information to take the place of the vicious and misleading and unwarranted propaganda and attacks made for the political advantage of the new farmer-politicians and to humbug the working men, who have not as yet studied our national problems in the light of what is true and broad.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH

GEORGE STREET AND ST. PAUL'S CHURCHES WILL CONBINE SERVICES DURING JULY AND AUGUST.

Arrangements have been made to hold union services during July and August between George street Methodist and St. Paul's Presbyterian church. Services will be held during July at St. Paul's in the morning and at George street in the evening, in charge of Rev. Mr. Pogue. In August they will be reversed and will be in charge of the new pastor of George street, Rev. Mr. Young. The choirs of both churches will combine for the two months. This should prove quite a popular inovation in the church life of Peterborough.

The services at George street yesterday were well atended, the pastor preaching both morning and evening. At the evening service Mr. Thomas gave the last of his sermons on Bible Mountains ,taking as his subject Mt. Hermon, the Mount of Transfiguration.

At the morning service Mr. Thomas took his text from Numbers 33:9, drawing lessons from some of the experiences of the children of Israel while wandering in the wilderness. Three days had been marked by great anxiety on the part of the leaders and the people as water, that indispensable commodity, was unavailable. Then water in abundance appeared in the distance, but it was found to be bitter and unwholesome. Therefore they called the name of that place Marah, which signified bitterness Moses cried unto the Lord and the Lord showed him a tree, which, when it was cast into the water, made it sweet. The next place reached by the Israelites was Elim, and there were twelve fountains of water and three score and ten palm trees.

The Marah and Elim of Life.

Marah and Elim suggest the checkered character of human experience. Life has its bitter waters, its sorrowful and trying times. Things which have been longed for are not always realized. How sad it is at the close of any day to sit down and think of the things we have failed to do which we had planned to accomplish. It is sadder still when those days grow into months and years and we feel that we are drinking the waters of Marah.

Temptation a Marah.

Severe temptation often proves to be a Marah in life. Some find it hard to be true to Christ. They find that this world is "not a friend to grace to help them unto God." Then there is the Marah of hereavement. There is nothing much sadder than to be separated from one's loved ones. Another Marah is apparently unappreciated and unsuccessful Christian labor. People value earthly things but often place but little value on service which has been rendered for the good of mankind.

We are thankful that life does not consist entirely of Marahs. The night of sorrow passes and the morning of rejoicing comes. Our struggles are overlooked in the sense of our victory. The shadow of bereavement is brightened by the joy of holy friendship and the sense of failure in Christian work is always subordinated in the consciousness of some achievement for the glory of God. In other words, the Marah have given way to the Elims.

"These Marahs and Elims," said Mr. Thomas, "have an important place in the purposes of God. Both Marah and Elim were stopping places in the journey of the Israelites to the land of Canaan. And so, we believe, God uses these contrasting experiences to lead us to the Canaan of noble character with all its blessedness in this life and the life beyond."

Sometimes we need to be tried, not that God might know us, but that we might know ourselves. We never know how full of faith we are until we come to a place of trial, sorrow or temptation Therefore we should be grateful for these trying times.

Prosperity and Happiness Dangerous.

There is always danger at Elim. Few can stay in a condition of prosperity and happiness without injury. But the perils of Marah are even greater as there is a tendency to resist God's discipline. Waters which were intended to be wholesome may become poisonous to the soul. It is said that Caesar once arranged for a great feast. When the day came, rain poured in torrents, thus spoiling Caesar's plans. He was so angry that he called upon his guests to take their bows and shoot their arrows up to the heavens, thinking he might harm Jupiter. Instead the arrows returned and came upon their own heads. This often, if not always, happens, when the soul murmurs against God, for we break the fellowship and communion with God.

"Where are we encamping on this Sabbath day?" concluded Mr. Thomas. "Are we in joy or in sorrow? Let us remember that we are always in life's school. God is trying to mould our characters and lead us on to better things. Let us take out of our experiences the good that God has for us, even though the way may be hard."

H. B. COWAN'S CHEESE SCHEME CRITICIZED

SECRETARY OF BROCKVILLE BOARD SAYS IT WOULD INJURE THE INDUSTRY.

KINGSTON, June 12.—That the co-operative marketing of cheese as promoted by H. B. Cowan, of Peterborough, is not practicable, and if put into effect will seriously injure the cheese industry, and ultimately deprive the factories of the benefit of the competition met with among buyers on the local boards as at present constituted, was the declaration of J. B. Wilson, secretary of the Brockville Cheese board, before the Frontenac Board.

Mr. Wilson sells over 200 boxes of cheese weekly on the Brockville Board. He showed that the scheme of co-operation as proposed by H. B. Cowan could not be successfully worked out and was bound to increase the costs of marketing, and in respect to wholesale purchasing of factory supplies and equipment, the farmers' club, that all patrons were members of already, can purchase them without organising another company to do it. He warned factory men to beware of the fads now being advocated. The price-fixing by the Government had injured the cheese business, but that was now passed ;the condenseries and milk powder factories would be only short-lived, and he predicted a splendid future if the farmers would only make full use of the local boards as they should, for it was there that they found the rivalry between the buyers that made the price.

APPEALS DISMISSED IN THE BOWLER CASE

The appeals of Albert Vass and Edith Redman from the judgments given by Judge Huycke in the County Court last January in favour of Timothy Bowler have been dismissed with costs by the Appellate division of the Supreme Court, Toronto. At the trial judgment was given Bowler against both defendants for $300 and against defendant Redman for the further sum of $148.49 with costs against both defendants. R. R. Hall for defendant Vass, G. W. Hatton for defendant Redman and G. N. Gordon for the plaintiff.

Bowler's action was to recover a Ford car and bank deposit of $228.49 from Edith Redman and also $180 representing twelve instalments of assigned pay of $15 each. He alleged that Miss Redman had promised to marry him and that before going overseas in 1918 he had given her his automoblie and transferred his bank account to her on the understanding that she was to keep them for him until he returned.

REV. FATHER CORKERY APPOINTED CURATE

SUCCEEDS REV. L. E. GORMAN AT THE CHURCH OF THE SACRED HEART,

Rev. K. A. Corkery has been appointed curate of the Church of the Sacred Heart, and Rev. J. P. Collins has been assigned to St. Peter's Cathedral by Rev. Monsignor Casey, of Lindsay, who is administrator of the diocese of Peterborough during the absence of Bishop O'Brien. Both priests were ordained at the Cathedral several weeks ago by Bishop Scollard, of Sault Ste. Marie.

Rev. Father Corkery succeeds Rev. L. E. Gorman, who, since Rev. J. V. McAuley's promotion to the pastorate of St. Martin's parish, Ennismore, has assisted Rev. J. J. O'Brien, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart.

Rev. Father Gorman is attached to the Kingston diocese, and had been temporarily transferred to Peterborough on account of the scarcity of priests which existed at that time. He is now in Tweed, in Kingston diocese, relieving Rev. Father Quinn, who is ill. Father Gorman made many friends during his stay in Peterborough, and apart from his regular duties displayed a keen interest in athletics. He was manager of the Peterborough Hockey Club and convener of the local intermediate and junior groups of the O.H.A. last winter. Father Gorman will be missed by his many friends in this city.

He is a man of careless, cheerful and humorous demeanour. His pet aversion is having his portrait taken. "I wonder you don't get Sargent or Abbey to paint your portrait," suggested a lady. "John D." smiled. "Oh, no, madam," he said. "That woul dnever do. You see, I have never yet been done in oil and I don't want to spoil the record."

ACCOMMODATION LACKING AT QUEEN MARY'S HOSPITAL

The question is to get the money, said Mr. Lynch. Everybody's kicking about spending money.

Everybody's got money, replied Dr. McPherson. All we want is a simple building suitable for the accommodation of the smallpox patients, with heat, light, and drainage. If you like I would move that in the opinion of this Board a smallpox hospital is urgently needed. We would recommend to the Council that action be taken in this matter at once.

The motion was adopted, and Ald. Crowe said he would tell the Council if they need.

It is only necessary for the aldermen to go up and see the conditions there, said the chairman.

"In regard to the painting and repairs up there, we should have a motion."

The M. O. H. moved that the chairman prepare specifications for painting, and that tenders be asked by the Mayor and chairman.

Mr. Lynch seconded the motion.

Mr uncan Duncan said the painting was needed. Two coats would do it.

LETTER FROM MR. J. H. BURNHAM

The following letter, referring to the Trent Waterway Development Association, was received this morning by Mr. Edgar Worth, President of the Board of Trade:

My Dear Sir,—Will you permit me to say how pleased I am with the meeting to be held on Tuesday evening for the revival of the T. W. D. Association. This Association, with headquarters at Peterborough, and working in conjunction with the Peterborough Board of Trade, had for several years a very active membership of over five hundred of the active supporters of the project along the whole route of the canal.

It was due to it that Hon. Israel Tate, a most far-sighted statesman, took the matter up and pushed it on so far that no government could afterwards fail to complete it.

Are you aware British engineers recommended the building of this canal in 1839 for strategic reasons. As these reasons ceased gradually to exist, the canal, after the construction of a few locks, lay dormant for many years. Then lumbermen who had no more logs to cut, revived the scheme in order to sell their mills sites to the government. When this had been accomplished, construction lapsed again, exc, so far as political exigencies demanded, until the Association got Mr. Tate to go on with it.

It is now of course for us all to show that it is of value, and not merely a burden on the country. It is interesting to note that as time goes on and the country grows, we are leaving behind the grab-what-you-can style of politics, otherwise known as village politics, for something worthy of our destiny and of the Empire.

Believe me,
Yours truly,
J. H. BURNHAM.

A RETURNED EMPLOYEE VOLUNTEERED HIS VIEWS ON CANADIAN GENERAL STRIKE

An Examiner reporter interviewed an employee of the Canadian General Electric Co., who has gone back to work, in order to ascertain his views of the company and its employees who have not yet gone back to work.

The reporter asked, "Why did you go back to work?" The employee said, "To start on I cannot afford to remain idle, and in the next place, I feel that the majority of the men have very little to complain about their pay or the treatment they are receiving from the company."

"What is the real cause of the trouble?" asked the reporter. The employee answered, "That is a long story. You know as a matter of fact it takes a long course of training for a man to become proficient as a doctor, lawyer, machinist, carpenter, mason or to become a skilled and proficient workman. A man may be able to run a machine, but is really not entitled to a machinist's wages because he has not served his time to become a qualified machinist. Why should he get as much pay as a qualified machinist? There is the trouble. If he goes back to work he is called a 'scab.' Scab or no scab, I have gone back to work because I have got to support my own family."

The reporter asked, "Who is advising the continuation of this strike?"

The employee answered, "We have any number of advisers, but most of our advisers have some axe to grind. We would have been back at work long ago if it were not for outside interference. Some of the members of the City Council have certainly given us bad advice when they advised us to continue this strike. I do not like to mention names, but I might just say that if Alderman Conciliator had not intervened in the matter the men would have been at work long ago."

"As a matter of fact," asked the reporter, "is the company treating the men fairly??"

The employee answered, "The Canadian General has a very large business, and can only do business on business principles. In order to get skilled mechanics it must pay the men what they are worth. The company has made an honest effort to do that in the past, and I have no reason to doubt that they will do so in the future. So far as I am concerned I have been always well treated by the company, and have been paid what my services are really worth in the open market. I do not require the advice of any of the City Aldermen to tell me that I can afford to remain idle, even if some members of the City Council shout 'Scab! Scab! Scab!' when it does not cost them anything."

LODGES ATTEND TRINITY CHURCH

COURT CHEMONG AND CAMP SHERWOOD TURNED OUT YESTERDAY.

Court Chemong No. 530, I.O.F., and Camp Sherwood No. 50, W.O.W., attended divine worship in Trinity church last evening, the two branches marching together to church headed by the Salvation Army Band, and occupied the centre front of the building. The former was marshalled by Bro. F. Oxley and the latter by Bro. R. Waram.

The Sermon.

Rev. F. E. Malott preached an inspiring sermon based upon the text Prov. 18, 24: "He that maketh many friends doeth it to his own destruction."

On the other hand, the speaker said, Dr. Johnson says if a man does not make new friends as he passes through life he will soon find himself left alone. A man should keep his friendships in constant repair. After dealing with friendship from a purely utilitarian standpoint, the speaker spoke on the question on a higher plane. First, he said, the first fruit of friendship is the satisfaction and relief to the heart. Even the most self contained men, the speaker pointed out, feel the need of one or two intimates. Jesus Christ felt their human need.

The second fruit of friendship is the satisfaction that it affords the mind. Our greatest need is encouragement and it is marvellous what it can do coming from a friend.

Another Fruit.

But, the speaker continued, there is another fruit of friendship, the direct help it gives in those periods of our lives when we need it. In this connection Mr. Malott pointed out the fortifying force it is in saving us from despondency and failure; also that comradeship is one of the strongest forces in life.

History, the speaker said, gives us many noble examples of exalted and purifying friendships, for example David and Jonathan, the latter called the Prince of Friends. Another classic example lies in Damon and Pythias.

Fraternal Societies.

Now, Mr. Malott continued, I am addressing men who belong to two fraternal societies that emphasize the practical value of friendship. You invite to join your order only men whom you think are worthy of exalted friendship, and as men, within the walls of your lodge rooms. They frequently form new and helpful friendships. The teachings of your order inculcate those principles that adorn character and make men worthy of friendship.

Let me say that my text has one word more that we should all carry away. "There is a Friend that sticketh closer than a brother. We may have His frinedship if we may have no other, and however many friends we may have we still need Him. As we know Him and love Him and make Him our friend, we shall be better fitted to perform the tasks life lays before us.

Vote of Thanks.

On returning to the Lodge Rooms, George street, a hearty and unanimous vote of thanks was passed to Rev. Mr. Malott for the inspiring address; to the choir of Trinity for the splendid music; and to the church management for their kind reception to the lodges. Eloquent speeches were made by the members of both Orders.

The Committees.

The committees who managed the annual church parade yesterday were Brother Oxley, Brother J. W. Buyers, and Brother O. E. Grose of the Independent Order of Foresters and Brother A. Graham, Brother A. Haskill and Bother R. Carr, of the Woodmen of the World.

A representation of ladies from both lodges took part in the Parade.

HAMILTON WOMAN GIVES TESTIMONY

SAYS SHE IS GLAD TO TELL OTHERS HOW WONDERFULLY TANLAC BUILT HER UP.

It is not what the manufacturers claim for it, but the testimony of the millions who have used it that has made Tanlac the most famous medicine in the world. Those who once try it invariably buy it over and over again, and tell their friends of the splendid results they have derived from its use. One of the latest to voluntarily come forward and testify to the wonderful good Tanlac has done her is Mrs. Magnus Rattrey, of 26 Gordon Street, Hamilton, Ont., who made the following statement:

"For several years I have been in a general run-down condition, due to indigestion and stomach trouble. After eating I used to have severe pains in the pit of my stomach, and had to be very careful what I ate. I was continually constipated, and had the most dreadful headaches that drove me almost to distraction. Spells of weakness and dizziness would come over me when I would simply have to lie down until they were past. My nerves were so badly unstrung that even the slightest thing would upset me, and at night I was continually waking up with a start. At last I got so bad that I was really feeling desperate over my condition.

"It was my husband who persuaded me to try Tanlac. He had been following the statements in the papers, and he was convinced that it was just the medicine I needed. And he was quite right, for Tanlac has done me more good than anything else I ever tried. By the time I had taken the second bottle I began to notice a big change in my condition. My appetite began to pick up, and in a short time I could eat anything I wanted and enjoy it, too. My digestion improved right along, the headaches and dizzy spells disappeared, my nerves got steady and strong, and I began to sleep well at night. I rapidly improved in every way until to-day I am feeling just fine. I've told lots of my friends about what a wonderful medicine Tanlac it, for I cannot keep the good news to myself."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd., in Fowlers' Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

PETERBORO MEN TO REPRESENT BIG U.S. FARM SELLING AGENCY

Representatives of the E. A. Strout Farm Agency, with headquarters at New York, have been in the city during the past few days, and while here have appointed as representatives of the agency for the Peterborough district Messrs. M. H. Quinlan and Jos. O'Reilly.

The Strout Farm Agency is the biggest farm selling organisation in the world, having at the present time over five hundred branches in different parts of the United States and Canada, with offices in leading cities. Realising the extent of the immigration which is likely to bring thousands of Americans to Canada looking for land in this country during the next few years, the Strout Agency is now organising the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific on the same scale and under the same thorough system that last year enabled this agency to sell farms to the value of $20,000,000 in different parts of the American continent. Recognising also the possibilities of an influx from the British Isles, the Strout Agency is now arranging for the opening of headquarters at London, England, from which Old Country agriculturists with capital will be directed to America. The British and U. S. branches, operating in conjunction with branch offices and live representatives in this and virtually every other section of Canada, promise to assist in placing thousands upon the land in Canada, a large number of whom will undoubtedly find their way to Peterborough County through the efforts of Messrs. Quinlan & O'Reilly, backed by the most perfect and far-reaching farm selling agency in the world.

As a result of this arrangement, there is likely to be created through the instrumentality of the Strout Farm Agency a much greater demand for Peterborough farm lands than has ever been the case in the past, this big organisation having on its lists hundreds of prospective farm purchasers who are awaiting the opportunity to be put in touch with good farm bargains in this and other choice agricultural sections of Canada.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT MARK STREET

TWO INSPIRING ADDRESSES—THE MUSIC.

As usual, the congregations at Mark street yesterday were good, and the music was a credit indeed. Rev. G. E. Ross preached morning and evening.

The subject of the morning sermon was, "Stirring the Eagle's Nest," and was based on a passage of Scripture found in Deut.. xxxii:11. The following thoughts were presented:

First—As the Boabab, the Sequoia, or the majestic Cedar is among trees, the gorgeous Cactus among flowering plants, or the mighty lion of Numidia among wild beasts, so is the eagle among the feathered tribes. He builds his nest sometimes a yard square, but he does not build in the grass or marsh land, but away on the crags of mountain-peaks, for this great bird is a companion of the sun, a creature of the skies, driving with mighty wing in the very teeth of the tempest.

Second—It is in this airy nest far up above the mists and smoke and din of earth's activities that the eagle brings out her eaglets. Here she entices them from the nest, and teaches them to fly. They cannot and will not remain in the nest, if they did they would die. So it is with the human family and the home nest. Like the eaglets, we cling to the edge of the dear old home, but we must leave it and try our wings. How oft has mother hovered over us with her sheltering wings of love. She taught us to fly upward toward God and heaven, for our soul was made for the heights It is a pathetic sight to see a mother pack the trunk of the oldest boy as he prepares to leave the home nest. Many a tear falls down among the clothes of her precious boy.

Third—In the spiritual realm it is much the same. Aow we nestle down to-day in the church of God and find ourselves at ease in Zion. We have feathered the nest with money and social position and indifference, and we settle down. Yes, and woe to the man or woman, or even the preacher, who dares to stir our cozy, downy, comfortable nest. But God will stir it up, and by disease, or adversity, or temporal loss, or the death of some loved one, He will give that nest of yours a wonderful jolt some of these days, and in the quiet hour you will thank Him that He showed His mercy before it was too late.

Fourth—Beware of secret sin. A shepherd saw an eagle soar away from a rock. Shortly afterwards the bird made strange and eccentric movements in the air, drooped one wing, then the other, and fell to the ground. On examination it was found that a small serpent had fastened itself under the bird's wing, then pierced its deadly fangs into the eagle's heart. Oh, heaven-bound soul, it is thy privilege to fly in company with thy God.

Evening Service.

The evening subject was "Conquerors of the Sea of Glass."

First—It is a sea of glass, its waves are forever quiet. Once it was a fiery flood, but now it is a peaceful sea. It means peace. Glass mingled with fire means peace in the midst of persecution.

Second — The mighty multitude stands on the sea. All trials, and persecutions beneath their feet. They have conquered the beast, or the great forces of evil. The name of their God is written in their foreheads. We can find men and women to-day who have the name of the Master they serve written in their very face.

Third—These conquerors of evil have the harps of God and sing a new song. The songs of earth are often cut in two by death or calamity, but the new song shall never end."

COST OF BREAD.

Board of Commerce Issues Its Regular Report.

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, June 14.—The Board of Commerce of Canada has issued its regular report on production and cost of bread for the Dominion covering the month of April.

Tables of costs show an average increase of ten cents per barrel of flour as compared with the previous month, the average price of flour used in March being $11.94, against $12.04 in April. This increased cost of flour in April works out practically an average increase of one-tenth of one cent per pound of bread, the cost of the latter being eight cents, bringing the cost of one and a half-pound loaf to twelve cents as the average cost for the Dominion.

Privy Council Will Be Asked to Take Up Case.

Canadian Press:

WINNIPEG, June 14.—News was received in the city yesterday, indicating that the Privy Council will, on June 25th, take up consideration of appeal in the case of R. B. Russell, Winnipeg strike leader, now serving a sentence of two years in the penitentiary. A message came from W. H. Trueman, K.C., from London, which is interpreted in Labour circles as meaning that he has been successful in getting a judicial committee to recommend that the Privy Council take up the case.

CALEDONIANS RETURN TO FORM AND REGISTER ANOTHER WIN

THORPE OPENED THE SCORING FROM A PASS BY CLARKE—WILLSHAW EVENS IT UP—HALF-TIME ONE GOAL APIECE—CALEDONIANS ADD TWO MORE—M'MILLAN MISSED A PENALTY—WOOLLENS GET A GOAL IN LAST MINUTE—CALEDOIANS 3, CANADIAN WOOLLENS 2.

Notwithstanding the heavy rain previous to the schedule time, the football game between the Caledonians and Canadian Woollens ,attracted a fair attendance of spectators. The Caledonians placed a re-organized team on the field and the Woollens played as selected.

The Teams.

Canadian Woollens— S. Calladine, goal; J. Cridland and J. Hillman, backs; A. Barton, J. Jackson and A. Stiles, half-backs; C. Thorpe, J. Montgomery, J. Chambers, W. Baldwin and C. Clarke, forwards.

Caledonians— C. Fenner, goal; A. Duthy and H. Frost, backs; R. Hannah, S. McMillan and R. McDowall, half-backs; F. McKinley, M. Dunkley, M. Shaw, Jas. Shaw and R. Willshaw, forwards.

Referee—Mr. F. Keller.

Opening Kick.

There was no choice in winning the toss and Matt Shaw set the ball in motion. The Caleys attacked on the left wing that brought a fruitless corner. On mid-field play Montgomery kicked for the Caledonians' goal. Fenner was taken unawares that made him find great difficulty in catching the ball but eventually cleared. A raid by Willshaw tested Calladine with a high drive and lying close in to goal Matt Shaw was disappointed to see Calladine jump out upon the centre forward to clear. Dunkley returned the ball to goal to miss by inches.

Thorpe Scored.

At the other end Fenner had to save a low ground shot from Chambers. The Woollens' forwards played havoc around the defence of the Caleys and Clarke lifted the ball across to centre, quick as a shot the Woollens' outside right touched the ball pass Fenner. Twice in succession Jas. Shaw was brought up for offside. On a nice pass from Hannah, Willshaw broke through the two defence men, accompanied by Matt Shaw, and running close against Calladine, the left-winger shot the ball in below the crossbar into the net.

A Heading Exhibition.

Play was confined to mid-field for a while. During the play on the right wing the players went through an exhibition of heading for about five minutes until coming to the Caleys' right-half, he shot the ball forward to Dunkley who forced a corner off Hillman. Hannah placed a beauty into goal and Cridland punted up the field, Chambers swinging a pass to Thorpe who was slow in accepting. Frost returned the ball to Mat Shaw, Calladine saving at the expense of a corner. Hillman cleared to Thorpe to have a try at goal. Jas. Shaw was called up twice for being offside, but the next time down in front of goal he checked Hillman in an effort to make Calladine come out to save his goal.

Chambers Weak.

An individual effort by Clarke was wasted by Chambers hanging on to the ball instead of shooting. Hannah cleared on the right wing and bewildering two players until 20 yards out, he tested Calladine with a long shot. A few seconds later McDowall dropped a ball on the cross-bar and Calladine doing a burlesque jump. The Woollens retaliated in a whole body down upon Fenner, and were still pressing when half time arrived. Half time, Caledonians 1, Canadian Woollens 1.

Half Time.

On resuming, the Caledonians pressed with the forward line all missing opportunities to score. It was a battle between the forwards of the Caleys and the Woollens' defence. Sam Calladine punting and clearing shots from all angles. While running with ball at his foot Willshaw drove a hard one to Calladine, who had to fling himself at it to clear. Two nice attempts to score by Matt Shaw was frustrated by the Woollens' goal-keeper by picking the ball in between his foot and the goal post. More particularly, the oblique shot from the foot of Matt Shaw would have deceived any goalkeeper. A solo run by Thorpe made things dangerous for the Caleys and to clear his goal Frost conceded a corner. Thorpe shot the ball across the goals for nobody to pick it up. A little later Willshaw scored for the Caleys.

McMillan Missed a Penalty.

On a raid on the Woollens' goal, Matt and Jas. Shaw played nice combination between the two backs. Cridland in his attempt to clear, caught hold of the ball in his two arms in the penalty area. McMillan took the kick that went over the cross-bar. The Woollens tried hard to get up the field but the Caleys' half-backs were playing a great defensive game. From a slip by Hannah to the centre the two defence men were caught napping, Matt Shaw ran in to beat Calladine for the third goal. Even and uninteresting play continued until just before full time Baldwin and Clarke transferred the play to the Caleys' goal. Chambers forced his way into the defence and tested Fenner who saved, but let the slippery ball drop to register a goal. A few minutes later one of the best games of the season left the Caledonians with a one goal lead. Caledonians 3, Canadian Woolens 2.

TEAMS EVEN IN THE FIRST—GASH SCORED—THE SCORE AT THE FINISH WAS C.G.E. 1, DE LAVAL 0.

For the second Saturday evening the C.G.E. team were unfortunate to get untavourable weather for their game. At 6 o'clock a heavy down pour of rain prevented the starting at schedule time and it was not until 6.30 that the contestants got away in a drizzling rain. DeLaval were minus Godfrey who reported himself unfit and C.G.E. turned out as selected.

The Teams

De Laval:—W. Jones, goal; F. Hartshorn and A. Styles backs, W. Brown, J. McDonald and D. Lindsay, half-backs; G. Hartsgorn, D. Cutmore J. Rham, J Long and C. Hanson, forwards.

C.G.E.:—J Naples, goal; R. Leach and J. McDonald, backs; A. Parkins, H. Turner and W. Ridley half-backs; J. Bills, C. Hotson, A Gash, B. Mason and Ed. Bartley forwards.

At the outset play was confined more or less to midfield. It became evident that the teams were pretty well matched McDonald, of C.G.E. became prominent in the game with his long shots that kept the De Laval defence busy. Jones saved a beautiful corner-kick from J. Bills. Accepting a pass from the De Laval left-half, Hanson, travelled down the wing to be stopped by Leach who conceded a corner that went into play. G. Hartshorn lashed the ball across to the centre forward to try and score but he turned around to kick the ball with his right foot instead of letting drive in the position he was standing. McDonald, C.G.E. touched it out of his reach and sent it up to Bills. The outside right outwitted Styles and lashed the ball across the goal where Bartley headed the air instead of the ball to go past.

Gash Scored with Penalty.

On the right wing Hartshorn was checked in the nick of time by McDonald who punted the ball up to Mason who forced his way into the penalty area where one of the De Laval players unintentionally brought down the inside-left. C.G.E. Captain told Gash to take the kick and with a low fast ground shot gave Jones no chance to save. For the next 10 minutes the De Laval did all the pressing and tried everything to even up the score but luck was dead against them On one occasion Hartshorn headed into Naples hands when he had ample time to steady himself to test the goal-keeper with a foot shot. McDonald of C.G.E. cleared to Hotson who made a bee line for Jones. On the run, the inside right tried to put through by getting the inside of the post but Jones threw himself right across the goals and diverted the ball a corner—Bills out past.

Jones' Spectacular Goal-Keeping.

Jones saved twice from the C.G.E. forwards in next few minutes. On a raid by the De Laval forwards the C.G.E. defence men claimed offside that made Rham hesitate, instead of going ahead and scoring. An exhibition of trick football given by Bartley left Billy Brown guessing but the next time he tried it the right half jumped upon him to get the ball every time Jones saved a rocket shot from Gash and immediately thereafter Hotson was adjudged offsides. De Laval retaliated, but were very weak in finishing. A spectacular breakaway by Bills was carried through to perfection who drove hard to Jones in goal. The goal-keeper fell upon the top of the ball with the C.G.E. forwards trying to get at it, that necessitated the referee awarding a foul. Just before half time the De Laval worked like trojans and were very unfortunate in not scoring when Naples kicked out very poorly. Turner arrived in time to clear Half time C.G.E. 1 De Laval 0.

Half-Time.

On resuming, the De Laval were no time in finding the C.G.E. goal, but Naples was quite able to keep his charge secure. Some excitement was caused from a beautiful corner-kick taken by Bills that compelled Jones to roll upon the ball to save his goal. Hotson gave Bartley a chance to score but his parting shot was wild. A foul against the C.G.E. let the De Laval down the field and in their eagerness to get through the defence McDonald played Rham offside. Nice combination by Hotson and Bills transferred play to the other end where Jones was obliged to leave his goal to stop the C.G.E. wing men. Outside the penalty area the De Laval goal-keeper jumped upon the ball and held it until Referee McKinley awarded a "throw-up". In the melee Gash passed to Bartley who put past.

De Laval's Hard Luck.

On a raid on the C.G.E. goal Cutmore had a long drive for goal that dropped just over the cross-bar, with Naples waiting to see the result. During the last twenty-minutes of the game the De Laval played the C.G.E. to a stand still. They hemmed the defence of the C.G.E. so close into goal that the whole C. G. E. was down helping the defence, with the exception of Bert Mason. Only on two occasions did the C.G.E. forwards get near Jones goal and on these two visits Bartley was cautioned by the referee for using illegal tactics. While a corner-kick was being taken by Hanson, the two teams were packed like herring in a barrell in front of goal, with Jones standing down at centre-field giving his team encouragement. Naples fisted out from the corner-kick to Rham who was too slow with his delivery, time after time the De Laval tried to score Full time arrived with the score stand ing C.G.E. 1 De Laval 0.

A Summary.

The opening exchanges were even until the unfortunate penalty against the De Laval took the heart out of them and if it had not been for the excellent defence of McDonald, Leach and the versatile player—Turner—the De Laval would have scored. During the second-half the De Leval played to C.G.E. off their feet. No doubt, according to play the C.G.E. should have lost the two points. The De Laval was very unlucky throughout the whole game and have an excellent team to which the C.G.E. team can testify.

PETERBORO LACROSSE TEAM WON IN OSHAWA BY THE SCORE OF 5-1

LOCAL DEFENSE WAS IMPREGNABLE, WHILE THE FORWARDS HAD LITTLE DIFFICULTY IN BREAKING THROUGH TO OSHAWA GOAL—GAME FAST AND CLEAN.

The Peterboro lacrosse team confirmed the good opinions of its supporters by defeating Oshawa's intermediate O.A.L.A. team on Saturday afternoon by the score of 5 to 1. It was the first real test for Johnny Sutherland's band and an appreciation of their strength may be gained from the fact that Oshawa held Maitlands of Toronto to a tie a week ago. It was a close, clean and fast game that brought out the best side of lacrosse and emphasized its appeal to the large crowd that is furthering the revival in the General Motors town.

Peterboro's defense was just about air tight. Dillion, Mein Goodfellow and Haight smothered the Oshawa home and handled nearly every attack smoothly and without any fuss while the Peterboro advance line found little difficulty in working through the Oshawa defense. President Todd with Lou McCoy, Rice and Diablo shape up as a clever speedy home that gives the team the proper balance. Lazure at centre completed the regular line up on Saturday but four substitutes were used, all of them fitting into the shifts without impairing the strength of the team, Halpin, Tudhope and Dunford gave a good account of themselves as did young Thirnbeck who was playing his first game. Creighton, Lawson, Lowes, and several others who have been practicing all Spring did not make the trip but the fact that there was plenty of material is further proof that the Peterboro team will fill out a string of victories before the summer is over

The Peterboro line up was as follows—Goal Scriver, point Dillon, cover point Mein, Goodfellow first defense, Haight second defense, Lazure centre, Rice first home, Diablo second home, McCoy outside home and Todd inside home. The substitutes were given workout, and all the younger players will form the first line in the Hastings game here next Saturday. Scriver in goal played a steady game and backed up the defense in fine shape. None of the Peterboro players were penalized but three Oshawa men were sent to the lines Goodfellow got a rap on the nose but continued play. That was only the accident of the game that looked at all serious.

Manager Sutherland reports that the team was well treated by the Oshawa Club. The return game will be played here on Saturday, June 26th., and it is hoped that a big crowd will turn out for this revival. It will be the first lacrosse match seen here since 1914, and the public may feel assured that in the present team the city is ably represented.

Blooming Railway Stations

Superintendent's Office at Outremont, P.Q.

Flower Beds at C. P. R. Station, Kenora, Ontario.

Flowers are amongst the assets of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Flowers bloom in C.P.R. gardens at most of the principal stations from one end of the country to the other. There are flower knots outside the Algonquin Hotel at St. Andrews, on the Atlantic coast, and one of the most beautful flower gardens in America blooms around the Empress Hotel in Victoria.

In the old days most of the pioneers were too busy opening up the untrodden ways to give much attention to the cultivation of flowers. Yet flower cultivation along the C.P.R. seems to have progressed with the commercial prosperity of the railway system itself, for it is now thirty-one years since one of the C.P.R. employees produced a few varities of flower seeds in his own plot and distributed them amongst his friends at some of the stations—with the object of starting flower gardening along the line. The start was auspiciously made, and now the C.P.R. has a floral department with headquarters at Windsor Street Station, Montreal. Mr. B. M. Winnegar is the horticulturist and forester.

Every year thousands of packets of flower seeds, bulbs, trees, shrubs, grass seed, and large quantities of fertilisers are distributed free of charge to station agents, section foremen, caretakers of round houses and employees living on the property of the company. The seeds that will flower along the railway in the summer and autumn are sent out in March. Full particulars for cultivation are printed on each seed packet. Bulbs for spring flowering are sent out in the fall.

Seeds and plants of the best kind are always provided. Standard flower seed packets contain nasturtiums, alyssum, mignonette, sweet peas, phlox and kochia. Ferns and house plants are sent to large stations. An endless variety of perennials are distributed, and amongst the varieties of trees supplied are maple, birch, beech, poplar and catalpa. Shrubs include laurel leaf willow, sumac, berberries and weigelia.

In all cases the cultivation of flower beds is done by the employees of the company, many of whom have become expert gardeners. On each division of the C.P.R. prizes are given every year for the best display of flowers, and some of the products of gardens kept by the railway amateurs have won prizes at Canadian and United States floral exhibitions.

During the last thirty-one years the encouraging influence of the C.P.R. flower growers has materially assisted in the inauguration of floral societies all over the country. Many of the railway officials are members of these societies. Flowers have improved the appearance of the railway stations, and inspired by the beauty of the stations, residents of the towns have planted flowers that beautify their homes. A little flower flame along the C.P.R. has often thrown the spark that ignited a fire of flowers.

MUCH CONFUSION IN G RDEN TERMS

It isn't always clear that when two people are talking in the same words that they both have the same interpretation on those words. In garden work a slight misunderstanding of words that are in everyday use may lead to confusion and misinterpretation, and this has a special reference to words used in flower show schedule definitions. Following are some horticultural definitions of words in common use:

Annual—Strictly speaking, an annual is a plant that grows from seed, and dies root and branch with the perfection of its seed, and all within the one period of growth. Practically, and in garden use, many plants that are not annuals inasmuch as they may be raised from seed and brought to flower within a year, are included in this group. For instance, Salvia ,which is actually a perennial, but is killed on the approach of frost. These "garden annuals" are often half hardy, inasmuch as they function as annuals because they can be flowered from seed within a year.

Biennial—A plant that takes two years to attain maturity. That is to say, it devotes its energies in the first year to production of a plant from the seed and after one resting period (winter), starts its growth again for the purpose of producing flower and seed, and then die. Some biennials, if started early in spring, will produce flowers late the same season, and so behave as garden annuals.

Perennials—Literally a plant that lives many years. In practice a plant that does not die after producing seed, and in which the death of the flowering axis causes a development of offsets, and through the increase or spread of a plant, continues to live indefinitely.

Herbaceous—A plant that does not make woody tissue. Hence a herbaceous perennial is a plant that makes a succulent growth each year, and which never becoming woody, dies down. The root in such a plant persists and carries on the life. Technically, everything that dies down in winter and comes up again the following season, is a herbaceous perennial. A hardy perennal is merely an expression of relative hardiness in the climate in which the plant is grown.

Hardy—A relative term meanne that the plant can endure the winter weather under which it finds itself. A plant may be hardy or not hardy within a very short range, according to exposure, soil conditions, drainage, etc.

Tree—A woody perennial that arises from the ground on a single trunk or stem, thus differing from the shrub.

Shrub—A woody perennial that arises from the ground by means of more than one stem from the root

THE SAME OLD CONSTANTINOPLE

In the early days of the war scarcely anyone hesitated to prophesy that of all places likely to be completely changed by the war, the chief would be Constantinople.

Yet what do we find? The Turk still sits in the city of Constantine, the first Christian Emperor of the Roman Empire. The Sultan is still in his palace, and Ste. Sophia meant to be the centre of the world's Chrisianity, is yet a Moslem Mosque. Even the streets, notorious as they have always been, are almost unchanged.

A recent visitor writes that with the exception of a few municipal improvements which were made in the European quarter of Pera and in the fashionable residential districts between Dolmabagtche and Yildiz, the Turkish capital has scarcely a bowing acquaintance with modern sanitation, the windows of some of the finest residences in Stamboul looking out on open sewers down which refuse of every description floats slowly to the sea or takes lodgment on the banks where the masses of decaying matter breed great swarms of flies; to drink unfiltered water is to shake dice with death. The streets are thronged with disreputable women. Diseases abound; saloons, dives and gambling hells run wide open and virtually unrestricted, though the British military authorities have put the more notorious resorts "out of bounds," and to take their place have opened "military gardens." Despite the British, French, Italian and Turkish military police who are on duty in the streets, stabbing affrays, shooting, and robberies are common that they scarcely evoke comment.

But a British fleet lies off the city, and Britain may yet take over the job of giving Constantinople a new government, and a new value to the world.

Champ Clark is 70 years of age. When any one criticizes his candidacy for President of the United States because of age, he points to Clemenceau, who is 79, just out of the French premiership; Gladstone, England's premership, at 83, and Palmerston, when he was 80; Speaker Cannon as spry as ever at 83. Champ Clark was a hired man at 9 and a school teacher at 16.

NINTH INNING VICTORY FOR THE PETES IN A SEE-SAW BATTLE

SPOTTED OSHAWA FOUR RUNS IN EARLY STAGES OF SATURDAY'S CENTRAL LEAGUE FIXTURE, BUT FINALLY WON OUT—ROSE'S WORK AS RELIEF PITCHER ONE OF THE FEATURES.

AN EXCITING BALL GAME

Riverside Park was no place for weak hearts on Saturday afternoon, when the Petes squeezed a ninth inning victory from Oshawa by 8 runs to 7, thus climbing up to a tie for second place. We'll inform the universe that it was a merry battle, and at one time the Petes' chances did not look any better than William Jennings Bryan's prospects of being president of the United States.

Early in the engagement the Oshawa crew used their war clubs on Hap Harrison's delivery with a vengeance, and aided considerably by a wild pitch that sailed merrily over Swanston's head and an equally wild throw by Swanston, that Murray might have got if he had waited until he was nine feet high before he stopped growing, they shoved four perfectly good runs over the rubber. A quartette of runs in the City League wouldn't be considered a handicap at all, but in the Central circuit, and with a pitcher like Patton working for the enemy—well, as Kipling has said, that's another story. For this Patton person, a foxy old box artist, with a puzzling delivery and a mean specimen of a curve was breezing along as if he was enjoying every minute of the pastime, and for three innings the homesters' run columns held just the same number of counters as the Union Government would get votes at a United Veterans' League meeting. Jake Solomon, making his first appearance of the year as pilot of the Petes, was out on the coaching lines performing all his old time demonstrations and adding a few new ones, but Patton kept right on twisting puzzlers over and the score board showed a Peterboro deficit of four runs when the Petes went to bat in the fourth.

And then disaster hit Mr. Patton, for he made the mistake of grooving one for Max Swanston, the first batter to face him. Now the Peterboro catcher, angry at himself for the wild heave in the third that gave the visitors two runs, was the last person in the world Mr. Patton should have trusted with a ball like that, and he probably realized it as he saw a white streak shoot to centre field and Swanston pulled up on second. Mike Sheehy was next up and Mr. Patton tried to buzz a fast one by him. Tried is the word for the ball was hardly even with the Peterboro second baseman before it started back again at double its initial speed. When the left fielder had finished chasing the ball and throwing it wide to second, Swanston was fanning himself on the Peterbord bench; Sheehy was brushing the dust off his uniform at third, and Jake Solomon was executing a combined Hula Hula and Indian war dance on the coaching line. The two hard smashes in succession put Mr. Patton and his associates high into the ozone and before they came back to earth, Ross, Lowe and Murray had also cracked out ringing doubles, and assisted by a wild toss by the obliging Mr. Rowden of hockey fame, who fills the short stop position for the Oshawa crew, the Petes had five runs safely tucked away.

And then the old fight started all over again. Oshawa tied the score in the fifth but Solomon's demon athletes having tasted blood thirsted for more and in the sixth they pushed two more counters over, leavig the figures 7 to 5. The gang from Jack Nott's town, however, still had a kick left, however, for back they came in the seventh with two runs and once more the teams were deadlocked. A little exhibition of day dreaming by Mike Sheehy, who failed to cover second to take Cherrett's throw for what should have been the third out, eanbled the visitors to fill the bases, and Walter Fair singled to right, driving two runs in.

There were still two of the enemy on the runways, so Manager Solomon decided it was time to call on the reserves. Lornie Rose was selected as the rescue twirler, and he filled the bill to a nicety. Harrison had left hm an heritage of two on the bases but Rose went to work like the good little pitcher he is, and fanned Wilson leaving the runners stranded. And in the last two innings the Oshawa outfit could do nothing with his delivery, only one man reaching the sacks on a scratch hit.

Patton stopped the Petes nicely in the eighth, and so it was up to the ninth—the physicological innings of the Merriwell stories — to end the issue. There was one gone when Micky Murray cracked a single through the box. Harrison rolled a weak one into the diamond, and Mr. Patton, with a generosity for which we want to express our hearty thanks —made a lurid toss to first base, or at least in that direction. Had there been no ground rules Murray could have scored on the play, but as it was he was held at third. Swanston came through in the pinch with a smash to short that Rowden couldn't field to the plate in time to stop Muray, and the game was over. It was a great finish to a most exciting game.

In spite of the fact that for two hours before the game there was a light shower of rain there was a good crowd of fans out, although not nearly as large as there would have been had the weather been bright. The rain stopped as the game started, and came down in torrents immediately after the contest ended, so under the circumstances the Petes were decidedly lucky to get through the fixture.

Hap Harrison started on the rubber for the Petes and the big fellow did not have much luck. After the first two men hit in the first innings he fanned the next three and would not have been scored upon if he had not slipped in a wild pitch. Then in the third Swanston's throw cost two runs and in the seventh Sheehy's failure to cover second was responsible for two more.

Patton, who pitched for Oshawa had a lot of stuff on the ball especially in the first three innings but the Petes got to him for thirteen solid clouts, sx of them good for two bases, and as he helped in his own defeat by a wretched throw to first, and issued a pass that blossomed into a run, the Oshawa twirler should know whom to blame for losing the verdict.

The best fielding plays were a pretty stop by Fair ,the Oshawa third baseman of a hard smash from Sheehy's bat, and a great catch of a wide throw from Harrison by Bob Ross.

Umpire Dick Butler, of Lindsay, who presided behind the plate, came in for some criticism from the fans, but took it all in very good nature.

First Innings.

Oshawa — Gifford hit the first ball pitched on a line to left for a single. Rowden promptly doubled to the same field, sending Gifford to third. Petrie fanned but Harrison uncorked a wild pitch on which Gifford scored and Rowden moved over to third. Dobson missed three; so did Walter Fair. One run, two hits.

Peterboro—Cherrett fanned. Murray singled to left and stole second. Harrison hit to Patton and Murray was tagged out on the way to third. Swanston lined to Petrie. One hit.

Second Innings.

Oshawa—Wilson popped to Harrison; Belding and R. Fair struck out.

Peterboro—Sheehy bunted to Patton and was out. Ross fanned. Shaughnessy singled to left and stole second. McCarney singled through short and Shaughnessy was out at the plate; Petrie to Dobson, when he tried to score. Two hits.

Third Innings.

Oshawa—Patton droped a Texas League into left. Gifford singled to centre, sending Patton to third, and oing to second on the throw to the difficult corner. Rowden fouled to Swanston . Swanston made a high heave to third in an attempt to catch Patton and both Patton and Gifford crossed the rubber. Petrie doubled to left. Dobson beat out a bunt sending Petrie to third, Ross making a great catch of Harrison's throw. W. Fair's sacrifice fly to Shaughnessy scored Petrie. Wilson flied to Sheehy. Three runs, four hits, one error.

It looked for a while as if rain checks would be needed on Saturday.

Peterboro—Lowe doubled down the third base line; went to third on Cherrett's out. Gifford to Wilson. Murray struck out, and Harrison also missed three. One hit.

Fourth Innings.

Peterboro—Swanston doubled to centre. Sheehy doubled to left, scoring Swanston and taking third on Petrie's wide heave to second. Ross hit to left centre for two bases, scoring Sheehy. On Shaughnessy's grounder Ross was caught between second and third but Rowden threw the ball over Fair's head and Ross scored. Shaughnessy going to second. Lowe doubled to left, scoringShaughnessy; Cherrett died on a pop fly but Murray came through with the fifth two base hit of the innings, his smash to centre, scoring Lowe. Harrison fanned for the third out. Five runs, five hits, two errors.

Fifth Innings.

Oshawa — Gifford walked. Rowden sacrificed. Ross to Harrison, the pitcher covering first. He was spiked in making the play and there was a delay until he was bandaged up. Petie fied to McCarney. Dobson singled to centre, scoring Gifford. Harrison intercepted the throw to the plate and caught Dobson between first and second, but Sheehy dropped the throw and the runner got safely back to first. W.Fair lined to Shaughnessy. One run, one hit, one error.

Peterboro—Swanston hoisted one to Wilson, Sheehy popped one to W. Fair, Ross rolled to Gifford.

Sixth Innings.

Oshawa—Wilson struck out. Belding walked but was forced at second; Cherrett to Sheehy on R. Fair's grounder. R. Fair was caught off first and was out Ross to Cherrett when he tried to make second.

Peterboro — Shaughnessy walked. Corrin replacing McCarney flied to right. Shaughnessy went to second on a wild pitch. Lowe tapped to Patton who tried to get Shaughnessy but he slid back into second safely. Cherrett singled to right scoring Shaughnessy and sending Lowe to third, while the batter took second on the throw to the plate. Murray hit to Rowden and was out at first, Lowe scoring but Cherrett died at the plate when he also tried to score on the play. Two runs, one hit.

Seventh Innings.

Oshawa—Patton beat out a hit to short but was forced at second. Harrison to Sheehy on Gifford's tap to the pitcher. Rowden singled to left. Petrie flied to Shaughnessy. Dobson hit to short and got a cheap hit when Sheehy failed to cover second for Cherrett's throw. W. Fair singled to right, scoring Gifford and Rowden, and tieing the score. Lornie Rose replaced Harrison in the box for Peterboro, Harrison taking the place of Ross at first base. Rose fanned Wilson for the third out, leaving two base runners stranded. Two runs four hits.

Peterboro — Harrison flied to Gifford; Swanston singled to second, but was out at second on W. Fair's nice stop of Sheehy 'shard smash. Sheehy went to third on Dobson's low throw to catch him stealing. Lornie Rose fouled to Dobson. One hit, one error.

Eighth Innings.

Oshawa—Legg batting for Belding got a cheap hit when Cherrett misjudged his fly, but he was caught off first by Swanston's quick peg. He broke for second and Harrison's toss to Cherrett got him sliding into second. Purcell batting for R. Fair fanned. Patton also struck out. One hit.

Peterboro — Shaughnessy flied to Rowden. Corrin rolled to Patton. Lowe flied to Purcells in centre.

Ninth Innings.

Peterboro — Cherrett fied to left; Murray singled through the box. Harrison rolled to Patton, who made a bad throw to first. Murray went all the way home and the crowd thought the game was over. Under the ground rules, however, the runner was only entitled to two bases, and he was sent back to third. Harrison taking second. The Oshawa infield was playing in and Swanston smashed a roller at Rowden who could not get it to the plate in time to stop Murray, who crossed the rubber with the winning run.

C.G.E. AND CANADIAN WOOLENS TO MEET TO-MORROW NIGHT

In the City League series to-morrow night the Canadian Woollens and C.G.E. outfits will meet at 6.15 o'clock. The last time the Woollens surprised the fans by beating the Electricians in a most exciting game and they expect to repeat this to-morrow night. However, the C.G.E. gang cannot afford to lose without abandoning all hope of catching the flying Thistles, and they will have their best line-up in action.

The Peterborough Central League club will practice to-night, Wednesday and Friday nights at Riverside Park and every players who has signed a Central League certificate is expected out at these work-outs.

The Petes will not be seen in action at home again until July 1st, when they tackle Freddie Goyer and his Ontario champs from Belleville. In the meantime they play two games away from home, meeting Port Hope on Saturday and Cobourg on the following Saturday.

Among the baseball celebrities who attended the Oshawa game here on Saturday were Sandy Lockington, of Port Hope, Central League president, E. Parsons and Jack Nott, of Oshawa, second vice-president and secretary respectively of the Central League, and Ford Moynes, of Lindsay, member of the League executive.

Hap Harrison went hitless on Saturday. That is something new for the big fellow and the next pitcher he faces had better look for trouble.

HIT BY END OF BROKEN CABLE—SERIOUSLY HURT

Alexander O'Brien, Driscoll Terrace, Ashburnham, was seriously injured this afternoon when the cable of a winch with which he was moving a house on Hunter street east, broke and recoiling struck him heavily on the body. He was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital.

The house was one of those on the property at the corner of Hunter and Burnham streets, which the city sold to David Conroy. It was being moved to Rogers street and was close to that corner on Hunter street. The accident happened shortly after two o'clock, and at press time one of the nurses at St. Joseph's hospital stated that the exact extent of Mr. O'Brien's injuries has not been ascertained. He is an elderly man and has worked as a carter. Dr. McNulty is attending him.

ENTERTAINMENT A BIG SUCCESS

A very interesting and entertaining evening was provided on Saturday evening by some of Miss Mae Urquhart's pupils at the Conservatory of Music, and the different numbers not only showed remarkable progress on the part of the pupils who have had but one year's training, but also revealed considerable ability on the part of many of the girls.

The Feature.

The feature of the evening was a little one-act play, "The Return of Letty," which was very cleverly acted by six young ladies, each of whom showed a thorough understanding of the part assigned to her. Miss Mae Perry, in the role of Letty, the country girl, who could not help picturing herself as an actress and tried it, was splendid. Miss Hazel Davidson made a truly remarkable French maid, and Miss Lena Aikens a very convincing farmer's wife, while Jean Mervin, Helen Story and Viola Payton took the parts of visitors at the Ruggs' household very cleverly.

Others taking part in the programme, all of whom were excellent, and displayed splendid training, were Mr. Harold Cranfield, Miss Isabel Nelson, Miss Evans, Miss Josephine McGill, Miss Alma Slincombe.

Presented Bouquets.

At the conclusion of the programme, which was enjoyed by a large number of persons, Miss Urquhart and Miss Eakins were presented with bouquets.

SMASHED INTO IRON TIE-POST

An iron tie-post in front of the residence of Mr. John Comstock, Rubidge Street, supported by a cement base, snapped off Sunday afternoon at 4.15, when it was struck by a car from the country. The driver was learning to run the car, it is said, and when he turned south from Simcoe on to Rubidge Street, he did not straighten his wheel out, with the result that he went over the curb and struck the post. The post was rusted below the concrete base, and over it went, passing under the car, pulling the pan down and knocking out the batteries that are supported under the car. With a clatter they tumbled down onto the road. Much bewildered, the driver stopped the car before any more of the vitals of the car should be damaged, and after inspecting the post and readjusting his batteries, he, with a firm resolve to keep a wary eye on all tie-posts, which appear to have an uncanny diversion to all motor cars.

INVESTIGATE FIRM EMPLOYED BY GOVERNMENT.

ENTRY FEES

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, June 15.— Employment of Griffenhagen and Associates to investigate the Post Office Department, is the subject of questions to be asked in the Commons by Hon. R. Lemieux, one time Postmaster-General in the Laurier Cabinet. Mr. Lemieux asks if it is true that the government has agreed to pay that firm ten thousand a month for the work, how many German-Americans are members of the firm, and could not a British or a Canadian firm have been employed for such an investigation.

Mr. Fernan Rinfret, member for St. James, has give notice that he will ask in the Commons whether there are at present any entry fees on Syrian imigrants and whether the government intends to cancel these fees. He further queries as to the number of Syrians now in Canada and the number who entered the country in 1919 and 1920.

Last evening at the residence of Mr and Mrs. R. C. Braund, corner of Park and Albert streets, the children of Brownton Salvation Army and the Simcoe street Temple Sunday schools enjoyed a most successful lawn social and free ice cream treat.

The little ones were hugely delighted with the affair and each had a red letter evening.

During the evening the Boy Scouts under the direction of the Assistant Scout Master, gave a good programme of sports, and the young people of the schools sang several choruses which were much enjoyed by the large assemblage of young and old people present.

Explains the Case

DR. J. C. SPEER INJURES THE DIGNITY OF THE HOUSE.

THE STATEMENT

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, June 15.—While no definite action has yet been outlined in the case of Rev. Dr. Speer, whose statements reported at Toronto, in regard to lobbying by race track interests was the cause of indignant protests in the House yesterday, it is believed here that an explantion sent to Speaker Rhodes by Rev. Dr. Speer last evening will practically close the incident. Rev. Dr. Speer has explained that he did not use the term "lobby" in a manner to cast reproach on any member of parliament, but he wished to convey the impression that race track men had sufficient money for lobbying purposes if they wished to use it so, while the Methodist church had not.

My remarks were made in answer to a man on the platform, who berated the Methodist church for not having sent letters to members of Parliament in respect to race-track gambling.

"I replied that letters were of no use whatever, as it was a foregone conclusion that after the war some new legislation would be enacted in respect to this matter. I further stated that the Methodist church had no money to spend to send or keep deputations at Ottawa. My use of the term 'lobby' was not used in a way to cast reproach upon the honesty of any member of Parliament, but was used to convey an impression that the race track people had the money for lobbying if necessary.

SUGAR SPECULATION

Responsible For Present Condition of the Market.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, June 15. — "Present conditions of sugar market are due to speculation and gambling," declared Commissioner Murdock, of the Board of Commerce at the sugar enquiry today, as wholesale grocers, one after another, gave evidence that they sold their sugar in car load lots to Robert Anderson, a Montreal broker, at a good profit. Anderson immediately sent the sugar along to British Columbia, where it was sold at further profit, "This sugar," said Murdock, "did not remain in Ontario to relieve the wants of consumers."

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Forster Attain Fifty Years of Wedded Life.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Forster, of 554 Bolivar Street, were completely taken by surprise last evening, when some twenty-five nephews and nieces, together with a few acquaintances, dropped in unexpectedly to congratulate the aged couple on having attained fifty years of wedded life.

Although this event was altogether impromptu, so far as Mr. and Mrs. Forster were concerned, a very happy and entertaining evening was spent. Dainty refreshments were served.

Some very handsome and useful presents were received by the bride and groom, amongst which were a beautiful bouquet of flowers from their niece, who arrived from Toronto, and a gift from Winnipeg, which had been skilfully timed to arrive during the day of the golden wedding.

THE WEATHER

The highest point yesterday was 86 degrees—not a record for this season. The air, however is humid, or damp, and full of moisture, and this causes the heat to be felt to a greater extent than when the air is dry. This humidity will also likely bring a thunderstorm before long, either here or in the neighborhood. A thunderstorm is usually local in its nature and is usually confined to a narrow strip of country, say eight or ten miles wide. While there may be a deluge in one place no rain at all may fall a few miles away. (The above was in type early to-day. Since then heavy rain has fallen, with probably more yet to come.—W. P.)

A DEFENSE OF THE PROFITEER

This is a defence of profiteers. A profiteer is an ordinary mortal actuated by the universal desire to get all he can. His stock in trade may be canned meat, bituminous coal, cob pipes, or a certain skill with his hands. No matter. In any case his profit is gauged by the public's willingness to be trimmed.

A Greek philosopher who lived in an age unacquainted with jazz and ouija boards once remarked that as sheep grow excited at sight of green pasture, so his wit functioned best in the presence of worthy auditors.

The profiteer is not a product of greed. Greed dwelt with us before the word "profiteer" was coined. The profiteer is a product of spenders. Spenders invited his existence, courted his attention, and now consistently struggle to sustain him and make his life pleasant.

Why, then, scold the profiteer? He observes that people possess money and desire to be quit of it. He accommodates them.

Loose a cat in a room and toss a fish on the floor. The fish is picked clean. But why indict the cat?

Is there in the land one who labours with hand or brain who would not ask for greater compensation if he knew it could be had for the asking? Men get what they can. If one has opportunity to get more without additional effort, will he hesitate and hold an execuitve session with his conscience? Did you ever see a duck pounce on a June bug?

Here is a gentleman versed in the wiles of the sporting fraternity. He sits at a green table and holds in his hand four cards technically known as aces. Will he cease to raise while the misguided party across the table, who holds three queens, offers himself as a sacrifice?

One who keep a shop and deals in wares desired by the public finds it necessary to increase his prices in order to maintain his established margin of profit. The public, long accustomed to paying more, accepts the rise without complaint. The shopkeeper is intrigued. "So easy!" he says. "If a necessary rise causes them so little pain, perhaps I could put across one of my own invention." He experiments. The experiment is an unqualified success. Is he then content? What man, having discovered a gold mine, will fill his pockets and return no more? One rise borne without loud and despairing cries invites another, and each subsequent rise another still, while the shopkeeper's curiosity and cupidity urge him to one more desperate effort to plumb the depths of the public's willingness to be sheared.

In the old days one who wasted his substance in riotous living was frequently invited to sign a pledge and deny himself any form of alcoholic beverage. Frequently he signed as the quickest means of terminating an embarrassing situation. The pledge failed of its purpose because it did not get at the heart of the trouble. John Barleycorn remained as an ever-insistent invitation to break pledges. When booze became history, pledges automatically became effective.

The profiteer can hardly be persuaded from his evil way while temptation jingles a full purse under her nose. He is but human, poor sinner.

He needs moral support. He needs the understanding sympathy and kindly admonition of several million citizens who have the grace to lead him into a quiet corner and gently inform him that salvation is at hand—that temptation has been removed from sight—that his customers have decided to encourage him in the pursuit of virtue by remaining away from his place of business until he has experienced a change of heart.

Why scold the fallen profiteer while persistently affering the temptation that made him what he is?—Saturday Evening Post.

WHAT $100 WILL DO

The Fall of '14 found the care-free poetic patriotic people of poor little Serbia just six months out of a 2-year war staggering under a heavy load, without even medical supplies for her wounded, diseased and dying soldiers and civilians. Nevertheless, at the word of command "Stand to till the Allies Come" this little band of braves donned again their armour and literally moving mountains in a day, although outnumbered ten to one, they held up the united armies of Bulgaria, Austria and Germany, (not as did brave little Belgium for a few days) but for 15 months (1 1-4 years), until they saved India to the British Empire. They fought fiercely contesting every inch of ground until backed up against the Mountains of Albania.

"No surrender" was written in the Serbian constitution. When a flight seemed a better part of valor they fled—butchered like bullocks — into the sea, over to Italy and France and up into the mountains where famished, faint and frozen they fell flocking the untrodden snow-fields like hyspecks upon the white walls with their dead bodies.

Through exposure, starvation, the sword and disease contracted from enemy camps death claimed fully one fiifth of the entire population.

The army of occupation—Austria—on retiring took all it could carry and the infamous Turks stole what they failed to destroy—cattle, implements of agriculture, etc., etc.

The poor refugees who succeeded in returning found 500,000 hungry, homeless, helpless, innocent children or 25 times as many as all the men women and children in Peterborough put together lamenting the loss of their loved ones.

The poor orphans, the innocent victims of war are the only asset left to this ally of ours, which in addition to losing her possessions, has been bereft of revenue for the last seven years. Shall we save them to their country? By all that is fair in war and peace!

Here's How.

The World Brotherhood Federation has just completed negotiations with the Serbian Government, and entered into a compact duly signed by both contracting parties, whereby on its part agrees (1) to rehabilitate the abandoned Austrian, Turkish and other estates—occupied by officials of such powers as have in turn overrun and ruined this rocky residence of the Serbian since the second century and kept the poor peasant with his nose to the grindstone striving for a living and fighting for his farm, his fireside and his family; (2) to reconstruct the castles and the residences as ordinary officers' residences and dormitories and to furnish with every necessary of life; (3) to equip the domains with implements of agriculture; and, (4) to furnish a proportion of teachers satisfactory and agreeable to the Brotherhood, agreeable to the Brotherhood.

The Serbian Government

The Brotherhood,

Whereas

on its part has undertaken (1) to transfer the boys, who are now wandering around aimlessly in search of food or occupation from pilar to post, and pulling in at night under shelter of an old hay stack or barn, to these dormitories; (2) to feed; (3) to clothe; (4) to educate and train them to work until such time as they are able to care for themselves. Then the Government, which owns the soil in Serbia and gives to every citizen a slice, will present to each efficient boy a farm!

$100.00 has heretofore supported a Serbian for one year. Hereafter it will care for him for 10 years by reason of the arrangement whereby the boy co-operates with The Brotherhood and the Government and becomes partially self-supporting so that $100.00 is as good to-day as $1,000.00 three weeks ago.

The Reader

on remitting $100.00 receives from the Brotherhood a photograph of the object of his or her benevolance with name and number.

Then it becomes the privilge of the Benefactor to write his ward at will and follow the fortunes of his foster-child. The employers of one firm subscribed $100.00 in a few minutes and claimed the privilege of naming their ward's farm after their firm.

AS HE WILL BE.

This plan so appealed to a lady last Friday, who had said "I'll give you $20 and no more" that she finally exclaimed "that is a good business proposition—helping the unfortunate to help themselves and their country. I'll gladly give you $100.00" and she did. Won't you? or any multiple you please, and boys and tenure in proportion. Kindly turn your donations into the manager of your own bank.

SUIT OVER LOCAL PLANT

AFTERMATH OF A WAR BABY IN PETERBORO.

TORONTO, June 15.—Louis Goselin, a manufacturer of Montreal, before Mr. Justice Kelly in the Non-Jury Assizes, is suing Harold Gagnier, journalist, of Toronto, for the sum of $25,000.00 for breach of agreement on the sale of the Peterborough Metal Products Company.

Plaintiff alleges that on 12th November, 1916, the defendant agreed to sell him the plant in Peterborough for $200,000.00, and on 20th December, the offer was accepted.

The plaintiff claims that he later found there was a lot of equipment which did not belong to the defendant, but to the Bank of Ottawa.

DEMPSEY WORKED RECRUITING MEN FOR SHIPYARDS

Heavyweight Mauler Had a Good, Safe Job.

Canadian Press:

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey, heavy weight boxing champion, testifying on his own behalf in his trial on charges of evading the United States Selective Draft Act, yesterday denied charges of non-support and cruelty made by his former wife, Mrs. Maxine Dempsey. Dempsey said he never had struck his wife, and that the jaw fracture she sustained was caused by a fall. Mrs. Dempsey's testimony earlier in the trial alleged that her husband struck her on the jaw because "she had not earned any money for him." Dempsey told of his work as Government recruiting agent for shipyards late in 1918, saying he "guessed he got three or four hundred men" to work in the Philadelphia yards.

INCREASE NAVY COST

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES OF TWO MILLIONS COMING, BALLANTYNE SAYS.

STATEMENT OF POLICY

Ottawa, June 14.—(By Canadian Press).—Hon C. C. Ballantyne, minister of naval service, in the house today made his awaited statement on Canadian naval policy. He intimated in this practically repeating his statement of some weeks ago, that no decision on permanent naval policy would be reached until after the next imperial conference, in 1921. But supplementary estimates were to be brought down this session for $2,200,000. These, including estimates now before the house, would bring naval expenditure this year to 2,500,000. He gave details of the cruiser, two destroyers and two submarines which are the gift to Canada of the imperial government; and, in passing, cited an important and hitherto unpublished memorandum presented by overseas premiers to the British admiralty.

Cites Special Memorandum

The memorandum —of which, no doubt, much will be heard later—was prepared at a conference of the dominion premiers in the Savoy Hotel, London, in August, 1918. The dominion premiers had previously had under consideration an admiralty memo on the naval defence of the empire circulated to the imperial war conference. And in their memorial, presented to the admiralty in reply, the dominion premiers laid stress on these points:

1. The proposals set forth in the admiralty memo for a single navy at all times under a single naval authority are not practicable

2. Apart from the standpoint of naval strategy, the proposals thus put for the for the establishment of a single navy for the empire, under a central naval authority, are strong but not unanswerable. The experience gained in this war has shown that in time of war dominion navy (e.g., that of Australia,) can operate with the highest efficiency as part of a united navy under one direction and command, established after th outb... of war.

Favor Uniform Construction.

Other articles of the premiers' memorandum recognize the necessity of uniformity in the character of construction, armament and equipment, methods and principles of training and administration, and declare tht the dominions would to this end welcome visits of highly-qualified representatives of the admiralty to advise on naval defence, and added that, as naval forces came to be developed, the necessity might have to be considered of establishing for war purposes hereafter "some supreme naval authority, upon which each of

COMMISSION PROCEEDING CAREFULLY IN SECURING OPTIONS ON PROPERTY—CRITICISM OF COUNCIL FOR URGING STREET RAILWAY WORK ON GEORGE STREET FIRST.

While C.G.E. cars are as crowded as ever during the rush hours emphasizing the need of the proposed link at Byersville with an extension of the Charlotte street line the management of the system are proceeding with the relaying of the rails and rebuilding of the roadbed on George street south of the C.P.R. under instructions from the Council that George street will be paved this year. Ratepayers in the south end believe that the Council are not determined to carry out this plan during the present year and others do not hesitate to criticize the action before hand if it is undertaken. Hence, it is argued that the Council should have attended first to the extension of the Charlotte street line, which would have been of immediate use, instead of persuading themselves that they would pave George street. It is argued that there is a plenty of work here this year, that the proposed pavement is not a necessity, that the costs may be less next summer, and that for these reasons the Monaghan road line should have been undertaken first. The street railway management have carried out the wishes of the Council who alones are being criticized especially by residents of the south end who are being uncomfortably packed into the cars without a sign of relief.

Housing Report.

The Housing Commission on Saturday night will open the tenders for the construction of the houses the Council has talked of since the snow vanished. Property options have already been listed, and in this work the Commission has been extremely careful and solicitous of the prospective home-builders' interests. This phase of their investigations will probably be enlarged upon in the report which will be prepared by Mr. F. H. Dobbin and submitted to the Council perhaps next week.

Mr. Dobbin was asked to-day whether he expected any suspension of the Council's scheme. He referred to Ald. Gordon's statement that empty houses were appearing in the city, remarked that this was probably true but that the Commission were proceeding to carry out the instructions of the Council. There will be no rash and unconsidered steps in the progress. The tenders have to be submitted to the Council who must approve them before any contractor is authorized to turn the first sod.

Discussing Ald. Gordon's observation that a citizen who is interested in real estate said this morning that quite a number of families had vacated houses for the summer and were camping on the river and along the canal. In the Fall they would return to the city and there would be then insufficient houses for the demand. It was unfortunate, he added, that the differences between the C.G.E. company and their machinists and electrical workers had not been adjusted, but taking the optimistic attitude this man believed that the new board of conciliation might effect a settlement if other means still failed. This would restore industrial harmony and put the city in a fair way to a quick recovery from the unusual conditions that obtained, and in the end the need of houses would be greaer than ever. This view of course is colored by the real estate man's indomitable hopes and there is every reason to expect that they will be realised. All of which is prefatory to the Council's consideration of the Housing Commission's report. Whatever decision is arrived at, the Council will doubtless be advised to take the broadest view of the housing situation and to look beyond the present disturbance to a renewal of the expansive spirit that was ushered in with spring.

MACHINE TO DETECT LIARS.

An apparatus by which it is possible to detect liars has been invented by Dr. Augustus D. Waller, F.R.S., of the London University. This is done by taking electric records of the effect of cross-examination on a criminal's nervous system to indicate whether he is telling the truth. Dr. Waller discovered that the resistance of the skin to electricity varies with the state of the emotions, and has so developed the discovery that even apprehension can plainly be "spotted" by the fluctuations of a spot of light on a scale. "This," he says, "is how we shall get the criminal. He will be trying to prove an alibi. He will look the judge in the eye and say he was never, say, at Chelsea, in his life. Now we apply my method. Attach the electric wires to his hands and then show him a few pictures, including one of the place the criminal was suspected of having visited. The others will give negative results, but when he is shown that particular one the result will be that the light will jump—and there is no power in mortal man to stop it."

IMPROVING THE COURT ROOM

The Count Council during its sessions, which commenced this afternoon, should make an earnest effort to effect an improvement in the accoustics of the court room, the only defect in the splendid hall that was rebuilt after the fire which damaged the old court room in December, 1915. Much of the effect of the improvements that have been made in the building have been offset by the fact that the accoustics are very bad, judges, juries and lawyers having the greatest difficulty in hearing the remarks of witnesses. The matter has been heard before the Council at previous meetings and the desirability of remedying the present condition of affairs has been recognized by the members, but so far nothing has been accomplished. It seems a pity that such a fine court room should be marred by a defect of this kind, and if there is any way of effecting an improvement the Council should endeavour to hit upon a plan and put it into execution without delay.

WHERE ARE WE DRIFTING?

The announcement that organized labour is preparing to embark upon a campaign to establish the six hour day and that this policy has been decided upon by the American Federation of Labour at its annual convention in Montreal, leads one to wonder where the world is drifting. With all economists agreed that the only remedy for the present carnival of high prices is greater production, that the only cure for for the conditions of to-day is for everybody to work hard and work long to turn out the things in which there is an universal shortage, the suggestion of the Federation of Labour that the present is an opportune time to agitate for a still shorter working day is difficult to understand. How far the campaign for fewer hours of work will continue no one can prophesy, but it is reasonable to suppose that if organized labour succeeded in securing the six hour day, the next move would be a campaign for a four hour day and then a two hour day, and logically the time would arrive when no one would work at all. That seems to be the tendency of the present movement and in the face of a world upset and suffering from a lack of production in almost every necessity of life, the policy seems to be almost suicidal in its short-sightedness. Labour leaders claim that the same of work could be done under the six-hour day system as at present, without additional cost. The shorter day they claim would simply provide jobs for more workers. Where these workers are to come from the leaders of the six-hour day campaign do not explain. They are not here now, for even under present conditions there is a labour shortage, and it is folly to imagine that a movement that cuts eight million working hours a day from American industry would not result in a fatal falling off off in production and a consequent inflation in the prices of everything that is needed.

And what about the farmers? They are having the greatest difficulty now to secure help in their operations and most of the farms are under-manned. Do labour leaders believe that the advent of the six-hour day in the industrial world could have any other effect than to drive the already too small force of farm labourers away from the long hours in the country and into the city where the short working day and high pay would beckon as an irresistible magnet? The farmer would soon be compelled by the labour campaign in the cities to do little else than produce enough foodstuffs for himself and family. And when that time comes we will find that the thirty-three hour week and swollen pay envelope are very poor substitues for bread and meat.

HISTORIC SPOTS.

Mr. F. H. Dobbin's suggestion that the many points of historic interest in Peterborough should be marked with suitable tablets, setting forth some of the important details in connection with these points is one that is worthy of consideration. Very few of the present inhabitants of Peterborough know anything of the city's history. They are interested in hearing of the events of the early days in Peterborough, and Mr. Dobbin's many articles on the subject in the Examiner have been read with enjoyment and profit. His plan of permanently marking the sites of some of the first buildings erected here, the beginning of the old Chemong trail and many other features of the early life of the community will not, it is hoped, be allowed to go unnoticed.

At the same time there are some historic sites that Mr. Dobbin forgot to mention and that might be considered worthy of a tablet. For instance there might be a neat sign placed near the clump of trees at the East City wharf, reading something like this: "Behind these trees the first man to bathe in Little Lake undressed in 1821. The trees, because of the lack of a bathing house in East City are still being used as a dressing room at this date."

And then there might be tablets erected on some of our residential streets to this effect... "This street was watered for the last time in 1912."

If there is any record of the city having planted a tree on any of the local streets, this event might also be commemorated along the lines suggested by Mr. Dobbin.

It would be interesting, too, to erect a sign to perpetuate the date when a new sewage disposal plant was first talked of, with a blank for the date of the completion of the plant. This might be erected on the site of the new Federal building or the dry dock that Mr. Burnham used to talk about.

A PECULIAR SITUATION

The situation in connection with the threatened strike of the motormen and conductors of the Toronto Street Railway is a peculiar one presenting a new feature in labour disputes. The demands of the men, the most important of which was a request for wages at the rate of 85c per hour have been considered by a Conciliation Board who having heard all the evidence advanced by both parties have brought in a report that the present wage schedule shall be continued until August 1921 and that none of the other concession asked for by the men should be granted. Seldom has there been recorded such a sweeping denial of claims as this particular concilation board has made and a striking feature of the matter is that John T. Vick, the business agent of the Bricklayers' Union who was chosen by the employees as their representative on the Board, has signed the report making the recommendations of the Board unanimous. Mr Vick is evidently a man who has the courage of his convictions for it is rare occurrence indeed for the employees' representative in a body of this kind to recommend anything less than the demand made by the men whom he has been chosen to represent. Usually he holds out for everything the employees ask for while the representative of the company just as invariably refuses to concede anything more than he has to do. So customary is this attitude on the part of the representatives of the two sides that the third man on the Board usually has to reach a finding by compromising between the two claims.

There was nothing like this, however in the Toronto Conciliaton Board all three members signing the report and recommending a flat refusal of all demands. As a result a strike seems inevitable although in view of the unanimous decision of the Board and the fact that it was concurred in by the representative elected by men themselves it is difficult to imagine that there will be any great amount of public sympathy behind the strike. Had the street Railway employees contented themselves with asking for the same wages as the men employed on the civic car lines their requests would undoubtely have been accepted by the public as reasonable but when they demanded 85c an hour they doomed their campaign to failure from the start.

WHO WON THE WAR?

Privilege is threatened in Canada to-day as it probably never was before, and the privileged classes are alarmed. Privilege will defend itself, if experience is a safe guide, by the lavish use of money for propaganda, and the propaganda may take the form of fostering some prejudice which may divide the people and divert their minds from a consideration of their true interests.

Anti-American prejudice offers an inviting field. Unfortunately many people are thoughtlessly playing the game. Americans are accused of claiming that they "won the war," and the claim has aroused a storm of ridicule and investive, in which the real service of the United States in the war is forgotten. The whole discussion is in the last degree foolish and frivolous, and completely destroys the argument that war stimulates the nobler sentiments or the intellect. While the war was in progress, we were told that it was fought for ideals of freedom and democracy, not for the glory of the nations engaged in it. To-day we hear less about freedom, democracy, or the progress toward the light, and a great deal about glory. Childish vanity and spite characterised much of the discussion as to the part played by the United States and Great Britain. Is this keeping faith with the living and the dead who made such tremendous sacrifices for humanity?

Meantime there is a deplorable lack of serious thought as to the problem of restoring the world and healing the wounds of war. A great part of Europe lies in ruins. Children in Austria and other European countries are being starved to death, or doomed to a crippled life. Eighty per cent. of the children of Vienna are ricketty or diseased—through lack of nutrition. Appeals are sent out in their behalf, but the response is pitifully inadequate to the need. The dominant powers of Europe, it must be said, are making the situation worse, egging on Poland to fight Russia, when both countries are urgently in need of peaceful industry and friendly cooperation. The first necessity of Europe is real peace—not only the cessation of military operations, but full production and the free exchange of what is produced. Instead of pondering over this tremendous problem with sad and serious hearts, some are discussing the question, "Who won the war?"—idle chatter which seems to be the product of hard hearts and soft heads.

Not who won the war, but who can win the peace is the problem for men and women who have hands to think and hearts to feel. The churches of Canada have been engaged in a great forward movement, for which millions have been collected. Forward, by all means, let them go, but toward what goal? The world needs the teachings of Christ. It needs a wave of love as powerful as the wave of hate which for more than five years has been not only desolating its fields and killing and waiming its youth, but hardening the heart and corroding the soul. What would the Founder of Christianity think if He came back to us and found men and women sobbing about "who won the war?" He might weep as He did over Jerusalem.

Let us be serious and kind. Let us pity Europe and help her all we can, and encourage her to forget her hatreds and heal her wounds. Let us have some regard also to our own True interests and ideals, and to the future, which awaits us on this continent. With the awful example of Europe before us, surely it is for us to show the world an example of international relations founded upon friendship and upon common-sense. Here, in Canada and in the United States, a region nearly twice as large as Europe, is the vast home of the English-speaking peoples of the world—nearly a hundred and twenty millions to-day, two hundred millions, five hundred millions, in the future. What folly, what wickedness, for people enjoying such opportunities to be squabbling about the rate of exchange and "who won the war." What language can be too severe to apply to those who, with the blackened ruins of one war before their eyes, are kindling and feeding these infernal fires. In charity let us regard them as thoughtless rather than devilish. But if this war has not forced men and women into serious thought, what calamity is needed to produce that result?—Farmers' Sun.

The Importance of an Easy-Running Bicycle for the Boy

A "BUNCH" of joyous boys and girls on a bicycle ride! How they do breeze along the smooth, level stretches! What fun! What exhilaration!

But pity that poor boy on the hard-running bike. How he has to pull on the handles and push on the pedals to keep up with those on the easy-running C.C.M. Bicycles. It's no joy ride for him.

And the strain is always there, to some extent, even when he only runs errands on his hard-running bike.

Overtaxing the strength of a growing boy or girl is to be avoided. It might lead to serious consequences.

Be safe. Buy your boy a C. C. M.

C. C. M. Bicycles for boys and girls are built of the same high grade materials and with the same skilled workmanship as the adult models.

They have the same special construction that gives the easy-running direct line drive—

The same case-hardened polished bearings that turn so smoothly.

And, of course, they have the new Hercules Positive Drive Brake—the Coaster Brake without a side arm.

There's a light, strong, easy-running bicycle waiting for your boy or girl at the C. C. M. dealer's right now. He will be glad to show it to you.

Also ask to see the new 16-inch Curved Bar Model—the bicycle the boy won't outgrow.

TAX RETURNS STOP.

Local Tax Office Idle Since Drayton Annouced Changes.

TORONTO, June 15. — Since Sir Henry Drayton announced in the House of Commons on Wednesday night that he proposed to make some far-reaching changes in the new luxury taxes, Toronto merchants have ceased making returns to the Collector of Inland Revenue, and to-day there is little more for the staff of clerks to do than "stand and wait." Practically all the returns made so far have been forwarded to Ottawa along with the sales slips, and the problem of making refunds to purchasers who may be entitled to the same is no closer to solution than it was when the proposed change in taxes was first announced.

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

THE LIFE OF THE LIVER

Whether life is worth living or not depends upon the liver. Cut out meats and other foods that clog the liver, drink lots of pure water, eat Shredded Wheat and fresh, green vegetables. Shredded Wheat contains all the vitamines and all the tissue-building elements in the whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. MADE IN CANADA

ASSAULTED IN DARK BY TWO UNKNOWN MEN.

Oshawa Resident Knocked Senseless But Robbed of Nothing.

OSHAWA, June 15.—Hit over the head with an unknown instrument by two men, Mr .Sam. Hewitt, of 78 Fisher street, is being attended to by Dr. Cameron. The cut in Mr. Hewitt's head is about one and a half inches long, while his face was badly scraped by falling after being struck. The assault occurred on the back line of the Oshawa Railway Company, beside the semaphore north of Fisher street, at 9.45 p.m. on Thursday night.

The injured man is an employee of the Pittings, and works at the kilns in the daytime. However, at night he goes up to attend to the fires. Thursday night he set out as usual, for the Pittings, and after turning on to the railway he met a man coming along south on the tracks, ad then saw two men standing near the semaphore. He suspected nothing, but walked on, and when he reached the post turned out to go around the men and the signal post. He remembers nothing definitely after that, for a short time.

After getting up from the ground he raised an outcry and ran around back of Fisher steet. The men, alarmed by the cries of Mr. Hewitt, disappeared.

Mr.and Mrs. Vamplow, who live immediately north of the field to the west of the scene, state that they heard the wire fence in front of their home creak and some people were heard running up through the yards in the vicinity. They picked up in their yard the next morning a piece of hose pipe. Two inches of the end of this is loaded with lead and the remainder of the piece, which is about fifteen inches long, stuffed with paper. The whole is bound with insulating tape. It is thought that this is the instrument that was used in the attack.

The place where the assault occurred is very dark. Mr. Hewitt was robbed of nothing and has no suspicions as to who committed the deed.

GRAND ORANGE LODGE DENOUNCES SINN FEIN

CALGARY, June 15.—Election of officers to the Grand Orange Lodge of British America was held here Friday.

The report of the correspondence committee dealt with the subjects Grand Master H. C. Hocken dealt with in his annual address.

The legislation committee, which is a permanent body, was congratulated on their services of the past year.

Regarding the Irish situation, the committee reported that the "conditions in Ireland should appeal to every British Protestant and to every loyal Irishman throughout the Empire, and the English-speaking world. The cunning machinations and devilish arts employed by that abandoned body of misled enthusiasts, the Sinn Fein, called for the unmeasured condemnation and the absolute repudiation of every loyal subject of His Majesty, the King. Especially dangerous are the persistent attempts of these rebels to stir up enemity with our neighbors to the south."

Regarding the forward movement it was explained that in the future the Orange Association of British America will be responsible for the organization of British North America.

At the concluding session of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America last evening, H. C. Hocken, M. P., of Toronto, was chosen Grand Master with Toronto as the meeting place for the next convention. Other officers elected were:

Hon. W. D. McPherson, Toronto, deputy grand master; F. C. Wardwhate, Lunenburg, N.S., grand chaplain; grand secretary, William Lee, Toronto; deputy grand secretary, John Easton; grand treasurer, J. Thompson, Toronto, deputy grand treasurer, G. McCready; grand lecturer, W. H. G. Armstrong, Saskatoon; Grand D. of C., William Crawford, Toronto; grand auditors, W. H. Harper and T. H. Reid.

Use Cocoanut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy, lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

"IMMENSITIES."

The endless, endless, endlessness of time—
Space, called the Universe, in which the planets swing—
The suns and moons, the great and lesser stars,
Hosts of the heavens, ever on the wing—
This is immensity.

The finite mind of man fails to achieve,
Or fashion to its grasp the night of these—
He nears it most when like, or as, a child,
He talks to God, all humbled, on on his knees—
Sensing immensity.

Love, passion shorn, the God-like, still is true—
Friendship, that showers its gems alike on friend and foe—
True Charity, that looks for no return,
Rejoicing solely in relieving woe—
These are immensities.

A Mother's love, which all in all condones—
Loving the frail 'e'en better than the strong—
A child's trust—woman's fealty and faith—
Patience, under the strain of undue wrong—
These are immensities.

A morning greeting of a kindly word—
In tone but gentler as we least approve
A brother's motives, or a brother's way—
At such small cost we light a day with love—
This is immensity.

And these are all within the easy ken
Of man, did he but only will it so—
Time, space, the universe—these may be barred.
Until he comes to where God and the Angels know.

CARUSO JEWEL BOX A TOY FOR SERVANTS

USED AUTOMATIC SAFE, WITH ITS $400,000 OF GLITTERING WEALTH, AS PLAYTHING.

EAST HAMPTON, L.I., June 14.—District Attorney Leroy M. Young of Suffolk County will begin here a John Doe investigation into the theft of jewels valued at $400,000 from the sleeping chamber of Mrs. Enrico Caruso. Justice of the Peace Hiram Sherrill of this town will sit as a magistrate.

Servants and members of the household will be questioned in the Italian villa of Albert Herter, leased by the Carusos for the season. Signed statements of the ten servants were taken today by investigators. These statements will be compared to the testimony taken in the John Doe inquiry about which the servants have been kept in ignorance.

All investigating officials and members of the family were more positive than ever today, if that were possible that the mystifying robbery was an inside job, but it was explained that the "inside" connection might have been an innocent one. For instance, one of the servants might have told how the steel strong box could be opened without setting off its loud alarm, and might also have told where the keys were kept. It became public for the first time that not only do the present servants of the Carusos know the secrets of the jewel box, but that former servants who worked for the Carusos in the Hotel Knickerbocker knew about it, too.

Park Benjamin, Jr., brother of Mrs. Caruso, said he knew that the servants had been familiar with the workings of the box.

Jewel Box a Plaything.

Thomas W. Young, a local electrician, revealed the fact that the servants used the box as a $400,000 plaything. Young, who has been questioned by Chief of Police E. E. Morford and County Detective Sylvester J. Kelcey, said that he was called to the Herter place when the Carusos were moving in for the summer on or about May 15 to install temporary wiring for the electrical fixtures. Mrs. Caruso was not at home.

"While working in her sleeping room," he said, "the butler, Frank Feressi, practically all of the house servants, maids and every one were in there playing with the box. They were grouped around a table on which the box rested and were passing the bunch of keys containing the key to the box from one to another, laughing. They were saying, 'This is the way you open the box without making it ring,' and 'See, if you just barely touch it, if you don't know about it, it will ring.'"

Young said they opened the box, revealing the top tray.

So far as the missing jewels were concerned, all interested said they were sure that they are either on or near the 100 acres that comprise the Herter estate, a charming wild, wooded country on the shores of a sparkling sheet known as Georgica Lake.

"We are sure the missing jewels are hidden somewhere on the place," Mr. Benjamin said today, "and I am hopeful that we will be able to break the case within a week anyhow, but I would hate to recover the jewels without learning the identity of the guilty person; it isn't very pleasant to have so many persons under suspicion."

While Mr. Benjamin was talking detectives, with George Fitzgerald, chauffeur-watchman for the Carusos, were searching the shores of Lake Georgica for footprints, boatprints or anything else that might afford a clue. Others were searching the woods, but no trace of an escape by anyone, either by land or water, had been found to-night. Fitzgerald came to newspaper men to-day and said that he wished to make a public statement. He is a direct, square-looking chap.

"I know I am under suspicion in connection with this affair," he said. "I was given the third degree until 2 o'clock this morning. My conscience is clear. How could I have done anything like this to a man who has been so wonderfully kind as Mr. Caruso has? He pays me $180 a month and pays for my wife's and family's board. The story that I want to leave him is not true. When Mr. Caruso left for Europe the last time he gave me a check and said I could get a job on the side.

"When he was going to Atlanta en route for his present engagement in Havana, I drove Mrs. Caruso to the train to see him off. He had given me a check, but he called me back, handed me $50 and said, 'Here, Fitz, play poker with this when I'm gone.'

"There is something peculiar about this job," the chauffeur continued earnestly. "It had to be done by some one who knew the layout of the place. I wish they would hurry up and find out who it was. It isn't very nice for any of us."

A New Beauty of Line Seen in this Chalmers

IT'S a car very easy to look at; and there's a wealth of comfort in those new type seat cushions of this Chalmers. At the radiator the lines are high. At the rear they are low. But this new beauty has in no way penalized roominess.

From the cowl back the top line of the coach is low, but as you sit in the car you lounge even lower.

Once in motion this position becomes even more alluring as you sink into the seat, note the absence of sideway, and feel that the car is hugging the road closely.

Particularly is your enthusiasm stirred when you observe the ease of the engine's effort, its intense silence, the quick response when you turn loose the power stream.

You tacitly pay a compliment to Hot Spot and Ram's-Horn, for they have Fletcherized the raw gas, utilized the last drop of power that nature stored away.

And you admire a Chalmers the more for it, for in addition to its beauty of action, it is arrayed in new garments that are refreshing to a degree.

POINTS FOR FLY SWATTERS.

Some of the Means of Getting Rid of Summer Pests.

Get that fly! Swat him, trap him, poison him, kill him somehow!

Now is the most effective time to fight flies. H. F. Wilson of the Economic Entomology Department, Wisconsin College of Agriculture, points out that every fly that escapes now will give rise to many thousands later in the season.

"The fly is the filthiest creature on the face of the earth. It spreads disease and causes untold suffering. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, and possibly many other diseases are carried by the fly. Thousands of people die each year from preventable diseases and a large part of the responsibility rests with the fly.

"Flies breed rapidly. A female will lay several hundred eggs in batches of 120 or more. It requires only a few hours or at most a few days for these to hatch out into larvae. The larvae or 'worms' burrow into whatever they were hatched upon, and feed and grow for several days. Then they change into another form resembling small oval seeds. Three or four days later the 'seeds' break open and the mature flies come out. The flies breed all summer and as many as ten generations may be produced in a single season."

1. Swat them, poison them, trap them.
2. Keep garbage in tight receptacles—remove often.
3. Use screens.
4. Haul manure away from the stable daily. If this is not possible, treat the manure with borax or insect powder.

IMPROVING THE COURT ROOM

The Count Council during its sessions, which commenced this afternoon, should make an earnest effort to effect an improvement in the accoustics of the court room, the only defect in the splendid hall that was rebuilt after the fire which damaged the old court room in December, 1915. Much of the effect of the improvements that have been made in the building have been offset by the fact that the accoustics are very bad, judges, juries and lawyers having the greatest difficulty in hearing the remarks of witnesses. The matter has been heard before the Council at previous meetings and the desirability of remedying the present condition of affairs has been recognized by the members, but so far nothing has been accomplished. It seems a pity that such a fine court room should be marred by a defect of this kind, and if there is any way of effecting an improvement the Council should endeavour to hit upon a plan and put it into execution without delay.

WHERE ARE WE DRIFTING?

The announcement that organized labour is preparing to embark upon a campaign to establish the six hour day and that this policy has been decided upon by the American Federation of Labour at its annual convention in Montreal, leads one to wonder where the world is drifting. With all economists agreed that the only remedy for the present carnival of high prices is greater production, that the only cure for for the conditions of to-day is for everybody to work hard and work long to turn out the things in which there is an universal shortage, the suggestion of the Federation of Labour that the present is an opportune time to agitate for a still shorter working day is difficult to understand. How far the campaign for fewer hours of work will continue no one can prophesy, but it is reasonable to suppose that if organized labour succeeded in securing the six hour day, the next move would be a campaign for a four hour day and then a two hour day, and logically the time would arrive when no one would work at all. That seems to be the tendency of the present movement and in the face of a world upset and suffering from a lack of production in almost every necessity of life, the policy seems to be almost suicidal in its short-sightedness. Labour leaders claim that the same of work could be done under the six-hour day system as at present, without additional cost. The shorter day they claim would simply provide jobs for more workers. Where these workers are to come from the leaders of the six-hour day campaign do not explain. They are not here now, for even under present conditions there is a labour shortage, and it is folly to imagine that a movement that cuts eight million working hours a day from American industry would not result in a fatal falling off off in production and a consequent inflation in the prices of everything that is needed.

And what about the farmers? They are having the greatest difficulty now to secure help in their operations and most of the farms are under-manned. Do labour leaders believe that the advent of the six-hour day in the industrial world could have any other effect than to drive the already too small force of farm labourers away from the long hours in the country and into the city where the short working day and high pay would beckon as an irresistible magnet? The farmer would soon be compelled by the labour campaign in the cities to do little else than produce enough foodstuffs for himself and family. And when that time comes we will find that the thirty-three hour week and swollen pay envelope are very poor substitues for bread and meat.

HISTORIC SPOTS.

Mr. F. H. Dobbin's suggestion that the many points of historic interest in Peterborough should be marked with suitable tablets, setting forth some of the important details in connection with these points is one that is worthy of consideration. Very few of the present inhabitants of Peterborough know anything of the city's history. They are interested in hearing of the events of the early days in Peterborough, and Mr. Dobbin's many articles on the subject in the Examiner have been read with enjoyment and profit. His plan of permanently marking the sites of some of the first buildings erected here, the beginning of the old Chemong trail and many other features of the early life of the community will not, it is hoped, be allowed to go unnoticed.

At the same time there are some historic sites that Mr. Dobbin forgot to mention and that might be considered worthy of a tablet. For instance there might be a neat sign placed near the clump of trees at the East City wharf, reading something like this: "Behind these trees the first man to bathe in Little Lake undressed in 1821. The trees, because of the lack of a bathing house in East City ,are still being used as a dressing room at this date."

And then there might be tablets erected on some of our residential streets to this effect... "This street was watered for the last time in 1912."

If there is any record of the city having planted a tree on any of the local streets, this event might also be commemorated along the lines suggested by Mr. Dobbin.

It would be interesting, too, to erect a sign to perpetuate the date when a new sewage disposal plant was first talked of, with a blank for the date of the completion of the plant. This might be erected on the site of the new Federal building or the dry dock that Mr. Burnham used to talk about.

A PECULIAR SITUATION

The situation in connection with the threatened strike of the motormen and conductors of the Toronto Street Railway is a peculiar one presenting a new feature in labour disputes. The demands of the men, the most important of which was a request for wages at the rate of 85c per hour have been considered by a Conciliation Board who having heard all the evidence advanced by both parties have brought in a report that the present wage schedule shall be continued until August 1921 and that none of the other concession asked for by the men should be granted. Seldom has there been recorded such a sweeping denial of claims as this particular concilation board has made and a striking feature of the matter is that John T. Vick, the business agent of the Bricklayers' Union who was chosen by the employees as their representative on the Board, has signed the report making the recommendations of the Board unanimous. Mr Vick is evidently a man who has the courage of his convictions for it is rare occurrence indeed for the employees' representative in a body of this kind to recommend anything less than the demand made by the men whom he has been chosen to represent. Usually he holds out for everything the employees ask for while the representative of the company just as invariably refuses to concede anything more than he has to do. So customary is this attitude on the part of the representatives of the two sides that the third man on the Board usually has to reach a finding by compromising between the two claims.

There was nothing like this, however in the Toronto Conciliaton Board all three members signing the report and recommending a flat refusal of all demands. As a result a strike seems inevitable although in view of the unanimous decision of the Board and the fact that it was concurred in by the representative elected by men themselves it is difficult to imagine that there will be any great amount of public sympathy behind the strike. Had the street Railway employees contented themselves with asking for the same wages as the men employed on the civic car lines their requests would undoubtely have been accepted by the public as reasonable but when they demanded 85c an hour they doomed their campaign to failure from the start.

WHO WON THE WAR?

Privilege is threatened in Canada to-day as it probably never was before, and the privileged classes are alarmed. Privilege will defend itself, if experience is a safe guide, by the lavish use of money for propaganda, and the propaganda may take the form of fostering some prejudice which may divide the people and divert their minds from a consideration of their true interests.

Anti-American prejudice offers an inviting field. Unfortunately many people are thoughtlessly playing the game. Americans are accused of claiming that they "won the war," and the claim has aroused a storm of ridicule and investive, in which the real service of the United States in the war is forgotten. The whole discussion is in the last degree foolish and frivolous, and completely destroys the argument that war stimulates the nobler sentiments or the intellect. While the war was in progress, we were told that it was fought for ideals of freedom and democracy, not for the glory of the nations engaged in it. To-day we hear less about freedom, democracy, or the progress toward the light, and a great deal about glory. Childish vanity and spite characterised much of the discussion as to the part played by the United States and Great Britain. Is this keeping faith with the living and the dead who made such tremendous sacrifices for humanity?

Meantime there is a deplorable lack of serious thought as to the problem of restoring the world and healing the wounds of war. A great part of Europe lies in ruins. Children in Austria and other European countries are being starved to death, or doomed to a crippled life. Eighty per cent. of the children of Vienna are ricketty or diseased—through lack of nutrition. Appeals are sent out in their behalf, but the response is pitifully inadequate to the need. The dominant powers of Europe, it must be said, are making the situation worse, egging on Poland to fight Russia, when both countries are urgently in need of peaceful industry and friendly cooperation. The first necessity of Europe is real peace—not only the cessation of military operations, but full production and the free exchange of what is produced. Instead of pondering over this tremendous problem with sad and serious hearts, some are discussing the question, "Who won the war?"—idle chatter which seems to be the product of hard hearts and soft heads.

Not who won the war, but who can win the peace is the problem for men and women who have hands to think and hearts to feel. The churches of Canada have been engaged in a great forward movement, for which millions have been collected. Forward, by all means, let them go, but toward what goal? The world needs the teachings of Christ. It needs a wave of love as powerful as the wave of hate which for more than five years has been not only desolating its fields and killing and waiming its youth, but hardening the heart and corroding the soul. What would the Founder of Christianity think if He came back to us and found men and women gabbing about "who won the war?" He might weep as He did over Jerusalem.

Let us be serious and kind. Let us pity Europe and help her all we can, and encourage her to forget her hatreds and heal her wounds. Let us have some regard also to our own True interests and ideals, and to the future which awaits us on this continent. With the awful example of Europe before us, surely it is for us to show the world an example of international relations founded upon friendship and upon common-sense. Here, in Canada and in the United States, a region nearly twice as large as Europe, is the vast home of the English-speaking peoples of the world—nearly a hundred and twenty millions to-day, two hundred millions, five hundred millions, in the future. What folly, what wickedness, for people enjoying such opportunities to be squabbling about the rate of exchange and "who won the war." What language can be too severe to apply to those who, with the blackened ruins of one war before their eyes, are kindling and feeding these infernal fires. In charity let us regard them as thoughtless rather than devilish. But if this war has not forced men and women into serious thought, what calamity is needed to produce that result?—Farmers' Sun.

TAX RETURNS STOP.

Local Tax Office Idle Since Drayton Annouced Changes.

TORONTO, June 15. — Since Sir Henry Drayton announced in the House of Commons on Wednesday night that he proposed to make some for-reaching changes in the new luxury taxes, Toronto merchants have ceased making returns to the Collector of Inland Revenue, and to-day there is little more for the staff of clerks to do than "stand and wait." Practically all the returns made so far have been forwarded to Ottawa along with the sales slips, and the problem of making refunds to purchasers who may be entitled to the same is no closer to solution than it was when the proposed change in taxes was first announced.

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

BRITISH RULING TO CHECK FOREIGNERS

Must Have Permit from British Minister Ere Work is Given.

WASHINGTON.— A British Order-in-Council that no aliens desiring to take positions in the United Kingdom will be permitted to enter without a written permit for his engagement issued to his proposed employer by the British Minister of Labor, is causing much inconvenience to Americans going to England in various capacities, it was said to-day at the State Department.

The American Embassy at London has brought the matter to the attention of the British Government which, it is understood has directed its Consuls and immigration officers to exercise all necessary care and consideration in connection with the regulations.

DOES IT PAY TO PAINT?

"The future durability of your home, barns of fences depends upon paint. Paint is not used primarily for ornament. It is for protection and economy" writes Charles E. White, Jr., in a recent issue of the Ladies' Home Journal. Mr. White's remarks will attract more than casual interest at this time, in view of the broad educational campaign now being conducted in Canada with the approval of the Canadian Trade Commission. Paint prevents rust and decay, it saves more money a year than the efforts of the whole American fire and police forces combined, asserts Mr. White, who goes on to say:

"Cream walls with tan trimmings, or white walls with a green roof may attract your attention, but color appearance is really of but secondary importance. Paintis used primarily for protection. Paint is the armor worn by your building to prevent annihilation by the elements. We paint our buildings to preserve them. Exposure to the atmosphere causes rot or rust in most building material. Paint has been found to be a chemical combination of materials which prevent rust and decay. Your buildings will live as long as the paint lives."

MANITOBA POLITICS ACTIVE, WITH MANY CANDIDATES OUT

CONSERVATIVES ARE NOT CONCEDING VICTORY TO NORRIS PARTY —LEADERS ANXIOUS.

WINNIPEG.—With provincial election day less than three weeks away, the supposition that the Liberal Government will be returned to power has become a conviction. Although the Conservatves are not conceding the victory to Premier T. C. Norris' party, the fact that they have not yet raised any campaign issue aside from their charge of extravagance, and the fact that, at this late date, they have nominated candidates in only 16 of the 55 ridings to be contested June 29 are taken as indications that they have little hope of overturning the government.

Political dopesters are wearing out pencils by the gross figuring, not which party is going to win, but how much of a plurality the Norris Liberals are going to have over Conservatives and Independents.

A Nearly Prediction.

As yet only one of the Winnipeg papers has ventured to publish a forecast of the outcome of the voting. The Evening Tribune, which is the only paper that is independent politically, prophesies that the next legislature will be made up about as follows:

Liberals	32
Conservatives	11
Independents	12

"Conditions may change within the next two weeks and election day may see much of the present 'dope' upset," says The Tribune's political editor, "but nothing in the political situation throughout the provnice serves to indicate that the government will be defeated."

This authority, although admitting that the situation in the Winnipeg city riding is exceedngly complex, hazards the guess that of the ten candidates to be elected here four will be Liberals, two Conservatives and four Independents. He classifies the Laborites as Independents.

Since publication in The Star of the last summary of the Manitoba political situation, many conventions have been held and today in every riding save Rupertsland and The Pas, where elections have been deferred until August, from one to seven candidates are in the field or seeking recognition.

Government party action has been taken and the candidate either nominated or well understood in thirty-five ridings. In one, Assiniboia, no Government candidate will be nominated. In seven no action has been taken, but in all of these Liberal conventions are being arranged and before many days the Government will have a candidate in each.

While Conservatives claim party action is to be taken in every riding, either by nominating a candidate or recognizing an Independent, straight Conservative candidates are out in only about sixteen constituencies at time of writing. In eight others conventions have been called and in six Independents have been endorsed.

U. F. M. Move Slowly.

With regard to United Farmers' action, so far in only nine ridings have U. F. M. candidates been nominated or conventions called for this purpose. But, in spite of the paucity of U. F. M. nominees, there are plenty of farmer candidates. Independent farmers are nominated in four ridings, while in one other at least three candidates claim farmership and independence.

Aside from Winnipeg nominations, Dominion Labor party candidates, eight straight labor men or Farmer-Labor candidates are in the running, in Assiniboia, Brandon, Dauphin, Kildonan, St. George and St. Clements.

In Winnipeg the probabilities are that there will be thrty-five to forty candidates' names placed on the ballot June 22, nomination day.

Ten Labor Candidates.

The Dominion Labor party already has its ten men in the field and before this week is over the Conservatives and the Liberals will have nominated their quota, it is anticipated. The complexities of the local situation are further complicated by the fact that in this riding the proportional representation system is to be used for the first time. As the system is little understood, there is bound to be a great deal of confusion, which will result, returning officers expect, in the spoiling of a great number of ballots.

There is one point that is certain about the general election, however and that is that there will be few acclamations. At present it appears that the Liberals in four ridings will be unopposed, although R. G. Willis, Conservative leader, refuses to acknowledge it. At any rate, reports from these ridings indicate no Conservative action of any kind and there is little likelihood of any Independents arising in any of them.

Two-side contests—straight party fights for the most part—are foreshadowed in twenty-six ridings. Three-sided contests loom in ten ridings. Four or more-sided contests are expected in Ethelbert, where there are five candidates; Gimli, 7; St. Boniface, 7; and Winnipeg with thirty-five to forty candidates for the ten Winnipeg seats.

MUST HAVE A MIRROR.

Nineteen places of business that operate commercial motor trucks were awakened to the fact to-day by the police that they have been committing a breach of the Motor Vehicle Act in not carrying a mirror on the windshield to watch traffic at the rear. This section has been noted for its non-observance but in future will be strictly carried out by the police.

The present Duke of Northumberland has shattered tradition by breaking through the exclusiveness of his family by discarding all uppishness, mixing in true democratic way and taking interest in public affairs. He is a big owner of coal mine royalties and is against the nationalization of the coal mining industry.

PRICE-CUTTING WAVE STARTS IN FRANCE

PARIS, June 10.—The French offensive against the high cost of living has carried the first line trenches. At Hayre and Marseilles several groups of large wholesale and retail stores have had to give way before popular pressure and have announced 10 to 25 per cent. reductions on their prices. The method being pursued all over the country is to talk and write about "La Basses" as persistently as the high cost was talked about formerly in the hope that talk may result in action.

At first traders and shopkeepers shrugged shoulders and smiled when customers began talk about lower prices. Now they are anxious. They feel the terrible end to their long regime of high profits is beginning, for in response to daily clamor of newspapers and customers some members of the fraternity are weakening and are showing symptoms of wishing to capture trade by lowering prices and starting a competitive battle rather than staying in unofficial profit-making combines:

Every morning paper records fully the differences in prices in different parts of the city and welcome with paeans of praise any shopkeeper who risks the displeasure of his fellows by lowering his gains. By afternoon his shop is crowded. The effect is obvious. The morale of surrounding tradesmen is being badly shaken and the whole city begins to feel the effects.

It is especially foodstuffs that are being affected. Crops are splendid and farmers and market gardeners can no longer ask what they please for fresh fruit and vegetables. At the central makets every morning there is more than enough to meet the demand, and no longer any excuse for keeping up prices. The attempt was made but publicity has killed it.

For the first time in five years the shops are announcing the flaming posters "great fall in prices." The fall is not yet anything like commensurate with the steady increase of the last five years, but it is beginning, and beginning is better than nothing at all. Manufactured goods are harder to bring down in price. The happy discovery, however, that leather costs now on account of prohibition of export far less than it did has led to a newspaper campaign for cheaper boots, and as among the weaker brethren among the bootmakers are weakening.

Another phase of the campaign has been a sudden revolt among the retailers themselves against the wholesalers and manufacturers. Their federation, which includes almost all retail dealers in the country, has passed a resolution urging all customers to buy as sparingly as possible, for only in that way they say can the retail dealers secure lower prices from manufacturers. While not entirely blameless themselves they are striving to fix the blame higher up in the scale and are adding strength to the commission of the Chamber of Deputies which has just begun work inquiring into the extent of speculation and profit-making with a view to taking legal action against the most notorious offenders.

THE FALZ-FEINS

There was first of all, sheer immensity. The Falz-Feins held 90,000 acres if the best wheat lands of the Provinces of Kherson and Taurida. They grazed half a million sheep of valuable breeds. Their huge storehouses were bursting with wheat and wool. They owned their own steamship line, which plied from Port Skadowsk to Odessa and Sebastapol, and they held railroad concessions for a line to transport the products of their estates to Moscow direct.

The history of the vast fortune was a romance in itself.

During the reign of Alexander I, a party of persecuted Mennonites left their native Bohemia and Saxony and crossesd into lower Dneiper.

One family of the Mennonites, a wool weaver and his spouse and progeny, however, continued southward, and found their home on the shore of the Black Sea. There they practised wool weaving and taught their craft to the surrounding peasants. And then, in a few years, wealth was thrust upon them. Alexander I. adopted a policy of distributing large tracts of land among the peasants of Kherson and Taurida, and soon the Mennonite family engaged themselves in the purchase of the distributed land from its new and heedless owners at prices of a few rubles or a cask of vodka. This was the beginning of the fortune of the Falz-Feins, as the thoroughly Russianized descendants of the Mennonite religinists were known.

Extraordinary Characters.

During the century folllowing their rise to wealth and power, the Faiz-Feins numbered a succession of extraordinary characters. But none of them had the picturesqueness and distinction of Sophia Bogdanova, dowager of the Faiz-Feins, and her oldest son, Fjedor.

Sophia Bogdanova's home was a great white castle near the Black Sea. She lived in the spirit of another country, in the pomp and splendor of the Boyars of old. She was a tall, gray, majestic woman, gracious and of queenly bearing. Her habitual garb was of imperial magnificence; robes of gorgeous stuffs and strings and clusters of diamonds and pearls. She was acustomed to say that she looked like Catherine the Great, felt like Catherne the Great, was a second Catherine the Great.

The peasants bowed in sincere admiration before their magnificent barina. They came to her with their disputes, and she dispensed justice, whimsical justice, kindly justice, with a grander manner than is usual even in Russia, a land where grand manners still survived.

Such was the remarkable woman who was the mother of the Faiz-Feins. Despite her eccentricities, she had known how to command the almost religious devotion of her sons. She dominated them all — all save Fjedor, her first born. He dominated her and loved her more than all the rest.

Fjedor's desire was to live a peasant's life, and he lived it with the lavish abandon that characterizes a Russian noble in pursuit of his pleasure. He engaged in the practise of horticulture, grandly, profoundly. He planned; he directed; and he labored along with his peasants, scolding them, humoring them, and even using the whip on them.

Fjedor had never married. He was too busy working for the happiness of mankind through the cultivation of the soil.

He reigned a lord of the steppes, a strong man, an austere man, a man of the Tolstoyon tradition. The peasants regarded him as a saint and a hero of the soil. In his own family he enjoyed the unquestioned domination of the clan leader who is at the same time the stronger soul.

Such was the lord of Kherson. Such was the man who died last on the yacht adritt in the Black Sea.

Knowing these two strange personalities, Sophia Bogadanova and her son Fjedor, one can reconstruct the terrible scenes attending the passing of the Falz-Feins.

One can see the hapless refugees assembled in their drenched cabin. They are congregated around the table that stands at the centre. Most of them are decided for immediate death.

They look at Fjedor. He nods.

Women first, the old sea cry goes up. They first! And first of all the revered matriarch, the noble barina Sophia Bogdanova.

By tacit consent one of the brothers presents the pistol to the austere Fjedor. He is the oldest son of their father. He is the head of their clan. He is strong of soul. The one-time lord of the Kherson accepts the weapon without protest. Calmly and devotedly he steps toward his well-loved mother, the magnificent barina Sophia Bogdanova. A shot and all was over. Then the others, and lastly himself.

THE PASSING OF A PIONEER

Throughout the city and in the surrounding district all who were acquainted with William Dawson and knew his immeasurable qualities of kindness, his friendship and his cheerful good nature, have expressed heartfelt regret at his passing for they feel that in his death they lost a friend who was ever ready to do a kindness or a good deed to help them. The deceased came of one of the oldest families in Otonabee. His father, John S. Dawson, was a retired officer of the British army. After the war of 1812 in which he played a prominent part, he settled in Otonabee, about five miles out from the city. In 1833 William was born. He lived on the old homestead until the year 1853, when he married Miss Elizabeth McCague, of Emily township, removing to Peterborough, where he has lived practically ever since,

Of this happy union there were 10 children, of which 6 still survive, Mrs. Freeman Thompson, Bensford, Ontario, William A. of Moose Jaw, Mrs. W. A. Robinson, of Toronto, James Hilliard of Moose Jaw, Thomas G. of Chicago ,and Mrs. Harry Gibbs of Vancouver. He leaves 13 grandchildren, seven of whom will attend the funeral, coming from Niagara Falls, Toronto, Buffalo and other centres and nine great grandchildren.

For over thirty years the deceased lived on Concession street, near Downer's Corners, East City, practicing as a veterinary. Here the farmers came from far and near to have their horses examined by the late Mr. Dawson, whose knowledge of horses was perhaps unequalled in the county. When he was not at home he was far away on his visits. Sometimes he rode horse-back, carrying the medicine in his saddle bags or he drove in the gig. From Rice Lake to Buckhorn, from Millbrook to Norwood, he was well known and was respected and loved by all.

While he never aspired to any public office he was always keenly interested in the city's advancement. In religion he was a Methodist, attending Mark street church. He was always interested in church work, but of late years had been unable to attend.

For the last nine years, since the death of his wife, he has made his home with his son-in-law, Mr. John Henthorne, and his granddaughter, Miss Lizzie Henthorne, 129 Maud street. Always leading an active life since his removal to the city, he has has always kept busy working in his garden and once again living over the days with old acquaintances when Peterborough was but a village on the banks of the Otonabee. He could recall the time when this could boast of but one shanty.

He was a staunch Conservative in politics. During the war he took an active interest in the war news and the different moves of the armies.

The funeral took place this afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence, 129 Maud street to the Little Lake cemetery. An impressive service was held at the house at 1.30 o'clock by Rev. B. Greatrix in the absence of Rev. J. F. Chapman. The pallbearers were all life-long friends of the deceased. They were George Russell of Warsaw, David Mason of Peterborough, Robert Stenton of Otonabee, Sandy Matchett of Otonabee, James Ruth and Samuel Deyell, of Peterborough.

AGED MAN HAS NOT SLEPT INDOORS THREE YEARS

In his 71st year, an American passed through Lindsay last Sunday on a walking tour from Tonawanda, N.Y., to Donald, Ont., where he intends visin gold acquaintances in the lumber casps with whom he was associated years ago.

In conversation with Chief Short of Lindsay, this hale and hearty aged pedestrian declared that he had not slept indoors in the last three years, not even in winter time, and it is the wholesome amount of fresh air which he has imbibed to which he attributes his good health and physical fitness to undertake long hikes. He has hopes of eclipsing the 100 mark in the matter of age.

ANNUAL MOONLIGHT WAS A BIG SUCCESS.

Last evening the second annual moonligth excursion given by the Barrie Welfare Club, proved a record success, and each of the three hundred on board the Stoney Lake which was chartered for the ocasion, had a thoroughly enjoyable time. The passengers were taken from the George street wharf several miles down the Otonabee River, and the success of the evening was completed with dancing with music provided by Fitzgerald and Follis' orchestra and dainty refreshments.

Homely and Aged Faces Now Easily Beautified

The plainest faces made beautiful and the complexions of good-looking women improved—oldish faces made young and pretty, blemished and weather-soiled faces made spotless, white and satiny—in less than two weeks, by a very simple and harmless process that acts almost like a miracle! This is all there is to it: Ordinary mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store (one ounce will do), is applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings. This gradually peels off the lifeless particles of surface skin, permitting the underlying skin to show itself. The newer, fresher skin, when wholly in evidence, forms a complexion which for beauty and youthfulness is incomparable with one produced by other means. A complexion so natural, so free from artificiality, no one guesses the secret of its acquirement. You'll not regret trying this really marvellous treatment.

PREMIER TAKES UP "QUOTED" CHARGE BY REV. DR. SPEERS

OTTAWA, June 15.—At the opening of the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, Sir Robert Borden said that his attention had been drawn to a despatch from Toronto which quoted Rev. Dr. Speer, of the Methodist Conference at Toronto, as saying that money was used in the lobby of the Parliament Buildings in connection with the recent race-track legislation. Dr. Speer was quoted as saying that it was a foregone conclusion that the race-track men would get what they wanted.

If the reverend gentleman was correctly reported, said the Prime Minister, his statement would appear to constitute "the most outrageous and scandalous libel." Speaking for himself, he had not seen a race-track man in the lobbies, and had not heard of one being here. It was his firm conviction that the statements made in the item were absolutely false.

The statements attributed to Rev. Dr. Speer would, said Sir Robert Borden, constitute a reflection on Parliament of the most serious nature. Therefore, he had felt it his duty to bring it before the members of the House, and he proposed to ask Mr. Speaker to consider what action could appropriately be taken in the matter.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, joined with the Prime Minister in his attitude. He expressed the greatest hope that the despatch was incorrect.

Speaker Rhodes said that the despatch certainly called for some action, and he would take into consideration what would be the best course to pursue. Such remarks would have the tendency to sap and undermine the position of Parliament.

Jacques Bureau, Three Rivers, remarked that in his view such a slanderous lie had best be ignored. It would be honouring the man who made it too much if he were called to answer before the bar of the House.

NARROW ESCAPE AT INVERLEA BATHING BEACH.

Miss Jean Fraser, the little daughter of Mr. J. W. Fraser, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, had a narrow escape from drowning last evening at about eight o'clock at Inverlea Park. She had been swimming inside the wall with Miss Marguerite Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Mason, 740 Water Street, when suddenly she took a cramp and commenced to struggle. Miss Mason, seeing her plight, hurried to her assistance, but she proved too much sark. Mrs. Fraser, who was watchsand. Mrs. Fraser, who was watching, called for help, and Mr. James Weir, of the Fire Department, hearing the cry for help, waded in and brought the little girl to the shore.

Several other persons were in the water at the same time, but did not anticipate the danger the girls were in.

FIRE CHIEF TO VISIT CONVENTION

MATTER DISCUSSED AT MEETING OF FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE—NEW LIGHTS TO BE ERECTED.

While the heat in the committee room at the City Hall could not be complained of last night Ald. Robert Morrison's Fire Water and Light committee were not sorry that there was not a long agenda of business. The city fathers are not so entirely engrossed in the administration of this prosperous and growing city that is now credited with close on 25,000 inhabitants that they are utterly imperious to the temperature the mercury registers. Although sometimes the temperature is considerably raised by the heated arguments of the councillors such was not the case last night The mercury was up of its own accord and one alderman reverted to a state of negligee by discarding his coat and vest and rolling up his sleeves in a business like way. Handkerchiefs were called into use frequently and did their part nobly and the pump, that is the little cold water cooler, helped out in the emergency.

Those present at the meeting were the chairman Mayor McIntyre, Ald. Turner, Ald. Copping, Ald. Whitehouse, Ald. Crowe and Fire Chief Grange.

The Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs will hold their 12th Annual Convention at St. Thomas on August 3-4-5-6. The International convention of Fire Engineers will be held in Toronto on July 28, 29, 30, 31 The Dominion Association advised the committee of this in a communication and extended an invitation to the chief and also to any of the representatives of the council, to attend both conventions, which are running consecutively. The chief had been allowed $100 in the appropriations for expenses but this he felt would be insufficient if two of them attended the conventions.

Ald. Crowe said that he thought one of the conventions was enough to attend since one would largely be a repetition of the other.

Chief Grange pointed out that one was one they could attend every years while the other was one they rarely had the privilege of being at. He said undoubtedly there would be a certain amount of repetition but there was much of value to be learned at both. He favoured being sent to the two.

"A delegate never goes to a convention but he comes back with good information", remarked the chairman He favoured sending the chief to them both. Ald Turner was of the same opinion. He moved that the chief attend both and if the chairman deemed it advisable that someone else attend preferably himself that his expenses be paid on the certificate of the chairman.

A request came from eleven of the residents of Euclid Avenue that a water drain be put in up the street. The matter on motion of Ald. Turner was turned over to the Utilities Commission.

John R. Payne wanted the permission of the committee to erect a small building about 8 feet square back of the Braund Apartments on Charlotte street for the manufacture of ice-cream. The building is to be built of steel and concrete.

Permission was granted on the motion of Ald. Turner on the condition that it be only for that purpose and if it is ever used for any other, permission of the council must first be secured.

It appears that Mr. T. E. Rehill has been delinquent in disposing of coal that the city has had stored in his coal sheds for some time and which he was supposed to sell before the other coal. The city has paid him $35 a month for the rent of the shed, which is now paid up till July 11th., there are some 480 tons there yet it was stated. After the matter had been discussed a motion was adopted as a reminder to Mr. Rehill that he sell this coal first and that any of it that is on hand on July 8 he moved to the other yard and that the use of these sheds by the city be discontinued then "We don't want to pay him for carting it if we can help," said Ald. Turner.

The city treasurer was instructed to communicate with local firms as to prices and quotations on 500 tons of stove coal.

Sophia Cohen's alleged embezzlement of the city out of $000 on coal was discussed. She is now at the mines the mayor said. Ald Turner favoured sending the City Solicitor down to attempt to secure compensation. Mr. Widdifield looking into the matter at present it was said and action was left over till the next committee meeting of the whole council when the City Solicitor will report.

The repairs that were to have been made at the Fire Hall some time ago have not materialized yet and as they are urgently needed and the floors present a real danger to the horses a motion was adopted asking the City Trust Commission to have these made as soon as possible

Ald. Crowe's undreamed of sojourn at the unpleasant Isolation Hospital was evidently not spent in vain and material results may accrue from the city father's sickness. At the Board of Health yesterday a new smallpox hospital with proper accommodation was recommended. Last night he urged that lights be put up Water street and up the road into the detention camp. Three was all that was needed he believed. The chairman was instructed to have lights placed along the street wherever they are necessary for the safety of citizens.

At nine o'clock the meeting adjourned.

RANEY'S NEXT MOVE.

Board of Commerce Urges Prosecution of Sugar Profiteers.

OTTAWA, June 14.—The first "sugar judgment" of the Board of Commerce since it abrogated control of this commodity, on Feb. 26, was issued here.

The judgment was given in the case of Durocher and Gosselin, the Eastview firm, which sold granulated sugar to J. Gale, of Ottawa, for 36 cents a pound and yellow sugar at 27 cents a pound, and restrains them from commission of like offences and from the practices of computing sale prices upon alleged replacement values. The board will also recommend to the Attorney-General of Ontario that both members of the firm be prosecuted.

Provost and Allard, the Ottawa firm which sold the sugar to Durocher and Gosselin, will, according to the judgment, be recommended to the Attorney-General of Ontario for prosecution.

The board, it is said, proposes to reconvene at Toronto next Monday and Tuesday to enquire into sugar transactions.

HENRY FIELD'S CHILD IS BARRED FROM ESTATE

COMMODITIES DROP IN CHICAGO; SEEK INDICTMENT OF HOARDERS

CHICAGO.—Prices of commodities are slowly falling in Chicago. Sugar sold for 19 cents a pound retail, and new potatoes for $1.15 a peck in most retail stores today, according to market reports received by District Attorney Clyne.

Evidence before the Federal Grand Jury indicated that prices of other vegetables and clothing also were dropping.

Indictment will be asked for several produce and sugar dealers, since investigators have reported that storage warehouses are stocking up heavily with eggs, butter and other foodstuffs.

CLARKE-CAMERON NUPTIALS

Beautifully decorated with paeonies, iris, roses, palms, and ferns, St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was the scene of a pretty wedding this this afternoon at 2.30 when Gladys Mary, daughter of Mr. John A. Cameron, 292 Stewart street, this city, was united in marriage to Samuel Stuart Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Clarke, of Cobourg. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Pogue, pastor of St. Paul's Church. The bride, who was attended by Miss Ruby Cunningham, entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. John Crane. She looked lovely in a wedding dress of ivory charmuese with Limerick lace and pearl trimming and a long court train lined with pale pink georgette. She wore a lovely veil of Limerick lace with orange blossoms and, carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, sweet peas and maiden hair fern. Miss Cunningham, the bridesmaid, looked very pretty in pale pink silver embroidered net over silver cloth and pale pink tulle and mohair hat.

Mr. Victor Clarke, of Cobourg, supported the groom, and Mr. Stewart Clarke, of Guelph, and Mr. Kenneth McClelland, of Peterboro, cousins of the bride, acted as ushers. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Maurice Park sang "Love's Coronation."

Mrs. Clarke, the groom's mother, was very handsomely gowned in black georgette and wore a corsage bouquet of mauve sweet peas. Miss Florence Cameron, the bride's sister, looked very pretty in pale green georgette trimmed with lace and hat to match.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party, numbering about one hundred guests, returned to the bride's home where a reception was held. The house was artistically decorated in sweet peas, gladiola, snap dragons and palms. Refreshments were served in a marquee on the lawn. Later in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke left on a motor trip; the bride travelling in a suit of jade jersey cloth and white corded silk hat with jade feathers. They will reside in St. Catherines.

To Have Curly, Wavy Hair "Like Nature's Own"

In three hours you can have just the prettiest curls and waves! And they remain a long time, when liquid silmerine is used before doing up the hair. When the hair is combed out it will be nice and fluffy. Silmerine is perfectly harmless, of course, and is easily applied with a clean tooth brush. It can be obtained at drug stores and at toilet counters generally, directions accompanying each bottle. It serves also as a splendid dressing, keeping the hair soft and glossy.

Silmerine is fine for the outdoor girl, as it prevents the hair from stringing about the face and neck, even when the day is quite warm or windy.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Peterboro, June 12, 1920.

Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir:—Your article on the Royal Irish Constabulary is rather highly coloured and gives to the police an exaggerated virtue and bravery which they do not possess. The writer is either English, or Canadian or an Ulster Unionist. Those constables have been the curse of Ireland ever since they were formed During the famine period when over starving in Ireland, those so-called eight hundred thousand people were guadrans of law helped to evict the helpless peasants from their homes and left them to die in tens of thousands by the waysides. They always worked hand and glove with the land lords who wrested from their Irish tenants the enormous sum of $90-000,000 yealy. Those police are well paid and housed in comfortable barracks This money comes out of Ireland not England. Their officers are either English or Ulster Unionists or Southern Unionists having but little sympathy with Ireland.

The Police are now used solely to crush the National Movement is now in progress. They have been used to spy on the people and they have done it well for their masters in Dublin Castle. The brutality of these hirelings in 1918, and 1919 in raiding ball-rooms and meetings and their use of the baton on defenceless men and women, and arresting people without cause or reason makes them odious to all decent minded Christians. Within the prison the unfortunate prisoners were sometimes flogged with chains besides then being chaned like as if they were wild beasts. Many died from this treatment and a deputation of Americans visiting the prisons noticed empty cells with blood spattered on the stone floors. Is it little wonder that Irishmen in individual cases shot those Prussianized men who are a disgrace to the country that bore them. Even then only eighteen police have ben shot according to a correspondent to the "Globe". Such are the "Royal Irish Bobbies."

the dominions would be adequately represented."

The vessels which Canada was to receive from the British government M. Ballantyne informed the house would be kept part on the Atlantic and part time on the Pacific coast Arrangements had been made for an interchange of officers if necessary to maintain efficiency. Except for the senior officers of theflight cruiser, the vessels would be manned exclusively by Canadians

Criticisms by Mackenzie King.

Discussion which followed the announcement lasted until the early evening and was then adjourned to enable members to consider the naval situation further. Mr. Mackenzie King, leader of the opposition, complained that Mr. Ballantyne's statement, as compared with his statement of some weeks ago, was contradictory and it was difficult to know what the government had in mind. The country was given to understand that naval expenditure this year was to be confined to $300,000; now, supplementry estimates were to be brought down increasing it to $2,500,000. Why, too, Mr. King asked, had the government waited till the last fortnight of the session to make its imporant announcement?

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux urged that with present heavy liabilities this was not the time to launch into new expenditures.

Kidney Trouble

Is quite common, gradually becoming more severe and if prompt action is not taken serious results will follow. The symptoms are headache and pains in the back, sleeplessness, ashen complexion, white coated tongue and frequent urination. If a puffy swelling is noticed in the feet or ankles, the disease is well established and you must give the Kidneys all the help possible, by stirring the Liver and Bowels into action. Take Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets every night according to directions, watch the digestion carefully, drink plenty of cold water between meals, and you will see a great change in a short time. Try them, they work wonders. See testimonials in pamphlet.

BRITISH LABOR M.P. ON HIGH PRICES

J. H. Thomas is a labor member of the British Parliament. He is the leader not only of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen in Great Britain, but of that combination of railroad, transport and coal workers which holds enormous political and labor influence in England, and is known as "Big Three." What he says about high wages in their relation to high prices is earnestly commended to labor leaders here:

"Ever ytime we secure a wage increase it is followed by an inevitable advance in the cost of living, which not only nullifies the increase, but creates a heavier burden on a large part of the community.

"We cannot be a party to such a vicious system if we call ourselves fit to govern.

"It is a wrong system and stands condemned."

POSING FOR MOVIES ONE OF DUTIES IMPOSED ON HARDING.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Senator Harding to-day found the life of the Republican presidential nominee strenuous although he had no important political conferences.

The senator went to his office at the capitol shortly before noon, posed for motion picture men, greeted senate employes, received a few personal friends who called to congratulate him, went over great piles of congratulatory telegrams, played a round of golf at a nearby country club and then worked far into the night at his home in an effort to catch up with rapidly-increasing correspondence.

Senator Harding's plans for the immediate future are indefinite. He intends to remain in Washington until late this week, when he will leave for a brief vacation. He does not contemplate reaching his home in Marion, Ohio, before about July 1. The notification ceremonies are expected to take place soon after, as the vaaction will give him an opportunity to prepare his speech of acceptance, sounding the campaign keynote.

The senator seemed greatly touched as he read sheaves of congratulatory telegrams from Governor Calvin Coolidge, the Republican vice-presidential nominee; former President Taft and Major-General Wood and Senator Hiram Johnson, opponent for the nomination, as well as from Senator Pomerene, his Democratic colleague, from Ohio.

United States Senator Thomas, of Colorado, spends many leisure hours hunting down unusual statistics. He astonishes his fellow senators by his ability to produce statistical data of importance at a minute's notice. His latest has startled other statisticans. It is to the effect "that the number of men who struck during the war exceeded the total number who defended the country by several hundred thousand.

PRESIDENT LOCKINGTON GIVES HIS VIEWS ON SATURDAY'S GAME—THINKS PETERBORO SHOULD BE GIVEN THE MEDAL FOR "BIASED ROOTING."

WAS HE EVER IN BELLEVILLE?

Mr. Sandy Lockington, President of the Central League, saw Saturday's game here and in his paper, the Port Hope Guide, he gives the following impressions:

Jake Solomon's crew were lucky on Saturday to get away with a win over Oshawa. The Oshawa crowd started off in the run column in the very first innings and had four chalked up before Peterborough scored. In the last of the fourth Peterborough touched Patten up fairly lively and with some errors to help along, scored five. Oshawa evened it up in the fifth but in the sixth when tagging at Peterborough runner between second and third, Kip Rowden made a wild throw to third and Peterborough scored two runs. In the seventh innings the boys from the automobile town swatted Hap Harrison's benders so freely that he was removed from the box, but not until two runs had crossed the plate, and the score was once more a tie. In the last of the ninth a wild throw by Patten placed Peterborough men on 2nd and 3rd, and Swanston's line drive brought in the winning run. It was a fairly good exhibition of ball and the closeness of the score furnished much excitement for the spectators.

Mr. R. Butler of Lindsay, officiated as umpire-in-chief, and we are glad to know that Dick's acquaintance with the Peterborough's rooters is so intimate that he pays no attention to their kicking. The writer viewed the game from the grand stand directly behind the plate and some of Hap Harrison's offering which certain Peterborough spectators wanted Dick to call strikes was a shame. For biased rooters we think Peterborough should be given the medal. Good rooting and clean jollying adds life to a ball game and every spectator enjoys it. But to cheer when Umpire Butler was struck by a foul tip is introducing the rowdy element. Of course this latter does not apply to the spectators in general but we were surprised that young men with considerable experience in baseball should stoop to such tactics.

We would suggest to our good friend, Fred Craig to have a photographer on the job at the next home game to take a photograph of the young men who witness the game from the top of the barns in left field. The reproduction of this photograph in the next issue of the Examiner might be the means of increasing future gate receipts.

The locals will practice Monday, Wednesday and Friday of this week and every member is asked to be on hand. Peterborough plays a league game here next Saturday, and Port Hope's regular nine can put Jake Solomon's bunch in the little red wagon.

Keene last Friday. It is claimed that Lush is not eligible under the residence rule.

Doug. Loomis is making them step lively in the Commercial League, and few complaints have been made on his rulings at the plate and on the bases. These twilight games are always decided within ninety minutes.

The recent win by the Queen Alexandra school boys over the Queen Mary school team, backs up the claims of the junior teams that Queen Alexandras should have been placed in the senior series.

The moguls behind the guns should not fail to bring about a game between teams picked from the City League and Commercial League. The Riverside pastimers might get a big surprise.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM THE O.B.A.A.

BOUQUET FOR JAKE SOLOMON FROM SECRETARY GEO. WALKER.

Mr. J. J. Solomon has received the following letter from Mr. Geo. Walker, of Hamilton, secretary of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association:

"My congratulations on the successful launching of your U.F.O. League. I believe that these boys in the country will show vastly more appreciation for your efforts than your former associates of the Central Ontario League. It is a work worthy of your efforts as I believe that the boy on the farm has all too few opportunities for recreation, and anything that can be done for them along this line is a real benefit to them. I think that the organization of your League was the biggest and best thing you could accomplish for baseball in your district."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Peterborough June 14, 1920

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I was one of the spectators from Peterborough that attended the Oshawa-Peterborough lacrosse game and I just wish to say a few words in connection with the team we have here.

Peterborough won the game 5 goals to 1 against a good team and they played a dandy clean game all through. The whole team appears to be well balanced and I will miss my guess if they re not contenders for the Intermediat Lacrosse Championship of Ontario. Lovers of the sport will see some good lacrosse before the season is over.

PLEDGED SUPPORT.

Resolution Passed at Meeting of Labor Federation.

MONTREAL, June 15.— American Federation of Labor in its annual convention here to-day, unanimously pledged its support to striking coastwise longshoremen on Atlantic and Gulf coast in "their fight for recognition and against the policy of open shop."

LOCAL BASEBALL COMMENT

The C.G.E.-Canadian Woollen City League game to-night should be an interesting exhibition. The Woollen crew expect to repeat their feat of beating the Electricians, but the latter cannot see it that way. The game is called for 6.15 o'clock.

There will be an important practice of the Central League team at Riverside Park to-morrow evenin gat six o'clock. Every player is asked to turn out in uniform and players who do not attend practises, Manager Solomon announces, did not look very far for a reason why they are not selected in the line-up. There will be another work-out Friday night in final preparation for the game at Port Hope on Saturday. Belleville has beaten Port Hope and Cobourg on their own grounds and it is up to the Petes to repeat the performance and then beat Belleville here on July 1st.

The weather being favorable for a game, Barries and Westclox will meet in a Commercial League fixture at the Oval this evening at six o'clock. Both teams need the game to keep them in the race, and the fans should see a tidy contest.

Douro has a bye in the East Peterborough League this week. Nassau will play in Keene on Wednesday afternoon and on Thursday afternoon, Norwood will be entertained at Lakefield. The Boosterville gang are topping the league with two wins.

Although the Keene management has not taken official action, there is some talk of protesting Lush, who pitched for Bill Morrison's crowd at

LOCAL FOOTBALL GOSSIP

C.G.E. AND CALEDONIANS PRACTICE TO-NIGHT—OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The C. G. E.'s and Caledonian practice to-night at the Exhibition Grounds, commencing at 6.30 prompt.

The schedule game between C.G.E. and Canadian Woollens on Saturday, June 26th., will in all probability be played on some other date. The reason of the alteration is to suit the Woollens team, who contemplate going on a vacation from the 24th.

Mr. Joe Parkins, President of Peterboro Football League was in the city during the week end and was an interested spectator at De Laval—C.G.E. game.

Bestard of the C.G.E. team is still nursing his injury and will not be seen in uniform this season again.

Many football fans congratulated Hannah (Cal.) on his appearance on the field last Saturday. He played at right-half, instead of outside right and was the outstanding player.

The G. W. V. A. Captain has returned to his old Nomad form during the last few games and he thinks the Vets will win the League because they have the only Irishmas playing football in the city.

For a player to be out of the game for 14 years McDonald (DeLaval) makes a creditable show in every game he plays. Jones has been fortunate in securing such a hustler and D. Lindsay at left half strengthened the De Laval half-backs line in last Saturday's game.

It was only during the last two Saturdays that penalty-kicks have become fashionable. Two weeks ago in the games played, McMillan (Cal). scored from a penalty and Bishop, (G.W.V.A.), missed one by shooting into the goal-keepers hands. Last Saturday McMillan (Cal). missed a penalty by shooting over the crossbar and in the C.G.E. game Gash scored the only goal, giving Jones no chance whatever.

A special meeting of the C.G.E. Executive and players will be held after practice game to-night to pick the team for Thursday evenings game Please attend boys.

The Football Betting Bill of Great Britain, intended to stop the system of coupon betting on football results was read a third time in the House of Commons last week.

The great call at the present time is for capable referees. Judging by remarks, one hears on the touch line, even allowing for the fact that the best referees known could not please some people—if their team is being deferred. A word in regard to penalty-kicks may not be out of place. It is a very serious matter, the granting of a penalty-kick, and there was an instance recently where it altered the whole course of the game, without entering into an argument whether it was justified or whether it was not. A free kick, penalty or otherwise, cannot be given unless the foul is intentional. Referees have wide powers of discretion on the matter, but the ought to be very careful in giving penalty-kicks and not penalize a whole team unless its a glaring infringement, and one that calls for severe punishment.

Down in London, Ontario, the Grand Trunk are going ahead with their Athletic Grounds, which, when finished, will be the best Athletic Grounds in Western Ontario. The grounds consists of a Football Field baseball diamond, tennis court, cricket field, hockey arena, with seating accommodation and the grand stand for 2000 people. When will Peterboro receive similar grounds?

Junior Football in Toronto is making great progress and includes fourteen teams in the League. Each club is requested to play 26 games, and in addition have a number of cup ties to play yet.

The competition for the Connaught Cup, which is emblematic of the Dominion soccer championship, promises to be a very keen one. It was thought that when the D.F.A. raised the entry fee from two to ten dollars fewer clubs would enter, but the reverse has happened; and a record entry has been made. Ontario tops the list with 35 teams, Quebec has 24 Manitoba 17 and New Ontario 4, giving a total of 80 teams, with Alberta British Columbia and Saskatchewan yet to be heard from.

Reports from the various Provinces are very encouraging as to the standard of soccer displayed, and the finals will undoubtedly supply some first-class soccer. It will not be definitely decided as to when the finals will be played until the result of the mail vote now being taken is known, but the present outlook is that they will be held in Toronto during the first week of August.

Seven districts are represented in the Ontario's Cup, and as wide apart as St. Catharines and Sudbury. Guelph travels to Sudbury and may be fortunate in drawing so as to enable them to get a re-play in Guelph. The draw has come out good for Brantford who have Lyalls, of Ottawa, as their guests. If they beat Ottawa, Hamilton will try to induce the Brants to play the game in Hamilton. In the event of Ottawa winning it is hardly likely the Senators will transfer the game.

Taking everything into consideration, it looks like a Hamilton-Toronto final, and the finalist will clean up a tidy sum this year, even bigger than last year, when over 5000 saw the game in Toronto.

The Toronto Scottish were defeated by Willys-Overland in the District Final of Ontario Cup at Varsity Stadium, Toronto, on Saturday. The score was 2 to 1 and a fast game all the way through. The Scottish were without the services of the Rev. John Linton, who was badly injured in a mid-week game. Willys will meet next Saturday.

The De Laval regular team will play the Comrade's a return game on Wednesday evening at Exhibition Grounds. Kick-off at 6.30 prompt. Comrades Team will be E. Houghton goal; a Nichols and R. Leach backs; V. Hopkins, R. Jolliffe and W. Warman, half-backs; A. Lee, M. Dunkley, B. Martin, H. Knowles and J. Haw. Reserves—R. Moore and H. Watkins. Players of both teams requested to be on hand at 6.15 p.m.

Science Questions Ability Of Women To Experience Emotion of Genuine Love

Declares Most Marrages Are Based on Infatuation—That History Records No Feminine Parallel to Damon and Pythias.

After every other science has taken a whack at the fallacy of many cherished traditions, along comes psychology, the newest of recognized sciences and declares that the one feeling which everyone fondly believes comes to every one once in a life time is not really love at all. They declare that the feeling which sends men and women rushing to the marriage license window is almost any other emotion except that of love, and in fact even go farther by saying that it is almost impossible for a person to inspire real love in a person of the opposite sex.

Naturally these psychologists give reasons tending to prove that they are correct. They point out that love is marked by two main characteristics —generosity and sacrifice. They declare that the average engaged couple are insanely jealous of each other, suspicious of every unexplained absence, selfish in the extreme, and possessed of practically every emotion which is foreign to real love. Most marriages, they claim are based upon infatuation, proved by the fact that after a few months of married life caresses and kisses between man and wife become perfunctory.

Love Impossible to Women.

Some of them dare to express the opinion that love is impossible to women, that they are fundamentally unfit to contain such an emotion. They declare that in all history there is not a single case of pure love between two women, or even between a man and woman, while almost every country has stories based upon the devotion of men to each other. Damon and Pythias, is cited as one example, and they declare that minor cases of absolutely unselfish devotion between men are too frequent to need discussion. For proof they ask you to speak to any soldier about "buddies" in their company during the great war.

Whether by design or not D. W. Griffith in his latest production for the screen has shown how natural such devotion between men really is. In "The Idol Dancer" which will be the attraction at the Allan Theatre, this evening (Tuesday), the brawny beachcomber and the nephew of a missionary strike up such a case of devotion. Although rivals for the affection of the sweetest heroine who has ever graced a Griffith picture, the first real prayer which is ever made by the beachcomber is for the recovery of the nephew from an illness. The nephew naturally turns to the arms of the beachcomber for comfort in his dying moments although the arms of the girlare open to receive him.

HAMILTON RACE.

The Canadian Olympic marathon trial race will be run over the Hamilton Herald's famous around-the-bay course on Monday, July 19, at 12 o'clock noon. The distance is 19 miles 168 yards. The cream of the Dominion's long-distance men are expected to enter this event, as the team to represent the Maple Leaf in the Olympic games at Antwerp will be selected from the winners.

A legend has grown up that at one time, Georges Carpentier worked in the mines in his native town of Lens. This is incorrect. Carpentier invested his savings in the mines of Lens before the war, but he began life as an office boy. His first organized matches were fought in the skating rink at Lens when he was twelve, he and a friend about the same age organizing amateur matches. They charged spectators one franc admission in order to cover the rent of the hall, and were also able to set aside ten francs for the winner of each bout, and five francs for the loser. Even at this early stage Decamps, also a native of Lens, superintended Carpentier's training, and was justly proud of the sfuecess of his pupil.

PORT HOPE FLORIST PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY.

PORT HOPE, June 15. — The death occurred very suddenly here last evening of E. M. Mitchell, owner of the Ontario Gardens, and one of the best known florists in the Province. He was working all day as usual, and made no complaint of feeling unwell. While sitting in a chair at his home he fell forward, and passed away before medical aid could arrive. He was one of Port Hope's oldest citizens, and was held in the highest esteem by all.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, and a Liberal. Two sons, Harry at home and Lieut. Frank Mitcell of Toronto, and one daughter, Miss May, in Toronto, survive.

COUNTY COUNCIL MEETING TO-DAY

GOOD ROADS QUESTION IS TO BE DISCUSSED.

Smiles of gratification induced by the recent rains still showed on the faces of the members of the County Council at the opening of their week's sessions this afternoon. They brought with them an atmosphere of contentment and of satisfaction with the weather and the world that was unruffled by Ald. Gordon's stricture in a letter to the effect that his opinion of members of the County Council was not improved by alleged dilatoriness in clearing debris from the food of Reid's bridge, Otonabee.

"I guess some of our opinions of Mr. Gordon haven't been improved," remarked one of the Reeves, but there was nothing biting or acidulous in the remark, which was greeted with laughter.

Reeve Squire, of Norwood, brought the news of the death of "Archie" Breault this morning. Mr. Breault during his reeveship of Norwood was one of the stalwarts of the County Council and it was generally believed that he would have been warden had his term of office continued another year. Expressions of regret at his death were heard in the corridors prior to the meeting, especially from some of his one time colleagues, including Reeves Shaw and Darling.

Warden's Address.

Warden Nicholls in his address at the opening of the session expressed the gratitude of the Council for the satisfactory weather under which the Spring seeding had been carried on. He referred to the encouraging evidences of Canadian reconstruction, and renewed the appreciation of the services ad sacrifices of Canada's soldiers. Only necessary expenditures would be assumed this year, and the Warden hinted that he expected the chairmen of the Standing Committees would adhere closely to this policy.

Warden Nicholls referred to the completion of the Suburban Roads Commission and added that a report on the first conference would likely be made by County Clerk Elliott.

JURORS LOSE MONEY.

The Cobourg Star draws attention to the fact that jurors have good reason to complain of their pay. For a day's attendance at court they receive the magnificent sum of $2.50 per day. For their board at hotels they are assessed $3.00 and $3.50 a day. The county council might consider either putting in easy chairs instead of the hard benches jurors are compelled to use, or raise the pay to what it should be. According to the foregoing it costs a man from 50c. to one dollar a day to serve on the jury.

ORONO COUPLE SENTENCED UNDER CODE AMENDMENT

BELLEVILLE, June 15.— Acting upon information received, Inspector Ruston of the Children's Aid Society of this city investigated a case and caused to be arrested at Orono Charles Deline and Mrs. M. Everett, charged with a breach of the Criminal Code, a recent amendment or which provides that it shall be an offence for people to live in a state of immorality where there are children under 16 in the same house. The couple were brought to Trenton, tried before Magistrate O'Rourke, pleaded guilty, and were sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and in addition an indeterminate sentnece of not more than one yeor, the woman in the Mercer and the man at Burwash Prison Farm. The two children in the case, on whose behalf the action was taken, aged 6 and 4 years, were made wards of the Children's Aid Society.

FROM A CHILD WAS CONSTIPATED

According to the best medical authorities, fully three fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Orillia, Ont., writes: "From a child I was always very badly constipated and I can well remember when quite young my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

R. H. PARSONS, City Engineer

Peterborough may lose Mr. R. H. Parson, City Engineer. Mr. Parsons has received an enticing offer from the City of Hamilton as Deputy City Engineer, but when seen by the Examiner to-day he was not sure whether he would accept the offer or not. He admitted the salary was more remunerative than that he receives here and the position offered an opportunity to secure a wider experience and supervise larger engineering works than is the case here.

DECORATION FOR PETERBORO LADY

LONDON, Ont., June 15.—Delegates to the International convention of the Independent Order of Oddfellows are pouring into the city, and of the more than four thousand who are expected it is estimated that there are now here probably 1,500. An impressive ceremony took place at the Winter Garden, when the British and American flags were hoisted this morning by the advance guard of more than a thousand uniformed delegates who will attend the convention.

A business session of the Department Council took place to-day, at which the following ladies were awarded the Decoration of Chivalry: Martha Watt, Peterboro'; Matilda Hossie, Toronto; Mamie Barnett, Bridgeburg, Elizabeth McTavish, Bridgeburg; Hattie Thornton, Glanworth; Anna Wakeford, Glanworth; Ina Wakeford, Glanworth; Sadie M. Esterbrook, Toronto; Isabell Stubbs, St. Thomas; Hattie McMillan, Toronto; Catherine L. Carter, Waubaushene; E. A. Leith, London; Annie Sedere, Toronto; Eliza Ormond, Belleville; Margaret Landon, Sault Ste. Marie; Isabelle Murray, London Jessie Thompson, Toronto. Jenny Evans, Ottawa, Brig.-Gen. W. J. Foster presented the decorations

OILING THE STREETS.

Some of the streets in the City will Have to Remain Dusty.

Some 16,000 gallons of oil has been used so far this season on the roads. In all some 40,000 or 45,000 will be used it is anticipated, so there is considerable oiling to do yet. The product being used on the roads this year cost the city 11c a gallon while if they had used the Imperial product the same as last year, it would have cost in the neighborhood of 17c.

From all over the city, Mr. R. Parsons said, cries have come for oil, and while they would like to cover all the roads the cost would be prohibitive.

Every year since the oiling was first started they have tried to extend the area oiled but this year they could not afford to.

ASPHALT SUFFERS FROM THE HEAT.

Express Wagon Stuck in the Road This Morning.

The degree of softness to which the asphalt pavement will reach on a warm day was shown to a crowd at the corner of Charlotte and George street yesterday afternoon when a dray of the Canadain Express Co. while standing on Charlotte street, near the Customs House, sank into the pavement several inches, and stuck there tenaciously, and it was only after some effort that the wagon was dislodged

The City Engineer said to-day that it was remarkable how the asphalt would soften up on a hot day and aproach the consistency of putty. Every wagon wheel leaves its imprint and the horses' hoofs make their pattern.

G.W.V.A. WANT FURTHER GRATUITY

TORONTO, June 15.—Speaking the other night at the regular meeting of the Central Toronto Branch of the G.W.V.A., Dr. C. E. Wilson, in outlining the position of the returned soldier on the re-establishment question, repudiated the charge that the returned soldiers are trying to, or want to, run the country "We as soldiers do not want to run the country, but we should have our fair share of representation as soldiers."

Dr. Wilson stated that he was in favour of a general election at the present time, but not on the ground that the present Government is unwilling to do justice to returned soldiers. "If the Government has carried out their mandate to finish the war successfully, then they should have no fears about going back to the country for re-election; if not successfully, then there is a real reason why they should give the people an opportunity to judge upon their acts."

In stating his argument for the reconsideration of the gratuity question, the speaker pointed out that precedents were found all the way back through British and Canadian history for the reimbursement of those who fought for their country.

The speaker heavily scored the attendance records of the members of the Pensions Committee, and charged them with neglect of their duty to their constituents.

LAST OF THE LYCEUM CONCERTS

Last evening, when the last of the Lyceum concerts which have been held at the Conservatory of Music was held, the hall was crowded almost to capacity, and the concert was a decided success. All the artistes—Miss Ada Richardson, L.T.C.M., Miss Ida Sanderson, Miss Urquhart, and Mr. William Buck — have already created enviable reputations in the city, which they more than sustained last evening.

Miss Richardson, like all the artistes, was repeatedly recalled, and Mr. William Buck, a pupil of the Hambourg Conservatory of Music, gave evidence of exceptional talent, his bowing and technique being expert. Miss Ida Sanderson played the accompaniments in her usual way, while Miss Urquhart delighted her audience with her readings.

A GRUESOME FIND.

An extraordinary story comes from Shanghai, China, of a find by some railway men at Harbin. A box car addressed to Colonel Bulikoff, who is the Russian representative at Haila, was opened and found to contain apparently bags of flour and firewood. Underneath these were found eight caskets; each one duly labeled, six bearing the names of grand dukes and duchesses and the other two the name of a priest and a valet of one of the grand dukes. To make sure there was no ruse one casket was opened and a body revealed. In addition to the names of the dead there was also written who had killed them and where. The question is being asked who had forwarded these bodies and for what reason and where they were ultimately destined to be sent. In these days when railwaymen expect to find hidden away gold, jewels and other precious metals, to be confronted with caskets containing murdered persons is indeed a gruesome and unwelcome find.

NEW FRUITS ARE ON LOCAL MARKET

PRICES HIGH—STRAWBERRIES DUE FOR A DROP.

Large luscious Florida watermelons have made their appearance in the local fruit stores and are retailing at $1.75 and $2. The fruit dealer admitted the price was high enough but offered consolation in the fact that they would soon be down. Canteloupes raised in sunny California, bring 40 and 50c. Strawberries are down 5c below last week's prices but at the end of this week a large supply from the local growers is looked for and they are bound to drop.

STRIKE EXPECTED.

TORONTO, June 14.—The decision of the Conciliation Board in refusing to grant demands of the Toronto Street Railway employees, may result in a strike. A mass meeting will be held on Tuesday night to discuss further action. The men asked for 85 cents an hour.

You'd startle your tailor if, when you wanted a suit of clothes, you asked him to submit a bid in competition with a dozen other tailors

"Why," he would say, "this is ridiculous. This man knows what kind of a suit of clothes I give him. He knows he can depend on the quality of the material, the make, the fit. He knows me, and has proved my work. Some fellow around the corner may underbid me—but what will he deliver?"

You don't buy tailoring that way. No man does. You know your tailor you rely on him, you trust him, you give him your work just as long as he turns out good work at prices that are fair.

Do you buy your printing as intelligently? Do you make it your business TO FIND A GOOD PRINTER as you do a good tailor, and then rely on his experience, his ability and his judgment?

Men who do, get good printing. Men who buy printing here and there, wherever the price is shaved closest, are the ones who have printing worries

Sunday Services.

On Sunday evening most of the village churches held brief services and as many as possible gathered in the Methodist Church to hear Mr. Joffe, the converted Hebrew, speak. Owing to the heat, which was very oppressive, some of the large crowd could not remain throughout, which made it difficult for Mr. Joffe to speak, but the evening was very profitably and very much appreciated.

Mr. Joffe announced at the beginning of his discourse that he would be brief as he knew it was a sermon following a sermon. He spoke on the subject of faith.

He read a portion of scripture, showing the eternal argument between God's wisdom and man's wisdom. Man has always sought to fathom the unfathomable and to discover the mysteries of God. Man has sought liberty in his upward struggle. Our Lord said, "You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." The English language is very flexible, more so than any except the Hebrew language. In transforming singulars to plural, it is the richest in the world. For instance, there is a flock of sheep, a cavalcade of horsemen, a mass of money, a bevy of girls, plenty of trouble, and heaps of other things.....But.. the English language, which is so rich in some expressions, is poor in the expression of faith as there is only one word for faith. As for example, a faithful wife, a faithful husband, a faithful Christian. The Hebrew language has one word for the all embracing faith in God. In the 11th chapter of the epistle of St. Paul to the Hebrews, he said of faith: "Faith is the substance of things hoped for the evidence of things not seen."

Some people are turning in these days away from the church and toward Russellism, spiritualism and Christian science. That is due to a lack of faith. No one can be a Christian, no matter to what denomination they belong, without faith. People who turn to spiritualism because of such men as Sir Oliver Lodge and Conan Doyle or because a loved one dies and they are depressed, have lost their anchorage of faith. Christianity, endorsed by our Lord Jesus Christ, does not need to be endorsed by such men as Sir Oliver Lodge or Conan Doyle. People who worry over their business are suffering from a lack of faith. Our Lord said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of heaven and the rest shall be added unto you."

It is nine and a half years since the speaker became a Christian and that was not an easy step to take for one of his race as persecution follows and he is cut off from his own people. With us if a person professes Christianity, his standing is decidedly raised among his fellow men but not so with the Hebrews.

He asked no sympathy or help because of a strong faith in God. He felt he could rely on the Everlasting Father. Without faith one cannot stand one moment in the nesence of God. Just at present it seems as though a blast is breaking against the church and she is subjected to criticisms. higher and lower. In critical times such as these we have great need of our faith. As a soldier has sublime faith in his commanding officer, not asking the general plans but believing that the officer will do everything in the best way, much more then should we have faith in Christ who governs our lives.

The average faith is camouflaged, but true faith in Jesus Christ sweetens your lives. All things come to good for those who love the Lord.

When the speaker became a convert, he wanted to give his experience to the English people so by dint of hardy study, perserverence and faith he acquired the English language, which he speaks almost perfectly and now is able to tell us of the things the Lord did for him.

It is not easy to sell Bibles as the good have them and the bad people don't want them. People will argue in all sorts of ways against the Bible because they have not faith.

All turmoil shall cease, there shall be no more weeping or sorrow or sickness or pain, but eternal joy Lay hold on life and tomorrow your lives shall be transformed. All things are possible with God.

The meeting, which had been opened by the singing of a hymn, followed by a prayer and Bible reading by Mr. Joffe. Was closed with the National Anthem and the benediction by Rev. Dr.) Archbold.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural colour and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Sir Robert M. Kindersley, K.B.E., Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, who recently arrived in New York, has reached Winnipeg. He is visiting Canada in connection with the 250th anniversary of the company's foundation, and will attend a number of functions in his honor during his visit in Montreal. Sir Robert, who was a director of the Bank of England, and a member of the Court of Fishmongers Cmpoany, was a director of the War Savings Committee during the war. It was for his services in that capacity that he received the knighthood of the Order of the British Empire. He was invested by the King just before sailing.

SOMEWHERE BACK.

I knew a kid one day
who looked beyond wide orchard lanes of light
To where a fellow held the laureled way
Of name and fame and fortune in the fight;
A kid who heard Life calling, and who turned
To catch the echo of far-marching feet,
Where crimson fires of glory flashed and burned
Along the borders of the swarming street.

I know a fellow now
Who looks across gray years with weary eyes
Beyond the laurel and the olive bough
To old, old dreams beneath remembered skies,
To fields of golden harvest and the glow
Of God's last sunshine waning to the gleam
Of starlit dusk back home, so long ago
It only seems the phantom of a dream.

I know a fellow who
Would give life's motley fame again to be
In orchard drifts where lost winds wander through
And whisper sighing from the bending tree;
Who dreams at each gray dusk within his den
Of oldtime honor and old fashioned truth
And cries to God to lead him back again
And leave him with the clean brave faith of youth.

HARDING'S RISE DUE IN PART TO HIS WIFE

BANKER'S DAUGHTER MARRIED STRUGGLING EDITOR DESPITE FATHER'S OPPOSITION.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding, who is likely to be the "First Lady of the Land" after 4th March next, is a home-loving woman who believes in her husband. Those who know her regard her as one of the really worth while women in the Senatorial circle. She never has gone in for society as it is known in Washington, but she has done her part admirably in the less pretentious affairs that have been almost universally the rule, as a direct result of the war, since she came to the capital a little more than five years ago.

"A man to succeed must be well fed and well groomed," Mrs. Harding has said, and the view is reflected in her husband. Senator Harding's splendid appearance is one of his numerous assets, and it is largely due to the intense interest that Mrs. Harding has taken in such matters. They have no children.

Mrs. Harding, before her marriage in 1891, was Miss Florence Kling, the daughter of Amos Kling, who died a few years ago after a career as a banker and manufacturer in Marion, Ohio, the Hardings' home town. As a girl Mrs. Harding met her husband-to-be at a dance and fell in love with him, much to the annoyance of her father.

Mr. Kling's objection to Warren Harding was firm and determined. And he told his daughter so—told her that he would give her anything in the world if she gave up the foolish idea of being in love with such a struggling newspaper editor, who had no prospects of ever having anything. Mr. Harding at the time was the enregetic young editor of the Marion Daily Star, which was the second paper of standing in the town of Marion, which then boasted no more than 5,000 inhabitants.

The life of the paper was filled with thrill after thrill and young Harding at times had to make collections for advertising in advance in order to satisfy creditors. Mr. Kling, being a banker, knew of the uphill fight that the editor was making and he could see no future.

But the daughter persisted. And then she and Warren Harding were married. They moved to the "other end of town," and Mrs. Harding had to make many sacrifices in order to get along. She went into the office herself at times to help with the work and once for a period of three months, when her husband was ill and had to go South to recuperate she ran the paper herself from writing the news to seeing that the carrier boys got started on their routes.

Mrs. Harding's friends thought she must have lost her mind to stick by her husband when it meant the giving up of the finer things in life to which she had been accustomed. But gradually, as the paper forged ahead, slowly taking its lead in the town, the situation righted itself; and young Harding, who was an everlasting worker, both in the newspaper office and outside—for he took an interest in the building up of the community, even to the extent of risking his money in the various new enterprises that arose from time to time—came into the good graces of his wife's father. The latter changed his mind so completely that Harding became a member of the board of directors of the Kling bank.

Mrs. Harding inherited much of the business judgment of her father and in this she had been considerable of a help to her husband. She was the oldest of three children and when she arrived the Klings were disappointed that she wasn't a boy. Mr. Kling, however, made the best of it and took pains to explain to her many of the inner workings of successful business.

All her friends describe Mrs. Harding as an extremely capable woman, able to fill any position in which she may be placed—including that of mistress of the White House.

MY OLD COUNSELLOR.

The sun looked from his everlasting skies,
He laughed into my daily-dying eyes;
He said to me, the brutal shining Sun:
"Poor, fretful, hot, rebellious, little one!
"Thou shalt not find it, yet there shall be truth;
Thou shalt grow old, but there shall be youth;
Thou shall not do, yet great deeds shall be done—
Believe me, child, I am old, old Sun!
"Thou mayest go blind, yet fair will bloom the spring;
Thou mayest not hear them, but the birds will sing;
Thou mayest despair, no less will hope be rife;
Thou mayest be dead, but many will have life.
Thou mayest declare of love; it is a dream!
Yet long with love, my love, the earth will teem;
Let not the foolish heart be borne so low—
Lift up thy heart! Exult that it is so!
—Gertrude Hall.

REPLY OF COUNCIL OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS TO PERSIA'S REQUEST.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, June 16.—Forecasts that the reply of the Council of the League of Nations to Persia's request for intervention against the Bolshevik invasion would announce the postponement of any final decision, were borne out by an official announcement made at a public meeting of the Council this morning.

The meeting followed two days of executive sessions. The Council's reply stated:

"Council decided that before advising upon means by which the obligation prescribed by the covenant shall be fulfilled, it is desired in order to give every opportunity for the success of conversations now progressing to await the result of the promises made by the Soviet authorities. Meanwhile the Council requests the Persian representatives to keep it informed of the march of events."

Inaugural Convention Trent Development Association to Promote Trent Waterway

LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING WAS HELD LAST EVENING —REPRESENTATIVE GATHERING.

SPEAKERS ENDORSE THE TRENT CANAL

The inaugural convention of the Trent Waterway Development Association, in the Empress Hotel, last night, was marked by general enthusiasm faith and confidence in the future of this all but completed water route from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay. Not only were its advantages as a pleasure chain of lake and river waters connected by sections of canal fully recognized as almost of unexcelled scenic beauty and adept ability, but its commercial, industrial and agricultural developing possibilities were pronounced one of Canada's most valuable assets. While much publicity propaganda has been resorted to for the purpose of inducing Americans and Canadians to way, the ultimate end in view, declared most of the speakers last night, was to in this way advertise the opportunities here offered for the investment of capital in industries, land and commerce.

Representative Gathering

The gathering was gratifyingly representative, and included delegates from nearly every municipality touched by the Trent Valley Waterway from Trenton to Midland. The municipalities represented, together with their delegates, were as follows:

Cobourg—Sam Clarke, M.L.A. West Northumerland.

Peterborough—For the Board of Trade: President Edgar Worth, Treasurer J. Wells Fraser, F. D. Kerr J. H. Renwick, R. B. Rogers, J. W. Worth and Secretary Leonard Frazer. City Clerk S. R. Armstrong.

Officers Elected.

This inauguration of the Trent Waterway Association was under the auspices of the Peterborough Board of Trade and resulted in the election of the following officers:

Hon. President—Senator Bennett, of Midland.

President—G. K. Fraser, Burleigh.

First Vice-President—F. D. Kerr Peterborough.

Second Vice President—J. Miller, Orillia

Sec.-reas.—Mr. Leon Frazer.

Directors—J. F. Cox, Sec. Chamber of Commerce, Trenton; Councillor Meyers, Campbellford; Ex-Reeve W. M. Fowlds, Hastings; W. J. Charleton, Vice President Lakefield Board of Trade; J. W. Smale, Lindsay Committee—Jas. Duncan, Beaverton; Geo. J. Overend, Secretary Board of Trade, Orillia; Geo. Gerrie, Midland; J. P. McGuire, Penetang; Daniel Quinlan, Barrie.

The Constitution

On motion of J Miller of Orillia, and N. Smale of Lindsay the following constitution was unanimously adopted:

Article I.— Name—The name and title of this Association shall be the Trent Waterway Development Association.

Article II—Head Office.—Until otherwise determined by the Association, the head office shall be in the City of Peterborough, in the Province of Ontario.

Article III—Aims and Objects—The aims and objects of this Association shall be the development of the commercial, industrial and agricultural interests of the Trent Waterway District, and the promotion of tourist traffic.

Article IV—Membership—The Association shall be composed of all representatives from the municipalities in the Trent Waterway District, present at the organization meeting at Peterborough, on June 15th, 1920, and such other persons as may hereafter be elected in accordance with the By-Laws.

Article V—Government.—The Government of the Association shall be vested in a Board of Directors, consisting of at least 15 members, elected in accordance with By-Laws, and who shall have control of its property and the direction of its affairs.

Article VI—Officers.—The Officers of the Association shall consist of an Honorary President, President, 1st Vice-President, and Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, and shall be elected by the Board of Directors from their number annually.

Article VII—Funds.—The funds shall be used for the promotion of the aims and objects of the Association and shall be raised by subscription or by such other means as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

Article VIII—Amendments.—The Board of Directors shall have power to amend, change, or suspend any By-Laws of the Association.

Many Interested

President Edgar Worth of the local Board of Trade presided at the proceedings. After an excellent dinner served at 7.30, Mr Worth expressed his gratification at the thoroughly representative attendance. On seeing so many men of influence interested in the Trent Waterway he had no doubt of the success of the project for development. All that was needed now, he said, is for the municipalities to get together in active cooperation and spend their publicity money to the best advantage.

For the Mayor.

In the absence of Mayor A. A. McIntyre of this city, Ald. J. J. Turner etended a hearty welcome to the delegates present. Advocating an enlatged advertising campaign, Ald. Turner said he was voicing the sentiments of the Mayor in declaring his belief in the policy of "letting one's light shine". And in applying that policy to the waterways in question, Peterborough is not selfish, but distributes her knowledge of its many advantages abroad so that all may share them equally with this city The Trent Waterway as he continued, to Central Ontario what the Niagara watershed is to Western Ontario; but in addition to power we have the advantage of navigable streams which Niagara does not offer. He did not believe this waterway just a hobby or a fad, but was convinced of its use for commercial purposes, and that affects the interests of the whole community.

Senator W. H. Bennett

The speaker of the evening was Senator W. H. Bennett, who gave a brief history of the Trent Waterway from its inception. He was here in Peterborough 35 years ago in conference with such men as Jas. Stevenson, Jno. Burnham, Mr. Claxton and D. W. Dumble on this waterway question, all of whom are now deceased except the latter gentleman. When he became member of the House of Commons in 1892 the Trent Canal was under going painful experience at the hands of the two old parties. Whateved the Grits did in this connection was not right in the eyes of their political opponents, and no matter what the Conservatives did that was wrong according to the Grit view. He was happyo to say now, hov ever, that this waterway is taken seriously, and after July first next there will be a clean route from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay.

Senator Bennett here gave an exhaustive review of the publicity given this waterway at the New York Motor Show, assisted to an appreciable extent by maps, published with the cooperation of the Minister of Railways and Canals and posted up at that show. This resulted, together with representations made on that occasion by Mr. Ryerson Richie, then Secretary of Peterborough's Board of Trade, in some 400 Americans signifying their intention of making a trip over the Trent Waterway route, and in some hundreds of others seeking information as to its advantages.

The speaker endorsed the action of the Department of Trade and Commerce in arranging for the exhibition in England, Europe and even Australia of moving pictures of the Trent Waterway from Trenton to Washago, showing grain, fruit and industrial scenes. And after July first motion views are to be taken along the route from Washago to Georgian Bay. These pictures of the whole route, circulated by agents of the Dominion government in the Old Country and elsewhere abroad will not only show the waterway as a tourist route, but as

ADDRESS TO VISITING DELEGATES AT WOODMEN OF WORLD MEETING

At the opening session of the Woodmen of the World the following address of welcome was read by Mr. John Edgar:

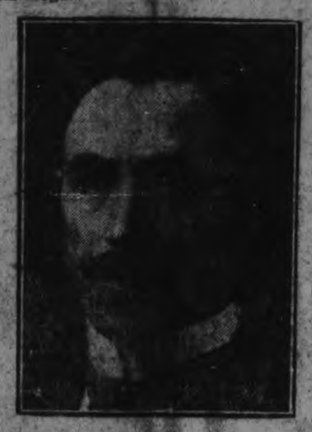
Sherwood Forest Camp No. 50 Woodmen of the World, Peterboro, extend to you a very hearty welcome to our City, on this your first visit of the Head Camp. Our Camp esteems it a very great honor indeed to have you with us at this time, and we trust that the short time you have to spend with us will be both pleasant and profitable.

The members of our Camp have done everything possible to make it so.

Our Camp is a real live one, its Membership is growing by leaps and bounds, and we hope ere you meet in annual Session again, our Camp will be the largest Camp in Canada. We are all interested in the Woodmen of the World, because of its sound policy, its strong financial standing, and the incalcuable good it is doing in protecting the homes of Deceased Members, and thereby making it possible for widows and orphans to be independent and not thrown upon the World. As we become better acquainted with our order, we love it more because of the spirit of Fraternity that prevails among it's members. As I said before, our Camp has done all we possibly can, sparing neither time nor expense, to make your visit pleasant. We have tried not to overlook anything that might be done for your comfort, we trust you will all be comfortable and well received in your various billets, and that your reception by our friends in Peterboro will be such as to impress on your minds that the Citizens of our beloved City have the true spirit of Fraternalism.



EX-ALDERMAN JOHN EDGAR

Peterboro is a beautiful City, and we are not putting it too strong when we say, that, however beautiful a place you may have come from, we believe there is none to compare with ours. Our streets and buildings compare with the best, and our Parks are worth while visiting, our Schools are models in architecture and design, our Churches are numerous and beautiful, our Public Buildings are designed so as to be both pleasing to the eye and also suitable and emple for their respective needs. Our large and small industrial plants are well worthy your inspection. We hope you will find time to see as much of our City as you possibly can.

We have prepared for you a very pleasant outing on Friday, (thanks to the generosity of the City Council and the members of our Camp.) A boat trip has been arranged so that you can have a really delightful trip, a trip through part of the Trent Canal and over the famous Lift Lock, to the Kawartha Lakes. This is a trip of delightful scenery, and one in which we trust all will join. The boat leaves the George Street Wharf at 7.30 o'clock a.m. and returns about 8 o'clock, and we ask you to be guests of Sherwood Forest Camp on that occasion.

We hope your deliberations will be harmonious and profitable, and conducive to the welfare of the order.

Again we bid you welcome

Signed on behalf of Sherwood Forest Camp W.O.W., 250.

ORANGEMEN READY FOR 12TH JULY

SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING HELD IN LAKEFIELD LAST EVENING.

LAKEFIELD, June 16. — The semi-annual meeting of the County Orange Lodge of West Peterborough was held at Lakefield last evening. Over 100 were present in spite of the discouraging weather conditions. In the absence of the County Master, Mr. George Williamson, the chair was occupied by Mr. George Porter, of Monaghan, while Mr. Robert Webster, of the village, occupied the Deputy's chair.

Several matters of business were discussed, and addresses were given by Bro. E. F. Reid, Past Master, Bro. J. C. Waldie, Past Master, and Bro. J Cunningham, Past Master

The celebration in Peterborough this year was discussed, and it is expected to be a big event—the biggest celebration in many years. Lodges from West Toronto have promised to be present, and nearly every town of importance between Toronto and Peterborough, including Bowmanville, has promised to send its quota to swell the numbers. The rural districts are always well represented on these occasions, and the officers expect that this year will be a splendid success.

CARETAKERS FOR BATHING BEACHES

PLACE ON LAKE FOR ASHBURNHAM WILL BE PREPARED.

T. R. Cooper and John McFarlane were appointed caretakers of the West Nicholls (Inverlea) Park and Lake street bathing beaches respectively at a salary of $75 a month each at the meeting of the Council's special Committee yesterday afternoon.

The tenders received were as follows:

T. R. Cooper, at either place, $75 a month.

Thos. Munden, Nicholls Park, $18 a week.

John McFarlane, at Lake Street, $30. (3 months.)

William Fair, at Lake st eet, $65 a month.

Albert Ingram, either place, $20 a week.

City Engineer Parsons was instructed on motion of Ald. Gainey and Copping to select and report on a bathing place for Ashburnham at the Little Lake and to have the Lake street beach cleaned out.

Another resolution by Ald. Gainey, seconded by Ald. Phelan authorizes Mr. Parsons to remove the roots from the Inverlea Park swimming place and to have sand or gravel spread in the wading depths.

The cost of removing the roots is estimated at from $75 to $100.

Mr. Parsons would not recommend a bathing place on the lake east of the Vermont Marble Works, stating that the water was not suitable.

"NOTHING TO FEAR"

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, June 16.—Germany has nothing to fear from the nomination of Warren G. Harding as Republican candidate for the Presidency of the United States, says the Boersen Zeitung.

"Nothing hitherto," the newspaper declares, "warrants apprehension that relations with Germany, which have been initialed by American commercial and financial interests, will be hampered, and on the contrary, it is probable they will be furthered."

RECOMMEND CAR FOR BRIDGE WORK

SPECIAL COMMITTEE SEE ADVANTAGE OF THIS FACILITY.

City Solicitor Widdifield informed the special Bridge Committee of the City Council that he could not find anything in the contract for the Hunter street bridge work to prevent Mr. C. J. Townsend or other contractors, doing other work.

On Ald. Gainey's motion, seconded by Ald. Copping, the committee recommended the purchase of a motor truck for the work on the bridge, especially to facilitate the carriage of sand to the west side of the river.

The bronze light fixutres for the bridge were considered to be excessive in cost and Mr. Barber is requested to prepare another design.

CIRCUS DEPORTED ITS BALOON MEN

HAGENBECK AND WALLACE DROPPED FOUR EMPLOYEES AT KINGSTON.

KINGSTON.—Four men whom the management of the Hagenbeck & Wallace circus, playing in Kingston, claim have been giving them trouble, were dismissed and then deported to the United States. The men in question left on the steamer Missisquoi on Thursday afternoon for Cape Vincent, N.Y.

When the circus arrived in Kingston, the detective who travels with it, notified Immigration Officer Fowler that the company wanted to deport these men as they were very unsatisfactory. When the circus entered Canada they furnished bonds to the effect that they would not allow any men to remain in Canada. The four men were detained in the police station and then put aboard the steamer.

The detective when speaking to the Whig, stated that the company had put up with a lot from the men they were deporting, and decided to get rid of them Two of them, who were ordinary laborers refused to work; while the other two who were engaged to sell balloons had "put one over" on the company. It is stated that after selling the balloons furnished them, they used to purchase others at the local stores and sell them on their own "hook."

A police patrol motor bus is carried with the circus. The officer in charge showed marks of a scuffle which he had with a negro pickpocket in the United States. In the scuffle he received injuries to his hand, which resulted in blood poison, causing one finger to be useless.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday's rainfall was .58 of an inch; that of last night was .09 of an inch. The total is thus about 2-3 of an inch. It was what was needed, and it came at an opportune time. Conditions are not settled yet and it is possible there may be more where this came from.—W. P.

AMBITIOUS PLANS FOR FURTHERING THE SCOPE OF THE ORGANIZATION—DELEGATES PRESENT.

The twenty-seventh legislative convention of the W.O.W. for the Dominion of Canada was officially opened at two o'clock this afternoon, following addresses of welcome by Mayor McIntyre on behalf of the city and Mr. John Edgar, chairman of the Reception Committee of Sherwood Camp.

Seventy-five delegates have so far reached the city, and numerous others are expected to-night.

The sessions will run this afternoon and to-night and to-morrow. To-morrow night, it is expected, will see its conclusion, and on Friday the delegates will take a boat trip through the Kawartha Lakes. This trip is being eagerly looked forward to, and will be a fitting conclusion to the convention. Friday night and Saturday the delegates will leave for their respective camps, armed with notes and papers to show the work that was accomplished at the convention.

The last convention was held in London, where the headquarters are, but comparing the two, the delegates say that considering that they are handicapped by the Foresters' meeting in Montreal and the Oddfellows' in London, this bids fair to be as successful as last year's convention.

The local executive officers are all wearing smiles of gratification at the success so far. The opening ceremonies and rush and confusion of getting the convention under way has gone on with never a slip, and that this is so reflects creditably on the work of the officers.

Head Banker J. H. Saunders replied on behalf of the executive to the Mayor's welcome. After thanking His Worship for the welcome, he spoke in glowing terms of Peterborough as a city. "It is a most beautiful city," he said. "The Lift Locks," he said "were a wonderful engineering work, and he felt they would enjoy their trip up the lakes very much. As to the people," he said, "they could certainly use you kindly. You see, Peterborough is the proper place to hold a convention."

Head Manager J. B. Hoover also replied. "I have many friends in this city," he said, "and if all were in the same class, it must certainly be a fine city."

"We appreciate your efforts on our part. We know the beauties that are in store for us." He advised all the delegates not to fail to take the trip up the Lakes.

To Sovereign John Edgar's address D. Cinnamon of Lindsay, Past Head Council Commander, replied. On behalf of the delegates he extended to Sovereign Edgar and Sherwood Camp their sincere thanks for the interest they had taken to make the Head Camp meeting a success. "We appreciate your confidence in the order."

Speaking of the meeting last night he declared that it was one of the largest he had ever attended in years. The beauties of Peterborough were eulogized by the speaker, and especially did he praise the beauty of St. John's church and grounds. It recalled, he said, the old churches and England with its ivy and gray walls. The streets and buildings could compare with any city in Canada. "You have a summer resort in Stoney Lake unsurpassed on the continent of America," he said, speaking of the lovely lake trip.

Head Council Commander Clair Jarvis spoke very briefly before opening the meeting. He expressed appreciation at the Mayor's welcome and the committee's efforts.

TRENT CANAL

There exists considerable difference of opinion regarding the maximum size of vessels that can pass through the Trent Valley Canal to Peterborough. In order to clear up any misapprehension regarding this point, Mr. A. L. Killaly supplies the following information:

TRENT CANAL.

Lake Ontario to Peterborough.

The largest vessels which, at the present time, can reach Peterborough from Lake Ontario are, 154 ft. long, if full canal width of 32 ft. If vessel is of lesser width a greater length can be accommodated, the extreme being 162 ft. long provided vessel is not wider than 21 ft.

Square built scows of 32 ft. beam to a length of 145 ft. can be accommodated. Square built scows of 21 ft. beam or less to a length of 154 ft. can be accommodated.

The present available depth of this section of the canal is about 7 ft., which will be increased to 8 ft. 4 in. by the completion of dredging now proceeding in the Otonabee river.

Lake Ontario to Lake Simcoe.

The largest vessels which can reach Lake Simcoe from Lake Ontario are: 118 ft. long if they do not exceed 22 ft. in width.

Square built scows of a width of 31 ft. or less can be accommodated to a length of 104 ft.

The available depth of this section is 6 ft.

Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay.

After the opening of the lock at Washago (July) the largest motor boat of usual design which can make the trip from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay by being taken over marine railways at Swift's Rapid and Big Chute will be: 35 ft. long, 9 ft. beam and about 3 ft. draft. The weight of such vessels should not exceed 5 tons.

AMERICAN PATRIOT WENT TO JAIL FOR HIS DEBTS

Robert Morris, the patriot who saved the United States at the most critical point in its history by providing the necessary funds to continue the Revolutionary War, but who later in his life was subjected to the humiliation of imprisonment for paltry debts, is to be honored with a statue that is shortly to adorn the terrace of the old United States Customs House in Chestnut street, below Fifth, in Philadelphia. It was Morris who traveled around Philadelphia, defying a swirling snowstorm and inducing financiers of his time to subscribe to a fund in aid of the new Government.

Morris was a delegate to the Continental Congress, and was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. When the test came he placed his immense wealth at the disposal of his country, pledging his credit to the amount of $1,400,000. When the war was over, Morris dabbled unsuccessfully in speculation in an effort to recoup his lost fortune, and went to jail for his debts.

CONVERTED SOLDIERS' AID PROPETRY TO HIS OWN USE

COBOURG, Jne 15.—Wm. A. Hunter, of the township of Hamilton, appeared before P. M. Floyd of Cobourg on Monday, charged with fraudulently converting to his own use certain stock and chattels, the property of the Soldiers' Aid Settlement of Canada, in that he removed part of the animals and chattels on which he received a loan from the Department, to the Village of Whitefish, in the district of Sudbury. He was allowed out on $2,000 bail and remanded until June 15th.

BARR CRIME FILMS.

COBOURG, June 16.—The Grand Jury, at the quarterly sessions of the County Court, held here before Judge Roger, with Mr. W. F. Field as foreman, recommended in its presentment that all moving picture films depicting crime be absolutely prohibited, and that youths up to the age of twenty, convicted of crime, be put in separate institutions from hardened criminals and taught usful trades.

STRICT NEUTRALITY ENJOINED ON BLACK SEA COMMANDERS

LONDON, June 16.—The First Lord of the Admiralty, Right Hon. Walter Long, stated in the House of Commons that British commanders in the Black Sea had been instructed not to assist either the offensive or defensive operations. The Prime Minister again denied that the British had assisted General Wrangel's attack.

WILL BE MODERN CRUISER.

Canadian Authorities Did Not Want Obsolete Gift-Ship.

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, June 15.—There is, as yet, no indication of the name of the cruiser which Canada will receive as a gift from the British Government. It is understood that the cruiser which was offered to the Naval Department by the British Admiralty was not sufficiently modern in design to suit the Canadian authorities, and that they asked for a more modern vessel.

Captain Hose, naval adviser to the Minister of Naval Affairs, is now in England for the purpose of formally taking over the ship presented by the British Government to Canada, and it is thought that he has succeeded in getting the Admiralty to grant Canada a modern cruiser. The name of the ship will probably be announced in a few days when the naval estimates are again under con-

DEMPSEY NOT GUILTY OF DRAFT EVASION

Defence, at That, Fails to Put on Concluding Witnesses.

(Canadian Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey world's heavyweight champion, was found not guilty on a selective draft evasion indictment by a jury in the U. S. District Court here to-day.

Both sides waived final argument in the trial to-day, and immediately thereafter Judge M. T Dooling began instructing the jury. The defense, contrary to its announcement, failed to put on two concluding witnesses.

GIRLS LOSING CASTE PROFEPSSOR TELLS CLASS

PRINCETON, N. J. —"We are weakly allowing ourselves to be ruled by a Goddess of Folly, slaves in her domain to the fashion of the hour. The modern dress, the modern dance, the modern music, and modern manners of to-day are symptoms that indicate that somehow in this age we have lost our bearings, and the old values of life, once so highly prized, have been forgotten."

These startling words, uttered by President John Grier Hibben in his the senior class of Princeton University, were introductory to still more startling statements about the status of woman in present day society. "There is no longer an aura of mystery about the young woman to-day, said Dr. Hibben. "To-day our illusions seem to be gone; everything is obvious; no word is left unsaid and no veil drawn."

LUMBER PRICES DROP IN THE WEST

NO REDUCTIONS IN TORONTO SO FAR NOTICED, SAY LOCAL DEALERS.

TORONTO, June 16. — Although Toronto lumber dealers state that no drop in the price of lumber has taken place here, reports from British Columbia are to the effect that some appreciable reductions have been made there. Prices of all kinds of lumber were reduced by $8 per thousand at a recent meeting of the British Columbia Lumbermen's Association, a Vancouver despatch states, while $3 had been lopped off the price per thousand a short time previously. The logging operators were asked to reduce their price by $3 per thousand to make the cut in lumber costs possible, but so far have not taken any action. Some Westerners maintain that the slump will be of a temporary character only.

In Eastern Canada, it is stated on good authority that the market for seasoned material is holding strong, but those dealers whose stocks are principally made up of comparatively "green" lumber have been experiencing a certain amount of dulness in sales. This condition is attributed to the failure of the expected rush in building circles to materialize. While the builders of the city have had enough work to keep their staffs steadily engaged, the prevailing high prices evidently have held up the erection of a number of big buildings, and as a consequence the extra rush forecasted early in the year has not been forthcoming up to date.

Toronto lumber merchants assert that they cannot see how any appreciable reductions in prices would be possible in view of the high wages being paid to the mill workers and lumbermen.

4,000 COSTUMES WERE DISPLAYED

SIX MILLION FRANCS WON AND LOST ON THE SIX RACES.

PARIS, June 16.—Newest summer styles, including a surprising preponderance of black, were exhibited here when it was estimated that more than 4,000 different costumes appeared in a bewildering panorama of fashion and society which turned out to watch the French Derby, the second greatest French sporting event of the year. The race was run this afternoon for the first time at Longchamps instead of at Chantilly, which as yet has not been repaired after its occupation by the French staff.

So great was the multitude—and it was said more than 130,000 were present—that it was impossible to bet or see the races, unless one had a vantage point, owing to the battle raging before the pari-mutuel booths, where sportsmen fought for the privilege of backing their choices.

The wagering was the heaviest of the season, the stewards announcing that approximately six million francs were lost and won on the six races.

Among the striking costumes was that of the Countess of Derby, who wore a deep blue gabardine, embroidered, a suede hat trimmed with aigrette feathers and a silver fox fur. Lady Ashburton was gowned in an old blue liberty dress with a large mantle of black satin, striped with gauffred ribbon. Her hat was aigrette trimmed.

MAD DOG SCARES GUELPH TOWNSHIP

BITES TWO CHILDREN AND SOME ANIMALS—BELIEVED CASE OF RABIES.

GUELPH, June 16.—A mad Irish terrier dog which visited several farms in vicinity of Paisley Block in Guelph Township did considerable damage before it was finally killed by one of the farmers. The dog went to the farm of Jas. Green, and, after biting two of Mr. Green's children, it also attacked a cow and pig, the latter dying from the effects of the bites which it received. One of the children was bitten through the hand, while the other escaped with a few minor scratches. Later the mad dog visited the farm of John Greive in the same vicinity, entered the stable and attacked a horse. It also bit a young pup owned by Mr. Grieve, with the result that the pup went mad and acted in the same peculiar manner as the dog. Mr. Grieve destroyed both the dog and his own pup and the head of the latter was sent to Toronto today for examination. It is believed that the mad animal was suffering from rabies and the result of examination is awaited with much interest. The strange dog apparently came from Woodstock, as it was wearing a collar bearing two Woodstock tags.

Metal Beds in "Period" Designs—Just Brought Out by Simmons Limited

THE "SHERATON" Bed illustrated above in Twin Pair is one of those beautiful new Simmons designs that women all over the city are talking about because of their exquisite harmony with the very best bedroom decoration today.

You will see perhaps a dozen designs in the leading stores—and not the least remarkable thing about them is that they cost little if any more than the ordinary metal beds you have been seeing for years.

* * *

THE woman who has been divided in her mind between her liking for the undoubted cleanliness of metal beds, and her distress at the way they look in the room—will be interested in knowing just how these new Simmons designs came about.

Simmons Limited has been working on the problem of good design in metal beds for years.

But really good designs cannot be carried out in old-style tubing. It has a seam running the full length of the tube. It cannot be worked into the shapes. It is apt to be rough—does not take the enamel smoothly.

All these new designs are made with the Simmons Seamless Tubing—a new invention of the greatest practical importance.

Square and trim—free from joint, seam and roughness. Beautifully smooth, so that the enamel lies tight and evenly all over—does not scratch, check or chip.

* * *

YOU will find these fine new Simmons designs in Beds Built for Sleep in the leading stores. Quiet beds, with the Simmons Pressed Steel Corner Locks—free from squeak or rattle.

Your choice of many different patterns—and of Twin Pairs and Double Width in each pattern. Enameled in the accepted Decorative Colors, and in Mahogany, Oak and Circassian Walnut.

Simmons Springs, too—

"Waldorf" Box Spring—Composed of finest oil-tempered double-cone spirals, mounted on a frame of seasoned hardwood and upholstered with heavy layers of white cotton felt. Covered with attractive ticking. Finished with roll edge. A spring that really does give freely to all the contours of the body, yet supports the spine in any sleeping position.

And some very charming Brass Beds and Children's Cribs, together with Simmons Mattresses and Pillows—all built for sleep by Simmons Limited.

* * *

SIMMONS Beds, Springs, Mattresses and Pillows cost little if any more than the ordinary merchandise of the average store.

A post card to us will bring you the names of Simmons merchants near your home.

CONVENTION LITTER A TASK TO CLEAN UP

CHICAGO, June 14.—It is conceivable that by and by the Congress and the Auditorium and the other boom centres will be cleaned up, because four years ago on the day after they looked very much as they do now, and a week ago, when the first of the faithful arrived, they were in good order. Manifestly they must have been cleaned up in the meantime.

But today this part of the town is a mess. Every one knows that men who separately are orderly and neat and careful enough can make a terrible wreck of things when they get together to play poker. Just so, when they gather to shuffle the political deck, they are apt to mistake the carpet for an ash tray, the bath tub for a waste paper basket, and so on.

Added to this is the inevitable litter of tons of discarded propaganda in the rooms and the corridors and on the streets and in the gutters, horns and those things you whirl around to make a rattling noise lie in littered heaps, and the portraits of men with leanings toward the Presidency are jumbled together in a fashion that would have necessitated calling out the police had it been the candidates themselves.

The only busy people here today are sundry persons with fat checkbooks industriously paying the final reckoning. All sorts of lavish expenditures have been made in the heat and excitement of the last days, and now comes the proverbial piper with his bill.

BUILDING TRADES TO WAR ON ONE BIG UNION.

Will Send Representatives to Winnipeg to Open the Campaign.

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, June 3.—The building trades organisations of the Federation, at a meeting here to-day, declared war on the One Big Union of Canada. They decided to send representatives from each of the twenty international unions of the building trades department into Winnipeg, Man., to open the campaign.

The One Big Union movement, Vancouver, B.C., Montreal, and other cities will also be fought by similar methods.

Officials of the building trades union said that it had been decided to revoke charters of all local unions that fail to oust One Big Union members. New locals will be formed wherever a charter is withdrawn.

As the One Big Union has not "made much progress" in the United States, it was stated, little attention will be given the situation there at the present time.

The railroad group in the annual convention of the American Federation of Labour here to-day began drafting plans for a fight to win endorsement of the Plumb plan for Government ownership of railroads.

WAR ROMANCE

Ex-Canadian and American Soldier Marries London Girl.

Only recently has come to light a war romance which resulted in a happy conclusion. A London girl and a Chicago reporter were the principals.

While a member of the Canadian Engineers at Brockville, Ont., in August, 1917, Charles F. Stuart, a former member of the reportorial staff of the Chicago Tribune, came to this city to spend a few weeks' leave. Here he met Miss Erie Mason, daughter of Thomas Mason, 379 Horton street.

The young American went overseas, but was sent home from England. Determined to play a part in the war he enlisted with the United States navy, and went to France, where he served on the Loan front with the 15th Marines.

On his return home he did not go back to newspaper work, but went on the stage. While playing at a local theatre in April last he saw Miss Mason, whom he had not met for three years. After the performance they renewed their acquaintance.

Three days later Miss Mason was going to Toronto. She met the newspaperman on the train. He was going there also, to fill an engagement at a theatre. The wedding took place in the Ontario capital shortly after.

The happy couple are at present residing in this city. Mr. Stuart is a son of Rev. Thomas W. Stuart, who is in charge of a large Chi[illegible] church.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16TH, 1920.

A GOVERNMENT DIFFERENCE.

Hon. Mr. Drury would doubtless be highly delighted if some of his ministers and followers would remember that silence is golden. First Government Whip Andrew Hicks is reported to have said that "appalling sums" were offered as bribes to members fo the Legislature. When that speech created a furore in the province, Mr. Hicks blamed the reporters, and a strong wind that was blowing for causing an erroneous report of his speech to appear in the newspapers. There were a few smiles at that explanation, but the papers are accustomed to be accused of mistakes in affairs of that kind and the whole matter might have been soon forgotten. But now the Provincial Treasurer, Hon. Mr. Smith, frankly informs a reporter that he was present at the picnic at which Mr. Hicks spoke and that he got the same impression as the reporters. And there you are. The press reports on Mr. Hicks' address and the Provincial Treasurer's recollections of what was said agree, yet the government whip says he was misquoted There is something wrong somewhere, and if the Premier has any spare time on his hands he might devote a little of it to the Hicks' mystery.

THE STREET RAILWAY CASE.

In these columns yesterday, in making a reference to the Toronto Street Railway situation the Examiner commented upon the unusual nature of the award of the Conciliation Board, inasmuch as the representative of the men on that Board had signed the report recommending that no concessions should be made. At the time the article was written the situation was just as described, but later developments have altered the case to some extent, inasmuch as Mr. John T. Vick, the representative of the Street Railway employees, now declares that although he did actually sign the award, he did so under a misapprehension of the facts and he has since submitted a minority report in which he recommends that the men shall be paid the same rates as their comrades on the civic car lines.

So after all this particular Conciliation Board did not differ from other tribunals of the same kind as much as the Examiner imagined, although Mr. Vick, in recommending a maximum wage of 66c. an hour, when the men he represents have asked for 85c. an hour, has taken a more independent stand in the matter than has usually been the case with similar arbitrators in the past.

PENSION CHANGES.

The announcement that the report of the Special Pensinos Committee of the House of Commons will recommend against any further bonuses or cash gratuities need occasion no surprise. In the first place the government has definitely declared that there will be no more cash grants, so that there would have been no advantage in recommending gratuities of that kind even if the committee had approved of that method of re-establishment.

From the forecasts of the committee's report that have been published, it is evident that the inquiry should have the effect of making conditions better for those who were incapacitated as a result of the war. The pension scale is to be revised and changed with increases provided for as well as a more careful survey of each case, basing the amount of pension more accurately upon conditions of health and the extent of disability than has been the case in the past. Many other recommendations, it is understood, are to be made, including increased pay for the dependents of disabled soldiers and for the wives and other dependents of the men who gave their lives. In the case of women pensioners it is satisfactory to note that the committee will recommend that henceforth that no attention will be taken of any earnings the pensioners may make. The recommendation that tubercular patients should receive better consideration is another important suggestion that should be acted upon.

One important re-establishment feature that is not mentioned in the newspaper forecasts of the committee's report is the question of government insurance for the many returned soldiers who, by reason of their disability, are unable to obtain a policy from one of the regular companies. It was hoped that this system would have been recommended by the committee.

AVOID BREEZY DAYS.

The season of farmers' picnics is at hand and this year to an extent never before reached, these gatherings will be distinguished by a feast of oratory as the U.F.O. members of the Legislature discuss with their constituents the events of the session just closed and political matters in general. Premier Drury may well await with a good deal of trepidation the cycle of rural picnics and meetings, for there is always the risk that some over zealous follower will make an injudicious speech that will be a source of embarrassment and annoyance to the government. Some of the U.F.O. members may prove to be as unfortunate in their choice of a day upon which to make a speech as was Mr. Hicks, the government whip, who undertook to speak "on a windy day," as he puts it, and the June breezes blew words into the newspapers that Mr. Hicks says he did not utter. The result has been unfortunate inasmuch as the Farmer whip was reported to have made the statement that there had been frequent attempts during the session to bribe members of the Legislature and naturally there were many newspapers who were curious to know all about these alleged bribing incidents and to know, too, what Premier Drury proposed to do about the charges.

The Premier should see that Secretary J. J. Morrison of the U. F. O. sends out a circular letter to the Farmer members advising them in all kindliness to select a calm day for their orators. If many more of them make the same mistake as Mr. Hicks and attempt a speech when the summer breezes are strong, Premier Drury will have cause to pray that he may be delivered from his friends.

A GOVERNMENT HOUSE QUESTION.

The question of the maintenance of a Government House—an official residence for the Governor-General, or, as the case may be, the Lieutenant-Governor—has often proved a disturbing one in Canadian politics. The member of radical or ultra-economical views finds in expenditure on such property a tempting subject for criticism. Ottawa's outlay of this kind has not lately been questioned, but there have been times when keen inquiry has been made into such things. When the Farmers' Party is seeking for grounds of criticism it may raise this question as it has already done in the case of the Provincial Government House at Toronto.

The Farmer-Labour Government of Ontario found that it was easier to talk of the waste of money on Government House than to do away with the institution. When the farmers in power began to talk of abolishing the Ontario Government House, the Lieutenant-Governor, in a public speech, charged them, in effect, with Bolshevism. The Farmers' Government did not resign. Government House still lives.

In New Brunswick some years ago the radical economists made such a fuss over Government House that the Government of the day abolished the hated thing. The buildings were used for other purposes and the Lieutenant-Governor has ever since been left to wander where he pleases in search of a home. In several of the other Provinces attacks were made on Government House, but without success.

In Prince Edward Island, a peculiar situation has arisen. In Charlottetown, Government House has not for some years occupied as prominent a place in the social world as in the olden time. In war-time the buildings were turned over to the military authorities for hospital purposes, and a private house was taken for the Governor's use. The war being over, and the buildings available for other purposes, it is suggested that they might usefully be converted into a summer hotel. In furtherance of this movement the Government introduced and carried through the Legislature a bill giving them the right to dispose of the property. This bill the Lieutenant-Governor has declined to sign; it is "reserved for the pleasure of His Excellency the Governor-General."

This is not the first time that the right of a Provincial Government to dispose of a Government House has been called in question. While the point, we believe, has never been judicially determined, there is much ground for the opinion that the title—in the case of such property held by Provinces before the passing of the Confederation Act—is in the Dominion and not in the Provinces. Under the Confederation Act all property whatsoever belonging to the Provinces was vested in the Dominion, subject, however, to a reservation of certain property for Provincial purposes. It is claimed that under this provision the occupation of Government House is reserved to the Provincial Government, who are free to use it for any Provincial purpose, but not free to dispose of it. It is probably on this ground that the Lieutenant-Governor of Prince Edward Island has declined to sign a bill designed to enable the Government to sell the property.

The refusal of a Lieutenant-Governor to assent to a bill promoted by his constitutional advisers is such an unusual event that it is likely to attract much notice. It implies a disagreement between the Crown's representative and his advisers, which in most cases must lead to the resignation of the Ministry. In this case, for the reason we have given, the Governor may have a ground for his action. The pity is that the whole matter was not frankly discussed between the Governor and his Ministers at the beginning, and that they did not refrain from pressing in the Legislature a bill that he was not prepared to sign.—Journal of Commerce.

WARDEN NICHOLLS' ADDRESS

In looking over the conditions that exist to-day I can but voice the sentiments of all in the recognition of the hand of a kind Providence in that notwithstanding the great strain that our country experienced as a result of the recent war we optimistically look forward to normal conditions practically being restored.

Having been favored with ideal seeding conditions it is reasonably safe to say that good results will follow.

On behalf of this Council and predecessors I take this opportunity of placing on record appreciation of the great service rendered to the Empire by those brave Canadian boys and so many from Peterborough City and County who fell on the battle fields of Europe and also we will always admire, and respect and glory in the prosperity of those returned G.W.V. who suffered and sacrificed so much in order that we might continue to enjoy the great heritage (Canada) and the freedom of the Government that is so essential to the prosperity and happiness of her people.

It is the aim of the Council to not engage in expenditure beyond absolute necessity. With that object in view your various Committees are no doubt governing themselves accordingly. I refer to the extension to the Registry Office that appears necessary. In making such reference I merely do so to open up the question again before the Whole Council when Mr. Coughlin, who is Chairman and who has taken a lot of trouble to secure data for his colleagues may have a chance to explain why he did not authorize immediate action in the matter.

Debenture Debt Light.

To carry on any building would cost considerable now or more than is anticipated in the future consequently the Council deems it advisable to move slowly. Whilst our debenture debt is only $139,170.77 yet I think it wiser to not add to such debt at present. The extending of the Registry Office could be accomplished by one mill on the dollar and I am firmly of the opinion that Highway improvement should be met from year to year without extending the payment over a period of years thereby necessitating a lot of interest to be paid on expenditures for a purpose that will not be permament in this country that is subjected to such deep frost making permanent road building only temporary at best from a County standpoint.

All but four of the Northern Townships are now in the "Highway System," they remaining out, from the fact that the Minister of Highways decided that Highway assistance, and Colonization Road assistance cannot be obtained at one and the same time from the Province.

Upon the advice of the Engineer the system is now being carried out in this County on the "flat rate." Both the Minister and Engineer claim that there is no provision in the Act otherwise.

Surburban Roads.

The "Highway Committee" had practically decided to recommend that a rate of 2 mills on the dollar be struck for this year, but to provide for emergencies it was decided to fix it at 2½ mills. Subsequent to that time the "Surburban Area Commission" had selected a "Surburban Area Mileage," in part, and have notified the City, and the Department to that effect, asking for $20,000 for the purpose, to be provided as follows: The Government, $8,000; the City, $6,000; the County, $6,000; and, I am of the opinion that owing to the scarcity of help and inexperience in the conduct of such expenditure that we are not justified to raise more than 2½ mills for such purpose this year.

The Clerk will report to the Council proceedings of the Surburban Commission up to the present embodying their estimate as per statute

Other matters I will not refer to, from the fact that the Chairman in each case, under whose jurisdiction such authority is vested, is in a better position to deal with the same.

Having in mind the evidence of the interest in the conduct of the affairs of the County since the beginning of the year that you have all taken, it would be presumptious of me to offer advice, other than a general reference to important matters as I have endeavored to do.

Words fail me to express my appreciation of the unstinted assistance and co-operation since the day you honored me with the position of Warden that each of you have given me, and any credit to be ascribed must be ascribed to you.

I sincerely ask for a continuance of the same.

Respectfully yours,

G. B. NICHOLLS,
Warden.

OFFERS BACK KIDNAPED BABY FOR $12,000 IN CASH

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 15.—"I have received a letter from a man signing himself "The Crank," demanding $12,000, which I believe to be authentic. I am willing to negotiate with him personally." That George H. Coughlin, father of Blakely Coughlin, who was kidnaped from his crib on June 2, has entered into negotiations with the abductors, was given out by the father here.

He wants the baby, he said, and will not risk shattering this chance. He will take no one into his confidence.

The letter from "The Crank" was culled from more than 30 received as the genuine demand for ransom. Others sought to impose on the grief stricken and get money without returning the child.

Baby Coughlin was stolen about 2 o'clock in the morning several weeks ago. A ladder was placed near the nursery window of the Coughlin home on Sandy Hill road, Norristown. The kidnappers entered by the ladder and stole the baby.

FIRED HOUSE FOR INSURANCE MONEY

ORILLIA, June 16.—George Wiser and Joseph Sheppard were arrested last Thursday by Chief Reid, charged with arson, got a speedy hearing before Police Magistrate Clark, pleaded guilty, and were sentenced to four years each in the penitentiary at Kingston. Wiser, about a month ago, rented a small house, off the fourth concession, just outside the town limits, moved his family and furniture in, and immediately insured the furniture for $400. Included in his inventory were an organ and some other things which existed only in his imagination. Then he employed Sheppard to set fire to the building during his absence from home. This was done by pouring coal oil over the floor to give the blaze a speedy start. This was carried out between two and three o'clock in the morning, the family by great good fortune being all dressed, ready for any emergency. Then Wiser made affidavit to the alleged contents of the house, including the imaginary organ and other equally non-existent stuff. The story of the carter who moved the furniture established the perjury, and ended ni the confession of both the culprits. An assistant fire marshal from Toronto was here in connection with the case. The prisoners were taken to Barrie on Friday by Constable Trinkwon, to await their removal to Kingston.

STRIKERS CUT OFF MELBOURNE LIGHTS

Serious Labor Upheaval Feared Following Walkout of Enginemen in Power Plants.

MELBOURNE, Australia.—Enginemen in the electric power stations to the number of 800, have struck. It is estimated that the lighting and cooking arrangements of 200,000 families are affected. Many factories are idle. The streets and railway stations are lighted, but the suburbs are in darkness. Efforts are being made to maintain a limited supply of electric power for hospitals and other institutions. The tram service will cease this evening to conserve the power supply.

The enginemen employed in the Government cold storage plant have also struck, leaving thousands of carcasses to spoil. The Government officials are doing their utmost to cope with the situation.

Indications seem to forecast a worse upheaval than that in 1917, as it is feared virtually all the trade organizations will eventually be involved in the present movement.

BANK OF ENGLAND IS TO BE RE-BUILT

"OLD LADY OF THREADNEEDLE STREET" IS INADEQUATE TO PRESENT DAY NEEDS.

LONDON, June 16.—The Bank of England is to be rebuilt. The governors and court of directors of the institution for the past 25 years have considered the advisability of replacing the black one-storey, "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street" with a more modern and commodious structure. The inadequacy of the venerable pile to meet present day needs has necessitated the establishment, since the beginnng of the war, of six outside branch offices in various parts of London to house the bank's growing army of clerks and newly created departments.

Established in 1691, the Bank of England is the oldest national bank in Europe. Millions of people throughout the world know the outside of the low, black building which for more than two centuries has been the Empire's financial center. Its central part was erected in 1732-34 but the outer part, which one sees from adjacent streets dates from 1788.

The present building spreads over four acres of what is perhaps the most valuable real estate in the world, in the heart of London's world-training centre. At least once, in December, 1825, it saved the country from bankruptcy. During the Lord George Gordon riots of June, 1780, it withstood a two-days' attack by a mob which was driven off by soldiers stationed outside and clerks and bank officials who mounted the walls.

Since that date the bank has been guarded every night by a detachment of thirty-six soldiers, who, commanded by an officer, march down from London Tower and take up their positions on the walls at sundown.

BERMUDA TO KEEP ITS TERCENTENARY

THERE ARE OLD-TIMERS THERE WHO HAVE NEVER SET EYES ON A TRAIN.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 16.—Bermuda, the oldest remaining British "plantation," is preparing to celebrate its tercentenary this Autumn, for which purpose £2,000 has been appropriated. Since the Prince of Wales announced the other day that he meant to pay a call on his loyal subjects, they hit on the scheme of combining two festive occasions and having one grand affair on October 7, when the Renown, with the heir to the throne aboard, is to cast anchor here.

It was August 1, 1620, that the Colonial Parliament held its first sitting, but as the royal engagements cannot very well be altered, it was thought wise to set back the gala date.

For nearly 300 years the business of governing this little outpost of the Empire has gone on under the same forms without material change. It is but natural that the 20,000 inhabitants of this 20 square miles of coral rock should wish to honor their aged constitution.

Originally founded by a shipwrecked company under Sir George Somers, destined for Virginia in 1609, these isolated islands have remained continously under British rule.

Revenues are raised chiefly from tariff duties. No land taxes are levied by the colony. There is a very light tax on realty in the parishes and the proceeds are used for maintenance of the poor.

There are no divorce laws in Bermuda and only one breach-of-promise case was ever tried here. Most of the cases on the calendar involve bicycle stealing, assault, petty theft; there is little serious crime, though in a region where everyone rides a wheel the theft of a bicycle is regarded somewhat as horse stealing was in the West a few years ago.

There are old-timers who have never set eyes on a train or a trolley car; but of late they have had the satisfaction of seeing flying-boats circling through the air.

Innovations of any kind are apt to be looked on with some suspicion. The majority is conservative and that is perhaps why so much sentiment is attached to the coming celebration of the 300-year-old constitution.

KING GEORGE OPENS BRITISH WAR SHOW

INSPECTS DISPLAY OF RELICS AT CRYSTAL PALACE

LONDON, June 16. — King George, accompanied by Queen Mary and Princess Mary, opened the Imperial War Museum at the Crystal Palace, incidentally reopening the famous glass structure at Sydenham after six years' war service. The Crystal Palace is the original building erected in Hyde Park for the famous fair of 1851 and transfered to its present south London home some years later. Since the outbreak of the war, it has been used as a training depot for recruits, transport and motorlorry depot and a demobilization centre.

The Imperial War Museum is to be permanent, but this year it is being run in conjunction with the Great Victory Exhibition, a combination which taxes even the capacity of the world's largest exhibition building. Every type of war engine is on view, from an automatic pistol to the biggest howitzer, from a trench dagger to a tank, and many secrets of Britain's resources in the war are revealed, in part at least ,to the public for the first time.

There is an imposing display of captured German, Austrian, Turkish and Bulgarian trophies. An important feature of the Victory Exhibition is that devoted to oil exhibits making possible some appreciation of the part played by oil in the long struggle.

WATER SHORTAGE AFFECTS LONDON

ALL LAWN SPRINKLING AND GARDEN WATERING NOW FORBIDDEN.

LONDON, Ont., June 15.—The prolonged period of dry weather has had a serious effect on London's sources of water supply, as a result of which the Public Utilities Commission was compelled to issue orders forbidding the use of water for lawn or garden services until further notices. Instructions were also given that consumers must immediately have all leaks repaired, on penalty of being immediately cut off. The springs and wells are producing less than an average amount, while consumption has run up to more than 6,500,000 gallons a day, approximately 100 gallons per capita.

The killing of the City of London Bill in the Legislature is blamed for a part of the trouble, because the city is unable to carry out a plan to supply C. P. R. locomotives and shops with river water, and thereby save a quarter of a million gallons of spring water daily. The drought is also threatening the strawberry crop. One grower, who claims to have refused $1,000 for his yield two weeks ago today, offered to sell out at $300.

Insurance Companies Will Pay.

Fifty insurance companies that carried the risk on the London Collegiate Institute have arranged to settle with the city for the full $70,000. That was the only protection the city carried, although the loss is variously estimated at a quarter to a half million dollars.

BOLSHEVIK ARMY GREATLY INCREASED

THIRTY-THREE DIVISIONS IDENTIFIED IN KIEV AREA.

WARSAW, June 15.—Polish troops which were withdrawn from Kiev now occupy a line running from the lower Pripet River through Malin and Jitmoir to Berdicheff. The battle is continuing.

The Bolsheviki are now entering the Kiev region, backed by the greatest number of divisions the Poles have ever faced, according to reports received to-night. The Poles are withdrawing their main forces.

The Bolsheviki are now entering the Kiev district from the south through territory first overrun by the cavalry of General Budenny. Opposite Kiev the Bolsheviki have encountered difficulties in crossing the Dnieper, owing mainly to the fact that the bridge had been destroyed by the Poles.

Heavy Fighting.

Heavy fighting is reported at various points in the region, the Poles giving up ground only where they are outnumbered.

The Bolshevik concentration for the recapture of Kiev has been in progress for a month.

Thirty-three divisions have been identified in the concentration, through captured prisoners. It is known also that there are other divisions which have not yet been identified, the computations indicating that the Bolsheviki never before have had such numbers in he fighting line against the Poles In February there were only seven divitions of Soviet troops along the entire front, but, beginning with the spring offensive, their numbers began to increase.

Germans With Reds.

On various parts of the Front recently German hand grenade throwers have been captured, and also a number of orders written in German. Some of these Germans were brought up against the Poles after the defeat of General Denikine.

The pre-war Polish population of Kiev was 70,000, but when the Poles took the city it was about 20,000, many of whom were women and children. These later the Polish Government had planned to bring to Warsaw, with the assistance of the Red Cross. At last accounts the transfer of the refugees had not been started

The Bolsheviki, it developed today, launched an attack in Polesia, designed to aid the Soviet forces to cross the Dnieper in the region near the mouth of the Pripet, in the Kiev drive. The new attack, however, was repulsed with heavy losses, according to Sunday's communique.

The statement issued by the War Office saited that several battalions of Bolsheviki crossed the Dnieper near Golibovem. The Poles counter-attacked, driving the Bolsheviki into the Dnieper in great confusion, 800 of them being drowned and about 100 prisoners taken.

The communique says that General Smigley's forces withdrew from Kiev for strategic reason.

PRINTER'S RULE KEPT IN HARDING'S POCKET

He Said Last Week He'd Rather Make Up Front Page Than be President.

CHICAGO. — Of course they are telling all the anecdotes they can remember concerning Warren G. Harding. "By the way," says the man in the street to anybody he meets, "have you heard this one about Harding?" It goes on all day among that part of the convention crowd which remains in Chicago. Some of the narrators really know the candidate and can talk interestingly of his personality and doings.

"Do you know," observed one of these, "that the Senator habitually carries a printer's rule in his pocket? I met him the other evening, when nobody about Chicago seemed to think he had much chance of getting the nomination. He happened to fish out the rule.

"'Well,' he said, laughing, 'I may never get to be President, but It's all right. I'd rather make up the front page of a daily newspaper than go to the White House.'"

They will agree that he's a human being, despite his dignified bearing and stately appearance. His favorite sport, if it can be called that, is poker. As will be recalled; one of the first comments he made about the convention result was that it reminded him of drawing a full house to a pair of eights.

Don't Worry About Your Victory Bonds

Victory Bonds today are stronger than they have ever been. The important announcement of the Minister of Finance that Canada has finished borrowing, means that there will be no increase in the supply of these bonds.

The huge sums of money that must be invested from time to time in the highest possible grade of security, will therefore seek investment in existing issues. This should mean a greatly increased demand, and have a strengthening effect on prices.

If you have money less well employed, we recommend that you invest it in Victory Loan Bonds at present prices.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

(Bay of Quinte Branch)

Miss L. Haddy, of Bowmanville, presented the following interesting paper at the convention of the Woman's Missionary Society, Bay of Quinte branch, held in this city recently.

How can we enlist the young women of the Bay of Quinte conference for service in the mission field?

In answering this question we might say there are several ways but I think the two important ones are by placing before them the necessity of their service and the claim the church and mission fields have upon them as workers and, of course, our chief resort is through prayer. Our opportunities for service are certainly numerous and most varied. If you are looking for the place where your life will count the most here it is in the mission field.

In considering these opportunities for service offered to our young women by the mission field, we assume the truth of two rather simple propositions. We believe, in the first place, that there is an abundance of qualified and available young women in the church to evangelize the whole world. In the second place, we believe that the church can well spare them for this work and is willing and able to support them unstintedly in it. We also believe that there are young women standing ready and willing to take up this work, as soon as they are sure that the career offered is worth while. It is a fact that women of the highest type of unquestionable ability and adequate preparation do not offer themselves in sufficient numbers. This only proves that they do not know of the almost unlimited possibilities of the missionary life. So we must show them the largeness of the task and that it offers a career worth while. There was a time when sentiment and emotion were the chief factors in the decision for mission service; not so to-day. These do not form the basis of our missionary zeal. Duty was once supposed to be a sufficient and all-constraining motive for becoming a missionary. There was an idea that unless, like Joan they heard the voice, they were not willing to answer the call. For our young women of today opportunity, is the voice, the need of untold millions of our fellow men is the call, the Master's command to preach the gospel to every creature is the sufficient impelling force, and, oh, it cannot be too strongly urged that the voice comes to and the call is for and the impulse is back of every true disciple of Jesus The first question to be answered is, Can I go?

There must be today in our Bay of Quinte branch many young women who when they hear the appeal can give no other answer than yes I can go. Some of you are splendidly endowed with health, some are rich, need have no anxiety over themselves, nor the sources of their income, while on the King's business. For everyone who says they can go there are many who must answer, I cannot go but I can send. But we are not so much in need of senders just now as we are goers. I want, if I can, to show that the missionary work is worth while and is big enough for our best women. No one wants to enter a career that even tends to make life narrow or circumscribed or superficial. The missionary life and work is at the very top as a broadener of personal life. A young women must be seriously deformed to begin with if the mission life does not do more for her than almost any other calling. Why, because her life begins with a broad general education followed by such preparation as only the best colleges can afford. Here is a life of many lands and divers people. It is a life of research and exploration. The great peoples of the world, black and brown, yellow and white, will turn to the Lord Jesus Christ as the only practical solution of their problem of life. How they shall apprehend Him. How they shall understand Him. Will depend largely on the men and women who during the next few years say I will go.

Children of Today.

The future of our cause will be determined by the children of today. Are they having stamped into their mind a picture of the glorious work of missions and the challenge of the great non-Christian world? There is every reason that Methodism should be missionary in spirit and practice. How God has blessed us. How He has prepared us to be means in His hands for the evangelization of the world. See our strength, our vast numbers, etc. Are we not under strong obligation to do great things and to send the gospel to all lands? We have done much but it is small compared to what we should do. The right kind of missionaries will have an unbounded influence in determining what the great oriental church of Christ is to be. The mission field offers to young women today, who look upon life as a trust, the opportunity to invest talents committed to them whether one or five or ten in a way that is worth while, and that will bring returns all along the way. The dividends are even better than Victory Bonds —they are eternal. Worldly salaries are limited; God's pay is generous. Worldly employers pay when the world is done; God's payment begins as soon as the work begins. Besides placing before the young women the need of their help and service, our chief resort is their prayer, workers of church labor together in prayer for the desired conversion. It has ever been their prayer that missionaries have been secured. One reason our progress is so slow is because our piety and prayers have been shallow at home. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the Harvest to thrust forth reapers into His harvest.

Christianity is a trust. The Christian is the steward, a dispensation of the gospel has been committed to him. It is required that he may be found faithful.

PAINTED CITY WITH TAX BILLS

JULY 2ND IS THE LAST DAY OF GRACE.

"We have painted the city pink with tax bills," the tax collector said this afternoon. Already the returns have become to come in and although there is no discount given if both instalments are paid at once, Mr. Green said many people were paying them both at once. All the bills have been sent. "If there is any dissatisfaction over the bills all they need to do is to come to the office and we will straighten the matter out." July 2nd is the last day of grace allowed in which to pay the first instalment.

COAL PRICES NEXT WINTER

THINKS $16 A TON SHOULD BE LIMIT.

TORONTO, June 16.—"I would consider that statement quite unfounded," was the terse comment of P. J. Harrington, fuel controller for Ontario, when asked yesterday afternoon by a reporter what truth there might be in the report from one of the outlying centres that coal might jump to twenty dollars a ton before next winter had run its course. "As a matter of fact it is impossible to give out any definite statements upon the matter," continued Mr. Harrington, "but I think we may place the high water mark this coming winter at $17 a ton. One thing we will undoubtedly have to look forward to this year will be an increase in United States freight rates. They would bring the price of coal up say 68 cents. Then the Canadian rates will also be increased, say 25 cents. That will increase the cost of coal a dollar upon existing rates, sixteen dollars a ton. Personally, I see no reason why coal should be any dearer."

Arthur J. Balfour, the English statesman, is noted for his bachelorhood. At a dinner party once an inquisitive lady asekd him plump and plain: "Mr. Balfour, tell me now are you a bachelor from choice?" "Yes," came the prompt answer. "But isn't that—er—rather ungracious and amlignant?" she protested. Mr. Balfour smiled. "You must ask the ladies," he suggested gently. "It was their choice, not mine."

"There's a Reason"

SHORT OF BREATH
Could Hardly Walk Without Resting

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes:—"I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

TRUCK SERVICE MAY CHANGE SCHOOL PLAN

CHILDREN MAY BE CARRIED TO TOWN INSTITUTIONS.

DETROIT, June 16.—The little red school house on the hill, so romantically pictured in fiction yet sadly inefficient as an educational institution, will be a thing of the past as the bill to be presented in Congress to utilize United States mail trucks for transporting children to and from school in the rural districts is passed.

The object of the bill is to consolidate the educational facilities of the country districts, eliminating many of the school houses and thereby concentrating education in given districts with better school houses, higher paid teachers and consequently better education. This would be brought about, it is argued by adherents of this bill, by bringing the children to the school house instead of the school house to the children.

Already many of the smaller communities of the country have put into actual practice through private community enterprise the fundamental idea back of the bill. Two examples in California are the El Cajon Union High School and the Anaheim Union High School, which were established for the use of residents in a number of the nearby towns.

A one-ton Federal was purchased for the El Cajon School with a special bus body. Thirty-one passengers can be comfortably seated in it. The truck makes two trips a day, each eight miles.

The Anaheim Union High School, which covers an even larger territory, is operating a fleet of several Federals with much the same body construction.

A number of the schools are using adaptable bodies, which do other work on contract during that part of the day when not occupied with their school trips and on Saturdays. Other school lines are operated by farmers' co-operative trucking companies, which handle the transportation of the pupils at a fixed rate per pupil or per family.

Regardless of the weather, the intense heat or the biting cold, these trucks are bringing a higher type of education to the very doors of the rural community dwellers.

SEEK FOR CLEWS IN ELWOOD MURDER

JEALOUSY OR VENGEANCE FOR LOSSES AT CARDS ARE POLICE THEORIES.

NEW YORK, June 16. — Jealousy over a woman or vengeance for heavy losses sustained at cards—which, if either—furnished the motive for the murder here last Friday of Joseph B. Elwell, wealthy turf man and "whist wizard."

The police were fluctuating between these theories in their efforts to solve a crime which, they admitted, was the most baffling they had encountered in years.

Clues point to the woman theory, according to the majority of the detectives working on the case. They claimed this theory was strengthened when it was learned that Marie Larson, Elwell's housekeeper, had found in the bedroom of his handsome home when he was shot a woman's silk undergarment. This garment is reported to belong to a New York society woman, whose name is being withheld pending her examination.

Conviction that the husband of this woman, an ex-army man, killed the whist expert was expressed by some detectives. The size of the fatal bullet and the fact that it had a steel jacket point to the fact that a Government automatic pistol was used, they said. A .45 is too large a weapon for popular civilian use, they explained, and the steel jacket indicate dthat the bullet was fired from an automatic.

Joseph S. Elwell, father of the card expert, obtained permission from the Surrogate Court to open a safe deposit vault which, he said, contained his son's will.

The safe deposit vault was opened and what purports to be Elwell's last will was found. This document was said to leave all his real estate and personal property to his mother and father.

PREDICT IMMENSE OIL DISCOVERIES IN WEST

Calgary and Edmonton Land Co. Agents Make Optimistic Report.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 16.—Some details regarding the possibilities of the existence of petroleum in Western Canada was given at a meeting of the Calgary and Edmonton Land Co. here when the chairman read a despatch from the company's Winnipeg agents which stated that prospecting for oil was being carried out systematically and that it was felt that ultimately disovecries of immense value will be made, though the exact location of oil is problematical.

The Financial News remarks that this sounds a little optimistic, but thinks that unless there had been optimists in the world oil would never have been discovered at all.

FIELD NIGHT AT WOODMEN QUARTERS

SEVERAL CANDIDATES INITIATED INTO MYSTERIES OF WOODCRAFT—A GET-TOGETHER MEETING.

While the W.O.W. Twenty-seventh Dominion Convention did not officially start till to-day, last night's monster meeting in the W.O.W. Hall, when seven local young men were initiated, and speeches of welcome by the Counsel Commander and replies by the Executive were made, was a forerunner to the civic reception at two o'clock this afternoon.

The meeting provided an opportunity for the visiting delegates and local Woodmen to get together and get acquainted, and this they did splendidly. The large assemblage showed a goodly representation of women. On the platform were the executive officers, all of whom are at the city convention except Head Advisory Lieutenant C. C. Hodgins, of Kingston. Council Commander Andrew Graham presided.

Following the initiations, the executive and delegates were welcomed to the local camp by Council Commander Andrew Graham. "I am sure we are all pleased to have them here with us to-night." He said that on the appeal of the Head Council Commander last January that they make this a record year, the local organization dropped into line and rolled up the fine total of 103 members, while ten more have been passed by the Head Physician. "As Council Commander of Sherwood Forest Camp I feel justly proud of what the members have done." He had been informed," he said, "that Sherwood Camp headed the list of all camps."

On behalf of Sherwood Camp, little Miss Erma Graham, daughter of the Council Commander, presented the Head Council Commander with a beautiful bouquet of roses, as a token of the appreciation of the camp for what had been done for them.

"I can only assure you, on behalf of my colleagues, that we appreciate very much this present," said Head C. C. Jarvis, in reply. "I want to say that we appreciate this splendid gathering of Woodmen, not only of Peterborough, but of places stretching from Ottawa on the east to Winnipeg on the west, and to-morrow we may have a delegate here from Vancouver." The executive, he said, had long looked forward to this meeting, and he hoped that the legislation passed would be acceptable and in the best interests of all. He recalled the time at the outset of the year that he asked that 1920 be the best year Woodcraft ever had. Peterborough, he said, had done the best. Organizer J. Plowman bringing in the greatest number of new members from January to May, some 77 in all. When Organizer Plowman was taken away, Mr. A. A. Haskill, the veteran Woodman, was put in his place, and Sovereign Jarvis said that he expected that what had been done in the first six months would be equalled in the last. During the war they were greatly handicapped by the enlistment of the young men that lessened the field for insurance, while it increased greatly the insurance paid out. The influenza epidemic also hit them heavily, but both it and the war caused people to see the value of insurance. At the present time all insurance companies are writing up more insurance than ever before, and the Head Council Commander urged upon every member to exert himself to secure a share of this business for the Woodmen.

Some of the camps were evidently in a rut because the members were, he said, but this was not true of Sherwood Camp. Six thousand members are now in the Order, but by the end of the year Sovereign Jarvis asked for 10,000.

He outlined the excellent financial condition they were in 19 years ago; they only had $275,000 net assets; today they had $1,003,000. He spoke of the excellent work the sickness and benefit policies were doing in protecting families from want. "If we can help to educate the children when the breadwinner is taken away, the country is going to benefit, for the children are the great asset of the country," he said. "We as an organization are going to benefit. No Woodman lies in an unmarked grave," was his commendation of their plan of marking the sovereigns' graves.

"Strengthen your camp and make the Woodmen a dominant factor in fraternal circles in your district," was the energetic officer's parting shot to the gathering.

The Head Clerk, P. C. Hooper, congratulated the local order on their successful campaign, which, he said, should be an incentive to other camps. He wished Sherwood Camp continued prosperity.

Head Banker J. H. Saunders, of London, placed on the ladies much of the credit for the showing. He had never yet regretted his work for the Woodcraft, he said. He praised insurance as one of the great destroyers of poverty.

Rev. Moore, of Uxbridge, formerly of Peterborough, told the delegates to go out and tell the world that the Woodmen are standing on their feet and prepared to stand on their, and success awaits them. He has ever been a keen Woodman.

Manager John Manning, of London, complimented Sherwood Camp on getting such fine young men into the work and urged them to get more.

Head Sentry R. G. Buckingham, of Winnipeg, substituted two very enjoyable recitations for a speech.

Dr. J. B. Gamble, Head Physician, London, commended the officers on their good work and on the excellent meeting which, he said, reminded him of some of the grand old meetings in Brantford 25 years ago. At that time, he said, 100 new members were secured in one month. He felt that a revival was taking place in the work, and that more and more members would be secured.

D. Cinnamon, of Lindsay, Past Head Council Commander, said he was very pleased to be present at the convention, particularly as it was in Peterborough. He commended the work of Organizer Plowman and Mr. A. A. Haskill.

"We must not let up," was his message to the convention, and he also hoped that there would be 10,000 members on the roll at the end of the year."

Head Manager J. B. Hoover also spoke his appreciation of being at the convention.

Following the addresses the ladies served dainty refreshments that were much enjoyed. At about 11.30 the meeting dispersed.

COUNCIL REFERS TO WARDEN'S SERVICE

HEADQUARTERS MOVED TO MONTGOMERY HOUSE—INSPECT GIRVIN'S BRIDGE.

While the Roads and Bridge Committee were inspecting Girvin's bridge on the boundary between Asphodel and Otonabee this morning the other members of the County Council whiled away an hour's waiting in a cursory discussion that admitted almost any topic and switched without notice from grave to gay and back again.

One of the members who was unable to be present for the opening session yesterday afternoon was probably assured that he hadn't missed much except the warden's address. However, he jokingly asked, whether any of his neighbouring reeves had "put anything over" him.

Reeve Shaw, of Harvey, turned that passage into a serious mood. "That's one thing that's never done in the County Council. They'll never take advantage of a man in his absence. Last year I tried to get a certain thing at the January session, but failed. In June I was sick and missed the first two days, but when I arrived I discovered that Council had passed the very thing I had wanted in January.....From that you might say that a man is more valuable at home."

Have Changed Headquarters.

"For the first time on record I was the only member of the Council at the Munroe House last night," Mr. Shaw later remarked, and it transpired that the Council had moved its headquarters to the Montgomery House. Apparently there was no question of depreciation of service in the cause of the transfer, but it seems the Munroe House has undergone extensive alterations that have not only changed its aspect but also its atmosphere, and the County Council or a majority of the members, looked around for the peculiar conditions to which they had been long accustomed at the Munroe House As a result they will doubtless be found at the Simcoe street hotel where caucuses and exchange of opinions and requirements will take place in future.

Reply to Warden's Address.

Warden Nicholls' address to the Council yesterday afternoon raised no contentious questions and the special committee appointed to deal with it brought in a report today in which they concurred with all his observations and suggestions and concluded with the following allusion to himself: "We desire to record our appreciation of the valuable services and the careful and constant attention given by the warden to the affairs of the county, and our wish to render him every assistance in performing the responsible duties his position imposes upon him."

No Cause for Criticism.

The Grand Jury's presentment to Judge Huycke last week contained a recommendation that certain machinery should not be left uncovered in the jail yard. It happened that this machiery had been received only a day or two before. While there may have been some color of neglect there was actually none, and the machinery was properly disposed of as soon as possible after its delivery.

Must Alter Assessment.

County Clerk Elliott directed the Council's attention to a condition he recently discovered showing that the aggregate of the local assessments is more than $40,000 greater than the aggregate of the equalized assessments. The Act required that the equalized assessment should show the excess, and Reeve Scott, chairman of the Equalization of Assessment Committee, was asked to revise the assessments to meet the demand of the Act.

Ask $250 Grant.

A request from the City Council for a grant of $250 toward the care of Victoria Park was referred to the Finance Committee.

FIRST FISHERMEN FORGOT PERMITS

KNOT OF RED TAPE THREATENED TO SPOIL AMERICANS' BIG DAY.

Overlooking the important trifle of an official permit, fourteen American fishermen found themselves stranded at the Chemong reserve this morning between the restrictions of the law and the deep inviting lake with its promise of an early catch. Dan Whetung stated that he attempted to cut the binding red tape that threatened to spoil the season's first day, in anticipation of which these enthusiasts has come long distances, laden with tackle and other essentials of a fishing trip. Inspector Carson could not issue licenses, Mr. Whetung was informed, and there were none procurable in the district. Dan called Toronto and informed the Department that the fees for the permits had been deposited with him, but this failed to satisfy the official procedure. He started out to interview Mr. Tooms, M.L.A., and finally reported that the permissive documents would be forwarded to Mr. C. G. Graham to-morrow. Dan remarked that in the meantime the visiting sportsmen would probably take a chance on the common sense of the Department and loosen their lines in the fishing grounds.

There has been a marked influx of fishermen from the United States to some of the Kawartha Lakes resorts. They began arriving last Saturday, and followed in fairly large numbers over the week-end. This early invasion is said to be in stronger force than usual, and is regarded as an index of the summer's tourist traffic.

Could Not Sleep

Mr. Earnest Clark, Police Officer, 338 King St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

"For three years I suffered from nervousness and sleeplessness. I believe my condition was brought about by overwork. I had frequent headaches, neuralgic pains and twitching of nerves and muscles. I had indigestion, was short of breath and easily tired. I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and seven boxes of this medicine cured me of all my symptoms. I am now feeling one hundred per cent. better than I was, and have to thank Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for the good health I am now enjoying."

A PRINCESS GETS CANADIAN CANDIES

Her Royal Highness, Princess Marie Louise, has just given a singular proof of the popularity of Canadian products abroad by sending to Canada for a supply of Laura Secord old-time candies. A dainty parcel left the mail order department of the Laura Secord Studio for Kensington Palace containing these candies made in the old-time manner.

It is to be presumed Her Royal Highness is a proficient judge of fine sweetmeats, and the compliment paid to Canadian products is no less significant on that account. Laura Secord Old-time Candies are made by experts in the art of home cooking. The secret of their wonderful success is the simple one of using nothing but purest and most wholesome candy ingredients, just as they did in the days of Laura Secord, the heroine of the war of 1812.

SCHEME TO DEVELOP LANGSTON HARBOR

Hope is to Make it a Great Dominion Shipping Port.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng.—June 16.—A scheme to spend £12, 000,000 to develop Langston harbor, Portsmouth, as a great Dominion shipping port has ben adopted by the town council. I is hoped to enlist the assistance of the Dominion Governments in the project

INAUGURAL CONVENTION TRENT DEVELOPEMENT ASSOCIATION TO PROMOTE TRENT WATERWAY

a waterway traversing a rich farm, industrial and manufacturing section of Ontario, thus appealing to capitalists not wishing to go west as desirable for farming investment.

The Publicity.

He spoke of the wide publicity given this waterway among American manufacturers by means of circulars, advertising in motor boat magazines and in the Canadian press. Another line of advertising is now being taken up by Toronto Saturday Night, in which Mr. Donovan is to publish two column illustrated articles for the next few weeks, and the Senator strongly advised Boards of Trade affected by this waterway co-operating in having these articles published in pamphlet form and distributed in the United States.

Trent System.

Talking of the effective manner in which publicity had put the Trent system on the map of American tourists, Mr. Bennett expected that two motor boats—one from Bermuda, another from Jackson, Tennessee—will make the trip this summer up the St. Lawrence and over this waterway from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay.

The speaker was insistent that the government be pressed for an early completion of this whole route in its entirety. When the Washago Locks connecting Lake Couchiching with Sparrow Lake, is opened next July, it will be possible for a 35 ft. x 9 ft. boat to travel from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay. There are, however, three locks between Sparrow Lake and Gloucester Road to be yet completed on the Severn river. One is about half built, the others have not yet been sarted. To overcome these obstacles to navigation by small craft u pto 35 x 9 ft., two marine railways are now in use.

Locks Open on Sunday.

The Locks are to be opened all day Sundays in July and August. Now is the time, he declared, to boost this tourist route for all it is worth, for indications point to the possibility of the Trent Waterway touring business being worked up to an enormous extent. We have here the greatest paradise for tourists in the world. In Muskoka 60,000 people summer on three little inland lakes ,but seven or eight miles from the Severn river, which the department should be petitioned to canalize without delay to afford access for Muskoka's overflow.

In conclusion Senator Bennett asserted that the motor boat industry is growing bigger and bigger; there is no limit to its possibilities when a good motor boat route is available, and in this Trent waterway we have the finest route in the world. Then let us show them that we have the goods, and do it to the best advantage.

Bigger Ideas.

Mr. Sam Clarke, M.L.A., had bigger ideas than to boost this waterway as a pleasure route, built from Trenton to Midland through territory where no one lives. He hoped its biggest asset was not to bring Americans over it in 60 ft. boats. Both Grits and Tories, he said, had spent millions of the people's money on this system, and the people should get something out of it. His idea was that the Trent Canal can furnish the greatest water power in the world. Show the Americans that power is here for industry, for farming, for domestic use, that they can get land at $25, $50 and $75 an acre, and they'll flock to that land in thousands.

Referring to the magnificent power at Healey Falls, at Campbellford and other points on this route, Mr. Clarke inferred that the people in these districts must be sleeping in that they had not insisted on its exploitation by Hydro-Electric. There has been no development east compared with that west of Toronto, and yet Canada's greatest power asset is right here in Central Ontario. Peterborough he admitted to be one great hub, but it would be three hubs were its adjacent power fully developed. There is, he averred, enough power along this route for all the industries from here to Montreal, then why not get after both the Federal and Provincial governments to assure its development. Show them that this Trent waterway, the bugbear of Grits and Tories, has now developed into a great power asset which if applied to farm, household and industries, would reduce the cost of help by 25 per cent.

Not in Accord.

Mr Edgar Worth was not in accord with Mr. Clarke. He pointed out that some places on the route had not been asleep, and that Peterborough, because of its power, has added and is adding to its industries very largely. The pleasure end of the project, he said, would attract capitalists to see our power and industrial opportunities.

Good Harbor.

Councillor Duncan, of Beaverton, drew attention to Beaverton as a harbor or refuge for motor boats, which fact he suggested, he included in all publicity schemes.

Use Every Drop of Water.

Superintendent A. L. Killaly of the Trent Canal, assured the company that the waterway's economical development would be continued consistently, and that before many years every drop of water falling from the Kawartha Lakes would be turning power wheels. This system was advocated as commercial in the first place, he said, and it remains for private enterprise to commercialize it.

He did not see why coal could not be brought here now from Belleville by boat, a scheme strongly endorsed by the late Mr. Denham, of the Quaker Oats. As for boats coming up over this route from Bermuda and Tennessee, Mr. Killaly wanted it distinctly understood that the largest steamer which can be accommodated at Young's Point, is only 117 x 22 ft, which would not permit of an 135 ft. boat locking through.

Mr Killaly also asked the public to report to the Trent Canal officials any inattention to duty or discourtesy on the part of any employees of the canal, for all have the strictest instructions in regard to their duties, as well as their attitude to the users of the canal and public generally. All employees are required to lend all possible assistance to the public and to assist in every way in making the most favorable impression upon all visitors to the Trent waterways.

Through Two Windows.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, chairman of the local committee, thought that Senator Bennett and Mr. Clarke are looking at the waterway's advantages from two different windows — they are both right, he assumed, and both agree that in this project we have a good thing ,but the public generally do not realize it. He characterized the whole enterprise as a national one, and had unbounded faith in its agriculture, commercial and industrial future. Linked up with this enterpise, Mr. Kerr concluded, is the tourist business, which would advertise the combined advantages of the whole system.

Spirit of Co-operation.

Mr. N. Smale in seconding the adoption of the constitution, referred in warm terms to the spirit of co-operation existing between Lindsay and Peterborough in this waterway plan. Lindsay, he said, is proud of its neighboring city, which has shouldered the lion's share in publicity work. He urged the co-operation of all interested municipalities in pressing for an early completion of the unfinished locks.

Give the Glad Hand.

President-elect G. K. Frazer, in assuming office, said Peterborough is one of the most rapidly growing cities in Canada, due to having grasped its power opportunities, and every town on the Trent Waterway route can emulate its example. He urged that at all times the glad hand be given touring visitors.

Anchorage Wanted.

Ald. Turner remarked that there is not room for all boats to tie up at Peterborough wharf, and anchorage facilities should be provided.

President Frazer replied that pleasure cruisers do not come to tie up at a wharf; they prefer an anchorage.

Vote of Thanks.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Senator Bennett for his excellent address

Mr. R. B. Rogers, when moving this vote of thanks, in evidence of the canal's future for transportation, declared Mr. Robert Stuart considered this waterway an inducement for the Quaker Oats to locate in Peterborough. And when the mills were destroyed by fire he would not agree to rebuild until assured that the whole waterway system would be completed in five years. When men like Mr. Stuart place such importance on this route as a commercial factor, there should be no question but that such is its main purpose.

CASE CLOSED LAST EVENING

JUDGMENT RESERVED IN SUIT OVER LOCAL PLANT.

Mr Louis A. Gosselin, K.C., who was formerly the proprietor of the Peterborough Metal Products Limited, had his action tried Monday and Tuesday of this week at the City Hall, Toronto, against Harold Gagnier, owner of the Saturday Night, and former owner of the Peterborough Metal Products Limited ,which he sold to Mr .Gosselin.

This action was for $25,000.00 damages which Mr. Gosselin claimed he suffered by reason of Mr. Gagnier agreeing to sell him the plant and machinery located in the old Cordage plant.

The plaintiff claimed all the motors, shafting, belting, pulleys and other equipment, which were owned by the Bank of Ottawa, and leased to Mr. Gagnier, who agreed to assign his lease to Mr. Gosselin, but Mr. Gosselin claimed he had no notice that the Bank of Ottawa owned a large part of the machinery in the plant valued at about $25,000.00. There is also a dispute over two cars of shell scrap and one car of copper turnings.

The trial lasted from Monday morning till late last night before the Honorable Mr. Justice Kelly, and judgment was reserved. Mr. A. C. McMaster, K.C., of Toronto, and Mr. G. N. Gordon, appeared for Mr. Harold Gagnier in the defence of the action, and Mr. Daniel O'Connell appeared for the plaintiff, Mr. Louis A. Gosselin, K.C.

Mr. A. F. Knight, former manager of the Bank of Ottawa at Peterborough, and Mr. G. C. Wainright, also a former manager of the Bank of Ottawa, Peterborough, but now in charge of the main office of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Toronto, were witnesses.

The Association's selection of referee is also the teams' choice; and under his control the players will be compelled to play a clean, sportsman game. The C.G.E. team shows two changes— Turner in place of Williamson and Bills in place of Maunders and a new half in the person of J. Mann. Two newcomers to the Caledonians are included in the team, McFeat and Dunkley (Comrades.) In the previous match the C.G.E. won by the odd goal, 4-3. CANADIAN WOOLENS AND C.G.E. PLAY A TIE GAME

CITY LEAGUE FIXTURE LAST NIGHT ONE OF THE BEST PLAYED GAMES OF THE YEAR—WOOLENS SCORED THE ONLY EARNED RUN OF THE ENGAGEMENT.

You never can tell anything about this City League. When the Canadian Woollens crew beat the C.G.E. a couple of weeks ago the majority of fans called the feat an accident, and prophesied that the C. G. E. would easily wallop Manager Mulhall's outfit the next time the teams met. Well, they got together last night but there was no trimming for the Woollens for when Umpire Kay called the game on account of darknes sat the end of the sixth inning, the teams had even break with two runs each. And the Electricricians were lucky to get away with a tie for they would not have scored at all had it not been for a wild throw with two out in the first that agve them both their runs.

Gilchrist, McClintock and Johnston of the Woollens' pitching staff, were all missing last night, so Manager Mulhall called upon young Harvey Smith to do the twirling, and a smart job he made of it with his slow curve that the Electricians found almost impossible to meet squarely. Five singles represented their best effort in the club swinging line and the youngster should have had a shut out.

"Bun" Frost did the heaving for the Canadian General and he too delivered a nice exhibition of pitching, allowing but six hits. In fact the pitchers had a big edge on the batters all the way. Both teams turned in some nice fielding plays and the game was one of the best played fixtures seen in the League this season.

In the first McWilliams made a great catch of Bergoine's fly to short centre. Smith rolled to Frost and Russell fanned.

For the Canadian General Cherrett walked but was caught off first, McCarney struck out. Corrin singled past third and Ross hit safely to right, sending Corrin to third. Jackson hit to Murphy who threw high to first, Corrin and Ross scoring on the error. Frost fanned.

In the second Legros singled by third and went to second on Mulhall's out. Collins to Corrin, Coughlan singled to left centre, scoring Legros and takin gsecond on the throw to the plate. Shaw sacrificed him to third, but Kennedy missed three.

For C. G. E. McWilliams fouled to Russell, Legros grabbed Collins' foul, and Thompson whiffed.

Woollens went out in order in the third. Murphy rolled to Frost. Bergoine fouled to Ross, and Smith grounded to Collins.

C. G. E. got two hits but failed to score. Cherrett went out. Smith to Legros. McCarney singled to right, but was caught off first by Smith. Corrin beat out a hit to second. Ross rolled to Mulhall.

Woollens tied it up in the fourth. After Russell and Legros fanned. Mulhall singled to right and Coughlin hit through short. On Shaw's roller in front of the plate Ross threw wide to first and Mulhall scored. Kennedy fanned for the third out.

For the C.G.E. Jackson popped to Smith. Frost singled to left and went to second on Smith's bad throw to first. McWilliams hoisted to Russell and Legros gathered in Collins' fly.

The Mulhall crew had a great chance in the fifth. After Murphy had fouled out to Corrin a nice catch by the first baseman, Bergoine singled to left and Smith to right, but Russell struck out and Jackson made a nice play on a roller from Legros.

The Electricians went out in order. Thompson fanned. Bergoine nabbed Cherrett's bunt and got the runner by a perfect throw, and McCarney was retired on strikes.

In the sixth Cherrett threw out Mulhall and Coughlin and Shaw fanned.

In their half C.G.E. failed to score. Corrin flied to Coughlin. Ross rolled to Mulhall. Jackson was safe on Smith's fumble and Frost flied to Kennedy.

The game was then called on account of darkness. The score:

TWENTY-THREE STRIKE OUTS IN COMMERCIAL LEAGUE GAME

WESTCLOX DEFEATED BARRIES AT NICHOLLS OVAL—SCORE 7-3.

A circuit wallop by Walker in the seventh with two on broke up the Commercial League fixture at the Oval last evening, and made it safe for Westclox, the Southerners defeating Barries by 7 to 3. Walker's poke went out to deep right, and Smith finished a hard run after the ball by taking a sprawl off the green, landing on the cinder track. Just to show that he was willing to cooperate with his team-mates, Herb. Wolfe retired Barrie's on strikes, in their last chance of the game.

"Scotty" Galbraith tried to keep the fur-trimmers in the running but his was a rocky road. The team had opportunities galore, but ivory plays on the runways and poor fielding lost them the contest. They had two on and none out in the first, but failed to score. Westclox on the other hand got two runs after two were gone in their first, Irvine's failure to get away from second on Dugan's grass-cutter paving the way for a double killing against Barries. The first baseman's neglect to touch the bag for the third putout allowed the runner the bag and started Westclox on their way for the two runs. Yet, in spite of all, it was Nicholls, the Barrie shortfielder, who pulled off the star play of the game. He went far behind second base for what looked like an impossible catch on Clare Wolfe's fly and grabbed the ball with one hand. Smith also made a nice catch, one a long fly by Lundy, preceding Walker's home run. It looked extra good because Westclox had two-one and only one man out.

Twenty-three Strikeouts.

The pitchers turned in good performances, Wolfe fanning thirteen and Galbraith ten. The Westclox hurler retired Barries twice on consecutive strikeouts.

With two gone, Irvine failed to touch the bag to complete the play on Shannan's grounder in the first, and the runner was safe. DeGraw and Prosser hit and Lundy's single scored two. Galbraith got Walker on strikes.

Wolfe walked Irvine and Nicholls hit into right. Dugan was thrown out on his grounder to Shannan and as Irvine failed to get away from second, DeGraw returned the ball to third for a second putout. Stabler hit, but was thrown out at second by Wolfe, who handled the throwin.

Barries evened it up in the third. Walton fanned but Kelly was passed. Irvine also drew a pass. Nicholls hit in Kelly, Irvine was thrown out at third. Dugan's single scored Nicholls.

One more run came to Westclox in the fifth. Shannan hit, but was forced at second by DeGraw. Clark running for DeGraw took advantage of two wide pegs and made third, going home when Prosser's grounder went through Irvine. Prosser was thrown out at third by Galbraith and Lundy fanned.

A Gift From Prosser.

Barries got it back in the sixth, which Stabler started with a double. He stole third. Galbraith fouled to DeGraw and Quigley fanned. After disputing a decision by the umps, Prosser threw the ball through the box and Stabler scored. Then the batter missed the third strike, retiring the side.

Westclox made a wild finish. Ainslie walked and went to second on a balk. Quikley and Walton allowed Shannan's fly to drop untouched. Ainslie, who had made third on a wide throw, scored on the hit. Prosser dropped one into short left. Lundy flew out to Smith. Then sent out his homer. Clare Wolfe ended it by popping out to the catcher.

One, Two, Three Out.

Barries failed to do anything with Wolfe's pitching in their half. Walton, Kelly and Irvine going out by the strikeout route.

BOXER IS GIVEN TWO YEARS.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 15.—Roddie McDonald, the Glace Bay boxer, at one time the idol of many local boxing fans, was in the Police Court given two years' suspended sentence for assaulting a police officer.

He gave a bond for $100.00. His defence was that he was drunk and "in bad company."

ARE PETERBORO BALL FANS BIASED

NO WORSE THAN AVERAGE AND MUCH BETTER THAN A LOT OF THEM.

The Port Hope Guide and the Lindsay Warder, the newspaper organs respectively of Sandy Lockington, Central League President, and Ford Moynes, member of the League executive, have been devoting a good deal of space since Saturday's game to criticizing the Peterborough fans for what they call biased and unsportsmanlike rooting. Frankly, the two worthy officials are talking through their Panamas when they indulge in this kind of comment. The writer has seen many ball games in every town in this district in the past decade and has found the fans in Peterborough about the same as their fellows in ither towns, as good as the average and much better than some of the "bugs" around the cricuit. There was never a ball team that received the treatment in Peterborough that the Petes got in Belleville on their first visit last year, and the Port Hope rooters have never been noted for politeness and courtesy in the remarks they make to visiting players. As for the Lindsay Warder's comment that Peterborough is a hard city in which to umpire a game we'll agree with friend Moynes. This is indeed a hard city—for some umpires, particularly those who do not appear to know the rules. For the Peterborough fans are better educated in this respect than the baseball following in other Central League towns, having had the advantage of three seasons of Canadian League ball to give them a grasp of the finer points of the game. And when an umpire allows the players to get away with stuff that the fans know is forbidden, there is very likely to be more comment. The crowd on Saturday knew that under this year's rules a pitcher is not allowed to rub the ball on any part of his clothing and yet Patton, the Oshawa pitcher, calmly rubbed the horsehide on his trouser leg whenever he felt inclined to do so. And when the Petes called Umpire Butler's attention to it he asked what could he do to stop it. The rules tell him what to do.

BOARD WILL MEET HERE ON FRIDAY

MAYOR M'INTYRE HAD ANOTHER TELEGRAM THIS MORNING.

The conciliation board appointed by Senator Robertson, at the request of the city, to attempt a settlement of the C. G. E. strike, will meet here on Friday, Mayor McIntyre stated this morning. Judge Gunn, who, with Judge McGillvray and John Moore, compose the boardi sent an enquiry to-day as to whether the employees would consider returning to work, pending the report of the board's investigations. It was assumed that a similar communication would be submitted to the company. The Mayor said that no decision has been arrived at up to noon for the reason that there hadn't been time to discuss it fully.

MUSKOKA'S RECURRING APPEAL

Small wonder is it that each recurring vacation season sees added numbers turning for rest and recreation to "Nature's Wonderland" "Muskoka"; for there may be found all the elements that go to make a pleasant holiday. The clear bracing atmosphere and the sparkling waters under sunny skies serve as a welcome relief after the stifling city streets, and the healthy vigorous outdoor sports, swimming, canoeing, motorboating, golfing, etc., in such surroundings rebuild the body and enable one to return to the daily round with added zest and renewed interest in life.

Descriptive of this area, including Lakes Joseph, Rosseau, Muskoka and Sparrow, The Canadian National Railways 1920 "Muskoka" Folder tells of its beauties, and too, what is no small factor in its popularity, of its accessibility. Included also is an excellent map of the lakes named, a list of hotels and boarding houses with information as to rates and accommodation and a list of its golf courses. For free copy and information as to week end service now in effect, write General Passenger Department, Canadian National Railways, Toronto.

'OUT OF THE STORM" HAS MANY THRILLS

"Out of the Storm" is the latest Goldwyn Eminent Authors' production, which will be shown at the Allen commencing Thursday. The story was written by Gertrude Atherton, perhaps the most noted writer of romance.

"Out of the Storm" deals with many intricate situations, including the love affair of a young English lord for a girl, who, by unfortunate circumstances, finds herself dependent upon the whim of a criminal for her livelihood.

Margaret Hill, played by Barbara Castleton, cherishes the ambition to become a famous operatic singer. Her voice attracts the attention of Albert Levering, played by Sydney Ainsworth. He takes her to his home in Seattle and sends her to a professor to have her voice cultivated. Two years later he is arrested for embezzlement. Losing her advisor, alone in the world, this forms a crisis in Margaret's life.

Thenceforth the story takes an intricate and exciting aspect. The situation arising from the love of Margaret for the young English lord, played by John Bowers, and the antagonism to their union, form an absorbing and pathetic story that will hold the interest of the audience.

There is a shipwreck in "Out of the Storm," and the scene has been made so realistic on the screen, that it seems as though one were witnessing the real thing.

No effort has been spared to make this picture one of the finest of its kind produced, and the facilities that Goldwyn have for the making of their many productions, add sort of a guarantee that this story by the eminent author, Gertrude Atherton, will not disappoint the readers of the novel from which it was adapted.

An all-star cast was summoned for this picture, including, besides those already mentioned, Doris Pawn, Elinor Hancock, Lawson Butt, Ashton Dearbolt, Edyth Chapman, Carrie Clark Ward, Lincoln Steadman and Charles Selwynne. The scenario was prepared by J. E. Nash and directed by William Parke. Andre Barlatier is responsible for the fine photographic effects.

TRAFFIC HEAVY ON STONY LAKE

STEAMSHIP COMPANY ANTICIPATES A BIG SEASON---NEW COTTAGES.

In order to compete with the heavy traffic which is expected on Stoney Lake this year, and which has already commenced, the Stoney Lake Navigation Company has found it necessary to put another boat on the waters between Lakefield and the Lakes, and for this purpose has refitted the Islinda with new machinery and totally overhauled the boat, making her a first-class steamer, equipped with every modern device for the safety and comfort of the travelling public. A splendid dining-room service has been installed. The boat, which was launched recently, and has a capacity of 215, will commence her daily trips on July 1st.

At the Lakes.

Mr. F. Young, manager of the Stoney Lake Navigation Company, who returned yesterday from the lakes, stated to-day that never in the history of the Stoney and Clear Lakes have conditions been so promising. The hotels are pretty well booked for the season; and already some fifty or sixty of the cottages have been opened up. Yesterday the Empress carried a big crowd from the city and from Toronto of cottagers, most of whom are remaining, while a few are up to overlook the cottages, ready for occupation later in the summer. Sheriff Hall and Mr. T. E. Bradburn are included in those who went up yesterday.

New Cottages.

Several new cottages have been built during the spring. Professor Michael MacKenzie has built a large one behind the Church of England at Hell's Gate; Mr. Budrose, of Toronto, has built one of the biggest at Kawartha Park, and is bringing up an expensive launch from Peterborough; Mr. Frank Adams, of Peterborough, has built a cottage near the Budrose cottage; and Mr. Glover, near Mr. Adams.

In Stoney Lake Mr. Canfield, of Rochester, has built a splendid cottage in front of Mr. Wm. Irwin's cottage, and Mr. Ben. Chapman, of Toronto, has built near Crowe's Landing.

Many Excursions.

So popular have excursions up and down the river become, the Stoney Lake Navigation Company has had a busy time planning to carry all, and are booked up pretty well for the coming month, but with the Islinda added to the fleet, all organizations have been accommodated. Moonlight excursions have become extremely popular, and all which have run down the river this year have taxed the capacity of the boats to the utmost, many would-be excursionists being turned away to keep the vessels' capacity within the number allowed on board.

JAIL-BREAKING INDIAN PRISONER IN LOCKPORT, N.Y.

Canadian Press:

ST. CATHARINES, June 16.—Nelson Miracle, an Indian, who two months ago escaped for the second time from Lincoln County Jail, is now a prisoner in Lockport, N. Y., Jail, under the name of Wilford Jaynes.

Local officials visited the Lockport Jail, when the prisoner admitted his identity and described his escape. He stated that Pritchard, the American soldier deserter, was entirely responsible for the blow which rendered the turnkey unconscious, but admits helping Pritchard over the wall. They walked to the Niagara River and crossed in a small boat. Miracle got into the toils over the river through forgery. Local officers will institute extradition proceedings. Miracle claims that his escape from the Grimsby lock-up was made easy by the constable, who left the keys in the lock.

ganization which is meeting in Peterborough to-day was founded in 1893 by an American, Hon. Joseph Cullen Root of Omaha, Nebraska, with head quarters in Omaha. The work was carried into Canada but in the following year owing to the requirements of the Canadian government respecting the insurance of fraternal associations the Canadian Order obtained a Canadian Incorporation

They have however retained fraternal relationship with the parent order in United States and both orders have steadily progressed until to-day the combined membership totals 800,000. Combined assets of over $42,000,000 are shown.

Both the sovereign and Canadian jurisdictions have adopted the National Fraternal Congress rates, the parent order following the Canadian order in this particular in 1918 Both societies to-day are more than actuary solvent and stand out promactuary solvent and stand out promof the American continent.

The Canadian Order will among other things present for consideration to the present convention a scheme of juvenile insurance policies and benefits and schedules of rates drafted by Dr. Frank Sanderson, the order's actuary, Toronto. In a very short time the W.O.W. will no doubt be issuing policies protecting the entire family.

Civic Address.

In opening his civic address of welcome the Mayor A. A. McIntyre said he appreciated the privileges of being present and of giving a hearty welcome to the officers and the members of the Head Camp of the Woodmen of the World. We in Peterborough, said the Mayor, are pleased to welcome representatives of a distinguished society that is engaged in the benevolent work of providing and caring for the sick and afflicted.

"You come from different parts of Canada," he continued, "and I believe that one of the benefits of such conventions and annual meetigs is the opportunity it affords the representatives to become better acquainted with different parts of our Dominion. The more we know of our country," said Mayor McIntyre, "and the better we become acquainted with each other, living as we do in the wide spaces between the Aitantic and the Pacific the better it is for us as a whole. We hope that you will have time while you are here to see something of our city so that you will carry away a knowledge of our manufacturing industries, our educational and benevolent institutions, our parks mercantile establishments and other institutions of interest." Speaking of his city as an industral centre, he said, "the central situation of this city and the advantages it has in abundance of hydro- electric power have resulted in a rapid industrial development, and we have tried to keep pace with this development in the construction of civic conveniences for the health, comfort and education of the people. You will, of ecurse, see the hydraulic life lock on the Trent Waterway within the city, which is the highest in the world and one of the only two on the continent, the other being farther north on this waterway

"We again give you a hearty welcome," said the Mayor, "and hope that your deliberations will be most beneficial to your order and its members, and that in every way your annual meeting in Petrborough will be a most successful one."

(Canadian Press)

QUEBEC, June 16.—Juliette Labonte, aged 17 years, of Levis, is lying at the Hotel Dieu Hospital in a critical condition as a result of having been shot through the body on Saturday afternoon.

The young girl was on her way to a circus with her young sister and another girl friend, when they met Jean Charles Lacroix, of Blenville. They stopped to chat for a while, and Lacroix exhibited a revolver. One of the girls remarked that it was dangerous, but the young man contended that the gun was not loaded, and he began pressing the trigger. There was a cartridge in the revolver and the gun went off, the bullet striking the young girl in the abdomen. Lacroix was arrested by Police Chief Marsan of Lewis.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Boys' Camp.

Applications are coming steadily for the two weeks of Boys' Camp which is being run by the Y.M.C.A. for the boys of the city. Many boys who up to the present have not had the glorious experience of life in the open are making certain that this year they will not be denied, by making application in good time. The Camp will be situated on Lee's Point, Rice Lake, about 1½ miles from Bewdley and is open to any boy of the city who has attained the age of 12 years. The camp site is on the south shore of the lake and has an excellent spring of pure water; a good bathing beach and surroundings ideal for baseball and group sports.

An excellent automobile road runs to the camp and parents will be welcome visitors.

Those who will have the superivision of the camp wish to assure the parents of the boys that every activity will be under the supervision so that every boy will be well wooked after. Mrs. James, the matron of the Y.M.C.A. will have charge of that department which looks after the inner man and she has a great name as being a bountiful provider in that respect. A life line will be run along the bathing beach, beyond which no boy will be permitted to swim. Space does not permit of an enlarged account of all things pertaining to the camp, but if any interested parent will 'phone 246 or call at the Y.M.C.A. office, full information will be given. The proceeds of the annual gymnasium exhibition are being used to help to defray the expenses, so that the cost to the individual boy is low enough for all to attend. The more the merrier—so send your boy along!

STREET CARMEN THREATEN STRIKE

THREE O'CLOCK FRIDAY MORNING IS ZERO HOUR.

TORONTO, June 16. — After two meetings, lasting from midnight, employees of the Toronto Street Railway at 2.30 this morning passed a resolution declaring that they would accept a wage scale 20 per cent. in advance of the existing scale.

If the company does not accept this on or before 3 o'clock Friday morning, the men say they will strike.

At present the maximum scale is fifty-five cents an hour, and the 20 per cent. added to this would bring it to 66 cents. They originally asked for 85 cents an hour. The scale demanded by the men is the same as paid on the civic car lines.

The men also resolved to waive all conditions in their first demands and work under the existing arrangement.

The Executive held a meeting first, and then the general meeting began about 2 a.m.

HAS MADE A CLEAN SWEEP, HE STATES

QUEBEC MEN HASN'T A TROUBLE LEFT SINCE TAKING TANLAC.

"I have never been a man to praise any kind of medicine but since taking Tanlac I have changed my mind and am now ready to tell the world what it has done for me," was the statement made by Marcisse Decombes, an employee of the Quebec Railway Light, Heat, and Power Co. living at 33 Signal Street, Quebec Que.

"During the past year," he explained, "I have learned what suffering means, and I got so bad off I can hardly understand how I stood up under the strain. My stomach was badly out of order and I didn't relish a thing; in fact, I was almost afraid to eat for thinking of the suffering that was to follow. I would bloat up with gas after meals and my heart would palpitate terribly. At times I was so weak and dizzy I could hardly stand up, and my nerves were so on edge that the least little unusual noise would completely upset me. Many nights I was so restless I didn't close my eyes at all, and when morning came you can just imagine how weak I felt. I managed to hold on to my job, but it pulled me down until I was almost a nervous and physical wreck.

"I had never had any faith in medicine, but I kept hearing so much about Tanlac that I made up my mind to try it, and since it has made a clean sweep of my troubles there is nothing too good I can say about it. I took only three bottles of Tanlac, but today I feel better, work better, and sleep better than I have in years. My appetite was never better in my life, and I digest everything I eat without a particle of trouble. My heart action is normal and regular, and I am not bothered with dizziness any more. My nerves are as steady as steel, and I sleep sound all night long. I never lose an opportunity to praise Tanlac, and already I have told all my friends and neighbours about it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd., in Fowlers' Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

VANISHING WHISKEY TRICKS WENT WRONG

String Broke and Pitcher Didn't Pitch.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Raiding prohibition officers in Brooklyn reported that they discovered two new bar-room devices. One was an appliance by which a bartender could touch a button and send a shelf containing whiskey into the cellar. The other, at a yank of a string, would dump whiskey out of a pitcher swung from a stick.

Five agents, disguised as workmen, arrested Charles Klein, at No. 5201 Second avenue, Brooklyn, and his bartender, Thomas Gilhenny, and Dennis Burke, who keeps a saloon at No. 5701 Fourth avenue, and his barkeeper, William Spellman.

He said they found at Klein's place the device which sent whiskey into the cellar. The two raids followed a complaint from the Morse shipyard that many of their workers reported for duty intoxicated. The prisoners were held by Federal Commissioner McCabe.

Henry Schmidt, a saloonkeeper at No. 26 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, according to prohibition officers who arrested him at their approach yanked a string running along his bar to a pitcher swung from a stick. The string broke and the alleged whiskey was confiscated.

Gustav Metzger, a saloonkeeper, at No. 30 Summer avenue, Brooklyn, who is charged with offering $500 to prohibition agents after his arrest Friday night, was held in $6,500 bail by Federal Commissioner Hennessy on charges of bribery and violation of the Volstead law.

SPECIAL MAPS ARE REQUIRED FOR LONG DISTANCE FLYING; TOWNS LOOK ALIKE FROM AIR

NEW AIR GUIDE IS A COMBINATION AND IMPROVEMENT OF BOTH LAND MAP AND SEA CHART—SPEED VARIES WITH DIRECTION AND VELOCITY OF WIND.

In order to distinguish provinces or states from each other on maps they are colored pink, blue, yellow and green. It is a good idea, too, but when a pilot who is travelling somewhere at the rate of a hundred miles an hour or so looks over the side of his plane he finds that New York and Connecticut are as precisely alike as New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and those straight, well-defined boundaries are nowhere in sight on the ground.

Consequently, the pilot, especially if he is a young pilot, finds that he is up in the air in more ways than one. When you are heading for a place at a mile or two a minute it is no trick at all to get lost. That is why the great increase in long distance flying has resulted in the development of a map which is neither a land-map nor a sea-chart, but a combination and improvement of both.

The need for air maps was recently explained in this way by C. J. Zimmermann, test pilot for the Aeromarine Plane and Motor Company, who has made many long distance flights in both flying boats and land planes. In addition to his duties as chief test pilot he is the head of a map department which is working to improve present aerial maps and to increase the extent of territory covered by them.

Present Maps Won't Do.

"It is sometimes hard for the layman, or perhaps I should say the ground man, to understand just why special maps are needed when the present maps show all the big towns, mountains, rivers, lakes, and even railroads," he said. "When I tell people I would have been lost many times on a recent flight down the Atlantic coast from New York to Key West and across the Gulf to Havana and back had it not been for a specially prepared map they are inclined to doubt either my intelligence or my word Their opinion of a man who could not fly a boat along such a well marked course as the coast of the American continent without a map is not high.

"The chief reason why an air map was necessary even on this trip, which was not so difficult as cross-country flying, was that while I knew I as on the coast all the time, just where I was on the coast was another matter. I averaged between 60 and 70 miles an hour on the trip, but sometimes, encountering head wind, this speed would be decreased by the rate of the wind against me and consequently I would actually be making much less. On other occasions, with a wind on the tail, I would be travelling around a hundred.

Towns Look Alike.

"It was necessary, of course, to stop two or three times a day for food, fuel, and oil at towns I had picked out before the start. The map was, therefore, very necessary, for one town looks just like another from the air. Besides towns the maps showed lighthouses, buoys, coast guard stations, islands, inland waterways, and prominent land marks. The life guard stations and lighthouses were of particular value, for in front of each station was painted in big white letters its number. Number 182 told me I was passing Cape Hatteras; 193 meant Cape Fear, 113 was Barnegat Inlet.

"The map assumes even greater importance in flying through fogs or mist or at night, for then the poor visibility cuts down the wide view so much that very careful account must be taken of speed and wind. On the map is laid off the miles on the course ,so that by the use of a stop watch the time taken to fly from one recognized point to another, the distance between coast guard station "2" and "122" for example, can be found, the speed determined, and the time necessary to reach the destination calculated. At night the time between two lighthouses, each having its distinctive flash, serves admirably.

First Were Crude.

"The first air maps were crude things, little more than ordinary maps. Recently much improved maps have been developed. One of the most important improvements is the use of a strip map mounted on rollers in a little box with a celluloid facing. The roller map we made for the Hava. flight was many feet long but only six inches wide. Of course the coast line is very crooked and would wander off any ordinary map six inches wide, so an ingenious system developed by us is used. In this the coast line is "straightened out" by cutting an ordinary large scale map—one to forty or eight thousand—into as many pieces ars are necessary to keep the wavering coast line on the six inch width.

"These pieces of coast line are then pasted together in a long six-inch strip. Each piece or section runs in different compass direction, and the course marked off, although actually much curved, appears as a fairly straight line. The compass course which must be followed on each section of the straightened coast lines is then written upon it. The pilot in following the unrolling map, turns his machine to conform to the new course at the beginning of each section. The compass courses and miles plainly indicated make it possible to follow the coast line surely, even when the actual beach or land is obscured by fog or darkness.

Far From the Coast

"It might be thought that the many coast cities of considerable size would be good indications of position, but as a matter of fact few of these coast cities really are coast cities. Just to mention a few examples Wilmington, Del., is twenty miles from the ocean; Charleston, S.C., five miles; Beaufort, S.C., concealed in a maze of islands some miles from the sea; Savannah, Ga., about fifteen or twenty miles, and Jacksonville, Fla., about twenty miles up the St. John River. A flying boat which is hugging the surface of the ocean to avoid a head an hour at 2,000 feet would not come within sight of many of these alleged coast cities.

"As the Aeromarine Company manufactures only flying boats and seaplanes, we are particularly interested in water routes and are, therefore, concentrating on the aero-mapping of the important rivers and coast line of the country. An all water route from New York to Chicago is one of the things we are planning, for we expect flying boats to do great things.

THE LATE HON. A. G. M'KAY

By GEORGE M. MURRAY

One of Canada's great sons was Hon. A. G. McKay, minister of public health in the Alberta government, who died recently.

There is much in this life story which young Canadians should know. He was born of Highland parents who helped to turn the wilderness of old Ontario into a vast garden. Watch, if you will, his career from the time he left the gate of the old homestead to make his way in the world.

As a country schoolmaster he earns a smal salary. There are few idle hours on Saturdays, holidays or during vacation periods for McKay. Every man is devoted to the earning of money which will help him to secure an education.

Forward this young man goes to college and in due season qualifies as member of the bar in the province of Ontario.

Has he not read the lives of great British and Canadian statesmen who were members of the legal profession? Has he not listened to the speeches of such as Sir John Macdonald, Sir Oliver Mowatt, Sir George E. Cartier, and has he not a friend of the young Mr. Laurier of Quebec?

Has he not had the ambition to become premier of the great province of Ontario—maybe premier of Canada! Perhaps his ambition is to become premier.

You see him as a candidate in an Ontario constituency, acclaimed by all the neighbors. You see him entering for the first time the portals of the legislature. You see him later at Massey Hall, thrilling large audiences. You see him step forward to hold aloft the torch of Liberalism when older hands have fallen in the quagmire of party strife. The day comes when he is named the leader of a great party and but a few steps further on would be the goal of his boyhood dreams.

* * *

Then comes a cloud upon the career of this young Canadian. Has success turned his head? Have the tinsel and show and fraud of the high places deceived him?

The Hon. A. G. McKay, leader of the Liberal party in the province of Ontario, places his resignation in the hands of the speaker and withdraws in silence from the chamber into which he had been heralded as a promising young statesman. And the men who know how his downfall is brought about, sneer and whisper and print in their papers the word failure.

On the back concessions of his native county are men and women who knew that A. G. McKay can not fail. They know his father, his mother, his folks on both sides. They know how he was brought up and that his heart is right and that he has the will to go ahead. They still have faith in him though the world outside should spurn him.

And when he packs his belongings and leaves the scene of his trials and his triumphs and disappointments, to start anew, a man of middle age, in a western town, the blessings of these same neighbors go with him.

* * *

In this new chapter of McKay's career, we find him opening a law office on a side street in Edmonton. To him for counsel came homesteaders ,farmers, men and women who are doing in the west the work his own parents did in old Ontario.

He learns of their hardships, their vicissitudes, their tragedies.

A man comes in and tells him how out on the bald prairies he and his young wife settle upon a homestead a hundred miles from a railway. In their hearts is joy and ambition and hope as there always is in the hearts of young people who take up land for the first time. And the day approaches when the prairie cabin is to brightened by the coming of the first baby. You can imagine the scene there in the law office when the father, weeping, tells how the mother and baby died because thre wasn't enough money to have her taken to Edmonton to a hospital and the doctor was late because it was an eighty mile ride and the weather was rough.

* * *

To be premier of Ontario, or of Canada; to be a statesman whose name rings round the empire! Such are worthy ambitions for young men.

But it must flash across the mind of McKay that there is work to be done in more lowly places than in great capitals of the world.

He is welcomed by the western voters when he seeks a seat in the Peace River district. And when he rises in his place in the house it is not to make pronouncements upon great policies, now before the government; not to bearte the party opposite, not to plan great spectacular enterprises, which may make big reading in the newspapers.

But he takes his hearers to the cabin on the prairie and tells them how the mother and her little babe have died there because there is not a doctor there and because there is no hospital near at hand to which the mother might have been taken—because there is not a skilled nurse there to aid in bringing in the little life.

And A. G. McKay lays down a policy of public health which includes this: that in every part of that vast prairie province where men and women toil on the land there shall be provided by the government, rural health centres, where the services of doctors and nurses, medicines and hospital accomodation will be available for the poorest and the lowliest.

Party whips smile at the novel suggestions of the new member, old hardened party workers at first sneer. But there arises such support for the idea among the women's clubs of Edmonton, Calgary and the towns and cities of that province, that the politicians and the party whips are forced to take this vital matter up. They are forced to hand over to McKay the administration of this department dedicated to the welfare of the prairie mothers and babes.

There is installed a system of health which reduces infant deaths on the farms of Alberta to the smallest possible point, a system of health which saves a homesteader's wife from death and is the means of restoring broken-down and broken-hearted women to health and happiness.

And what is more, the idea is caught up in the province of Saskatchewan and in the neighboring states of the come inquiries regarding the work union. From all parts of America of Hon. Mr. McKay. Medical associations flood him with requests to speak to them upon this work, honors are showered upon him by public bodies near and far.

When in the years to come the prairie countries have all been settled up and good roads have been built and splendid schools and churches and hospitals have been erected , the people will remember and honor the name of A. G. McKay.

Always for him there will be a niche in the hall of fame.

Not because he was a great lawyer, a great orator, a man of marvellous magnetism. But because he set aside selfish ambition, worldy preference personal aggrandizement and devoted his talents as a law-maker and administrator to the service of the wives and babies of homesteaders out on the lonely frontiers of the western prairie.

A LEASE TO STEFANSSON.

Government Gives Him Help to Start His Ranching With Reindeer.

OTTAWA, June 16.—The Government has granted Vilbjalmur Stefansson a thirty-year grazing lease for the southern part of Baffin Island free for fifteen years and afterwards at a yearly rental of $11,390. HEEL FLY APPEARS THROUGHOUT LAMBTON.

Hatches in Froth-Like Drops on Grass —Cattle Race Madly About.

PETROLEA, June 6.—A fly new to this county, and designated "heel" fly, has appeared in many parts of Lambton, and is causing stockmen and farmers much anxiety. It attacks cattle so savagely that they stop feeding and gallop excitedly around the fields.

It appears to hatch in little drops of a white frothy liquid that adhere to the blades of grass. In some pastures these froth-like drops seem numberless.

Little appears to be known even by expert entomologists of the life history, habits or origin of this new terror to be hardly if it is said to attack the "heels" of the cattle, but evidence of this feature is not conclusive.

LINDSAY MEN HARD HIT.

Recent Drop in Fur Prices Results in Loss to Dealers.

Lindsay dealers bought rat furs by the thousands at fabulous prices, and now have reason to regret their investment, the bottom having fallen out of the fur market generally. This Spring trappers made moderate wealth, but dealers still have a large number of rat pelts on their hands. Some of them have as high as $3,000 invested in pelts, and still have them. There is practically no market for furs except where a dealer can sell the skins to some lady who is desirous of having a seal coat made.

And on top of the whole situation the Government steps in and places a tax of 20 per cent. on fur coats.

AN EASY ONE FOR JOHN.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir, — I boarded a C.G.E. car at Charlotte street this afternoon to go to the corner of Park and Townsend streets. I was taken up George street to the turn, and on coming down the conductor demanded another nickel before I reached my destination. I paid it. Was I right? Please don't tell me that I took the wrong car. I know now that I did: but when I took the car at Charlotte there were two cars at the corner with the C.G.E. sign on them. The position of the cars were such that one could not be sure which was going George street or which Charlotte street. Does the street railway company owe me A NICKEL?

SHOE PRICES DROP IN MONTREAL 10 P.C.

Canadian Press:

MONTREAL, June 16.—A slump of approximately 10 per cent. in shoes has taken place in this city, but it is not regarded by manufacturers to be a permanent change for the better. The new tax on shoes is given as a reason for the slump. Cheap hides, due to accumulation here on account of transportation troubles, are also a contributory factor.

ONE SOLUTION OF THE HOUSING PROBLEM

"One of the greatest factors in a solution of the housing problem confronting practically every community in the country is bound to be the automobile," says C. R. Banks, local Willys-Overland Dealer.

"This scarcity of homes in cities and the continued increase in rentals is driving hundreds of families to the suburban districts where property can be purchased at moderate prices. It is forcing real estate operators who make a specialty of sub-division work to open additions farther and farther from the city.

"Street car extensions do not keep pace anywhere with real estate development. The result is that more and more people are finding the automobile a necessity.

"Many overland dealers have found this condition to be true. The new car with Triplex Springs is playing an important part in solution of this housing situation in many Canadian cities. There is no reason why it should not help us to solve the problem in Peterborough. 1d-141-1106

Many Interested

President Edgar Worth of the local Board of Trade presided at the proceedings. After an excellent dinner served at 7.30, Mr Worth expressed his gratification at the thoroughly representative attendance. On seeing so many men of influence interested in the Trent Waterway he had no doubt of the success of the project for development. All that was needed now, he said, is for the municipalities to get together in active cooperation and spend their publicity money to the best advantage.

For the Mayor.

In the absence of Mayor A. A. McIntyre of this city, Ald. J. J. Turner etended a hearty welcome to the delegates present. Advocating an enlarged advertising campaign, Ald. Turner said he was voicing the sentiments of the Mayor in declaring his belief in the policy of "letting one's light shine". And in applying that policy to the waterways in question, Peterborough is not selfish, but distributes her knowledge of its many advantages abroad so that all may share them equally with this city. The Trent Waterway as he continued, to Central Ontario what the Niagara watershed is to Western Ontario; but in addition to powe we have the advantage of navigable streams which Niagara does not offer. He did not believe this waterway just a hobby or a fad, but was convinced of its use for commercial purposes, and that affects the interests of the whole community.

Senator W. H. Bennett

The speaker of the evening was Senator W. H. Bennett, who gave a brief history of the Trent Waterway from its inception. He was here in Peterborough 35 years ago in conference with such men as Jas. Stevenson, Jno. Burnham, Mr. Claxton and D. W. Dumble on this waterway question, all of whom are now deceased except the latter gentleman. When he became member of the House of Commons in 1892 the Trent Canal was under going painful experience at the hands of the two old parties. Whateved the Grits did in this connection was not right in the eyes of their political opponents, and no matter what the Conservatives did that was wrong according to the Grit view. He was happyo to say now, hov ever, that this waterway is taken seriously, and after July first next there will be a clean route from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay.

Senator Bennett here gave an exhaustive review of the publicity given this waterway at the New York Motor Show, assisted to an appreciable extent by maps, published with the cooperation of the Minister of Railways and Canals and posted up at that show. This resulted, together with representaions made on that occasion by Mr. Ryerson Richie, then Secretary of Peterborough's Board of Trade, in some 400 Americans signifying their intention of making a trip over the Trent Waterway route, and in some hundreds of others seeking information as to its advantages.

The speaker endorsed the action of the Department of Trade and Commerce in arranging for the exhibition in England, Europe and even Australia of moving pictures of the Trent Waterway from Trenton to Washago, showing grain, fruit and industrial scenes. And after July first motion views are to be taken along the route from Washago to Georgian Bay. These pictures of the whole route, circulated by agents of the Dominion government in the Old Country and elsewhere abroad will not only show the waterway as a tourist route, but as a waterway traversing a rich farm, industrial and manufacturing section of Ontario, thus appealing to capitalists not wishing to go west as desirable for farming investment.

The Publicity.

He spoke of the wide publicity given this waterway among American manufacturers by means of circulars, advertising in motor boat magazines and in the Canadian press. Another line of advertising is now being taken up by Toronto Saturday Night, in which Mr. Donovan is to publish two column illustrated articles for the next few weeks, and the Senator strongly advised Boards of Trade affected by this waterway co-operating in having these articles published in pamphlet form and distributed in the United States.

Trent System.

Talking of the effective manner in which publicity had put the Trent system on the map of American tourists, Mr. Bennett expected that two motor boats—one from Bermuda, another from Jackson, Tennessee—will make the trip this summer up the St. Lawrence and over this waterway from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay.

The speaker was insistent that the government be pressed for an early completion of this whole route in its entirety. When the Washago Locks connecting Lake Couchiching with Sparrow Lake, is opened next July, it will be possible for a 35 ft. x 9 ft. boat to travel from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay. There are, however, three locks between Sparrow Lake and Gloucester Road to be yet completed on the Severn river. One is about half built, the others have not yet been sarted. To overcome these obstacles to navigation by small craft u pto 35 x 9 ft., two marine railways are now in use.

Locks Open on Sunday.

The Locks are to be opened all day Sundays in July and August. Now is the time, he declared, to boost this tourist route for all it is worth, for indications point to the possibility of the Trent Waterway touring business being worked up to an enormous extent. We have here the greatest paradise for tourists in the world. In Muskoka 60,000 people summer on three little inland lakes ,but seven or eight miles from the Severn river, which the department should be petitioned to canalize without delay to afford access for Muskoka's overflow.

In conclusion Senator Bennett asserted that the motor boat industry is growing bigger and bigger; there is no limit to its possibilities when a good motor boat route is available, and in this Trent waterway we have the finest route in the world. Then let us show them that we have the goods, and do it to the best advantage.

Bigger Ideas.

Mr. Sam Clarke, M.L.A., had bigger ideas than to boost this waterway as a pleasure route, built from Trenton to Midland through territory where no one lives. He hoped its biggest asset was not to bring Americans over it in 60 ft. boats. Both Grits and Tories, he said, had spent millions of the people's money on this system, and the people should get something out of it. His idea was that the Trent Canal can furnish the greatest water power in the world. Show the Americans that power is here for industry, for farming, for domestic use, that they can get land at $25, $50 and $75 an acre, and they'll flock to that land in thousands.

Referring to the magnificent power at Healey Falls, at Campbellford and other points on this route, Mr. Clarke inferred that the people in these districts must be sleeping in ,that they had not insisted on its exploitation by Hydro-Electric. There has been no development east compared with that west of Toronto, and yet Canada's greatest power asset is right here in Central Ontario. Peterborough he admitted to be one great hub, but it would be three hubs were its adjacent power fully developed. There is, he averred, enough power along this route for all the industries from here to Montreal, then why not get after both the Federal and Provincial governments to assure its development. Show them that this Trent waterway, the bugbear of Grits and Tories, has now developed into a great power asset which if applied to farm, household and industries, would reduce the cost of help by 25 per cent.

Not in Accord.

Mr. Edgar Worth was not in accord with Mr. Clarke. He pointed out that some places on the route had not been asleep, and that Peterborough, because of its power, has added and is adding to its industries very largely. The pleasure end of the project, he said, would attract capitalists to see our power and industrial opportunities.

Good Harbor.

Councillor Duncan, of Beaverton, drew attention to Beaverton as a harbor or refuge for motor boats, which fact he suggested, he included in all publicity schemes.

Use Every Drop of Water.

Superintendent A. L. Killaly of the Trent Canal, assured the company that the waterway's economical development would be continued consistently, and that before many years every drop of water falling from the Kawartha Lakes would be turning power wheels. This system was advocated as commercial in the first place, he said, and it remains for private enterprise to commercialize it.

He did not see why coal could not be brought here now from Belleville by boat, a scheme strongly endorsed by the late Mr. Denham, of the Quaker Oats. As for boats coming up over this route from Bermuda and Tennessee, Mr. Killaly wanted it distinctly understood that the largest steamer which can be accommodated at Young's Point, is only 117 x 22 ft, which would not permit of an 135 ft. boat locking through.

Mr Killaly also asked the public to report to the Trent Canal officials any inattention to duty or discourtesy on the part of any employees of the canal, for all have the strictest instructions in regard to their duties, as well as their attitude to the users of the canal and public generally. All employees are required to lend all possible assistance to the public and to assist in every way in making the most favorable impression upon all visitors to the Trent waterways.

Through Two Windows.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, chairman of the local committee, thought that Senator Bennett and Mr. Clarke are looking at the waterway's advantages from two different windows — they are both right, he assumed, and both agree that in this project we have a good thing ,but the public generally do not realize it. He characterized the whole enterprise as a national one, and had unbounded faith in its agriculture, commercial and industrial future. Linked up with this enterpise. Mr. Kerr concluded, is the tourist business, which would advertise the combined advantages of the whole system.

Spirit of Co-operation.

Mr. N. Smale in seconding the adoption of the constitution, referred in warm terms to the spirit of co-operation existing between Lindsay and Peterborough in this waterway plan. Lindsay, he said, is proud of its neighboring city, which has shouldered the lion's share in publicity work. He urged the co-operation of all interested municipalities in pressing for an early completion of the unfinished locks.

Give the Glad Hand.

President-elect G. K. Frazer, in assuming office, said Peterborough is one of the most rapidly growing cities in Canada, due to having grasped its power opportunities, and every town on the Trent Waterway route can emulate its example. He urged that at all times the glad hand be given touring visitors

Anchorage Wanted.

Ald. Turner remarked that there is not room for all boats to tie up at Peterborough wharf, and anchorage facilities should be provided.

President Frazer replied that pleasure cruisers do not come to tie up at a wharf; they prefer an anchorage.

Vote of Thanks.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Senator Bennett for his excellent address

Mr. R. B. Rogers, when moving this vote of thanks, in evidence of the canal's future for transportation, declared Mr. Robert Stuart considered this waterway an inducement for the Quaker Oats to locate in Peterborough. And when the mills were destroyed by fire he would not agree to rebuild until assured that the whole waterway system would be completed in five years. When men like Mr. Stuart place such importance on this route as a commercial factor, there should be no question but that such is its main purpose.

THE PASSING OF A PIONEER

Throughout the city and in the surrounding district all who were acquainted with William Dawson and knew his immeasurable qualities of kindness, his friendship and his cheerful good nature, have expressed heartfelt regret at his passing for they feel that in his death they lost a friend who was ever ready to do a kindness or a good deed to help them. The deceased came of one of the oldest families in Otonabee. His father, John S .Dawson, was a retired officer of the British army. After the war of 1812 in which he played a prominent part, he settled in Otonabee, about five miles out from the city. In 1833 William was born. He lived on the old homestead until the year 1853, when he married Miss Elizabeth McCague, of Emily township, removing to Peterborough, where he has lived practically ever since.

Of this happy union there were 10 children, of which 6 still survive, Mrs. Freeman Thompson, Bensford, Ontario, William A. of Moose Jaw, Mrs. W. A. Robinson, of Toronto, James Hilliard of Moose Jaw, Thomas G. of Chicago ,and Mrs. Harry Gibbs of Vancouver. He leaves 13 grandchildren, seven of whom will attend the funeral, coming from Niagara Falls, Toronto, Buffalo and other centres and nine great grandchildren.

For over thirty years the deceased lived on Concession street, near Downer's Corners, East City, practicing as a veterinary. Here the farmers came from far and near to have their horses examined by the late Mr. Dawson, whose knowledge of horses was perhaps unequalled in the county. When he was not at home he was far away on his visits. Sometimes he rode horse-back, carrying the medicine in his saddle bags or he drove in the gig. From Rice Lake to Buckhorn, from Millbrook to Norwood, he was well known and was respected and loved by all.

While he never aspired to any public office he was always keenly interested in the city's advancement. In religion he was a Methodist, attending Mark street church. He was always interested in church work, but of late years had been unable to attend.

For the last nine years, since the death of his wife, he has made his home with his son-in-law, Mr. John Henthorne, and his granddaughter, Miss Lizzie Henthorne, 129 Maud street. Always leading an active life since his removal to the city, he has has always kept busy working in his garden and once again living over the days with old acquaintances when Peterborough was but a village on the banks of the Otonabee. He could recall the time when this could boast of but one shanty.

He was a staunch Conservative in politics. During the war he took an active interest in the war news and the different moves of the armies.

The funeral took place this afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence, 129 Maud street to the Little Lake cemetery. An impressive service was held at the house at 1.30 o'clock by Rev. B. Greatrix in the absence of Rev. J. F. Chapman. The pallbearers were all life-long friends of the deceased. They were George Russell of Warsaw, David Mason of Peterborough, Robert Stenton of Otonabee, Sandy Matchett of Otonabee, James Ruth and Samuel Deyell, of Peterborough.

UNVEILING AT VILLIERS, SUNDAY

PETERBORO SPEAKERS TOOK PART IN CEREMONY.

At Villiers yesterday a tablet was unveiled in the presence of a large gathering of people. The unveiling, which was in honour of the "unreturning brave" of the district, was accompanied by an impressive ceremony. The speakers were Mr. G. A. Gillespie, Mr. D. Walker, Mr. T. J. Johnston and Rev. McEachren, of Keene. Miss Mae Bryce, of Keene, contributed two solos.

H. B. COWAN'S CHEESE SCHEME CRITICIZED

SECRETARY OF BROCKVILLE BOARD SAYS IT WOULD INJURE THE INDUSTRY.

KINGSTON, June 12.—That the co-operative marketing of cheese as promoted by H. B. Cowan, of Peterborough, is not practicable, and if put into effect will seriously injure the cheese industry, and ultimately deprive the factories of the benefit of the competition met with among buyers on the local boards as at present constituted, was the declaration of J. B. Wilson, secretary of the Brockville Cheese board, before the Frontenac Board.

Mr. Wilson sells over 200 boxes of cheese weekly on the Brockville Board. He showed that the scheme of co-operation as proposed by H. B. Cowan could not be successfully worked out and was bound to increase the costs of marketing, and in respect to wholesale purchasing of factory supplies and equipment, the farmers' club, that all patrons were members of already, can purchase them without organising another company to do it. He warned factory men to beware of the fads now being advocated. The price-fixing by the Government had injured the cheese business, but that was now passed ;the condenseries and milk powder factories would be only short-lived, and he predicted a splendid future if the farmers would only make full use of the local boards as they should, for it was there that they found the rivalry between the buyers that made the price.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday's rainfall was .58 of an inch; that of last night was .09 of an inch. The total is thus about 2-3 of an inch. It was what was needed, and it came at an opportune time. Conditions are not settled yet and it is possible there may be more where this came from.—W. P.

Woodmen of World Open Convention

"NOTHING TO FEAR"

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, June 16.—Germany has nothing to fear from the nomination of Warren G. Harding as Republican candidate for the Presidency of the United States, says the Boersen Zeitung.

"Nothing hitherto," the newspaper declares, "warrants apprehension that relations with Germany, which have been initialed by American commercial and financial interests, will be hampered, and on the contrary, it is probable they will be furthered."

AMBITIOUS PLANS FOR FURTHERING THE SCOPE OF THE ORGANIZATION—DELEGATES PRESENT.

The twenty-seventh legislative convention of the W.O.W. for the Dominion of Canada was officially opened at two o'clock this afternoon, following addresses of welcome by Mayor McIntyre on behalf of the city and Mr. John Edgar, chairman of the Reception Committee of Sherwood Camp.

Seventy-five delegates have so far reached the city, and numerous others are expected to-night.

The sessions will run this afternoon and to-night and to-morrow. To-morrow night, it is expected, will see its conclusion, and on Friday the delegates will take a boat trip through the Kawartha Lakes. This trip is being eagerly looked forward to, and will be a fitting conclusion to the convention. Friday night and Saturday the delegates will leave for their respective camps, armed with notes and papers to show the work that was accomplished at the convention.

The last convention was held in London, where the headquarters are, but comparing the two, the delegates say that considering that they are handicapped by the Foresters' meeting in Montreal and the Oddfellows' in London, this bids fair to be as successful as last year's convention.

The local executive officers are all wearing smiles of gratification at the success so far. The opening ceremonies and rush and confusion of getting the convention under way has gone on with never a slip, and that this is so reflects creditably on the work of the officers.

Head Banker J. H. Saunders replied on behalf of the executive to the Mayor's welcome. After thanking His Worship for the welcome, he spoke in glowing terms of Peterborough as a city. "It is a most beautiful city," he said. "The Lift Locks," he said "were a wonderful engineering work, and he felt they would enjoy their trip up the lakes very much. As to the people," he said, "they could certainly use you kindly. You see, Peterborough is the proper place to hold a convention."

Head Manager J. B. Hoover also replied. "I have many friends in this city," he said, "and if all were in the same class, it must certainly be a fine city."

"We appreciate your efforts on our part. We know the beauties that are in store for us." He advised all the delegates not to fail to take the trip up the Lakes.

To Sovereign John Edgar's address D. Cinnamon of Lindsay, Past Head Council Commander, replied. On behalf of the delegates he extended to Sovereign Edgar and Sherwood Camp their sincere thanks for the interest they had taken to make the Head Camp meeting a success. "We appreciate your confidence in the order."

Speaking of the meeting last night he declared that it was one of the largest he had ever attended in years. The beauties of Peterborough were eulogized by the speaker, and especially did he praise the beauty of St. John's church and grounds. It recalled, he said, the old churches and England with its ivy and gray walls. The streets and buildings could compare with any city in Canada. "You have a summer resort in Stoney Lake unsurpassed on the continent of America," he said, speaking of the lovely lake trip.

Head Council Commander Clair Jarvis spoke very briefly before opening the meeting. He expressed appreciation at the Mayor's welcome and the committee's efforts.

History of Order.

The Woodmen of the World Organization which is meeting in Peterborough to-day was founded in 1890 by an American, Hon. Joseph Cullen Root of Omaha, Nebraska, with head quarters in Omaha. The work was carried into Canada out in the following year owing to the requirements of the Canadian government respecting the insurance of fraternal associations the Canadian Order obtained a Canadian Incorporation.

They have however retained fraternal relationship with the parent order in United States and both orders have steadily progressed until to-day the combined membership totals 800,000. Combined assets of over $42,000,000 are shown.

Both the sovereign and Canadian jurisdictions have adopted the National Fraternal Congress rates, the parent order following the Canadian order in this particular in 1918 Both societies to-day are more than actuary solvent and stand out prominently solvent and stand out prominent of the American continent.

The Canadian Order will among other things present for consideration to the present convention a scheme of juvenile insurance policies and benefits and schedules of rates drafted by Dr. Frank Sanderson, the order's actuary, Toronto. In a very short time the W.O.W. will no doubt be issuing policies protecting the entire family.

ORANGEMEN READY FOR 12TH JULY

SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING HELD IN LAKEFIELD LAST EVENING.

LAKEFIELD, June 16. — The semi-annual meeting of the County Orange Lodge of West Peterborough, was held at Lakefield last evening. Over 100 were present in spite of the discouraging weather conditions. In the absence of the County Master, Mr. George Williamson, the chair was occupied by Mr. George Porter, of Monaghan, while Mr. Robert Webster, of the village, occupied the Deputy's chair.

Several matters of business were discussed, and addresses were given by Bro. E. F. Reid, Past Master, Bro. J. C. Waldie, Past Master, and Bro. J. Cunningham, Past Master

The celebration in Peterborough this year was discussed, and it is expected to be a big event—the biggest celebration in many years. Lodges from West Toronto have promised to be present, and nearly every town of importance between Toronto and Peterborough, including Bowmanville, has promised to send its quota to swell the numbers. The rural districts are always well represented on these occasions, and the officers expect that this year will be a splendid success.

THURSDAY, JUNE 17TH, 1920.

FARMERS AND RECREATION.

Throughout the County of Middlesex the United Farmers have proclaimed every Wednesday afternoon during the summer months as a half-holiday. This is a new departure for the rural sections, but the innovation is a sensible one that deserves commendation and support and the example might be widely copied throughout the country. There is no reason why the farmers should not get a breathing spell each week such as their fellow-citizens in the urban centres enjoy. Their work is hard during the summer and the hours are long—if the workers in the cities need a half-holiday, then there is even more necessity of the farmers having a similar period of relaxation.

And the United Farmers of Middlesex have evidently decided that the work can be arranged so as to permit of this weekly half-holiday being held.

The farmers elsewhere have come to the conclusion that on the farm, as well as in the factory or the office, "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

In East Peterborough Mr. J. J. Solomon, the well-known baseball enthusiast of this city, has appeared in the role of a benefactor who has carried the element of healthy sport and recreation into the lives of the young men of the district. The baseball league that he has organised in the eastern section of the county means a new interest for the young farmers of East Peterborough, and incidentally for their elders. Through it they are getting away, for a while at least, from the drudgery of their daily work, and are enjoying some of the pleasures that their friends in the city find in athletic competitions. And why not? There is no logical argument to sustain the theory that the people of the rural sections should be deprived of the benefits of athletics, because their work is on the farms and not in the workshops of the cities. Mr. Solomon may prove to be a pioneer in a movement that will be emulated in many sections of the Province.

THE MISSING LETTERS.

The Opposition in the Dominion House is to-day making another effort to secure the publication of the now famous letters between Sir George Foster and Judge Robson concerning the resignation of the latter from his position as chairman of the Board of Commerce. This afternoon Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux was to ask for copies of all the correspondence and documents that passed between the former chairman and Sir George, who was Acting Premier at the time. The government has so far declined to produce these letters, and Hon. Mr. Lemieux's attempt is not any more likely to be successful than were earlier efforts to secure the same information. Nevertheless the Opposition in continuing to press for the release of the correspondence is living up to its responsibility and its duty to the people of the country. Undoubtedly the information that is contained in the letters would let in the light upon a number of matters that are at present a mystery—particularly in regard to the operations of the Board of Commerce and its failure to effectively cope with the high cost of living.

THE TRENT CANAL.

Of great importance to Peterborough and the district generally is the meeting here to-morrow night of representatives from the various municipalities along the Trent Canal for the purpose of organizing the Trent Waterway Association. The object of the Association will be to advertise in every way possible the advantages offered from a scenic and a power standpoint by the Trent system. It is realized that the canal will will be only of limited importance as a commercial transportation system, but the opening up of a new tourist paradise of lakes and rivers and the power that has been developed as a result of the building of the Trent waterway, have much more than justified the expenditure that has been made, and it is manifestly the duty of the municipalities situated along the Trent route to develop to the fullest extent the resources offered by the completion of the canal. It is an asset that should be used to the greatest advantage and there is no reason why this district should not become one of the most popular summer resorts in America. It is with the object of combining the energy and thought of the whole section served by the Trent system that to-morrow's meeting has been called and the formation of an Association promises to have most beneficial results.

LUXURY TAX PUZZLES.

There are many features in connection with the new Budget taxation proposals that are difficult to understand and one that is in particular causing speculation and confusion is the decision of the government to go on collecting the luxury taxes as laid down on May 19 although many of these are to be amended along the lines mentioned by Sir Henry Drayton last week and in their case refunds will be in order. The amendments have not been formally introduced and until they are passed the luxury taxes as first brought down will stand, and the farce will have to be continued of collecting taxes that the Finance Minister has promised will, as far as possible, be refunded. What a pretty little problem for the merchant! He will have to go on exacting the first luxury tax until the government gets ready to pass the amendments, taking all the endless trouble of making the collections and writing out receipts for the customer, the government and himself, and all for nothing. Then will come the confusion of refunding to his customers the difference between the first announced tax and the new one, an operation that would be troublesome enough in itself and will be complicated by the fact that most people have only a hazy idea of the whole scheme and will expect a refund of all the luxury taxes they have paid since the Budget was first brought down.

Sir Henry Drayton has been unfortunate in his first Budget through the indecisive policy he has adopted. It is generally felt that he should have mapped out his scheme carefully before announcing it, and once having brought it down, should have refused to make alterations that could not fail to make confusion worse confounded.

PASSING THE BUCK.

Mr. Hicks, M.P.P., who was reported to have declared at a farmers' meeting that there were many attempts during the recent session of the Legislature to bribe the U.F.O. members to pass legislation on behalf of certain interests, now makes the statement that he was misquoted, and certainly what he says he said bears little resemblance to what some of the newspapers announced that he said. The U.F.O. whip, having made his explanation, there is no need of further demands for an inquiry into his charges.

With all due deference to Mr. Hicks, however, it must be said that many public men have a failing for saying the wrong things from the platform, and while their remarks would do only a limited amount of harm if they were confined to those who hear them, they generally get into the newspapers and cause trouble. Somehow a speech that may have appeared to be harmless when it was delivered, looks different when in the black type of the newspapers, especially when it is realized that from one end of the country to the country the statements of the speaker will be read and dissected. And when the orator begins to see that he, like the parrot, has talked too much, he seizes upon the favourite old defence—he has been "misquoted" by the reporters. Sometimes the excuse is valid, the press representatives may give an innocent remark an unintended significance, it may happen that a sentnce quoted by itself would have a different meaning if the context were given. But more often the newspapers have printed exactly what the speaker said, but dismayed at the unexpected storm that his remarks have caused, he falls back upon the ever handy alibi and blames the reporters. It has ever been thus.

THE BOARD OF COMMERCE.

Reports from Ottawa declare that the Board of Commerce is to be abolished will cause a good deal of speculation. The Board has held a multiplicity of inquiries into the cost of many articles of food, but so far no profiteer has been punished, nor has there been any appreciable reduction in the cost of living. The Canadian consumer, reading of the heavy fines that are being inflicted upon those guilty of profiteering in the United States, is at a loss to understand how the men who are making exorbitant profits on this side of the line are allowed to escape.

The Judge Robson correspondence which the Government has declined to bring down might supply the missing information. Commissioner Murdock of the Board of Commerce declares that the people are entitled to "know something more of the reasons that prevented the Board of Commerce of Canada from performing its functions in controlling profiteering and combines against the public interest as by law intended."

Mr. Murdock is right. The trouble is, however, that the Government does not concede the public any claims in this regard. The information that might clear up the situation is believed to be contained in the correspondence with and from Judge Robson. If it were published, the Canadian people might know just why profiteers have gone unchecked.

MR. HICKS' CHARGES.

The statement credited to Andrew Hicks, M.P.P., the U.F.O. Whip in the Legislature, that "the sums of money offered to the representatives of the people to pass certain pieces of legislation during the last session of the Legislature were appalling," is, as might be expected, attracting a great deal of attention. Mr. Hicks made his astounding declaration at a farmers' picnic in East Middlesex the other day, and apparently was quite content to mention these attempts at bribery and leave it at that. But it is to be fancied that many electors will not be satisfied with the mere statement, that boldfaced attempts have been made to corrupt the members of the Legislature on behalf of certain interests.

If Mr. Hicks was speaking by the book he should be prepared to go further and tell the people who the guilty parties were and the circumstances under which the bribes were offered. That is information that the people of the Province should have, and if Mr. Hicks is in possession of facts that prove his statements, he should be called upon to disclose them before a proper inquiry. His charges are too serious to be merely stated from the platform at a farmers' picnic. And if the Government Whip is not in a position to substantiate his statement, why in the name of common sense should he make public such an indictment?

Mr. Hicks has intimated in reply to an inquiry from a newspaper that some portions of his speech were not correctly reported. He owes the public a complete explanation.

ANOTHER PUZZLE.

The perplexity that has existed in the minds of mansfacturers, merchants and the people generally ever since Sir Henry Drayton introdhced his luxury tax proposals last month will certainly not be lessened by the announcement of the changes in the taaxtion that the Finance Minister is now asking the House to accept. Very few people had more than a faint idea of the manner in which the new tax scheme was supposed to work, and the merchant who had just began to straighten out his affairs on the new basis will find himself in a worse quandry than ever as a result of the modifications that are now to be put into force. There is bound to be confusion over the changes, for until they are adopted by the House the taxes announced on May 18, are still operative and must be collected by the merchants as usual. One question that naturally arises is that of refunds. What about the customer who bought a pair of $12.00 shoes last week and paid a luxury tax of $1.20 thereon. If he had waited for a few days he might have secured the same shoes and only had to pay a luxury tax of 45c. Naturally he is not going to feel very pleased. Is he justified in asking the merchant from whom he bought the shoes for the differeuce between the old and new luxury taxes? Frankly, the Examiner does not know, for in one breath Sir Henry Drayton announces that the taxes collected in this way will be refunded if at all possible and in the next that the proposed charges will not be retroactive.

As to the changes themselves there is not so much objection. The government has yielded to the opinion voiced by many people in regard to the tax on boots and shoes and clothing and has greatly reduced this levy. Instead of collecting a tax of 10 per cent. on shoes costing more than $9 and clothing more than $45.00, the Finance Minister now proposes to place a 15 per cent. tax on the excess retail cost over the non-taxable limit. Instead of having to pay $5.00 tax on a $50 suit, the customer will, when the new proposals are adopted, escape with the payment of 75c. as a luxury tax. This is the method advocated by the Reconstruction Association and voiced by Sir John Willison the other day, and there will be considerable speculation as to whether the Willison statement was issued to pave the way for Sir Henry Drayton's new proposals.

LOOKING FOR A PRICE INCREASE

CLAIMS THERE IS NO MONEY IN MILK.

Unless the milk producers raise their prices at once there will be a lot of fellows out of business soon, Mr. R. B. Rogers, an officer of the Milk Producers' Association, told the Examiner yesterday, when asked if there were any movement amongst them to raise milk prices. He also stated that at the price milk is being sold no money could be made.

Inquiries amongst the local milkmen failed to find any foundation for the statement that the prices would be boosted and the feeling was evidently that if the other fellow raised the price each would do the same.

Sunday Services.

On Sunday evening most of the village churches held brief services and as many as possible gathered in the Methodist Church to hear Mr. Joffe, the converted Hebrew, speak.

Owing to the heat, which was very oppressive, some of the large crowd could not remain throughout, which made it difficult for Mr. Joffe to speak, but the evening was very profitably and very much appreciated.

Mr. Joffe announced at the beginning of his discourse that he would be brief as he knew it was a sermon following a sermon. He spoke on the subject of faith.

He read a portion of scripture, showing the eternal argument between God's wisdom and man's wisdom. Man has always sought to fathom the unfathomable and to discover the mysteries of God. Man has sought liberty in his upward struggle. Our Lord said, "You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." The English language is very flexible, more so than any except the Hebrew language. In transforming singulars to plural, it is the richest in the world. For instance, there is a flock of sheep, a cavalcade of horsemen, a mass of money, a bevy of girls, plenty of trouble, and heaps of other things. But the English language, which is so rich in some expressions, is poor in the expression of faith as there is only one word for faith. As for example, a faithful wife, a faithful husband, a faithful Christian. The Hebrew language has one word for the all embracing faith in God. In the 11th chapter of the epistle of St. Paul to the Hebrews, he said of faith: "Faith is the substance of things hoped for the evidence of things not seen."

Some people are turning in these days away from the church and toward Russellism, spiritualism and Christian science. That is due to a lack of faith. No one can be a Christian, no matter to what denomination they belong, without faith. People who turn to spiritualism because of such men as Sir Oliver Lodge and Conan Doyle or because a loved one dies and they are depressed, have lost their anchorage of faith. Christianity, endorsed by our Lord Jesus Christ, does not need to be endorsed by such men as Sir Oliver Lodge or Conan Doyle. People who worry over their business are suffering from a lack of faith. Our Lord said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of heaven and the rest shall be added unto you."

It is nine and a half years since the speaker became a Christian and that was not an easy step to take for one of his race as persecution follows and he is cut off from his own people. With us if a person professes Christianity, his standing is decidedly raised among his fellow men but not so with the Hebrews.

He asked no sympathy or help because of a strong faith in God. He felt he could rely on the Everlasting Father. Without faith one cannot stand one moment in the pesence of God. Just at present it seems as though a blast is breaking against the church and she is subjected to criticisms, higher and lower. In critical times such as these we have great need of our faith. As a soldier has sublime faith in his commanding officer, not asking the general plans but believing that the officer will do everything in the best way, much more then should we have faith in Christ who governs our lives.

The average faith is camouflaged, but true faith in Jesus Christ sweetens your lives. All things come to good for those who love the Lord.

When the speaker became a convert, he wanted to give his experience to the English people so by dint of hardy study, perserverence and faith he acquired the English language, which he speaks almost perfectly and now is able to tell us of the things the Lord did for him.

It is not easy to sell Bibles as the good have them and the bad people don't want them. People will argue in all sorts of ways against the Bible because they have not faith.

All turmoil shall cease, there shall be no more weeping or sorrow or sickness or pain, but eternal joy Lay hold on life and tomorrow your lives shall be transformed. All things are possible with God.

The meeting, which had been opened by the singing of a hymn, followed by a prayer and Bible reading by Mr. Joffe. Was closed with the National Anthem and the benediction by Rev. Dr.) Archbold.

"THE CITY OF FEAR"

By H. F. GADSBY

OTTAWA, June 17.—Ottawa is the city of fear. To begin with there are two hundred and thirty-one members of the House of Commons who realize how frail is the thread on which their political existence hangs. A general election might cut them off any day.

Their shudderings and shiverings are bad enough, but when you add to them the tremors of fifteen thousand employees of the Inside Civil Service who don't know where the lightning is going to strike next a deep gloom naturally falls over the community. Roughly speaking one half the population of Ottawa depends directly or indirectly on Government jobs, so that when the signs of the time point to a large number of office holders getting it in the neck the landscape takes on a solemn hush and the blue Laurentian mountains look bluer than ever.

Some seven years ago there was a little tiff between the Hon. Robert Rogers and Dr. Shortt theh chairman of the Civil Service Commission, who was indiscreet enough to remark that the Inside Civil Service had about three men to every one job. This statement was never positively denied, but Dr. Shortt was demoted for his candor to the Archives Department where his passion for figures will not be so dangerous.

"If there were three men to every job seven years ago there are perhaps five now, considering the war bureaus and the supernumerary employments for returned soldiers. The war bureaus, some of which are still at full war strength, gave opportunity to many young Ottawa ladies from servant girls up—I use the word servant girl with trepidation, remembering General MacLean's experience—to go on their country's pay roll, where they remain to this day, having learned in the meanwhile the gentle art of pull, which keeps a job going after the job itself has run down. Space lacks here to mention the departments which should be ruthless demobolized but which persist in lingering superfluous. Moreover the regular departments of the service are cluttered up and the machinery much retarded by the extra hands which were taken on during the war period and after.

As I said before, there are now perhaps five men to every job and though four of them do next to nothing they are all bound to make themselves look important by multiplying red tape. Only the other day I heard a hard working official of Parliament complaining that a simple requisition he had made for an arm chair had already gone through ten pairs of hands and the chair was not in place yet.

An Indoor Sport.

A favorite indoor sport with amateur statisticians is to walk along the corridor of any Government building and open a door at random. In a room harboring twenty taxeaters the results will be as follows: five chewing gum, two reading, three drinking water, one knitting, three gossiping, two looking out of the window and four working. An enterprising investigator of my acquaintance tells me that he has never known this proportion of drones to busy bees to fail.

However there is a feeling that these fat sleepy days are over. There is a hint of alarm in the air. The Government, pressed for money, begins to lend an ear to noisy Members of Parliament who ask what this man or that does for the salary he is credited with in the Auditor General's report. It has begun, albeit timidly, to cut down on the Civil Service and fifteen thousand civil servants ask anxiously where the axe is going to fall next.

It is the Inside Civil Service that apprehends the crack of doom. There are hereditary Inside Civil Service families in Ottawa, people who have been so long inside that they wouldn't know what to do if they found themselves on the outside. Naturally, they are in favor of things as they are even when such things can no longer be. The air is full of their low moans. Besides the hereditary Inside Civil Service there are thousands of fugitives from the battle of life the rewarded veterans of long-forgotten party fights, who have grown grey doing nothing for their grateful country at so much per month. Tired persons from every walk of life have found shelter in the Inside Civil Service and the older they get the more tired they are. They have that tired feeling after eating which mites in the cheese usually experience. Moreover the Inside Civil Service is stuffed with the useless sons and poor relations of statesmen past and present, patriots who, in a metaphorical sense, bled for their country to bleed it afterwards to the third and fourth generation. These tired, useless, and lazy people in the Inside Civil Service cost the country many million dollars a year. They would probably go on costing it if the Government wasn't so hard up for money that the old free-and-easy methods have to be abolished. The Government has borrowed and taxed—now it must save and saving, like charity, begins at home and home is Ottawa.

Let Well Enough Alone.

Of course all the beneficiaries of the old system are up in arms against a change. Any change, they argue, will be for the worse—for them. Something has gone wrong with the Inside Civil Service they complain—something has gone wrong with its insides. The Government prescription is that a purgative is needed. One never knows where a purgative is going to end. At all events the Inside Civil Service is not the snug harbor that it used to be, where, safe at home, the danger past, the mariner on life's sea, could live happily ever afterwards with nothing to do but draw his pay envelope once a month and kick for a raise in wages with a view to diverting attention from his intrinsic idleness.

The Inside Civil Service is no longer a soft snap. Publicists and sinners begin to insist that one man shall do one man's work for one man's pay and that there shall not be any idle salary-drawing hands for Satan to find mischief for. The trouble began, so they say, when the Civil Service Commission butted in. Up to that time it was easy to get into the Civil Service and hard to get out. Now it is the other way round—methods having been discovered to give a man a job without inflecting him on the country's pay roll until death do them part. In one department at least,—Mr. Breadner's Income Tax Department—men are hired on their merits and fired for their demerits at a month's notice. This is good business and Mr. Breadner's plan begins to find grace in other departments. The day may come when Government jobs will be like most other jobs in this cold, cruel, world, tenable only for competence.

The Civil Service Commission though still under bit and rein of a centralized patronage system, has had a salutary and disturbing influence on the dry bones of precedent and tradition. Even if the old patronage system came back it is reasonable to suppose that the Inside Civil Service would not suffer as it has done in the past for the simple reason that the country can no longer afford to support an army of sponsers. Moreover it is within the mark to expect that narrow circumstances may yet force a Canadian Government to reduce and reorganize the public departments, cutting their number in half, doubling their efficiency, and doing away with the expensive overlapping which is the curse of the present system.

The Object Lesson.

Meanwhile the Government has begun to unload—timidly, it is true—but it has begun. There's the rub! Where will it ease off next? Just now they are pensioning the old-timers but the day may come when they will take the ground that a Government employee must observe thrift, and not depend on pensions, if he would provide for his old age. The Printing Bureau is the great object lesson before Ottawa's weeping eyes. Within a year four hundred bureau employees have been let—their pensions graded according to length of service. Cynics allege that four hundred more can be let go and the loss not be felt—but that looks like a large order.

The Printing Bureau is the centre of the cyclone which is to whirl the laggards and the lingerers into oblivion and leave only the workers behind. What's more, every worker is to have enough work and the old system by which printing was jobbed out, that should have kept the Bureau at least half busy, is to be done away with. Useless publications, unnecessary maps, superfluous blue books—in which the departments were prolific—are to be cut out. As Editor of Publications Mr. Fred Cook, a veteran newspaper man, may be relied on to ditch all the trash and give the hot stuff the right of way. The office of King's printer—now that Mr. Tache moves on to the library—is amalgamated with that of under Secretary of State and thus a salary is saved. Every little helps.

The Militia Department is said to be in for a thorough housecleaning. Looking forward to the day when the farmers will be in the saddle and militarism will be cut to the bone, the high officials of the Militia Department are weeding out the pay rolls. This weeding out falls heaviest on officials who did not have an overseas record. Half a dozen armchair generals have been retired and more are to follow, along with Colonels, Majors and Captains, who have drawn pay for many a long year but who never heard a shot fired in anger.

When General Sir Arthur Currie was in office he had a simple rule for hiring and firing. It was this—did the job-holder take part in the Last Hundred Days? If he didnt, good bye! This simple rule was rapidly reducing the Militia Department to a reasonable business footing. It is rumored that General McBrien will carry on the good work along Sir Arthur's lines. The rule may also be applied to the Soldier's Civil Re-establishment Department which is in similar need of thinning out.

ANOTHER FINE SAMPLE OF BERRIES.

Mr. Matthew Hiscox left at The Examiner office a box of a new strawberry he is raising. It is called the Dr. Burrell, and the plants were obtained from Michigan last year. These berries are grown at Mr. Hiscox's home at Downer's, and are an extremely good berry. A good crop is expected after the rain of the past week-end.

Kidney Trouble

Is quite common, gradually becoming more severe and if prompt action is not taken serious results will follow. The symptoms are headache and pains in the back, sleeplessness, sallow complexion, white coated tongue and frequent urination. If a puffy swelling is noticed in the feet or ankles, the disease is well established and you must give the Kidneys all the help possible, by stirring the Liver and Bowels into action. Take Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets every night according to directions, watch the digestion carefully, drink plenty of cold water between meals, and you will see a great change in a short time. Try them, they work wonders. See testimonials in pamphlet.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets are sold at Warne's Drug Store, Peterborough. 25c., 50c., $1.00 per box. Ask for free sample and literature.

BURLEIGH WOMEN HOLD FATHERS' DAY

MOUNT JULIAN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE SHOW INITIATIVE.

MOUNT PLEASANT, June 9. — The annual business meeting of the local branch of the Women's Institute was held on May 26 and was well attended. After the usual opening exercises, the election of officers took place. Our popular president and secretary, Mrs. Lauder and Miss E. Reid were re-elected.

A resolution was passed that the last Sunday in May be set apart as "Father's Day." Mrs. Lauder had suggested this some time ago and has finally succeeded in having a "father's day" observed in the community. The "father's day" services was observed in the Methodist church.

The general meeting of the Institute which is arranged for by the department will be held on Tuesday afternoon, June 22nd, at the home of Mrs. Harrison Browson. Mrs. B. O. Allen of Fort William, will address the meeting on the subject, "What Canada Demands of Her Women" and "Women's Responsibility in Public Health and Child Welfare." Mrs. Allen is a most capable and valuable Institute worker in the Fort William district. She is a very fluent and impressive lecturer and has a way of imparting information that will render her services valuable to Institute. This meeting is free to all and a cordial invitation is extended. Lunch will be served at the close of the meeting.

The Methodist Sunday school has opened again for the summer with a good atendance.

The many friends of Mr. C. Lauder are pleased to see him around again. He fell on the ice injuring his right leg and has been confined to his home since March.

Miss Lena McCauley, who has been in the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, for the past eight months, undergoing treatment, has returned home. She was a victim of infantile paralysis some time ago that caused her to be badly crippled. We are pleased to see her so much improved, being able to walk without the aid of crutches now.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barr of Dummer, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B Reid on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Church spent the week end with their son at Young's Point.

Handbags are very elaborate.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

CHAPTER CXLII

"I was just coming to look for you, Sandra!" Everett said as he stepped into the hall. Miss Pierce had evidently followed his advice and gone upstairs.

"Why? Haven't I a right to be late once in a blue moon? You often keep me waiting, you know," I answered as lightly as I could. The door was open; Thomas was listening. Perhaps Thomas knew of that tryst in the library and was even now laughing in his sleeve at me—at how easily I was fooled?

Instead of going upstairs I went into the library.

"Better run up and get ready for dinner, Sandra," Everett said, glancing at the clock.

"I don't want any dinner!" I had closed the door carefully. I was absolutely reckless of what I said now.

"Don't want any dinner! Are you ill?" My appetite was usually very good. Hence his question.

"Yes, I'm sick! Sick to death of your actions. It was bad enough before, but when it comes to making love to a servant in your own house it is enough to sicken any woman—any wife."

"What in the world are you talking about, Sandra?" he demanded, growing stern as he always did when accused.

"I a talking of you! Your actions. Because I have kept still always, or almost always, you think I shall always do so. But you are mistaken. I won't this time, I can assure you." I was trembling with anger outraged pride, and jealousy. I tore my gloves off, threw them beside my hat on the table, and faced him: "I not only heard, but I SAW you making love to Miss Pierce. Either she or I leave this house at once. At once!" I repeated, almost screaming.

"Stop!" Everett stood over me in a threatening manner, his face white with anger. "Do you realize that you are insulting me as well as Miss Pierce? Evidently you were spying. For her sake I will explain. Your actions I cannot explain."

"There is no possible explanation of what I saw and heard!"

"There is. And you must listen to it," he quietly turned the key in the door. "That child might come back and know what you have thought," he said. A pitying note crept into his voice.

"I tell you I do not want to hear any explanation. I shall not believe it, so it will be useless."

"Nevertheless you shall hear. Miss Pierce has just heard of the marriage of a younger sister who remained at home and helped her stepmother (who is not domestic) to keep house. They cannot afford a servant, so now have sent for Miss Pierce, telling her it is her duty to come home at once and take the sister's place. She was looking for you with the letter, then I came in, and she showed it to me instead. She is terribly averse to going, yet wants to do what is right."

"I suppose that was what she meant when she said I would never consent to let her stay!" I sneered, determined not to be convinced. "And I suppose that was why you put your arms around her."

"Your name wasn't mentioned Sandra. She asked for you and when Thomas told her you had not yet come in, she never spoke of you again. She was talking of her stepmother, whom I judge to be rather common, as well as selfish. I have advised her to remain with us; and promised to write her father that she will do so. I see no reason why she should be sacrificed to a selfish step-mother's whims, as well as we be robbed of a good nurse."

I said nothing. I did not know whether I was convinced or not.

"You have heard all I have to say. I would suggest that you get ready for dinner." He unlocked the door just as Hetty appeared, announcing it was ready.

"I'll be down directly," I said.

"Oh, Mrs. Graham! I am so glad you have come!" it was Miss Pierce's voice arrested my attention. "I have talked it over with Mr. Graham, but I want your opinion. Will you let me come to your room a few minutes after dinner?"

"If you wish," I ungraciously replied. But she didn't seem to notice, and thanked me affusively.

CHAPTER CXLIII.

Everett did not once speak to me all through dinner. I felt my thoughts disordered, confused. Had I again been wrong? I dared not try to make conversation before Thomas; I did not know what I might say. My brain was not sufficiently collected. Had it not been that Miss Pierce had seemed to eagerly to welcome my presence, I should still have doubted them. But she was unaffectedly glad to see me, so anxious to consult me, that I did not know what to think.

It shot across my mind, as we sat there silent, how strange it was that one human being should have so little sympathy with another. I felt that Everett was all out of sympathy with me—not because of my action in condemning him—my unfair criticism, but because he did not love me as he should.

I felt some way that things had come to a crisis. That Everett would perhaps hate me because of my uncalled-for tirade, my spying. I knew his ideas upon such subjects, who did such things.

The thought of Everett's love for that other woman who had been his wife, had clung to me like a vicious web. I had struggled against it, but it had enwrapped me, poisoning my life. I never had been able to shake it from me.

I had been unfair to him in allowing myself to become so enmeshed in jealousy for her that it had made me unhappy, so annoying him—even though he knew not the reason. I had been unfair in regard to his acquaintance with Irma Barton and others—proved wrong in my suspicions. And now had I been unjust about Miss Pierce? If I had, what had I to find fault with? Quickly into my mind leaped the answer: "The love I long for is not mine!" Then followed the thought: "I have heard that one can really love but once. Perhaps Everett gives me all he has to give." So, harried by such thoughts, I excused myself when we had finished and went up to hear what Miss Pierce had to say.

I think I never read so selfish a letter as was the one from her stepmother. At once all my anger against the girl, and so against Everett, died away.

"I should not think of going if I were you!" I told her. "Your stepmother simply wants you to wait upon her, and do the drudgery. You say she is perfectly well?"

"Oh, yes, she's always been healthy. She is younger than father, and will dance all night. But she hates to do anything about the house. I do hope it is right for me to stay. I love Junior so it would break my heart to leave him. Then too—," she flushed, "father can't afford to pay me anything, hardly afford to dress me. I hate to give up my independence."

"It isn't your duty. Mr. Graham thinks as I do," I replied and was rewarded by such a gush of tears it frightened me. The poor girl had been worrying for fear we would tell her that her duty lay with her step-mother.

After I had quieted her, I went down-stairs to Everett.

"Well?" he said.

"Miss Pierce showed me the letter. I told her to stay," I answered, ashamed and wanting to say so, but not knowing quite how.

"Haven't you anything to say to me?"

"Only to ask your forgiveness for my suspicions. But—"

"I forgive you, Sandra because you are not the fault-finding, suspicious kind usually. But, my dear, haven't you yet learned to trust me? Haven't I proved myself to you?"

"Yes—but—"

"But what?"

I made no answer, although the words I so longed, yet hated, to say, trembled on my lips.

"But what, dear?" he asked again. "But you don't love me!"

As I spoke the tears came in a perfect flood. All the pent-up emotion of the years of jealous misgivings poured out in that flood of tears and heart-racking sobs.

"I don't love you? Why, Sandra, what do you mean?" he asked as he took me in his arms, and wiped my eyes.

CHAPTER CXLIV.

"What do you mean?" Everett repeated, holding me closely. "I do not love you? How can you say such a thing?"

"Because it is true," I sobbed.

"Sandra, try and quiet yourself and tell me why you think I do not love you. Please, dear?" again he wiped my eyes tenderly, and waited.

"I—don't—dare—"

"Don't dare! I do not understand. Surely you are not afraid of me? You weren't before dinner when you were suspicious of me."

"That was different. But Everett, I have loved you so—almost ever since we were married—and it has hurt me so."

"What has hurt you?"

"Because you didn't love me—like you—could."

"Sandra, will you stop crying and tell me what you mean?" he spoke in a voice I never had heard. One that seemed to hold a note of anxiety, and something very like desire.

"I'll try, Everett," I gulped down my sobs, desperately frightened, but determined to tell him. Perhaps if I did I would stop thinking of it—my only thought.

So I told him of all I had felt since I married him five years before. How at first it was Leola's picture, then other things. Of my resemblance to her, which everyone told me of—my coloring—and his buying me the same colors in clothes and in jewelry he had bought her. How the talk of these things hurt me.

Then I told him of my other jealousies. Of Irma and the others. Finally I spoke of finding the letters—of which he knew—and how the reading of the two had made me so miserable that even my curiosity would not let me read any more. Then I recalled all the little things which I have here narrated that made me miserable up to the time I found the note he had written Leola—that note which, so long ago, she had pinned in the bosom of her ball gown.

"That hurt worst of all," I told him. "You never have said anything like that to me, never once. Then I knew for sure that you never had loved me. Up to that time I hadn't been quite sure. I thought perhaps it was because you were dignified and older that you never said things like that to me—like Duane Sloane says to Alice; and now Irma's husband—he's as old as you—says to her. But after I found that I knew you never would love me. That's the reason I have been depressed, and couldn't tell you what was the matter—I was ashamed to tell you." I hid my face against his bosom. I could not look at him after what I had confessed.

Suddenly I heard a sob, or something very like it. His arms closed even more tightly around me, and he was murmuring words of love over me.

"My precious, precious little wife!" he said it over and over. "To think you have been unhappy because you imagined I didn't love you! Why, my darling, I was afraid to show my love for you to the extent I wanted to, for fear you would think me a silly old fool. Your young friends had made fun of me as an old man until I really felt you looked upon me in the same light. For five years, dearest, I have held myself in check for fear I would shock, perhaps disgust, you. Oh, what a waste of time!" he added whimsically. "And, dear, let us settle things once for all. I DID love Leola. I was a boy when I married her. I honored her memory for nine years. I asked you to marry me—not to raise a family, as you have said he been told you—but because I loved you. I was perhaps strict with you, but you were such a child; I wanted you to be happy, and I knew you could not be unless you were at ease in the position you occupied. It was the same fear your mother had. All these other things meant nothing, yet if you had told me how you felt all wretchedness would have been avoided. And, dearest, the love of a boy is as nothing to that of a man. You are the joy of my heart, the real love of my manhood. Oh, Sandra, why did you not confide all this to me long ago?"

"Ididn't dare! I was afraid of you. I never shall be again, because now I know you love me—I never knew that before."

"You must have been blind. I have been so proud of you, darling, I am sure others have noticed, and commented."

"I didn't dare! I was afraid of me. I wanted you to love me." I replied, and again he whispered love words to me.

"It was five years before this I had married Everett. Five years of life I had nearly wasted because I would not trust the man I loved. I was 23 years old now, and just beginning to know what it mean to be happy. Those five years—Oh, how I have regretted them! Now I am as happy as the day is Long. My story is ended. For when one is perfectly happy when one is sailing on a calm sea, there is little to tell. That we are happy, is all. But:

If any one who reads this is jealous, suspicious by nature, don't keep on being jealous and suspicious, making excuses for yourself on that ground. Talk things over, then have faith. Trust is seldom abused But even though it were, it is better than to have soured one's life by jealousies and suspicions.

Faint and Dizzy Spells
Weakness and Shortness of Breath

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women becomes rundown and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes:—"I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

HIGH RENTALS DRIVE MEN TO BACK FORTY FARMERS FIND IT DIFFICULT TO SECURE HELP.

High rentals and the scarcity of houses is driving many men from the city back to the land, and at the Employment Bureau several men who have been living in Peterborough have made inquiries as to openings on the farms, but as most of the inquirers are married men, the Bureau is not finding it an easy matter to place them. The farmers generally have no accommodation for married men.

Most of the farmers have completed their spring work but are in a pretty bad shape in securing men to help out for the summer and fall work, and have raised the schedule of pay from $40.0 to $50.00, while some few have offered $600.00 a year, with a house.

While countless complaints come in to the Bureau about the conditions on the farm, many of the men sent out claim that after having completed a good day's work, they are required to do an hour or so chores about the house, the Bureau has found that the farmer has some ground to complain also. In several cases men have engaged to go out, seen the place, worked a day or so, and left without warning, while others have promised to go, and after the farmers have made provision for them, have secured other work and failed to turn up.

Summer Hotels Want Help.

Summer resorts at Muskoka, Rice Lake, and the Kawartha Lakes have all sent in urgent appeals for maids, waitresses, and kitchen help, and offer fair wages.

The Bureau has an opening which the management considers a fair chance for Normal girls or school teachers at a Muskoka hotel, where 14 girls are wanted, and offer $35.00 per month, with board and lodging.

At Rice Lake $25.00 is offered, and at Stoney Lake about the same, while a hotel at Kawartha is offering $40.00 for a cook for the summer.

The demand for female help is still very heavy in the city.

Many Changes in the Luxury Taxes

FIFTEEN PER CENT. ON THE EXCESS OF BOOTS AND ARTICLES OF CLOTHING—INCREASE EXEMPTION LIMIT ON FURS, ROBES AND RUGS.

IS NOT RETROACTIVE

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, June 9. — Important changes in the luxury taxes are impending. In the house to-night Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, indicated some changes he intends to propose. In brief they are:

(a) Boots and essential articles of clothing to be taxed 15 per cent. on the excess, instead of 10 per cent. on the total selling price.

(b) Expensive furniture, walking sticks and expensive china to be subject to luxury tax. They were not previously included.

(c) Exemption limit increased on furs, coats, caps, muffs, neckpieces, robes, and rugs.

(d) Modifications in the tax on sporting goods, velvets, velveteens, lace and braid, ribbons and carpets.

Sir Henry did not give formal notice of his proposed amendments. This will be given later. He also made it clear to the house that the taxes as laid down in the budget speech would be still in force for the present.

"Nothing said to-night," he declared, "will alter the present law until the resolutions have passed the house."

Criticism is Roused.

Consideration of the proposed changes was deferred until Thursday, but the procedure aroused some criticism. Dr. Clark of Red Deer queried the minister of finance if the budget proposals were to be taken as serious proposals, now the minister was giving a whole list of alterations in detail.

To this, Sir Henry replied that no changes in principle were proposed. Certain luxuries were to be included which were omitted in the original resolution. Certain modifications were proposed in deference to suggestions received.

A modification was proposed, Sir Henry added, in regard to sports and games. Articles required for the popular games would be exempted from tax up to a certain amount, as for instance: baseballs and bats exempt up to $1.25; mitts and gloves, exempt to $1.50; skates, exemtp to $2; footballs, exempt to $3; lacrosse sticks, to $1.50; hockey sticks to 75 cents.

A tax of 15 per cent. was also proposed on all extravagant fupniture of walnut, mahogany, rosewood, etc. A tax would also also would be placed on expensive china and crockery.

Sir Henry also announced that he proposed to put a tax of 10 per cent. on all candy and substitutes for candy, except when in packages, or labeled pieces marked 10 cents or less, and with some other special exceptions. On gum and substitutes the tax is to be reduced from ten to three per cent.

He proposes to increase the tax on motor cars retailing at $3,000 or more each from 15 to 20 per cent.

The originally proposed cumulative tax of 5% on lime juices, medicines, and perfumes is to be made non-cumulative and reduced to 2.

It is proposed to abandon the present stamp taxes on patent and proprietary medicines and perfumery.

Furs will be taxed 10 per cent., instead of 20 per cent. as originally provided.

Clocks and watches in excess of $10 each will be taxed.

The tax upon playing cards is to be reduced considerably.

Not Retroactive.

Mr. Rinfret (St. James, Montreal): "May I ask the minister whether this new budget, if I may call it so is to take effect immediately, or only when a bill is introduced and passed; and will the new taxes be retroactive?"

"I don't think we can make the matter retroactive," Sir Henry replied. "So far as anything new is concerned, it will become effective on a measure thereto being introduced in the house."

"To-morrow these changes now proposed will be in effect throughout the country?" Dr. Beland pursued.

"No," the minister of finance replied.

"By what are the retail merchants throughout the country to be guided to-morrow?" Dr. Beland continued.

"By the resolutions already tabled," was Sir Henry's reply.

Sir Henry also announced that instead of velvet and velveteens being taxed on the whole piece, they would be taxed when selling in excess of $2 a yard; instead of all lace and braid being taxable, the amendments would provide for a tax on lace and braid when sold in excess of 25 cents a yard, and ribbons when in excess of 50 cents a yard. On carpets, the exemption would be $6, instead of $3.

NOT APPLICABLE IMMEDIATELY.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 9. — If Sir Henry Drayton's suggestions for changes in the luxury tax are adopted it means lightening the taxation on many necessities. He adopted a new procedure in not makng the changes immediately applicable. This is already criticized as being deterrent to business, purchasers awaiting the decision of parliament before buying articles affected.

Generally speaking the changes will lighten the taxation on necessary clothing by raising the minimum in some cases and by increasing the taxation percentage in others, but making it only applicable to amount above the minimum. Take for instance boots: Under the first proposal the tax was ten per cent. on any purchase of over nine dollars. Now it is 15 per cent on the amount in excess of $9. In the first instance on a pair of $12 boots the tax will be $1.20. If the new rate is adopted, the tax will be 15 per cent. of $3 or 45c. The same plan is proposed for other wearing apparel. In this category, in adition to shoes are trousers sold at more than $12; men's and boys' coats, except leather lined with sheepskin, $25; cloth overcoats, $50; women's dresses $45, in all such articles, the rate is raised from 10 to 15 per cent., but only collected on the purchase price over the minimum.

He also proposes to increase the exemption in the case of fur coats, muffs, gloves, rugs and robes. The tax on sporting goods for young athletes is reduced. The list of changes is of great length.

The finance minister in reply to a question said that he hoped to be able to refund taxation collected in excess of the rate finally adopted.

Merchants must not adopt the suggested taxation. Business must be conducted on the present scale of taxation until the changes are made by parliament.

A. Murray Returns

FRIENDS OF FORMER ALDERMAN CONGRATULATING HIM UPON RECOVERY OF HEALTH IN SCOTLAND.

After many of the vicissitudes attendant upon travelling in these days, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Murray have returned to Peterborough, after a short delay in New York, and are being warmly welcomed by their many friends. The former Alderman, and first leader of the Labor group in the City Council, looks well, and says his appearance would have been even better had it not been for the attack of appendicitis that necessitated his removal from the steamer "St. Paul" to St. Vincent's hospital, New York, as soon as the vessel docked. However, Mr. Murray avoided an operation, and states that he and his wife were splendidly treated in the big city. The doctors and nurses of St. Vincent's hospital were exceptionally attentive and considerate, as were officials of the Salvation Army, through whom bulletins of Mr. Murray were telegraphed to Adjutant Buntin ,and to Mr. Peter Murray, who had sailed a week previous to his father.

When Mr. Murray went back to Scotland more than a year ago in the hope of regaining his health he had his mind set on presenting himself to the doctors of the Royal Infirmary at Edinburgh, and although he was examined by quite a number of others in Peterborough, Toronto and in several English cities, his ailment was quickly, in fact almost at a glance, and correctly, diagnosed by Dr. Gulland, a specialist of Edinburgh's famous hospital. The case had baffled sixteen physicians up to that time and from that day late last fall Mr. Murray, under the new treatment, began speedily to recover his health.

Mr. Murray remarked that trans-Atlantic passenger traffic is congested and greatly exceeds the accommodation. The cost is vastly increased and the entire business has not regained its normal efficiency and smoothness. Mr. Murray is as interested as ever in social and economic problems, and states that from his observations he is convinced that Labor in the Old Country is not so far ahead of the Canadian organizations as many persons in this country have been led to believe. There is considerable unemployment, the cost of ordinary living is extremely high, but the country as a whole is making big strides towards prosperity.

Watery Blood

YOUR blood may be rich and red—well stored with nourishment for the cells and tissues, or it may be thin, weak, and watery.

If thin, there is a pallor of the lips, gums and inside of eyelids. In other words you are anaemic or bloodless.

Since every ounce of nourishment supplied to the human system is obtained from the blood, the anaemic condition means a starving of the nerves and crippled functioning of the vital organs.

Headache, lack of energy and ambition, failure of the digestive system, shortness of breath, weak heart action and sluggish, torpid condition of the liver, kidneys and bowels are some of the symptoms of anaemia.

Cure can only be brought about by improving the condition of the blood by use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The digestive system has failed to supply proper nourishment from the food you eat, so you must get the blood-forming elements in condensed and easily assimilated form as they are found in this well-known food cure.

The letters published here will give an idea of the benefits to be obtained from the use of

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Anaemia

Miss Alice Howes, 21 Haddington Street, Galt, Ont., writes:—"I was very ill with anaemia, could not sleep at night, and my appetite seemed entirely gone. I suffered in this way for nearly three years, and had treatment from two doctors in Toronto, where I was living at the time, but did not get any relief. I became completely run down, and as I did not see any immediate hopes of getting better, I went back to live with my mother in Galt. I thought, perhaps, the change of air might do me good. My mother saw that I was in a bad state, because my nerves were affected, and everywhere I went I used to take dizzy and fainting spells. My hands and limbs would become numb, I would see black specks before my eyes, and cold perspiration would come out on me. My mother had been taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with excellent results, and she advised me to do the same. But it is hard for me to take pills, so I went to a doctor in Galt instead. However, his treatment did me no good, so I at last decided to follow my mother's advice. I began taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and gradually found myself getting better. I soon was able to sleep at night without any difficulty, my appetite came back, and I began to gain back my natural color. After taking about twelve boxes of this medicine I was able to return to my work in Toronto. My friends there all noticed the improvement in my condition, and I am now stronger and healthier than I have been for a long, long time. I shall always recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food wherever I go, as I really think it is the best treatment obtainable for worsout nerves and run-down system."

Anaemia of the Brain

Miss Rena B. Crossland, Kempt, Queens County., N.S. writes:—"I feel it a duty, as well as a privilege, to tell of the wonderful benefit I derived from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. In March, 1917, I had anaemia of the brain, and the mental and physical suffering I endured is indescribable. I had treatment from three doctors and for twelve days was unconscious, while for three months I was fed and cared for like an infant. My mother was so anxious for me to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that she crushed it and baked it in my food. After using two boxes I could feed myself, and after using it for two months, my health improved so rapidly that doctors and friends said my recovery was a miracle.

"I cannot recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food too highly, even to those who seem to be facing death. We keep it in the house now, and I use it occasionally to keep 'fit.' I shall always regret that I did not follow my mother's advice and use it while I was away teaching, whenever I felt nervous or tired. But as I had no serious illness and did not realize the value of it, I neglected heeding mother's advice until it was too late and I had a complete breakdown. But thanks to Providence and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I have been enjoying my former health and strength for the past two years.

"We have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, Catarrh Powder and Ointment in our home, and must say we have been surprised sometimes at the instant relief given."

PERPETUATE PETERBORO'S HISTORICAL FEATURES BY FITTING DESIGNATION

MR. F. H. DOBBIN SUGGESTS THE DESIRABILITY OF PLACING TABLETS TO MARK THE CITY'S FIRST BEGINNINGS—HISTORICAL SOCIETIES ASSUME THIS WORK IN MANY CITIES—PETERBORO'S RECORDS AUTHENTIC.

CREATES BOND WITH PAST

(By F. H. DOBBIN.)

Throughout the western part of the province, and particularly at St. Catharines, Stratford, Windsor and Galt, a movement has crystallyzed to mark for identification such points and spots of historic interest as the locality presents. It is recognized that with the march of improvement places and localities of historic importance are being obliterated, and it is with difficulty when need arises to identify localities within any reasonable accuracy. Toronto has taken up the movement and is as speedily as possible placing tablets briefly recounting location of first buildings and facts of historic interest, and going back for one hundred years for the information.

Peterborough is not so old as Toronto, but this city has passed its first hundred years of municipal growth. As improvement and change come about in the centre of the city our landmarks are being swept away. Besides we have in the city over eighteen thousand people who know very little of the past history of the city, within the last twenty years. Few there are who can carry back in memory so far as sixty years, and only an odd one or two who can recall from the galleries of memory how things stood seventy years ago.

Canadian Club Motive.

In the places mentioned, the duty of placing bronze or brass tablets briefly inscribed with the salient facts, has been taken up by the several Canadian Clubs. It is to the credit of these organizations that they have assumed this public duty, and are worthily carrying it out. It would be a gracious thing if the local Canadian Club would take on itself this meritorious function and help to perpetuate in years to come some intimation of has been the case and what has been swept away. Peterborough is old enough to respect its traditions, and a municipality that does not do so shows a lack of the first principles of public spirit.

The cost would not be excessive. Unfortunately, as it has happened in Peterborough, the fact of suggesting some reasonable course of action is sufficient to ensure that such will not be attempted or carried out. This comes from the feeling that most men hate to be bossed. But the members of the Canadian Club stand for what is essential to local progress too well to neglect a suggestion if such appeal in a public way. It only requires a few to make the break and results will follow.

Suggestions for Peterboro.

Suggestions could be invited from older citizens as to spots, places and buildings worthy of being identified and ear-marked. No one holds a monoply of information. These suggestions could be taken in, identification established as to dates and facts and if worthy acted on. As an opening gun in the proposed campaign the following are offered for inspection, beginning, as well may be the case, with our latest and most costly replacement, the Hunter street bridge:

1919-20. Erected by the City of Peterborough. This structure replaces the last of successive bridges, as follows: Bridge of wood, on three piers, built by Horace Perry, 1827, cost covered largely by Legislature of Upper Canada, destroyed by fire earl yin 1856; Howe Truss bridge, erected in 1946-47, built of wood from funds raised by the Colborne District Council and public subscriptions, burned July 3rd, 1871, replaced by two-span cast iron bridge, erected by Whyte & Davis at joint expense of town and county, opened for traffic February, 1872, collapsed (one span) January, 1875, replaced by structural iron bridge, erected at expense of town by Canton Bridge Co, Canton, O., opened for traffic October 18, 1875, taken down to provide for erection of present structure.

First Civic Hall.

A few months after the incorporation of the town it was deemed necessary to provide a public meeting place and to be used for public activities. There was not much money in hand, nor for that matter in sight. So the Council acquired the old Colborne Hotel, a wooden structure at the corner of George and Charlotte streets, on the ground now covered by the civic building, now occupied by business places and housing the up-stairs market. Following is an appropriate legend:

1850.—On this spot stood the first building acquired by the Town of Peterborough providing accommodation for Council room, Police Court, fire hall, etc. At a cost of forty pounds sterling

First Landing Place.

It is well that we should be able to identify the place where the first man came ashore, so to speak, and cast his lot on the soil of Peterborough. The buildings of the Peterborough Canoe Co. cover the ground on which Adam Scott put up his first building, cutting down the pines and hewing the logs to from the skelton of the building. Boards to make the "undershot" water wheel were whipsawed from the logs. The roof was covered with the rudest materials and the sides open to the weather, until the single upright saw began to make lumber. The tablet might well read:

1819-20.—On this ground stood the saw and grist mill built by Adam Scott, the first settler on the location known as "Scott's Plains" the first building to be erected within the now city limits.

Early Hospitality.

So soon as lumber was available Scott began the building of a modest cottage in which to live. The house stood, facing Charlotte street on the south side and midway between Water and George streets. It proved to be a haven of refuge to many a traveller and incoming pioneer, for the owner was hospitable beyond measure. Even his wife, a thrify person, had reproved him for giving away his clothes, to clothe some coatless man. The house stood as late as 1857, but on the evening of May 24th, a few zealous souls desiring to add to the excellence of the celebration, set a match to the house and provided a bonfire. For several years the house was the home of Dr. Hutchinson, when he commenced practice in Peterborough. So we might affix a tablet to the pillar that upholds the gate into the Custom House yard, (having the approval of the department) and say:

1820-21.—Fronting on and within one hundred feet of this street stood the first dwelling erected in Scott's Plains, now the City of Peterborough. The home of Adam Scott the first settler.

"Government" Building.

The ground covered by the building of the Peterborough Club, formerly the Bank of Montreal, is historic ground. To handle the people of the Robinson immigration the Legislative Assembly donated a sum of money, considerable for those days, and under the care of Hon. Peter Robinson buildings of logs were erected. These were built with great care, the inside and outside faces of the logs being all handhewn. In the largest of the buildings, standing close to the corner of Water and Simcoe streets (southeast corner of Simcoe), was located the general administrative offices, storehouse for provisions, tools and supplies, and adjoining was the house in which Mr. Robinson and his assistants, Col. McDonnell and others, lived. These buildings were fired several times but refused to burn. They were demolished in 1856, and the timbers sold. To keep the associations connected with this locality in mind the tablet might state:

1826.—At this corner stood the "Government buildings," built by the Legislative Assembly of Upper Canada to house the administration and settlement of the people of the Robinson immigration of 1825-26.

First Brick Building.

Now doing excellent service in its old age and improved to be in keeping with the buildings on the street stands the first brick building to be erected in Peterborough. It was known for many years as the "Globe Hotel." North side of Charlotte street nearly facing the entrance of Louis street. The arch of brick that covered the main doorway was esteemed to be a fine example of the bricklayer's art. The brick for the building was drawn in over the snow roads, from Cobourg, and when finished the building was the admiration of the neighbourhood. So as a fitting recognition of old age and enterprise we might word the inscription:

The Fire Brigade.

In recognition of an essential public service and one that was ever in mind in the early years, a plate could be affixed to the wall of the fire hall on Aylmer street giving in brief the record of the first volunteer effort made to provide protection from fire and to put fires out when such occurred and of much there were many. In years before Peterborough became a city the fire brigade had enrolled in its ranks men of all stations of life in the town. The membership was no respecter of persons, and all joined up. Lawyers, doctors, merchants, mechanics and laboring men were within the fold. Help was what was needed. The blacksmith as a man fearless of fire and esteemed accordingly. The brigade held large social distinction, and the balls, dinners and social occasions were notable functions. The captain of the company was nearly always a man of ability and prodiguous lung, who straddled the top o' the old hand-pumped fire engine and in stentorian tenes bellowed through a brass horn, bawled for more men on the brakes. Woe be to the reluctant offender who stood to one side and shirked. He was at once "paged" to his discomfiture. We might well fasten the brief historical reference to the handsome fire hall building stating that:

1854.—April 13th, first fire company organized, R. Swain captain, J. T. Henthorn at lieutenant, E. C. Hill 2nd lieutenant, B. Mowrey engineer, Geo. Thompson, Geo. Ross, Poole Eastland branchmen, Wm. Croft, E. J. Nesbitt axe men, Thos. Menzies secretary. Name—Peterborough Brittannia Fire Company, No. 1.

Old Indian Trail.

When the survey of the lands now comprised by the townships of North Monaghan and Smith was made by W. C. Chewett, in 1817, that part of the Township of Smith, east and west of what is known as the Communication Road, was laid off. This layout is at varience with the general survey and layout of the concessions lines and lots of the balance of the township. In plotting the Communication Road the surveyor found and followed the old Indian trail from Katchemong Lake to the river Seebee. These waters are now known as Chemong Lake and the river Otonabee. The trail, as near as may be, was direct from the lake to the river and finished on the shore of the river where the gas house now stands. By making this portage the long detour from Buckhorn Lake, the river to and through Stoney and Clear Lakes and down the river to the shore at end of now Simcoe street was avoided. This shore of the river was a beautiful spot, covered with a luxuriant sward and shaded with magnificent oak trees. Where the trail line, or rather the town boundary line, crossed the trail, is at the bend at Reid street, north turning on to the Chemong Lake road. So at that corner we might enshrine the ancient Indian trail, with a plate, stating:

1825.—This spot, on the edge of the City of Peterborough, marks the commencement of the ancient Indian trail, between Chemong Lake and the River Otonabee, en route to Rice Lake. The Communication Road follows practically the line of the trail.

Mark the Schools.

The city has made, and is increasing, the facilities for education. Within the city limits we have thirteen schools, and the Business College, the Normal School, and are busy adding a fourteenth, the new school building on Monaghan Road. We shall be well equipped, but none too well. The droves of children that thronged the streets on circus day, showed where the population of the future is being increased. While we enjoy, and appreciate our educational facilities, we should not be unmindful of the beginnings. So a tablet might well be spared to stand at the corner of McDonnel and College streets in commemoration of our first public educational institution:

1837-38.—At this corner stood, built of logs, the first Public and Grammar School of the now City of Peterborough. Erected by public subscription and volunteer work Head master, Rev. Samuel Armour, St. John's Church.

The Market House.

For long years the market square was the centre of civic and municipal activity. The home of the quarterly fair, when any one having anything to dispose of brought it to reach buyers. Four times each year the square held a throng, all on buying or selling intent. On many years the circus, when one came to town, spread its tents about the square. In very virulent political contests with all the acrimony and jealousy, that abounded in the campaigns, and no public hall being available to house the numerous meetings, roughly built structures were run up on the market square. For lumber was cheap and the faithful willing. A famous occasion was the collossal gathering and dinner in honor of Sidney Smith. Prolonged through the evening and into the night when the gatherig broke up there were wigs on the green, that is the square. The occasion is now a memory, but its hallowed accompaniments are enshrined in the recollections of the oldest inhabitants. Rome howled. Likewise the populace.

So that it is fitting that a building that once stood on the square as beacon of municipal progress and enterprise, should be remembered. A plate could be let into the surface of the sidewalk, on west side of Water street, midway between Simcoe and Charlotte streets, to bear the inscription as follows:

1851—Opposite this spot stood the municipal hall and market house of the Town of Peterborough. Taken down Sept. 21st, 1869.

Original Cemetery.

Of the thousands that pass and repass the George street frontage of Central Park, few realize that the ground within the park limits was for long years the public burying ground of the locality. The area comprised, except the strip fronting on Aylmer street, was the joint property of the town and county, having been a gift from the days of the early settlement. The block was divided by a line from Murray street to McDonnel street, and at one time a fence was built. The eastern half was the Protestant burying ground and the west half that for the Roman Catholic faith. Used for the purpose up to the time that the cemetery, now on the outskirts of the city was acquired and opened. By the year 1857 it had developed that the area was practically sold out, for a fee was charged that gave the right of occupancy to relatives of those interred. With the opening of the Little Lake Cemetery interments ceased, and in after years the ground was put to other uses. The first drill hall, for the militia organizations was built, of wood, and stood on ground in front of the present armoury building. For many years the square housed the local Agricultural Society and its annual fair, a fence and sheds for cattle having been erected around three sides of the street frontages. Finally the society sought other quarters and the ground became an open plot used for municipal open air purposes, a drill ground for the 57th Regiment and other uses. As now viewed the square is graced by the Collegiate Institute and the armoury, while other public buildings on the frontages adjoining add to the scene of civic importance. Possibly a plaza could be placed on or about the Edward Brown memorial, that could state:

1826-1857.—This block comprised the original cemetery of the locality of Peterborough. In joint occupancy of Protestant and Catholic denominations. Closed for interments in 1857.

The Old Drill Hall.

The outcome of events of recent years has been to practically obliterate what so long as a local institution and one much cherished and admired, the old 57th Regiment, Peterborough's Rangers. The civilian militia, if the term may be used, as a thing apart from the volunteer forces of the C.E.F., played an imporant part in the years that have passed. Among other activities the return of the regiment from the call to arms at the time of the Fenian Raid, in 1866, presently aroused a demand for a proper drill hall. Before that date the regiment had not a home of its own. The town and county voted sums to aid and the drill hall was built on ground in front of the present armoury. Around the old building were made many comradeships and affinities among the men of the town. These are memories to many as yet. The old hall passed away in a blaze of glory, having been fired on a night in 1909 at the time the new armoury was in course of erection. So, in memory of what has been, there might be affixed to a Murray street corner of the armoury a tablet stating that:

1867.—On ground adjacent to this building stood the militia drill hall and quarters of the 57th Regiment Peterborough Rangers. Destroyed by fire April 28, 1909.

LIGHT FOR LAKEFIELD

THE HYDRO LINEMEN ARE NEARING THE NORTHERN VILLAGE.

LAKEFIELD, June 12.—The Hydro wiring has reached Mr. Gill's farm near the goose-neck and it is confidently expected the village will have light by next week. After two months of lamps there will be great rejoicing when once more the little incandescent shines forth.

Annual Excursion.

The annual business men's excursion set sail at 1.30 on Thursday afternoon for Buckhorn. It was an ideal day for a water trip and about 70 men enjoyed the experience. The attendance was not quite up to last year, but various causes kept a number of men at home. The good time, however was just the same, even better, and those who were prevented from going were decidedly the losers.

Horse Ran Away.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Dunk and infant son, when driving into Peterborough on Thursday, had a most unpleasant experience. A 'spool' of wire for the Hydro frightened the horse, which bolted and collided with the telephone pole, throwing them all out. Mrs. Dunk, who was holding the baby, fainted and was very badly shaken up, but the baby seemed uninjured. Mr. Dunk was also shaken up severely.

Closing Meeting.

The closing meeting of the season of the S.O.N.G. club was held at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) J. C. Smith on Friday afternoon from 4 to 7. The hostess had invited several guests also and a delightful afternoon was spent. Card tables were set out under the trees on the lawn behind the house and the ladies enjoyed very much the cool breeze from the river. Dainty refreshments were served in the spacious dining room, where each each guest found her place marked with a unique card.

Mrs. W. Sherin was the winner of the prize for the highest number of points at cards.

Among those present were: Mrs. W. Sherin, Mrs. Gillman, Mrs. C. S. Tanner, Mrs. D. H. Charlton, Mrs. J. H. Sherin, Miss Braden, Mrs. H. J. Stuart, Miss Corkery, Mrs. Connell, Miss Alford, Mrs. Beatty, Miss Burgess, Miss Wood, Mrs. Twist and Miss Graham.

Attended Sale.

The sale of household goods of the late Mrs. John Cooper brought a large crowd on Thursday afternoon and the goods brought good prices. The house was not sold at the auction.

Chancel Guild.

The closing meeting of the Chancel Guild of St. John's church was held at "Harborne," the residence of Mrs. F. J. Tate, on Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon was a delightful one and many regrets were heard that the meetings will be discontinued for the summer.

Cheese Shipped.

Mr. Nathan Payne shipped the Warminster factory cheese this week, and Mr. E. Hawthorne, the Warsaw factory cheese, and Mr T. Braden the output of Selwyn, Young's Point and North Dummer. The price paid was 29 3-8c. per pound.

CROP OUTLOOK IN THE WEST IS ROSY

CONDITION NEARER IDEAL THAN FOR MANY YEARS—BEST SINCE 1904.

WINNIPEG, June 11.— "Never have I seen crop conditions more hopeful, there is plenty of moisture, the land is in good shape and the condition reported to me from every point in the districts visited, without exception, is nearer the ideal than it has been for many years." This optimistic repom of crop conditions in central and southwestern Manitoba was made yesterday by James H. Evans, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, "And I'm not exaggerating in the least" he said with emphasis.

As to the grasshopper situation, he said good work was being done all over the area and much headway was being made.

BEST SINCE 1904.

WINNIPEG, June 11.—In presenting its second crop report for 1920 the Manitoba Free Press announces that it indicates about the best condition of crop at this date of any year since 1904, when these reports began with possibly the single exception of 1912, when the June crop conditions were as nearly perfect as it is possible to hope for. The present report is much more encouraging than the early June report of the famous bumper year of 1915, as during the early part of June of that year heavy frosts occurred and the crop had not fully recovered from them.

"The last week of May there were very high winds reported and there was serious apprehension of damage form this source. The reports indicate that the heavy rans and cool weather have not only stopped the drifting and blowing, but that to a very great extent the crop has recovered without re-seeding being necessary Where seeding has ben done it is mainly oats.

Very grave apprehension has existed as to grasshoppers and all farmers in the infected areas were asked as to hopper signs The replies on the whole show that the wet weather as retarded hatching, but whether permanently or not, remains to be seen. Only two points, both in Manitoba, namely Waskada, and Clear Water report any serious damage up to the present. All points report fine organization to fight the pests and large supply of poisons are on hand.

The most northern point reporting any sign of hoppers is Outlook, Sask. All that human energy can do, is being done to prevent a spread of the plague should hotter weather develop them.

The strong feature of the report is the abundant supply of moisture throughout the entire West. Only nine points report any need of rain and these points add that there is plenty of surface moisture, but showers are needed to help germinate the last sown grain.

Veterans Decorate

Yesterday afternoon the graves of six members of overseas forces buried in St. Peter's Cemetery were decorated by the Great War Veterans, who marched to the cemetery headed by the G.W.V.A. Band where they were joined by Father C. J. Phelan and Rev. (Captain) Costello. The former in a few appropriate words referred to the service rendered the country and the world by Canada's overseas forces. He also referred to the men lying in Flanders whose memory would be commerated in spirit while those who returned were remembered in deed. At the conclusion of the address a bouquet and flag was placed on each grave by the Veterans. The ceremony was witnessed by a large and interested gathering.

The attendance was one of the largest that has ever assembled there and was an indication that this event is becoming established not only by the Veterans in their tribute to departed comrades but by the public, and especially the people of the Catholic churches of the city, who were present in large numbers.

The G.W.V.A. band was practically at full strength, and attracted a great deal of attention in its annual parade through the south end. Rev. Father Phelan spoke of the respect the Veterans showed for their departed and in a brief review of the expoits of the Canadian corps, referred to what the country owed to its soldiers, and to the sacrifice of the 60,000 Canadian dead in France and Flanders. The decoration Sunday drew the minds of the men and of the public back to those who had not returned and also to the service of the soldiers who had been spared to come safely home.

Father Costello recalled somewhat similar ocasions in France when the Canadian cemeteries there were visited and honours paid to the memory of the men interred there

Decorated Monument.

Previous to marching to the Cemetery the Veterans assembled at the mounment of Captain Ewdard Brown erected in Central Park where President R. Muir of the Great War Veterans Association in addressing the assembly said in part: On November 24th, 1886, General Sir F. Middleton, Commander of the Canadian Forces unveiled this monument erected in this park as a tribute to the forces engaged in the suppression of the rebellion in the North West Territory and especially in memory of the late Captain Edward Brown, killed at Batoche while gallantly leading his troops. Continuing, President Muir told of how the 57th Regiment was called out for review and the members of Midland Company assembled on the platform of the Drill Hall. After an inspiring address by Colonel Rogers, who referred to the services the young men in whose memory the monument was being erected had given to their country, the monument was unveiled by General Middleton and the memorial and foutain formally oresented to the town by Mayor James Stevenson who acknowledged the trust imposed on bchalf of the town and citizens.

General Middleton then addressed the gathering and referred to the work done by Boulton's Scouts of which the Midland Company had been part. It was stated that owing to Boulton's Scouts having been thrown in between Batoche and Reil the latter's surrender was accomplished much more speedily than if the Scouts had not been there. After reading the inscription on the monument, "Pro Batria. Captain Edward Brown, Fish Creek, Batoche, 1885," President Muir said: "This memorial having been handed in trust to the town (now city) and the citizens it is well to ask how that trust has been carried out. Plainly not at all. If accentance of the gift and its neglect in the future be all that is implied well and good. But if the feelings that prompted the acquiring of the money to erect the monument and the industry and purpose that carried out the project it all that there is to it, then we are mistaken. A trust means to care for, to cherish, to keep up and to see that the gift is appreciated. So far this has been plainly neglected. Designed to keep in the mind of the public the sacrifice and also the useful purpose of a drinking fountain for the refreshment of the thirsty, both objects have been defeated. Its condition is unseemly and surely there is nothing in its condition to create reverence and respect."

"It is understood that the Red Cross Association now purpose to erect in this Park a memorial to commerate the objects and work of the Association. In so doing it would be well to consider if the care of this monument could not be tendered to the Association that both memorials may in the future have the care they merit."

"At no time since its erection has this monument been decorated. Decoration is only an outward sign of inward and invisible spirit. Decorating, no matter how humble, is a manifestation of appreciation and that the service is kept in mind and not forgotten. It assists in repelling indifference. Let us hope that for the future we shall have such a manifestation of the public spirit that will ensure at least once each year such a ceremony as we had to-day that will help us to remember those that have gone and what they have accomplished.

Last Post.

After a handsome wreath had been placed upon the monument the last post was sounded by Bandmaster Robinson.

Edgar Page Stites, the author of "Beulah Land," is now in his 80th year, and is the oldest active insurance man in New Jersey. He is a local preacher at the Cape May First Methodist Episcopal church.

AN INTERVIEW WITH C. C. NIXON, MAN. DIR. YOUNG CANADA PUBLISHING CO.

DISCUSSES THE RELATION OF MANUFACTURING CENTRES TO THE FARMING POPULATION OF THE DOMINION—THINKS THAT CITIES THE SIZE OF PETERBOROUGH HAS GREAT ADVANTAGE OVER MUCH LARGER CENTRES—IS OPPOSING THE FARMER GOVERNMENT AND FREE TRADE SENTIMENT.

Peterborough came in for some unexpected inspection and study on Saturday, and again to-day, in relation to our local industries and the part they play in our general welfare and in affording a market for the produce of the adjoining countryside and of farms in general. The city will receive some benefit out of it, too, by way f national publicity; for the inspection and inquiry was being made by Mr. Charles C. Nixon, B.S.A., editor and managing director of the Young Canada Publishing Company, publishers of Rural Canada and other journals in Toronto.

Mr. Nixon has many friends in this city, and is well known here as a former resident for six and a half years, up to seven years ago, when he was editor of one of the local farm papers and later on its advertising staff. He was president of the Peterborough Ad. Club, which flourished in 1912 and 1913, and did considerable towards advancing the interests of the city and local business houses.

The chief object of Mr. Nixon's study, as on Saturday morning, was the De Laval Separator and Dairy Supply Company, Ltd. In conversation with a reporter of The Examiner, Mr. Nixon discussed briefly the relation of representative leading manufacturing centres, such as Peterborough, to the farming population which, through ignorance, and for Farmer-party political reasons is being viciously pitted against the towns and cities and manufacturing enterprises in general. He pointed out that approximately only 20 per cent. of Canadian manufacturing, as we know it to-day, is carried with Canadian capital, 60 per cent. is represented by American capital, and 20 per cent. overseas capital, mostly English.

He asked us to stop and think what Peterborough would be as a city and as a market if all but our 20 per cent. Canadian capital withdrew from here, and other Canadian towns and cities, and went back home! He asked us to think of this fact, with emphasis, as applied not alone to any one city or to any one firm, as the De Laval Company—but to include all, and those with American capital as here locally, the Quaker Oats Company, the Vermont Marble Company, the Raybestos Company, Nashua Gum Company, Westclox Company, and others. Take these out of Peterborough, and what would be left? What would real estate be worth? What would the neighbouring and outlying farms be worth? What would farm produce sell for?

In connection with manufacturing in the smaller cities, like Peterborough, as compared with the big centres, like Montreal and Toronto, Mr. Nixon voiced his appreciation of the advantages of the conditions in favour of the smaller cities—as, for instance, applied to the case of the De Laval Company, which came here from Montreal in 1912. The land being cheaper, it is practicable to erect the modern one-storey "saw-roofed" factory buildings in place of the ten-storey structure in the crowded metropolitan centre, and thus get light and air into the buildings, all to the advantage of the workers and the firm on their expensive labour. A better class of men is available in Peterborough than in larger centres, where it takes every cent a man can earn to pay rent and meet car fare and living expenses. Here the worker usually owns his own home, or is buying it; and having a stake in the city, is a better, broader citizen, and, in consequence, a loyal and efficient workman.

As regards why the outside capital comes into Canada and into our cities, well located as Peterborough, Mr. Nixon made the point that our protective tariff attracts them in to get over the tariff wall; and, as well, our patent laws force them to come over here in order to protect the patent rights on the articles or machines they manufacture, for to protect the patents the "goods" must be made in this country.

It is three years since Mr. Nixon has last been in Peterborough; he expressed his pleasant surprise to note the many improvements and changes and new buildings that are now a part of Peterborough. Not the least was he pleased with the continued progress and improvement he noticed in The Examiner; and he assured us that from Saturday's edition alone he had obtained not only pleasure but profit, and enough valuable ideas to use in his own work to well repay him for the trip to Peterborough; he could appreciate readily, he said, why The Examiner, in this community and district, is rapidly replacing the Toronto papers, which formerly circulated to a much greater extent than now in Peterborough.

It is interesting to note that the Hon. H. C. Nixon, Provincial Secretary in the Drury Government, is the younger brother of Mr. Charles C. Nixon—in fact, is seven years his junior; and the latter is not yet 36 (nor is he married!) In politics, although publishing a farm paper, Mr. Nixon is a Conservative and is opposing the Farmer Government politically, and is offsetting the rising tide of Free Trade sentiment, which, he believes, will ruin Canadian industry and ruin Canadian farming, unless the evil of ignorance, as to what Canada needs, is offset by the good of education and exact information to take the place of the vicious and misleading and unwarranted propaganda and attacks made for the political advantage of the new farmer-politicians and to humbug the working men, who have not as yet studied our national problems in the light of what is true and broad.

MADE A PLEA FOR CO-OPERATION

REV. W. E. MORROW AT PARK STREET BAPTIST CHURCH.

We are entering this new relationship, and I am very pleased to be here. I am delighted to be here, for I feel that it is only the calling of God that has brought me here, said Rev. W. E. Morrow, formerly of Bracebridge Baptist Church, who yesterday morning preached his first sermon in Park Street Baptist Church, succeeding Rev. Dugald Brown.

Rev. Mr. Morrow is a young man with a strong personality, and is a forceful and interesting speaker. The congregation of Park Street Baptist Church is to be congratulated on securing the services of Rev. Mr. Morrow.

Rev. Mr. Morrow took as his subject "Co-operation," preaching from Exodus 17. The first thought, he said, was the need for co-operation in business. Everywhere a man has made a success, it has not come alone through individual effort, but through co-operation. In the church the same was true, and in the work of God the people could not hope for success unless there was co-operation.

"But Moses' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat thereon ;and Aaron and Hur stayed by his hands, the one on the one side and the other on the other side; and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun." This was co-operation, said Mr. Morrow. Moses had led the children of Israel out of Egypt into the land of Canaan. Now he was faced by the Amalekites, a warlike tribe, and Moses felt sure that they would suffer defeat; but Moses, Aaron, and Hur took themselves to the top of the hill, and with the rod of God in his hands that Moses had smitten the rock with to get water, Moses found that when he held it up Israel prevailed, and when he let it down Amalek prevailed.

Warlike Tribe.

The Amalekites were a most warlike and powerful tribe, and while Moses' army was larger, they were unorganised, and had no means of defending themselves. The Amalekites knew they were an easy prey, and they pressed on, eager to grasp the booty that they knew was theirs. The pasture for their herds was also sought and the water that Moses had caused to flow by smiting the rock. The Israelites were almost where they wanted them ,and Moses realised that if he could do anything he could not do it alone, but only through co-operation.

It was a great responsibility for Moses, who was God's representative in leading th people. The mental strain was great, but there was also a great physical strain. He found his hands were beginning to drop, and they had to be held up till the setting of the sun. That he was unable to hold them up shows the need for co-operation.

Rev. Mr. Morrow appealed for co-operation on the part of the congregation to help him as much as was possible in his work, and for all to share in the work. A preacher's hands sometimes get heavy. If we are to succeed, it will only be through co-operation. I can't do it all myself. You can't do it all yourself—but we can do it ourselves.

So when Moses needed co-operation he got it. His arms were held up on each side. The Amalekites were defeated ,and that is the case every time. If we only get under one another's arms and hold each other up I don't care how many agencies the devil has working to undermine us, it will not affect us.

The pastor urged that co-operation replace criticism. The latter, he said, was found in every church, and he had known homes where the young people did not participate in church work, because during the course of the three meals criticism of the preacher and the work in the church formed the main topic of discussion by the parents. The minister's every action was criticised in some communities, but never a helping hand was extended to him, and he said in Peterborough he hoped that co-operation would take its place.

This three-fold co-operation then of pastor, people, and God himself will achieve great things in this church amongst these people. Let us all co-operate, and our work will be an abundant success. Will you not take the example of Aaron and Hur, and determine that at this the onset of our new relationship you will help each other and bear one another up for the advancement of God's work in this community.

SUBURBAN ROADS REPORT HAS BEEN PRESENTED TO THE CITY

ALD. WHITEHOUSE HAS OUTLINED PROPOSED WORK AND COUNTY COUNCIL WILL PROBABLY BE INFORMED OF CONFERENCE AT JUNE SESSIONS OPENING TO-MORROW.

At the June sessions of the County Council which open at the Court House to-morrow afternoon there will probably be some discussion of the road work that is in progress with a reference to the surburban roads. Ald. Whitehouse, the city's commissioner, has already reported to the City Council the result of a preliminary survey of the work that may be undertaken this year, although it is unplikely that much of it will be completed. The city will share in the cost of improving and maintaining three miles of each of the main highways leading from the city. On the Warsaw road Ald. Whitehouse reported that there is a bridge under construction not far from the city that is only twelve feet wide. He regarded it as foolish to spend any money on the road for the reason that the bridge was more an obstacle than an accomodation to traffic.

The Surburban Road Commission also went over some of the roads in Otonabee and touched upon the scheme that has been frequently proposed by Otonabee township and the County as a whole that if the old Hunter street bridge or a new one could be built at the foot of Lock Street it would open up a new district on the south shore and in the approach to the city from the township would cut off the loop around by the locks. It is firmly believed that eventually a bridge will be erected at this point, but for the present—well, in the first place a swing bridge would be required, in the second the old Hunter Street derelict is supposed to be intended for use at London Street, and beyond this the city is becoming satiated with bridge building in the Hunter Street monument.

Coming up to Smith Township, the Commission found the Chemong Road in fairly good condition. It will have to be picked over and otherwise improved. It may surprise some of the ratepayers to know that the city is required to contribute to the cost of the Chemong Road from the boundary to the Fourth Line, the route to Lindsay. The cost of some of the work is estimated at $1,000 a mile, which is not heavy expenditure. Any stretch of three miles will cost $3,000, but the total the city may be called upon to produce is equivalent to half a mill.

A guard of honor was composed of veterans, who fired the salute in tribute to their fallen comrades.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT MARK STREET

TWO INSPIRING ADDRESSES—THE MUSIC.

As usual, the congregations at Mark street yesterday were good, and the music was a credit indeed. Rev. G. E. Ross preached morning and evening.

The subject of the morning sermon was, "Stirring the Eagle's Nest," and was based on a passage of Scripture found in Deut. xxxii:11. The following thoughts were presented:

First—As the Boabab, the Sequoia, or the majestic Cedar is among trees, the gorgeous Cactus among flowering plants, or the mighty lion of Numidia among wild beasts, so is the eagle among the feathered tribes. He builds his nest sometimes a yard square, but he does not build in the grass or marsh land, but away on the crags of mountain-peaks, for this great bird is a companion of the sun, a creature of the skies, driving with mighty wing in the very teeth of the tempest.

Second—It is in this airy nest far up above the mists and smoke and din of earth's activities that the eagle brings out her eaglets. Here she entices them from the nest, and teaches them to fly. They cannot and will not remain in the nest, if they did they would die. So it is with the human family and the home nest. Like the eaglets, we cling to the edge of the dear old home, but we must leave it and try our wings. How oft has mother hovered over us with her sheltering wings of love. She taught us to fly upward toward God and heaven, for our soul was made for the heights It is a pathetic sight to see a mother pack the trunk of the oldest boy as he prepares to leave the home nest. Many a tear falls down among the clothes of her precious boy.

Third—In the spiritual realm it is much the same. Aow we nestle down to-day in the church of God and find ourselves at ease in Zion. We have feathered the nest with money and social position and indifference, and we settle down. Yes, and woe to the man or woman, or even the preacher, who dares to stir our cozy, downy, comfortable nest. But God will stir it up, and by disease, or adversity, or temporal loss, or the death of some loved one, He will give that nest of yours a wonderful jolt some of these days, and in the quiet hour you will thank Him that He showed His mercy before it was too late.

Fourth—Beware of secret sin. A shepherd saw an eagle soar away from a rock .Shortly afterwards the bird made strange and eccentric movements in the air, drooped one wing, then the other, and fell to the ground. On examination it was found that a small serpent had fastened itself under the bird's wing, then pierced its deadly fangs into the eagle's heart. Oh, heaven-bound soul, it is thy privilege to fly in company with thy God.

Evening Service.

The evening subject was "Conquerors of the Sea of Glass."

First—It is a sea of glass, its waves are forever quiet. Once it was a fiery flood, but now it is a peaceful sea. It means peace. Glass mingled with fire means peace in the midst of persecution.

Second — The mighty multitude stands on the sea. All trials, and persecutions beneath their feet. They have conquered the beast, or the great forces of evil. The name of their God is written in their foreheads. We can find men and women to-day who have the name of the Master they serve written in their very face.

Third—These conquerors of evil have the harps of God and sing a new song. The songs of earth are often cut in two by death or calamity, but the new song shall never end."

WOODMEN OF WORLD

Civic Address.

In opening his civic address of welcome the Mayor A. A. McIntyre said he appreciated the privileges of being present and of giving a hearty welcome to the officers and the members of the Head Camp of the Woodmen of the World. We in Peterborough, said the Mayor, are pleased to welcome representatives of a distinguished society that is engaged in the benevolent work of providing and caring for the sick and afflicted.

"You come from different parts of Canada," he continued, "and I believe that one of the benefits of such conventions and annual meetigs is the opportunity it affords the representatives to become better acquainted with different parts of our Dominion. The more we know of our country," said Mayor McIntyre, "and the better we become acquainted with each other, living as we do in the wide spaces between the Altantic and the Pacific the better it is for us as a whole. We hope that you will have time while you are here to see something of our city so that you will carry away a knowledge of our manufacturing industries, our educational and benevolent institutions, our parks mercantile establishments and other institutions of interest." Speaking of his city as an industral centre, he said, "the central situation of this city and the advantages it has in abundance of hydro- electric power have resulted in a rapid industrial development, and we have tried to keep pace with this development in the construction of civic conveniences for the health, comfort and education of the people. You will, of course, see the hydraulic life lock on the Trent Waterway within the city, which is the highest in the world and one of the only two on the continent, the other being farther north on this waterway.

"We again give you a hearty welcome," said the Mayor, "and hope that your deliberations will be most beneficial to your order and its members, and that in every way your annual meeting in Petroborough will be a most successful one."

VILLAGE AND IMMEDIATE VICINITY PAID A BIG SACRIFICE THROUGH THEIR SOLDIERS—A FITTING TRIBUTE TO THOSE WHO FELL IN THE GREAT WAR.

Apsley, June 10.—The unveiling of the monument erected in memory of the fallen heroes who paid the supreme sacrifice in the greatest war the world has known took place here on June 3rd. The village presented a very patriotic appearance as the national flags were flying from all buildings. A large crowd was in attendance consisting mainly of relatives and friends of the boys who had gone gallantly forth and laid down their lives that the world might known Christianity and be spared from the hands of a cruel and treacherous enemy. A memorial service was held in connection with the unveiling. The following was the programme:—

Chairman's Address—Reeve Brown
Opening Hymn—"O God our Help in Ages Past".
The Lord's Prayer followed by prayer by Rev. J. H. Beck.
Bible Reading—Rev. C. A. Spence.
Hymn—"Onward Christian Soldiers."
Address—Rev. J. H. Beck.
Solo—Rev. J. H. Beck.
Address—Rev. C. A. Spence.
Unveiling—Mrs. A. Jones.
Doxology.
One minute of silent prayer.
Hymn—"All Hail the Power of Jesus Name".
God Save the King.

The unveiling of the monument was entrusted to Mrs. Anna Jones, both of her sons having given up their lives among the number of gallant dead. The names of twenty heroes are inscribed on the memorial, all of whom are boys from this locality. The following are the names:

Thomas Coones, Roy L. Coones, Ernest Bentley, Hugh B. Jones, William I. Jones, Lionel White, John Gifford, Fred Tanner, George McColl Roy McCauley, Gordon McCauley, George Winters, Milford Woodbeck, Wilbert A. Lean, Frank Bolton, Lang Thompson, Ernest Peters, Warren Post, Nicholas Scott, Frank Simpson.

Mrs. W. Lean presided at the organ during the service. After the service many floral tributes were placed on the memorial by friends. Nursing Sister Gladys Kilborn of Kingston, who spent most of the duration of the war overseas was present.

It is hoped thot this memorial may keep the names of the fallen heroes constantly in mind and may prove as an incentive to thepresent and coming generations to be ready at the call of duty to lay down their lives if necessary for Canada and the Empire.

WARDEN NICHOLLS' ADDRESS

In looking over the conditions that exist to-day I can but voice the sentiments of all in the recognition of the hand of a kind Providence in that notwithstanding the great strain that our country experienced as a result of the recent war we optimistically look forward to normal conditions practically being restored.

Having been favored with ideal seeding conditions it is reasonably safe to say that good results will follow.

On behalf of this Council and predecessors I take this opportunity of placing on record appreciation of the great service rendered to the Empire by those brave Canadian boys and so many from Peterborough City and County who fell on the battle fields of Europe and also we will always admire and respect and glory in the prosperity of those returned G.W.V. who suffered and sacrificed so much in order that we might continue to enjoy the great heritage (Canada) and the freedom of the Government that is so essential to the prosperity and happiness of her people.

It is the aim of the Council to not engage in expenditure beyond absolute necessity. With that object in view your various Committees are no doubt governing themselves accordingly. I refer to the extension to the Registry Office that appears necessary. In making such reference I merely do so to open up the question again before the Whole Council when Mr. Coughlin, who is Chairman and who has taken a lot of trouble to secure data for his colleagues may have a chance to explain why he did not authorize immediate action in the matter.

Debenture Debt Light.

To carry on any building would cost considerable now or more than is anticipated in the future, consequently the Council deems it advisable to move slowly. Whilst our debenture debt is only $139,170.77 yet I think it wiser to not add to such debt at present. The extending of the Registry Office could be accomplished by one mill on the dollar and I am firmly of the opinion that Highway improvement should be met from year to year without extending the payment over a period of years thereby necessitating a lot of interest to be paid on expenditures for a purpose that will not be permament in this country that is subjected to such deep frost making permanent road building only temporary at best from a County standpoint.

All but four of the Northern Townships are now in the "Highway System," they remaining out, from the fact that the Minister of Highways declared that Highway assistance, and Colonization Road assistance cannot be obtained at one and the same time from the Province.

Upon the advice of the Engineer the system is now being carried out in this County on the "flat rate." Both the Minister and Engineer claim that there is no provision in the Act otherwise.

Surburban Roads.

The "Highway Committee" had practically decided to recommend that a rate of 2 mills on the dollar be struck for this year, but to provide for emergencies it was decided to fix it at 2½ mills. Subsequent to that time the "Surburban Area Commission" had selected a "Surburban Area Mileage," in part, and have notified the City, and the Department to that effect, asking for $20,000 for the purpose, to be provided as follows: The Government, $8,000; the City, $6,000; the County, $6,000; and, I am of the opinion that owing to the scarcity of help and inexperience in the conduct of such expenditure that we are not justified to raise more than 2½ mills for such purpose this year.

The Clerk will report to the Council proceedings of the Surburban Commission up to the present embodying their estimate as per statute

Other matters I will not refer to, from the fact that the Chairman in each case, under whose jurisdiction such authority is vested, is in a better position to deal with the same.

Having in mind the evidence of the interest in the conduct of the affairs of the County since the beginning of the year that you have all taken, it would be presumptious of me to offer advice, other than a general reference to important matters as I have endeavored to do.

Words fail me to express my appreciation of the unstinted assistance and co-operation since the day you honored me with the position of Warden that each of you have given me, and any credit to be ascribed must be ascribed to you.

I sincerely ask for a continuance of the same.

Respectfully yours,
G. B. NICHOLLS.
Warden.

CROP OUTLOOK IS VERY GOOD

FREE PRESS PRESENTS GLOWING REPORTS OF CONDITIONS IN NORTHWEST.

WINNIPEG, June 10.—In presenting its second crop report for 1920, the Manitoba Free Press announces that it indicates about the best condition of crops at this date of any year since 1904, when these reports began, with possibly the single exception of 1912, when the June crop conditions were as nearly perfect as it is possible to hope for. This present report is much more encouraging than the early June report of the famous bumper years of 1915, as during the early part of June of that year heavy frosts occurred and the crop had not fully recovered from them.

The last week of May there were very high winds reported, and there was serious apprehension of damage from this source. The reports indicate that the heavy rains and cool weather have not only stopped the drifting and blowing, but that to a very great extent the crop has recovered without reseeding being necessary. Where seeding has been done it is mainly oats.

Very grave apprehension has existed as to grasshoppers and all correspondents in the infected areas were asked as to hoppers. The replies on the whole show that the wet weather has retarded hatching, but whether permanently or not, remains to be seen. Only two points, both in Manitoba, namely Waskada and Clearwater, report any serious damage up to the present. All points report fine organization to fight the pests and abundant supplies of poison for bait.

The most northern point reporting any signn of hoppers is Outlook, Sask. All that human energy can do is being done to prevent a spread of the plague should better weather develop them.

The strong feature of the report is the abundant supply of moisture throughout the entire West. Only nine points report any need of rain and these points add that there is plenty of surface moisture but showers are needed to help germinate the last sown grain.

Under general conditions, the report could scarcely be more optimistic, "never better," "ideal," and similar expressions abounding.

PETERBORO MEN TO REPRESENT BIG U.S. FARM SELLING AGENCY

Representatives of the E. A. Strout Farm Agency, with headquarters at New York, have been in the city during the past few days, and while here have appointed as representatives of the agency for the Peterborough district Messrs. M. H. Quinlan and Jos. O'Reilly.

The Strout Farm Agency is the biggest farm selling organisation in the world, having at the present time over five hundred branches in different parts of the United States and Canada, with offices in leading cities. Realising the extent of the immigration which is likely to bring thousands of Americans to Canada looking for land in this country during the next few years, the Strout Agency is now organising the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific on the same scale and under the same thorough system that last year enabled this agency to sell farms to the value of $20,000,000 in different parts of the American continent. Recognising also the possibilities of an influx from the British Isles, the Strout Agency is now arranging for the opening of headquarters at London, England, from which Old Country agriculturists with capital will be directed to America. The British and U. S. branches, operating in conjunction with branch offices and live representatives in this and virtually every other section of Canada, promise to assist in placing thousands upon the land in Canada, a large number of whom will undoubtedly find their way to Peterborough County through the efforts of Messrs. Quinlan & O'Reilly, backed by the most perfect and far-reaching farm selling agency in the world.

As a result of this arrangement, there is likely to be created through the instrumentality of the Strout Farm Agency a much greater demand for Peterborough farm lands than has ever been the case in the past, this big organisation having on its lists hundreds of prospective farm purchasers who are awaiting the opportunity to be put in touch with good farm bargains in this and other choice agricultural sections of Canada.

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?
The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.
Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.
Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.
Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

COUNCIL REFERS TO WARDEN'S SERVICE

HEADQUARTERS MOVED TO MONTGOMERY HOUSE---INSPECT GIRVIN'S BRIDGE.

While the Roads and Bridge Committee were inspecting Girvin's bridge on the boundary between Asphodel and Otonabee this morning the other members of the County Council whiled away an hour's waiting in a cursory discussion that admitted almost any topic and switched without notice from grave to gay and back again.

One of the members who was unable to be present for the opening session yesterday afternoon was probably assured that he hadn't missed much except the warden's address. However, he jokingly asked, whether any of his neighbouring reeves had "put anything over" him.

Reeve Shaw, of Harvey, turned that passage into a serious mood. "That's one thing that's never done in the County Council. They'll never take advantage of a man in his absence. Last year I tried to get a certain thing at the January session, but failed. In June I was sick and missed the first two days, but when I arrived I discovered that Council had passed the very thing I had wanted in January.....From that you might say that a man is more valuable at home."

Have Changed Headquarters.

"For the first time on record I was the only member of the Council at the Munroe House last night," Mr. Shaw later remarked, and it transpired that the Council had moved its headquarters to the Montgomery House. Apparently there was no question of depreciation of service in the cause of the transfer, but it seems the Munroe House has undergone extensive alterations that have not only changed its aspect but also its atmospliere, and the County Council, or a majority of the members, looked around for the peculiar conditions to which they had been long accustomed at the Munroe House. As a result they will doubtless be found at the Simcoe street hotel where caucuses and exchange of opinions and requirements will take place in future.

Reply to Warden's Address.

Warden Nicholls' address to the Council yesterday afternoon raised no contentious questions and the special committee appointed to deal with it brought in a report today in which they concurred with all his observations and suggestions and concluded with the following allusion to himself: "We desire to record our appreciation of the valuable services and the careful and constant attention given by the warden to the affairs of the county, and our wish to render him every assistance in performing the responsible duties his position imposes upon him."

No Cause for Criticism.

The Grand Jury's presentment to Judge Huycke week contained a recommendation that certain machinery should not be left uncovered in the jail yard. It happened that this machiery had been received only a day or two before. While there may have been some color of neglect there was actually none, and the machinery was properly disposed of as soon as possible after its delivery.

Must Alter Assessment.

County Clerk Elliott directed the Council's attention to a condition he recently discovered showing that the aggregate of the local assessments is more than $40,000 greater than the aggregate of the equalized assessments. The Act required that the equalized assessment should show the excess, and Reeve Scott, chairman of the Equalization of Assessment Committee, was asked to revise the assessments to meet the demand of the Act.

Ask $250 Grant.

A request from the City Council for a grant of $250 toward the care of Victoria Park was referred to the Finance Committee.

VISCOUNT GREY REFERS TO DECISIONS OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS IN SPEECH LAST EVENING.

Canadian Press.

LONDON, June 18. — That the League of Nations has missed two great opportunities with regard to Russia and Persia, was the statement made by Viscount Grey in a speech at Stratford, a suburb of London, last night. The former secretary for Foreign Affairs contended that the only policy toward Russia was one of non-intervention, since Russia was too big for even all the allies together to try to bring order in the country.

BLAMES REPUBLICANS FOR ANY BAD EFFECT RESULTING FROM LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

AN INTERVIEW

(United Press)
(Copyright Despatch)

NEW YORK, June 18.—"The Republican convention was the apotheosis of action, it was the threat antithesias of what I hope the Democratic convention at San Francisco will turn out to be," said President Wilson in an interview this week.

This thing, the League of Nations lies too deep to permit of any political skulduggery, any attempt to sidestep or evade moral and humanitarian responsibilities much to solemn to treat so lightly or ignore.

"The Republican, and not the Democratic policy, has been responsible for any bad effect that have resulted from the failure of the Republican Senate to ratify the Versailles Treaty and the covenant of the League of Nations.

"The thinly-veiled rejection of the principle of the League of Nations by the Chicago convention will not fool any one. The attitude of Senator Lodge and that of Senator Johnson differ only in degree, both are really opposed to it in any form. One of these gentlemen is disingenuous and evasive and the other is hostile.

"The abandonment at Chicago of the progressive spirit was woefully tragic. I hope and believe that the tragedy at Chicago will provide the Democratic convention with an object lesson in this direction that will not be overlooked.

"I have not raised my hand or voice to aid the promotion of any ambition for the Democratic Presidential nomination and I shall not do so."

THREE THOUSAND DOLLAR FIRE AT CANOE FACTORY

FIRE ORIGINATED IN VICINITY OF DRYING KILNS.

Fire that broke out in the dry kilns of the Peterborough Canoe Co. shortly after 9 o'clock last night, caused damage estimated to-day at $3,000 by Mr. W. A. Richardson, secretary-treasurer of the company. The loss he said was entirely covered by insurance. The kilns are situated at the south end of the plant, one above the other, with the boiler room in the cellar. The smoke stack runs up through the room, and although a wire netting surrounds it, Mr. Richardson said the fire was in all probability caused by some shavings or dust working its way through against the hot stack. "It doesn't take much to start a fire, everything is so dry," he said.

Fire walls surround the kilns and this probably saved the entire building from destruction. The cedar and basswood strips after they are finished ready for putting on the canoe, are put in the dry kilns for a day or so to season. Steam coils below the floor heat the wood.

The alarm was rung in from Box 21. When the fire department arrived George and Water streets were dense with smoke. The minute the doors into the building were opened the lurid flames poured out. A line of hose from the corner of George and King street was madly rushed to the door and the flames were driven back. From the hydrant in front of Morrow's blacksmith shop another line was carried around to the back, and with the water pouring in from both sides the fire was under control in some 20 minutes. The fire walls confined the fire to the kiln rooms, and although the floors were burned the considerable part of the loss was the prepared cedar and basswood, into which much time and labour were put.

The lights in the building did not fail to work and this was no inconsiderable fact in the defeat of the fire monster.

The heavy smoke pouring over George street attracted hundreds of people to the fire. The smoke hung close to the ground like a heavy blanket of fog ,and for a while the spectators saw an interesting spectacle, and the fire looked as if it would reach serious dimensions.

To-day the plant is running the same as before. The repair work on the kilns will commence at once, Mr. Richardson said.

It recalled the serious fire the company suffered in January, 1918, when the building was almost completely gutted.

Good times for all can only be the product of good work by all.

PARLIAMENT INCREASING THE RATES

BITTER DEBATE IN THE HOUSE LASTED UNTIL THREE O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.

Canadian Press

OTTAWA, June 18.—It took the House of Commons until nearly three o'clock this morning to give a third reading to the bill amending the Post Office Act and the discussion of the measure while in the committee stage was of a somewhat bitter nature. The first clause, which provides for an increase of nve cents in registration fee for letters, was carried after discussion, but it was when the clause increasing the rates of postage on daily newspapers from one-quarter to one cent a pound after January next came up that real criticism started. This clause was subsequently modified to provide that the increase shall be from one-quarter to three quarters of a cent after the first of next January. Dr. Michael Steele, of South Perth, attacked the Canadian daily newspapers, declaring that they were practically subsidized owing to the fact that they did not pay their own mailing costs. He declared that they were distributing incorrect news and that they misreported the proceedings of Parliament, giving to people of the country a wrong impression of what was going on at Ottawa. Other members defended the newspapers.

BOARD OF CONCILIATION BEGAN ENQUIRY INTO LABOUR DISPUTE

PLAN OF PROCEEDINGS—REPRESENTATIVES PRESENT—QUESTION OF CLASSIFICATION.

The sittings of the Board of Conciliation to investigate the differences between the Canadian General Electric Company and its striking employees opened in the County Court House this morning.

The company is represented by Judge McGillivray of Whitby; the men by Mr. John Munro, president of the Toronto Trades Council, while Judge R. D. Gunn of Ottawa, is officiating as chairman of the sittings.

For the C. G. E. there are also in attendance local manager Mr. E. G. Patterson and Mr. R. E. Layfield.

Mr. Harry W. Harper, organizer for the International Machinists' Union, is watching the striking machinists' interests, while Messrs. Alex. Morrison and Mr. W. P. Flynn are representing the affected electrical Workers. Mr. John Noble of Toronto, International Electrica Workers' Organizer, had not put in an appearance when the proceedings opened, although he is expected to do so any hour, and in that expectation his honor Judge Gunn recorded him as representing that body.

Mayor A. A. McIntyre and Ald. Frank Whitehouse, represent the City Council.

About fifty of the strikers compose the only audience in evidence.

Plan of Proceedings.

Judge Gunn explained that his proposed plan of proceedings was that each of the parties affected by the strike, together with the city's committee in regard thereto, should, through their several representatives, outline what steps each body had taken in an attempt to effect a settlement of the differences, and the result of such action.

His Honour called on Mayor McIntyre first to explain the City Council's position in the matter, and on what basis the Council's Special Committee had made enquiries into strike conditions, and their subsequent application of the Minister of Labor for the appointment of a Conciliation Board.

The Mayor pointed out that the City Council is interested in the welfare of all citizens alike, irrespective of class, and is anxious that complete harmony should exist. Hence the Board of Aldermen concluded that an effort should be made to bring the disputing parties together in hope of an agreement being reached which would terminate the strike; as a result Council appointed a conciliation board of its own whose officers, however, apparently were not welcome to the company's head management, so an appeal was made to Senator Robertson, to name a government Conciliation Board.

To Judge Gunn's enquiries, his worship outlined the municipality's concessions to the C.G.E. Company since its inception in this city, and replied that there had never been a strike of this company's men before as far as the local works are concerned.

The rate of pay and a minimum wage schedule constitute the differences between the company and their men, explained the Mayor. His Worship explained that the men are willing to return to work and leave their wage schedule in the hands of the Conciliation Board, but he understood the company would not stand committed to the findings of that Board.

His Honour Judge Gunn had no reason to suppose the C. G. E. would not accept this Board's decision.

Men Leaving City.

Ald. Whitehouse, in further explaining the city council's position, said the corporation, realizing that the strike was seriously affecting the city's welfare in general, and that quite a few of the strikers—all good citizens—were leaving town, had appointed a council conciliation board, in the hope of bringing the disputng parties together in agreement, and thus end the strike. This local conciliation board offered its services without prejudice and in the interests of both partes, said the alderman. He here gave a concise review of the fruitless negotiations between the civic board and the company, leading up to the present conditions.

Question of Classification.

Mr. H. W. Harper for the machinists, explained to the Board that the old machinists' minimum rate of wages was 55c an hour but in February last this year the men asked a minimum rate of 80c, with 65c far specialists, and 55c for helpers. He (Mr. Harper) had spent 45 days in an effort to avert this strike. The men, Mr. Harper said, were insisting on a minimum rate schedule, with classification of machinists, but Senator Nicholls would agree to no arbitration but one on individual cases, and not collectively.

To Judge Gunn Mr. Harper replied that the machinists were willing to return to work on Monday morning, on the offer made by the company to the men before they went out on strike, pending a settlement by the Board of Conciliation. But the company must bind itself to accept that Board's decision.

Judge Gunn explained that neither party can be bound by the Conciliation Board's report to the Minister of Labor, who, however, will see to it that such report is respected unless he finds reasonabe grounds for it not being respected. If the parties are satisfied the Minister will negotiate with them and settle all differences, if he can. A decision would have been much easier to reach had the men stayed on at work and trusted to the board for an equitable settlement.

The Direct Reason.

Mr. Alex. Morrison outlined the position of the Electrical Workers, whose direct reason for striking he said, was to effect a settlement of their own differences with the company. He did not think that the

THIS IS THE OBJECTIVE OF THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOUR.

(Canadian Press.

MONTREAL, June 18.—The American Federation of Labor, in its annual convention here to-day, authorized a nation-wide campaign to organize all telephone operators. State federations, city central bodies and volunteer organizations will take the field at once to completely unionize the entire telephone industry. The convention's action was declared necessary beause of the "oppressive anti-labor policy of the Bell Telephone Company and its associated companies."

First Real Defeat.

The endorsation of government ownership with democratic operation of the U. S. railroad systems by the American Federation of Labor, labor leaders declared here, was the first real defeat that Samuel Gompers, veteran president of the Federation, has received in years.

This repudiation of his administration, it is reported, prompted the labor chief to state before the convention that he "was not quite sure," he would be a candidate for re-election.

Mr. Gompers fought hard against the 'conventions action, declaring that it was a step toward "the enslavement of the workers, as Government employees" who, he said, had been denied many political and economic rights under past administrations. He received but a mild ovation.

The United Mine Workers and the powerful Railroad Workers' organizations combined to bring about President Gompers' defeat. They also had the support of the Machinists' union and the Metal Trades organization, all powerful voting factors.

The Carpenters' union and the building trades' oragnization stood loyally by the veteran president, but were overwhelmed, the final vote being 29,059 for and 8,049 against Government ownership.

Placed in Embarassing Position.

As a result of the convention action, the executive council, whose members supported Mr. Gompers, are placed in an embarrassing position, they must now take steps to bring about Government ownership which they have opposed, or resign.

Supporters of Mr. Gompers declared that they would urge him to retain leadership of the Federation and stand up for re-election for the 39th time.

Pressing its fight for free speech, the Federation demanded of Congress an investigation into the 'tyrannical, brutal and un-American suppression of free speech" in Pennsylvania. President Wilson was invited to address a meeting in Duquesne, Pa., on the subject of "free speech and free assemblage" under the auspices of the Federation.

Despite the protest and desire of President Samuel Gompers, the convention increased his salary from $10,000 to $12,000 a year.

The salary of Secretary Frank Morrison was also increased from $7,500 to $10,000 a year. Organizers' wages were increased from $48 to $60 per week and their travelling allowance from $6 to $8 per day. This was declared necessary owing to the high cost of living.

GRANT OF $1,000 MADE TO SALVATION ARMY AND NORWOOD FAIR RECEIVES AN EXTRA $325—TOTAL OF COUNTY GRANTS THIS YEAR $7,925.

$100 FOR PLOWMEN

The following grants were recommended by the Finance committee of the County Council this morning:

Navy League	$1,500
Salvation Army	1,000
Norwood Fair (extra)	325
Magistrate Langley (Inc.)	200
City Parks Committee	150
Ploughman's Association	100
Poultry Association	50

This makes the total of the county's grants this year $7,9235.

Although the Rev. S. Boal had mentioned $3,000 as a contribution from Peterborough county, he stated that $1,500 would be gratefully received, and the Council with the echoes of his appeal still ringing, decided upon that amount.

No Deputation From City.

Mayor McIntyre and Ald. Gainey were expected to appear this morning in support of the city's request for $250 toward the cost of taking care of Victoria park, but in their absence the committee proceeded to deal with the city's request. Last year no grant was made, but Messrs. Middleton, Eason and McIntosh contended that the County should contribute something to the upkeep of the park, because it improved the county property..

Reeve Shaw proposed a grant of $100, but it was stated that the banks of the central walk had to be built up and would require a considerable sum. Mr. Middleton moved an amendment, seconded by Mr. Eason, recommending $150, and Mr. Shaw withdrew his motion.

Reeve Scott's Request.

Reeve Scott remarksd that Asphodel was faring lightly from the county treasury. Fifty dollars was the extent of its receipts this year, he said, and then proposed that if the township undertook to repair Birdsall's bridge in Asphodel at an estimated cost of $500, that the county make an extra grant of $500 to the Norwood fair. Finally the bridge bait was stripped from the appeal for the Fair.

Were Warmly Welcomed.

"I thoroughly understand Mr. Scott's idea," said Reeve Squire. "We nearly got killed when we went back last January. I wonder we are alive to tell the story. The Norwood Fair Board need a building and $500 would hardly pay for the foundation. They say it is for the benefit of the whole county, and look on the Peterborough show as a midway or a circus.

Mr. Shaw—The Peterobrough fair is all right.

Mr. Squire—Well they say that anyway.

Mr. Shaw — You should educate them better.

Mr. Eason— The Norwood fair has nothing to do with the Birdsall bridge.

Mr. McIntosh proposed that a $250 extra grant be given. Mr. Squire offered an amendment for $500 and the vote showed a division of 6 to 5 for the motion.

Mr. Squire declared that some of the members hadn't voted, and the next showing was 7 to 6 for the motion.

"There are only twelve in the house, now do you get 7 to 6?" asked Mr. Squire, counting the heads and drawing attention to the vacant chairs.

Mr. Eason—There are thirteen, including the chairman.

The Norwood Fair is in good financial condition.

8.34 MILLS COUNTY RATE TO MEET THIS YEAR'S BUDGET OF $75,898 47

REPORT OF REEVE GRIFFITH, FINANCE CHAIRMAN, WAS ADOPTED ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON—RATE FOR NORTHERN TOWNSHIPS IS 2 1-2 MILLS LESS.

DEFICIT $6,031.98 DEC. 31ST

Reeve Griffith, chairman of the County's Finance committee, presented his statement of current resources and expenditures for the present year and indicated the tax rate for county purposes on Thursday afternoon.

The total estimated expenditure is $75,898.47 requiring a rate of 8.34 mills. This includes the 2 1-2 mill rate on the municipalities participating in the county roads scheme, and for the northern townships the rate is that much less.

The chief items in Mr. Griffith's budget were for debenture liquidation —$13,713.34.

Administration of justice, bridges, schools, etc.—$42,131.98, or a total of $55,845.32.

License fees, grants, etc., provide a resource of $9,560.00, reducing the estimated outlay to $46,285.32.

Expenditure on the House of Refuge totals $7,683.70, with $1,204.70 on the credit side, leaving $6,479.00 to be raised by levy.

The school grant is $1,111.50 and for highway improvement $22,902.65.

Deficit of $6,031.98.

In submitting his report Mr. Griffith said:

"I beg leave to refer to the increase in administration of justice expenditure. Last year your Council provided by way of estimate for $12,500, and the financial statement shows $15,071.79 spent or $2,561.69 short. The current deficit Dec. 31, 1918, was $2,739.44 and again at Dec. 31, 1919, $6,031.98.

Recognizing the same and also the fact that the cost of carrying all public work into effect has risen by leaps and bounds, I have come to the conclusion that our rates were not adequate."

WARDEN OF ELGIN PROPOSES CENSUS OF EMPTY FARM HOUSES

Elgin County Council Opened June Session on Tuesday.

ST. THOMAS, June 17.—Warden Mills in his address at the opening of the June sessions o fthe county council here referred to the large number of vacant houses in the county that ought to be occupied. He suggested that a census be taken, giving particulars of their capacity and location, and the warden was sure many desirable tenants would be attracted from the cities and towns, where rents are soaring and the cost of building is prohibitive.

"The general agricultural outlook throughout the county," said the warden, "is fair, considering the dry season. The prospects for an abundant fruit crop is good. While labor conditions are unsatisfactory ,the favorable season for work has enabled everyone to put in a large acreage, and all are now looking for improved conditions in the fall.

"There is a movement for concerted action on the part of Southwestern Ontario authorities to secure suitable immigration to improve the labor supply, and the council will be asked to consider the appointment of representatives to look after the interests of the county.

"In this connection," declared the warden, "the county board of trade would be useful if reorganized."

HEART SO BAD

WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yatem n, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines, and took several different kinds but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them. Before I had taken more than two boxes I could see that they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me and I advise anyone troubled with their heart to try them as I am confident they will find relief."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SOFT WHEATS ON NEW SOILS

It is well known that, when grown on certain soils, and especially in certain seasons, wheat, instead of being dark and translucent, is pale or spotted with patches of light color. If this condition is very marked the wheat is called "soft," and if it is less evident the term "piebald" is often used, says a recent Experimental Farm Note. There is considerable misapprehension in regard to softness in wheat. Some varieties, such as Prelude for instance, are extra hard in their nature and very seldom produce soft kernels, while others, such as White Russian, are essentially softer. But most of the popular sorts, though usually hard in character, become soft under special conditions of soil and climate. Even the extra hard wheats of the Durum class, such as Wild Goose, sometimes show softness.

Soft kernels of wheat contain a lower proportion of gluten and a higher proportion of starch. The interior of a hard kernel is horny and translucent ,while the interior of a soft kernel is whitish and opaque. As bran also is translucent, the soft kernels are paler than the hard ones The bran itself, however, does not change color when the wheat becomes soft. A soft samole of a so-called red wheat is not yellowish, but pale reddish-brown. The popular idea that Red Rife wheat turns into White Fife when it becomes soft, is entirely erroneous; the difference between these two varieties lies only in the color of the bran. White Fife is just as hard a wheat as Red Fife, though of a different color; yellowish rather than reddish.

Governed by Soil Conditions.

Softness is the outcome of peculiar soil conditions, especially in regard to soil structure and the quantity of moisture present. Land from which trees have recently been cleared is particularly liable to produce soft wheat. It is also well established that in countries where the summer is rather long and where the temperatures are moderate the wheat is usually softer than in districts where the summer is short and where great extremes of temperature occur.

Not very much is yet known as to the best way to overcome the tendency of any soil to produce soft wheat. To a certain extent this is doubtless beyond control, but it appears probable that cultivation, and especially the ploughing under, of sod will, in time, tend to bring out such a condition of soil as will produce harder wheat This could be expected, particularly if the land under tillage were formerly covered with trees.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

FRIDAY, JUNE 18TH, 1920.

MR. HICKS AGAIN.

Having first denied that he had made the references to the attempted bribery of members of the Legislature that were credited to him, and blamed the June breezes for causing his words to be twisted into a meaning that he did not intend, Mr. Andrew Hicks, M.P.P., now admits that, since the Provincial Treasurer, Hon. Peter Smith, has declared that he thought Mr. Hicks made the statement originally, reported, that he "must have given that impression." He has further added that his statement was based on information given him by one of the U.F.O. members, and announces that he is coming to Toronto next week to take up the matter with members of the Government.

An explanation from the U.F.O. Whip should be forthcoming, for as the matter stands at present he has either said too much or too litle. If he can substantiate his charges that members of the Government were offered bribes, then the people will expect the Attorney-General to institute the necessary proceedings. On the other hand, if he had no proofs of what he said, Mr. Hicks owes the public some explanation of his reasons for making such a serious statement.

THE COAL SITUATION.

That it is the duty of every citizen who can afford to buy his winter's supply of coal now—and can find the coal to buy—should make his full purchases as soon as possible, is the statement of Fuel Commissioner H. A. Harrington. The outlook for next winter is very dark. The present receipts of coal from the United States are seventy-five per cent. below normal. Instead of Ontario receiving some 600 cars, each day, of anthracite and bituminous coal, there are, as a matter of fact, not more than 150 cars coming in. The result is obviously a daily increase in the shortage, so that by next autumn the Fuel Commissioner expects that the people will face a situation far more serious than that experienced during the war.

The people must be prepared to exercise the greatest economy in the use of fuel, and to reduce the consumption of coal to the minimum. Otherwise the consequences will be serious. The decision of the City Council to secure 500 tons of coal to add to the 1,000 tons already on hand is a most wise one under the circumstances. A reserve supply of this kind will avert much distress next winter if used only in case of emergencies.

THE TIMBER INQUIRY.

The timber inquiry being conducted by Justices Riddell and Latchford grows daily more astounding in its revelations of loose methods and of the extent to which this Province has been robbed. On top of the evidence that timber limits have been operated under the cloak of mining operations and of the other similar demonstrations of questionable policies in connection with the timber industry in the north come fresh indications of the manner in which the Province has been defrauded. Strong evidence that in the case of one company at least there has been practised a systematic system of forgery in connection with affidavits of returns to the Government has been given before the commission. The holding of the inquiry has been amply justified by the discoveries that have already been made, and it is hoped that the investigation may be continued long enough to sift the whole situation to the bottom so that the offenders can be eliminated from the public service and given the punishment they deserve.

THE VACATION SEASON.

The "Health Bulletin," issued by the Toronto Health authorities, contains some valuable advice for those about to take their summer vacation. The bulletin is headed, "How Can We Get Best Results from Our Holidays?" and a variety of subjects are taken up and dealt with in a manner that should be of profit to those who come into touch with the publication. The instructions given include warning as to making sure of securing pure milk and water and to beware of hotels and baording houses where there is a plentiful supply of flies in the kitchen and dining room.

One point touched upon is the question of dancing. Undoubtedly this craze has made vast progress at the summer resorts and while its popularity is not difficult to understand it is at the same time true that people cannot expect to come home after vacation feeling rested and benefitted if they persist in dancing until the small hours every morning. At many of the lake resorts the dance in the evening has grown to be the biggest event of the holiday activities. The morning hours that used to be spent in healthful pastimes such as paddling, rowing, sailing and swimming are more often now used for sleeping by those who are tired from the effects of the previous night's dance. And by the time they have recovered it is the hour of the next dance. It is not to be hoped that the Health Bulletin will cause any great improvement in this respect, but it undoubtedly points the way to a sane and enjoyable holiday from which people will return built up in health and body.

EVISM.

The utter defeat of Bolshevism at the convention of the American Federation of Labor, which yesterday refused to take action that might be construed as approval of the Soviet Government, was based on recognition of a fundamental principle of democracy. In reporting to the Federation, Delegate Frey, secretary of the Resolutions Committee, said of Russia: "We obtained the best possible information, and we believe that it is an autocratic military group who have fastened themselves on the people. They do not believe in democracy."

From personal experience at Petrograd, Vice-President James Duncan told of the conduct of Lenine as he witnessed it. He showed the delegates that the Bolshevist leader held his power by grace of the force of militarism.

Whatever may be the virtues of Bolshevism, and morbid enthusiasts in plenty insist these are many, its methods are not such as appeal to the spirit of American labor. It is by the use of all tools of tyranny which Labor justly abhors that Bolshevism holds its pose in Russia.

Criticism of the press in connection with Russia is familiar. Bolshevist agitators delight to picture themselves as the victims of a vast conspiracy which keeps the saintly Lenine and Trotsky from being understood. Dying for Russia on the platform is a familiar spectacle, beloved of extreme radicalism. Yet the hardest critics of the press must soon be prepared to admit that the press has been fair to Bolshevism and has served the public weal in its treatment of the undemocratic menace. As time goes on, this view will grow into conviction. The press has held the first line of defence against a crafty crew of assailants, who sought to entrench themselves inside the line of democracy under cover of the night.

In a message sent to President Gompers by United States Secretary of State Colby, the Bolshevist regime in Russia was described in severe terms. Said Mr. Colby:

"The Soviet Government is insistent upon political recognition as a condition precedent to a renewal of any commercial contact. While this Government has no desire to interfere with the internal affairs of the Russian people, or to suggest the kind of Government they should have, the existing regime in Russia does not represent the will or consent of any considerable proportion of the Russian people. It repudiates every principle of harmonious and trustful relations, whether of nations or of individuals, and is based upon the negation of honor and good faith and every usage and convention underlying structure of international law."

This message means that Lenine and Trotsky are using the necessities of the Russian populace in trade for political gain, that they stand between the suffering communities of the country and succor, with a willingness to capitalize the trials of the poor for selfish advantage.

Labor wisely turns, in disgust and horror from such methods and such men. Its condemnation of Bolshevism as practised in Russia grows fro mthe revolt of a democratic spirit against a system centuries of growth have overcome and discredited. Bolshevism emerges after Labor's examination, bringing nothing new but its modern revival of an ancient tyranny. —Montreal Star.

PAY $12,000 RANSOM FOR BABY, BUT ARE DEFRAUDED

MORRISTOWN, Pa., June 17.—Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin, whose thirteen-months-old son, Blakeley, was stolen from his crib two weeks ago, stated here that they had been defrauded out of $12,000 by the writer of the letters signed "The Crank" and have again turned to the police for aid.

Mr. Coughlin told the authorities he felt so confident the writer was the abductor of his child that on Monday night he placed the money at a spot designated in one of the letters. "The Crank" assured him, he said, the baby would be restored within 24 hours.

When the child was not returned Tuesday night Coughlin became suspicious, and upon investigation today found the money had disappeared.

VICTORIA DIST. MASONS IN INSTRUCTION LODGE

BEAVERTON, June 17.—A great rally of Masons in the form of a lodge of Instruction for Victoria District, No. 20, A. F. & A. M., was held here, under the auspices of Murray Lodge, No. 408. Grand Master F. W. Harcourt and other Grand Lodge officers were present, his party having motored from Toronto.

Spry Lodge, Fenelon Falls; Verulam Lodge, Bobcaygeon, and Faithful Brethren Lodge, Lindsay, exemplified the several degrees, respectivey, in almost faultless style, calling forth the congratulations of the Grand Master and many others present. The present D. D. G. M. of the district, D. M. Walls, who is also Reeve of Beaverton, had charge of the proceedings, giving many interesting and instructive decisions.

After the afternoon session more than 300 Masons, from about 30 visiting lodges represented, were entertained by Murray Lodge at a banquet in Alexandria Hall. Bro. Evans of Beaverton was toastmaster. Among the speakers were many well-known Masons, as the Grand Master, P. D. D. G. M. Miskelly, Roland Tanner, of Toronto; W. H. Tudhope, M.P., of Orilia; Prof. Wright, Toronto; Prof. Hall, Lindsay; Major Cameron, Toronto, and Bro. Townley, Fenelon Falls.

The district is composed of 15 lodges, reaching from Peterboro to Kirkfield, and are all in a very flourishing state.

POLICE BARRACKS BURNED YESTERDAY

(Canadian Press)

DUBLIN, Ireland, June 18.—Mount Pleasant police barracks, five miles from Brandon, were burned yesterday. They had been vacated by the police two months ago but patrols were on guard.

Shop Entered

Early last Saturday morning, Mr. Robert Nurse, the well-known blacksmith and garage keeper at Fowler's Corners, had his shop entered, and lost several hundred dollars' worth of tires and tubes.

Archie Moore, High County Constable, is working on the case, and believes he has a clue to the successful burglars.

About 4 o'clock in the afternoon a car called at his garage, which is about 75 yards from his blacksmith shop, and purchased a quart of oil. It is alleged that the occupants of the car seemed interested in the building. That same night the robbery took place, but whether or not the theft can be attached on the suspicious car is not known.

A car was seen going up the road north of the village early in the morning. A few minutes later it was followed by a buggy with two young men in it, and the buggy returned shortly afterwards.

The man in the buggy says he saw the car in front of the garage with a man at the wheel. He asked him what was wrong and the man replied that he had some trouble and would wait till daylight. The young man states that he would recognize the man if he saw him again. There is a house directly across from the garage but they did not hear any noise all night.

The robbery consisted largely of tires and tubes and some accessories. All dealers and others have been warned to be on the outlook for anyone attempting to sell any new tires. Needless to say the robbery has stirred up considerable excitement in the village. Some interesting developments are looked for in the near future.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Warsaw Women's Institute was held in Mr. Calder's Hall on Thursday afternoon. After the opening exercises, Mr. McCrae demonstrated on a live barred rock hen, the order in which the different parts of a yellow-skinned laying hen turns pale. Experts can tell from the appearance of a bird within from 3 to 5 how many eggs she has laid. The reports from the president, secretary-treasurer and librarian were given. The auditors had not their report ready. The result of the election of officers was:

President—Mrs. David Miller.
Vice-President—Mrs. Robert Payne.
Secretary-Treasurer — Miss Ruby Davis.
Librarian—Mrs. John Cooper.
Directors—Mrs. Henry Clements, Mrs. Wallace Anderson, Mrs. Fred. Morgan, Mrs. Jas. Selkirk.
Auditors—Mesdames James Moore and Garfield Crowe.

It was decided to hold the August, September, October, November, May and June meetings in homes, Mesdames Wallace Anderson, J. Selkirk, H. Clements, Robert Payne and D. Miller offering their homes, but the meetings for each home will be announced later.

The summer series of meetings at which Mr. Allen, of North Bay, will speak on her work in Northern Ontario, introducing community work and laws pertaining to women and children, will be held in the Town Hall on Monday afternoon, June 21st, at 2.30 o'clock. These meetings are free to all women and girls over fifteen and mothers need not stay away because of babies. Light refreshments will be served after Mrs. Allen speaks.

Cheese was shipped from Warsaw at Lakefield on Friday.

Some enterprising men of the village are making an effort to stock some of the near-by streams with fish.

Was a Success.

The entertainment and social held by the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid to obtain money to re-decorate the manse was a decided success. The door receipts were about $85.00. Expenses will be deducted. The programme was excellent. Rev. Jull, of Lakefield, was chairman. Mrs. Charles Foster sang twice; Miss Olive Cullen, of Smith, sang twice. Both these ladies are well and favourably known here. Miss Hazel Davidson of Peterborough recited three times, and will not want for a welcome any time she may return to Warsaw. Rev. D. Archibald of Lakefield gave an interesting address. The main theme seemed to be "Our Duty."

After the National Anthem, ice cream, cake and coffee was served, and a half-hour was spent in social chat.

Mr. George Hamblin of North Dummer, occupied the Methodist pulpit on Sunday evening. Rev. J. Knox is away at a conference.

There was the regular service in the Baptist Church on Sunday morning, also service in the Anglican Church on Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Stringer. The Anglicans hope soon to have regular services.

Rev. Fraser conducted services in the Presbyterian Church morning and evening, and at Cotersloe in the afternoon.

GRAIN CROP IS EXCELLENT IN ALL PRAIRIE PROVINCES

FIELDS OF WHEAT NEAR BRANDON STAND FIFTEEN INCHES HIGH—GRASSHOPPERS BEGIN ACTIVITIES AND FIGHT OF EXTERMINATION IS UNDER WAY—SMALL LOSS FROM SOIL DRIFT IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA.

Unmarred as yet by any hint of adverse circumstance, the prospects for a greater crop of wheat and oats ni Western Canada remain as they were last week—the finest within a period of nearly twenty years. Day after day come cheering telegrams from far-scattered points across the broad prairies, and in almost each single instance the message is one of unadulterated assurance and confidence in the ultimate gathering-in of a crop that may not be far behind the record one of five years ago. Warm and frequent June showers, the absolute essential for good growth on the prairies, have been everywhere in evidence, breaking with their coming periods of heat and sunshine. Not a few points in the West report the young crop as being from ten days to two weeks in advance of conditions at the corresponding date last year, thus conclusively vindicating the contentions of those who refused to accept the assertion that a late spring necessarily meant a backward crop. Damage from soil-drift, while not entirely unknown by any means, has been proved to be almost negligible, except in the case of one or two localities, and the percentage of re-seeding has worked out at a very low figure.

Grasshoppers at Work.

The solitary disturbing factor at the moment is the growing menace of the grasshoppers in the more southern parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan. As predicted in this column last Wednesday that they would, the insects have begun their work, and some districts already report very considerable damage in fields adjoining road allowances in the worst-infested areas. In the neighborhood of Melita a novel "weapon" of defense has been put into use, namely, an asphalt burner. Farmers in that neighborhood had found that by soaking the roadsides with coal oil and then setting them afire, considerable damage was done to the living locusts, though the heat was no sufficiently intense to penetrate and destroy the eggs. It was decided to secure from the Department of Public Works an asphalt burner, such as is used commonly in paving city streets, it being the case that from such a machine the heat is driven downward with considerable force. One such burner is now at work in the Melita district, and upon its results there will depend the possibility of a wider use of this somewhat novel instrument of destruction.

Saskatchewan and aMnitoba are fortunate in possessing as Deputy Ministers of Agriculture two men such as Auld and Evans. From the onset these officers have been fully alive to the threat of the locusts, and nothing possible for the mto do has been left undone. More than anything else, their untiring zeal has been the factor in creating public sentiment regarding a possible plague, and its method of combat, and the smooth working of the defensive machine is due to them and their capable assistants. One of the latter in Sasaktchewan, Mr. H. L. Lovering, in a recent report, had the following to say regarding the grasshopper menace:

A Very Real Menace.

"The wide extent of territory affected this year, and the enormous number of eggs in evidence, and the way in which they are hatching, indicate that the farmers are up against the stiffest fight of this sort that they have ever had to wage in Saskatchewan. There is no reason, however, why they should not win out against the grasshoppers if they make use of the organizations perfected for their assistance. There is no sense in minimizing the danger in which they stand. It is a very real and a very great danger, and it can be destroyed only if every farmer whose crop is threatened gets out and does his bit. It can be destroyed if every farmer does this."

Evans is Optimistic.

The following comment by Deputy Minister J. H. Evans of the Manitoba Department of Agriculture, made at the conclusion of a motor trip of several hundred miles through that Province, will be cheering news to Eastern Canadians:

"Never have I seen crop conditions more hopeful; there is plenty of moisture; the land is in good shape, and the condition reported to me from every point in the districts visited, without exception, is nearer the ideal than it has been for many years."

One of the most successful conferences ever held in Western Canada was that in Saskatoon from June 8 to 11, the Farm Settlement Congress, under the auspices of the Farm Settlement Association. This latter has for its objective the rather ambitious one of, "A farmer on every farm in Saskatchewan within five years." Whether or not it can achieve its sky-high purpose is a matter of minor importance; it is of great importance, however, that the congress has succeeded in bringing together in conference the very men upon whom the Province must most depend in her efforts to attain her fullest destiny.

STATUS OF O.A.C. RAISED.

TORONTO, June 7.—In future candidates for admission to the Ontario Agricultural College must be at least 18 years of age and who have had at least one year of farm experience, according to the announcement of Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture.

SISTER OF THE CANDIDATE

SHE WILL STICK TO DUTIES ALTHOUGH MAY HAVE TO ASSIST AT WHITE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Behind a desk in the woman's bureau of the police department in Washington sits a grey-haired, distinguished-looking woman.

For two years, since she returned from a decade of missionary service in India, she has occupied this desk. Each day she listens to the sordid or unhappy stories of the girls and women brought before her. Patiently she straightens out domestic difficulties, and looks after the girls caught shoplifting and who pleads for "another chance."

She is rated as "police officer, second-class," and her salary is $1,650 a year. Her hours are from early in the morning until such time in the evening when she has disposed of the troubles of the last offender brought before her.

Such is Mrs. Herbert H. Votaw, policewoman, and sister of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for the Presidency. In spite of the fact that she may soon be called upon to assist in White House entertainments, she has announced her intention of sticking to her police duties.

Mrs. Votaw's husband is a clerk on the Senate Committees on the Philippines, of which Senator Harding is the chairman.

FRENCH COLUMN IN CILICIA CAPTURED BY TURK FORCE

PARIS, June 17.—A French battalion which had been occupying Bozano, in Cilicia, Asia Minor, northwest of Adana, has been taken prisoner by the Turks, according to The Temps today.

The French troops, in column formation, had succeeded in forcing a passage toward the coast from Bozano, which is about 50 miles inland, and was proceeding southward.

About a dozen miles from Adana, however, its ammunition gave out and the column was compelled to capitulate.

WHAT ARE THE TOOLS THE FARMERS HAVE LOST?

AND WHY THE LITTLE RED SCHOOL CANNOT GIVE THEM BACK.

By ISA M. BYERS in Farmers' Sun

The Patriotism and Production Campaign fell flat with the farmer, not because he lacked patriotism, but because it lacked legs. It was a kind of a bust of a plan with no vital organs to speak of and a very large mouth. In fact it was a patriotism and crop raising plan, for marketing was left out and marketing is part of production just as storage, labour and transportation are part of marketing. It reminded one of the country clergyman's reply to the church deputation offering him a raise in salary. "My friends, I implore you don't think of it. I'm worn to skin and bone raising my present stipend. If you add ten dollars there'll be a funeral shortly at the manse." There was this difference, however, between the farmer and the minister, for whereas the minister could count on what he raised for his own funeral the farmer could not. But the campaign did a great deal of good. The farmer had felt the action of some economic laws along his muscles when he tried with less labour to raise a larger crop, he learned others when he saw the crop he raised waste unharvested from failure in marketing organization, and the U.F.O. was the logical result. But what has this to do with "The little red school house?" In the day of the little red school house the farmer was his own marketer. He may not have got so much as now for his produce. But "he got what he did." He controlled his marketing tools, such as they were, even if those were only a sack, his legs and his back. He exchanged his own product directly and carried what he wanted back at the current rate of exchange.

But modern agriculture is a great and complicated industry, and a host of middlemen take his crop to market. By losing control over the marketing end of production the farmer has not only lost his bargaining tools, to speak in a metaphor, but requires a different set if he is to hold his own in the modern business world. Further, by pledging himself to co-operation, he has not only put himself in accord with economic law for, to quote Prof. MacIvor, "The law of co-operation is the law of success and competition is always wasteful," but he has chosen a different spirit and a different method of organization from that which is fostered by capitalism. We think we are right in saying that what business training our present educational system gives when it gives it at all is based on the spirit and methods of competition, and adapted, when adapted at all, to industrial rather than to agricultural production.

But children do not learn co-operation out of books. They learn it by co-operating, and they cannot co-operate without some one to co-operate with.

"Birds of a fethah flock togethah," said the immortal Lord Dundreary in one of his profound ruminations, "of course they do. Did you evah heah of a bird of a fethah flocking all alone in a cornah by himself?"

How are the future managers of the U. F. O. to be trained for co-operative management and organization in schools which average not more than two children of one age or sex the province over?

The child gets a large part of its education or development of native capacities from other children. How is it to learn how to get on with others if there are no "others?" It is in group games and plays that faculties of co-operation, organization and leadership are developed and it takes more than two or even three to make a group.

Peter MacArthur fulminates against "organization." If his tirades refer to the useless societies which provide a platform for the eloquence of those who urge other folk to do things they don't know how to do themselves, or would not do if they did, he deserves public thanks. But there is an organization which simplifies rather than complicates life. That puts together things that belong together and separates what had best be kept apart. The organizing mind brings order out of confusion, the organizing spirit feels the tug of the common human bond laid too deep to be severed by all the surface conflicts and antagonisms of our turbulent life. The organizer will find a way to make men work together for the common weal till in a community of purpose they find a way through prejudice to sympathy. The organizers are the world's great peacemakers. If the one-roomed school can no longer develop these latent social capacities it is dear at any price.

The consolidated school with an enrollment of two hundred or less, with school garden, ample play grounds, domestic science, manual training, music, art and agriculture taught by a competent staff gives the rural child not only as good but a better equipment for life than can ever be got by cramming him into packed city schools.

In one city high school there is an attendance of 240 in six classes of the first form alone. Nearly 800 in all forms combined whose classes dwindle till the fifth has one, with an enrollment of but one-fifth of all who passed their entrance. This school has not one-quarter of the play space of the rural school. By careful planning each class has one-and-a-half hour's sports a week. The principal knows some of his pupils if he meets them on the street.

If a parent wants to consult him about her child she is asked, is he in "A.B.C.D. class of the desired form in the main building or the portable." When his teacher is discovered, his record is looked up in a book and then parent and teacher are ready for discussion. After he has been going to school a year or two his class teachers begin to know him as a human being.

Do you wonder wha parents hesitate to ring up a principal lest one more distraction breaking in upon the schedule of this factory for turning out a standardized human product may give the operator nervous prostration?

It is a tribute to the quality of our teaching manhood that to many boys whom he cannot name "Old man Black" or "White" still stands to them as an ideal of Christian manhood.

A child's capacity for social fellowship, leadership and organization may be smothered by crowds as well as starved by solitude.

The consolidated school is only a plan and it is the men and women behind the plan which alone can make it work. But it at least gives to the teacher, urban as well as rural, who longs to educate, a fighting chance. It provides the farmer with a school which can help his children find the new tools they need for their new day and teach the rules of that nobler game he has chosen for himself. That reaches out through class consciousness and class organization to that community consciousness that alone hold the promise of a heavenly kingdom realized on earth.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

FOREST FIRES RAGING THROUGHOUT NEWFOUNDLAND

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 16.—While the Legislature was receiving reports from many sections of the island of the dangerous forest fires burning, smoke from them was pouring in through the windows of the building. Reports received show that in a number of sections people are being compelled to move out their belongings into boats. The villages threatened are: Heartease, Willowview, Victoria, Adey Town, and Bishop's Falls, and Grand Falls on the Reid Newfoundland Railway.

SPIRITISM AND DICKENS

.....By JOHN O' LONDON.....

LONDON.— Many thousands of Americans were in London this Summer for the fiftieth anniversary of the day (June 9, 1870) on which Charles Dickens died in his fifty-ninth year, at his famous house, Gad's Hill, between Rochester and Gravesend. From boyhood this had been the home of his desire. He had seen it in his walks with his father in the Chatham and Strood district, and had been told that if he worked hard enough he might come to live in it! In March, 1856, he bought it for £1,790 and exclaimed, on signing the check, that the day, "as a matter of course," was a Friday ,that day having been repeatedly connected with important events in his life. The buying of a house has often had something fateful in it, and with Dicken's ownership of Gad's Hill began much that accounted for his untimely death. Two years later he was separated from his wife. At this time, also, he began those public readings which exhausted his strength. The last but one of his four great series of readings was given in the principal cities of the United States in 1866-67, and brought him a clear profit of nearly £20,000, besides the reward of a great welcome.

Had he stopped these readings on his return to England he might have added many years to his life. It was his last big undertaking that killed him, and the accounts of it are painful reading. Only a distinct threat of paralysis of his left side brought him to a halt. But the mischief was done, and the catastrophe only postponed. The unfinished reading tour was followed by the unfinished "Edwin Drood," on which he was working in his Summer house at Gad's Hill the day before his death.

To myself the lapse of fifty years since that tragic event brings back the London which I began to know sixteen years later. It was Dicken's London in essence. His very characters could still be seen in the streets; the Cockney eccentricities which abound in his novels could be heard and seen; many neighborhoods he had described, now transformed, or swept away, were much as he had known them. His cabmen and bus drivers, with the broad-brimmed hats and beef-fattened cheeks and chins, were still masters of repartee and had Dicken's own keen and rollicking vision for surface character. The small old inns-of-law still secreted the grim memories of Jack Bamber. In Holborn you might walk through the square carriage entry of Furnival's Inn under which Dickens, in the flush of his youth, signed his contract for the "Pickwick Papers," and further east stood the old inns he knew, Rider's, and the Bell, and the Black Bull, with their old coach yards. His Hampstead Heath was still the wild beginning of the country, and from its gorse the gypsy women still rose to tell your fortune. The Duke of Bedford's gate keepers, in laced hats and red waistcoats, still barred many a short-cut through the Bloomsbury which now approximates to one vast hotel and boarding house.

is being signalized by the erection of the vast Bush Building, of American inspiration, in the Strand. It is the culminating act in the demolition of that Dickensian labyrinth which Londoners remember as the Clare Market region, and which spread up to Holborn, where Dick Swiveller used to wonder how he could reach the Strand through the lanes in which he owed so many small accounts. Only one was safe to him while the shops were open, and this he was about to close with a pair of gloves. Near by was little Kingsgate street, where I often tried to identify Mrs. Gamp's window, to which her clients threw pebbles when some one was just coming into the world or just going out of it. The Old Curiosity Shop still survives in Portsmouth street, but its claim to have any connection with the novel has unfortunately been thoroughly discounted. It is one of the last points of the novel that old Kit himself had forgotten the site, and the inscription on the Portsmouth street shop is known to have been a device to attract custom adopted by a small bookseller some forty years ago.

A NEW STRIKE AT OTTAWA.

Mill Owners Refuse to Recognize Union and to Agree to Arbitrate.

OTTAWA, June 16.—About 450 woodworkers employed by 10 firms in Ottawa and Hull are on strike because the employers declined to grant higher wages, recognize the union, or submit the matter to a board of conciliation.

The mill owners at a meeting decided to stand by their present policy of agreeing to deal with their employes by individual shops, with no recognition of the union.

Never contrive to make it easy for your concern to get along without you.

FRENCH WHEAT MAY SUPPLY 1920 NEEDS

YIELD OF 260 MILLION BUSHELS EXPECTED—SEEDED ACREAGE INCREASED.

PARIS.—Another month of good growing weather with favorable harvesting conditions will be worth between 3,000,000,000 and 4,000,000,000 francs to France, in the opinion of agricultural experts.

"It is impossible to tell what will happen in the next few weeks," said a high official of the Ministry of Agriculture today, "but if the crops meet with no disaster France will buy but little wheat abroad next year if conditions continue as favorable as now. She may not buy any. This means a minimum economy of 2,500,000,000 francs, which may reach nearly 4,000,000,000 francs."

In 1919, a poor year, France raised 173,000,00 bushels of wheat and had to buy 150,000,000 bushels abroad. this year is declared to be the best in the memory of farmers for all crops, with 800,000 more acres seeded than last year. he crop is estimated by experts of the Agricultural Department to be at least 50 per cent. better, bringing the yield to 260,000,000 bushels.

Reasonable restrictions, with a mixture of rye and corn meal, will further eke out the food supply, in the opinion of the Revictualing Department, so that France may virtually be independent with regard to breadstuffs for the year beginning next August. Last year it cost 3,067,000,000 francs to keep the people supplied with bread. The most the Revictualing Minister expects to pay next year is 1,250,000,000 francs.

The devastated regions, where there are still little more than temporarily roofed ruins and hastily thrown up shacks to shelter the population, furnish two-thirds of the increased seeding, with 500,000 acres more of wheat than a year ago and 1,000,000 acres more of all grain crops. They compare favorably with the best of France's wheat growing country, contrary to pesimistic opinions regarding recovery of the trench-lacerated and shell-plowed land.

American traction implements had their share in the reclamation, for most of the seeding of Northern France was accomplished through their use.

France will this year, for the first time since 1914, have grown a crop of flax approaching the pre-war production. he regions in the north, which furnish the bulk of the crop and which were in the war zone or the hands of the enemy, have largely been seeded again with excellent chances of a better crop per acre than has been known in years.

HUNDRED JEWS LEAVE CITY FOR PALESTINE

TORONTO, June 17.—The departure of nearly one hundred Jews from the Union Station last night with destination for Palestine was the first of its kind under the repatriation scheme of the Zionist Movement since Great Britain has accepted the protectorate of the Holy Land and given the Hebrews of all countries free access to the land of their forefathers. Some of the men who departed last night said that they went only to investigate conditions over there, and that their women would likely follow later if conditions proved favorable. The men who go out "to spy the land," as in the days of Joshua, will travel by way of New York to the Mediterranean and the port of Jaffa.

UNMARRIED CHURCHMEN WOULD RAISE MARRIAGE FEE

CALGARY, June 17. — Marriage fees should be increased, according to Rev. Dr. Harrison of Banff, and the publishing of banns be enforced to prevent easy marriages, and for the protection of young women. A resolution to this effect was presented at the session of the Anglican Synod now in session here, and followed by a lively discussion, in which both the clergy and laity took part. Most of those speaking for the resolution, which was lost, were single men.

URGE WORKERS GETTING BACK THEIR OLD JOBS

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Restoration of striking marine and railroad workers to their old jobs was recommended to the United States Interstate Commerce Commission, as a means of allevisting freight congestion. The recommendation was made by James Reilly, of the International Coastwise Longshoremens Association; T. B. Healey of the Marine Workers' Union of New York, and Frank Boland, Jersey City, who spoke for striking railroad employees of New York and other cities.

ACIDS IN STOMACH MAKE FOOD SOUR

CAUSE INDIGESTION

"Experience has taught me that most people who complain of stomach trouble and indigestion possess stomachs that are perfectly healthy and normal," says a well-known authority. The real trouble, which causes the sourness, gas and pain, is excessive acid in the stomach. This acid irritates the delicate stomach lining, sours and ferments the food before the point of digestion is reached.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases. They give only temporary relief, do not correct the cause and often do great harm. A better plan, if you suffer after eating, is to drink a glass of hot Magnesia water made from a teaspoonful or four tablets of pure Bisurated Magnesia, which can be obtained from any reliable druggist. This instantly neutralises the acid, sweetens the stomach, and your meal digests naturally without pain. Try this for a few weeks and see if your stomach does not feel one hundred per cent. better.

HEARST'S YELLOW PAPERS RESPONSIBLE FOR DEFEAT OF GEN. LEONARD WOOD

G. C. SELLS, CAMPAIGN MANAGER OF DEFEATED PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE, VISITOR IN LONDON, TELLS OF METHODS USED TO DEFEAT WOOD—DENIES NEW YORK STORY—SAYS BUTLER IS "SORE."

LONDON, June 18.—Hearst and his "yellow" journalists and not financial backing by crooked business men, was responsible for the defeat of General Leonard Wood at the Republican convention, according to G. C. Sells, of Johnson City, Tennessee, who represented the Republican nominee before the national committee in Chicago, and who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McGuire, 799 Hellmuth avenue, this city.

The charges that "a motley group of stock gamblers, oil and mining promoters, munition workers, and other like persons, seized upon so good a man as General Wood, and with reckless audacity started out to buy him the presidential nomination," made by Murray Butler, an unsuccessful Republican candidate, were the result of soreness caused by his own defeat, Mr. Sells said.

"A large percentage of the money for General Wood's campaign was put up by a personal friend of his, Gen. W. H. Proctor, a millionaire, a member of the soap firm of Proctor & Gamble. The additional amount was subscribed by a few friends.

A Large Amount.

"It was an unusually large amount, but it was not raised for the purpose of debauching the electorate. It was for advertising and paying of men employed in the campaign. The men who started out for Wood were practical business men. They were not politicians, and were accustomed to pay for everything they got. Gen. Wood himself was not a politician.

"His supporters were not of the class that Butler charged they were. On the contrary, they were the very best class of Americans.

"They did not have anything to do with politics before. The average American is not accustomed to take pay for his services in a political campaign.

Mr. Sells' brother, S. R. Sells, also of Tennessee, is political manager for Gen. Wood in his home state. Frank H. Hitchcock, of New York, who has held the position of postmaster-general of the United States, came in later as a manager.

"I think unquestionably that Gen. Wood would have won had it not been for the 'yellow' journalists. The Republicans were afraid to select him because the Democrats might take up the cry of Hearst that he was being backed by crooked financial men. He was unquestionably the strongest man of the race.

"He was regarded as the best military man in the country and it was thought that he would lead the American Expeditionary Force in France. President Wilson, however, refused to send him for fear he would come back a hero. He only wanted those of his own party to get the glory.

"Hearst supported Hiram Johnson, because, like himself, he was a pacifist. Out of the 983 votes cast, Johnson got 148½. This vote represents the 'Red' element.

"Lowden had a strong financial backing. His wife was the only heir to the Pullman millions."

Mr. Sells was sure that the Republicans would unite behind Senator C. C. Harding, the choice of the national convention at Chicago.

Safe and Sane.

"Harding is a safe and sane man," he said. "He is a self-made man and was a poor boy. His home town is Marion, Ohio, a place of about 35,000 population. His term in the Senate expires next March.

"His father was a physician. Harding is self-educated, and began his business career a as 'devil' in a newspaper office in Marion. In 1888 his father bought him a plant and he became the editor. He was a senator in Ohio for two or three terms."

Talking about the Hearst papers, he said, "I see you have barred them from your country. I wish that we could bar them from ours." The real American, he said has no use for them.

He attributed the story of the burning by women of a Union Jack in Washington to "yellow" journalism. "They would just as soon have burned the American flag. The American people were very bitter towards them for that act. Those women were a crowd of crazy suffragettes and have no backing."

Mr. Sells arrived here a few days ago from Chicago. He attended the convention. Governor W. B. Hooper of Tennessee worked in conjunction with Mr. Sells for ten days during the contests for Georgia and South Carolina before the national committee.

LONDON A BOOM TOWN

Talk about New York's taking first place as a great world centre away from London has proved to be false, in the opinion of a writer in The London Daily Mail. The English city was never busier or more of a magnet for the world and his wife, he says. Asiatic interests have grown particularly, together with Asiatic visitors.

"There is a bigger rush of new population to London at the present time than to any city in any 'boom' period in the known historyof the world," he says. "Many of the newcomers mean to settle down and stay.

"We hear much of the American invasion. It bids fair to be rivaled by the Oriental invasion, the Dominions invasion, and the coming of the Continentals.

"The reasons for this rush are many. London has, since the war, become the focus of the world. It is here that the fate of nations is now settled. If you have a new crusade to launch ,a new religion to preach, an ancient nation to save from tyranny, or a reform to advocate, London is the starting place.

"New York City thought a year ago that she had wrested our financial and commercial supremacy from us; New York has since learned her mistake. Paris retains her charm; but men believe that the clouds are gathering there and the storm may burst. In London the social barometer marks 'set fair.'

"Business men from overseas are pouring in because they realize that London to-day is the world's 'boom' city. There is, for example, more land speculation going on here at present than in the wildest Western city at the height of the wildest Western boom.

"One man only a few days ago was offered £200,000 profit on a single real estate deal in West London and refused it. Fortunes are being made here overnight. The rises in value are not all illusory either. If the present rush means anything, it means that within ten years London will be a city of ten million people. That will automatically send central site values up by at least 50 per cent.

"It is now possible for Asiatics to come here in big numbers for the first time in their history. London has for two centuries been the Mecca of the East, but poverty made the Oriental view it from afar. Thanks to the war, the economic position of Asia has been transformed. Eight hundred million people have found their wages and prices trebled almost in a day and their products in overwhelming demand.

"This is one of the most vitally important events in recent history. One of its secondary results has been to enable large numbers of Asiatics to come to their dream city, London. We shall have an Oriental quarter here, as San Francisco and Victoria have; the poor Oriental who accompanies the rich will settle among us, and the Chinese servant will be a familiar figure.

"The Americans are coming here for varied reasons, some for pleasure, some to escape prohibition, some to be near the graves of their sons who fell in the war. American business men have discovered that almost the only way to tackle trade in Europe is to start establishing an English branch with financial and administrative headquarters in London.

"The holiday makers are coming from the ends of the world by the scores of thousands, because the world has discovered that London to-day is the most delightful city on earth. Other cities charm on the surface but disappoint beneath. But men of East and West alike find that the more they know of London the better they like it. No where can one find such varied interests to absorb one.

"London is supreme again, Mistress of the World. The coming of the great army of new settlers among us is going to make certain profound changes in our lives and great differences in the external aspect of London. What some of these changes will probably be must be a matter for separate description."

To the memory of forty-six members of the parish who lost their lives in the war, a tablet has been dedicated in St. Columbia's Church, Ranelagh, by the Archbishop of Dublin.

"MAN O' WAR'S" SPEED

The remarkable performance of Man o' War in the Belmont Stakes Saturday, when he set a new world's record for a mile and three furlongs, has raised among horsemen and racegoers the question of how fast this son of Fair Play can run if fully extended. Although he has already lowered the American mark for a mile in competition and set a new world's record for a mile and three furlongs, he has not been extended. He has not been touched with a whip or urged to do his best, there not having been any reason to put him to the test.

It is no longer possible to provide a contest for Man o' War among horses of his age. He outclasses the best of the other three-year-olds so far that only a ridiculous weight arrangement could bring him to even terms with one of these, and a defeat of this great horse under a weight adjustment would not meet with public approval. The interest, therefore, turns to what he may accomplish in the way of setting new records for the various distances, accompanied by a general desire to see him do his level best.

There seems to be no doubt that he is a superhorse, such as horsemen have so long dreamed of breeding and bringing to the races. He has all the qualities of greatness and no faults. He is probably as nearly perfect as it is possible for a horse to be. He is not only a great sprinter but he appears to be able to go any distance that horses are required to run in this country. A mile and three furlongs is the longest jaunt he has yet tried but he finished it galloping and seemed ready to go on, despite the fact that he had set a world's record. If put to a drive, he might give an exhibition that would absolutely dazzle the racing world.

Though Man o' War's greatness was recognized while he was a juvenile, he has come out a vastly improved horse as a three-year-old. He far more clearly outclasses the horses of his age now than he did when they were his rivals in the two-year-old division. He has grown to be an exceptionally large colt, and he has a tremendous stride. He goes over the ground as if he were possessed of wings. He shows no effort in his running. He seems to get into his stride in a single bound from the barrier, for he is always a length or two in front after going fifty feet and he appears merely to gallop playfully while other horses strain to catch him. So far his races have been mere canters, despite the amazing speed developed and not even his trainer and owner know how fast he can run.

LITTLE GIRL KILLED RUN DOWN BY AUTO

SARNIA, June 17.—While coming to the Sarnia-London lacrosse match a motor car with the referee and visitors from St. Mary's struck and instantly killed the six-year-old daughter of William Griffin, on the London gravel road, about nine miles out of Sarnia, at noon to-day.

According to eye-witnesses of the accident, the little girl along with other children had jumped out of a standing motor, and running behind it they ran directly into the machine from St. Mary's. Before the car could be brought to a standstill the little Griffin girl was hurled to the roadway, with the result that she died shortly afterwards from the injuries she received.

The car stopped within its own length. Corner McDonald of Sarnia was called, and after investigating considered an inquest unnecessary.

GUARDIAN PUBLISHES A CANADIAN NUMBER

Sir George Foster Issues Message—Editorial Praise for Dominion.

LONDON, June 18.— The Manchester Guardian has published a special Canadian number containing a message from Sir George Foster. He says:

"Canada welcomes every intimation of a renewal of interest and enterprise as displayed in the press and the business community of the Motherland in reference to overseas possibilities of which they have too long been neglectful."

The Guardian editorially says that nobody acquainted with the temper and aspect of the Dominion since the war can fail to partake of her optimism nor, at the same time, fail to be impressed with the welcome moderation and sanity that characterize it. There is no trace of the excessive booming so dangerous to her reputation in pre-war years, it says.

Continuing the Guardian says: "On the contrary, both provincial and Federal Governments together with such responsible bodies as the United Farmers, are showing genuine anxiety to secure that investor and immigrant are given reliable facts and figures and that the operations of the speculator shall be discouraged. Throughout the Dominion there is manifest an anxiety to be done with machine politics, the rule of the interests and the pull of the lobbyist. Never indeed in her history has Canada been a more attractive land to the immigrant with political ideals."

RETAILERS INVITED TO AID IN FIGHTING ILLEGAL TRAFFIC

Barrister F. W. Wilson Says Civil and Criminal Cases Excessive.

WINDSOR, June 18. — Declaring the number of civil and criminal cases in Essex County Court in excess of those of any other jurisdiction of its kind in the province of Ontario, with the exception of Toronto and York County, Barrister F. W. Wilson, addressing the Retail Merchants' Association of Windsor in the general session urged that vigorous measures be taken to stamp out the illicit liquor traffic being conducted on the border.

He referred to the number of alleged bootleggers who were driving around in fine new automobiles, purchased on the proceeds of liquor sales. He also urged establishment of county jail farms to replace the closed cells now in use, as an economic measure, and declared the county jail at Sandwich was crowded to capacity at all times with violators of the Ontario Temperance Act, and other outlaws who might be self-sustaining and made safer for society if sent to prison farms.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

ECHOES OF PETERBORO HISTORY

(By Parker Smith, Cobourg.)

The present is here, the past is gone forever. The future we know but little about, but sometimes it is a bit interesting to take a look back over the past, and it is with that in view I start to write this story. Seventy-two years ago on the first day of May I started to go to school. The school house was a small plain affair with just pine seats and desks with neither paint or polish, with a row of benches around the wall for the small scholars to sit on, the larger ones had the seats with desks. The country schools were large then, especially in the winter when the larger scholars were coming. As many as sixty or seventy boys and girls were crowded in the small school house. You can imagine what kind of a time a teacher would have to instruct and keep order with a bunch like that.

There were then in the country about three families to every one there is now, and it seemed as if nearly all had some children of school age.

There were nearly all male teachers then and they used the birch very very freely. The appeared to think that to make their teachings thorough and permanent it had to be accompanied with plenty of birch. Among the boys and girls going to school then were Billy Maher's mother, the Leonard boys father, Alexander Pratt, Charles Ward, Mrs. Alexander Carley, with brothers and sisters, the Stotts, Harpers, Baptists, Sevans and Smiths.

When Chancellor Burwash Taught.

Among the teachers were Nathaniel Burwash and John from Baltimore. As soon as I was old enough to be of much use on the farm I had to stay home and work in the summer time and go to school in the winter so my education was rather limited, as no doubt you have already observed. Now in the way of pleasant enjoyment for the young people there was no limit, with spelling schools, singing schools, debating schools, parties, dances and best of all sleigh riding parties, as I have good reason to remember. My father allowed me more privileges than some other boys, and I had horses and sleighs whenever I wanted them. We would invite about fifteen or twenty young people for a surprise party. Sometimes it would call for several miles of a drive. The girls would bring their baskets filled with good things. We would drive to some home where we knew that we would be welcome and have a good time, and in all cases we were not disappointed.

Earlier Country Life.

We will now turn to some other scenes of early life. (Some of this was before my time.) My father and uncle came to this country when it was quite new. They put up a shanty, chopped fallow all summer and did their own cooking. In the fall they went back to their home in Loborough Tp. about twenty miles from Kingston. The next spring my father, grandmother and two uncles came to Cobourg by boat from Kingston, bringing a yoke of oxen, two cows and their furniture and a year's provisions. They put up a very respectable log house, one story and a half high, so by the time winter came they were quite comfortable. A great many people today have very little idea what it means to chop burn and clear the forest of heavy timbers, but the early settlers of these hastily cleared lands grew fine crops of wheat, oats, hay and potatoes of the very best, and other vegetables on this new land. Farmers then did not work on the six or eight hour system. We had to cradle the grain and bind it by hand and mow with a scythe. I have good reason to know all about it. After a number of years the reaper, the mower, the horse rake and horse fork came along and we thought we were fixed up pretty good. But now with a seven or eight-foot-cut binder with sheaf carrier, with a six-foot-cut mower, wide sulky rakes, hay loaders with horse forks and slings and many conveniences, that farmers did not have in my young days. They are certainly well fixed.

I will take the reader back to my young days again. In the log house where I and some of my brothers were born, the cooking and baking had to be done at the old fireplace. Some might think it very unhandy, but our mothers got along with it very nicely. After a while we got a cook-stove. It was about the first that came in the neighborhood and coal oil lamps came in then too. That was about the time that matches came into general use also. They made all the candles they wanted, and all the soap, both hard and soft, in the home too.

The Sugar Season.

They made also all the maple sugar, maple syrup and vinegar enough to last through the entire year. The sugar season was sometimes a very enjoyable time. We had a good sugar bush although we did not have all the conveniences that are now used in this work. After tapping the trees and getting the sap we would do the boiling down in the woods. Some nights when we were sugaring off some of the neighbouring boys and girls would come and have a taffy pull and a general good time. It brings pleasant memories of the past when I think of the big pile of cakes of maple sugar and the crocks and tons of maple syrup in our home, enough to last a whole year.

Lots of Young People.

To give some idea of the number of young people in the neighbourhood, in the year 1866 my father built a fine brick house, and we boys thought that we should have a party. We asked father and mother and they said yes, as large as you like, so on New Year's Eve we had the party, and there were present over seventy-five of the young people of the neighbourhood in age from seventeen to twenty-four. Any person who says we did not have a good time could not have been there.

From Field to Oven in a Few Hours.

As I am writing of incidents of my young days, I will relate this: We run short of flour in the house. We had a nice field of wheat that was in stock fine and dry. One morning father and I drew in a small load of wheat, threshed some with flails, put it through the mills, put two bushels in a bag, took it to the old red mill at Baltimore, got it ground into flour, brought it home, and mother had some of it baked for dinner.

When King Edward Visited Cobourg.

In the year of 1860, the Prince of Wales, afterwards King Edward the 7th, visited Canada and it was my privilege to be in Cobourg and see him. They had a platform in front of the town hall for the Prince and his suite and a number of the town officials, where addresses were given, and replies made, and then, a grand ball in the Opera House that night. The town hall was nearly new then. After the ball the Prince was taken to the residence the Honorable Sidney Smith, then Postmaster General of Canada, now the residence of Miss Tracey. The next day he went to Peterborough on the old Cobourg and Peterborough Railroad. The bridge across Rice Lake was condemned at that time, and the Duke of Newcastle, who was Master of Ceremonies, would not allow the Prince to cross on the bridge and he went across in boat. The train made the trip all right, and the party boarded an other [illegible] of the lake for Peterborough.

Lieut. Podd- Principle Mess.

Some time in 1864 I joined Colonel Boulton's troop, the Prince of Wales Dragoon Guards, with Roddy Pringle lieutenant and P. Regon ensign of a troop of sixty-five men. There are not many left living today. In June of 1866, the time of the Fenian Raid, the Fenians came over at Ridgeway on the shore of Lake Erie. They were soon routed but not until some of our boys were killed. There were a larger number of Fenians killed and some taken prisoners. I was at the funeral of seven of the boys of the Queen's Own Regiment. On the day of the funeral our troop was chosen as an escort. We rode in pairs on each side of the band of the Forty-fifth Regiment, and the large truck with two spans of black horses that carried the dead. We marched from the drill shed to the place of burial with all the formality of a military funeral. The place was all in the rough then, just as nature left it. They were buried where now stands that beautiful monument in Queen's Park, Toronto. As we were on our way back we met a band of Fenian Prisoners on their way to Toronto jail. The guard of about twenty soldiers who had them in charge could not advance any further, the crowd of people was so great. The officer in charge asked Col. Bolton to form a square around them, which we did and forced our way through the crowd. We marched to the jail, the big iron doors swung open and the prisoners passed in. It was the last we saw of them. In the autumn of that year our troop and the other volunteer companies of Cobourg went to Thorold to put in our annual drill. For our services at that time the Government gave silver medals with our name and the name of our troop nicely engraved around the edge. Then after a while, the Government gave the Fenian Raid veterans who applied for it, a land grant of 160 acres in New Ontario. I have mine yet, but I never went to see it. Later they gave us each $100. If there is a young man who would like to go farming, why call around and I will sell reasonable. It is located in the Township of Purdam, about seventy miles this side of Port Arthur. The Nipigon River runs through the township and also the C.N.R., but I had better not say any more about it or the editor will bill me for advertising.

I was at the execution of Dr. King at the old jail, the only man ever hanged in these United Counties.

I remember when the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway was built. I saw them driving piles in Rice Lake to build the bridge on.

I remember when the Town Hall was built and also the G.T.R. All these things that I have written happened 50, 60, 70 and 80 years ago.

April 5, 1920.

SARNIA HOSPITAL IS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

SARNIA, June 17.—Crippled by the fact that its truck is away for repair, the local fire department was called upon during the heavy thunderstorm here to respond to four almost simultaneous alarms.

The first, a call from the general hospital, was from the serious possibilities attending a fire in such an institution, perhaps the most serious. The fire was caused by lightning, which ignited the roof on the north side of the building. The firemen, by good work, were able to confine the blaze to the roof, which was considerably damaged.

Although there were fifty patients in the building, no undue excitement occurred, but as a precautionary measure plans were made for their removal in case of need.

While the firemen were fighting the flames at the hospital, a call was received from the home of William Farr, corner of Charlotte and Brock Streets, which was well alight when the firemen arrived.

Offered a Bribe.

OWEN SOUND, June 18.—D. J. Taylor, M.P.P., North Grey, stated yesterday that he had been offered a bribe of a thousand dollars three weeks after election.

INSPECTOR IN PETERBORO TO-DAY

WARNS AGAINST PRACTICE OF FEEDING GARBAGE TO HOGS.

Mr. A. Baker, Inspector of Health of Animal Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, is in Peterborough to-day on important business.

To an Examiner representative Mr. Baker referred to the ravages of hog cholera in the country due largely to the feeding of uncooked garbage to the animals. An Order-in-Council passed in April, 1915, prohibits feeding of colected garbage to swine unless permission is first received from the Veterinary Director-General. The maximum penalty for violation is $200. Statistics show that nine-tenths of hog cholera is caused by feeding uncooked garbage. Hogs destroyed for hog cholera in 1914, 34,779; compensation, $196,981; 1915, 34,470; compensation, $188,562; (Order-in-Council passed in April) 1916, 5,700; compensation, $33,695; 1917, 4,623, $30,497.98; 1918, 2,212; $13,031.20.

It has been found necessary to prosecute several parties for violating this Order-in-Council. Violations Mr. Baker says, have been reported in Lindsay and warnings will be given before prosecutions take place.

The Act.

The Animal Contagious Diseases Act requires the following:

The feeding of swine upon garbage or swill, either raw or cooked, obtained elsewhere than on the premises where fed, is prohibited, unless special permission in writing is first obtained from the Veterinary Diretor-Gecneral.

The law requires that feeders of collected garbage must have a license from the Veterinary Director-General (Regulations 88 3-4.)

Licenses are issued without charge to applicants whose premises have been inspected and approved by an inspector of the Health of Animals Branch of the (Federal) Department of Agriculture.

All licenses are required to cook the garbage before feeding to pigs. Small feders have been allowed to do this in open kettles; large feeders, having more than twelve pigs, are required to instal steam cookers; maintain their hogs in a clean, sanitary condition; to sell no hogs except for immediate slaughter and to notify the veterinary inspector if sickness appears among their hogs.

Any person who violates any provision of this order shall incur the penalties prescribed by the Animal Contagious Diseases Act.

Mr. Baker states that the only men in Peterboro authorized by permit to feed garbage to hogs under the conditions required, are Messrs. Carroll, Wheeler, Dale and Healey. Others who feed garbage to hogs or give it out for feeding purposes are liable to a fine of two hundred dollars. Eating houses are included in this warning and unless the practise is stopped prosecution will follow.

NARROW ESCAPE AT RAILWAY CROSSING

A well-known business man of this city had a narrow escape last evening while crossing the C.P.R. tracks on Aylmer street. He had started to cross the tracks when a freight train backed down and only by a quick turn in an opposite direction was he able to miss the moving train. As it was, he escaped by about a foot.

This man believes the least the railwaymen can do when crossing tracks in the city is to place a light or a man to flag the train across the crossings.

Before driving his automobile over the tracks he slowed up and took the precaution to see if the way was clear. At this point there are three tracks, and he had crossed one of them when he discovered the freight train backing over the crossing.

SEVERAL CASES BUBONIC PLAGUE

(Canadian Press)

MEXICO CITY, June 18.—There have been 32 cases of bubonic plague with 22 fatalities, since the first outbreak of the disease at Vera Cruz on April 14, according to unofficial reports. During forty-eight hours ending last night no new cases of plague were reported.

LAST NIGHT'S DREAMS; WHAT THEY MEAN

DID YOU DREAM ABOUT THE OCEAN?

To look upon a calm, unruffled sea of dreams is accounted a most favorable omen and should a business man embark in a dream-ship and go sailing over placid ocean he will sail to the port of prosperity. In fact, there is no maritime venture which is warranted to result in such munificient returns as a cruise in a well-found dream-ship over a tranquil sea of slumber, if the mystics are to be believed. They stand ready to insure your phantom ship and cargo even if Lloyd's will not.

For lovers to embark in one of these ships of dreams and be wafted over the shining waves indicates for them an increase in affection, marriage, connubial bliss, children and good fortune. Merely to stand on shore and gaze out over a sea of dreams is, if the sea is calm, an omen of good luck, an indication of prosperity. And any dream of the sea denotes that you will shortly make a pleasant journey.

If, through your dreams, you hear the moaning of an angry sea upon the shore it is a sign that your life is lonely through your own fault—you are too much wrapped up in yourself; hold yourself too much aloof from your kind. If from the shore you gaze out upon an angry dream-sea the wise men say your enemies are talking about you—which is a way one's enemies have anyway, so it doesn't matter. To dream of sailing over a stormy sea is not a favorable omen, and if you are in danger of shipwreck your agents will try to cheat you and your debtors refuse to pay up. Should you happen to be in jail, however, the shipwreck of your dream-boat is a most auspicious thing—it indicates that you will speedily be released.

Most authorities agree that though your ship of dreams has "sails of silk and ropes of sendal such as gleam in magic lore," it is far better not to dream of the vessel's rigging. It would appear that the galleons of our slumbers do not like to be inspected as to their top-hamper.

If top-notch effort yields you no happiness there's something wrong either with you or your efforts. Sit down and do some analyzing.

PENALTY FOR CARRYING LARGE SUMS OUT OF FRANCE.

OTTAWA, June 17.—The Department of External Affairs directs the attention of those who purpose visiting France in the near future to the fact that the Republic still prohibits, under penalty of fine and imprisonment, any person leaving that country carrying more than one thousand francs.

The prohibition is modified in the case of foreign commercial travellers and allows them to take out, in addition, any sums that they may have deposited with the Customs authroties on entering the country.

FORTY-ONE SINN FEIN COURTS.

Canadian Press.

SUBURBAN ROAD COMMISSION REPORTED TO COUNTY COUNCIL

OUTLINED THE WORK THEY HAVE PLANNED, WHICH WILL BE BEGUN AT ONCE—QUESTION OF ASSUMING MAXIMUM MILEAGE DISCUSSED.

WIDER SWING BRIDGES

The Suburban Road Commission composed of Ald. Frank Whitehouse, chairman; Ernest Deyell, of Otonabee and Wiliam Brown, of Smith; made their first report to the County Council at the Thursday afternoon session.

"The first year will be the most difficult for us" Ald. Whitehouse stated, "but with the co-operation of the city and county we expect to make progress this summer."

The roads already selected for improvement were the Chemong, Lakefield on the west side of the river Warsaw, River road in Otonabee, the Monaghan road and the Norwood road. The Commission assumes the care of these roads in a radius of three miles each from the city. This makes a total of eighteen and the maximum extent by the Highways Act is twenty-seven miles.

Reeve Eason, of Otonabee, asked whether it wasn't preferrable for the Commission to designate all their roads at once, and County Clerk Elliot pointed out that it would be necessary for the Commission to provide the Department with a map of the roads they were undertaking.

Continuing, Mr. Eason said that the County had designated some of its roads so as to meet those in the suburban area and thus prevent neglected patches which would injure the effect of the combined efforts. He considered it advisable for the Commission to plan their work to the prescribed limit and then to proceed with the improvements. Thus the county and the Commisssion could coordinate their schemes and obtain the best possible result.

Although nothing definite was decided upon yesterday it was apparently understood that this extension would be carried out.

The Lakefield Road.

The Commission was assured of the assistance of the Utilities Commission in lessening the danger in the turn on the Lakefield road north of the waterworks. Trees on the city's property at that point would be removed thereby opening the view from each approach to the turn.

Ald. Whitehouse also stated that City Engineer Parsons condemned the bridge east of Curtis brothers' brickyard on the Warsaw road. One end was low, he said, and already a crack had developed.

Wider Swing Bridges.

Referring to the Otonabee side Ald. Whitehouse reported the Commission's recommendation that some representation should be made to the Government to have the section fo the bridge at the Locks widened. This might apply to other swing bridges. These sections were too narrow for traffic.

The work for the most part this year would be light, Ald. Whitehouse explained. Only the worst features would be improved in order that the general traffic qualities might be built up first. More detailed development would be undertaken later. A stretch of railing on the Chemong road would be repaired and put in proper condition.

Mr. Duncan McFarlane, the county's road superintendent was present with the Commission, which has already devoted considerable time to their new duties.

Ald. Whitehouse represents the city, Mr. Deyell the county and Mr. Brown was chosen by them as the third commissioner.

Appeal for Navy League.

Unreserved admiration and honest envy of the oratorical tablets of Chaplain the Rev. S. Boal were the immediate re action of his eloquent appeal for a grant of $3,000 to the Navy League of Canada.

Requests for contributions to various patriotic and charitabe funds had been heard to regularly at almost every session during the last four years that they had lost their novelty. The heights of oratory had been repeatedly scaled to impress the Council with the deserving features of one fund or another, but it remained for Rev. Mr. Boal to lead the members in a fervid flight to a new pinnacle where they groped in a rarified atmosphere and had to orientate individually and as a body to get back to the familiar ground of roads and bridges discussed in the prossaic terms of a County Council.

The return to the commonplace of routine after an address, which members said excelled anything they had ever heard in the precincts of the chamber, was not easily accomplished. Actually the Council seemed to have been bereft of words, but recovery to normal was hastened by Reeve Bullied's exclamation to Reeve Griffith after Mr. Boal retired, "Bill, we're no good!" Then after a pause, "I thought I was some talker but say, after listening to the chaplain boys, oh, boys, I simply won't be able to sleep tonight. He's got my nerves all unstrung."

The laughter that greeted this tribute to Mr. Boal's abilities expedited the resumption of ordinary procedure and freed the members from the spell that had been cast over them. But they won't soon forget the Rev. S. Boal and his persuasive and histrionic talents; and their appreciation of the work of the Merchant Marine so eloquently extolled was refreshed and brightened, if that were possible.

A Real Event.

Mr. Boal's address was an outstanding event of the session. Tall and robust with pleasing voice and fine gestures, and wearing the blue of the navy with brass buttons and other insignia of the senior service, Mr. Boal said he was the son of a farmer, but had run away to sea in his twelfth year. He was too small and was turned out of the recruiting office, but went back at fifteen and had spent most of his life up to his present age of sixty on the sea or with seamen.

At the opening of the war when a newly organized fleet of minesweepers had to be manned to keep clear the shipping routes and the lane to the Dardanelles, 50,000 men of the Merchant Marine volunteered for the dangerous work.

During the war the men of the Merchant Marine received only $15 a month. At the outset they promised Kitchener not to strike during the war and that compact was kept. Men who had been torpedoed as often as six times and were picked up by cruisers returned to port and promptly signed up again.

"There is a code of honour among seamen that exists among no other body of men in the world," said Rev. Mr. Boal.

Seventeen thousand men of the Merchant Marine were lost in the war, leaving 45,000 widows and orphans, and 23,000 men were disabled and are now under care. Great Britain lost 2,197 ships which, if spread out in single file, would extend from Peterboro to Belleville and from Belleville on to Napanee, and represented 9 1-2 million tons.

Rev. Mr. Boal spoke of the sinking of the Lusitania, on which 651 sailors were lost with the thousand odd passengers, also to the "Belgian Prince," whose crew were put on a German submarine which submerged beneath them leaving them to drown.

The Council's grant this year would not be sent overseas, but would be used for the dependants of the men of the Canadian service of the Merchant Marine. Victoria, Leeds and Grenville, Lanark and other Councils had recently made grants, and Mr. Boal, referring to Peterboro's County's generosity to the seamen's dependents in the past, expressed his confidence that his appeal and the cause he represented would not be rejected. The Government had made provision for the dependents of the sailors of the navy but having loaned nine billions to her Allies during the war to assist them, the country could not undertake the care of the dependents of the Merchant Marine. Voluntary subscriptions throughout the Empire had been sufficient for the demands up to the present, but now that the war was over the public was urged not to forget their debt of gratitude to the men who had made possible the victory over the Hun. This appeal was referred to the Finance Committee.

NO LOSS SUFFERED.

Overseas Officers were all Bonded by the Government.

OTTAWA, June 16. — That his own personal investigation when sent by the Government to England in 1917 convinced him that the Canadian Pay and Record Office overseas was doing satisfactory work was the statement of E. D. Sutherland, the auditor-general, before the Public Accounts Committee to-day. Vouchers for all overseas accounts were, he believed, all in Ottawa now, and would be checked over in London before being sent here. Witness did not think any wrong would be found if the vouchers were re-examined. The pressure of current work prevented his staff from going over the vouchers.

The item before the committee was the $121,660,016.62 pay and other expenses of the C.E.F. overseas.

Witness, answering further questions, said the country would suffer no loss through defalcations by paymasters, because these men were bounded and guaranty companies had made good any losses.

WISH TO KNOW WHY ARMS OF OFFICERS WERE SEIZED

DUBLIN, June 16.—The removal of personal arms from the officers of an American ship which arrived at Dublin became the subject of inquiry by the United States Consular officials today. When the freighter Milwaukee Bridge arrived at Dublin recently the police took pistols from the captain and three other officers under pretext that a raid for arms by Sinn Feiners were feared.

It was pointed out that a ship, while in port, is amenable to local laws, but the United States officials want assurances that there is an apparent necessity for the seizure of arms in Irish ports.

BUILDING COSTS WERE LIGHT IN PETERBORO IN EARLY YEARS

INTERESTING ARTICLE DEALS WITH SOME OF THE EARLY CONSTRUCNTIO —A REMARKABLE DIFFERENCE—LABOUR CHEAP.

(By F. H. Dobbin.)

A profilic topic of conversation, argument and even wrangle, about the city where men do congregate is the remarkable difference in the tost of construction of dwellings and business buildings as compared with the costs of the past. These discussions are polemical and to those engaged, interesting, but they do not get us anywhere. That which really concerns is the cost now. Men who have to look into the subject leave it with misgivings. And it may be plainly put, for a little honest comment will not hurt, is that the men engaged in the putting up of structures have no illusions as to the present day charges for labor and materials. We are working on a fictituous set of scales, built up by the cost of living, and not on the value of the work and material and fixings. The painter shys away from paying his fellow workman, the bricklayer the day work charges, the painter man contemplates putting up a house. Likewise the bricklayer, and the carpenter, and the plasterer, all view the work of the plumber with fear and trembling. While the whole raft combine to denounce the man who holds the whip end, the supply of brick and other materials. So where do we land?

The Cost.

As a contribution to the discussion, and the facts are authentic, it may prove of interest to look at the cost, or at least a part of the cost, of putting up one of the buildings, now in use in the business section. It will afford an element of comparisons, if it serves no other purpose.

The stone built building on Simcoe street is a local landmark. It stands sturdy and weatherbeaten and still serving a useful purpose. A type of construction, now out of date so far as Peterborough is concerned, though the City of Guelph can show fifty just such structures on its front street. Kingston is full of them, coming down from over a hundred years ago. The type spells longevity and durability and laughs at the suggestion that paint and putty are needed.

It is useful to have the facts, so we have before us the original contract for the supply of materials, quaintly written and specified. Without one "whereas" or "said" or any other persiflage. Written by Elias Burnham, the first lawyer to hang out a shingle in Peterborough (1833), the document covers hardly one side of a half-sheet of foolscap. The building was erected by the enterprise of Richard Winch, Sr., father of Richard Winch of today (and other sons), of 296 Stewart street. The building has been known for so many years as the Phelan House, having been in occupancy by Edward Phelan for a long time. The date of the building being erected is 1849.

Store Building.

Mr. Winch carried on business as a meat merchant, selling to the general public and to others who had shops. His first business place stood on George street, about where Smith's shoe store now stands, but the Winch house and store was back from the frontage of the street and had a liberal space for garden attached. He decided to build and as there was no brick made in the locality, and as wood seemed not permanent, agreed to use stone. This stone was quarried from the bed of limestone at the corner (north-east corner) of Smith street and Monaghan Road. The crater left after stone getting operations ceased is the hole covered for some time by the tobaggan slide at Jackson Park.

Here is the specification: "Agreement between John Yates, of Peterborough, and Richard Winch, of the same place, for the finding of the materials for the building of a stone house for Richard Winch. The dimensions which is as follows, viz.: 43 ft. long by 30 ft. wide and 30 ft. high. All the cut stone required for the front and elsewhere, together with all of the building stone, also to furnish the lime for completing the building for the sum of £91, English currency I, John Yates, do promise to complete the same, (or cause it to be done) for the sum above specified, there being 14 windows and 5 doors."

Also the agreement specified: "For finding stones and lime for the kitchen, which is to be 41 ft. long by 18 ft. wide and 24 ft. high, with three thresholds of stone. I do agree to find the materials for the sum of £38, English currency, for completing the kitchen of the size specified, and it it be carried higher, I offer to furnish stone at 14 shillings per cord, and lime at six pence per bushel and if it is not carried so high the same shall be taken from the agreement, there being six windows and three doors."

The agreement is signed by Richard Winch and John Yates, and duly witnessed by Joseph Spenceley.

Computed at the rate of English money to the value of the dollar, decimal currency coming into use during the fifties of the last century, the total cost of materials as noted would be about $625.00. No reference is made to the cost of labor, but the standard wage was at $1.00 per day. The cost of the stone included the quarrying, teaming and delivery in the yard to rear of the building.

When completed the street floor was divided as now it appears. The half of the ground floor premises, (side next to George street) was leased to the first bank opened in Peterborough, the Commercial Bank, a branch of the parent bank at Toronto. Private banking had been carried on, in a way, by merchants in the town, but the first public bank began operations as noted. The western half of the ground floor was occupied by Mr. Winch for business purposes, and used as a meat market, up to the time that a local bylaw brought together all the meat vendors of the town and housed them in the market building, on Water street.

Lacked Bar-room.

The premises over the bank and store were leased as a hotel, a man named Perkins being the first tenant. Outside and inside stairs gave access to the kitchen. Perkins did not make a success of hotel keeping, largely because the premises did not provide the convenience of a bar-room. During the early fifties one Michael Sullivan became the tenant-hotel keeper In the meantime the bank had moved to its own premises, at the corner of Water and Hunter streets, (now with extensions, the Sun Life building). Mr. Winch carried his business to the Market House and Sullivan had the building to himself. We find him in 1858 as a licensee of the town, with the warranty to sell liquors, paying therefor the magnificient sum of $40.00 per year. He had good company, for there were thirty others who held similar licenses to sell liquors, and all at the same fees. Sullivan carried on the hotel with varying success. Further on the late Edward Phelan took the building and carried on for very many years what was possibly the best known and patronized public house and hotel of the town.

Some historical interest attaches to the old building as it was the scene of what was locally known as a "ruction," which took place on March 17th, 1863. A procession, under the auspices of the local St. Patrick's Society, was objected to on grounds that the procession was not properly decorated with the national flag and some other observances had not been taken. Those objecting, many from Cavan, and said to be of the "Cavan Blazers," with others, formed a counter demonstration and one or two personal and fistic encounters took place. Several combatants took refuge in the old stone hotel and the more excited of the demonstrators brought an old cannon, mounted on a bob-sleigh and threatened to demolish the building. The affray ended in an amicable manner, and the following evening the leaders of both parties met at dinner at the Caisse House and celebrated the 17th of Ould Ireland in royal style.

Wealth is not the real prize of life, it is only a trophy, a symbol, and may carry with it no satisfaction; indeed it does not carry with it genuine, lasting satisfaction unless it has been won fairly, honestly, honorably.

GOLD MEDAL FOR GOLDEN DEED

British Naval Officer Gains Humane Society's 1917 Medal for Rare Exhibition of Chivalry.

LONDON, June 17.—The Royal Humane Society's gold medal to 1917 has just been awarded to Naval Lieut. Aubrey A. D. Grey. The award is for the best deed during 1917 coming to the attention of the society.

The citation of his chivalry reads prosaicly as follows:

"During an action on December 12, 1917, Lieut. Grey jumped into the water to help Lieut. Walters, who was exhausted. And although himself badly wounded in the leg he swam with him for more than a quarter of a mile and placed him on a raft. The raft would only hold one man and when the rescuer saw that his added weight would endanger the man's safety he dropped back into the water and swam away with very little hope of being rescued. He was eventually picked up in an exhausted state by a German destroyer."

NEW QUICK ROUTE FOR COAL FROM U.S.

Say Weeks in Shipping Saved to Ontario if Brought Via Belleville

Belleville, Ont.—June 17.—Four days from the coal mines to Belleville and four days or less to any points in Ontario for shipment of coal is not a possibility, but a certainty and is being demonstrated. Four weeks from the coal fields of the United States to Canadian points is the rule rather than the exception, and the cheapness of the Belleville-Oswego international gateway bids fair to divert a large share of the Ontario traffic at least from the Buffalo gateway. Always slow route but now almost impenetrable on account of a fearful congestion of freight caused by strikes and other reasons. Belleville with its splendid government wharf and protected harbor in close proximity to Oswego, and Soldiers Point the great coal shipping ports, has a tremendous opportunity to become one of the greatest Canadian ports on the lakes.

Obvious Advantages.

The obvious advantages of an international freight and passenger route, with Belleville ad Oswego the pivots and harbor points, was first drawn attention to by Gus Porter K.C., member of the Dominion Parliament for Hastings, and Captain W. E. Schuster, two years with the Canadian forces in England in connection with transportation problems.

To-day the steam freighter Isabel H. unloaded a shipment of four hundred tons of coal which left the mines four days ago. This coal was loaded into cars on the government dock, and was this evening e route to Oshawa for delivery.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets

Assists Nature.

No medicine will effect a permanent cure of any disease, unless that cure is made by aiding nature to perform its functions regularly and properly. Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets is truly nature's remedy. It works hand in hand with nature in restoring the diseased organs to their natural condition and then keeping them regulated until they are able to take care of themselves. It is not remarkable, therefore, that the most troublesome diseases yield to the powerful influence exerted over the various organs by this most potent of all remedial agencies. Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets does not "build up the system," but it gives nature a chance to perform that work as it should be done.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets are put up in three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00 per box—for sale at Warne's Drug Store, Peterborough.

BELLEVILLE, June 17. — Tony Bovie, aged 25, of Frederickburg, a trackman in the employ of the Grand Trunk Railway, had a miraculous escape from death when he was struck by locomotive 1514 drawing the International Limited, westbound, and escaped with his left arm broken at the elbow joint. The accident happened at the first public crossing west of Fredericksburg, where the man was whitewashing cattle guards and fences. He did not hear the approach of the train, which struck him on the arm, breaking it. The train was stopped and Bovia picked up. First aid was administered by trainmen and the injured man taken to Dr. R. A. Leonard at Napanee, for attention. The train was in charge of Conductor J. Sutcliffe, Montreal, with W. Adamson, Belleville, as engineer.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

I love the words—perhaps because
When I was leaving mother,
Standing at last in solemn pause
We looked at one another.
And I—I saw in mother's eyes
The love she could not tell me,
A love eternal as the skies
Whatever fate befell me.

She put her arms about my neck
And soothed the pain of leaving,
And though her heart was like to break,
She spoke no word of greiving;
She let no tear bedim her eye
For fear that might distress me.
But kissing me, she said good-bye,
And asked our God to bless me.

But what of our friend, the critic? Yes, what of him? Which of the two would you rather be? Which of the two are you?

Say, young man, there is one thing you cannot do. You cannot make a success of life unless you work. Thousands have tried before you and all have failed, so get busy.

Don't waste time "crying over spilled milk." What is past is past and no amount of regretting will change it. Learn by your mistakes and turn them into future profit.

Get the whine out of your voice or it will stop the development and growth of your body. It will narrow and shrink your mind. It will drive away your friends; it will make you unpopular. Quit your whining; brace up; go to work; be something; stand for something; fill your place in the world. There is nothing the matter with you. Just quit your whining and go to work.

Many young men seem to think that as long as their business life is above reproach, they can do as they please with their private life, and still have success in business and the respect of their business associates. This is never true in the small town. It may be true to some extent in the city, but even there an immoral private life soon makes itself felt in the busines world. A man cannot touch pitch and not be defiled.

* * *

A few men and more women can be happy idle when they are single but once you marry them to each other they have got to find work or they will find trouble. You can walk three blocks to the store or office in the morning and find happiness at the end of the trip, but you may chase it all around the world in a steam yacht without catching up with it. A woman can find fun from the basement to the attic of her own house, but give her a license to gad the streets and she'll be discontented. There is always an idle woman or an idle man in every divorce case. When the man earns the bread by the sweat of his brow, it is right that the woman should perspire a little in baking it.

In ye olden times "before the war" it was the rule that well-bred girls never talked loud in public places. But now—well enough said.

The best rule for good manners is to act unselfishly. If you always try to think of others before yourself and what their pleasure may be, even in the smallest things, your manners will not be far wrong.

Parents who become impatient with their children because of certain bad traits, should bear in mind that they are largely responsible for these very traits, whether inherited or acquired.

We recently saw one of our citizens going home with a small basket of fruit. A few evenings later we passed him again and he had a small package of candy. On both occasions we were walknig with the same gentleman who remarked to us that the man with the candy was a good fellow, but blew in all he made foolishly. We merely smiled in reply, but could not help, in our own mind, as we walked along, drawing a contrast between the two men. One was smoking a cigar that cost as much as the candy. Burning into ashes and blowing out into the air the money the other spent for nicknacks that brought a smile of happiness to the cheek he once thought so rosy, and gladdened the eyes that still sparkled like a thousand diamonds with their tell-tale love for him; carrying home, one by one, the sweetest memories of life, building evening after evening an image in a little heart of "Home Sweet Home" that no time nor trouble can erase. Nourishing and kindling a new love that would in old age look back to those happy homecomings and bless his memory as "the dearest that ever lived."

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

WAS SURPRISE OF HIS LIFE, HE SAYS

WAS SICK MAN FOR TWO YEARS BUT TANLAC SOON ROUTED HIS TROUBLES.

"It gave me the surprise of my life when, after being a sick man for two years, I was almost suddenly changed into a well man as the result of taking Tanlac," was the statement made by Wilfred Helieche, an employee of the Dominion Car and Foundry Ltd., to a special Tanlac representative who called at his home, 151 Palm avenue, Montreal, recently.

"Chronic indigestion was my trouble. After every meal my food would repeat and often I couldn't retain it. I got so that I was almost afraid to eat at all because of the disagreeable feeling afterwards. I had no appetite to speak of and consequently had a bad, sour taste in my mouth. I had terrible headaches that got me here in the forehead and temples and pained me so that I lost whole night's of sleep. Any little extra exertion caused me shortness of breath and my heart would thump like I was mad. I also had such rheumatic pains in my left elbow that at times I was unable to move my arm. I can assure you I was in a very bad state.

"It was what I read in the papers about other folk getting help from Tanlac that led me to give it a trial. The first thing it did was to sharpen my appetite so that I was keen on my food. I began to eat as I had not done for a couple of years past and what is more, my food agreed with me. I lost that bad, sour taste in my mouth and also all signs of headache. The rheumatism has entirely disappeared and I sleep so well now that I am in danger of oversleeping myself. This medicine has simply made a new man of me and I'm glad of the opportunity to be able to tell others, because I'm confident it will do the same for them."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corner by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

SUGAR SOLD TO BROKER INSTEAD OF RETAILERS

TORONTO, June 17.—At the inquiry by the Board of Commerce here into the question of sugar sales by wholesale grocers, it was brought out in evilence that sugar was sold in large quantities to Robert Anderson, a Montreal broker. They found they could do business to greater advantages in this way, and so neglected the retail trading customers. One lot of sugar, 150,000 pounds, was bought by John Garvey & Sons of London, according to Leigh Garvey's evidence, for $19.16, less 5 per cent. This was later sold to Anderson at $20, and he sold it in British Columbia for $22 per cwt.

Present conditions of the sugar market are due to speculation and gambling, commented Commissioner Murdock. The sugar did not remain in Ontario to relieve the wants of consumers.

J. A. G. Craig of Warren Bros., Toronto, said they sold 200,000 pounds of yellow sugar at $15.75 a hundred to Anderson, and he sold it for $18.71.

The W. G. Sutton Company also admitted making sales to Wallace Anderson, a brother of the Montreal broker. F. C. Armstrong, of the Armstrong Pafford Company, Toronto, admitted large sales to Anderson. He said that his firm had never before made sales to a broker, and said it had been done because the price paid by the brokers was high. Frank Fearman of Hamilton said they had sold 40,000 pounds to Anderson at a profit of 60 cents per hundred pounds.

Thomas H. Kinnear said he had made a loss on sale to Anderson. Wallace Anderson, grocers' broker and agent, a brother of Robert, the Montreal broker, was called. He gave a list of his sales. W. E. McMurchy of Grocers' Limited, said he sold 10,000 pounds to Robert Anderson for $22 bought at $10.50, and 30,000 pounds of yellow at a good profit.

Samuel Weinstein sold a car of 40,000 pounds to Anderson in Montreal at a profit of 5 1-2c a pound, without opening the car.

The charges against H. P. Eckhardt & Co., Toronto, which were opened here, will be continued in Ottawa before Mr. O'Connor if the latter does not arrive here.

PREDICT $2.50 SHOES IN NEAR FUTURE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla, June 17.—Hide dealers declare the bottom has fallen out of the hide and wool markets and are predicting $2.50 shoes within the near future.

Green salted hides which were selling for 18 cents a pound recently dropped to 12. N. B. LaBryer, manager of a hide company here, says the price will go lower, adding that the same condition exists in all the markets of the country. Calf hides which six months ago brought a dollar a pound have been offered lately at 25 cents. Mr. LaBryer continued and then can get no buyer.

The decline in prices is due to the inability of tanners to ship their goods because of railway congestion and because of the fear of a credit stringency, Mr. LaBryer declared. Big stocks of high priced leather purchased several months ago are still on hand and they want to get rid of it before buying more. Mr. LaBryer also asserted that many tanneries have closed down entirely and others running half time.

The wool market shows an even worse state of demoralization according to Mr. LaBryer. Wool which a year ago ranged from fifty to fifty-five cents a pound now is virtually impossible to get twenty-five cents for, he states. The demand for wool is so slight, he said, that no dealers are making purchases except where they get an opportunity to buy at such low prices that they are willing to take a chance.

The recent attempt at the Wool Grower's Association to hold a wool sale at Enid, which was called off because there were no buyers, was cited by Mr. LaBryer as an illustration of the present day wool market situation. A single buyer offered 20 cents for the best grade of Shropshire wool if he could get a carload lot.

A cup or medal or other trophy is not the real prize the victor receives; the real prize, the real reward, is the satisfaction derived from superior, worthy achievement.

PRIESTS ORDERS LIGHTS PUT OUT

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 17.—A wedding ceremony in St. Louis Cathedral was postponed several hours here because the officiating priest, Father Antoine of the Order of Obate Fathers of Mary Immaculate, declared the bride was immodestly attired and violated a recent order of Archbishop Shaw of the Diocese of New Orleans relative to wearing apparel.

The priest declared the bride appeared to him "so shocking that he had the sexton put out the lights so that she might retire and properly clothe herself."

Although he declined to divulge the name of the bride, he declared she "wanted to fly in society style at her wedding much to her disgrace."

Everything had been prepared for the wedding, and the bridegroom was in the edifice. The altars were ablaze with candles, and the electric lights in every part of the ancient Cathedral were lighted. The bride started up the main aisle, but had not gone far before the priest viewed the gown, ordered the lights out and sent her home to assume other garments. The marriage ceremony then was conducted.

BANK DETECTS FORGED NOTES

EXTRA BILL MADE OUT OF EIGHT GENUINE ONES.

HAMILTON, June 17.—The Bank of Hamilton has possession of some $20 notes of the Bank of Hamilton which appeared to have been torn and fastened together in quite an innocent looking manner, but behind which lies a story of an ingenious attempt at fraud, balked at the bank.

On holding the notes up in front of a strong light it was seen that the two edges did not meet between the adhesive tape fastening them together, but there was a gap of about three quarters of an inch and it was demonstrated that by cutting the notes at different places and fastening them together in this manner, one extra note could be made out of seven or eight genuine ones. Contrary to expectation, the extra note would not consist of a number of strips three-quarters of an inch wide pasted together, which would at once excite suspicion, but would be made up of not more than two or three pieces by the process of moving the cut across the face of the bill, leaving a larger right han segment each time The space thus obtained at different parts of the bill would result, in the long run, in getting an extra bill out of those so operated upon.

The Bank of Toronto, the Bank of Montreal and Molsons Bank also report that notes have been presented to them which have been operated upon in the same manner.

It is, of course, the policy of the forger, to get these cashed for purchases from a merchant, and not to present them himself at a bank.

The public should be on the lookout for all bank notes which are joined together in this fashion by opaque paper, and remember that the banks only redeem in full notes where the pieces so joined comprise the whole of the note in question, and that some reduction is altogether likely to be made when they present the notes in question at the banks issuing them.

BOARD URGES ACTION AGAINST SHOE COMPANY

OTTAWA, June 17.—In a judgment signed by Commissioners W. F. O'Connor and James Murdock, the Board of Commerce finds Messrs. S. N. and K. N. Saba, trading as the Manhattan Shoe Company of Toronto, "guilty of n offense against Section 17 2) of the Combines and Fair Prices Act in that they sold to Robert Lachapelle a pair of shoes for $22, being a price higher than was reasonable and just; and the board directs K. N. and S. N. Saba and each of them to mark in plain and legibile figures on the sole of each pair of boots, shoes, slippers, pumps and other like articles which now are, or may hereafter for the space of twelve months from this date, be held for sale or offered for sale by them, or either of them, the price to the customer."

This case involves the purchase of a pair of shoes from the Manhattan Shoe Company on May 8, 1920, for $22.

Cost $9.25 at Factory.

At the hearing at Toronto on June 14 it was shown that the shoes in question cost $9.25 a pair at the factory, and that express, taxes and box for the shoes brought up the cost to the vendor, the Manhattan Shoe Company to $9.75, the shoes being thereupon marked up for sale at $14 a pair, but were actually sold to the complainant on May 8 for $22.

The judgment says: "The board accepts the offer made by counsel for the defendants of restitution of $22 on the shoes being returned to them, and directs that the defendant refund the $22 to the complainant and that restitution of the shoes to the defendant be made when the Attorney-General for Ontario shall no longer require the use of said shoes as an exhibit, but the board is unable to accept the further suggestion of counsel for the defendant that the matter be allowed to drop or rest there.

Offers Assistance.

"In the opinion of the board an offense has been committed against Part II. of the Combines and Fair Prices Act, and the board will forward to the Attorney-General for Ontario all necessary documents, together with a recommendation to the Attorney-General that the guilty parties be prosecuted. In the prosecution the board will do the utmost of its power to assist the Attorney-General if called upon to do so."

"The board," says the judgment, "has reason to believe that a practise exists in certain quarters of allowing clerks a percentage of the excess over the proper and ordinary price for shoes which they may be able to induce customers to pay. The board here and now generally forbids that practise. If any person are found permitting it the board will deal with them."

"The defendants, S. N. and K. N. Saba," the judgment states, "will pay the proper costs of the complainant to be taxed. As Mr. Lachapelle was represented by counsel for the board, the defendants will not be required to pay costs for any counsel for Mr. Lachapelle."

"VERY BAD CASE" SAYS MAGISTRATE

Adjourns Hearing of Charge Against Dr. Mason Pending His Appearance.

TORONTO, June 17.—Inspector Ayearst of the Provincial License Department was the principal witness in the Police Court yesterday against Dr. H. Mason, who failed to appear to answer to a charge of selling liquor. Crown Attorney Corley explained the case to Magistrate Kingsford. "He has been selling whiskey at $6 a bottle, maikng a profit not only as a doctor, but as a vendor."

The Chief License Inspector declared that Dr. Mason had informed him that he received $6 per bottle for the liquor which he disposed of. Asked by Crown Attorney Corley if the doctors had given any indication of the amount of business he did, Inspector Ayearst said: "He got between 59 and 60 gallons in one month and in part of another month twelve gallons. It had been going on for a considerable length of time."

After hearing the Inspector's evidence, Magistrate Kingsford passed the comment that it was "a very bad case." To permit of the appearance of Dr. Mason in court, adjournment was made until Friday. Frank J. Hughes, counsel for the absent doctor, pointed out to the Bench that physicians were covered by section 51 of the act, which limits the fine to one of between $50 and $300.

The more I see of rich men and the closer my insight into the workings of their minds and hearts, the more strongly convinced do I become that great wealth is no passport to happiness nor proof of true success.

NORMALITES ON EXCURSION TO-DAY

The Normal School Closed Yesterday —Results Later.

The Normal School closed yesterday and to-day the students have gone on their annual boat trip up the lakes, that marks the end of the school year, and the completion of the course required to go out and instruct young Canadians in the mysteries of reading writing and 'rithmetic.

The examinations have been for the last two weeks, and on July 1 it is expected the Normalites will know their fate.

The annual excursion is a long-looked for affair. Exams and books and the worries of school life are all forgotten in the one overwhelming desire to have a good time.

GERMAN ARTILLERY REACHES THE CITY

Three German guns that saw active service, and evidently hard service, during the war, arrived in the city yesterday on the C.P.R .from Toronto. These guns are presented to the city by the government. Two are 5.9's and the other one of the dear old "whizz-bangs." They are exactly the same as when captured and bear their original coat of camouflage.

Just what will be done with them has not yet been determined. They have been taken to the C.P.R. freight sheds at the station.

BUSINESS MEN HAD GOOD DAY

The picnickers left the city at 1:30 and upon arrival at Harwood some good live sports wereindulged in including a base ball match between the married and single men in which the single men came out ahead. A splendid dinner was served at the hotel and after passing a resolution of thanks to Mr. Frank Clarke for the ecellent music he provided and the committee Mr. F. Clarke, Mr. A. Elliott and Mr. Charles Banks for the efficnt manner in which they carried out the arrangements, the picnickers returned arriving in the city at 10 o'clock.

PARIS, June 18.—Y.M.C.C. investigators have found that more than 100,000 parcel post packages sent from the United States have been lying in French ports undelivered for months. This is largely due to the fact that France has no parcel post system, and such packages are handled as freight. The Y.M.C.A. authorities have suggested to the United States Post Office Department that an embargo be placed on packages to France.

After one of the most successful gatherings the order ever had the Woodmen of the World convention was concluded at 7 o'clock last evening. Numerous reports of committees were given early in the afternoon after which juvenile insurance was discussed pro and con. After a lengthy discussion on this most important question the matter of its adoption was left to the executive with power to act and it is expected that his will be adopted in the near future.

The following is the new executive elected:

Clair Jarvis, Head Council Commander by acclamation.

I. F. iMller, Head Advisory Lieutenant.

P. C. Hooper, Head Clerk by acclamation.

J. H. Saunders, Head Banker by acclamation.

J. B. Hoover who has been a member of the executive for the past 20 years handed in his resignation to the head council commander Mr. Hoover has recently suffered a severe loss in the death of his two son-in-laws, within a short period of each other.

The election of officers took considerable time. There were numerous nominations in the case of the head managers head escorts, head watchman and head sentry. Andrew Graham, the popular council commander of Sherwood Forest Camp, was elected Head Watchman after giving the successful candidates in some of the other offices a close contest. The Peterboro Camp is to be congratulated on electing a local officer to the executive. This is the first one to be on the executive in some years.

"I thank you for the confidence you have shown in me", said Clair Jarvis amid cheers when he was re-elected head council commander. He promised to give the same faithful attention to the work that he has shown in the past and he would try to make 1920 a record year in Woodcraft. "I ask for your cooperation to make Woodcraft what it should be—the strongest and foremost fraternal association in the Dominion.

Suitable replies were made by the retiring officers and the new officers all pledged themselves to do their best to advance the interests of the organization and to do this they called for the co-operation of all the members to make this objective a record year no pipe dream. Resolutions of thanks were passed to the press, the city council, the local reception committee, the local camp, members of the order and the citizens of Peterborough in general for their hospitality to the delegates. On behalf of the reception committee Mr. John Edgar replied. On behalf of the local camp Sovereign Edgar and Sovereign A. A. Hasiko replied Messages of condolence will be sent to several of the Woodmen who have recently sustained bereavement.

Sovereign Bert Lloyd of Toronto, delighted the Woodmen with several comic selections that were exceedingly well rendered and very much appreciated. The ceremony of the installation of the officers took place under Past Head Council Commander D Cinnamon of Lindsay The minutes of the session were read and confirmed and convention closed with singing of the National Anthem.

NOTES ON THE CONVENTION

The unavoidable absence of Sovereign C. C. Hoggins at the convention was a matter of regret to the officers and to the delegates as well as several of them said that it did not seem like a convention without I. F. Miller the former Head Escort has succeeded to his position.

R. J. Buckingham gave Andy Graham a race for Head Watchman honours but came out head again for sentry defeating five prominent wood men for the office

The members regretted J. B. Hoover's resignation after such a long service but his successor is a capable officer and with the other two veterans should be able ot carry on

THE THISTLES WON CLOSE GAME FROM THE G.W.V.A

LEAGUE LEADERS BEAT VETS 7 TO 6, PUSHING THE WINNING RUN OVER IN THE NINTH---MANY BRILLIANT FIELDING STUNTS FEATURE CITY LEAGUE FIXTURE.

The fans who are passing up the City League fixtures these nights are missing some mighty good ball. Last night the Thistles and G.W.V.A. teams staged one of the best games of the year, the League leaders finally squeezing out a victory after two extra innings had been played. The City League games are seven-inning affairs, but it was not until the ninth that the Thistles finally got the run that enabled them to win 7 to 6.

Scates pitched the first three innings for the Thistles, allowing the Vets only one hit during his period on the rubber, although the loose playing of the leaders allowed the G.W.V.A. outfit to hang up three runs.

Kirn took up the pitching task in the fourth, and before he settled down on the job the Vets got three runs on four hits and some weird fielding. For the rest of the game Kirn was invincible, allowing the losers only one hit in the last five innings.

The rally in the fourth gave the Vets three counters, and the lead by a score of 6 to 5, and the Thistles did not succeed in tieing the score until the seventh, when they pushed a run over. In the ninth with two out, Swanston's single sent Sheehy in with the winning run.

There was a lot of brilliant fielding, Harrison, Adams, Shaughnessy, Murphy, Foley, and Wade were all in the limelight, with nice fielding plays to their credit. Harrison contributed the two features—a one-handed pick-up of a lightning fast roller from Wade's bat, and a sensational catch of a fly from Murphy. The latter play robbed Murphy of a hit, as the ball looked to be dropping safe. Harrison, however, turned his back to the plate and sprinting out into right field, swung around at the right moment and speared the ball with his gloved hand. Shaughnessy saved the game for the Thistles in the eighth by a fine throw to the plate that cut off a run.

Another feature was the batting of Max Swanston, who had a perfect average with five hits in five trips to the plate.

In the first for the Vets Morse fouled to Swanston. Murphy went to second on Sheehy's bad toss to first and stole third. Head singled to left, scoring Murphy and going to second when Shaughnessy let the ball roll by him. Head stole third and scored when Sheehy fumbled Wade's grounder. Wade was forced at second, Murray to Holyman on Coursey's grass cutter and Legon flied to Adams.

For the Thistles, Adams lined to Jackson. Sheehy walked and stole second. Murray singled to right, sending Sheehy to third. Murray stole second. Swanston's single, on which Head made a nice stop, scored Sheehy. Murray came home on Harrison's long sacrifice fly to Legon. Shaughnessy singled over Foley's head, sending Swanston in. Holyman rolled to Foley.

In the second Foley flied to Harrison, Jackson fouled to Swanston and Lebarr fanned.

For the League leaders, Wilgar popped to Head, Scates fanned and Murphy tossed Adams out.

The Vets tied it up in their half of the third. Morse walked and stole second. Murphy flied to Shaughnessy. Morse went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Head's sacrifice fly to Adams. Wade also lifted to Adams.

In their half of the innings, the Thistles again flashed in front. After Sheehy had flied to Murphy, Murray walked. Swanston beat out a bunt, Murray going to third on the play. Harrison walked, filling the bases. Shaughnessy singled over second, scoring Murray and Swanston. Holyman flied to Murphy and Wilgar to Foley.

With Kirn pitching for the Thistles, the G.W.V.A. outfit took the lead in the fourth. Coursey scratched a single to second. Legon dropped a Texas Leaguer into left and Foley was safe on a roller along the third base line, filling the bases. At this stage the Thistles tried a little inside baseball with disastrous results, for on the first atempt Murray lost Swanston's throw and Coursey scored, and on the second Murray made a bad toss to Holyman and Legon registered, tieing the score. Jackson and Lebarr fanned, but Morse singled over second, scoring Foley and taking second on the throw in. Murphy flied to Adams.

The Thistles were easy, Kirn dying on a smash to Wade, Adams flying to Lebarr and Sheehy rolling to Wade.

In the fifth Head was thrown out by Murray. Harrison made a great one-handed stop of Wade's fast roller. Coursey was safe on Murray's fumble. Legon rolled to Murray.

For the Thistles Murray hoisted to Murphy, Swanston singled over second, Harrison singled through short. Shaughnessy hoisted to Wade and Murphy grabbed Shaughnessy's high one.

The sixth was also scoreless. For the Vets, Foley fanned. Murray missed Jackson's roller. Lebarr struck out. Sheehy dropped Morse's liner, but got the runner at first.

The Thistles did no better. Wilgar and Kirn fanned and Adams flied to Legon.

The Lebarr crew went out in order in the seventh. Murphy flied to Adams, Head struck out and Wade rolled to Holyman.

The Thistles tied it up in their half. Sheehy fanned. Murray beat out a bunt and stole second. Swanston singled to short, sending Murray to third. Swanston then stole second. Murray came home on Harrison's infield out. Murphy to Head. Shaughnessy lined to Foley.

In the eighth Coursey grounded to Harrison. Legon went to second on Sheehy's high throw to first. Foley singled between short and third and Leogn was out at the plate on a perfect throw by Shaughnessy. Jackson rolled to Kirn.

For Thistles, Holyman fanned, Turner flied to Murphy and Kirn struck out.

The Vets went out in order. Lebarr missed three. Morse was tossed out by Sheehy and Harrison made a sensational catch of Murphy's fly to short right.

The Thistles won out in their half. Adams popped to Wade in trying to bunt. Sheehy doubled to left centre. Lebarr and Legon getting their signals crossed. Murray rolled to Foley. Swanston, making his fifth hit in five times up, smashed a clear single over second and Sheehy trotted in with the winning run.

DE LAVAL BALL LEAGUE GAME

SCORE WAS FIVE TO ONE AT THE FINISH.

In the De Laval Baseball League fixture yesterday afternoon the office team defeated the creamery goods factory outfit 5-1.

The office boys had everything their own way from the beginning. Neary, in the box for the factory, was weak, as was also his support, and in the last of the game he was wild, giving several passes. Nevertheless, his team held the office all the time except in the fatal second, when the office pounded the ball all over the lot and brought in 5 tallies.

The factory had difficulty in fathoming Doughty's delivery and the support which the office field gave him was too much for them.

It looked like a whitewash until the last inning when the factory scored their run on a double error.

The score by innings was:
Office . . . . . 0 5 0 0 0—5
Factory . . . . . 0 0 0 0 1—1

Office—Doughty and McGee.

NORWOOD DEFEATED LAKEFIELD IN THE EAST PETERBORO BALL LEAGUE

NORWOOD PILED UP TEN RUNS IN ONE INNINGS—THE SCORE WAS 14-12.

Norwood's willow wielders, with the aid of George Heffernan's good right arm, threw a chill into the ranks of the Lakefield East Peterborough Leaguers yesterday afternoon at Lakefield, the visitors pulling out with a 14 to 12 victory. Norwood had one rousing innings in which they scored ten runs on seven singles, a double, three errors, a passed ball and a wild pitch. It cost Nelson his job on the mound, and Manning who took up the burden, stopped the fusilade.

Excitement was intense when Lakefield went to bat the last of the seventh. The home crowd had been "guying" the Norwood heaver all afternoon and as the game neared the end they went after him stronger. But he finished like a big leaguer. Hull was retired on a weak one to the box. Erskine singled. With Fitzgerald at bat, Erskine was caught trying to make second. Fitzgerald was passed and he stole. It looked promising for Lakefield, as Adams, the batter, had wafted out three long doubles. His best this time, however, was a drive to short and Kelly retired him on a nice throw.

Tie For Leadership.

Norwood's victory stopped Lakefield from a clear lead in the league race. Keene and Lakefield are tied with two wins and a loss.

Two umpires were used in the game yesterday, Dr. Gibson of Lakefield, caling the decisions at the plate, and Ollie Edwards of Norwood, watching the bases. The officials did good work.

Robson, first up for Norwood, was retired on a grounder to the pitcher. English fanned, but Watson doubled and made third when Fitzgerald allowed Adams' accurate throw to get through. Heffernan was thrown out by Nelson.

Lakefield got two runs without a hit, errors by the pitcher, catcher and shortstop, and Fitzgerald's infield out allowing the counters. Heffernan showed his wares by fanning Knox and Langley.

F. Andrews singled in the second and stole. He was thrown out at third. Coughlin also singled and made second and advanced on Heffernan's hit. Coughlin scored on Andrews' out at first and Kelly fouled to Nelson.

It was one, two, three for Lakefield. Manning fanned. The pitcher threw out Fairbairn and Nelson fanned.

Four hits in a row gave Norwood two runs in the third. After two were out, on nice fielding by Geo. Heffernan, Lakefield got a brace, giving them a lead of one run.

Norwood's Big Fourth.

The deluge came in the fourth when Norwood hit hard and gathered ten runs.

Lakefield came right back, the team batting from top to bottom and Manning appearing twice. Adams sandwiched in his second double here and it helped a lot. When the skirmish was over Lakefield had five runs.

Norwood failed to score in the fifth and sixth, but the homesters had better success, getting three in the sixth, thanks to a third double by Adams and a long single by Fairbairn, the latter driving in two runs. At the end of the frame Lakefield were only one run behind.

The seventh brought a tally for Norwood. English was walked and he stole. Watson's single moved him up. Geo. Heffernan fanned. On F. Andrews' hit, the play to the plate failed to get English. Then Lakefield pulled a double play, getting Coughlin at first and Andrews at third.

Heffernan held Lakefield safe in their half.

MEN WHO KNOW AVOID EXTRAVANCE

But They Get Quality

You know, and we know, that high prices prevail in the clothing market. Under these unusual conditions many men pay too little, while others pay too much. The one class can only see the price; while the other considers only quality. There is a happy medium.

LE BRUN'S BOYS' and MEN'S CLOTHING STORE strikes the right balance. They appeal to both kinds of men, because they satisfy in price and in quality.

The play opened at a fast pace with each team raiding the goal-keepers in turn Hotson was the first played to make things interesting by nice play on the right wing, Frost kicking to touch to clear. During the next five minutes there was no less than eleven "throw-ins" given down in the Caley's corner. McMillan changed the play mid-field and on the right wing of the Caley's McDonald was given a free punt into Fenner's goal, who made a nice clearance by touching the ball over the cross-bar.

Frost Saved a Goal.

The Caley's raided the C.G.E. defence many a time only to be defeated by the splendid defence of Mason and McDonald. On a visit to the Calgy's goal Hotson lashed ball across to Bartley who was too slow in accepting the pass, and on return play Cowie landed the ball into Fenner's goal at the far end. Frost caught the ball with his head in below the cross-bar to save a sure goal. A few minutes later Bartley tested Fenner with a fast drive from about ten yards out. The Caledonians right-winger got the ball for the first time and carried it into the C.G.E. goal, Mason clearing. McDonald again tested Fenner with a mid-air drop into goal for the Caley's goal-keeper too gave a corner kick that was fruitless. A nice pass up the wing by McDowall transferred the play into the C.G.E. area by Willshaw and Jas. Shaw who tested Naples for the first time.

Matt Shaw's Hard Luck.

Just afterwards Matt Shaw outwitted the two defence men by touching the ball forward too far ahead of him and running close upon it he was robbed of a certainty as the ball went behind. A break-away by Hotson and Bills made the Caley's defence work hard to clear. Even and interesting exchanges continued with each team trying their utmost to get the necessary goal. In their anxiety the players mis-kicked many a time when in a dangerous position. The Caledonians were pressing as half-time arrived—Caledonians 0, C. G. E. 0.

Half Time.

As soon as the whistle went the Caley's pressed and on the left wing R. Willshaw passed the ball back to Jas. Shaw to have a try at goal, but McDonald intervened. Hannah carried the play into the corner play and forced a corner-kick but the referee awarded a goal-kick.

Open Goal Missed

Immediately the players appealed and after consulting the linesman Collingwood (C.G.E.), the official in charge revoked his previous decision to a corner-kick. The outside right placed a beauty into goal where Turner headed out to mid-field. McMillan put across to Hannah who sent a ground shot along the front of goal, Jas. Shaw made an attempt to put through, then R. Willshaw repeated the same performance and let it miss the far upright. The Caledonians were having the most of the play during the first 15 minutes but were very weak in finishing. A chance came to Hotson to relieve the pressure but he hit the ball with his hand. From the foul-kick McMillan slipped a pass to Hannah who worked a corner-kick off McDonald. The corner-kick taken by Hannah was checked by Turner who shot it up to Gash who inturn slipped it to Bartley for McFeat to kick up the field. A foul against Jas. Shaw let McDonald have a free-kick up to Turner who was called up for offside.

Bartley Scored.

The result of nice combination brought Bills and Hotson into evidence. From the corner flag the C.G.E. wing man centred nicely to mid-field, J. Willshaw should have cleared but he gave Bartley ample time to steady himself and shooting weakly, was surprised to notice the ball roll through between Fenner's arm and the upright. The Caley's retaliated in great style. From a clearance by McDonald, Wag run in on J. Willshaw who missed his kick, the in side right gave Fenner no chance to save. At the other end Matt Shaw missed the upright by a few inches. An individual effort by Hardie was frustrated by Turner who stopped the ball on the goal-line as the Caley's player headed into goal.

Matt Shaw Scored.

From a beautiful corner-kick taken by McDowall, Mate Shaw scored. The ball was centred and again the Caley's raided the C.C.E. goal through Jas. Shaw shooting from about 20 yards out hit the inside of the upright to go through. Quick as a flash the C.G.E. made for the Caley's goal and through a misunderstanding by Frost and Willshaw the inside right (Hotson) accepted the opportunity nicely to gave the C.G.E. the winning goal Play was in mid-field as the final whistle blew. C.G.E. 3, Caledonians, 2.

Analysis of the Game.

Caledonians.

	1st Half	2nd Half	Total
Goal kicks	6	4	10
Goals	0	2	2
Corners	2	6	8
Offside	2	0	2
Fouls	2	1	3

C.G.E.

	1st Half	2nd Half	Total
Goal kicks	5	8	13
Goals	0	3	3
Corners	2	0	2
Offside	1	2	3
Fouls	1	2	3

Notes on the Game.

The C.G.E. introduced a new left half in the person of Mann, who made a creditable debut in city football. For the Caledonians, McFeat was a new player of Toronto experience, but his knowledge of foul-throws was weak which certainly gave the C.G.E. a free-kick on many occasions.

When a goal-keeper of any respective team is playing a game it would be an advantage to the sport for some of the advocates behind the goal to go away to the side touch-line instead of giving instructions on field-play to the goal-keeper or on questionable goals.

The game was very fast during the first half with neither side claiming an advantage. In the second half the C.G.E. made good of the openings that the Caleys let go.

A word of praise is due Referee Alex. McKinley for the manner in which he controlled the game. His decisions were fair and unpartial throughout the best game of the whole season.

COMMENTS ON THE GAME

Sam Calladine, Can. Woollens: A pretty good game with the C. G. E. a ittle better team.

Mr. Cook, De Laval: A very good game with the Caledonians showing a better class of football, and nice combination, but let opportunities go. Very very weak in front of the goal.

Mr. Fred Sutcliffe, sec. association: The referee handled the game well, and deserves great credit for the for the harmonious spirit amongst the players. It was anybody's game until the final whistle.

Mr. Cridand, Canadian Woollens: An even and interesting game throughout ad C.G.E. the better team.

Harry Gamble, G.W.V.A: A good sportsman's game. The referee was excellent and the result should have been a draw.

E. Bell, Machine Gun: The C. G. E. were lucky to get the last game; it should have been a draw.

Mr. Alex. Dick, Caledonians: An excellent and clean game and good luck to the winners is the wish of our executive and players. The refereeing was par excellence.

Clarke, C.G.E.: The best game of the season, and don't forget the best team won.

Burrows, G.W.V.A. A nice clean game. The Caledonians had all the play and the game should have been a draw.

WIDER SCOPE FOR INSURANCE FIRMS

SPECIAL ACT PUT THROUGH THE LEGISLATURE.

Canadian Press.

OTTAWA, June 18.—Fearing that Canadian insurance companies may be placed under hardship in their business if projected amendments to the Insurance Act are not passed this session, a special committee on banking and commerce this morning added a rider to its report on bills considered, urging that the amendments be considered and passed this session. The bills before the committee this morning included two consolidating acts and extending the powers of the British America Assurance Company and the Western Assurance Company, both of Toronto. Each company asked that it be given power to engage outside of Canada in more lines of business than are included under the Canadian License.

There was a suggestion that if the request was refused the British American Company would be compelled to move outside of Canada and seek a charter in Britain or elsewhere. They claimed that the restriction of the Canadian law were causing them to lose all their foreign business. A committee as a means of hurrying up amendments to the Insurance Act, which would give powers sought by the company, passed the Insurance Act which would give the powers sought by the two companies and passed both bills, and urged the amendment of the Act at once.

DAVID BYRNE ACCUSED OF FRAUD

Arrested in Montreal and Brought to Toronto; Bites Officer.

MONTREAL, June 18.—Pastor D. S. M. Byrne, of the Christian Workers' Church, a mission which he has conducted in Montreal for the past year or so, who was arrested here on Tuesday on a charge of fraud, which was made in Toronto, was taken to that city yesterday by Detective Cronin.

While the pastor was being escorted from detective headquarters to an automobile which was to convey him to the Grand Trunk Station, he offered resistance, and bit Sergeant Detective Lamont on the arm.

Byrne was taken into custody on Tuesday night while he was conducting a prayer meeting at his mission place on McGill College Avenue. He achieved some prominence several years ago by the claim that he had rescued from the slums in Chicago the daughter of one of the wealthiest men of the city, and had been rewarded by a large benefaction from the father of the girl who was converted, and subsequently became a religious worker.

David S. K. Byrne is well-known in and around Peterborough, and his efforts to chase the elusive fortune of twelve million dollars have frequently appeared in this paper.

ST. PAUL'S CHOIR ENTERTAINED BY MRS. ALFRED A. PERRIN.

The members of the choir, after rehearsing music for Sabbath services, were charmingly entertained by their hostess, who made every one happy. After a musical programme, including some very choice selections by Prof. Tattersall on the "Baby Grand," refreshments were served. Before the party dispersed, the members voted to have a choir picnic next Thursday afternoon, the same to be held at Chemong Park. Automobiles will leave St. Paul's Church at 4.30. Every member is requested to be present and contribute to the programme which is being prepared. The "evening" was brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne." A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the hostess.

NAVY LEAGUE GETS $1500 FROM COUNTY

Mr. Squire—It's second best in the province.

Mr. Shaw interjected the suggestion that a special grant of $325 be made to the Norwood Fair. It was seconded by Deputy-Reeve Wilson and was adopted, the preceding motions being recalled.

This gives Norwood Fair a total of $1,000 from the county this year, $500 at the January session, $175 the regular grant and the $325 filling out the four figures.

Magistrate O. A. Langley's services were recognized by an increase of $200 in his salary.

County Council Notes.

The appropriation for suburban road improvement this year is $20,000, of which the county and city contribute $6,000 each and the province $8,000.

A motion by Reeve McIntosh this morning, seconded by Warden Nicholls, authorizes the Property committee, of which Reeve Coughlin is chairman, to endeavour to improve the acoustics of the county court room. The stringing of wires or netting across the foot of the light well was suggested.

When Reeve Bullied writes his book on "Some Orators I Have Heard," he will be hard put to decide whether the Rev. S. Boal or Judge Huycke shall be mentioned first.

The Friendly Smoke

THERE is something mighty comforting and satisfying about "OLD CHUM" Tobacco; a sort of soothing restfulness that pipe smokers have come to associate with this friendly smoke.

"OLD CHUM" is an old, old chum with all pipe smokers.

It has the perfect tobacco taste—the mellow richness—and men know that they can be chummy with "OLD CHUM" all day long and that the "good night pipeful" will be as sweet and cool as the one enjoyed just after breakfast.

For years and years "OLD CHUM" has been Canada's favourite pipe tobacco and today is more popular than ever.

electrical workers would go back on Monday pending a finding by the Conciliation Board, but he woud ask them to do so at the request of Judge Gunn.

Limitations Narrow.

Mr. E. G. Patterson gave testimony to the effect that his company would not stand for the classification schedule as presented by the machinists, the majority of whose limitations are narrowed down to one class of work. The company would classify them according to the qualifications of the individual. He contended that the result of the schedule as proposed by the union would be to bring a skilled man down to the rank of one having but a quarter of his ability, and such a policy he did not believe in.

For Some, Strike is Over.

So far the Electrical Workers are concerned, Mr. Patterson considered the strike is over; most of the departments in this line are working and but few men are now out. Just before May 18th, 12 of the 30 or 32 electrical workers who struck were back on their old jobs again, and the places of most of the others had been filled. The company is quite willing to treat with these men still out as individuals and he would not go so far as to say that they could not return as a body.

As to the effect of the strike on the works Mr. Patterson declared that on May 18th, 577 hands were working, and 599 were on strike. Today 800 men are at work and from 250 to 300 out.

On adjourning for lunch at 12 o'clock Mr. Patterson was explaining the increases made by the company under the 1918 award and subsequent thereto.

LABOR DISPUTES IN MONTH OF MAY

53 Strikes Commenced During Month and 72 Were in Progress.

OTTAWA, June 17.—The loss of time on account of industrial disputes during May, according to the Labor Gazette report, was greater than during April, 1920, but much less than during May, 1919. There were in existence at some time or other during the month seventy-three strikes, involving about 12,005 work people, and resulting in a time loss of 145,168 working days, as compared with 44 strikes, 6,249 work people and 84,099 working days in April, 1920; and 96 strikes, 74,252 work people and 849,676 working days in May, 1919. On May 1 there were on record twenty strikes, affecting 7,311 work people. Fifty-three strikes were reported as having commenced during May, as compared with 28 in April. Eleven of the strikes commencing prior to May and thirty-five of those commencing during May were reported terminated, leaving 27 strikes, involving about 4,502 work people, on record at the end of the month.

ISLAND OF NAURU BECOMES BRITISH

British Labor Oppose Agreement With Australia and New Zealand.

LONDON, June 17.—Both Houses of Parliament passed resolutions today for the appointment of two additional high court judges on account of the great arrears in law cases outstanding.
The Commons passed the Nauru Island Bill a second time by 217 to 77. The measure confirms the agreement of the Governments of Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand respecting the future of Nauru Island in the Pacific, surrendered to Great Britain in 1914. The bill was keenly opposed by Labor members and others, mainly on the ground that, as the island is commercially valuable in phosphates, Great Britain might appear to be seeking material advantages.
It was announced that the India Government had been authorized to frame proposals for a voluntary fleece in India.
Asked whether there was any reason why Great Britain could not follow Canada in taxing luxuries the Chancellor of the Exchequer said the Government was satisfied its own proposals for raising additional revenue were preferable.

Conciliation Board Continues Enquiry in C.G.E. Dispute

DANGER OF ANOTHER WAR RESULTING FROM ACTION OF TURK NATIONALISTS

TURK LEADER CONTROLS LARGE PORTION OF TERRITORY AND IS SAID TO BE UNDER THE DIRECTION OF REDS.

(Canad ianPress.)

LONDON, June 19. — Menace of Turkish Nationalists in Anatolia exceeds for the moment, in view of editors here, other dangers, the situation amounting, according to several estimates, to an outbreak of a new war. Mustapha Kemal Pasha, leader of the Nationalists, is said to completely control Anatolia, with the exception of a small area held by the British in the neighborhood of Ismid and some territory around Smyrna controlled by Greece. His forces comprise thirty-seven thousand fighting men, who are well supplied with munitions and have abundant available reinforcements. What remains of the Turkish government is declared to be helpless and its troops which are reported to be utterly untrustworthy, have been recalled from Ismid Peninsula.. Additional anxiety over the situation has been caused by the belief that Mustapha Kemal is acting in accord with the Russian Bolshevik government, although there have not been as yet any reports of co-operation.

PREMIERS WILL HOLD CONFERENCE

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, June 19. — A conference between Premier Lloyd-George and Premier Millerand of France has been arranged for this afternoon and Sunday at Hythe, the watering-place in Kent, which was the scene of a notable conference between the two Prime Ministers in May over the German indemnity terms.

The Hythe meeting is the preliminary to a conference at Boulogne on Monday, at which not only France and Great Britain, but Italy, Japan, Belgium, and Greece will be represented.

Great interest is being taken here in the conference, and there is much speculation in view of the grave problems demanding solution throughout Europe and the Near East.

A newspaper of London, calling attention to the serious issues affecting the relations of the Allies with Russia, Turkey, Germany, Hungary, and Poland, remarks that the state of the world is more perilous than it was two years ago, and calls for "clear decisions based on singleness of purpose and free from individual self-seeking."

DIFFICULTIES OF CONCILIATION BOARD INCREASED BY THE STRIKE

JUDGE GUNN REFERS TO THE SITUATION—CONSIDERABLE EVIDENCE HEARD AT THE SESSION YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

The Conciliation Board enquiring into the differences between the C.G. E. Co. and their striking machinists and electrical workers resumed session at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon after luncheon.

Organizer Harper who is taking care of the interests of the machinists is supported by a committee of the men, comprised of Messrs. John Cairns, James McArthur, Lawrence Heath, Bert Mason and Joseph Bell.

At the termination of three hours taken up in hearing testimony bearing on the strike from both disputing parties, the presiding Judge, Mr. R. D. Gunn, of Ottawa, emphatically conveyed the impression that the situation had been considerably aggravated by the men's attitude.

To Mr. W. P. Flynn, for the Electrical workers, who just before adjournment, had enquired were there any means for enforcing the board's findings on the disputants, His Honor replied that the electrical workers in particular had put the Conciliation Board in an extremely difficult position. "The company had granted," he said, "a 15 per cent. increase and 5c an hour better, but you put in a demand for an increased schedule and then went out on strike, following the machinists. And now the dispute has dragged on, some men have returned to work at the old rate, others have been engaged, and so far as the electrical workers are concerned the doors seem closed."

Continuing, Judge Gunn suggested that the electrical workers put their house in order with a view to individual treatment. "When a new schedule was in dispute," he said, "you should have remained at work and applied for a Board of Conciliation. What I want to point out is that you have made conditions so irregular that this board's task is now an exceedingly difficult one. All the power we had has been demoralized by the men going out, and by the City Council appointing a Conciliation Board. However," his honor concluded, "our last resource has not been reached." He did not know if there were any hope for adjustment of the situation as a result of the board's deliberations, but the board is going to try and effect a settlement.

Mr. Flynn contended that the award "of the latest Arbitration Board granting the armature winders an increase of 15 per cent. plus 5c an hour was accentable to that body, and had the company agreed to a Conciliation Board to arbitrate on the rest of the electrical workers' differences there would have been no strike. He further asserted that the electrical workers, under that award, were only allowed an average of from 45 to 47½c an hour, no more than offered new men applying at the gate.

In this connection it is understood that the award in question was retrocative back to January first this year.

Award of 1918.

The Board thoroughly discussed the old arbitration award of 1918, governing working conditions, including restrictions in the number of apprentices and the wages to be paid them. This referred to machinists only and Mr. Harper declared that in the Dominion Ship Yards unions had fixed a schedule of apprentices' wages, and apprenticeship agreements had been entered into with every railway on the continent of North America. Mr. Harper also said the men would like to see a system in force by which they could be assured of advancement from helpers to specialists and on to machinists. They found no real objection excepting to those clauses governing classification and minimum rates. The overtime rate of pay at time and a half is satisfactory, but it must be on the day basis and not at premium prices. Some men, Mr. Harper contended, cannot make their premium, in fact there are employees in the C. G. E., who are $400 behind their premiums, he said.

Mr. Patterson declared that the company would not adopt a day overtime rate for piece workers; neither would they acede to a minimum rate, but would treat with the men individually, and pay them for the class of work they are put on.

He Could Not Understand.

Mr. Harper here could not understand the C.G.E. advertising for and engaging men at the same wages as the men on strike would have worked for.

Mr. Patterson—"We are paying that wage to skilled men, and you are asking that we pay it to unskilled. We positively will not agree to a minimum rate of 75 cents an hour."

Classification Again.

Considerable discussion was engaged in as to the classification of men, Mr. Harper contending that the system in force at the C.G.E. did not permit of advancement commensurate with a man's growing skill. He cited, for instance, men getting but 60c an hour at the C.G.E. who had been engaged elsewhere at 75c and 80c an hour.

Mr. John Munro, President Toronto Trades Council, was inclined to think the only satisfactory solution would be to classify the work.

Agreed on This.

Mr. Patterson and Mr. Harper were agreed that with very few exceptions there was no argument in regard to actual machinists, the bench and floor men's positions being mainly in dispute.

Mr. Harper here enquired if Mr. Patterson would give him the names of men employed on the tool and brass room floors, with a view to a committee of the men meeting last night to work out some solution of this difference which would be accentable to the Company.

Mr. Patterson replied that Mr. Harper had the names of the strikers, and that should suffice. "Besides, he added, it is after five o'clock and our offices are closed. I could not under any circumstances get such a list to-night."

Individual Treatment.

Touching on the question of how Mr. Patterson would treat with the strikers individually, he (Mr. Patterson) asserted that were John Cairns to come to him to-morrow and ask on what terms he could be re-engaged, he would reply at 65c an hour, the same as Cairns was getting before he went on strike. "And if he asked 70 cents an hour," declared Mr. Patterson, "I should feel inclined to give it to him—because I know the man and his worth."

More Than the Award.

Discussing the latest award to the electrical workers, retroactive back to last January, Mr. Patterson pointed out that two girls working on light armature winding were allowed an increase of 15 per cent. but eventually received considerably more. The wages of one of these girls had been augmented 37½ per cent.

The board adjourned until 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

M'QUILLAN INQUEST WAS CONCLUDED LAST EVENING—THE EVIDENCE.

"We the jury find that Owen McQuillan came to his death on the 4th of June, 1920, by the accidental breaking of a Hydro Commission line pole east of the Waterworks dam, in the Township of Douro, County of Peterborough.

"We are of the opinion that had the pole been properly guyed the accident might not have happened. We strongly recommend that all corner poles be properly guyed before the wires are strung."

This verdict was brought in by the jury in the inquest over the death of Owen McQuillan last night after they had been out over three-quarters of an hour. The following composed the jurors: George Giroux, (foreman), Henry Shurter, Thomas Sprost, William Daimond, William S. Sharpe, R. Jones, George Stenton, Joseph Metheral, Robert Reid, P. Alexander, E. J. McLeod, E. S. Ivey.

Joseph Wearing represented the Hydro Power Commission, while E. F. Latimer, engineer in charge of construction work, was at the inquest also in the interests of the Commission. Coroner Dr. Greer presided, while Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton examined the witnesses.

The First Witness.

Albert Hayes, the first witness called, is a Hydro-Electric foreman of municipal line construction from Toronto. He was present at the time of the accident. Fleven men, he explained, were working on the job stringing wires.

"I didn't see very much. I was standing near the pole that broke. The team passed me. I heard the driver shout "whoa." I looked up and saw the running board about 12 feet from the pole that broke. He heard Mitchell tell the driver to go slow and then the foreman yell 'whoa." "I yelled, too, but when I looked back the pole was falling over. The team was 600 feet from the pole, he said.

The Crown Attorney asked him if he could see the team from the bottom of the pole. "Yes I could have seen it from the bottom."

"But the teamster didn't get the signal to stop in time?" "No."

"And was that the cause of the pole breaking?" "Yes."

Eighteen or twenty poles, Hayes said, had been strung that morning. The pull was at an agle, not straight, perhaps 15 degrees, he replied to a question by the Crown Attorney.

He and his gang were making guys for the poles. None of them had been guyed.

How many would require guys? asked the Coroner.

About two. That one and the corner pole.

Is it usual to have that team that far away?

BIG FUND TO FIND CHILD.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 18. — A large fund which, it is hoped, will approximate $50,000, is being raised by friends of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin, to conduct a nation-wide search for their 13 months' old baby, who was stolen on June 2, and for the apprehension of the kidnappers.

A COLLISION WITH PUBLIC WRATH.

The number of automobile accidents noted in the news of late has been startling even to a public somewhat hardened to such things, declares the Kingston Whig. As fine weather tempts everybody to stay outdoors, all those who own cars or who can borrow or hire them are taking to the road. On Saturday and Sunday afternoons many highways are almost hid from view by the motor procession.

There is a danger which the reckless automobilist apparently has not considered at all. That is, a collision with public wrath. He may sometimes escape the specific punishment of his disregard for others' safety. But if such disregard goes too far it will result in the erection of legal stone walls which he cannot break through.

The public will demand a stern and unrelenting repression unless there are signs of a change. It is better for the automobilist to avoid such a re action by his own more reasonable, more public spirited attitude. If he keeps on saying "After us the deluge," the deluge may overtake him. There are some forces even more swift and powerful than exploding gasoline.

DECLARES INDIA LOYAL TO EMPIRE

LORD SINHA SAYS NOT THE SLIGHTEST OPINION FOR SEPARATION.

LONDON, June 18.—Further evidence of the restoration of normal conditions in the British Empire was furnished by Lord Sinha of Raipur, Under-Secretary of State for India, an an exclusive interview here. Lord Sinha is a native of India, the first to hold such an appointment, and has just returned from a three months' visit to India. He declares Indian opinion generally is satisfied with the reforms now being introduced, and the anti-British agitation is dying down.

"There is not the slightest separatist opinion in India," the Under-Secretary said, "although national sentiment is growing stronger all the time. That sentiment means, however, a desire for full self-government within the British Empire. Not half a dozen people in India seriously believe it would be possible or good for India to be independent. The only difference between the so-called extremists and the moderates, is that the extremists want full measure of home rule immediately, while the moderates believe it is better to take it by instalments. We have no political crime in India, and conditions for instance are not half so serious as in Ireland.

"We are passing through an anxious time at present on account of the Turkish caliphate agitation. Remember, we have between seventy and eighty millions of Moslems in India, and the Indian Moslem is devoted to his religion. I don't think in any circumstances they would revolt, but a settlement which they thought inimical to their religion would leave them sore, discontented, and angry. It is impossible to say now what the result will be, but I am sure it will depend how settlements are taken in Turkey itself.

"Soreness among the Moslems might react on the Hindus, for there is a growing sentiment of Indian unity and nationalism, although I must again emphasise that the nationalism does not mean breaking the British connection, which every sensible Indian knows is necessary for the safety of India.

"Our greatest problem now is education. The Indian is eager for learning and possesses a keen, receptive mind. We must teach them to read first, then teach them political intelligence. I have no fear of the result. Indians are more spiritually-minded than the Western people, and are not likely to be led astray by specious agitators, once they have an opportunity to study and examine the problems for themselves."

FISHERIES OF CANADA.

Fish Is One of Our Cheapest Foods.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Man., June 19.—The fisheries of Canada represent an asset of $50,00,000, and are capable of enormous development if the people of Canada could be educated to eat more fish, was the statement made by A. H. Brittain, ex-president of the Canadian Fisheries Association, and vice-president of the Maritime Fish Corporation, who passed through here recently on his way home from the fisheries' convention at Vancouver.

Mr. Brittain stated that if Canadians would eat more fish that a considerable stride would have been taken to fight the high cost of living.

"Fish," he declared, "is the cheapest food in Canada to-day, and only a small percentage of the fish products of Canada are consumed in the Dominion. The majority is sent to the United States, South America, and the West Indies."

LIVER TROUBLE AND HEARTBURN

The liver is the largest and one of the most important organs of the body. Its duty is to prepare and secrete bile and to serve as one of the filters of the body, cleaning it from all impurities and poisons. Therefore when the liver gets out of order it is the starting of trouble in nearly every part of the body.

Keep the liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn, constipation, biliousness, sick or bilious headaches, dull, yellow eyes, brown blotches, sallow complexion, coated tongue, jaundice, catarrh of the stomach, or the painful, protruding, internal or bleeding piles.

Mrs. John Kadey, Chipman, N. B., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for some times and can recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried other remedies but they only relieved me for a short time. I always recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to all sufferers as I think they are a valuable remedy."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

UNIQUE ADVERTISING.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Man., June 19.—Unique aeroplane advertising methods will feature the Norris Government's election campaign in the Province.

Prominent speakers will be taken from town to town by air. This method of conducting electioneering by aeroplane is new in the annals of political campaigns, and is claimed by party officials to be the first attempt to use it in the world. Two machines are already engaged in the enterprise. They will touch at least one town in every constituency.

Campaign literature will be dropped from the plane as it circles over the town. After landing, the Government support in the machine will address the crowd that gathers to meet the machine.

POVERTY IN MEXICO SHOCK TO VISITORS

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 19.—The problem of the poor is one of the greatest confronting the new Government of Mexico. General Obregon has said that one of his first efforts would be to improve the lot of those unfortunate people, thousands of whom are destitute, diseased, maimed, blind or afflicted in other ways almost as pathetic. It is said that in no country in the Western Hemisphere are there so many blind persons as there are today in Mexico. Along the lines of the railways when passenger trains stop beggars always approach thet rains and strangers cannot fail to note the large percentage of the totally bind among them, the affliction due in numerous instances to social diseases. These unfortunates are of all ages and of both sexes.

All along the line of the Mexican National Railway from Laredo to Mexico City, the affiliated stand beneath the open car windows begging in low, monotonous voices for the gift of a "centavita" or a crust of bread. They never say centavo; it is always "centavita," "a little cent."

Under Carranza nothing was done for these people. They are left as severely alone as were the mangy dogs that infest Mexican cities and towns, to whose presence is due, in the opinion of sanitarians, much of the disease that is so rampant among the destitute poor of the republic.
